AGRICULTURAL CREDITS ACT OF 1923

Statement by the Secreary of Agriculture,
Henry C. Wallace.

On the last day it was in session, Congress enacted the Agricultural Credits Act. This is designed to give the farmer the sort of credit he needs to produce effectively and market in an orderly way the products of the farm. It is an effort by congress to meet a need which has been felt for at least fifty years. The act may not be perfect. Quite possibly experience will show the need of amendments from time to time. But it furnishes the basis for a system of intermediate credit adapted to farm conditions and farm needs. Also it should bring about a reduction in the interest which farmers must pay for money borrowed.

The act is divided into two parts. In the first, it provides government agencies for handling agricultural loans. In the second it authorizes the organization of private agencies under government supervision for making loans on live-stock security and on farm commodities on the way to market.

The government loan activities will be carried on in connection with the Federal Land banks. At the present time the country is divided into twelve districts, and in each of these districts there is a Federal land bank which makes land mortgage loans, these twelve banks being directed by a central Federal Farm Loan Bureau in Washington. In connection with each of these land banks there is to be establish an intermediate credit bank, located in the same city with the land bank and under the supervision of the officers and directors of the land bank. The Federal government supplies each of these intermediate credit banks with a capital of not to exceed $5,000,000. These intermediate credit banks are authorized to discount farmers' notes which have been taken by banks and other financial institutions, and then can carry such notes for a term of from six months to three years. The banks may also loan direct to farmers' co-operative associations under conditions set forth in the act.

These intermediate credit banks issue debentures which will have back of them the farmers' notes which the banks have taken. The idea is that these debentures may be sold to people who wish a safe investment. They are exempt from taxation, just as the bonds issued by the Federal land banks are exempt. The interest charged by the intermediate credit banks may not exceed by more than one per cent the interest paid on the debentures, and the farmer who borrows must not be charged an interest rate of more than one and one-half per cent above the interest charged by the intermediate credit bank.

No doubt some time will be required to get this machinery in smooth working order. It will be just like building up a new business. It should not be very long, however, until the benefits will be apparent and the farmer will find that he can borrow needed capital for a period up to three years without having to pay an unduly high interest rate, without having to renew his notes every ninety days or six months, and without being in danger of having to sacrifice his crops or live stock because of a sudden financial flurry.

The second division of the act authorizes the organization, under a Federal charter, of national agricultural credit corporations, these to be organized by private capital. They will be under the supervision of the comptroller of the currency, just as are other national banking institutions. They must have a capital stock of at least $250,000. They may issue collateral trust debentures up to ten times their capital and surplus. Such corporations will prabably be organized in the western states where the livestock industry is important and where now cattle loan companies are in operation.

In addition to the provisions of the act designed to furnish the farmer much needed intermediate credit, certain changes have been made in the law under which the Federal land banks operate and in the Federal Reserve Act. Provision for the establishment of the so-called permanent organization of the twelve Federal land banks is made by providing that three out of the seven directors for each bank are to be elected by the borrowers from the bank and three are to be appointed by the Federal Farm Loan Bureau. The seventh director, who will be the president of the board, will be chosen from three persons who have received the highest nomination vote for this position by the borrowers or stockholders in the bank.

Heretofore the maximum amount which might be loaned to any individual by the Federal land banks has been $10,000. This has been increased to $25,000. Also the purpose for which mortgage loans may be made has been broadened to include the repayment of any existing indebtedness.

The Federal Reserve Act is amended by broadening the definition of what is called agricultural paper, making it include the grading and processing of agricultural products by co-operative marketing associations. Heretofore the Federal Reserve Banks have not been permitted to discount agricultural paper for a longer period than six months. This period has been increased to nine months.

A large number of state banks are not now members of the Federal Reserve System, some of them because their capital is not large enough to meet the requirements of the law. An amendment to the Federal Reserve Act is carried in this bill designed to encourage small banks to join the system. A bank which has capital equal to sixty per cent of the capital required of national banks may now be admitted, if within a reasonable time the capital will be increased to correspond with the capital required of national banks.

The life of the War Finance Corporation is extended up to February 29, 1924, the expectation being that by that date the new credit facilities provided for under this agricultural credits act will be sufficient to meet the needs.

This Agricultural Credits Act of 1923 is one of the most important acts passed by the last congress. It marks an earnest effort to provide the farmer with the sort of credit he must have to carry on efficiently. It is not class legislation. The results will be helpful to business in general, because the effect will be to stabilize agricultural production and marketing.

City News

The following item of local interest appeared in the Crookston Times yesterday: "Mr. and Mrs. Bergerson, Brandow flats, entertained at an evening dinner on Sunday, in honor of Miss Marie Thill, of Thief River Falls, and Miss Sophie York, of Crookston.

Miss Ida Warner, employed at the Thompson Cafe in this city, is spending a brief period at her parental home at Middle River being unable to work owing to a sprained ankle. She will be laid up several days due to the accident, states the Middle River Pioneer of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Willadson, who have resided on a farm near Thief River Falls for some time, left for Lancaster last week, having decided to make their home in that vicinity. They recently traded their farm here for one west of Hallock, to where they moved their stock and other property.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson, of St. Hilaire, who has attended the Teachers' Training college at Bemidji, graduated from that institution Friday, March 2. Immediately after her graduation, Miss Johnson accepted a position as teacher in the public schools at Bemidji, and entered upon her new duties last week.

Mrs. Cora E. Wold has arrived from Grand Forks to look after matters connected with the opening of her new LaVogue shop in the building formerly occupied by Shanahan's grocery store. The store will be in charge of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Melby, and is expected to be open to the public Saturday, the building having been completely renovated and equipped with suitable fixtures. Mrs. Wold expects to remain in the city for a while.

Wm. Kline returned last week from an extended trip to various points along the Pacific coast, having been gone a month. Going out there he made the trip via Salt Lake City and the southern route while on his return he took the northern route. He is very enthusiastic about the coast and states that people are streaming into that territory from all parts of the east and central states, large numbers with intentions to settle there.

The high school basket ball team composed of Clifford and Stanley Sorenson, Sydney Schutt, Milford LaBree and Charles Herron, regulars, and Craig Halvorson, Math Barzen and John Sether, substitutes, left this afternoon for Crookston to take part in the district tournament this evening tomorrow evening. They were accompanied by the coach H. M. MacFarlane, and expect to return on Saturday. Thief River Falls meets Warren in the first game this evening.

Dies From Pneumonia

According to information received by The Times today, Clarence, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Magnell residing in Garnes township, east of Plummer, passed away at his home yesterday morning. The young man, who was only about nineteen years of age, was the victim of pneumonia, which appears to be quite prevalent at the present time. He had been ill for a period of nine days when death occurred. Deceased is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters.

"Shall Ruin be the Penalty of Success?"

The Chicago Tribune in an editorial March 6th, says: —

"The senate committee on manufactures, directed by Senator La Follette, has returned a typical La Follette report attacking the various Standard Oil companies as, in effect, a monopoly more dangerous than the company was before its dissolution. The action emphasizes a growing tendency in this country to break down anything which is a success.

"We quote one paragraph as illustrative of the thought or lack of thought which produced the whole: 'While it may be that a Standard company in a particular territory does only about half the business in that territory—and some of the Standards do more than half and some less—yet in all territory some Standard company is so much larger than any single competitor that it has come to be almost universally accepted that the tank wagon price in any territory is controlled absolutely by the Standard marketing company for that territory.'

"In words not arranged by Senator La Follette, that can mean only one thing, namely, that there is competition, and that prices are determined by the most efficient organization. If not, it is clear that a smaller company would undersell the Standard, and so bring prices down. The purpose of the report is to break up and destroy the more efficient organization for production and delivery of oil and oil products. What would it leave as a substitute? Numberless small concerns, doing business inefficiently and with high overhead costs, which without the competition of the Standard would immediately force prices up, not down. Incidentally it would stimulate promotion of all sorts of wildcat oil companies which would dupe investors or speculators and help raise the price of oil products.

"In more detail, the report complains of the private use of Standard pipe lines, and wants to make them common carriers. In other words it would penalize a progressive organization and force it to divide its means of service with inefficient organizations. That sort of tyranny over business cannot go on. Human beings will not work without reward. They will not improve service or cheapen production and distribution if the profit of such improvements is to be legislated away from them by socialistic demagogues. If this report became the basis of the legislation it seeks it would destroy the incentive for improvement and energy in the oil business, and that business would lapse into a condition where we would pay many times the price we now pay for its products.

"Such thinking and such attacks upon successful business of any kind threatens the same disaster. It means demoralization of industry and energy and threatens an end to all improvement.

"The writer of this editorial does not now own, and never has owned, nor expects to own, one share of Standard or any other oil stock. He has, however, owned flivvers, which consume oil products. He can understand how owners of automobiles would like to see the price of gasoline and oil come down. He can understand how a man like La Follette would seek the approval of the millions of automobile owners in this country by shouting that they are being robbed, and promising to stop it. But he believes too much in the intelligence of automobile owners to think they will seek lower prices of gasoline by destroying the most efficient producer and distributor of gasoline.

"It would not only be folly to bring that about because of its immediate effect, but because of its future effect. The Standard Oil companies are doing more to establish new sources of supply outside this country for American consumption than any other business we know. They have prospectors and engineers and financiers working throughout the world to obtain wells. Are we so lacking in intelligence that we would destroy a concern which is seeking to provide for our needs after our domestic supplies are exhausted?

"There is but one suggestion in the entire report that appears sane and reasonable. That is the one for prohibition or regulation of export. That is worthy of consideration and study. It might be advisable, though even then we would have to consider possible retaliations and the question of whether it would be wise to cut off such a portion of our foreign trade. National defense might warrant it."

SHERIFF RAIDS POKER LAYOUT; 6 GATHERED IN

Game Alleged to Have Been Run by Axel Anderson Comes to Inglorious End

Official Walks in, Draws Gun And Arrests Whole Contingent Without Trouble

One Alderman Among Those Who Plead Guilty and Pay Fine in Municipal Court

Six men were caught red handed in a game of draw poker when Sheriff O. L. Ihle raided the rooms over 209 LaBree avenue north on Saturday night. All were taken into custody and all but one appeared in municipal court Monday morning. Ole Vinje, who was among those gathered in during the raid failed to show up for hearing when his case was called and has not since been found although sheriff's office and police department are on the lookout for him.

The sheriff had no difficulty in getting into the room where the game was going on, effecting entrance by the simple expedient of opening the door. He covered the inmates with a revolver and informed them they were under arrest. No attempt at resistance was made.

It is alleged the game was being run by Axel Anderson, recently returned from the iron range where he had been all winter while his family in this city was receiving aid from the authorities. He waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $300 to appear at the July term. About two years ago Anderson served 60 days in jail for conducting a gambling house in this city. He has lately been on the iron ranges and it is alleged has contributed little or nothing toward the support of his family, allowing them to become charges on the public. His wife swore out a warrant for his arrest on Jan. 29, charging desertion, but his whereabouts being then unknown it has never been served.

The others captured in the raid are: Andrew Ness, alderman from the Fourth ward; Frank Dahlquist, Hans Rustad and Walter Adolphson, all pleaded guilty when brought before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court Monday morning and were fined $25 each. The fines were either paid at once or the accused allowed to see if they could raise the money.

To Play At Metropolitan Theatre

Annar Myhre, who has been making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Prytz in this city for some time, left on Monday evening for Minneapolis. Next Sunday evening Mr. Myhre will appear as the leading character in "Vermlandingarne," a six-act play presented at the Metropolitan theatre by the Swedish Dramatic club of Minneapolis. The part of the heroine will be played by Miss Helen Anderson, well known in Minneapolis musical circles. Mr. Myhre recently returned from a visit at his parental home in Trondhjem, Norway. Last week he took the leading part in the comedy "Petter og Inger" presented by local talent at the Sons of Norway hall, and was the subject of much praise for his splendid acting and singing. Following the participation in the play at the Metropolitan, Mr. Myhre intends to be connected with the Skratthult company for a period of about two months during the spring season, but may return to this city in the course of the summer.

Crookston Mayor Dead

Charles P. Booth, mayor of Crookston, died at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday of last week after about a week's illness with pneumonia.

Mr. Booth was born in Sweden in 1872, coming to America with the family in 1881. His parents settled in what is now Bray townsip, Pennington county. His early years were spent on the farm, followed by some years as a miner in Michigan. He returned to Crookston in 1894 and took a position in the office of the register of deeds of Polk county. In 1898 he made a trip to the gold fields of Alaska where he remained for over a year, during six months of which time he acted as mayor of a mining town called Tazlina. After his return he was in Crookston for six years and was elected mayor on Nov. 9, 1921.

Mrs. Gangness Succumbs to Pernicious Anemia Sunday

Sunday afternoon at two o'clock occurred the death of Mrs. Inga Gangness, aged 61, residing at 416 Davis avenue, who passed away at her home following a lingering illnes of pernicious anemia from which she had suffered the past two years. Altho in a weak condition, she had not been confined to her bed until the last two weeks preceding her demise. Only a short time ago a blood transfusion was made, a pint and a half being taken from her son, but she was strengthened for but a few days. Last year two transfusions were made.

Deceased, who was the widow of Andrew Gangness who passed away during the flu epidemic, was born in Norway and came to this country with her parents at the age of five, settling on a farm in Faribault county, in the vicinity of Blue Earth. There she was united in marriage to Ole Berge, to which union seven children were born, six of whom survive. Her second marriage was to Andrew Gangness, who with the family moved to Thief River Falls ten years ago. Three children of which one has died, were born in the last marriage. The greater part of the their residence here they lived on Riverside avenue, but last fall Mrs. Gangness moved to her home on Davis avenue where she passed away.

Deceased is survived by Mrs. Aug. Egeness, Frost, Minn.; Mrs. P. C. Hanson, Fargo, N. D.; Arthur Berge, Halstad; Oscar Berge, Bisbee, N. D.; Mrs. Andrew Stene, Mrs. Duncan Stanton, Miss Bertha Gangness and Selmer Gangness of Thief River Falls. All the children were at the bedside at the time death occurred. Mrs. Gangness is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Anna Simonson of Felton, and Mr. Ed. Johnson of Lanesboro, and 32 grand children.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Trinity Lutheran church, Rev. T. E. Sweger conducting the services which held in both the the services which were held in both the English and Norwegian languages. Two vocal solos, "Abide With Me" and "Some Day I Shall Understand," were rendered by Mrs. W. W. Prichard Jr. Interment was made in the Greenwood cemetery.

NEW CREDITS BILL URGED BY SENATE WILL CAUSE DELAY

Would Loan up to One-Third of Improvements Instead of One Quarter

The senate agricultural committee has recommended passage of the today recommended passage of the committee rural credits bill, providing for state loans on agricultural property up to 60 per cent of the appraised value of the land. Several amendments, most of them minor, were incorporated.

One amendment provides that no loan shall exceed 60 per cent of the appraised value of the land plus 33 1-3 per cent of the appraised value of the improvements instead of 25 per cent as in the original bill. Another provides that mortgagees may move from the land without being subjected to foreclosure, if they keep up their payments.

The bill will be placed at the head of general orders until revised and printed copies are distributed, when it will be moved for a special order and early action.

This means that the two houses of the legislature will have to take the matter up for the purpose of reaching an agreement before the bill can become law. Strong pressure is being brought to bear on both senate and house to adjust their differences soon as possible in order that the law may become effective in time aid the farmers before planting time this spring.

Lumbermen Meet Here to Form District Association

J. R. France, district organizer for the Northwestern Lumbermen's association, was in the city last week for the purpose of organizing district No. 16, comprising the following counties: Pennington, Kittson, Marshall, Red Lake and Polk. The association is formed for the purpose of promoting a better understanding among the lumbermen of the district and has nothing whatever to do with the fixing of prices.

Two meetings were held—one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. Practically every town and village in the section being represented. C. A. Nason of Thief River Falls, was elected chairman of the new unit with the following as an advisory board: William Bottineau, Plummer; Gunder Steenerson, Moorhead; Paul—Borgie, Hazel; A. T. Bystrom, Warren; H. M. Carlson, Hallock. Following is a list of those who attended the organization meeting: Jay Payne, Goodridge; J. H. Loen, Radium; Ferd Hincik, Mavie; J. J. Jackson, Plummer; E. J. Rustad, Thief River Falls; Geo. Phillipson, Lengby; C. L. Sandberg, Holt; O. N. Hern, Fosston; H. C. Johnson, S. Brandon, S. Grolid, G. W. Connell, Andrew Stene and C. A. Nason, Thief River Falls; A. O. Brendhaug, Trail, Gunder Steenerson, Moorhead.

Brendecke Arrested On Charge of Selling Liquor

Fred C. Brendecke, who operates "Jack's Place" on 1st. street, appeared in municipal court last evening charged with having sold "moonshine" to John E. Gustafson. On appearing before Judge N. W. Tarrant, Brendecke waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the July term of district court the amount of bonds being placed at $500, which was furnished at once.

The arrest was made by Sheriff O. L. Ihle, last evening. Ihle had been watching Brendecke and Gustafson in company and suspected that a sale was made. After they parted he walked up to Gustafson and told him that he wanted to see him at his office at the court house. Upon arrival there, Ihle told him further that he would be subject to search in respect to liquor on his person. Gustafson at once handed to the sheriff a bottle containing one half pint of liquor termed as "moonshine," but refused to give any information as to where he got it. When taken to the county jail, however, he stated that the liquor had been purchased from Brendecke for the sum of $2.00. A statement signed by Gustafson in the presence of two witnesses, according to Sheriff Ihle, substantiates his verbal admission. Action was immediately taken by the sheriff for the arrest of Brendecke, who was brought before Judge Tarrant at once.

Mrs. John Hoffseth and Mrs. Geo. Dalton left Tuesday evening for the twin cities for a few days' stay. It was their intention to hear the Kreisler concert last evening.

BEET CONTRACTS COVERING 2,218 ACRES AWARDED

Immediate Vicinity of Thief River Falls. Leads With a Total of Over 500 Acres

Stations to North, Along Soo Railroad Will Contribute an Additional 150 Acres

Agricultural Agent For Factory Says Section is Peculiarly Adapted to Beets

Earl C. Moore, agricultural manager for the Northern Sugar Beet corporation of Mason City, Iowa, has been in this vicinity since Saturday. Mr. Moore has talked personally with practically all the growers of beets and has given them much valuable information as to how to proceed with the planting and growing of this crop. Interest in sugar beet growing in this vicinity has reached a point where it is certain to be made a success, particularly if the advice of Mr. Moore is followed.

The following is the list of towns where sugar beets will be grown and showing the number of acres that have been actually contracted for in each:

Lancaster	100
Bronson	104
Strandquist	101
Newfolden	140
Thief River Falls	509
Silverton	60
StStop No. 4	45
Engens Spur	20
Copp's Spur	40
St. Hilaire	40
Oklee	200
Red Lake Falls	80
Brooks	60
Dorothy	20
Mahnomen	368
Bejou	150
Wauban	180
Total	2,218

Growing this acreage are exactly 199 farmers, making the average size of their fields a little over 11 acres.

Mr. Moore wishes to emphasize the following points: That growers have their houses for Mexican labor clean and ready for occupancy upon their arrival as he states that a good first impression will be lasting on the foreign labor. Also that each individual farmer make his arrangements as soon as possible for the machinery required so that when planting time comes he knows exactly what he can get. That the beets be planted as early as conditions warrant, usually right after oats are planted. It is desired also that each farmer who has signed a contract plant the exact number of acres so that their will be no shrinkage in the acreage alloted here.

Mr. Moore states that he has all of the acreage that they can supply labor for right now but that if a few farmers wish to plant an acre or two for a try-out they could possibly allot another 30 or 40 acres in this way.

"The soil in this neighborhood seems to be peculiarly adapted to the raising of sugar beets," said Mr. Moore, "and I wish to commend your farmers for the spirit with which they have entered upon the the cultivation of the crop. It augurs well for the future as it not only means a steady increase in the amount of beets raised but will prove a great step forward for farming generally. The sugar beet will put the land into finer shape for following crops than any other agent they could employ and the resultant increase in the other crops raised will prove of great value.

"As concerns a sugar factory," said Mr. Moore, "there is very little to be said. A factory is bound to be located in the district if the beets are raised here. Before any concern is ready to put about a million and a half dollars into an enterprise of that kind, however, it must be pretty thoroughly demonstrated that the farmers are able and willing to grow the beets."

Times Awarded Contracts For Large Printing Jobs

The Thief River Falls Times has been awarded the contract for printing the 1923 Prowler, the annual publication of the Thief River Falls high school. The current issue of this record of school activities for the year will be the finest ever gotten out by the students, both as regards contents and workmanship. The half-tone cuts for the work are already in the hands of the printer and work on the composition of the book will be begun in a short time.

A rather unusual job for a printing office in a city the size of Thief River Falls to undertake was a short time ago awarded to The Times. It is the printing of a 100 page catalog of spring and summer specials for Loken Brothers of Madison, Wis. It is filled with large half-tone engravings of women's wearing apparel and hundreds of smaller cuts. The edition is one of 15,000 copies, the pages 8½x11 inches, with cover in three colors. Very few print shops outside the larger cities are equipped to handle orders of this size and awarding it to The Times is a high tribute to the plant's ability to take care of work of all kinds and descriptions.

Clever Presentation of Bright Norwegian Comedy

"Petter og Inger," a comedy in the Norwegian language presented at Sons of Norway hall last Friday drew a capacity house. Mrs. Anton Sannes Minneapolis, a commedienne of note, directed the play and assumed one of the leading roles of the cast. She gave a delightful presentation of the character of the Pilot's wife and was ably assisted by the other performers. Mrs. Sannes has had wide experience in producing plays of this nature thruout this country and to her competent coaching is due much of the success of the presentation here.

Annar Myhre, baritone, and Roy Prytz, tenor, who both had prominent parts in the play, sang a number of duets which were much appreciated by the large audience, and also rendered solos in a highly artistic style. Mrs. O. F. Mellby officiated as accompaniest in her usual efficient manner, the musical part of the program being by no means the least noteworthy part of the entertainment. Miss Carolyn Melby made a charming leading lady while the playing of J. Borry as the unique "Department Lars" and Dreng Bjornaraa as the American was of a strictly high order. The evening wound up with a most enjoyable dancing party for which Carl Angell and Earl Erickson furnished the music.

Mr. Myhre left on Monday evening for Minneapolis, where he is to take the leading role in a play to be presented at the Metropolitan theatre on the 25th.

FINAL CURTAIN ON CLEARWATER DRAINAGE PLAN

Red Lake Project Regarded as of Most Importance to Indian Reservation Lands

Denial of Petition for Latter Undertaking Brings Refusal of Indian Assessment

Time Limitation Has Expired and Matter Will Probably Not Now be Revived

The main reason for the refusal of the Interior department to approve the Clearwater drainage project was that the Indian lands would not be sufficiently benefitted by its establishment to warrant the assessment placed against these lands. The department states that the drainage board has not supplied sufficient and satisfactory detailed plans for the improvement, although everything had in fact been done except calling for department states that th main bene- department states that he main benefits to the Indian lands would have been obtained from the Red Lake river drainage project, and since that was dismissed by Judges Stanton and Grindeland, there would not be sufficient benefit derived from the Clearwater project to warrant assessment of the lands.

Although the action of the Indian department does not officially dismiss the project, yet it pracically does so for the board of directors do not feel like pushing the plan and saddling the entire cost of the project upon the land owners outside the Indian reservation.

Action is Final

"It is the privilege of the Indian department to take this action," said President C. G. Selvig, "and it means that the plan will be postponed and will not be taken up again until the Indian department is ready. It can wait a hundred years as far as the board is concerned. The board members would not wish to go ahead with the project in the face of the opposition of the great majority of land-owners.

"Appeals have been taken from Judge Watts' order establishing the project to the state supreme court, but there will be no need to push these appeals as the drainage board does not intend to do anything further in the matter."

During the past week Theo. Quale of Thief River Falls, and C. G. Dosland of Moorhead, attorneys for objectors, filed a notice of appeal to the state supreme court from Judge Watts' order of February 10 establishing the project. According to Mr. Quale this appeal will be dropped in view of the decision of the drainage board to drop the plan. Daniel B. Henderson of Washington, D. C. and Wm. J. Brown of Thief River Falls, attorneys for the Red Lake band of Chippewa Indians, filed a similar notice of appeal in benefit of their clients and it is probable that this appeal will also be dropped.

The objectors had also filed a demand for a jury trial as to the assessments for benefits and this case would have come up before the March term of the Red Lake county district court which starts March 26, but Mr. Quale has signified his intention of dropping this case. The congressional act authorizing this drainage plan was approved Feb. 21, 1921, and expired by limitation Feb. 21, 1923. Efforts of Mr. Selvig and former Congressman Steenerson to have the time limit extended met with the opposition of former Secretary of the Interior A. B. Fall. For revival of the plan additional legislation is needed.

Later the state senate has concurred in a house amendment to the bill reducing interest rates, which would put that measure into effect Jan. 1, 1924. The amendment completes legislative action and the bill goes to the governor.

P. J. Keating, local superintendent of grain inspection, returned Tuesday evening from his annual sojourn to St. Paul to meet with the grain commission regarding matters of grain inspection. He also spent a few days in Minneapolis and Duluth, having been gone about a week. Mr. Keating states that only a small amount of grain is being shipped at present, largely due to the shortage of cars.

HOUSE PASSES BILL REDUCING INTEREST RATE

Only One Dissenting Vote Is Cast Against Cutting Rate in State to 8 Per Cent

Senate Measure Amended to Put Law in Effect January 1, 1924, Instead of 1923

Northern Minnesota Legislators Afraid New Law Will Drive Money Out of Section

The senate bill, reducing the legal from 10 to 8 per cent was passed by the house of representatives last Friday 110 to 1. The bill as passed was first amended in the House committee on banks and banking to make it effective July 1, 1923, but was amended yesterday to make it effective January 1, 1924.

Representative A. C. Welch offered an amendment that would have made the bill effective July 1, 1923, but this amendment lost, 42 to 77. A number of members admitted that they would vote for the bill with the original House amendment, but that they could not do so if it carried the July 1, 1923 date.

Following defeat of Mr. Welch's amendment, Representative Nels T. Moen offered an amendment that would make the bill effective January 1, 1924, which prevailed, 76 to 42.

Representative M. J. Rehne then offered an amendment that would legalize a 10 per cent contract rate on amounts of $300 or less. This amendment lost and was followed by an amendment by Representative O. P. Jacobson, leaving 10 per cent on loans of $200 or less. This amendment also lost.

This bill passed the Senate without a dissenting vote, but after it had been sent to the House, many senators believed they had made a mistake. Legislators from Northern Minnesota are opposed to reduction of interest rates because they feel it will drive money out of that part of the state. The bill as amended by the House goes to the Senate for concurrence.

Enjoyable Masquerade Party

In spite of its being one of the most disagreeable nights of the year there was a good attendance at the Elks masquerade party on Saturday evening. Dancing started promptly at 8:30 o'clock and stopped just before midnight when a delightful lunch was served by Julien Provencher of the Evelyn hotel. An appreciated feature of the evening was a vocal duet by Roy Prytz and Annar Myhre. It was a very pleasant party, everyone present enjoying themselves to the full. The costumes were pretty and appropriate, the home-made outfits being in many cases as much to be admired as those secured for the occasion from regular costumers. Music was furnished by Snyder's orchestra.

Odd Fellows Buy Hilliard Property on LaBree Ave.

At the regular meeting on Tuesday night the Odd Fellows lodge voted to purchase the Hildreth property adjoining their building on LaBree avenue and Second street. It is understood the purchase price was $9,500. A new front will at once be put into this property but it may be some time before the lodge decides to enlarge its own quarters by extending both buildings to the alley. The new arrangements will provide all the rooms at present necessary for lodge purposes and furnish two valuable rental properties on the first floor.

Crookston Conference Champion

Although playing below their usual form, the Crookston Central high basketball team won the district conference basketball championship by winning from the Warren high quint at the Armory last Friday by a score of 32 to 9 before a packed house. Each team had won the right to play in the finals by defeating their opponents. The runners up in the tournament made but three baskets and three free throws in the championship game while Coach Jackson's quint counted 13 field goals and six free throws.

Crookston will play Blue Earth in the opening round of the state tournament on March 27.

For a full account of the Crookston tournament turn to the High School Progress page.

Former Thief River Boys Not Guilty of Burglary

Irving Rudd, Ivan Erickson and Arthur Ostmoe, three former Thief River Falls boys, reported by Minneapolis papers to have been arrested in that city charged with burglarly about ten days ago, were released after the police had made an investigation of their activities. They had a hearing on March 14 and had no trouble in establishing their innocence

Five From This County Will Graduate At N. W. Farm College on March 29

James Homme, Highlanding; Jessie Anderson and Selmer Anderson, Erie; Donald McCrum and Johanna Nabben, Thief River Falls, are members of the graduating class of the Northwest School of Agriculture, which will hold its fifteenth annual commencement exercises on Thursday, March 29. Twenty eight seniors and seven advanced course students will receive their diplomas. The graduating class address will be given by Dean W. C. Coffrey and the diplomas presented by Superintendent C. G. Selvig. Seven Caleb Dorr scholarships of $50.00 each from the bequest to the university will be awarded. In the forenoon of commencement day various practical school demonstrations and class exercises will serve to show the parents and visitors something of the scope and quality of work being done at the Northwest school.

Other events of the week include the reception to the senior class by Superintendent and Mrs. Selvig, the declamatory contest and on Sunday, March 25, the sermon to the graduating class by Rev. Allen O. Birchenough of Larimore, North Dakota.

With the class of 1923 included, more than five hundred young people from this section of the state have graduated from the Northwest school since its organization and nearly two thousand have been in attendance. This year's graduates include students from fourteen counties. This year that is closing has been one of the most successful in the school's history.

DRAMATIC READING TO FEATURE NEXT MEETING OF P. T. A.

"The Melting Pot" to be Given at High School Auditorium on Monday, April 2

The next meeting of the Parent-Teachers association will be featured by an entertainment by local talent. The meeting will be held on Monday evening, April 2, at the high school auditorium.

The feature number on the program for this occasion will be the reading of "The Melting Pot," written by Gretel Lowe Arnold, and instrumental and vocal numbers by some of the best musical talent of the city. The program is now being arranged and will be published in full next week.

"The Melting Pot," was given as a dramatic reading in the Presbyterian church a few years ago and received the highest commendations. It is a drama of purpose and deals with a highly patriotic theme—that of the fusing of the different races which come to this country with the native American. It has been widely quoted by ministers, journalists and statesmen. Jane Addams says: "It has performed a great service for America by reminding us of the high hopes of the founders of the republic."

This entertainment is free to the public and a cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

BIG SCENES WITH FINE PLAYERS IN "EBB TIDE" FILM

Battle With Giant Octopus and Storm at Sea Will Thrill All Picture Fans

A desperate fight with an octopus, a breath-taking storm at sea, scenes of pearl divers at work and overlaying it all the remarkably human characters of Robert Louis Stevenson and Lloyd Osbourne—such are the high lights of "Ebb Tide," a new George Melford Paramount picture, which comes to the Lyceum theatre Friday and Saturday.

The finely drawn characters which are so truly Stevensonian divide interest so equally in the story that Mr. Melfard, instead of featuring any one or two players, has assembled a notable cast, all of whom are of "star" or near-star rank in their own right. The women are Lila Lee and Jacqueline Logan. The men include James Kirkwood, Raymond Hatton, George Fawcett and Noah Beery. All are members of the recently organized Paramount Stock Company players.

As in the case of "Burning Sands," beautiful exterior scenes are the most important feature of "Ebb Tide." A Pacific island was chosen for the locale and transformed into a tropical isle. Mr. Melford, with a large amount of portable electrical equipment, a fleet of power boats and schooners and a large force of players and technical help, encamped for a whole month at this location.

Dies From Heart Failure

Ole S. Moen, who for the past two years made his home with his brother, Targe S. Moen, at 105 Horace avenue north, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon, the cause of his demise being heart failure. Deceased, who was nearly 63 years of age, began to feel rather indisposed Monday and the following day went to the Swedenburg-Bowers hospital for medical attention, but succumbed there about fifteen minutes after entrance.

Deceased was born August 4, 1860, in Fyresdal, Telemarken, Norway, and came to the United States 41 years ago. He made his home in the vicinity of Moorhead the greater part of the time but the past two years he lived with his brother in this city.

Mr. Moen was unmarried but is survived by two brothers, Targe of this city, and John, who is farming in this community, and a sister in Moorhead.

The remains were shipped yesterday from the Larson Undertaking parlors to Moorhead, where burial will take place the latter part of the week. Targe Moen accompanied the body to its last resting place.

Again On Dry Land

The two sections of the former Knox school building which sank while being moved across Red Lake river a short time ago, have been landed on the west side of the stream without further mishap. The structures are now in front of the Soo depot on Third street whence they will be taken along that thoroughfare to Atlantic avenue, thence south one block to Second and westward to its new location near St. Bernard's church.

BOARD SLASHES COSTS ANOTHER $3,000 FOR YEAR

Orders Discontinuance of Two Departments and Makes Readjustments in Salaries

Present Teachers, With One or Two Exceptions, Engaged to Teach Next Year

Kindergarten and Gas Engineering Divisions Found Not Essential and Are Dropped

By the elimination of two departments and a readjustment of salaries the board of education of district No. 18 finds it possible to cut the cost of operating the schools of the district another $3,000. Last year, by a similar process, about $5,000 was saved, making the reduction $8,000 in two years.

In its program of retrenchment the board found it advisable to eliminate the kindergarten department and the gas and automobile engineering department. While both these divisions were admitted to have a certain value, the board felt that their application was not sufficiently general to warrant their continuance. In various other ways expenses will be cut without in any way affecting the efficiency of the schools. Greater economy will be practiced wherever possible in order that the demand for a reduction in the cost of running the schools be complied with as far as possible. Such action is general among school boards everywhere in the state.

The teachers serving in the city last year were reappointed with one or two exceptions and it is understood that the majority of them will accept new contracts. Readjustments in the amount of salaries paid were made in order to conform to the changed economic conditions. Supt. I. T. Simley had been reappointed at a previous meeting. The salaries as at present established will mean a reduction in the total over the past few years.

A careful study will be made of school systems in the state generally for the purpose of discovering where additional savings may be made. The board will scrutinize all expenditures very carefully, always bearing in mind that efficiency is under no circumstances to be sacrificed in the effort to lower costs. Wherever anything considered unnecessary to the proper conduct of the schools is found, however, it will be eliminated.

Should the bill now before the legislature increasing the amount to be paid for none-resident pupils attending the high school become a law it will a considerable increase in the revenues of the district. There is always a large nonresident population at the school and this fact greatly increased the cost of operation. The new law proposes that $7 shall be paid for each pupil attending by the districts in which they reside, and while the amount comes a long way from covering the cost of their tuition it will help some in meeting the extra expense.

The present season has been one of the most successful in the history of the schools in this city. A staff of exceptional ability, headed by Supt. I. T. Simley, has succeeded in placing the school high among the educational institutions of the state. The retention of most of these exceptional teachers will give general satisfaction to school patrons in the district while the efforts of the board to reduce costs by cutting out everything of a surpurious nature will be highly approved.

Minnesota Senate Kills Full Railroad Crew Bill

After a long debate the Minnesota state senate on Wednesday killed the full crew bill by a vote of 34 to 28.

The bill, introduced by Senators R. T. Buckler, C. L. Hansen and Michael Boylan, would have required an additional man for crews on freight or mixed trains of more than 40 cars.

Potato Growers Perfect New State Organization

Representative Marius Waldal of Plummer, has been named a member of the organization committee of the recently formed potato sales association, while Senator C. L. Hansen of this city, has been appointed as one banker group which will work with the growers in securing the stabilization of prices on topatoes this coming fall.

Minnesota potato growers are to have an opportunity of perfecting a state sales organization along precisely the same lines which have proved so successful in marketing citrus fruits for California, cotton for farmers of the South, and tobacco for growers in Kentucky, Virginia and Connecticut.

S. G. Rubinow, who had charge of the potato campaign in Maine, will this year be available for work in the Northwest. The Maine campaign was carried on in the face of a determined opposition, especially from the banks and agencies that heretofore had been handling potatoes. When he completed his contracts in Maine the growers were signing up at the rate of 2,000 acres a day and practically all opposition had vanished. He predicts that a large majority of all potato growers in Minnesota will join the co-operative movement.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich left yesterday forenoon on a professional call at Greenbush.

Woman's Club Meeting

Altho the weather was very unfavorable last Monday, a number of ladies nevertheless attended the meeting of the Woman's club at the regular quarters. The garden formed the chief topic for discussion and so much interest was shown in this subject that it was decided to continue it at the April 30 meeting, as that date closes the National Garden Week. An outside speaker may be secured for the occasion." Perennials and Shrubs" was the title of a very interesting paper by Mrs. T. L. Melgaard, who is now the president of the club, and Mrs. Emil Zeh gave an instructive discussion of "Flowers that everyone can grow." A well received piano solo was rendered by Miss Pearl Weeks.

Mrs. C. A. Anderson, Mrs. C. M. Haug and Mrs. O. H. Bessler were hostesses at Monday's gathering.

A special meeting will be held April 2, the program for which will be announced next week.

Community Club Meets Monday

A regular meeting of the Girls Community club will be held at the quarters of the corner of Fourth street and Horace next Monday evening, March 26, and these in charge urge the girls of the city to attend in full number. A program has been arranged and refreshments will be served.

The public is again reminded of the opening of the club rooms as headquarters for the young people of the city. The place is in charge of Miss Bertha Poston, social worker, who now has the undertaking well on the way. The rooms are open all evenings of the week except Sunday and Monday, the Girls Community club meeting on the latter evening Anyone is invited to visit the club and parents are urgently requested to do so in order to see what is being done at the quarters. All young people of the city ought to avail themselves of this opportunity. It is free of charge to everybody.

St. Patrick Party

Miss Esther Bennes was hostess to a group of friends Saturday afternoon at a St. Patrick's party at her home, 103 Markley avenue south. The rooms were prettily decorated in St. Patrick decorations. Misses Tillie and Ella Rude of Grygla, were in Thief River Falls Monday on their way to Nielsville where they are employed, after spending a brief period visiting at their parental home.

Miss Ida Rindal of Macville, N. D., returned to her home Monday afternoon having been guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Granum for a few days. Miss Rindal is a cousin of Mrs. Granum.

Mrs. J. P. Peterson left on Sunday morning for Mirror, Alberta, Can., where she was called owing to the illness of her mother, Mrs. O. J. Sorum. Mrs. Peterson may be gone for a period of three months.

The Grygla Eagle of last week reports that Steve Basgaard and family of Esplee are leaving that community for Grand Forks where they will make their future home. They have been residents of this section for the past 20 years.

E. W. Hinrichs of Roseau, formery manager of the J. C. Penney store in this city, was here Monday enroute to the twin cities where he will spend several days on a buying trip. Mr. Hinrichs is now manager of the Roseau Mercantile store.

Albert Crown has returned from Erskine where he has been employed, being obliged to return on account of suffering from rheumatism. While at Erskine he was engaged in looking after Lloyd Crown's contract interests in that neighborhood.

Mrs. Will Mack of Wildrose, N. D., returned to her home on Monday afternoon having been called here about ten days previous by the low condition of her father, who is of ill health due to heart trouble. He is at present in a fair condition altho very weak.

Mrs. Julia Axelson and Carl Ranum of Rosewood were in this city attending to business matters Tuesday. Mrs. Axelson has decided to dispose of her stock and machinery which will be sold at public auction, Thursday, April 5, at her farm home 1½ miles northeast from Rosewood.

Mrs. Anna Lonson, who was seriously ill for a period of two weeks, is reported to be getting along well at present, being able to be up and improving steadily. It was thought for a time that her life was in danger but she rallied and her friends will be glad to hear of her improved condition.

Miss Ingeborg Kveste and Ned Syversrud came here from Highlanding, east of Thief River Falls, Monday, and were united in marriage in this city. They were accompanied by the bride's father, B. Kveste of Highlanding, and Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Syversrud, the former a brother of the groom.

M. P. Rapacz returned Friday from Minneapolis where he had been since he took his wife there about two weeks previously, Mrs. Rapacz, as was reported in last week's issue, passing away shortly after her arrival in Minneapolis. Mr. Rapacz resumed his duties as principal at the high school the first of the week.

Earl C. Moore, agricultural manager of the Northern Sugar Beet company of Mason City, Ia., arrived in Thief River Falls last week to look after beet interests in this territory. Mr. Moore, who is in the city this week also, is meeting with a large number of the growers and giving valuable information as to the growing and handling of the crop.

Miss Beatrice Erickson returned yesterday afternoon from Fargo where she attended the Fargo School of Business the past winter and completed a six-months course in stenography. She intends to remain in this city at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Erickson, for some time, but may return to complete a more extensive course at a later date.

H. M. Clausen of Buffalo, Minn., was in the city on business the latter part of the week and also visited with his son, Harry, who is employed by the Northwestern Bell Telephone company and is at present installing a new switchboard at the local office. The latter has been in Thief River Falls for the past couple of months and will remain for a while yet, there still being considerable work to do before the change is completed.

Miss Borgot Iverson returned Friday from Fargo, being called here by the serious illness of her father, Iver Wistven, who resides at 821 Taft street. Mr. Wistven has been of ill health for some time, being affected with heart trouble at various intervals. Miss Iverson has been attending the Fargo school of Business during the past winter but had to discontinue her studies due to her father's illness.

Bernhard Knudsen left on Monday afternoon for Fargo enroute to Taconia, and other points along the Pacific coast where he expects to remain the greater part of the summer. He will visit various parts of Washington and Oregon and if he finds a favorable place, may move from Thief River Falls to locate there. At Fargo he was joined by Edward Ness, who left last week, and who also goes to the coast with the intention of prospecting for a location.

L. M. Bond of Red Lake Falls, Red Lake county agent, was in Thief River Falls Monday to confer with local people in the interest of sugar beets. He stated that indications were very favorable for a large acreage and production in his section and that about 500 acres have been subscribed in the vicinity of Red Lake Falls. Farmers throughout this section appear to be very enthusiastic about the raising of sugar beets and show increasing interest in the new crop.

It has been decreed that the gold tooth is no longer the correct thing in mouth jewelry. IT'S THE SAME EVERYWHERE

It doesn't matter where a person lives, what he does or how well he may be off—he is thoroughly convinced that taxes in his particular neighborhood are higher than anywhere else in the country. He is paying more than twice as much as he did in 1914 and as a rule is certain that waste, inefficiency or dishonesty lie at the bottom of it all. If the assertion is made that people in other states and other communities are facing the same conditions and that they are brought about by perfectly natural causes he is ready to prove that the person making such statement is either crazy or is himself a grafter. Yet it is a fact. The situation in the old settled states is very little different from what it is in the newer west. The advance in the cost of government has been no greater in Minnesota than in Vermont; no greater in Nebraska than in Virginia. Eight years ago the average tax on an acre of land in Minnesota was 37 cents and now it is 91 cents. Delaware paid exactly the same tax as Minnesota eight years ago and now pays 68 cents. Delaware was settled nearly 200 years before Minnesota was invaded by the white man, contains 2,370 miles of land and water as compared with 84,682 miles for Minnesota and might be expected to have all it would reasonably need in the way of roads and schools long before Minnesota become a state. Similar comparisons could be made in dozens of cases. Delaware and Minnesota being used because their tax per acre happened to be the same in 1914. The east shows almost as great an increase as the newer and more sparsely settled west. Alabama and Arizona are just as badly off as North Dakota and Maine.

The causes for this nation-wide increase in the tax rate are many but roads and public schools are given as the principal ones. All are in the same boat. The tax has doubled in Texas and the same situation is found in New York. They have practically trebled in North Carolina and the same is true of North Dakota. It is everywhere the same.

Next time you feel as if it is incumbent upon you to emit a roar over the amount of taxes you are compelled to pay, just take a glance over the following list of comparisons of taxes on farm lands for the years 1914 and 1922:

Legislative Letter

(By Martin W. Odland)

St. Paul, Minn.—A tense situation prevails in the senate over the Carley investigation of alleged political corruption in the statae. When the special investigating committee held its first meeting a few days ago Senataor Carley, who is a member of the committee, was directed to take the witness stand and testify under oath as to his knowledge of political corruption, with special reference to alleged excessive campaign expenditures by the Republican state central committee in 1920. Senator Carley refused, feeling that it was the purpose of the committee to put him on trial, instead of the political parties, and state officials that the senator charged with violation of the corrupt practice act.

Senator A. J. Rockne of Zumbrota took the lead in demanding that Senator Carley "lay his cards on the table," and he was energetically supported by C. H. MacKenzie of Gaylord, chairman of the investigation committee. The senator from Wabasha stood by his guns, and the committee decided to lay the matter before the senate and ask for instructions.

This was done Friday morning and there broke upon the senate three hours of the most bitter, most peppery wrangling that has been heard in the chamber for years. Senator Rockne, MacKenzie, Furlow of Rochester and others denounced Mr. Carley for his refusal to testify, but the senator from Wabasha stood his ground and won a distince triumph, when he succeeded in getting the senate to kill a resolution by Senator Furlow, instructing the committee how to carry on its investigation, and to adopt one by himself. The vote was 40 to 24.

Mr. Carley announced that he will at the proper time submit his information to the committee in executive session and will furnish a list of men that should be called to testify.

Split on Regents

The senate and the house are at loggerheads over the bill requiring the governor to appoint one member of the board of University regents from each of the ten congressional districts. The senate passed the Bonniwell bill, which does not legislate any of the present regents out of office, but provides that as the terms of the members expire they shall be succeeded by new men from districts not represented on the board.

The house, however, amended the bill to this effect that all of the present regents shall pass out of office May 1, 1923, and their places taken by ten citizens, one from each congressional district, appointed by the governor.

The senate refused to accept this amendment Friday morning and a conference committee representing the two houses is now holding sessions in an effort to reach an agreement. At present there are nine regents, three of whom are from Minneapolis and two from St. Paul. If the house wins out in the conference committee, three of these five will be eliminated—including Justice Pierce Bucler of St. Paul and Washington.

Kelson's Bank Bill Beaten

The senate killed on Thursday the bill by Senator Charles Kelson of Lake Park raising the minimum capital stock in state banks from $10,000 to $15,000, with $3,000 of surplus. Senator Charles A. Fund of Otter Tail county, a county banker, led the fight against the bill.

Interest Now 8 Per Cent

The bill to reduce the legal rate of interest from 10 to 8 per cent which passed the senate early in the session, was passed by the house Friday afternoon after considerable wrangling over amendments. One of these amendments, which was adopted, provides that the new law shall not go into effect before January 1, 1924. This will give the banks ample time to renew all notes drawing over 8 per cent interest before the new law goes into effect. The final vote on the bill in the house was 110 votes for the bill and only 1 vote against it.

About a hundred more bills have been introduced in the house so far this session than were introduced during the first 60 days in the session of 1921, the total on March 14 being 1,291. Hereafter no bills can be introduced without the consent of the house. In the senate 938 bills have been so far introduced. That is also a larger number than had been presented up to this time two years ago.

A flood of bills poured into the house Wednesday—184, the largest number ever introduced on one day in the history of the legislature.

Strategy of the Farm
(Minneapolis Daily News)

There is a strategy about farming which is just as profitable and fully as interesting as that of business or politics.

Certain factors on the farm can be made to work together or against each other for the benefit of the farmer.

Here is the sort of crop that exhausts the soil: another sort of crop is planted in that field the next year and restores to the soil the elements which its predecessor took from it. And there are crops that act as nurses or guardians for slower growing plantings sown with them.

It is this strategy of farming that makes the farmer less helpless in the face of invasions by new pests. Just at present the sow thistle is marching down into Minnesota from Manitoba, advancing its main line at the rate of about 20 miles a year. The skirmish line, traveling on ahead of the main body, has already reached Minneapolis, while the real front is still some 200 miles to the north and west.

The sow thistle is a shoulder-high plant that lives up to its name by literally hogging the field where it gains a foothold. Canadian farmers have been almost beaten by it in some cases. It gets in with wheat, spreads through root-stalks and the ordinary methods of eradication call for repeated plowing and a long wasteful disuse of the land.

When the sow thistle reached Pennington county in Minnesota, it met a farm strategist who adopted new tactics. He took a 10-acre field which was solididly overrun by the pest and turned a certain number of hogs unto it. Into another field of the same size where there was none of the invading weeds he turned an equal number of hogs. In the first field the animals had to shift for themselves on what they found there; in the other field they were fed and cared for according to usual practice. At the end of the season the hogs in the sow thistle field weighed in at a much higher average than those which had been coddled and fed. More than that, the thistles were not only wholly eaten off, but the hogs had dug out and devoured all the pestiferous roots so that the field was as clean as a whistle.

There may be nothing new about this information to farmer readers, but it is worth telling for the benefit of city folk who may be suffering from the impression that farming means merely physical exertion, whereas it requires just as much studying and figuring as any other occupation and a lot more than same.

(March 22 to 28)

Prune out crowded or diseased canes of currants.

Pansies may be transplanted to cold frames early in April.

Cuttings of Alyssum saxatile may be made and rooted into this month or early in April.

Do not be in a hurry to uncover plants or shrubs. Take off a small part of the covering at a time.

Ventilate hotbeds carefully on warm days. Remember they warm up quickly when the sun is out and cool quickly when the weather is cloudy.

It is not so much a matter of production now days as it is to get proper returns for what is produced.

Some 2,000,000 pounds of turnip seed are annually imported into this country.

Fall flowering shrubs may be pruned now. Do not prune spring flowering shrubs until they are through blooming.

Apply dormant spray to the orchard before leaves or flower buds show.

Congress killed the free seed appropriation bill at the last session. The wonder of it is why it was not killed years ago.

The National Peony Society will meet in the twin cities early in June. One of the finest exhibitions in the history of the society and the northwest will be staged in the hippodrome at the state fair grounds. It is expected exhibits will come from as far

POULTRY

STARVE MITES IN HEN HOUSE

In Tests Made Parasites Were Still Alive After 113 Days in Abandoned Building.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

It takes several months to starve the mites in an infested chicken house after the poultry has been removed. In test made by the United States Department of Agriculture some mites were still alive after 113 days in an abandoned hen house. The nests indicated, too, that the mites live longer in damp locations than in very dry conditions, which accounts, in part at least, for the idea that mites are worse in damp, badly ventilated houses.

The only way to get rid of these pests is to break up their hiding places. Dust baths will not control them. Roosts should be taken down, and all unnecessary boards removed. In badly infested houses the mites are to be found everywhere, including the roof. For small coops a hand atomizer will do for applying insecticides such as sprays, but for larger houses a bucket pump, knapsack sprayer, or barrel pump is desirable. A rather coarse spray should be applied from all angles, and driven thoroughly into all the cracks. The floor also should be treated, as many mites fall to the floor when roosts are being removed.

Commercial carbolineum, which consists essentially of a high-grade anthracene oil, has proved very effective against mites. The killing power of this substance, which is derived from coal tar, lasts for several months, and mites which may be inclined to come in from other buildings are repelled for a long time. This material costs, ordinarily, $1 a gallon, but as its results are superior to those recorded with any other material, and the treatments required are fewer, its use is strongly advised.

Spraying Interior of Hen House for Mites.

Crude petroleum, while not so effective as carbolineum, retains its killing power for several weeks, and in most places is very cheap. Since it does not dry into the wood so rapidly it is more likely to soil the fowls and the clothing. Both of these materials can be sprayed better if reduced with kerosene at the rate of about 1 part of kerosene to 3 parts of the other materials. Both often contain foreign particles which should be strained before the spraying is begun.

It has been found that one spraying with either of these materials often will completely eradicate the mites, but ordinarily it is advisable to make a second application in a month, and in some cases a third treatment is needed. Poultry should be kept out of the houses until the material is well dried into the wood. It is advisable to spray or paint chicken coops a few days before putting broods of young chicks into them.

AVOID CROWDING OF CHICKS

Bad Practice With Fowls of All Ages, but Especially With Very Little Fellows.

Avoid overcrowding. It is bad practice with fowls of all ages, but especially with youngsters. Chicks with mother hens or in brooders often are crowded at night. When they get out in the morning most of them take cold and this often develops into roup, which is usually fatal in the case of young chicks.

Five Poultry Factors

There are five major factors in profitable poultry production, says N. E. Chapman, poultry specialist at University farm—breeding, feeding, housing, management and care. "These are the essentials; combined they will put the poultry business on a practical business basis," he says. "A start can be made with hatching eggs, day-old chicks or a few head of breeding stock of high production. The surest way to success is to grow into the poultry business."

SUCCESS IN HATCHING EGGS

Care and Attention to Detail Are What Makes One Man Succeed Where Another Fails.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Between making or losing money in raising chickens there is only a narrow margin. Contrary to many persons' ideas, no magic road leads to success in this work. Care and attention to detail are what make one man succeed while another one with similar equipment fails.

The following suggestions on incubation are given by poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture:

Have everything ready beforehand, and start your hatching operations early in the year.

A well-ventilated cellar is the best place to operate the incubator.

The machine should be operated according to the manufacturer's directions.

See that the incubator is running steadily at the desired temperature before filling it with eggs. Do not add eggs to a machine during incubation.

Turn the eggs twice daily after the second and through the eighteenth day. Cool the eggs once daily, according to the weather, from the seventh through the eighteenth day.

Turn the eggs before caring for the lamp.

Attend to the machine carefully at regular hours.

Keep the lamp and wick clean.

Test the eggs on the seventh and fourteenth days.

Do not open the machine after the eighteenth day until the chickens are hatched.

Care Is the Keynote of Success in Hatching Eggs.

Eggs saved for hatching purposes should not be subjected to high or low temperatures.

In cold weather place from 10 to 13 eggs under the hen; in warm weather from 13 to 15.

Always try the hen on china or nest eggs before setting good eggs.

Given proper care and attention, the hen is the most valuable incubator for the farmer.

Use insect powder freely to exterminate lice when necessary.

February, March, April, and May are the best months for hatching, depending on the section of the country.

If several hens are set in one room, it is desirable to confine them to their nests.

Straw and hay make good nesting material.

Broody hens should be moved to the permanent sitting nest at night.

While corn is a good feed for sitting hens, water, grit, and dust baths should also be provided.

All eggs should be tested by the seventh day, which often makes it possible to reset some of the hens.

Which Hens to Keep

Strong, healthy, vigorous hens with short, neat heads and strong beaks.

The hens with long, deep, rectangular bodies and parallel top and bottom lines.

The hens with large, bright eyes, active appearance and short, well-worn toe nails.

The hens with dusty, worn feathers, especially worn tail feathers, but having a bright, healthy look.

The hens that molt late and those that molt rapidly.

The noisy, happy, friendly hens.

The early risers and those late to roost.

The vigorous hens with the faded beaks and shanks.

Good Plan to Apply Collodion After Each Milking—This Closes Up the Opening.

The only way to prevent leaky teats is to smear collodion on the end of the teat after each milking. This closes up the opening and before the next milking it must be removed. This is bothersome, but may be used to good advantage where the cow loses a quantity of milk.

The New Bank Tax Bills

Three bank taxation bills advocated by the state tax commission were introduced in the house as committee bills by the committee on taxes. Samuel Lord, member of the state tax commission, presented the bills to the committee. Changing the state law to conform with the recent federal act which removes doubts of the authority of the state to tax national bank stock as in state banks is provided for in one of the bills. Another legalizes taxes already levied, some of which have been contested in court. A third prohibits the deposit of public money in a bank that has failed to pay the full tax assessed.

Five Million Dollars More for Taxes Than Dividends

INDUSTRY to live and be successful must earn sufficient money to compensate the three major factors who have investment interest in the enterprise.

First, the stockholder who has invested his savings in the business; second, the employe who has invested his time and talents; third, the people who have given property protection and the right to do business.

Ten years ago the Standard Oil Company, Inc. was dissolved under an order of the United States Supreme Court, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) became an independent organization, controlled by a Board of Directors elected by the stockholders.

In the ten years of its existence, as an independent organization, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has paid in wages the sum of 335 million dollars to the employes who have invested their time and talents in the service of the Company.

To the Federal, State, County and Municipal Governments, who have furnished property and police protection, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has paid, in the form of taxes, approximately 79 million dollars in cash, while the stockholders whose thrift and enterprise have made the business possible have been paid cash dividends of 74 million dollars.

In a word the Company has paid, during the past ten years over 5 million dollars more in taxes than the stockholders have received as dividends.

These payments have been possible only because the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has conducted its business in a highly efficient and satisfactory manner, and has won public support through the sheer merit of the service the Company has rendered, and the superior quality of the goods it has made and sold.

In addition to these cash payments the Company has succeeded in accumulating an invested surplus which has enabled it to largely expand its activities and intensify the service it renders the public by meeting the insistent demands for petroleum products which have become indispensable to our social and economic welfare.

IT'S THE SAME EVERYWHERE

It doesn't matter where a person lives, what he does or how well he may be off—he is thoroughly convinced that taxes in his particular neighborhood are higher than anywhere else in the country. He is paying more than twice as much as he did in 1914 and as a rule is certain that waste, inefficiency or dishonesty lie at the bottom of it all. If the assertion is made that people in other states and other communities are facing the same conditions and that they are brought about by perfectly natural causes he is ready to prove that the person making such stataement is either crazy or is himself a grafter. Yet it is a fact. The situation in the old settled states is very little different from what it is in the newer west. The advance in the cost of government has been no greater in Minnesota than in Vermont; no greater in Nebraska than in Virginia. Eight years ago the average tax on an acre of land in Minnesota was 37 cents and now it is 91 cents. Delaware paid exactly the same tax as Minnesota eight years ago and now pays 68 cents. Delaware was settled nearly 200 years before Minnesota was invaded by the white man, contains 2,370 miles of land and water as compared with 84,682 miles for Minnesota and might be expected to have all it would reasonably need in the way of roads and schools long before Minnesota become a state. Similar comparisons could be made in dozens of cases. Delaware and Minnesota being used because their tax per acre happened to be the same in 1914. The east shows almost as great an increase as the newer and more sparsely settled west. Alabama and Arizona are just as badly off as North Dakota and Maine.

The causes for this nation-wide increase in the tax rate are many but roads and public schools are given as the principal ones. All are in the same boat. The tax has doubled in Texas and the same situation is found in New York. They have practically trebled in North Carolina and the same is true of North Dakota. It is everywhere the same.

Next time you feel as if it is incumbent upon you to emit a roar over the amount of taxes you are compelled to pay, just take a glance over the following list of comparisons of taxes on farm lands for the years 1914 and 1922:

Legislative Letter

(By Martin W. Odland)

St. Paul, Minn.—A tense situation prevails in the senate over the Carley investigation of alleged political corruption in the statae. When the special investigating committee held its first meeting a few days ago Senataor Carley, who is a member of the committee, was directed to take the witness stand and testify under oath as to his knowledge of political corruption, with special reference to alleged excessive campaign expenditures by the Republican state central committee in 1920. Senator Carley refused, feeling that it was the purpose of the committee to put him on trial, instead of the political parties, and state officials that the senator charged with violation of the corrupt practice act.

Senator A. J. Rockne of Zumbrota took the lead in demanding that Senator Carley "lay his cards on the table," and he was energetically supported by C. H. MacKenzie of Gaylord, chairman of the investigation committee. The senator from Wabasha stood by his guns, and the committee decided to lay the matter before the senate and ask for instructions.

This was done Friday morning and there broke upon the senate three hours of the most bitter, most peppery wrangling that has been heard in the chamber for years. Senator Rockne, MacKenzie, Furlow of Rochester and others denounced Mr. Carley for his refusal to testify, but the senator from Wabasha stood his ground and won a distince triumph, when he succeeded in getting the senate to kill a resolution by Senator Furlow, instructing the committee how to carry on its investigation, and to adopt one by himself. The vote was 40 to 24.

Mr. Carley announced that he will at the proper time submit his information to the committee in executive session and will furnish a list of men that should be called to testify.

Split on Regents

The senate and the house are at loggerheads over the bill requiring the governor to appoint one member of the board of University regents from each of the ten congressional districts. The senate passed the Bonniwell bill, which does not legislate any of the present regents out of office, but provides that as the terms of the members expire they shall be succeeded by new men from districts not represented on the board.

The house, however, amended the bill to this effect that all of the present regents shall pass out of office May 1, 1923, and their places taken by ten citizens, one from each congressional district, appointed by the governor.

The senate refused to accept this amendment Friday morning and a conference committee representing the two houses is now holding sessions in an effort to reach an agreement. At present there are nine regents, three of whom are from Minneapolis and two from St. Paul. If the house wins out in the conference committee, three of these five will be eliminated—including Justice Pierce Bucler of St. Paul and Washington.

Kelson's Bank Bill Beaten

The senate killed on Thursday the bill by Senator Charles Kelson of Lake Park raising the minimum capital stock in state banks from $10,000 to $15,000, with $3,000 of surplus. Senator Charles A. Fund of Otter Tail county, a county banker, led the fight against the bill.

Interest Now 8 Per Cent

The bill to reduce the legal rate of interest from 10 to 8 per cent which passed the senate early in the session, was passed by the house Friday afternoon after considerable wrangling over amendments. One of these amendments, which was adopted, provides that the new law shall not go into effect before January 1, 1924. This will give the banks ample time to renew all notes drawing over 8 per cent interest before the new law goes into effect. The final vote on the bill in the house was 110 votes for the bill and only 1 vote against it.

About a hundred more bills have been introduced in the house so far this session than were introduced during the first 60 days in the session of 1921, the total on March 14 being 1,291. Hereafter no bills can be introduced without the consent of the house. In the senate 938 bills have been so far introduced. That is also a larger number than had been presented up to this time two years ago.

A flood of bills poured into the house Wednesday—184, the largest number ever introduced on one day in the history of the legislature.

Strategy of the Farm
(Minneapolis Daily News)

There is a strategy about farming which is just as profitable and fully as interesting as that of business or politics.

Certain factors on the farm can be made to work together or against each other for the benefit of the farmer.

Here is the sort of crop that exhausts the soil: another sort of crop is planted in that field the next year and restores to the soil the elements which its predecessor took from it. And there are crops that act as nurses or guardians for slower growing plantings sown with them.

It is this strategy of farming that makes the farmer less helpless in the face of invasions by new pests. Just at present the sow thistle is marching down into Minnesota from Manitoba, advancing its main line at the rate of about 20 miles a year. The skirmish line, traveling on ahead of the main body, has already reached Minneapolis, while the real front is still some 200 miles to the north and west.

The sow thistle is a shoulder-high plant that lives up to its name by literally hogging the field where it gains a foothold. Canadian farmers have been almost beaten by it in some cases. It gets in with wheat, spreads through root-stalks and the ordinary methods of eradication call for repeated plowing and a long wasteful disuse of the land.

When the sow thistle reached Pennington county in Minnesota, it met a farm strategist who adopted new tactics. He took a 10-acre field which was solidly overrun by the pest and turned a certain number of hogs unto it. Into another field of the same size where there was none of the invading weeds he turned an equal number of hogs. In the first field the animals had to shift for themselves on what they found there; in the other field they were fed and cared for according to usual practice. At the end of the season the hogs in the sow thistle field weighed in at a much higher average than those which had been coddled and fed. More than that, the thistles were not only wholly eaten off, but the hogs had dug out and devoured all the pestiferous roots so that the field was as clean as a whistle.

There may be nothing new about this information to farmer readers, but it is worth telling for the benefit of city folk who may be suffering from the impression that farming means merely physical exertion, whereas it requires just as much studying and figuring as any other occupation and a lot more than same.

(March 22 to 28)

Prune out crowded or diseased canes of currants.

Pansies may be transplanted to cold frames early in April.

Cuttings of Alyssum saxatile may be made and rooted late this month or early in April.

Do not be in a hurry to uncover plants or shrubs. Take off a small part of the covering at a time.

Ventilate hotbeds carefully on warm days. Remember they warm up quickly when the sun is out and cool quickly when the weather is cloudy.

It is not so much a matter of production now days as it is to get proper returns for what is produced.

Some 2,000,000 pounds of turnip seed are annually imported into this country.

Fall flowering shrubs may be pruned now. Do not prune spring flowering shrubs until they are through blooming.

Apply dormant spray to the orchard before leaves or flower buds show.

Congress killed the free seed appropriation bill at the last session. The wonder of it is why it was not killed years ago.

The National Peony Society will meet in the twin cities early in June. One of the finest exhibitions in the history of the society and the northwest will be staged in the hippodrome at the state fair grounds. It is expected exhibits will come from as far.

To the Point

Here's a jam-up good toast that ought to bring down the house if delivered at any farmers' meeting: "Here's to the three best friends of men—the cow, the hog and the busy hen."

STARVE MITES IN HEN HOUSE

In Tests Made Parasites Were Still Alive After 113 Days in Abandoned Building.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

It takes several months to starve the mites in an infested chicken house after the poultry has been removed. In test made by the United States Department of Agriculture some mites were still alive after 113 days in an abandoned hen house. The nests indicated, too, that the mites live longer in damp locations than in very dry conditions, which accounts, in part at least, for the idea that mites are worse in damp, badly ventilated houses.

The only way to get rid of these pests is to break up their hiding places. Dust baths will not control them. Roosts should be taken down, and all unnecessary boards removed. In badly infested houses the mites are to be found everywhere, including the roof. For small coops a hand atomizer will do for applying insecticides such as sprays, but for larger houses a bucket pump, knapsack sprayer, or barrel pump is desirable. A rather coarse spray should be applied from all angles, and driven thoroughly into all the cracks. The floor also should be treated, as many mites fall to the floor when roosts are being removed.

Commercial carbolineum, which consists essentially of a high-grade anthracene oil, has proved very effective against mites. The killing power of this substance, which is derived from coal tar, lasts for several months, and mites which may be inclined to come in from other buildings are repelled for a long time. This material costs, ordinarily, $1 a gallon, but as its results are superior to those recorded with any other material, and the treatments required are fewer, its use is strongly advised.

Spraying Interior of Hen House for Mites.

Crude petroleum, while not so effective as carbolineum, retains its killing power for several weeks, and in most places is very cheap. Since it does not dry into the wood so rapidly it is more likely to soil the fowls and the clothing. Both of these materials can be sprayed better if reduced with kerosene at the rate of about 1 part of kerosene to 3 parts of the other materials. Both often contain foreign particles which should be strained before the spraying is begun.

It has been found that one spraying with either of these materials often will completely eradicate the mites, but ordinarily it is advisable to make a second application in a month, and in some cases a third treatment is needed. Poultry should be kept out of the houses until the material is well dried into the wood. It is advisable to spray or paint chicken coops a few days before putting broods of young chicks into them.

SUCCESS IN HATCHING EGGS

Care and Attention to Detail Are What Makes One Man Succeed Where Another Fails.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Between making or losing money in raising chickens there is only a narrow margin. Contrary to many persons' ideas, no magic road leads to success in this work. Care and attention to detail are what make one man succeed while another one with similar equipment fails.

The following suggestions on incubation are given by poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture:

Have everything ready beforehand, and start your hatching operations early in the year.

A well-ventilated cellar is the best place to operate the incubator.

The machine should be operated according to the manufacturer's directions.

See that the incubator is running steadily at the desired temperature before filling it with eggs. Do not add eggs to a machine during incubation.

Turn the eggs twice daily after the second and through the eighteenth day. Cool the eggs once daily, according to the weather, from the seventh through the eighteenth day.

Turn the eggs before caring for the lamp.

Attend to the machine carefully at regular hours.

Keep the lamp and wick clean.

Test the eggs on the seventh and fourteenth days.

Do not open the machine after the eighteenth day until the chickens are hatched.

Care Is the Keynote of Success in Hatching Eggs.

Eggs saved for hatching purposes should not be subjected to high or low temperatures.

In cold weather place from 10 to 13 eggs under the hen; in warm weather from 13 to 15.

Always try the hen on china or nest eggs before setting good eggs.

Given proper care and attention, the hen is the most valuable incubator for the farmer.

Use insect powder freely to exterminate lice when necessary.

February, March, April, and May are the best months for hatching, depending on the section of the country.

If several hens are set in one room, it is desirable to confine them to their nests.

Straw and hay make good nesting material.

Broody hens should be moved to the permanent sitting nest at night.

While corn is a good feed for sitting hens, water, grit, and dust baths should also be provided.

All eggs should be tested by the seventh day, which often makes it possible to reset some of the hens.

Which Hens to Keep

Strong, healthy, vigorous hens with short, neat heads and strong beaks.

The hens with long, deep, rectangular bodies and parallel top and bottom lines.

The hens with large, bright eyes, active appearance and short, well-worn toe nails.

The hens with dusty, worn feathers, especially worn tail feathers, but having a bright, healthy look.

The hens that molt late and those that molt rapidly.

The noisy, happy, friendly hens.

The early risers and those late to roost.

The vigorous hens with the faded beaks and shanks.

The hens with the thin pelvic bones spread wide apart.

The early-hatched, active, well-grown pullets.

Large, strong, active, quick-maturing cockerels of desired variety type and high-producing mothers.

AVOID CROWDING OF CHICKS

Bad Practice With Fowls of All Ages, but Especially With Very Little Fellows.

Avoid overcrowding. It is bad practice with fowls of all ages, but especially with youngsters. Chicks with mother hens or in brooders often are crowded at night. When they get out in the morning most of them take cold and this often develops into roup, which is usually fatal in the case of young chicks.

Five Poultry Factors

"There are five major factors in profitable poultry production, says N. E. Chapman, poultry specialist at University farm—breeding, feeding, housing, management and care. "These are the essentials; combined they will put the poultry business on a practical business basis," he says. "A start can be made with hatching eggs, day-old chicks or a few head of breeding stock of high production. The surest way to success is to grow into the poultry business."

Good Plan to Apply Collodion After Each Milking—This Closes Up the Opening.

The only way to prevent leaky teats is to smear collodion on the end of the teat after each milking. This closes up the opening and before the next milking it must be removed. This is bothersome, but may be used to good advantage where the cow loses a quantity of milk.

The New Bank Tax Bills

Three bank taxation bills advocated by the state tax commission were introduced in the house as committee bills by the committee on taxes. Samuel Lord, member of the state tax commission, presented the bills to the committee. Changing the state law to conform with the recent federal act which removes doubts of the authority of the state to tax national bank stock as in state banks is provided for in one of the bills. Another legalizes taxes already levied, some of which have been contested in court. A third prohibits the deposit of public money in a bank that has failed to pay the full tax assessed.

Five Million Dollars More for Taxes Than Dividends

INDUSTRY to live and be successful must earn sufficient money to compensate the three major factors who have investment interest in the enterprise.

First, the stockholder who has invested his savings in the business; second, the employe who has invested his time and talents; third, the people who have given property protection and the right to do business.

Ten years ago the Standard Oil Company, Inc. was dissolved under an order of the United States Supreme Court, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) became an independent organization, controlled by a Board of Directors elected by the stockholders.

In the ten years of its existence, as an independent organization, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has paid in wages the sum of 335 million dollars to the employes who have invested their time and talents in the service of the Company.

To the Federal, State, County and Municipal Governments, who have furnished property and police protection, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has paid, in the form of taxes, approximately 79 million dollars in cash, while the stockholders whose thrift and enterprise have made the business possible have been paid cash dividends of 74 million dollars.

In a word the Company has paid, during the past ten years over 5 million dollars more in taxes than the stockholders have received as dividends.

These payments have been possible only because the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has conducted its business in a highly efficient and satisfactory manner, and has won public support through the sheer merit of the service the Company has rendered, and the superior quality of the goods it has made and sold.

In addition to these cash payments the Company has succeeded in accumulating an invested surplus which has enabled it to largely expand its activities and intensify the service it renders the public by meeting the insistent demands for petroleum products which have become indispensable to our social and economic welfare.

THE MYSTERIES OF BANKING GOING THE WAY OF OTHER PUZZLES

How a Bank Grows Out of the Needs of the Community Explained—Makes Money by Rendering Services to Business.

Soon there will not be much left to be puzzled about, at the rate the general public is being let into the secrets of things, and now along comes the American Bankers Association with a plan for taking the mystery out of banking. Through its Committee on Public Education it is giving a series of lectures in the schools throughout the country and publishing a series of articles explaining just how and why banks work. The first of these, which make mighty interesting reading, says:

The bank plays such an essential part in the life of every community that every one ought to have a clear conception of what it is, and why it goes hand in hand with human progress. One of our large city bankers, whose boyhood had been spent in a small town, was recently telling some friends about his early ideas concerning banks. To his youthful mind, the town bank was merely a larger model of the small dime bank he kept at home. He believed that the larger bank was just a good, safe strongbox in which people could deposit their money. Each day the boy saw people leave their money in care of the bank, the duty of which he supposed to be the protection of the money until it was again needed, when the depositors could draw it out.

Very soon certain things began to puzzle this small boy, for he knew that the officers and clerks of the bank were drawing salaries. One day he asked his father some questions about the bank. The boy's first question was: "Father, if a man takes a hundred dollars to the bank today, can he go to the bank tomorrow, and draw it all out again?" "Every cent of it," said the father. "Then," said the lad, "I want to know how a bank can make any money for itself, and pay salaries and other expenses." The father gave the following answer:

"When our bank was organized, the gentleman chosen as president, because he was one of our leading business men, asked me to buy some shares of stock at one hundred dollars each. I had hoped for a long time that a bank would be organized in our town. For years, the men who were operating the iron mills had to send to a neighboring city for money to pay their employees. Our merchants had always had difficulty in taking care of the money received in their business, and there had been no place to care for the people's money. I was glad to buy some of the shares. In a short time, the president told me that fifty thousand dollars had been paid in by different people of the town buying shares. This money made up what is called the capital stock. The capital stock, in addition to furnishing money with which to start a bank, also serves as a protection to all those who place their money on deposit.

How Banks Operate

"The bank opened for business and soon deposits came in from merchants, manufacturing plants, farmers, churches, lodges, and other organizations, borough and township treasurers, wage earners, and women and children, until at the end of the first month about one hundred thousand dollars had been deposited. The bank then had fifty thousand dollars supplied by its stockholders and one hundred thousand dollars which belonged to its depositors, or a total of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The capital stock and the deposits are referred to as liabilities of a bank.

"Now listen closely," continued the father. "While it is true that the depositors could go to the bank the very next day and draw out all they had previously put in, experience has shown that this is never done by all depositors at the same time." Therefore, the bank does not need to keep on hand all the money that is brought in, but only enough to pay those who may wish to draw out part, or all, of their deposits. Since every depositor tries to keep a fair-sized balance in the bank, there is always more money on hand than is needed to pay those who are drawing against their deposits. The law requires that the bank keep a certain percentage of the deposits in its vaults in actual cash. This cash is called the bank's reserve. At the end of the first month, let us say, the bank had in its safe, as reserve, about twenty thousand dollars. There should always be enough cash held by the bank to take care of the normal amounts of money needed by its customers.

How Banks Earn Money

"What does the bank do with its capital stock and with the balance of deposits in excess of the cash held as its reserve? Part of the money from the sale of shares of capital stock, of course, had to be spent for the bank building and its equipment, which cost about twenty thousand dollars. The balance of the capital stock would be thirty thousand dollars. The balance of the deposits in excess of the reserve at the end of the first month was eighty thousand dollars. This was one hundred and ten thousand dollars in all. It was invested or loaned out at interest to business people of good standing, who promised to repay the money to the bank in thirty, sixty, or ninety days. The interest on these loans and investments provides the earnings of the bank, out of which salaries and other expenses are paid. This practice of loaning money is called discounting, or giving credit. Credit is what the bank deals in. Just as the merchant buys and sells goods, so the banker buys and sells money and credit.

"The assets of a bank, just as in the case of a store or other business, are the property owned by the bank. They are cash on hand, promissory notes representing the money loaned out at interest to borrowers, the bank building, and so forth. In like manner the liabilities are what the bank owes to others, to the stockholders, to depositors and so forth. As the town grows and the business of the community expands, the deposits of the bank become larger and other banks organize. No matter how large our great city banks become, they are all organized and conducted upon the same principle and for the same purpose as the bank in the small town.

Using Banks Helps Everybody

"Scarcely anywhere is there a financial transaction in which the bank does not have a direct or an indirect part, either through the stockholders, the management, or the depositors. Every successful business person makes use of the bank for borrowing money, for the safekeeping of money and valuables, and in other ways. The wonderful strides our country has made in the field of commerce can be accounted for largely by the manner in which the banks have been made use of by the people. As anyone cultivates the habit of saving, and handles savings and all other transactions through the bank, he is being a real help to his community because the bank is the reservoir into which flow the savings of the people of the community, to be used by the banker in helping to develop the industry and life of the community. The bank helps the people to succeed, and the community to progress."

POULTRY

FATTENING MARKET POULTRY

Great Variety of Feeds Can Be Used in Preparing Fowls—Broilers Grow Rapidly.

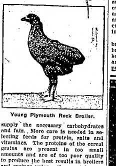
(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The most desirable types of rations and the most profitable feeding periods for the different classes of poultry fattened in packing plants are discussed in Department Bulletin 1052, Rations for Feeding Poultry in the Packing House, just issued by the bureau of chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture. Since the fleshing of poultry has become a large industry in the United States, information of the kind contained in this bulletin should be of a great deal of value.

The results obtained in the experiments reported in this bulletin show that a great variety of feeds can be used in fattening broilers, springs, roasters and hens, a fortunate situation since it permits the feeder to adapt his ration to market conditions by taking advantage of special prices of certain feeds and also to use feeds available locally. A growing bird, such as a broiler or spring, requires a different ration than a mature hen, which changes most of her feed into fat. A simple ration of corn-meal and buttermilk is about as good as any for hens. Broilers fed rations containing protein concentrates, such as peanut meal, coconut oil, soy-bean meal, or meat scrap made appreciably better gains than those fed on corn meal and buttermilk. They grow rapidly and need tissue-forming feeds. Springs also respond readily to rations containing protein concentrates.

Throughout the 14-day feeding period broilers continued to gain well, which shows that this is not too long a feeding period. Springs grew very rapidly during the first 11 days, but not so rapidly, though profitably, during the remaining three days. Roasters gained well during the first two four-day periods, but not so well the last six days. It was found that the practice of feeding hens only six to eight days is well founded. The dressing and chilling shrinkage of hens, however, was much less than in the case of broilers, springs and roasters.

Any of the ordinary cereal grains supply the necessary carbohydrates and fats. More care is needed in selecting feeds for protein, salts and vitamines. The proteins of the cereal grains are present in too small amounts and are of too poor quality to produce the best results in broilers and springs unless other protein concentrates are added. Milk and cereals make one of the most profitable rations, as milk supplies mineral substances, vitamines and very valuable proteins. The results given in the bulletin show that peanut meal protein, as well as soy-bean meal protein, is especially valuable. The proteins of buttermilk are especially valuable, and if used in sufficiently large amounts produce very desirable results. Other protein concentrates are meat and fish scraps, cottonseed meal, coconut meal and sesame-seed meal.



Young Plymouth Rock Broiler.

Corn, wheat, oats and other grains lack such mineral substances as calcium, sodium and chlorine which growing animals require. In the rations where buttermilk or skim milk is used, these ingredients are fairly well supplied. Milk also supplies vitamines. At present the milk available for poultry-fleshing purposes is largely buttermilk, fresh, condensed or powdered.

Those interested in the fleshing of poultry may get this bulletin by addressing the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C.

SELL POULTRY TO CONSUMER

Specialists Believe It to Be Most Profitable Method of Disposing of Best Fowls.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There are three general ways of selling poultry—direct to the consumer, direct to the retailer, or to commission merchants for selling on the open market. Selling direct to the consumer is believed by poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture to be the most profitable method of disposing of high-grade goods, for the charges of the middlemen are eliminated. Very often the producer is situated so that he can build up a retail trade among the families of a neighboring town or city, delivering his goods once or twice a week, or oftener if desired. In this way he can obtain a substantial increase over prices paid in the open market. Especially is this true in the case of strictly fresh eggs. Often it is possible to find customers in a town or city within reasonable hauling distance, taking eggs and poultry to them at regular intervals. Hotels, restaurants and clubs are good customers which can be supplied in this way by contract.

Often there are grocery and provision dealers catering to a select trade to whom the producer can sell regular supplies of eggs and poultry. Of course, the simplest way to sell produce is through the commission merchant. It does away with expense and trouble of private trades, but the returns usually are not so large, except when dealing with certain commission houses that have built up a fine trade along certain lines. The Department of Agriculture has several bulletins covering the subject of marketing poultry. Farmers' Bulletin 830, Shipping Eggs by Parcel Post, may be had free upon application to the division of publications; Farmers' Bulletin 528, Hints to Poultry Raisers, 5 cents; Department Bulletin 561, Feed Cost of Egg Production, price 10 cents, may be ordered of the superintendent of documents, government printing office, Washington.

DEMAND IS FOR WHITE EGGS

An Exceptionally Keen Sense of Taste Would Be Required to Note Any Difference.

It would take an exceptionally keen sense of taste to distinguish any difference between white and brown eggs at breakfast, but human beings are such faddists that, in the opinion of some, the difference is there just the same. In New York the demand is for white shells, while in Boston the brown egg is just as popular.

"Some men will have only Dutch Belted cattle or Hampshire hogs," said one of the poultry specialists in the Department of Agriculture. "They are color enthusiasts. The liking for white-shelled eggs may have grown from associating the egg with the white poultry, an agreeable picture suggesting cleanliness. Actually, however, the brown-shell egg is every bit as good as the white until you arrive at the price in New York. The difference there sometimes is considerably in favor of the white."

At present all the general purpose breeds of chickens are layers of brown eggs. Some of the leading markets demand the white egg, however, and as the price favors the white product it is important to supply it if possible and at the same time produce a fowl having weight in meat.

POULTRY NOTES

The busy hen is the one that makes the best layer.

* * *

It pays to feed the young fowls liberally until they are full grown.

* * *

Be kind to your fowls; make friends with them and they will repay you. Fright reduces the egg yield.

* * *

Exercise makes the hens lay better, insures fertile eggs and makes the chicks grow strong and healthy.

* * *

Make the nest boxes of ample size, but not too deep. The hens, if large in size, will break the eggs in getting into the nest if it be too deep.

* * *

A hen too closely confined soon becomes restless and uneasy. Restlessness results in discomfort and the development of such vices as egg-eating, feather-pulling and cannibalism.

COMPARE MERITS OF BREEDS

In Culling Operations in Indiana Standard Bred Hens Show Superiority Over Mongrels.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In Knox County, Ind., half the number of flocks of hens culled under the supervision of the county agent, employed co-operatively by the United States Department of Agriculture, the State Agricultural college, and the county, were standard bred and the other half mixed breeds, so their comparative merits could be considered through culling.

The 9 standard bred flocks numbered 1,087, while the 9 of mixed flocks numbered 1,103, or 16 more hens. The week before culling, the standard bred hens laid 2,900 eggs and the mixed breeds 2,547, or 352 less. In culling, 314 standard bred and 355 mongrel hens were removed from the flocks, leaving 773 standard bred and 738 mongrels, or 35 more standard breds. Two owners of the standard bred flocks, being breeders, culled much closer than the owners of the mixed flocks. The week after culling the standard bred hens laid 2,724 and the mongrels 2,433 eggs.

Mixed Flock of Hens.

The figures show that among the 1,087 standard bred hens there were 41 less culls than among the 1,103 of the mixed flocks, and that they laid 359 more eggs the week before culling and 291 more the week after.

AMERICAN FARMERS ARE HAPPIER THAN EUROPE'S

A recent traveler returning from a visit to France, Belgium and Germany expressed himself as being particularly impressed at how greatly the prosperity of the agricultural classes of America exceeds that in European countries. In the portions of Europe he visited the farms belong to the peasant class; they wear wooden shoes, they are poorly dressed, they seldom have an automobile, and their homes are rarely equipped with the modern conveniences. Sanitary conditions are far from ideal. The farms are small, they seldom change hands, and the farmers supply their own wants largely from what they grow on the farm. While they sell some produce the amount of business done by any one individual is comparatively small. It is seldom that the farmer has a checking account at the bank. With us conditions are quite different. The farmer without an automobile is the exception. One reason for this contrast in the conditions of the farmers on the two sides of the Atlantic is that our fertile and comparatively cheap soil has enabled us to produce enormous crops. American farming is Big Business.

MEANS FOR MITIGATING BUSINESS UPS AND DOWNS

In the future as in the past, business is likely to have its ups and downs. It is possible, however, that the violence of the fluctuations may be somewhat mitigated. A sound monetary and banking system will help. Thrift among the masses will help—a spirit of saving in times of prosperity against times of adversity, instead of stretching credit to the breaking point in times of prosperity, with nothing left but debts to face the period of unemployment that is to follow. Finally, when depression comes, concerted action among business men and by government agencies to keep the masses employed and hence improve their purchasing power will be helpful. Any adjustment which will afford means to buy to all who want to buy, and are willing to furnish a fair equivalent in production labor for the remuneration they receive, will take off the market all the goods—if the goods are of the right kind—which society can produce and will keep the wheels of industry in motion.—Journal of the American Bankers Association.

DAIRY FACTS

BIG VALUE OF BETTER SIRES

Offspring of Scrub Cows Bred to Purebreds Show Great Increase in Milk and Fat.

That purebred sires in the grade dairy herd are worth while is shown in the results of 14 years of experiments at Iowa State college. In the first generation from the purebred dairy bulls used, production of milk in grade cows was increased 44 per cent and fat production 38 per cent. In the second generation an increase of 110 per cent in milk over the original production was secured and 101 per cent increase in butterfat. This increase would more than pay for the cost of a good sire and the farmer would have a better herd at the end besides.

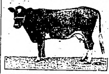
This work, which is a continuation of an experiment started in 1907 with scrub Arkansas cows, has progressed into the second generation so far and results show conclusively the value of better sires.

The Arkansas scrubs under Iowa conditions had an average production of 4,000 pounds of milk and 187 pounds of fat. The next generation following, made up of the offspring of the scrub cows from purebred sires, had a production of 5,769 pounds of milk and 250 pounds of butterfat.

In the next generation, where purebred sires were again used on grade cows, a production of 8,413 pounds of milk and 376 pounds of butterfat resulted.

Holstein, Jersey and Guernsey bulls were used in this experiment. In the original matings of the scrub cows which were later bred to Jersey bulls they produced 4,047 pounds of milk and 194 pounds of butterfat. From the first generation of Jersey mating a production of 4,934 pounds of milk, resulted and 260 pounds of butterfat. From the second Jersey mating 6,257 pounds of milk were produced and 320 pounds of butterfat.

Scrub cows later bred to purebred Guernsey bulls produced 4,306 pounds of milk and 196 pounds of butterfat. In a first mating with the Guernsey bulls 4,871 pounds of milk and 231 pounds of butterfat resulted. From the second mating a production of 7,271 pounds of milk and 370 pounds of butterfat were produced.



Half-Blood Holstein Which Had an Average Production of 6,384 Pounds of Milk and 304.6 Pounds of Butterfat.

Scrub cows bred later on to purebred Holstein sires had a production of 3,688 pounds of milk and 175 pounds of butterfat. Following a Holstein cross the offspring produced 6,748 pounds of milk and 277 pounds of butterfat. The offspring of a second generation with Holstein sires produced 10,826 pounds of milk and 399 pounds of butterfat.

The scrub Holsteins returned 3,688 pounds of milk and 175 pounds of fat while the first generation of purebred sires showed a production of 6,748 pounds of milk and 277 pounds of butterfat. The second generation increased steadily and showed 10,826 pounds of milk and 399 pounds of butterfat.

All these cows were kept under the same environment and fed as nearly as possible standard rations and received careful handling so that the experiment was uniform.

In a herd of well-fed cows it is not practical to try to produce milk containing more fat by giving rich feeds; that is a pretty well-settled fact. In a herd of poorly-fed cows, though, the percentage of fat can be increased by putting the cows on abundant ration that is rich and easily digested. Tests in New York showed an increase of one-quarter of 1 per cent of fat, when the cows were kept on good feeds for two years. The increase was economical, too. There was 50 per cent increase in amount of milk produced.

Raise More Sheep and Hogs
In these days when the financial horizon is clearing and the sun of prosperity is rising, the farmer who will profit most is he who is alive to every opportunity.
The Citizens State Bank believes that every farmer in Pennington County who raises more sheep and more hogs this year will share to a much greater extent in the increased prosperity.
Sheep and hogs will help to make your farm pay added dividends. Try it, and if we can help you in getting started, let us know.

Former Highlanding Woman Dies

The Bemidji Pioneer of last week LaCount, who for time resided with her family in Pennington county, in the vicinity of Highlanding. About five years ago the family moved to Bemidji, where her death took place. Following is the account given in the Bemidji paper:

"Mrs. Joseph LaCount, aged 36 years, who had been ill with pneumonia, and complications for a week at her home, 1106 Mississippi avenue, passed away at the Lutheran hospital Saturday evening, having been taken there a few hours previous for special care.

Eliza Morrissette was born at Montreal, Canada, June 6, 1887. She was united in marriage to Joseph La Count, April 20, 1900 at Red Lake Falls, Minn., removing later with her husband and family to High Landing, Minn., and had been a resident of Bemidji for the past five years.

Deceased was the mother of 13 children, three of whom preceded her in death during infancy.

The family has the entire sympathy of a large circle of friends in their bereavement.

Mrs. La Count leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, Joseph La Count, seven daughters, Mrs. H. D. Grow, Misses Cecelia, Victoria, Bella, Emelian and Alice of Bemidji and Mrs. Fred Carpenter of Bena; three sons, Frank, George and Omar of Bemidji, all of whom were present at her bedside, the youngest being but three years of age.

Deceased also leaves one sister, Mrs. Mike Madden of Savanna, Sask., and [illegible] brothers, Leo Morrissette of Eas[illegible] Forks, and Alfonso Morriss[illegible] Osseo, Minn.

F[illegible]ughter by Using Radio

Th[illegible]owing story of how a Roseau [illegible] found his daughter via rad[illegible] appeared in the columns of the Crookston Times last week and will undoubtedly prove of considerable interest, particularly for radio fans:

"A father, dangerously ill, resorted to radio to find his daughter Monday night and was successful.

A letter was sent from the Budd sanatorium to Kansas City Mo., Monday, stating that Edward Teetzel, a patient, was ill and desired to find Mrs. Bessie Mitchell, his daughter, from whom he had not heard and had not seen in many years. The letter was read over radio in the 6 p.m. program Monday. Mrs. Mitchell was listening in at her home in Kansas City, Kan., and heard the announcement. Tuesday she left to visit her father."

Woman Mayor of Plummer

The following were elected officers of the village of Oklee at the election held last week: A. P. Toupin, president of council; Ole O. Melby, trustee; C. E. Seeger, treasurer; Dan Rolland, recorder; I. D. Toupin, assessor; Mrs. G. A. Hovland and O. O. Liabraaten, justices of peace.

In Plummer the election results were as follows: President of council, Mrs. Frank snyder, trustee, H. F. Booren; treasurer, H. J. Enderle; clerk, F. R. Davies; justice of the peace (2 years), P. F. Loesch; justice of the peace (1 year), E. T. Skogen; constable (2 years), H. L. Bruggeman; assessor (2 years), C. A. Lindberg.

Hail Insurance Bill Killed

A bill in the state legislature to authorize the state or county to engage in the hail insurance business was killed by the house committee on insurance Tuesday after it had been amended making it optional with farmers whether they cared to insure in such a company.

George W. Wells, Jr., state insurance commissioner, objected to the bill on the ground that the farmers' mutual company could operate more cheaply than a state company.

When the amendment removing the compulsory feature was introduced, Representative S. A. Stockwell moved for indefinite postponement. This was seconded by Mr. Trovatan and the bill was killed by almost unanimous vote.

Women Village Mayors

Women figured quite prominently in the village elections in this section last week. According to reports received up to this date the villages of Plummer, Brookston and Tenstrike will be headed by women during the ensuing year. Mrs. Frank Snyder was elected in Plummer, Mrs. Garrette Cronk in Tenstrike and Mrs. Gust Turn in Brookston.

Bagley Schools Open

Bagley public schools were reopened Monday following a week of clos[illegible] due to various forms of illness [illegible] the pupils. Many of the[illegible] are ill with grippe and in[illegible] while others are suffering [illegible]rlet fever, small pox and [illegible] according to reports.

[illegible]owing was the result of the [illegible]ge election at Newfolden last week: Mayor, Alfred Johnson; member of council, M. Smeby; treasurer, [illegible]care Hanson; Clerk, H. Hanson; assessor for two years, H. C. Haugen; justice of peace for two years, P. Vinje; constable, Stener Blinsmon. 61 votes were cast.

Erskine School Dist. Dissolved

A rather lengthy and intense conflict in the nearby village of Erskine came to a close last week when the faction wanting the dissolution of the consolidated school number 230 won their fight which was brought before the Polk county board of commissioners for decision. The board decided on granting the petition to break up the new district into the old district at a session last week.

The district will now return to the old organization of a school in each of districts number 170, 269 and 164. The fight for the dissolution was brought by a large number of Erskine farmers who claimed that the one large school was a larger burden of expense than the upkeep of three smaller schools.

Lodges Must Pay Tax

A great many lodges, fraternal orders, societies, and clubs seem to have the impression that they do not have to collect tax on tickets of admission sold by them, either because they are exempt from tax on dues, or because they are non-profit making organizations," said Collector of Internal Revenue L. M. Willcuts, recently. "Neither the fact that such societies may be exempt from tax on dues, nor the fact that no profit is made or sought, has any bearing whatever on their liability to collect tax on admissions," continued Collector Willcuts. "It is the purchaser of admission who must pay the tax and it is the duty of any person or organization selling admissions to collect the tax in addition to his admission price. Failure to collect the tax or failure to state the amount of tax on each ticket incurs a penalty of $1,000.00."

Stork Busy in Marsall Co.

Marshall county's population showed a natural increase of 379 in the year 1922 according to official figures from the reports of births and deaths during the past year announced by Alfred C. Swandby, clerk of court. The total births in the county for the year were 552 and there were 173 deaths.

St. Hilaire Election Results

The annual village election in St. Hilaire, held Tuesday of last week, was a very tame affair, and only a small number of votes were cast. A. J. Hed received the largest number of votes for president; G. Fellman was elected councilman by one vote; M. Fricker and E. O. Burkee were returned as recorder and treasurer, respectively, and J. A. Dahl received the largest vote for assessor.

Obliging

A man who had been drinking too many saw a sign, "Please ring the bell for a caretaker."

He walked up and gave the bell such a pull that it nearly came out by the roots.

In a few moments an angry man appeared at the door. "Are you the caretaker?" asked the bell puller.

"Yes, what do you want?"

"I saw that notice, so I rang the bell, and now I want to know why you can't ring it yourself."

It is reported that suit is being brought against a movie actress by a Los Angeles motor truck firm. The actress lifted her skirts while crossing a muddy street with the result that two trucks crashed together and were wrecked. We had supposed there could be no further new developments in that direction that would interfere with the vision, and would suggest that instead of prosecuting the girl the truck firm equip their drivers with blinders.

Child Dies From Brain Fever

The little nineteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Amundson of Silverton township, Junice Lulla, died Tuesday after only a brief illness, the cause of her death being basal meningitis or brain fever. When it was seen that the child was in a critical condition, she was taken to the Swedenburg-Bowers hospital but attempts to save were of no avail, death occurring about two hours later. Burial will take place Saturday at the Silverton cemetery, services to be held from the home.

Township Election Returns

The new township clerks seem to be in no hurry about getting the results of the late election into the office of the county auditor. Only a few townships have as yet been heard from, the results in these being as follows:

Hickory: Supervisor, Peter Erickson; clerk, Bj Bjornaran; treasurer, H. T. Hanson; assessor, T. T. Kvale; justice, Bj Bjornarua; constable, Carl Clementson.

Mayfield: Supervisors, A. J. Stennes and Sever Nelson; clerk, M. O'Leary; treaurer, H. C. Jarr; assessor, M. O'Leary; justices, W. H. Wilde and John Solberg; constables, Nels Berg and J. P. Johnson.

Norden: W. V. Wilson, chairman; Frank Dunn, supervisior; Joe Hogquist, supervisior; J. N. Huddleson, assessor; A. E. Anderson, treasurer; Ole Mathson, justice 2 years; J. N. Huddleson, justice 1 year; Hubert Nelson and Hans Loken, justices.

Sanders: Ole Larson, chairman; J. V. Patton and Albert Lind, supervisors; O. O. Maland, clerk; A. N. K. Anderson, assessor; S. L. Lind, treasurer; Herman Ortloff and Sophus Ness, justices; Peder Ness, constable.

Cloverleaf: L. H. Smith, chairman; Ole Holman and G. N. Thompson, supervisors; Ed. Kotlan, clerk; T. M. Schie, assessor; Fred Hincik, treasurer; T. J. Skaar and T. M. Schei, justices; George Fuller, constable.

North: M. H. Ballangrud, clerk; Gilbert Hovo, assessor; Waldie Christensen, treasurer; Henry Kaushagen, supervisor three years; Albert Olson, justice; Andrew Hovland, constable. Jorgen Eide remains chairman of the board.

Flood Control Finances

Senator C. L. Hansen this week introduced a bill providing for the examination and supervision by the public examiner of the accounts and finances of flood control districts.

Cut Repair Costs and Get Good Roads at Same Time

Grade the highways, then put on gravel where it will stand up and pave the heavier traffic sections. Save money now going for top costly upkeep. The savings will more than cover the interest on the money for the lasting improvements. No money will be wasted on patchwork on unsatisfactory roads. The public will gain the use of the good roads while paying for them. The cost will be less, because there will be more good roads for the same money.

This is the state highway bond plan boiled down in the highway bulletin this week. Road and auto taxes will be no higher when bonds are issued—they would be no lower if there are no bond issues, it adds.

The bond plan will mean that more than a thousand miles of light-traveled roads will be graded, drained, and graveled and some heavy-traffic stretches will be paved this year and next. These lasting improvements will make big savings on maintenance—more than enough to pay the interest on the bonds. The public will get the use of the better roads five years sooner than without the bonds. There will be more good roads every year and every highway dollar will bring more value under the bond plan.

BANK NO. 1169
Statement of the condition of

DAIRY

BEST PLAN TO RAISE CALVES

Minnesota Idea Is to Give Youngsters Good Start and Then Feed Hay and Grain.

The milk of 45 out of every 100 cows kept in the United States is sold as whole milk. Owners of the herds where milk is marketed in this way have a serious problem in raising the necessary number of calves to maintain their herds. If no calves are raised and the farmer depends upon buying what he needs there is constant danger of disease and his herd seldom improves from year to year. When raising calves under these conditions some milk must be used, as there is no substitute for it.

Experiments in progress at the Minnesota experiment station show that the best plan so far worked out is to give the calves a good start with milk and then get them on grain and hay as soon as possible. The plan suggested is to feed milk in the usual way to the age of about fifty days, then if the calf is strong and vigorous gradually reduce the amount until none is fed after the calf is sixty to sixty-five days old.

Alfalfa or clover hay and a grain mixture of cornmeal four parts, bran one part and oilmeal one part is kept before the calves. They will begin eating grain and hay when about a month old and will gradually increase the amount until at the time the milk feeding ceases at sixty to sixty-five days of age they are able to get along very nicely without milk.

Calves handled in this manner will be somewhat checked in growth for a short time after the milk is taken from the ration, but will be in as good condition as the calf raised on skim milk by the time they are six months of age. The total milk used need not exceed 400 pounds. The grain mixture mentioned serves the purpose just as well as more expensive commercial calf meals.—C. H. Eckles, chief of the dairy division, University of Minnesota.

Teaching a Calf to Drink Skim Milk.

MISSOURI DAIRY COW FEEDS

Recommended That Animal Be Fed All Alfalfa or Clover Hay She Will Consume.

In making up a ration for dairy cows the Missouri College of Agriculture recommends that cows be fed all the alfalfa or clover hay they will readily consume, and to feed corn silage when available.

To this should be added a grain mixture if good results are to follow.

A grain mixture often recommended is four parts, by weight, of corn chops, two parts wheat bran and one part either cottonseed or linseed meal. This mixture is to be fed according to the quantity of milk produced.

One pound of the mixture is sufficient for every four pounds of milk produced by a Holstein cow or for every three pounds produced by a Jersey.

It is not a bad plan, in the above ration, to mix the cottonseed and linseed meal half and half, instead of using one alone.

LET CALVES RUN ON PASTURE

As Grass Contains Large Amount of Water, Something Additional Must Be Given.

Calves dropped in the fall and early winter should be allowed to run on pasture during the summer. Pasture, however, should not be depended upon altogether, as it contains too large an amount of water in proportion to the food nutrients to insure the calves a satisfactory ration.

Feeding Cows Properly.

Feeding cows so they can exist is one thing, and feeding them so they can produce milk is still another.

Freshen Cows In Fall.

The farmers who make it a point to freshen their cows in the fall of the year know how to make money.

Unsatisfactory Methods.

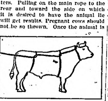
Primitive methods of dairying will not bring satisfactory results under modern conditions of production and marketing.

PLAN FOR THROWING ANIMAL

Necessary at Times to Have Cow or Bull on Ground to Perform Necessary Operations.

For performing surgical operations, dehorning, ringing or castrating, it is often necessary or desirable to throw a bull and hold him on the ground.

The accompanying sketch shows a very effective method to use in casting a cow or bull. It requires 35 or 40 feet of rope. With hornless animals the first loop will need to be around the neck instead of the horns, as illustrated. The next step is a half hitch just back of the forelegs and another in front of the hind quarters. Pulling on the main rope to the rear and toward the side on which it is desired to have the animal lie will get results. Pregnant cows should not be so thrown. Once the animal is down turn its head back, nose up, with poll to the ground. A hand hold on the side of upper lip will usually enable one man to hold the animal down, another man keeping taut the casting rope.—Dairy Farmer.



Effective Method In Casting Bull.

ECONOMICAL FEED FOR HERD

Most Important Item That Enters Into Cost of Milk Production—Analysis of Figures.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

How to feed his herd economically and profitably is an important thing for a dairyman to know. In all sections of the country where investigations have been carried on, the United States Department of Agriculture has found that feed is the most expensive item that enters into the cost of milk production; and intelligent feeding, in either summer or winter, offers the biggest opportunity to reduce costs.

The analysis of many figures by the department shows that in Vermont the winter costs of keeping a herd were made up of 63.1 per cent feed and bedding, 17.5 per cent labor and 19.4 per cent other costs. In summer, feed and bedding represented 41.6 per cent of the total expense, labor 26.7 per cent and other costs 31.7 per cent.

In the South the costs are distributed somewhat differently. Figures obtained in Louisiana show that in winter 56 per cent of the expense is for feed and bedding, 22.4 per cent for labor and 21.6 per cent other costs. The summer costs in that region do not differ from the winter costs so much as they do in the North. The figures for summer in Louisiana show that 50.5 per cent of the total cost of milk is for feed and bedding, 26.2 per cent for labor and 23.3 per cent for other costs.

Although it is advisable for a farmer to economize wherever he can wisely do so, these figures show that the dairyman who studies feeds and feeding has an excellent opportunity to increase the profits of his dairy herd.

SOY BEANS FOR DAIRY COWS

According to Tests at Iowa Station Plant Furnishes Most Palatable Protein Feed.

Soy beans as a feed for dairy cattle have shown their value in replacing oil meal in the ration, according to a recent experiment conducted by the Iowa agricultural experiment station. Cracked soy beans, it was found, made a palatable protein feed worth one-third more than the same amount of oilmeal.

Two years' experiments were conducted with the soy beans in replacing protein supplements, and the results show that dairy farmers can produce this supplement to advantage.

BALANCED RATION IS URGED

Corn Fodder Is Not Satisfactory for Dairy Cow Because It Is Lacking In Protein.

A cow may consume large quantities of feed, and still lack the essential elements for milk production. This is why the use of a balanced ration is both economical and satisfactory. Corn fodder, fed alone, for example, is not a satisfactory feed, because the ration lacks protein, and hasn't sufficient succulence to promote a satisfactory flow of milk.

Keep Utensils Clean.

Milking machine, pails and covers should be thoroughly washed and sterilized with steam after every milking.

Milking Preparations.

In preparing the cows for milking, the same care should be used as in milking by hand. It is necessary that the teats be very clean if a clean milk is to be obtained.

Increase Dairy Profits.

Systematic feeding of good cows will increase dairy profits.

SELL HISTORIC SPOTS

Sites Might Have Become Famous if Used by Army.

Federal Government Propose to Dispose of Real Estate Acquired in Early Times for Fortification Purposes.

Washington.—Bits of land which have, or, if developed, might have figured largely in the history of the South are included in the War department's "land junk" sale.

The bill authorizing the sale shows that the federal government plans to dispose of real estate which was acquired as early as 1709 for fortification purposes, but which modern warfare has relegated to the class of "surplus and unnecessary government property."

Communications received by a number of senators from Southern states indicate some of the property will be purchased by historical societies.

Examination of the history of the tracts to be offered for sale revealed that the deeds to two tracts, Old Fort Jackson at Savannah, Ga., and Perry Point in Norfolk county, Virginia, were made out and stand today, to "Thomas Jefferson, President of the United States and his successors in office."

Another tract, Fort Nelson, also in Norfolk county, Virginia, and bought as a site for fortifications for Norfolk, is covered by a deed made out to John Quincy Adams and his successors in the office of President.

Two parcels to be sold also are shown to include Beacon island, off the North Carolina coast, which was acquired by the government in 1790, as a site for fortifications off Newbern, which was an important city at the close of the Revolutionary war.

Other sites to be sold are Fort Macon, near Beaufort and Morehead City, N. C., bought in 1810 and 1826 as a site for the defense of Old Topsail Inlet and Fort St. Philip, on the Mississippi river south of New Orleans, which was acquired as "defense against the British" prior to the battle of New Orleans.

DIG UP PEAT ON "U" CAMPUS

Professor of the University of Michigan Sees Great Scientific Value In Discovery.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—In the excavations being made on the campus for the literary building and the physics building, Prof. H. H. Bartlett has discovered pellets of peat which will, it is believed, be of great scientific value.

It is believed this discovery will enable scientists to determine the type of vegetation existing in the glacial period. According to Professor Bartlett's theory, these pellets came from a peat bed that existed during the glacial period, disintegrated in the break-up and was carried out with the gravel.

The pellets found here are two and three inches across. They have no commercial value.

JACK HOLT'S BLACK EYE SUBJECT OF MUCH INTEREST

It is easier to start dame rumor on her way in a motion picture studio than anywhere else in the world. Jack Holt, popular Paramount star, was hit in the eye with a polo ball while playing on the Beverley Hills team in a game at the Midwick Country Club. He came to the studio the following day with a noticeable black eye.

The gossips immediately began to buzz. An extra man slipped the confidential information to a friend that Jack had been in a brawl and had come out second best. One of the stage carpenters working on a set for Mr. Holt's latest picture, "While Satan Sleeps," told the press agent that Mr. Holt got his black eye in the saloon fight scene which was staged for the picture.

A bunch of extra girls caught a glimpse of Jack's darkened optic. Immediately there was much mysterious conversation. "I know," whispered one; "Jack's been in a fight. Isn't it too bad!"

"There seems to be no limit to what a polo ball will do when it comes in contact with a man's eye," commented Mr. Holt.

But the eye didn't hold up the star's work in the picture. The long shots were made and in a few days the optic was sufficiently healed so that closer scenes could be filmed. The picture will be exhibited at the Lyceum Theatre Sunday and Monday. Fritzi Brunette is leading woman.

Candidate for Roseau Treasurer

It will be of interest to local friends of Miss Edith Skoglung, formerly employed by Gustafson's Implement company but now in a Roseau bank, to know that she was among the candidates for village treasurer at the election last week. There were, however, three other candidates for the position and Miss Skoglund failed to get the necessary number of votes to secure the election.

Playing the Game

The defeat of our boys at Crookston tournament has become a matter of history for the current school year. We were beaten and there are no alibis to offer; but although we lost the district title, the season cannot be accounted a failure.

Athletics, essentially, are composed of ninety percent of a hard grind, distant from the plaudits of the crowd and the momentary glory of the spotlight. Thus, it is but to be expected that those not directly connected with athletics cannot appreciate the good that can be gotten from it, above and beyond any scores of championships. It is the usual custom to speak of a season as having been a success if a series of victories or a championship has been gained; or to look back upon the season with regret, if such has not been the case.

Thief River Falls has always been lax, and continues so, in regard to supporting athletic activities. The people of this vicinity have got to learn that defeat or victory is not the paramount part of the game—that it is PLAYING THE GAME that counts.

The true value of these activities goes far beyond championships or victories; the one big reason why such are encouraged in schools is that they tend to help develop the participants both bodily and mentally, in ways that lessons cannot do. The constitution of those engaged in athletics is very greatly strengthened by the strenuous practice, the wits are sharpened, and the ability to think rapidly and accurately becomes a matter of second nature.

The big men of our day are those who are developed to the greatest degree both physically and mentally. The mind cannot work to its fullest capacity unless the body also is perfectly developed; and the practice of engaging in athletics helps accomplish this more than anything else. Therefore, although we won no championships, let us herald the season's activities for what they are worth and give them their dues.

Should Seniors Decide?

What does it mean to be a Senior? No doubt Seniors have asked themselves that question many times. Every lower classman has asked himself, or should have, that same question.

It is human nature that important things be left to the last. We do it every day. A high school student does not give thought as to what he shall pursue upon graduation until commencement day is here and past.

The Senior should decide on his vocation, study for it and stick to it. The old adage that a jack of all trades is master of none is only too true. The world is now advanced to such a stage of civilization that we must each be prepared to meet a separate phrase of life.

To be a Senior means that we are on the brink. We must prepare, dive and swim hard for the current is swift. The world owes you nothing. Your high school education is worthless unless you are working toward a definite goal.

To be a Senior means that you must soon decide or join that endless band of drifters. Which will you do?

Speech by Sec. of War Caught by Local Radio

While shifting from one station to another on his radio set about a week ago, Steve Arneson heard the announcer say, "A message from Sec'y of War Weeks." In a few moments the message began and lasted for about fifteen minutes. The text ran something like this:

It is probably the belief of many that the war department has no duties in times of peace. Such is not the case. Porto Rico and the Phillippines are governed by the war department. Every day we hear of some new bridge completed or a great harbor dredged. All river and harbor improvements are made under the supervision of the War Department. Space does not permit further discourse. Let it be known that the War Department does not hold strictly to it's title.

Cheer Up!

Cheer up ye failures, you who get red marks and are not "making good" as you feel you ought. A review of the annals of history discloses that many of the world's greatest men were known as failures when they were of school age, and some for a long time after. The immortal Lincoln was a failure until he was after 40. He failed in business, he failed in law, he was beaten in politics. Nature did not intend Lincoln to be a lawyer, or a business man; he was intended for the Presidency of the United States and as president he became the greatest success the world has ever known. Likewise if you are cut out to be a poet, mathematics may not interest you and red marks appear on your report card. If your natural bent is electricity and nature intended you to succeed Steinmetz, don't let a lagging interest in English literature worry you. All of these things are nice to know; but don't submerge your natural inclination in an effort to do fairly well in everything, but especially well in nothing. Remember that if Lincoln had succeeded as a village storekeeper, he might never have gone down in history as the Great American. One thing to be remembered, however, in thus consoling ourself is the fact that Lincoln at least did his best. When he does his best and still fails, there are few regrets to offer. On the other hand, when one fails through carelessness and neglect, he can not expect wonderful things.

Alumni Notes

Lloyd Peterson of the class of '20 is now attending the University of Minnesota, where he is in the school of civil engineering.

Miss Mildred Bottelson of the class of '21 is now training to be a nurse at Rochester, Minnesota.

Milden Boreen of the class of '20 is attending the Mining School at the University of Minnesota.

Miss Marguerite DeCremer of the class of '21 will return Friday from the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, where she has been attending school. She will spend the Easter vacation with her parents.

Several of the radio sets of this city caught a piano solo given by Elnor Overland from the Carleton station, on Friday night. Elnor is a member of the class of '20 of this school.

Leo Ihle of the class of '21 is now bringing down the high marks in the school of business at the University of Minnesota.

Fred Paulson of the class of '22 returned Saturday morning from Minneapolis, where he spent a few days visiting friends and relatives.

Roy Flattum of the class of '20 is now a junior at St. Olaf college.

Henry Olson of the class of '21 is now employed on a cattle ranch in Arizona, where he has been since last fall.

BREAD BAKERS TO CROOKSTON APRIL 5

Teams From Nine Schools to Compete for Representation at State Fair

Myrtle Helgeland, Myrtle Krause, and Hazel Krause will represent Thief River Falls high school at the Bread Baking Contest to be held at Crookston April 5 during Junior Short course week. Nine schools will be represented at this elimination try-out, and the winning team will participate in the state contest to be held at the State Fair next September. Myrtle Helgeland, who took honors in bread-baking at the state fair last year, was asked by Mr. Kittleson of Crookston to select a team to compete in the preliminary contest, and chose as her team-mates Myrtle Krause, who has also baked in the state contest, and the latter's sister Hazel, who has also shown ability in preparing the staff of life. These girls are now devoting all their time practicing and experimenting in scientific bread-making, that they may bake the best bread in northwestern Minnesota at Crookston April fifth.

A Correction

Due to a typographical error, which was overlooked by the Progress composing editor, Miss MacNair's name appeared under an article that was written by a student in the Journalism class.

Julius Caesar Program

In order that the students might better understand the picture, "Julius Caesar," a short chapel was called Friday and several of the English II students gave short talks on Caesar's life.

Lucille Roark gave a talk on his early life. Katherine Barzen talked about the part of his life that is taken up by Shakespeare in his play of the same title. Emmet Shanahan read a paper on the picture itself.

These talks made the picture very impressive and interesting, especially to those who had studied the play.

Courses By Mail Now Reach 2500

Increase in the popularity of correspondence courses, in the extension division, University of Minnesota, is shown by a list of 2500 students who have been active in one or another of the courses during the past year, as compared with 1800 a year ago, W. C. Smiley acting director, announced.

More immediate interest was aroused by the course in maternity hygience, recently begun by the department, than had resulted from any one course, Mr. Smiley said. In less than two months 100 women from many parts of Minnesota have taken up the maternity hygience work.

Mr. Smiley is in conference with R. R. Barlow, head of the department of journalism, regarding establishment of a complete series of correspondence courses in journalism. These will be written by Mr. Barlow and other members of the department. The first of them is expected to be ready soon.

Out of the Question

Mr. Harner: "Lorraine, were you talking to Herbert?"

Lorraine: "I should say not!"

A lot of fellows who claim to be clothed in their right minds are not very heavily dressed.

The sun has been shining pretty bright these last few days, but it meets a great deal of resistance when it goes so far as to strike Albert's hair.

Sweaters Ordered

The order for the football and basketball sweaters will doubtless be placed this week. Measurements have been taken, and negotiations have been entered into with several business houses as to quality and price of sweaters.

The sweaters are to be blue and red—the high school colors. The high school letters will appear on the right side of the sweater, and on the left sleeve there will be from one to four stripes according to the years of service on the team. A star will denote a captaincy.

STUDENTS INVITED TO MAKE USE OF GIRLS' COMMUNITY CLUB ROOM

Miss Bertha Poston, who recently returned from New York City where she has been engaged in social welfare work gave a short talk in chapel Wednesday on her experiences as a welfare worker.

In behalf of the Girls' Community club she cordially invited all the high school students to use their club rooms on every evening of the week except Mondays. The second and fourth Mondays of the month the rooms are used by the Community girls, but she stated that any group may have the use of the rooms for parties on the first and third Mondays by first consulting and inviting her. The kitchen and equipment in the rooms are open to the use of the students, who may provide their own recreation, with the restriction that there be no dancing or card-playing. The students were glad to receive this invitatiion and we are sure that a great number will take advantage of this kindness on the part of the Girls' Community club.

Honor Roll Omissions

The following names were omitted from the honor roll published last week: Seniors: Elsie Buringrud, and Florentine Hance; post graduates: Alyce Berg, Mildred Loftness, Annie Pederson, Myrtle Myrin; sophomore: Sarah Martinson. This changes the total to 39, with nine each of freshmen, sophomores, and seniors, eight juiors, and four post graduates.

Personals

Mr. Rapacz while in Minneapolis visited South, North and West high schools. He reports that in the latter he learned that Clara Lee, a freshman in our high school last year, is a star student in French. He also says that Herbert Keene, who is now attending the new Edison high, is lonesome for our high school. After all it must be a pretty good place.

Mr. Rapacz returned on Monday to resume his duties as principal after a two weeks absence caused by the illness and death of his wife. The entire student body extend their sympathy to him in his great sorrow.

Miss Maude Johnson, who has so faithfully carried on the duties of principal during the absence of Mr. Rapacz, will return to her duties as supervisor of music in our schools.

Miss Ruth Johnson, took charge of the Public Speaking and English classes on Friday in the absence of Miss MacNair.

Mr. Clarence Pope, instructor in the Smith Hughes department, explained the dynamo and motor to the Physics class on Thursday.

Allison Stitt, Arthur Penney, Lloyd Bennes, and Thomas Melgaard spent Friday at the basket ball tournament at Crookston.

The bad weather we have been having is a good antidote for the spring fever.

It will probably be of interest to know that Hugh McDaniel, '21, has been married since the first part of January.

DECLAIMERS TO MEET AT MC INTOSH FRIDAY

District Representatives to State Contest to be Chosen From Sub-District Winners

The Declamation League of District One will hold their Elimination contest at McIntosh Friday, March 23 at 2:30 o'clock at the high school gymnasium.

Those who take part were chosen from the primary contests held at East Grand Forks, Bemidji and Thief River Falls last month.

The judges will chose two contestants, a boy and a girl, to represent this district at Minneapolis, the last week in March.

There are six contestants, who from Warren, one from McIntosh, one from Roseau, one from Greenbush and one from Bemidji. The rest of the program will be carried out by the McIntosh School board and Girls Glee club.

The program in full as follows:

School Board

The Turk Must Go — Arthur Wold, Roseau.

Gratton's Reply to Corry — Ralph Stevens, Warren.

The Call to Arms — Tom Webster McIntosh.

Girls Glee Club

The Soul of a Violin — Ruth Caskey, Bemidji.

Madam Butterfly — Ruth O'Brien, Greenbush.

The Littlest Rebel — Anne Cassidy, Warren.

Laments of the Love-lorn

Dear Miss Q. Pid:

I weigh 175 pounds with brown eyes and curly hair. Do you think she loves me? I am about to purchase a necktie. What color combination would you suggest? I met a girl on the street today who smiled. I am receiving $20 a week. Shall I marry her? I part my hair on the side and bring it softly back forming bangs over my collar. For evening wear I drape it gracefully over the water pitcher. Am I beautiful? Hopeful Chester.

Dear Hopeful Chester:

Your proportions are good and I couldn't suggest a more becoming hair arrangement. It suits your type of beauty to perfection. Make sure the girl smiled at you and not your money, before marrying her. She may be one of these get-rich-quick babies. If you have trouble finding suitable neckwear in your city just send a stamped, addressed dry-goods box. Today I saw one especially suited to the dashing brunette type as I understand you to be, judging from the way you cross your t's. It was a beautiful creation with yellow goo-goo birds on a field of purple poppies which looked so natural they nearly put me to sleep for fifteen cents.

Miss Q. Pid.

St. Patrick's Party

Miss Esther Bennes entertained at her home on Markeley avenue, last Saturday afternoon, in the form of a St. Patrick's party.

Four tables were laid for whist, Ethel Bickley carrying off the honors, and Dorothy Swedenburg the booby prize.

The rooms were gaily decorated in green and white, the same scheme being attractively carried out at the table, in the form of favors and place-cards. Dancing followed immediately after the luncheon.

The guest were Misses Katherine Barzen, Eleanora Toms, Elizabeth DeCremer, Lily Gran, Mildred Sullivan Ethel Bickley, Margaret Melgaard, Rose Flynn, Maxine Johnson, Lylian Arnold, Vivian Thorson, and Ersyle Anderson.

Faculty Committee to Pick Senior Class Play

A faculty committee, consisting of Mrs. Korstad, Miss Maude L. Johnson, Mr. Bye, Miss MacNair, and Mr. Powley, has been chosen to select the Senior class play, and to select the characters. The committee has a number of plays under consideration, and will announce their choice within a short time. The selection of the play will be influenced somewhat by the characters available. The members of the cast will of course be chosen to fit the individual parts, but it is understood that no one will be considered who is not doing satisfactory school work.

As it usually requires about a month of diligent practice to work up a good presentation of such a play as the seniors propose to give, present plans are to present the class play about May 11.

"Jumbo-Jum"

If it's the heavy laugh you crave, then see "Jumbo-Jum," but decide to go now. It's the clever, snappy sort of comedy that undermines dignity and carries it into real laughter.

"Jumbo-Jum" the nigger, played by Melvin Engelstad, gets a job, "provided dere's bery liddle to do an' a great deal to get for it." This nigger will not give you a chance to decide what's coming next, but will keep you laughing.

Mildred Griffin plays the part of Hannah, the maid, and throws herself into a role so cleverly, that at times it seems as if she has to be reminded of the contrary.

Lawyer Cheatum is played by Orrin Storholm, and a prince he seems to be in the eyes of Jumbo-Jum. Here is a character that suddenly seems to have been admitted to the bar, if you don't believe it let convince you the night of the play.

Clifford Storholm, taking the role of the daring young Henry Merville, proves to be a sheik of the love-maid as he makes the greatest leap of his life with Adelaide, Mr. Gobbleton's ward.

Ruth Dybvik plays the part of Adelaide, a daring young miss, who is going to start a convention "and be president, secretary, and board of directors, myself."

Virgil Denhart takes the part of the indignant Mr. Gobbleton so well he'll make you gasp. He hires the nigger, but what happens before the close?

Mrs. Gobbleton is played by Beatrice Forder, who makes the revengeable, drowned wife.

It's at the start you begin to laugh and continually it passes from one funny incident to a funnier one; then at the beginning of the 2nd, and until the end, the only consolation is to wear a rib-protector.

Jumbo-Jum will be presented at the Lyceum theatre sometime after Easter.

Knox School News

Mr. and Mrs. Kielty visited the third grade last week.

Gladys Linstad, fourth grade, Carl Mack, fifth, and Burnham and Gordon Doland, fifth, have left the city and enrolled in other schools.

Mrs. Protzeller was a visitor in the Knox school last Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Halvorson attended the tournament at Crookston.

Orville Knudson has recently enrolled in the sixth grade.

A civic contest in view of the problem of beautifying our town, home, and school is now in progress in the sixth grade, the winner being promised a prize.

Robert Boreen, fourth grade, has completed the fifth Studebaker test.

Four hundred and eight half pint bottles of milk were sold to the Knox students during the past week.

Attendance has been very irregular this week due to a large amount of colds and sickness.

FAST CROOKSTON TEAM WINS DISTRICT B. B. CHAMPIONSHIP

Warren Defeats Thief River 17 to 11, But Loses to Crookston in Finals

The Crookston basketball team took on and defeated all opponents in the finals for district championship at that place, March 15th and 16th. This entitles them to play in the state tournament, March 27, at Minneapolis. They will meet District 14 for state honors at that time.

The Crookston aggregation have shown themselves to be a high school team worthy of the district championship. They played ten games during the season and won every one, finishing with a 1000 percentage. In the district meet the scores made by Crookston were worthy of note.

The elimination started when Stephen defeated Ada 15 to 13. Crookston and McIntosh put up a good battle but the former came out on the long end of the score which was 33 to 9. Warren defeated Thief River in the second game of the series 17 to 11. The Crookston Times gives the following account of the game:

"Warren's victory over Thief River Falls last night was well earned, the midgets from the Marshall county seat continually outplaying their larger opponents. Thief River started the scoring when C. Sorenson made an easy shot after the first few seconds of play. Warren was behind 2 to 4 at the end of the first quarter, and seemed to be due for a beating, but came back in the next quarter and scored nine points while holding Thief River to but one free throw. The score at half time was 11 to 5. The final score was 17 to 11.

"Each team scored six points in the last half, when the play lagged, with Warren taking things easy while Thief River was making wild attempts to score. C. Sorenson was the luminary for the losers, while Quistgard and the hard working Anderson starred for the winner."

Coach MacFarlane stated: "The fellows just didn't get along. At times it seemed they played real honest to goodness basket ball but I'm sure everyone did not play to the fullest extent of their ability."

The fast Fosston team had an easy victory over the Warroad five in the final game of the evening. The score was 36 to 11.

Friday morning at 9:30, Crookston took the Ada five into camp at the tune of 33 to 11. Fosston met Warren in the second game of the semi-finals and put up a good fight but lost to Warren 22 to 17.

This eliminated all teams except Warren and Crookston who met at 8:30 p.m. to decide the championship of the district. Crookston showed their superiority over the Warren squad defeating them 32 to 9. Crookston will receive the Silver Loving cup awarded the district champions for 1923.

Everett Dean of Carleton officiated the tournament in a very capable manner. He was assisted by coach Constans of Northwestern school of Agriculture.

In selecting men for all-district teams the judges were decidedly influenced by the winning of the teams.

CUT EDUCATION COSTS PLEA OF SCHOOL BOARDS

Annual Meeting Favors Elimination of "Frills"—Greater Efficiency Urged

Legislature is Asked to Appropriate Funds to Meet Deficiency in Aid Fund

State Asked to Pay $7 Instead of $5 Per Head for Non-Resident Pupils

Reduction in the cost of education, elimination of nonessentials called "frills" and "fads" and increased efficiency in school work were urged at the second annual convention of the Minnesota School Board association, held recently in St. Paul.

The organization has for its purpose the improvement of the states's school system through group action by those directly concerned.

The association reelected all its officers, Victor E. Anderson of Wheaton, president; M. W. Williams of Lanesboro, vice president; and A. A. Haagenson of Barnesville, treasurer.

An outstanding feature of the meeting was the passage of a resolution asking that teachers' salaries be reduced, in keeping with the present downward trend of wage levels. "The cost of the public school system in Minnesota," th resolution says, "has reached a point from which reductions will have to be made or the entire structure is in grave danger of complete breakdown. Teachers should bear their just share in the retrenchment of such costs and it is also essential that the efficiency of oun schools be greatly increased." Minimum wage laws or other similar ligeslation with regard to teachers is opposed

The convention asked the legislature to make an appropriation to meet a 26 per cent deficiency in the state school aid fund.

Steps toward efficiency named were an avoidence of new or additional departments in public schools, strictest economy on the part of school boards, an increase in the number of pupils per teacher and a reduction in the amount of supervision.

An investigation of present prices for text books and furniture, held "controlled and unreasonable," is to be made by a committee of three, appointed by the chairman.

Distribution of state aid at the rate of $50 instead of $40 as proposed by the interim educational committee is urged. The convention also urged that the state pay school districts at the rate of $7 instead of $5 per non-resident pupil, as proposed by the interim committee.

A special state aid fund equal to an assessment of at least three mills on taxable property in addition to the present one mill tax was indorsed. Distribution and administration should be such as to give rural schools more nearly the same educational advantages as have urban centers.

The full strength of the association is pledged to a movement to make the schools boards the prime educational force in their respective sections. "State aid should not be made a condition dependent upon any requirement for any specified courses of study or additional buildings," the resolutions said.

Reconstruction of the course of study at the state university so that children may be able to get at least a two year college course at home and changes in the high school course be made so as to make those institutions "parts of a real people's college instead of a mere feeder to the university."

Selection of members of the Board of Regents from all parts of the state, with adequate representation for agriculture, is urged.

Attendance at Y. M. C. A. is Steadily Increasing

At a meeting of the executive board of the Y. M. C. A. held on Monday evening a highly gratifying report of the activities of the organization was submitted. It was shown that during the first week the quarters here were open to the publis there were 50 persons visited the rooms; the second week there were 61, third, 65, and fourth 90, making a total of 261 for the first month. In additional there were also 18 adult visitors. The average time spent by each visitor to the rooms was one hour and 10 minutes.

There are at present about 50 members and quite a number have signified their intention of joining soon. Several business men in the city have offered to pay the admission fees for those who are unable to meet this expense themselves. The rooms are open from 7:15 to 10 o'clock every evening except Sunday and a telephone has been installed for the convenience of visitors. It is planned to soon add a radio outfit to the equipment already installed, which includes punching bag, parallel and horizontal bars, chairs and tables in the gymnasium proper while in another room are checkers and other games. A wireless station will soon be added where those who desire may learn the code. It is also planned to organize a class in general electric instruction. It is also intended to erect boys' camps at one of the near-by lakes for the summer and to foster baseball during the season. Boys and young men are invited to become members and get the advantages of the summer program.

Horses Smash Thru Window

An unusual accident took place in Crookston one day last week, according to an item in the Crookston Times.

"A team of horses owned by Dick LeFleur, Andover township farmer, proceeded to tear things up in general about the city shortly after noon Friday, and only ended a wild escapade by going through a plate glass window in the Ole Fylling furniture store, stopping there among broken glass and with bleeding legs.

The animals were standing near the Sandberg elevator when their driver gave them an order. His sharp command frightened them so that they were off in a flash down the street. Reaching Main street they attempted to turn north, but the sleigh hit a lamp post and was torn from the harness. The horses kept on going and smashed into a large plate glass window of the Fylling store.

The horses were cut about the legs and were taken to Dr. Langevin's veterinary hospital for attention. Mr. Fylling estimates his damages at about $150. A windshield of an automobile parked nearby was also broken by flying particles from the smash-up."

PREPARED TO RUSH AID FOR FARMERS THRU LAND BANK

Loans Will be Extended on Personal Property Rather Than Land User Plan

Passage of the intermediate farm credit bill is called the greatest legislative victory ever won for farmers by Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"There is no doubt," he says, "but that the bill would have died, had it not been for the prompt and united support of the Farm Bureau. Credit facilities provided will adequately meet a demand that long has been foremost in agricultural circles. If farmers use the new system, as they should, and I am sure they will, they will find themselves very nearly on a basis of equality with other business men."

Steps were taken last week to put the terms of the bill into effect. E. G. Quamme, president of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul returned from conferences at Washington, prepared to aid leaders in forming the new institution. Headquarters will be established in St. Paul. While the intermediate credit bank will have independent financial responsibility and administration, and separate officers, it will be aided by the co-operation of land bank officers.

Loans may be secured by receipts for farm products when placed in bonded warehouses.

The new institution differs from the land bank in that credit will be extended on personal property rather than on land. Credit will be given for productive purposes—raising cattle, growing crops, etc. Paper will run from nine months to three years.

The credit bill, as passed, provides for two farm credit systems. The first is to be governmentally operated and capitalized, giving farmers access to a great reservoir of moneys and credits. The second provides for privately owned and operated agricultural credit systems.

M'CANN TO STAY AS FARM BUREAU HEAD IN COUNTY

Agricultural Agent Reconsiders Decision to Resign When Strong Pleas are Made

Had Tentatively Accepted Similar Position in Olmstead Co. for This Year

Sugar Beet Raisers Particularly Anxious That He Remain Here Another Season

J. J. McCann, county agricultural agent and secretary of the commercial club, will remain in Thief River Falls, although he had tentatively accepted an offer to go to Rochester as county agent for Olmstead county.

As soon as this became known the leaders in both organizations got busy. They did not wish to lose Mr. McCann, who has proven a competent and obliging county agent as well as a popular club secretary. A committee from the commercial club waited upon him first, asking that he change his plans and remain here. This was followed by a large number of farmers who dropped into the office to urge him to stay on the job.

Farmers Make Appeal

A little later the telephone messages began coming in asking him to continue at his present post. A number of farmers who have interested themselves in sugar beets asked him particularly to remain as their plans for the season had all been made with the understanding that he would be here to help them get started in the raising of this crop. Several of these farmers went so far as to declare they would cancel their acreage if he did not remain.

State Official Interested

Telegrams were at once dispatched to Rochester asking the farm leaders there to forego any claim they might have on the services of Mr. McCann as arrangements had been made for retaining him in his present post. No replies to these have as yet been received.

W. E. Morris, state farm bureau leader, arrived in the city Tuesday to see if he could get the matter straightened out to everybody's satisfaction. He appealed to Mr. McCann to reconsider his action in resigning as he has become closely identified with many progressive moves either begun or under contemplation among the farmers of the county.

These demonstrations of confidence touched Mr. McCann deeply and he has decided to remain if things can be satisfactorily arranged with the people in Olmstead county. He has been assured of all the assistance and support needed in his undertakings both by farmers and townspeople and indications are that farm bureau work will in the future be more generally supported than in the past.

One of the things that has made the work rather heavy in this county is the failure of the commissioners to make an opprepriation for its maintenance. There is some hope that a different view of this matter will now be taken and that the county will pay a least a share toward continuing this necessary institution.

Silverton Township Man Accused of Making Booze

Sheriff O. L. Ihle and Deputy L. O. Kongelf made a raid on the premises of Nick Baker residing on Section 26 of Silverton township last Friday evening. They had reason to suspect that Baker was manufacturing moonshine booze and a search proved they had been correctly tipped off. They found 3½ quarts of the stuff on the premises besides an oil stove and other peraphernalia claimed to have been employed in the process of manufacturing the liquor. A complete still was the chief apparatus taken by the authorities.

The accused was brought before Judge Tarrant in municipal court on Saturday morning, waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500, which was furnished.

Wins High Honors

Arnie Solem of Thief River Falls, who graduates from the Northwest Agricultural school at Crookston this week, won third place in the intersociety declamatory contest held Monday. He gave "President Harding's Address at the Burial of the Unknown Soldier." Mr. Solem was also a member of the debating team. Sylvia Stegner of Kennedy won first place with the declamation "The Perfect Tribute." Wallace Miller of Roseau placed first among the boys with Robert Davids of Bagley second, both using the selection "Sparticus to the Gladiators."

Vet Bureau Man Explains Gov't Insurance Benefits

Fred W. Zeller, a Field Representative of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, St. Paul, was in the city Thursday.

Mr. Zeller stated that though the time had lapsed for filing claims for vocational training December 16, 1922, this in no way interfered with ex-service men filing their claims for compensation, medical treatment and reinstatement and conversion of government life insurance. Most of the men, Mr. Zeller said, had insurance granted to them, but because of illness and financial reasons, have been unable to keep their insurance in force and many became discouraged and were making no effort to avail themselves of the privileges accorded to them by law. In talking with ex-service men, he said it appeared that many are not aware that the original War Risk Insurance Act has been amended by Section 404 of the Sweet bill, to the extent that now disabled men may reinstate or convert their insurance to ordinary life, 30 payment life, 20 payment life, 20 year endowment, 30 year endowment, and endowment at the age of 62.

Here is insurance, Mr. Zeller said, offered to only ex-service men, at a cost which cannot be met by any other insurance company. This is made possible by the fact that the cost of administration is not levied against the premiums, but is borne by the government. There is no $50,000 president or a large staff of office help, but same is cared for by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, discharging the obligations of a grateful government to its ex-service men.

Mr. Zeller has left a supply of conversion and reinstatement blanks with Oscar C. Paulson, post commander, who will also assist the ex-service men in filing claims for compensation and converting their government insurance. Mr. Zeller will visit here regularly every two weeks.

25 PUREBRED DUROCS ARE SOLD AT FIRST HOG AUCTION HERE

Attendance Small Because of Inclement Weather; Four Sold to One Farmer

Twenty-five pure bred Duroc Jersey hogs were sold at the auction conducted by the Red River Valley Hereford farmers at Fisher barn in this city on Friday last. These sows are all bred and guaranteed to farrow within a month. The weather was particularly bad on the day of the sale and this undoubtedly had the effect of keeping a large number of farmers at home. The total amount realized at the sale was $1073 and the average at which the hogs were sold was $43. While neither the number sold nor the prices received are comparable with those of the sales held farther to the south, it must be remembered that this was the first sale of its kind ever held in the county and that our farmers have as a rule not yet become heavily interested in hogs.

Following are the names of the purchasers: S. E. Hunt, Ole T. Ose, Herman Swenson, Gordon Hunt, A. P. Gordon, Knutson Bros., (2), J. T. Whitman, Albert Johnson, G. W. Connell (2), W. S. Muldoon, Vivian Copp, R. Storm (2), Haugan Brothers, Fred G. Dols, (2), Peter Englestad, (2), A. O. Voldness, D. W. Ayres, Lars A. Engen, (4).

Family Of 5 Held Here By Government Officials

Leonard Newett, U. S. emigration official of Noyes, arrived on the Soo flyer from the north last night and is in the city awaiting word as to disposition of a man and his wife and three adult sons, charged with violations of the U. S. immigration laws, and who were lodged in the county jail here last night.

It is stated that the party drove across the line as far as Lancaster and there were taken in charge by Mr. Newett and brought here for safe keeping until disposition is made of their case. Seven others are in the Kittson county jail at Hallock on similar charges. The five detained here, are Poles and entered Manitoba, it is stated, without proper authority and have been living for some time past near Winnipeg. The seven at Hallock are Austrians and all had intended locating in the east.

Awarded Bridge Contract

The Minneapolis Bridge Company of Thief River Falls was recently awarded the contract by the Crow Wing county commissioners to construct a new bridge across the Mississippi river north of Crosby on the recently completed Crosby-Emily road, for $25,872.00. Work will start June 1, and it is expected the brige will be completed by September.

Fined For Drukenness

Howard "Dovey" Doland was arrested Thursday night by Night Paman Ralston, for appearing on the streets drunk. He was placed in the jail over night and arraigned in municipal court the following day. Judge N. W. Tarrant gave him a sentence of a fine of $7.50.

REMARKABLE PICTURE WILL BE SHOWN HERE BY AMERICAN LEGION

Arrangements have just been completed by Elmer J. Eklund Post of the American Legion for bringing to Thief River Falls the American Legion's film classic, "The Man Without a Country." This unusual film feature will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Wednesday and Thursday, April 4 and 5.

"The Man Without a Country" is said to be one of the most remarkable photoplays ever produced. When the picture had its world premier at Washington, D. C., the top admission price was $10. The picture has had a long run in New York City, where the most critical that will stir the blood of every American."

The picture is based upon Dr. Edward Everett Hale's masterpiece. Arnold Daly plays the leading role of Philip Nolan, the "Man Without a Country," who was banished after he had damned his country while on trial for complicity with Aaron Burr's treason plot. Patriotism and love are the keynotes of the production which are worked out to a surprising conclusion.

Mayor John Bratrud and Commander Oscar C. Paulson have addressed an open letter to the people of Thief River Falls urging them to see "The Man Without a Country."

SHERIFF O. L. IHLE WILL CONTINUE AS COUNCILMAN

Withdraws Resignation When Colleagues Fail to Agree on Action to be Taken

Only Four Members Present and Vote for and Against Acceptance Was Even

Finally Agrees to Serve Out Term, Which Expires on First of Next Year

O. L. Ihle will serve out his term as one of the councilman-at-large for the city in spite of the fact that he assumed the office of sheriff the first of the year. His resignation as councilman was submitted some time ago but for one reason or another action on it has been postponed until on Tuesday evening when the matter was brought up for final disposal. Only four of the six councilmen were present, Mr. Ihle and Andrew Ness being the absentees.

When the question of whether or not to accept the resolution came up at the meeting Tuesday Councilmen Severn Brandon and John Dahl voted for its acceptance, while President Brumund and Councilman Carl Froseth voted against such action. This again left the matter where it was in the first place.

Ihle Settles Matter

At this point Mr. Ihle arrived on the scene and broke the deadlock by requesting leave to withdraw his resignation, which he did. In explanation he said that while he might prefer to drop out now, he was willing to serve out his term. At the time he sent in his resignation there was a question as to whether or not he could legally hold two offices, one for the county and the other for the city, but this seems to have been definitely settled and he has decided to continue as alderman until the expiration of his term, which will be the first of the year.

To Help The Boy Scouts

The council unanimously voted to grant the use of the auditorium to the boy scouts for their doings on April 13; at a very much reduced rate

The rest of the evening was devoted to routine business

Graduates From Hospital

Miss Lillian Provencher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julien Provencher of the Evelyn hotel, is expected to arrive in the city next Monday, having completed her course of training at the Minneapolis General hospital where she has spent the past year. Miss Provencher will remain at her parental home here for an indefinite period, but may continue her studies in the near future, taking up special training.

E. M. Korstad to Engage in Exclusive Haberdashery

E. M. Korstad, who was formerly engaged in business in this city, will next week open a store in the McGinn building with a full line of haberdashery and men's furnishings generally. He will occupy a part of the quarters heretofore used by the Christenson Hardware company, which has been provided for by extending their main store, through the new Dudley building to the south, an arch having been constructed in the wall between the McGinn and Dudley buildings.

Mr. Korstad was in the general clothing business in this city up to about seven years ago when he sold out and moved west. Things did not turn out to his liking there and he returned to Thief River Falls. He is an old-timer here and has a wide acquaintence which will prove an aid in his new venture. Specializing in men's furnishings he will be able to at all times keep up to the minute in styles and fabrics.

Aged Wylie Pioneer Drops Dead While on a Visit

While visiting his daughter in Alexandria Charles Johnson, pioneer resident of Wylie, dropped dead on the sidewalk, heart trouble being the cause. Mr. Johnson, who was about 75 years of age at the time of his death, had been of splendid health all his life and it was only the past year that he sometimes complained of a little heart trouble.

Deceased was one of the most prominent pioneers of this section, having come here over 41 years ago when this territory was but a wilderness. He built up a fine farm home near Wylie but the past few years had retired and was living with his daughter, Mrs. A. J. Halstrom. Mr. Johnson was a native of Sweden and spent a number of years as sailor and was known to have visited a large number of the countries of the world.

To mourn the death of the old pioneer are three daughters: Mrs. A. J. Halstrom of Wylie, Mrs. Simon Gahloon of Alexandria, Mrs. C. E. Naplin of Wylie; a son, C. W. Johnson of Fresno, Cal., who was clerk of court in Red Lake county for eight years previous to the division with Pennington; two brothers: Nels at St. Hilaire and August Elmquist of Bemidji, and a sister, Mrs. Swan Johnson of Wylie.

Mrs. Meyers Dies at Age of 28 From Pernicious Anemia

Pernicious anemia caused the death of Mrs. Zoa Meyers, the wife of Peter Meyers, who passed away at the Oakland Park sanatorium Sunday at noon. Deceased had been of poor health the last few years but was not seriously ill until about three months previous to her death, the last month of which she spent at the sanatorium, but her condition was such that she was beyond recovery. She was also a patient at the same institution last winter for a period of five months, following which her husband took her to the Pacific coast where they remained from July until her last entrance into the sanatorium a month ago.

Mrs. Meyers was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Newell, 322 Kendall avenue south, and was born Sept. 16, 1885, near Dodge Centre, Minn. She came to Thief River Falls with her parents about 17 years ago and has lived here the greater part of the time since growing up to womanhood in this city. July 17, 1918 she was united in marriage to Peter Meyers, whose parents reside at Erie, east of this city. They first lived in Superior, Wis. a short time but returned to this city and resided here for two years, when they moved to Big Stone, S. D. There they made their home until her first stay in the sanatorium.

To mourn her loss are her husband, a daughter Eris May, two months old, and a son, Kenneth, two years old, also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newell.

The funeral was held today at eleven o'clock from the Larson Undertaking parlors, Rev. Chas. Gorlinger of the Presbyterian church officiating at the obsequies. The remains were interred in the Greenwood cemetery.

DECREASED OUTPUT CO-OP MARKETING ADVICE TO FARMER

Meetings of Farmers and Bankers Also Urge More Flax be Raised in Northwest

Five suggested ways to aid northwest agriculture emerge as the most important contributions of the series of farmer-banker conferences being conducted under the auspices of the Minneapolis Federal Reserve bank.

The five suggested remedies have been put forward both by the programed speakers and from the floor. They were indorsed at Crookston and at Grand Forks and are as follows:

Decreased and controlled production.

Co-operative marketing, and in particular, nationwide co-operative marketing of wheat.

A shift of a portion of the oats, barley and wheat acreage to flax.

Greater diversification.

Increased consumption of wheat, the "Eat More Wheat" campaign.

The resolutions, which were adopted unanimously, commended new rediscount regulations and policies toward agricultural paper of the Federal Reserve system, the organization of an American wheat growers' co-operative on a commodity basis, the "Eat More Wheat" campaign, a reduction in high tariff on manufactured commodities, and said that it is a "patriotic duty" for all bankers, farmers and business men to get squarely behind all co-operative marketing organizations organized on a commodity basis.

"Save-U-Money" Clothing Store to Open Saturday

The Save-U-Money store, located at 210 LaBree avenue north, will open for business on Saturday, March 31. This is one of a chain of stores operated by this concern, which specializes in popular priced clothing, furnishings and men's goods of all kinds. It is a big institution and its buying power is claimed to make possible a great reduction in the prices at which its goods can be sold. The local branch is under the management of Arthur E. Keith, a man of long experience in the handling of men's wear, who will be assisted by Bernard Sundahl and Fred Paulson, local men.

The new store has been refitted and remodelled throughout and presents a most inviting appearance. The stock is entirely new and of the latest and best obtainable. These stores have been very successful wherever opened because of their value-giving policy—a system which will be followed and enlarged upon by Mr. Keith. A cordial invitation is extended the public to visit this institution on the opening day.

Andrew Johnson Remains Drainage Board Member

Judge Andrew Grindeland has written to Andrew Johnson, member of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy board since its organization, being the member from Clearwater county, returning his resignation and stating that the judge did not deem it advisable for him to sever his connection with the board at present, according to reports received in this city. It is further stated that Mr. Johnson has notified the judge that under the circumstances he will be pleased to remain on the board.

Counties May Appropriate Money for County Agent

The senate passed the county agent bill Friday just as it came from the house.

Several amendments were offered from the floor, but all were defeated. The bill now goes to the governor.

The bill provides that local communities may have more control in the hiring and dismissal of county agents. The bill places this power in a county co-operative extension committee, composed of two county commissioners, the county auditor and four members of the county farm bureau. The county officials also would co-operate with the farm bureau representatives as a budget committee.

Under the bill, a county may appropriate from $1,500 to $5,000 for county agent work.

GUERNSEY SALE FOR NORTHWEST HERE ON JUNE 6

Most Important Event of Its Kind in the Section This Season

All Offerings Must be at Least Three-Fourths Purebred and Perfectly Sound

Most Famous Three-year-old in State Secured at Similar Sale Two Years Ago

The fourth annual picnic and sale of the Red River Valley Guernsey-mens association will be held in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, June 6, at the Pennington county fair grounds. The directors of the association met at the Hotel Brumund in this city on Monday to arrange for the event.

This sale is one of the most important in the state and those who wish to list cattle for entry are requested to write to J. J. McCann, county agent early in order that their offerings may be listed in the regular program. An inspection committee is composed of Stuart McLeod, Goodridge, Paul Englestad and Harry Woolson of Thief River Falls, all of whom will be glad to make any further explanation that may be desired.

High quality grades as well as purebreds will be accepted for sale. These must be sound, of good color and size and not less than three-fourths purebred. All animals offered must be inspected and approved by the sales committee and tested for tuberculosis before the day of sale.

An Important Event

Some of the finest animals raised in the Northwest will be offered at this sale. Many cows that have afterwards proved high order producers have changed hands at these sales in former years, the most famous of these being Lady Bruce of Clover-crest. She was purchased as a heifer two years ago from L. Jensen of Clearbrook, by H. C. Woolson of Thief River Falls, and is now the champion of the state in her class. This year she will again be run on test with the national championship as a goal. Mr. Jensen and Mr. Woolson will both have cattle to offer at the forthcoming sale.

North Minnesota cattle are in demand by raisers everywhere, particularly in the Guernsey class. They are heavy producers, hardy and inured to the climate of this latitude. Breeders from farther south desire them for foundation stock and the expectations are that there will be a number of these present at the sale.

STORK BEAT REAPER BY DECIDED MARGIN IN COUNTY LAST YEAR

The stork beat the reaper out by more than two and a half to one in Pennington county last year, according to the report just received by Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund from the state board of health.

In the city of Thief River Falls the arrivals numbered 141 while there were only 64 departures. In not a single township in the county were more deaths than births recorded.

Among the townships a good showing was made by Smiley where there were 15 newcomers and only four who left for good. This is not quite as fine a record as was made by Highlanding township, however, there being 13 arrivals there and only one departure.

Following is the record of each subdivision for the year:

	Births	Deaths
Black River	5	2
Bray	3	0
Cloverleaf	3	1
Deer Park	3	3
Goodridge village	4	0
Goodridge twp.	2	0
Hickory	7	1
Highlanding	13	1
Kratka	6	2
Mayfield	6	3
Norden	6	2
North	18	5
Numedal	2	1
Polk Center	2	0
Reiner	7	2
River Falls	5	1
Rocksbury	20	18
St. Hilaire village	9	4
Sanders	8	1
Silverton	6	0
Star	8	1
Wyandotte	6	4
City of T. R. F.	141	64
Total	290	116

In explanation of the showing of Rocksbury township it should be stated that the Oakland Park sanitorium is located there which accounts for the high death rate.

In 1921 there were 310 births in the city and 128 deaths—nine less births and nine less deaths.

W. C. T. U. To Meet

The W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday afternoon, April 3, at the Community parlors. The program will consist of several papers on community responsibility toward social morals; also music. Lunch will be served.

Accredited Veterinarian to Locate in City Soon

Dr. L. R. Twete, licensed veterinarian, will open an office in Thief River Falls about the first of April. Dr. Twete comes highly recommended as a thoroughly competent man in his line. He studied agriculture and animal husbandry at the North Dakota agricultural college, Fargo, going later to Ohio State university where he received his veterinarian degree and also took a course in pharmacy He is a lieutenant in the veterinary reserve corps of the U. S. army. Dr. Twete is fully accredited in the state of Minnesota for testing cattle for tuberculosis, a line in which he has had much experience.

Dr. Twete will make his headquarters at Lambert's drug store until he can make arrangements for permanent quarters.

B. B. Haugan Speaks

The noted Norwegian lecturer and writer, B. B. Haugan of Redfield, S. D., was in Thief River Falls over Sunday. On Sunday afternoon he delivered an address at the Trinity church, which proved of much interest and was well received. Mr. Haugan will be remembered as being probably the first speaker to address a Thief River Falls audience in favor of Prohibition a good many years ago.

Mr. Haugan left on Monday afternoon for Crookston where he was the principal speaker at the festivities of the Sons of Norway lodge in its celebration of the 20th anniversary of its existence. He intends to travel thru various parts of the Northwest and deliver lecures during the coming season.

GREAT CENEMA HIT COMES TO LYCEUM BEGINNING SUNDAY

"Human Hearts," Unusual Film Drama to be Seen Here on Sunday and Monday

Superb in strength of story and cast "Human Hearts," the Universal-Jewel which comes to the Lyceum theatre on Sunday and Monday stands forth prominently among the offerings of recent months as a drama teeming with incidents and action of a compelling variety. House Peters, popular veteran of stage and screen, heads the notable cast.

The picture version of Hal Reid's famous old play presents people from the humbler walks of life who live and love, hate and fight, just as do the people we meet every day. House Peters is cast as a blacksmith, a fine specimen of manhood, a simple son of the Ozark Mountains. His father is a stern and unbending man, but just and honest, who objects to his son's courtship with a pretty maiden who plotted to beat the family out of their rich coal lands. She readily falls in love with him and marries.

When the romance of married life gives way to the stern facts of reality she longed for her old, free life, and the tempter comes in the person of a smooth-tongued ex-convict who induces her to flee with him. The aged father attempts to stop the elopement and is killed. The son, blamed for the murder, believes his wife, was the slayer and refuses to offer any defense. He is sentenced to prison for life.

In the working out of the plot to a logical conclusion the director, King Baggot, has shown a fine sense of the dramatic. The picture is artistically photographed and splendidly acted in roles which require dramatic ability of the first order.

Aged Woman Dies

Mrs. Nancy Westcott died yesterday in this city at the home of her son-in-law and daugher, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O. Arnold, 217 Conley avenue south, her death being caused by pneumonia. She was about 84 years of age and had been failing for some time. Deceased had been a resident of this city for but a few years. The body will be shipped to Linton, N. D., for burial.

Famous Law Suit to be Tried at Lyceum Theatre

A law suit, in the outcome of which the entire county is interested, will be tried at the Lyceum theatre on Friday and Saturday evening of this week. It is the outcome of certain remarks said to have been made by Andy during the late campaign concerning his successful rival for the office of congressman. Up to date Andy seems to be holding his own with the sharp lawyers employed by Mr. Shink and there is a great deal of interest in the outcome. Following is the cast:

Andy Gump—Stephen Arneson.

Sylvester Skink—Roy Holmgren.

Andy's Lawyer—Albert Stengelsen.

Judge—Henry Vorlicky.

The trial will take up 15 minutes between the first and second shows and will add greatly to the interest of an exceptionally fine picture program.

Zeh With Fuller Company

Local friends of P. J. Zeh, Jr., the oldest son of Phil Zeh of this city, will note with interest that in the last issue of the American Mazagine his photograph and an article telling of his experiences in salesmanship, appeared in a Fuller Brush company ad. Mr. Zeh, who is a graduate from the Thief River Falls high school and well known to people of this city, is at present branch manager for the Fuller company with headquarters at Long Beach, Cal. For some time he was engaged in private business in the west but entered the Fuller organization as a salesman, with much success. He was soon promoted to assistant branch manager and recently given the full branch managership. His brother, Richard, is an apprentice in the mechanical department of the Times.

Special Stockholders' Meeting

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association will be held on Saturday, April 14, 1923, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the commercial club rooms, Thief River Falls, for the purpose of taking final action on the cheese factory proposition; to remodel the constitution and by-laws so as to make them conform to the revised income tax laws and for such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

CRACK IN WALL OF WATER PLANT NOT DANGEROUS

Engineer Says it Will Not Effect Efficiency of Filtrator in Any Manner

Will Return When Frost Has Entirely Gone and Make Necessary Recommendations

Flushing of Mains Begun Yesterday and Water Now Considered Perfectly Safe

L. P. Wolff of St. Paul, engineer in charge of the construction of the filtration plant for the city, was here the first of the week to make an inspection of the building with regard to certain cracks which have developed since the completion of the building. A rather serious looking fissure is to be noted in the east wall and it was feared by some of the councilmen and other citizens that this might cause considerable trouble when the weight of water is added and the machinery put in motion.

Mr. Wolff assured the council that these cracks would in no way effect the beds or the vats as these are separate from the walls entirely. He made a thorough examination of the building and gave it as his opinion that no trouble would be experienced. He will return, however, after the frost has gone out of the ground entirely and note what effect this has and will at that time recommend such steps to remedy the trouble as he deems necessary. In the meantime he assured the council that there is no danger in going ahead with their plans for supplying the city with water from the plant.

Board of Health Man Here

J. A. Childs, representing the state board of health, was in the city for the purpose of seeing that the plant meets the requirements of the board. He stated that while the water could no doubt be used for all purposes with perfect safety, he could not fully accept it until a new connection with the river is made. As this requires the installation of another pump it may take a little time.

Supt. O. L. Legvold of the water and light department, yesterday had the mains flushed in order to empty them of the old water. An extra quantity of the chemical used as purifier will be employed while this cleaning proceeds is going on and it is possible that this may leave a slight taste for a few days. This chemical is not in any way harmful, however, and no one need fear using the water because of it. After this first supply of water has been used this taste will disappear and the supply will be absolutely pure.

RARE TREAT IN STORE FOR THOSE ATTENDING P-T MEETING MONDAY

Most Interesting and Varied Program of the Season Will be Presented—Mrs. Arnold to Read "The Melting Pot."

The regular meeting of the Parents-Teacher association will be held in the assembly of the high school on Monday evening, April 2, at 8 o'clock. When the following program will be rendered:

Piano Duet—Mrs. Clarence Erickson, Miss Mildred Engen.

Vocal Solo—Mr. Roy Prytz.

Vocal Duet—Mrs. C. A. Nason, Mrs. W. W. Prichard.

Solo—Mrs. O. F. Melby.

Male Quarettette—Leader, Dr. Vistaunet.

The principal number on the program will be the reading of "The Melting Pot," by Gretel Lowe Arnold. This reading is a stirring melodrama with a nobly patriotic theme; in four acts.

Press Comments

Daily American (Montevideo)—"The leading number on the program was the reading of "The Melting Pot," by Mrs. Arnold. This deals with the problem of melting, fusing, amalgamating the different races that come to this country and the part that the native characteristics of the different people's play. It brings out very clearly that the real American, the ultimate American is yet a product of futurity. Mrs. Arnold held the audience spellbound at all times, displaying talent of the highest order

LaMoure County (N. D.) Chronicle—"Gretel Lowe Arnold possesses a very clear and effective contralto voice, which especially enabled her to carry the masculine parts. Those who attended were indeed entertained by her clear presentation of this strong play. She showed great versatility in portraying in one moment the volatile Irish maid, and in the next, the intensily enthusiastic, or passionately eloquent David Quixano. At various points she rose to strong climaxes of intense dramatic feeling."

Milbank (S. D.) Herald Advance—"Gretel Lowe Arnold presented Israel Zangwills, 'The Melting Pot' to a large audience in the Congregational church on Thursday last. For an hour and forty minutes the listeners were entertained while she, with great ability, dramatic art and clever impersonation, presented the four acts of Mr. Zangwills' story.

As each act was presented the interest of the audience grew. Her work is of exceptional merit and every one present was greatly pleased with her fine enterpretation of the story and will eagerly welcome her for another dramatic entertainment in our city."

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

DEMAND THE BONDS

That is the alternative offered by the state highway bond plan—the same amount of money to be used either way.

The Times never has been accused of urging unwise expenditure of public funds or of sponsoring extravagance.

We sincerely believe that the state good roads program with bond issues will work toward a period of prosperity for farmer and town dweller alike. We join the progressive newspapers in supporting this very important public undertaking.

It has been established that the highway bond plan will not increase taxes. But it will set the road program ahead five years and give us the use of the good roads while we are paying for them and without additional expense.

This is made possible by a saving of more than $1,250,000 a year on maintenance under the bond plan, and thus $7,250,000 instead of only $6,610,000 annually will be available for the building of lasting improvements.

Good roads are a necessity. They must be built if the farmer is to prosper. They are equally important to the cities and towns.

The state highway commissioner recommends the bond issues after careful study, expert advice, and experience. His facts and figures have not been challenged. No better plan has been presented.

Minnesota's big highway program is at the last turn—ready to go "over the top." This state cannot afford now to mark time when to go forward will take no more money but will yield more good roads.

The bond plan is gaining strength because it is becoming better understood. It is deserving of the support of every Minnesotan.

You can help yourself and your community—speed up the highway program— by letter or telegram to your members of the legislature urging them to vote for the highway bond bill this week or at least to use their own best judgment, which means the same thing.

Let's not delay, because the bond bill is likely to be voted on soon.

THIS CROP PAYS

Three creameries in Pennington county, located at Thief River Falls, St. Hilaire and Hazel, paid out a total of $12,345.26 to 141 patrons for the butterfat produced by their herds during the month of February. The 141 patrons mentioned are those who sold over $50 worth of butterfat to these creameries during the month and takes no account of the hundreds whose output did not quite reach this figure. The average income of the 141 producers referred to was not far from $90 for the month of 28 days from this one source.

Farmers who are not too busy, tired or stuck-up to milk cows are getting along all right. There would be many more of them were it not for the fact that a dairy farm cannot be successfully operated by merely cussing the weather and growling about hard times.

TURNS UP TOES

The Goodridge Banner is no more. Without a farewell message or even a swan song by its editor it has passed the way all newspapers must go if there is not sufficient patronage to be had to support them.

Editor H. E. Mussey says one term as mayor of the village of Grygla is enough, trough he appreciates the courtesies he received, and as he is also the village editor the kicks, naturally went right over his head.—Baudette Region.

The best way we can imagine to discourage the "mooners" is to compel then to take liberal doses of their own medicine. It would certainly keep them out of mischief a good part of the time.—Baudette Region.

One Farmer Who Demands That County Agent Be Retained

Why do we have to lose our county agent, sisters and brothers?

Who is our county agent?

Mr. McCann is our county agent and one of the best in the Northwest. He is always pleasant, does his best for us all, never refusing to help us at any time if possible—not even the bureau kickers.

He treats us all fair and square. He will stay if we want him to remain. Do we want him? Bet your sweet life. We never before needed him so much.

Now, every farmer should tell his county commissioner that the board should do its duty by the Pennington county farmer for once. This duty is that the board meet and make an appropriation for county agent work.

I think appropriations should sometimes be refused if these are unwise or unjust, or if they benefit only a few. This appropriation is wise because it helps us put over the cooperative marketing movement that is taking place in the Northwest. Do we live in the Northwest, I wonder?

If so, help us now. Farming will be worth something when it provides a living and a small profit. All it asks is a square deal.

The Pennington county farmer has a right to expect something besides weed inspectors, one of whom paid us a nice visit once.

Do not be afraid you might do something good for once, county dads. The benefit is for all, including laboring men and merchants—better homes for all.

County dads, you have a strangle hold on us farmers. Our future success depends on your wisdom. County dads, you have the wisdom like Moses if you will only use it.

As a taxpayer, farm bureau member and farmer, I request that you kindly help the Pennington county farm bureau with a fair appropriation, which it lies within your power to do.

Yours for the best county in the Union with the best county dads that ever lived or are going to live.

Great Northern Says Shipper Pays Bill If Laws Increase Railroad Costs

Prices of nearly all necessaries of life are too high. The average freight rate for the whole country, which is the lowest in the world, is now 46 per cent higher than the average rate during the ten year period beginning with 1900. In November, 1922, the average increase of the wholesale price of all commodities, as compared with the same period was 79 per cent. Railroad rates can be reduced in only one way—by reducing the COST of hauling freight and passengers. When a lawmaker says he wants lower freight rates and then proposes laws that will make it cost more to haul freight, that man is not sincere or he has not thought out the question fully. The railroads have only one source of revenue, viz., from freight and passenger earnings. If their expenses are increased they must have more income to meet the larger expenses, and they can get this income only by charging higher rates.

Some people are for Government operation of the railroads. Twenty-six months of it in this country proved it expensive and does not give good service. Other countries have had the same experience; Itally owns its railroads, but it costs so much to operate them that great efforts are being made to turn them over to private operation. The shipper will suffer again if Government operation returns in the United States. Only two classes are openly and frankly for it—politicians who use it for campaign talk, and labor leaders who believe it will make more jobs. Both of these favor it to further their own ends. The lawmaker cannot add to the expenses of the railroad by forcing it to make unnecessary expenditures without hurting the shipper who has to pay the bill in the end. Low rates and good service both are needed; poor bankrupt railroads cannot give either one. How the shipper is served by this type of politician is illustrated by the fable of

The Farmer and the New Hired Man

A Farmer had an Old Horse that for many years had hauled his farm products to market, and being well fed had serength to haul a big load every day. Finally there came hard times for the Farmer. He had good crops, but the prices he received for his crops had not gone up so much as the prices he had to pay for his clothes, his shoes, his fuel, his groceries, and his hired help. He did not know what to do. A Friend told im his troubles were because his horse ate so much of his grain and hay. The Old Horse in fact did not eat any more than was necessary to keep him well and strong, but the Farmer turned him over to a New Hired Man who had Radical Theories about the treatment of horses. He beat the Old Horse almost to death, hung heavy weights on his harness, set the dogs on him, offered him food and took it away before he could eat it. Then, to make the Old Horse easier to handle, the New Hired Man hobbled him so he could hardly move and beat him more than ever because he did not go faster. When the New Hired Man told the Farmer what he was doing, he was full of Glee at the Great Joke on the Old Horse. At last when the Old Horse had been made weak and lame the Hired Man said to the Farmer: "Your Old Horse is so sick and broken down he will never be able to haul your stuff unless you get Uncle Sam to take him and hire some more men to help doctor him up and drive him." The Farmer remembered that once when Uncle Sam had managed the Old Horse it cost a Great Deal more than ever before to do his hauling, so he decided to change Hired Men and see that the Old Horse had decent treatment, but he was UP AGAINST IT to get his hauling done while his Old Horse was getting strong again.

What After May 25

As the end of another nine months of school is drawing near, there is the thought, "What will we do after finishing our high school education?" The thought arises in the mind of some of us that soon we will be thru working our heads off in this school and then we can take it easy. And in the mind of others, the thought arises, "How can we do the most good for ourselves and others?" "Where will we be in a number of years, and will we reach the goal that we have set for our attainment?

It is much easier to see this situation than to read about it. We see some people with high ambitions and others with none. Talk to them, get them interested in something, any little thing and later they will learn to be interested in bigger things and have the ambition to do something.

Many of us will soon finish high school education. We have just begun; we do not realize how little we know.

What we want is more education; much more, and it is not impossible for anyone in these days to say they could not get education because they were not able to get the money. Many of the students at colleges now days are working their way through and they are the most successful in life. But, whether poor or rich, make the most of everything and work and have patience. Work and patience are the two things that most of us haven't enough of and if we wish to accomplish anything we must begin NOW. That is why we call graduation, "Commencement Day."

"Y" Course Makes Hit

The organization of a class in electricity at the local Y. M. C. A. is another indication that, as a whole, the boys and young men of the community are "right."

Boys, as a rule, are usually comdirered to be antagonistic to anything relating to books or lesson, but here, without compulsion or persuasion of any sort, a class is being started to take the study of an intricate, and altogether hard, study: and it being done voluntarily, willingly, and even anxiously, by some twenty-five or thirty boys.

This would seem to indicate that it is not study to which some young people object, but rather some particuair kinds of study. If it were only possible to make the study of Latin or mathmetics as fascinating to these people, how much more interesting school would become—and how much more it would be appreciated! It might seem, then, that an ideal school would be one where each might choose whatever studies he would elect to pursue, and where he might entirely disregard those that did not appeal to him: but how impossible this is! The general knowledge gained in the courses required in high school is necessary to each and every one who of us who wishes to be well educated and there is no substitute for it. Therefore, however irksome school work becomes, remember that it must be: and that the more work is put into a study, whether it is pleasant or not, the more will be got out of it.

JOURNALISTS HAND PENS TO NEW STAFF

Class of Journalism to be Divided and Given Chance at Actual Turnout of Paper

Eight more issues of the Progress, another way to measure the distance from now till graduation time. Commencing with this issue the Progress will come from the pens of the journalists just five more weeks. There after a special class will attend to the publication of this important document.

Our instructor, Miss MacNair, has divided the journalism class into groups of three, appointing an editor of each group, the duties of the associates fall upon the other two. The rest of the class will act as reporters. Under the above arrangement the Progress will be published for the issuing five weeks.

There has been considerable interest shown among the lower classmen in this field of work, and Miss MacNair has very graciously consented to organize an after-school session in journalism. The sixth issue we hope may be turned over to this new class. The next year's staff will be picked from this class and the final issue turned over to their ingenuity.

This arrangement is bound to make the paper more representative of the high school.

Declamation Students Entertain Assembly

Due to the fact that very few high school students attended the home declamation contest, it was decided that the contestants should give their selections during some chapel period. The first of these were given last Wednesday.

Grace Mostue giving "The Swan Song," was the first declamant and Lucille Roark, reciting "My Ain Countree," came next. Miss MacNair then read a letter written to the students and faculty by Mr. Rapacz. The letter is as follows:

There are times when one finds it easier to give expression to one's thoughts in writing than by spoken words. You will therefore pardon me for having these few words to you this morning.

First, I wish to thank you all on behalf of myself and Mr. and Mrs. Donaghue for the beautiful flowers which were such a fitting expression of the high esteem in which you held the one dearest to me. There would have been many beautiful wreaths without those from Thief River Falls people, but there were none which brought so much consolation and comfort to us as those from the city where Mrs. Rapacz had lived just a short eighteen months.

You have all shown me that I have your heart felt sympathy, so therefore let me assure you that all your kindness and friendship is fully appreciated and highly prized. The past three weeks as well as the coming weeks will leave a lasting impression upon my life so may all the kindness and consideration which you have shown me be fully rewarded.

With remembrances to each of you from Mrs. Rapacz, at her request, I am,

Sincerely yours,
M. P. RAPACZ.

Dennis McGinn and John Hendry are expected back this week from St. Thomas. Leland Schuster, Gordon LaBree and Ernest Zeh are due to arrive from the University of North Dakota to visit during the Easter recess from school duties.

Pigskin Has Stage Again Track Is Dropped

In the years gone by little has been done in the line of track work or football; baseball cannot be considered because the season is too short. Coach MacFarlane has decided to have spring football.

His plan is to put in two days a week in the fundamentals of the game like kicking, passing, etc. One of these two days he will devote to chalk talks on football plays.

Now lets have a good turn-out and make it worth while. No special togs will be necessary as the work will not be heavy. The last season's regulars will be on deck to help along. All the boys are expected to take this opportunity, and especially the frshmen. They are the ones who will take up the fight and come out on top with a real champion ship team.

School Publication Seeks Journalistic Advice

The editor of the High School Progress has received a letter from Miss Lois Peck, a former resident of Thief River Falls, and who now lives in Hartford, Washington She sent a copy of their High School paper, the "Flashlight," and asked to have the Progress sent as an exchange. Extracts from her letter are as follows: "At the request of our superintendent I am writing to you to present this proposition to the Lincoln High. We are what you might call a young school especially in the line of a High School paper. This year is only our second year with a paper and we find it somewhat difficult to get it out. Last year we had our paper, the "Flashlight" printed, but we found this did not pay as we were soon in debt, but this year thru the untiring efforts of our Supt. Mr. Tisdale, we have secured a mimiograph on which we print our paper.

We do desire to receive some account of your past trials and tribulations and if you could offer us some advice we would gladly accept it.

Our Supt. Mr. Tisdale taught in Thief River Falls, 1901-02-03, and so he is more or less interested in your school.

As I am not on the staff this year, perhaps it seems queer that I should be the one to write, but I too have an interest in Thief River Falls as I lived here in 1918-19-20, and so this falls to my lot.

If you should know of any teacher that taught back as far as 1901-02-03 would you submit their names as Mr. Tisdale should like to hear from them.

LOIS M. PECK,
Class of '24.

We are always glad to hear of the experiences of other staffs who are putting out High School papers.

Pope Has Physics Class

The study of dynamos and generators in the study of electricity in Physics is very hard to understand so Mr. Pope was called in to give an 80 minutes explanation of the workings of a Ford generator last Thursday. Mr. Pope did the same thing last year and it proved to be very benefical to the students.

The explanation was made more clear by the simple drawings put on the blackboard and the dark points were cleared up by turning the class into an open forum and having a general discussion of the difficult points.

Besides instructing the Physics class, Mr. Pope entertained them, for it is very seldom they are allowed to sit for two whole periods listening to a speaker and taking down notes on the talk.

CLASS SQUABBLE FOR TITLE OPENS

Classes Will Begin Fight For Basketball Honors on Tuesday of Next Week

During the next two weeks the teams of various classes and the Smith-Hughes department will compete for the class basketball honors of the school. A great deal of interest is being taken in the progress of the various teams. Each of the teams will be under the direction and instruction of one of the first team men.

A series of games will be played and each team will have two chances at every other team until the final elimination.

Each of the teams think they will have a good chance and are out to win. The Freshmen are building air castles of the way they will carry off the honors. The Sophomores are all waiting to show their skill and have a fast aggregation for their class. The Juniors have the decided advantage with Parenteau and M. Barzen on their team; they know it though so that helps out the other teams considerably. The Seniors are working hard and will not have their honor diminished in any way, or by anyone. This year's seniors were last year's champions and are trying hard to repeat, giving them double honors if they win.

Coach MacFarlane will give some of his time to each class team and this will help them in the game. The object of this is to give some of the lower classmen the chance to see what real coaching is, and to get some conception of the game in general. This in turn will help develop material for future teams for the high school.

The Seniors are in good condition and have the men to win. The Sophmores have shown form in shooting. The Juniors are fast on team-work. The Seniors are all-around players and the Freshmen are all making an effort to show skill.

The "dark horse" in the race is the Smith-Hughes five. This bunch should have a chance to "cop" the championship. They played St. Hilaire high school last Friday evening at that place and beat them by three points. When a team can do this to a team that has practiced continuously, they should be able to make a good showing in the series.

Alumni Notes

Paul Helseth of '22 arrived home to spend the spring vacation with his parents.

Miss Phyllis Curtis, '19, a senior at the University of Minnesota is spending her vacation at her home in this city.

Miss Elinor Dahlen, the commercial instructor in the Fosston high school, arrived home Friday to spend the week of vacation time in this city.

Miss Harriet Anderson, '20, arrived home for an indefinite period from Cooperstown, North Dakota where she has been working.

Fred Will Jr., '20, will go to Chicago Tuesday night and will be gone an indefinite period.

Miss Marguerite DeCremer, '21, a student at the University of Minnesota, is spending her Easter vacation with her folks.

Milton Weeks, a student at Luther Seminary, has arrived home to spend the vacation in this city.

"Just smile, act naturally, and do your best," is Pearl's idea of "How to win a Valedictory."

Annual Goes to Press; Staff's Dream Realized

The 1923 Prowler will be on the press the latter part of the week. The Times Printing company, of this city, has the contract for printing the book, which will be ready for delivery to subscribers the last part of April. Five hundred copies of the book are being ordered, of which about four hundred seventy-five have already been subscribed. More than this number could probably be disposed of; but the members of the staff believe it better to have too few copies than to have too many.

The plates to be used on the book are already in the hands of the printer, and work will be begun at once.

The general plan of the Prowler of this year is largely the same as that of other years, but some new features have been incorporated into the book which will make it more papular, it is hoped, than any of its predecessors have been. One important change is that of giving some of the space not only to the high school, but also to the other schools. Pictures of all the schools in the city are provided, together with a description of them, the number of grades and pupils accommodated, and a list of the teaching staff of each building.

It Pays to Advertise

A boon to sufferers Panacea for such ills as ungovernable temper inflamed report cards, lovesickness, elongated expressions, chronic tardiness, excessive talking, etc, etc.

This wonder remedy is composed of equal parts hydroclonde of mercury and potassium cyanide, and is absolutely guaranteed to put an end to all human sufferings.

"For years I sufferer from insomnia I turned to "Takasum." The result was immediate I went to sleep with the spoon in my mouth. "Takasum" has increased my span of (school) life twofold. I shall always keep a bottle ony my hip.—Adv.

Words literaly taken from mouth of Ruth Knutson:—

"As a child of three I spoke English so fluently that my mother early resorted to the use of lipstick; but as this did not stick satisfactonly, shee gave me up to let Nature run its course Upon entering high school this gift became a handicap, and upon the advice of G. M. Harner eminent scientist, I became a user of Takasum. The first dose had the desired effect I was left speechless for hours. On the average I now speak 73, 840, 165, 243, 596 words per day. According to the 1910 census this number was 169, 180, 591, 110, 92 showing a decrease of 95, 231, 425, 867, 315 words since Takasum has come into my life. Each bottle knocks off 13 words from my vocabulary. Therefore if I consume one bottle per day in 5 years, and 178 days my vocabulary, at present consisting of 26,039 words, will be completely eradiated. However I promise to let these words be my last —"Me for Takasum."—Adv.

"Y" Has Electrical Course

A class in General Electricity was organized at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last Monday evening by Mr. Pope, "Y" secretary, who will have charge of and instruct the class. About twenty-five boys were present at the first meeting of the class, and if the interest them manifested continues, a great deal of beneficial instruction will be derived. Any member of the "Y" may join, and as no outside reference work is required, it is expected that practically every member will avail himself of this useful free instruction.

The first meeting was given over entirely to planning the course. The class voted to meet two evenings a week, Wednesdays and Thursdays, from seven-thirty to nine o'clock. The class will take the form of a lecture coures, with recitations from time to time as the work progressed.

In outlining the course Mr. Pope explained that the class would not be tied down to any phase of electrical work, nor would too much time be spent on unesential details. The electrical field is so vast and so varied, he said, that each member of the class might be especially interested in a different phase of the work. The students were requested to name their particular interests, in order that the course may be laid out so as to satisfy the individual desires. Some expressed strong interest in telephony, both wire and wireless, others in automotive electricity, and still others in house wiring, electric lighting, the principles of the condenser. The course will also cover principles of electricity, D. C. and A. C. generators, electric appliances, electromotive traction, telegraphy, and accumulators.

As much apparatus as is available will be secured for experimental and demonstration purposes. The instructor, Mr. Pope, has studied practical electricity at Dunwoody Institute, and has at present charge of the mechanics department of the high school. The class can still accomodate new members, and membership is a privelege that it should not be necessary to urge anyone at all interested in electricity to take advantage of.

The next high school dance will be held at the Sons of Norway hall on Saturday, April 7. Keep the date open.

PEARL WEEKS AND LUCILLE CURTIS CAPTURE SENIOR SCHOLASTIC HONORS

Valedictorian and Salutatorian Chosen In Close Race With Five Others on Honor Roll.

Pearl Weeks heads the honor roll of the senior class of 1923 with 42⅔ honor points, and Lucile Curtis is runner-up with 40¼. Under the new system of compiling the honor roll an average of B or better is required, cutting the number of honor students down to seven. The other seniors who received the required grades are Lydia Dahlen, Ole Helle, Albert Stengelsen, Clara Oien, and Esther Larson, who rank in the order named.

In computing honor points, a final average of A in any full credit counts three points, B two, and C one. Thus the Valedictorian must have had an average for the three and a half years of very close to A. The close competition, only five points separating first and fifth places, makes victory all the more praiseworthy. Position on the honor roll also means more when a certain average is necessary than when a fixed percentage of the class comprises the honor list, as in former years.

"In contrast with these few who did exceptionally well," said Mr. Rapacz when he announced the personell of the honor roll in chapel Wednesday, "there are a number of students, especially among the seniors, who are not doing as well as they should. Five seniors have already become ineligible for graduation due to poor work during the past few weeks. The last six-period shows a general slump in grades, there being a conspicuously large number of "D's." The percentage of failures is not so alarmingly large, but the work of a number of students is clearly below standard. The school district is eliminating expense in every way possible, cutting teachers' salaries for next year and also dropping the Mechanics and Kindergarten departments, and does not feel justified in wasting time on students who are not working. A ruling was made some time ago that students who continued failing without any apparent cause should be dropped. We have been pretty lenient in applying this rule in the past, but lately several students who showed no sign of improvement have been suspended or dropped.

"In looking over the records I also find some cheering news. There are a number of sophomores and juniors who have nothing but "A's." The fine record set by the honor students of this year should be an incentive to these as well as to the rest of the students to continue doing good work throughout their high school course."

Many colleges offer scholarships to Valedictorians and Salutatorians, partly as a reward for work well done but more to attract an exceptionally high grade of students.

Miss Harriet Anderson of Middle River of the class of '20 visited school Friday. Miss Anderson has been in the city receiving medical attention at the Swedenburg-Bowers hospital.

Mrs. Charles Gerlinger substituted Wednesday and Thursday of last week for Mrs. Korstad who was absent because of illnes.

Olga Lokken returned to school Monday after an absence of four weeks she has been seriously ill with the "flu."

Any one who wishes to hear an argument just visit the fifth period Sociology class and get Rose C. and Mr. Powley started on Capital Punishment."

Mecks Defeat St. Hilaire

The Smith-Hughes basketball squad played their second out-of-town game of the season last Friday, when they journeyed to St. Hilaire and captured the big end of a 15 to 12 score. As the game was played in an old church bluilding which was so cold that the boys started out with their overcoats on, a fast game was impossible, but Charles Herron, who accompanied the boys, gives both teams cerdit for commendable playing.

The following boys represented the Smith-Hughes automotive department:

Michael Parenteau, forward; Noble Larson, forward; Roy Langevin, center; Melvin Peterson, guard; Allan Sorenson, guard.

Sig Eng of St. Hilaire refereed the game to the satisfaction of both teams, in spite of the fact that smoke from a stove used in heating the building, at times almost abscured the players.

Odegard is reported to have starred for St. Hilaire.

Parenteau scored 2 field baskets and 4 free throws for Thief River Falls, and Langevin 3 field goals and 1 free throw.

The mechanics have been coached by Clifford Sorenson of the first team, but were accompanied by Herron, also a first string man, on the visit to St. Hilaire. The boys went down in a bus, and returned the same evening.

SOCIETY NOTES

Club To Display Styles

Next Monday afternoon, April 2, at the regular club rooms the Woman's club has arranged for one of the most interesting gatherings of the season. The meeting will be featured with a display of styles of all descriptions and from all periods particuarly indicative of the Easter season. It will be the purpose of the club to show up all the different kinds of fashions and show the development which women's apparal has passed thru. The present day inclination to dress more sinsibly and comfortably will be shown by comparison with former modes.

Every member of the club is requested to attend wearing some out of date garment, regardless whether it was worn five years back or during the period of colonial glory of elaborateness. This will provide a conglameration of innumerable forms of dress and the management announces that they expect to see short and wide dresses, long but narrow ones and so on presenting a most eleborate variation of costume. Roll call will be in the form of a display of old time garments and relics. Another feature of the occasion will be the showing of future styles influenced by modern ways of living judging by present inclinations. The ingenuity of some of the members will undoubtedly prove of much interest to those who wish to know what the styles will be, say twenty years from now.

The local ready-to-wear shops will assist the club by displaying a complete line of snappy present day styles.

Mrs. E. R. Richards has prepared a paper discussing "Past Styles" while Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Jr., will give an account of "Present and Future Fashions." Mrs. G. Halvorson will favor the club with a group of old songs.

The hostess committee for Monday's meeting are Mrs. O. F. Mellby, Mrs. B. E. Gage and Mrs. M. Connelly.

Many Honor Mrs. Stenberg

Last Saturday evening Mrs. Martin Stenberg, until recently Miss Myrtle Blair, was tendered a most delightful shower by a large number of friends who gathered at the Odd Fellow hall. The affair was one of the biggest of the season, about fifty ladies taking part, and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed. The hostesses were Mrs. Carl Melby, Mrs. Lester Hendry, Mrs. S. Salveson, Mrs. Geo. Erickson, Mrs. Archie Dahl, Mrs. A. B. Stenberg and Miss Esther Werner, who served an elaborate two-course lunch at midnight. The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion in pink and white. During the course of the evening, which was most enjoyable spent at various diversions, the honor guest was presented with a basket containing a purse of money as a token of the esteem in which she is held by her many friends. The presentation was made by little Miss Eline Erickson, who was attired as cupid, and formed one of the interesting features of the event.

Those who partook in the affair were as follows: Mesdames Lester Hendry, S. Salveson, Carl Melby, Geo. Erickson, Archie Dahl, A. B. ~~Stenberg and Miss Esther Werner,~~ hostesses; Mesdames Roy Morgan, Chas. Conner, Harold Provencher, G. M. Freitag, L. C. Reidy, J. E. Nelson, Carl Norquist, H. F. Erickson, A. P. Robinson, J. E. Bloomquist, Arthur Johnson, O. L. Cronstrom, Roy L. Ericson, O. F. Halldin, K. F. Thomas, Art Auringer, E. Ohm, Knute Melby, E. L. Rolland, Clarence W. Pope, George Baken, C. M. Carlson, Fred W. Johnson, Carl Angell, C. F. Erickson, Carl Whiting, Leonard Hanson, Roy Zeidel, Fred Dablow, Alex Campbell; Misses Lena Lonson, Lillian Eide, Thora Hanson, Ruth Sandstrom, Carolyn Melby, Jeanette Oftedahl, Helma Risen, Inga Stenberg, Dagna Bergan, Dorothy Denton, Anne Tharaldson, Lorna Dodge and Alma Thune.

Parcel Shower

On Wesdnesday evening of last week Miss Ina Stgeberger, now Mrs. Henry Stein, was tendered a pleasant parcel shower when a number of friends, members of the Zion church, gathered at the Stageberg home, 118 Main avenue north. A social time was enjoyed, the hours being devoted to music and games. Rev. Geo. Larson gave a short talk and the bride-to-be was presented with a gift from each member of the party. Those present were: Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Larson, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Stageberg, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Frank Olson; Misses Clara Ostmoe, Clara Hendrickson, Mabel Hendrickson; Ethel Erickson, Mabel Hustad, Borghild Wollen, Betsy Ness, Myrtle Mellum, Lillian Erickson, Rose Erickson, Ruth Larson, Selma Johnson, Ida Johnson, Florence Stageberg, Hilda Peterson, Edna Stageberg, Olga Olson, Delia Tweten and Goldie Olson. At the close of the evening a lunch was served.

Stageberg-Stein

A wedding of much local interest took place Thursday afternoon last week when Miss Ina Jeanette Stageberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Stageberg, 118 Main avenue north, was united in marriage to Henry George Stein of Kildeer, N. D. The wedding took place at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Stein, 617 Main avenue north, Rev. Geo. Larson of the Zion Lutheran church reading the ceremony. The couple was attended by Miss Florence Stageberg, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid and Guy Oftelie as best-man. Following the cerbmony a reception was given at the Stein home attended by close relatives and friends. A fine dinner was served and the afternoon spent in music and singing.

The bride is well known in this city having lived here for a number of years and educated in the local schools. She graduated from the local high school with the class of 1919. Mr. Stein, who formerly lived with his parents in the vicinity of Goodridge, has for the past few years operated a farm near Kildeer, N. D., but is well known in this community Friends of the newly married extend their best wishes for a happy life.

Wednesday evening last week a number of the bride's friends from the Zion church tendered her a delightful shower.

Mr. and Mrs. Stein left on Thursday for Kildeer where they will make their future home.

Zion Y. P. S.

The Young Peoples society of the Zion Lutheran church will meet in the church parlors on Thursday evening, April 5. The society will entertain. A good program has been arranged and lunch will be served as usual.

The Ladies Aid of the Zion church will be entertained in the afternoon of the same day by Mrs. E. Aspelund and Mrs. S. Simonson.

Eastern Star Party

Winslow Chapter, No. 182, O. E. S. celebrated its 18th anniversary last evening, March 28. An interesting feature of the program was the remarks of the Past Worthy Matrons, who were called on in the order in which they served. The chapter was favored with and greatly appreciated, the following musical numbers: Piano solos by Mrs. Thelma Erickson; song by a ladies quartet composed of Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Jr., Mrs. C. A. Nason, Mrs. Frank Christensen and Mrs. A. Bottelson; violin solo by Mrs. Aug. Holmberg; song by mixed quartet composed of Mrs. C. A. Nason, Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Jr., H. C. Durrin and A. Bottelson.

A huge birthday cake in the shape of a star surrounded by 18 candles was presented by Miss Effie Hamry.

A delicious lunch was served at the conclusion of the pleasant evening.

For Mrs. Rounds

A social item which was given to the Times too late for publication in last week's issue, was the account of of the surprise party tendered Mrs. B. G. Rounds, Thursday, March 15, the affair being in the form of a St. Patrick's day party. Cards and music formed the diversions of the evening and at twelve o'clock a delicious lunch was served. Those who partook in the event were: Mesdames W. H. Hall, O. G. Storholm, Christ Storholm, E. L. Rolland, Fred Johnson, E. Anderson, Halvor Rhodegaard, E. H. Frisell, O. J. Oden, Verner Nelson, Carl Melby, Knute Melby, J. H. Hermanson, W. H. Kline, Fred Dablow, C. M. Carlson, E. Norquist, and J. H. Kuecks.

Party At Conklin Home

A most delightful party was given at the F. B. Conklin home on Saturday evening. Various amusements were enjoyed by all and at midnight a dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. Conklin assisted by Misses Ethel and Hazel Conklin. STOCKHOLDERS OF CREAMERY MEET APRIL 14

Will Take Action Regarding Expansion of Business to Include Cheese Factory

Special Meeting is Called by Directors to Determine Wish of Majority

Articles of Incorporation And By-Laws Will be Changed to Meet Requirements

Saturday, April 14, the stockholders of the Farmers Co-operative creamery in Thief River Falls will meet in the Commercial club rooms when final action will be taken regarding the matter of establishing a cheese factory as an enlargement of the present institution.

At the last meeting of the stockholders it was decided to make a thorough investigation of the proposition and make a study of cheese-making possibilities in this territory. In this connection two members of the board, C. Christiansen and S. E. Hunt, have visited the plant at Radium where a plant has been in operation for some time. This particular plant is reported to be a money making affair and has proved to be a big asset to the creamery stockholders. The Radium plant was added to the creamery at the cost of $2,500 and it is thought that one similar could be installed here at about the same cost. This addition to the present creamery would provide that institution with a profitable outlet and use for the skim milk, the disposal of which is a problem at the present state. Cheese making facilities, it is thought, would eliminate the waste of this surplus and be a valuable and prift producing part of the local institution.

Among the matters of importance that will come up at the meeting the 14th, is also the remodelling of the constitution and by-laws of the association to conform with the revised state laws pertaining to such enterprises. Also various other matters of business will be disposed of by the stockholders at this meeting, and a good attendance is urged.

Boy Scouts Stage Dance

To raise funds with which to carry on the boy scout work in this city the Flying Eagle patrol, of the Boy Scouts, will stage a dance at the auditorium Friday, Apri. 13. The local patrol which has recently been reorganized, will endeavor to raise the necessary funds to carry on the work thru the spring and summer months by giving a dance rather than ask donations. Plans will be laid to establish summer camps where athletic meets will be held. Music for the dance will be furnished by Snyders orchestra, dancing to start at 9:30.

FORMER THIEF RIVER HARDWARE DEALER DIES AT MAHNOMEN

S. V. Bailey, Pioneer Business Man of This City, Dies At Home of Daughter

Samuel V. Bailey, one of the pioneer business men of Thief River Falls, passed away Thursday last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. M. Archibald, at Mahnomen. Death was caused by stomach troubles and general debility. About two weeks previous to his death Mr. Bailey received medical attention in a local hospital.

Deceased, who was nearly 80 years of age at the time death occurred, came to Thief River Falls from Atwater, Minn., about the year 1900 and engaged in the hardware business together with Chas. Jackson on the corner now occupied by the Farmer's and Merchants bank. In 1902 he was bought out by Robt. McGinn and a little later entered into partnership with Dibold, the store being conducted for some time in the building where the Co-operative store is now. During the last few years that he resided in this city he was janitor at the Knox school. About three years ago he left for Mahnomen to live with his daughter. His wife died ten years ago. Mr. Bailey is survived only by his daughter, Mrs. F. M. Archibald of Mahnomen.

Deceased was a member of the local Masonic order and to show their respect to the departed brother, a delegation of Masons went to Mahnomen to attend the funeral services which were held Saturday. Those who comprised the group taking part in the obsequies were: F. F. Haynes, master, Andrew Bottelson, Ray Johnson, H. C. Johnson, Chas. Halgrim and H. C. Durrin. His body was taken to Monticello for burial.

Aged Resident of This City Dies From Pernicious Anemia

Anton F. Halldin died early Monday morning at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Lund 713 Main avenue north, pernicious anemia being the direct cause of his death which occurred at 5:25 a. m. Mr. Halldin, who would have reached his 75th birthday in June, had been failing in health for more than three years.

Deceased was born in Stockholm, Sweden, June 18, 1848, and came to this country, with his wife, about 30 years ago. He lived in Gladstone, Mich., where his wife died of heart failure, until six years ago when he came to this city. He was engaged in boat transportation at Gladstone and was employed by the Soo here for a while.

Survivors are: two daughters, Mrs. John Lund of this city, and Mrs. Anna Foster of Minneapolis; and two sons, Otto of this city and Walter Cedargreen, Coal Harbor, N. D.

The funeral was held from the Larson undertaking parlors at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, and in accordance with the wishes of the deceased, a friend officiated at the obsequies. Interment was made at the Greenwood cemetery.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR BEST FRONT PAGE NEWS STORY

All Invited to Submit Articles on Any Subject of Their Own Selection

A front page news story all your very own.

This is the opportunity that you now have.

Get busy with your pencil and see the result of your journalistic effort in print.

The Times wants to find out who can write the best front page news story and prizes are going to be awarded to the three whose efforts are decided by the judges to be the best.

"A front Page Story," coming to the Lyceum theatre April 13 and 14, is the typical newspaper story and interesting beyond description. Many are said to return to view it a second and third time in cities where the picture has been shown. There isn't murder in it; not even suicide, divorce or a disastrous love affair. Moonshine raids play no part in it whatever, but it is seven thousand feet of the best flashes ever seen on the picture screen.

Newspaper stories always are interesting to the average person, and perhaps more romance, exciting experience and "grief" attaches to the persons responsible for the news in the big city dailies than any of the numerous extra hazardous occupations known to a man who must "grapple for a living."

A front page story, in order to be one, must not necessarily be perceived in a maze of crime, or politics, or blackmail, or in a pool of blood. Many of them are constructive instead of destructive. A front page story need not always be sensational.

The Times and Tribune are offering the following prizes for three front page stories for next week: $3 to the first, $2 to the second, and five tickets to the Lyceum theatre for the third. You're not going to get rich by winning, that's sure, but that's gener more than the average news story brings to the writer no matter where published. First prize will be printed on the front page of The Times and The Tribune over the name of the writer, and the second and third will take some other position in these papers. You are to choose your topic, whether current, or a creature of your own mind so long as it pertains to news, but not your opinions. What the newspapers want is news. Hold yourself down to about 150 words.

Give us a news story, pure and simple. Never mind your rhetoric or etiquette, as they assume small place in modern news writing, probably because "big words" are understood by so few, including the newswriters themselves.

"Well begun is half done," so get the gist of your news story in the first paragraph and then go on and elaborate if you want to. The "lead," as the substance of the story, is the main event. Tell what you know as a fact but be sure that you know. Tell the reader the nature of the event, the person or things concerned, as well as the time, the place, the cause, and the result. Here it is in a jiffy: What? Who? When? Where? Why? How?

Now, the rest ought to be easy. Write a story and maybe receive a job from Hearst, McCormick's Chicago Tribune, the Frisco Call, or the Times-Picayune at New Orleans. You never can tell Judges of the contest will be I. T. Simley, superintendent of schools, R. H. Ross of The Times and S. V. Arneson of The Tribune. All copy must be in by noon on Tuesday.

Tear Down Old Barn

The old livery barn across from the post office, which was nearly destroyed by fire this winter, is now being torn down, which will be the removal of one of the landmarks of Thief River Falls. The property is owned by Geo. Newberry, a dray office having been conducted there by W. K. Knight. Only the part of the building facing north will be taken down.

Opie Read Will Lecture At Sons of Norway Hall

Tuesday evening, April 10, Opie Read, the nationally known lecturer, humorist, playright, novelist and philosopher, will appear in Thief River Falls at the Sons of Norway hall. Opie Read comes here under the auspices of the Lyceum course, his lecture being the third number this winter. He was to have been in this city on December 4 but was unable to fulfill his engagement due to unfavorable weather, and train wreck.

Undoubtedly a large number of the people in this city and vicinity have read Read's novels, plays or sketches, and anyone knowing the nature and style of his writing will surely wish to hear his address an audience. He is one of the most powerful speakers on the platform and has the capacity of giving his hearer inspiration and joy and conveying ideas which everyone will profit by taking home and give further thought.

Further information regarding the man Opie Read may be found in other columns of this issue.

Aurora State Champions

Aurora high school, with an enrollment of about 50 boy students, stood at the top of Minnesota high school basketball squads, having catpured premier honors in the finals of the state tournament by downing Austin 24 to 14.

More than 2,500 spectators saw the team from the little iron range town wipe up the redoubtable Austin five, which was conceded an even chance to capture the state title on the strength of its showing in the tournamen.

The Rochester team which was put out of the running in the semi-finals by Austin, was awarded the sportsmanship trophy for displaying the cleanest play and best sportsmanship in the tournament. Members of the mythical all-state team were also awarded medals.

The selection by a committee of newspapermen and officials, was announced as follows:

The Aurora team, which represented Minnesota in the national tourney at Chicago, was eliminated its first game with Lorain, Ohio, Tuesday.

Beats Up Housekeeper

A sentence of 30 days in the Polk county jail and a fine of $29.50 was given Frank White of Crookston by Municipal Judge J. A. Hendricks recently when he was found guilty of an assault charge. White was arrested by the Crookston police shortly after noon Thursday.

It was alleged that he had beaten up his housekeeper and had generally mistreated her. The woman gave her name as Mrs. White, although it is alleged that she is not married to White but is staying in his home. The woman has been keeping house for White for some time. She has two children, but their father is not in the city.

Farmers' Purchasing Power Rises

Farmers' purchasing power continued its slow upward climb during February, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Although prices of commodities other than food that farmers buy were increased during the month, prices of crops went up much higher. Ten leading crops have reached the highest figure attained since December 1920. The principal increased prices are of cotton, corn, wheat and oats.

Reading of "The Melting Pot" Feature of Meeting

A good sized audience attended the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher association at the high school auditorium on Monday evening. The program opened with a piano duet by Mrs. Clarence Erickson and Miss Mildred Engen.

Mrs. R. Arnold read Zangwill's well known and popular drama "The Melting Pot." Mrs. Arnold is a reader of great ability and presented this difficult masterpiece in most excellent style. Her control of voice and ability to change completely from one character to the other, in connection with a wonderful interpretation of the great drama, kept the audience in keen attention thruout the reading. She would at one time be the impulsive and outspoken Irish maid and the next minute the haughty baron or David, full of feeling and haunted with terrible memories of Russian massacres. Every one present expressed the highest praise for the splendid reading, and it is only to be regretted that not a larger number was there to enjoy it.

Between acts Mrs. O. F. Mellby and Roy Prytz sang a duet as did also Mrs. C. Nason and Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Jr. All the musical numbers were thoroughly appreciated, encores being called for and very willingly responded to.

A. C. Honors to Local Girl

Miss Johanna Nabben residing near this city, received the award for the greatest progress during the year in the senior class of the agricultural college at Crookston.

Veterinarian Here Monday

Dr. L. R. Twete, licensed veterinarian, will arrive in Thief River Falls on Monday and will make his temporary headquarters at Lambert's drug store until he can secure permanent quarters. Dr. Twete is a fully qualified man in his line, having studied at the North Dakota agricultural college, Fargo, and Ohio state university, receiving his degree at the latter institution.

Extra Session of Solons if State Loses Ore Case

An extra session of the legislature looms as a probability, if the United States supreme court declares the Minnesota law of 1921 levying an occupation tax on iron ore unconstitutional, after the present session adjourns. Representative C. M. Bendixen, author of the 1921 law, announced that he would ask the governor to call the extra session.

If the decision of the supreme court is rendered promptly on the reassembling of the court, April 9, and the Minnesota occupation law is declared invalid, an attempt will be made to rush through a bill correcting its defects, before the present session adjourns April 19.

If this should fail, the extra session will be sought, Representative Bendixen said.

BRADLEY HELD ON HENNEPIN CO. WARRANT

Wire From Sheriff Brown Orders Local Man Held on Charge of Abandonment

Placed in County Jail Awaiting Arrival of Officer to Take Him to Minneapolis

Telegram
Minneapolis, Minn., 6:50 p. m.
April 5.
Sheriff O. L. Ihle,
Thief River Falls, Minn.
Arrest Charles Bradley 417 Red Lake Blvd. on abandonment warrant. Barber. Hold and notify by wire at our expense when in custody. Will send officer for him.
Earle Brown, Sheriff.
By J. H. McGuire, Criminal Dept.

Acting on instructions contained in the above telegram, Sheriff O. L. Ihle arrested Bradley shortly after eight o'clock tonight and placed him in the county jail where he will remain until the arrival of the Hennepin county officer to take him to Minneapolis.

A paternity judgement was entered against Bradley in Hennepin county some time ago and by the terms of this he was to pay a stated amount each month toward the support of the child. The assumption is that Bradley has become delinquent in these payments, thus bringing about the criminal charge of abandonment against him.

STYLE SHOW AT WOMAN'S CLUB NOVEL AFFAIR

Models Displayed Garments Depiciting Fashion's Decree For Past Eighty Years

Officers Commended For Work In Staging This Entertaining Feature

Tendency in Present Day Dress Noticeably For Health and Comfort

"In the spring a woman's fancy turns to thoughts of clothes." Bearing this in mind the Womans' club of Thief River Falls at their last meeting, Monday, April 2, put on a very interesting program and exhibition of fashions of all kinds.

Mrs. E. J. Richards read a very interesting paper on "Old Styles" in which she traced the stages of clothing from the fig leaf to the present time. She told how the exigencies of war and the advent of cavalry changed the skirt worn in the early days by both sexes, into the divided skirt from which the present trousers developed. Her discussion brought out the fact that it is not only the young flapper of today that paints and "dolls up. But that the women in past periods were much more extreme in that respect than those of today. "The participation of women in out of door sports has been one of the most important factors in the hygienic dress movement, making popular the comfortable shoe and short skirt. Common sense in the matter of dress has ceased to be an oddity and any woman may wear clothes that are comfortable and hygienic without being singled out for ridicule or pity. Even Dame Fashion has yielded to the outcry against the restricting stays and it is inconceivable that there will ever be a return to the "hour glass" shape that was but a few years ago the accepted ideal for a woman's figure." These were among the things brought out by Mrs. Richards in her treatment of the history of dress.

Following the reading of Mrs. Richard's paper, the club members put on a regular style show or revue, displaying first a dress worn 80 years ago. As for the type of dress worn then it might be said that it was a covering rather than an adornment. The next style shown had been in vogue 70 years ago. Two models wore the puffs and ruffles of fifty years ago and two displayed the bustle and the hoop skirt of 1865. The immense puffed sleeves of 27 years ago, evidences of which we see in every family album, were also shown, and the trailing gown with the memorable kangaroo front worn twenty five years back. Then came the full skirts of twenty years ago, containing from fifteen to twenty yeards of material; the long hobble skirt with ruffles at the hip ten years back and the knee length tight scout suit three to five years old. One by one these models came forward, forming a semi-circle at the front of the room. The effect to say the least was unique. The short, tight skirt worn about three years ago was judged to be the most unbecoming of the costumes displayed.

After showing of the various styles Mrs. G. Halvorson sang a group of old time songs which were greatly enjoyed by everyone present. Mrs. W. W. Prichard Jr. then read a paper on "Present day styles," stressing the influence of sports and the automobile on fashions of today.

The Oen store, Lieberman's and La-Vogue, together with Johnson's and Barton's millinery shops, displayed the modern clothes. The models included sport coats and hats, dress coats and wraps, sport dresses and afternoon dresses, each with suitable hat. When the modern models fitted by local merchants lined up in a semicircle at the front of the room, the club members were assured that the stores of this city are able to supply them with dresses of the highest quality of fashion. Many were surprised that a town of this size has stores that sell clothes of such high grade and of the latest in style. The club feels greatly indebted to these merchants for their assistance in producing this feature of the program.

Next came Mrs. Prichard's prophecy as to future styles. As the automobile has influenced the present clothes, so she predicted that the airplane would affect the future fashions, and the two models shown proved the correctness of her prophecy. The first one presented was a swagger street costume for the spring of 1940. It was featured by a close fitting tailored coat, trousers affording freedom of the knee by a slit leg, front section turned back and held in place by a button and the back section held by a clever heel strap, a helmet shaped hat, severely tailored and held firmly in place by a chin strap. The evening gown also produced the trouser effect but was much modified by draperies. The sport suit was designed by Mrs. T. L. Melgaard in a very artistic manner.

As a closing feature the oldest model and the most ultra modern model and the future models were displayed in a group and all present expressed a desire to wear the future garment rather than the past.

Another part of the afternoon's program was a display of old relics and wearing apparel. Four beautiful wedding dresses were shown; two ancient paisley shawls; much old hand work, dishes, old copper and brass up to 225 years old; and many other things of great interest.

There was a very large attendance and all voted that it was one of the most interesting and entertaining meetings that the club has ever held.

Articles of incorporation of the Save-U-Money Store of Thief River Falls are published in this issue of The Times. The amount of the capital stock is $25,000.

Elks Installation Friday

On Friday evening the local Elks lodge will hold their regular installation of officers with usual exercises. At this time Exalter Ruler L. G. Larsen will give an account of his stewardship during the past year as he turns over the office to G. W. Connell, who has been chosen to succeed him. The annual reports of the secretary and treasurer will be read and new committees appointed. Following the business session a lunch will be served.

DeCremer Meat Market to be Replaced by New Building

Construction of DeCremer's new meat market building was begun Monday, the business having been moved to the building formerly occupied by Loken Brothers where it will be conducted until the new structive is completed.

The new building will be a brick one story structure with full basement and tile floor, erected on the old site, the size of which will be 25 by 50 feet. It will be absolutely modern in every respect and equipment of the very best will be installed. Mr. DeCremer expects that it will be completed about the middle of June. L. D. McAdams, local contractor, is in charge of the construction work, the tearing down of the old structure being begun this week.

Local Boys Attend Short Course

Among those who left for Crookston from this vicinity for the spring short course, which opened Monday evening, were Olaf Olson and Clarence Weckworth.

Courses in livestock, home economics and other subjects of value to rural industry will be given during the week. Bread making contests will be held, the winning team to be awarded a trip to the state fair in September.

Boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 are elligible to attend. According to the Crookston Times 150 to 200 are expected to register.

Goodridge Creamery Opens

Joe Gangeness left the first of the week for Goodridge where he is again taking charge of the creamery which is now open for business. The activities of the creamery were closed down during the winter months due to the small volume of business at that time. While it was closed the majority of the farmers in that vicinity shipped their cream to the co-operative creamery in Thief River Falls, a buying station being maintained at Goodridge. Mr. Gangness spent the past winter together with his family in this city, being one of force at the local creamery.

Charged With Cause of Death; Man Hangs Self

Frank Nadohil, held in the Baudette jail, charged by a coroner's jury with responsibility for the death of Mrs. M. A. Stepan, committed suicide Saturday night by hanging himself with a handkerchief.

Mrs. Stepan was killed in the explosion of a stove at her home, six miles south of Graceton, the previous Sunday. Nadohil was arrested at Spooner Monday.

The coroner's jury investigated conditions surrounding the death of Mrs. M. J. Stepan, reached a decision, finding she came to her death as the result of an explosion in a stove caused by burning a piece of firewood in which the explosive was maliciously placed.

The husband, who was seated in the kitchen when the explosion occurred, was slightly injured by flying fragments of the stove. The explosion which occurred just after she had replenished the fire, was of such force that the stove was blown to pieces and great holes blown in the roof and floor. All windows in the house were broken.

Mrs. Stepan was blown into the cellar by the force of the explosion and died while being taken to a hospital here.

Bus Line To Open Soon

The following item from the Crookston Times this week will prove of interest to people traveling between Thief River Falls and Crookston via the bus line:

Ed. Carlson, manager of the Triangle Transportation company here, went up on the road to Thief River Falls on Saturday afternoon to see whether he was able to start a bus out on that line each day. Mr. Carlson reported that he expected to be able to start the service to Thief River Falls sometime this week. Service on the Halstad line will also be started as soon as the roads become better.

JUDGE GRINDELAND REFUSES TO GRANT ONE CITIZENSHIP

Three Out of Five Applicants Receive Final Papers At Special Court Term

Impressive ceremonies closed the examination of applicants for citizenship at the court room of the court house last Saturday forenoon when three men were granted their papers. Five applicants were given a hearing by Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren and examiner, R. K. Doe of Duluth. Of these, three were found satisfactory and granted their citizenship, namely: Martin Lokken of Thief River Falls, a native of Norway; Theodore E. Jensen of Thief River Falls, a native of Denmark; and David Samuelson also of this city, a native of Sweden. Arne E. Vik of St. Hilaire requested a continuance of his application while the application of Ole J. Ness of this city was denied and dismissed at this hearing due to the fact that he claimed exemption from military service as an alien in the world war. After Nov. 11, five years following the closing of the war, the dismissed applicant may file another petition.

To solemnize the naturalization proceedings more attention was given to a program in connection with the occasion, this part of the hearing taking place Saturday forenoon. To conform with this idea addresses were made by Rev. A. A. Larson and Mrs. T. L. Melgaard both of whom spoke on the subject of good citizenship and Americanism, in a very effective manner. The new citizens were also addressed from the bench by Judge Grindeland who impressed upon them the importance of their new relationship with Uncle Sam and their responsibilities as members of the great family of Americans. He pointed out various duties the new citizen should assume and stressed on the upholding and keeping of the laws of the land and reverence for the adopted country. The Girls Glee club from the high school, under the direction of Miss Maude L. Johnson, added to the exercises by singing several patriotic songs.

The oath of allegiance was administered by Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund following the ceremonies.

The next hearing will be given July 26. Applicants must file their petition ninety days previous to the date of the hearing.

Tandberg Leaves Goodridge Bank

Theo. Tandberg, for the past two-three years assistant cashier of the Goodridge State bank, has resigned his position and severed his connections with the institution. He has disposed of his property at Goodridge and expects to move to this city about the first of May, intending to make his home here together with his family, for a while at least. Mr. Tandberg has not yet announced definitely what he intends to engage in following his resignation. He was formerly connected with the First National bank of this city.

Auto Owners Not Having License Subject to Arrest

Highway Engineer Bert Umland announces that anyone using a motor vehicle of any kind without displaying the new license plates in front and rear, according to state regulations, will be subject to arrest. A penalty for failing to secure a 1923 license went into effect on Tuesday, April 2, according to announcement. The local authorities state that they will be on the lookout to nab anyone who does not conform with this statute of the state law as the time for securing a license was this year extended a month for owners of cars not in use before April 1. The penalty for not getting the plates is 25 cents per day after April 1.

CHARGE IS MADE THAT OFFICIALS ACCEPTED BRIBE

C. B. Bradley Claims That He Paid Money to Officers For Protection

Statement Made to Times Following Raid on Barber Shop Monday Afternoon

Refused to Give Names of Those Alleged by Him to Have Accepted Money

Statement By Bradley

"I'm no fool, I haven't been asleep; I've got these fellows right where I want them. Some of these officials have accepted money from me for protection and now I am going to show them up. I'll give you a real news story to print when the time comes."

The above statement was made to the publisher of The Times Monday afternoon by C. B. Bradley, following his arrest by Sheriff O. L. Ihle on the charge of having intoxicating liquor in his possession for sale. Upon being asked who the guilty officials were Bradley refused to give the names but said he would at the proper time.

If the statement of Bradley is true, and he claims to have positive proof of it, no time should be lost by the proper officials in investigating the charge. It is a serious matter and if any officials in Thief River Falls have accepted "hush" money they should pay the penalty.

Raid Monday Afternoon

This startling disclosure of bribery of public officials came as an aftermath of a raid made by Sheriff O. L. Ihle and Deputy Sheriff L. O. Kongelf on Bradley's barber shop Monday afternoon. The officers secured two 12 oz. bottles of liquor. They immediately placed Bradley under arrest and he was taken before Judge N. W. Tarrant to answer to the charge of having intoxicating liquor in his possession for sale. He waived examination and was held for his appearance at the next term of district court under $500 bonds, which he furnished.

Safe Opened With Hammer

When the officers entered the Bradley shop they ordered Bradley to open his safe. This he claimed he could not do because the combination had in some manner become set and he had been unable to open it for a week. Sheriff Ihle then proceeded to do the job with a hammer and a chisel, knocking the combination dial off which enabled him to easily open the door. This was done in the presence of County Attorney Theo. Quale who had been called in by the sheriff. The liquor found appeared to be alcohol colored to give it the appearance of whiskey.

DRILLS ARMY OF HUNDREDS IN DAY FOR BIG PICTURE

"The Young Rajah," Fantastic Oriental Picture at Lyceum Theatre Sun. and Mon.

The day is often big with accomplishments in motion pictures. For example, Philip Rosen, directing Rodolph Valentino in "The Young Rajah," mobilized an army of several hundred extra men, dressed them in the costumes of ancient warriors of Hindu mythology, took them out to a mountain location near Chatsworth, Calif., and in one day drilled them for battle and staged a mammoth battle spectacle, which serves as a colorful vision episode in the picture, which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday.

The scenes are fantastic in the extreme, and represented the legend of the battle of the Arjuna, the mortal brother of Krishna, the Hindu god of Love, with earthy influences. His battle is against his father and brothers, who are tyrants over the people and even seek to slay Arjuna, righteous leader of his peole. Inspired by Krishna, however, Arjuna slays his kinsmen and puts his hordes to rout, then receives as a reward from Krishna, the divine gift of foretelling the future. Amos Judd, the modern hero of the story, is supposedly a descendant of Arjuna, and possesses that same gift. The visionary legend is introduced to show how Amos Judd came to possess this strange power.

Extensive research work and much delving into Hindu theology and mythology was necessary on the part of June Mathis, who wrote the adaptation, in order that these scenes might be true to legend. The numerous warriors had to be costumed; two gilded chariots were used by the leaders, Arjuna and his kinsmen, these being driven by huge Ethiopians. The chariot of Arjuna was driven by a large man made up as an ape. Two mammoth elephants and their trainers were used, symbolizing the use of elephants in the warfare of those ancient times.

In addition to the towels many other useful gifts were presented to the hostess.

Moen-Johnson

Saturday afternoon a quiet wedding took place at the home of Rev. Chas. Gerlinger, pastor of the Presbyterian church, when Miss Lillian Moon of Middle River was united in marriage to Clarence Johnson of this city. The ceremony was read by Rev. Gerlinger in the presence of Miss Harriet Wedmer and C. W. Vorachek.

The bride is well known in this city having been employed at the Physicians hospital for some time. Mr. Johnson has been a resident here for a number of years and is at present in the employ of the American Express company at the local office. He was, until a year ago, employed in the Thief River Monumental shop. The newlyweds left on Saturday evening for Bemidji to visit briefly with the groom's mother who resides there. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will make their home in Thief River Falls. A large circle of friends extend their congratulations.

Attends Golden Wedding

Dr. G. W. Booren and son Jack attended the fiftieth wedding anniversary of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Booren of Stillwater. Mr. and Mrs. August Booren are pioneers of this state and were married fifty years ago in St. Paul. More than 65 relatives were present.

Quoting the Stillwater Daily Gazette:

"Fifty years ago, March 27, 1873, August Booren and Miss Carrie A. Wiegren, both of this city were united in marriage in St. Paul, the Rev. J. Auslund officiating. The happy couple returned to Stillwater and since that date have resided here, honored and respected by a large circle of friends and neighbors.

"The golden wedding was duly observed on March 27, 1923, at the family home, corner of Olive and Sixth streets, about sixty-five relatives and friends gathering at the home to congratulate the couple, talk over the days of long ago, enjoy a social evening and later a feast royal.

"The bridegroom has been a prominent citizen of Stillwater for many years, having served as a representative in the Minnesota legislature in 1890 and 1892 sessions, and was county treasurer from 1894 to 1900, having served faithfully and well, and with honor to his constituents as well as himself. The couple have been members of the Swedish Lutheran church for many years.

"There are five children and six grandchildren, most of whom were present on the happy occasion, as follows: Dr. G. W. Booren and son, Jack, Thief River Falls; Dr. C. A. Booren, and son, Minneapolis; Harry F. Booren, Plummer, Minn.; Winnie S. Booren, at home; Olive C. Booren, Minneapolis."

Absent Voter Law Amended; Bounty on Wolves Doubled

The senate last week passed the house bill amending the absent voters law making it apply to primary elections. The house bill doubling the present wolf bounties also was passed, making the bounty for a full grown wolf $15. The house passed two crime prevention bills, one providing an increased penalty where a motor vehicle is used. The other increases penalties when firearms are used.

Holt Woman Dies Young

Tuesday of last week occurred the death of Mrs. Peter Bjerken, aged 20, at the home of her father, Ole Reierson residing about three miles southwest of Holt. The cause of her early demise was consumption from which she had been ailing for some time. She appeared to be improving until two weeks ago when her condition turned critical.

Deceased had been a resident of that community for the past number of years and is survived by her husband and two young children. Her loss is also mourned by her father, Ole Reierson of Holt; three sisters, Mrs. Bjerken of Mahnomen, Gertie and Myrtle at home; and four brothers, Obert at Holt and Oscar, Lawrence and LeRoy at home.

Mrs. Bjerken was laid to rest in the Holt cemetery Saturday afternoon, the local Zion Lutheran church.

Wolves Numerous

From nearly every direction come reports of numerous wolves some of them even growing so bold as to come up close to the houses in an effort to get to the chicken flocks. While we do not swallow the story of the Indians being treed by a bunch of wolves and sending off one of their number, who brought back a beaver to cut down the tree, we do know that wolves are menace to peaceful farming. The passage of the bill providing for a double bounty on wolves, by the legislature, this week was hailed by our northern settlers.—Northern News.

JOHN REMMEM IS ATTACKED IN STORE AND BADLY BEATEN

Two Men Enter Bargain Store at Midnight Demanding Money From Manager Remmem

At about 1 o'clock last Sunday morning, two youthful bandits gained entrance to the Bargain store at Rosewood, in an apparent attempt of both revenge and robbery.

The proprietor, John Remmem, who sleeps above his business quarters, was awakened shortly after midnight by continuous raps on his store door, and rising demanded the cause of the unusual visit, and was informed by one of the men that his nephew, Lloyd Alms from Thief River Falls, was there wishing to be let in. This appearing natural, and not suspecting any evil play, Mr. Remmem took a flash light and went down stairs and opened the door, without first putting on any lights. He was met by the glare of a bright flashlight and pushed back into the room, where one of the two youths leveled a gun at him and demanded money, while the other kept vigilance at the door. Remmem believed the affair a joke, and said he had no money, and therefore could not give any. This was met with a volley of vicious talk from the bandit, who claimed that Remmem owed him money and now was his time for payment. Seeing, however, that talk would not help he seized a pop bottle and struck Mr. Remmem across the face, but made no attempt to use the gun which he still held. Mr. Remmem offered resistance and a fight followed in which Remmem wrenched the gun from the assailant's hand. The bandit knocked him down and beat his head and face with any hard missile within reach.

It is doubtful what the outcome would have been, had not a gentleman by the name of Carl Johnson from Karlstad, who slept upstairs in the same building, been awakened by the noise and appeared on the scene. With the approach of more people, the bandits immediately took to their heels, and in their haste lost both the fully loaded 32 caliber revolver and a wide lens flashlight on the floor, which remain as clues to their identification. Otherwise they made a complete getaway. Mr. Remmem was severely wounded about the head, and will be disfigured for a long time.

Mr. Remmem believes the culprits were mere youths, from what he could ascertain. Neither wore masks, but they were very successful in concealing their indentity. They personally knew their victim, as his name was called several times, and they also knew about his relatives living at Thief River Falls. It is probable that it was a case of some petty personal revenge.

Mr. Remmem left on Monday morning for Warren where he secured medical aid for his bruises and left the case in the hands of the county authorities. It is to be hoped that the miscreants will be run down and made to answer for their crime shortly.

Dozen Arrests in a Week by Bemidji Authorities

The Bemidji police force and municipal court apparently were unusually busy lately, according to an item in last week's issue of the Sentinel, which follows:

"During the past few days the Bemidji police force has been exceptionally busy and many arrests have been made. The record for the past few days shows the following cases being handled by municipal court here: Gust Peterson, drunk, fined $5; A. B. Davis, drunk, fined $5; Olaf Peterson, drunk, choice at $5 fine or jail sentence of 5 days, committed; Albert Perry, vagrancy, choice of a fine of $100 or 90 days in jail, committed; John Sullivan, vagrancy, choice of fine of $100 or 90 days in jail and sentence suspended when prisoner agreed to leave city; Jens Huk, drunk, $10 fine; Andrew Anderson, $10 fine; Buster Hyatt, drunk, $25 fine; Jud Sexton, drunk and case disorderly, $35 fine or 30 days in jail, committed; Magnus Anderson, drunk, $115 fine or 15 days in jail, committed; Peter Swanson, $10 forfeited bail."

This Is What He Did

It wasn't a Missouri editor but a printer's devil who was going thru his first experience on "making up" forms. The paper was late and the boy got the galleys mixed. The first part of the obituary notice of a pecunious citizen had been dumped in the forms and the next handful of type came off a galley describing a recent fire. It read like this: "The pall bearers lowered the body to the grave and as it was consigned to the flames there were few if any regrets for the old wreck had been an eyesore to the town for many years. Of course there was individual loss, but that was fully covered by insurance." The widow thinks the editor wrote the obituary that way because the lamented partner of her joys and sorrows owed him five years' subscription.

Hog Raisers Will meet And Discuss problems April 14

A meeting of all farmers interested in the raising of pure bred hogs will be held in the Farm Bureau office at Thief River Falls, on Saturday, April 14. All club members in Pennington county should make it a point to be present as Herbert Fuller, who is giving out pigs to the boys and girls, has some important instructions for each one.

The Poland-China raisers of Pennington county are endeavoring to put more hogs on each farm and are inviting raisers of other breeds to be present at the meeting on the 14th, as they wish to arrange for some breed contests, as well as for exhibits at the county fair. All farmers interested should make it a point to be present.

It's Up To Each Of Us

If any considerable number of those who are complaining of the evils and injustices of the world would cease to do evil and injustice much of the cause of complaint would banish. There is but one way to end wrongs and that is for each individual to end wrong-doing. The good of the world is only the sum of the good in each of us, and the bad in the world is only the sum of the bad in all of us. There is no short-cut to the millennium through reformation of the other fellow. There is a long and hard road—through the reformation of ourselves.—Dawson Sentinel.

Many Get Big Checks At Plummer

The Plummer creamery paid out to its patrons during the month of February a little over $6,700. Forty-seven patrons received checks to the amount of $50 or over, the largest sum paid to the one producer being $223.48, which was received by Octave Lefaivre. $195.94 was paid to A. J. Waldal.

By What Right?

Men caught red-handed in manufacturing moonshine and having same in their possession are taken before a justice of the peace, and after pleading guilty of "maintaining a nuisance" are fined $100 and costs, why are not these parties held to the grand jury, or turned over to the federal authorities, as they should be? A hundred dollar fine has about as much chance of making a moonshiner change heart as a snow ball would have of remaining a snow ball in the hottest part of hell. It is about time these pleas of "maintaining a nuisance" were cut out and the punishment made to fit the crime."—Greenbush Tribune.

Many Praise Show Window

A show window subject to much notice and highly favorable comment is that of the dry goods department in the Oen store completed last week. The three large lamp shades constructed in a very artistic manner and the color schemes used are especially attractive in the evening. The artistic display was made up by Roy Frytz, manager of the department, who has had a great deal of experience and training in this type of work.

$25,000 I. O. O. F. Home At Bemidji

Bemidji Odd Fellows have definitely decided to erect a $25,000 home. The design of the building is of commercial English gothic and it will be faced with red brick. It is the plan of members of the lodge to rush the work as much as possible that the building may be completed during the early summer months.

Radium Woman Dies Here

Mrs. Nick Schantzen of Radium passed away at the Oakland Park sanatorium on Monday, March 26. She had been suffering from tuberculosis of the lungs for some time, having been a patient at the sanatorium during the past year. Deceased was about 62 years of age. According to information received the body was shipped to Warren for burial.

Makes Enforcement Difficult

Frank G. Stroup, the government special agent who has been in this section of the state for some time gathering evidence and prosecuting violations of the Volstead law, expresses himself as being very much disappointed at the general attitude in regard to the prosecution of the liquor cases.

He says it is practically impossible to get an impartial jury to try liquor cases and that many jurors do not hesitate to violate their oaths and refuse to convict even when the evidence is overwhelming against the defendant.

This condition he says is having the effect of establishing in the minds of bootleggers and other violators of the prohibition act, a contempt and open defiance of the law that works great injury to the community and adds to the difficulties of those whose duty it is to see that the laws are strictly enforced.—Crookston Times.

Bemidji Boy Robbers Nabbed

Five young boys were rounded up at Bemidji for breaking into the plant of the Falk Potato company. The boys took the combination off the safe. While some of the boys were working on the safe, one of them started to print his name with the typewriter and threw the paper on the floor. This led to their arrest.

A WORTHY UNDERTAKING

The eyes of two hundred crippled children are turned toward the State Capitol this week pleadingly. There is pending before the present session a bill appropriating $50,000 toward the erection of the Dowling Memorial Hall. Their distorted misshapen little bodies will there be trained that they may stand upright, self-supporting, asking no favors nor charity at the hands of the public.

Mike Dowling, crippled beyond description, by example proved what education will do. Two hundred little Mike Dowlings today await the same chance that he got. This isn't philanthrophy nor charity—it's good common sense to enable these little ones to support themselves.

Long after recollection has failed of the members of this Legislature, there will stand a monument at Phalen Park, St. Paul, erected to the memory of "Minnesota's gamest man," a useful institution training crippled children as yet unborn to upstanding citizenship.

The Phalen Park hospital is the only state institution that can be said to be doing real constructive work. There are on the waiting list at the hospital 200 or more children in need of the care and treatment which the patients there are receiving. The proposed Dowling Memorial will provide accommodations for these children and will be a God-send to all of them.

We all favor practical economy in state affairs, but we cannot afford to neglect the wards of the state, especially where the work will ultimately save the tax payers of the state money.

Our representatives are to be commended for the stand they have taken for economy generally speaking, but it is not economy to withhold an appropriation or to refuse making an appropriation that means so much to these crippled children and to the state itself as does the appropriation here referred to.

It should be borne in mind that the people of Minnesota have voluntarily contributed $50,000 toward the erection of this building. This contribution has come from thousands of individuals in all parts of the state, and it shows a strong popular sentiment in favor of the movement and ought to convince every member of the legislature that there is a popular demand for such an appropriation.

LEGISLATIVE LETTER

St. Paul, Minn.—The hottest and longest battle of the session, in either branch of the Minnesota legislature, is now raging over the Anti-Saloon League's new prohibition enforcement bill. This measure came up in the house as a special order at 2:30, Wednesday afternoon, and was debated till 6:30, when the special order was continued till the next morning. Thursday morning and afternoon four more hours were devoted to the bill, but still a heap of amendments are on the speaker's desk to be acted on, so the special order was continued till Tuesday afternoon. After the amendments are finally disposed of will come the debate on the bill itself, so it is possible that final action cannot be had on the measure till after the middle of the week.

The bill is very drastic, though not strictly "bone dry," as ministers will still be able to buy wine for sacramental purposes and doctors will still have the right to prescribe stronger stuff. The first of the amendments submitted—by Rep. Pattison of St. Cloud—was to make the bill absolutely "bone dry" by depriving ministers and doctors of the rights just mentioned, but a large majority of the members would not listen to Mr. Pattison's arguments. Another amendment debated at length and voted down was one by Rep. T. H. Girling of Robbinsdale proposing that the entire bill be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection in 1924; another by Rep. Starkey of St. Paul, providing that Minnesota shall be governed by acts of congress as to the enforcement of the prohibition act and one by Rep. Guy Dilley of St. Paul permitting the sale of beer and light wine, not containing over 4½ per cent alcohol. The only amendment of any importance so far adopted, exclusive of those offered by the authors of the bill, is one by Rep. A. C. Welch of Glencoe providing that no dry agent or other officer of the law shall be permitted to enter a house in quest of liquor without a search warrant.

Farm Taxes Reduced

The bill by Rep. J. B. Hompe of Deer Creek, reducing the tax on farm machinery and grain in the farmers' granaries from 25 per cent to 10 per cent, which passed the house early in the session, was approved by the senate a few days ago and sent to the governor. This is the only measure of the kind that has been, or will be, passed at this session. There is a growing conviction among so-called tax experts that the tax on personal property of all kinds should be reduced or wholly removed.

The senate committee on general legislation voted early in the week to kill the bill recently passed by the house requiring the governor to appoint at least one woman on the state Industrial Commission. This bill was introduced early in the session by Mrs. Paige of Minneapolis and was demanded by various women organizations, who feel that the governor has not appointed on state boards and commissions as many women as he ought to. A good many representatives voted for the bill without approving it, for fear of arousing the wrath of the women. It is fairly certain that the three members of the senate committee who supported the Paige bill will submit a minority report and the fight will thus be transferred to the senate floor.

Appropriation Bill Passed

The first of the big appropriation bills passed the senate during the week and will be acted upon by the house Thursday. It appropriates $8,333,000 for the state institutions under the state board of control, being about $850,000 in excess of the same appropriation two years ago. But the need is greater now. Room is needed for 1,000 more patients at the state hospitals for the insane and at the school for the feeble minded at Faribault 200 children are forced to sleep in the attics.

The total appropriations by the legislature of 1921 were $33,700,000. They will be from $3,000,000 to $7,000,000 greater this year.

The $2,000,000 bill for state highways, demanded by Commissioner Babcock, will be a special order this week. It has a rocky road to travel.

Legislature Stirred by Charges of Former University Professor.

Another legislative investigation one that came without warning and without premeditation, but having sensational possibilities—is in progress at the state capitol. It was ordered by the house committee on the University and is aimed at the board of regents, against whom serious charges were made yesterday afternoon by F. W. Sardeson, 414 Harvard St. S. E., who was a member of the university faculty for 16 years prior to the year 1914. Mr. Sardeson's charges are that salaries have been paid to instructors for services that have not been rendered.

The investigation is in the hands of a sub-committee of five representatives: E. O. Oren of Wells, chairman; B. H. Benson, of Erskine; Alex Kinneberg of Staples; G. E. Strandemo of Medford and Marius Waldal of Plummer. All of these were present when Mr. Sardeson made his charges. The latter has been summoned to give his testimony in detail and others, who will be named by him as having knowledge of the facts involved, will be called to testify.

Mr. Sardeson did not appear before the committee for the purpose of preferring charges against the board of regents or the university management but to urge the adoption of Rep. Albert Lagerstedt's resolution demanding that the books and records of the board of regents shall be open at all times for public inspection. To show the necessity for such a rule Mr. Sardeson referred to the fact that he had been paid a year's salary after he had been discharged as a professor and for which he rendered no services. He followed up this statement by adding that, to his knowledge, about 20 other members of the faculty have been similarly renumerated after they were dismissed or resigned. The committee members, aroused by these disclosures, forgot Mr. Lagerstedt's resolution and moved for an investigation.

PUBLIC FORUM

Cause of Present Period of Depression and the Remedy

In considering and discussing questions, the most common error is to not distinguish between fundamental and contributory causes and between positive or absolute truth, and relative.

Now, in regard to the causes of the present period of depression, every conceivable contributory cause has been heralded broadcast and even some sheer imaginary causes have been given, but the fundamental direct cause has studiously been kept from the public except by a few papers, mostly farm journals.

This insidious propaganda of the money power—I mean the creditor class as against the debtor class—is designed to cover up the direct, main cause of the present miserable conditions and thus prevent the people from voting in a congress and administration that will remedy it.

During the war the federal reserve system was used to put into circulation nearly two thousand million dollars of currency in the form of federal reserve bank notes and federal reserve notes, which increased our per capita circulation from about $37 to about $58. This great increase in our money circulation naturally reduced its relative value as compared with commodities—that is, ~~its~~ purchasing power was greatly diminished, or in other words, "prices went way up." The excuse for this inflation of the currency generally offered by the defendants of the federal reserve system and its board's action in this matter is that this inflation was necessary in order to carry on the war. All right. We will allow this was necessary, even though taken by itself only, it was stealing from the creditor class, but as they have been given all kinds of special privileges in regard to taxation and general patriotic demands during the war, it certainly was all right to take some purchasing power out of the money represented by their securities, bonds, mortgages, and so forth. At any rate, taking the country as a whole, it was in extraordinary good condition during the whole period of inflation.

But, to get back to the subject, in July, 1920,—note this was a year and a half after the armistice—the federal reserve board reversed their policy and began deflation by withdrawing money from circulation at the average rate of about 2¼ million dollars a day for the next two years, until the per capita circulation was down from about $58 to about $39. What happened to business during this "deflation" stunt? Well, we all know what happened in Pennington county, and what happened here happened all over the United States, the only difference being that the richer communities, having a larger reserve to fall back on, could stand it better, but they lost more money! The federal reserve board wiped out more values; made more homeless people; closed more banks; broke more business firms and caused more idleness and suicides in two short years than the whole liquor business in the United States has done since Washington's days! And the end is not in sight yet so far as the effect is concerned, although their policy of currency deflation has been stopped some months ago.

What then is the remedy? Plain as day. Re-inflate the currency to about $58 dollars per capita, by issuing U. S. legal tender notes (greenbacks) and then take away the rights of the federal reserve board to issue federal reserve notes, and the federal reserve banks to issue federal reserve bank notes. Now, I trust no one will take me to mean that deflation was the cause of each and every economic failure, as there are dozens of contributory causes, but I simply want to call attention to the really important cause and the only cause of the GENERAL price fall of all commodities taken as a whole.

I have heard such rediculous statements about the causes of this present terrible condition that I get disgusted with our whole eduactional system. One congressman stated the cause of the unemployment last year and the year before was the return of our soldiers! Think of that! The boys returned mostly in the early part of 1919 and employment did not bother until the latter part of 1920!

With nearly 30 billion Liberty and Victory bonds sold during the inflation boom period, and billions upon billions of the state, county, municipal, school, railroad and other bonds and billions of mortgages, it is a physical impossibility to get back to fair-play between creditor and debtor class without re-inflation so as to make the dollar of the same purchasing power now, as it had been when the bonds were issued. I am not in favor of printing paper money indiscriminately, as some European countries are doing, but I am absolutely in favor of printing enough to right the dirty crime pulled on the debtor class and industrial class by the "deflation."

I have noticed of late a lot of propaganda against inflation and—also some against Henry Ford, because he is an industrialist and is fighting the international bankers and favoring re-inflation.

I hope Mr. Ford will get right into politics, and maybo this creditor bunch will not be able to redicule him to death like they did back in the 70's with the Good Old Greenback Party.

Nineteen States Now Have Co-operative Marketing Law

A new co-operative marketing bill, identical to that which has been passed in 19 states and is pending in several others, is before the Minnesota legislature. All indications point to its passage, though it is being opposed in some quarters.

Governor Preus in an address before a joint meeting of the house and senate last week urged speedy action.

In the main, the bill simply adds to the present laws in that it gives unquestioned legality to contracts between growers and their associations and makes it a misdemeanor to circulate false reports about a co-operative. It does not repeal any law now in force.

The bill has the approvel of Walton Peteet, marketing director of the American Farm Bureau Federation and most farm leaders in this state.

The new potato and egg marketing associations and other organizations that are planned will be organized under it.

The Senate committee on agriculture has reported for passage the Rural Credits bill, which already has been adopted by the house. The committee recommended an increase from 25 to 33 per cent in the allowance to be made on improvements and other slight changes to make it easier for a man with a loan on his place to move off the farm.

Wages for Farm Labor is Higher Than a Year Ago

Farm hands, especially young men who are unskilled in other trades, should stay away from the cities, according to J. S. Jones, secretary of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation, who has just completed a statewide survey of the labor situation.

"The survey shows," he says, "that where the labor market is well supplied in the cities. In the rural sections, the demand is somewhat stronger than usual, especially in 1922, and that farmers are offering higher wages than they were a year ago.

For general work, farmers are paying an average of $1,88 a day compared with $1.37 a year ago. For general work, by the month, the average wage is $32.57, compared with $23.75 a year ago. On a 6-month basis, including the harvest season, the present average wage is $41.20, compared with $32.50 a year ago. The demand for labor is called "average to strong" at present, whereas a year ago, it was "weak to average."

Wages indicated, Mr. Jones says, are considerably higher than what similar labor is obtained in the cities, for these wages include board, room and, as a rule, washing. Just at present the strongest demand for farm help is in the southeastern section of the stae.

Marketing Bill Is Reported to House

The Standard Co-operative Marketing bill, now before the Minnesota legislature, was reported to pass by the House committee. However, in recommending passage, a large number of amendments were proposed. When the time for voting arrives, considerable opposition is expected to amendments, other than those which safeguard the law under which present co-operatives in Minnesota have been organized.

Not Much Building

Owing to the fact that the territory surrounding Gully does not seem to warrent sufficient business for two lumber yards at that place, the Wilcox Lumber Company of Detroit, which has maintained a branch there for several years past, are closing their yard and shipping the stock to other points, according to the last issue of the Advance.

Pioneer Woman of Plummer Dies in City; 63 Years Old

Mrs. Marie Medchill wife of P. S. Medchill of Plummer, mother of Mrs. N. C. Linberg of this city, died at the Physicians hospital March 24, having been brought to the hospital in a very critical condition, only two days previously. The cause of her death was an acute attack of gangrene, having been subject to a lingering ailment and rather sickly during the last six years.

Mrs. Medchill, who was 63 years of age at the time of her demise, was born in Norway and came to this country in 1870, settling in Goodhue county. There she was united in marriage to P. S. Medchill with whom she moved to a farm near Plummer 28 years ago, so may be considered one of the early pioneers of the section. She passed away at the farm home two miles southeast of Plummer.

Deceased is survived by her husband and six children. They are N. C. Lindberg of Thief River Falls, Mrs. C. D. Collins of Fresno, Cal., Bertha of Spokane, Wash., Melvin of Havre, Mont., John of Oklee, and Victor of Plummer. Also a sister, Mrs. Wm. Johnson of Red Wing.

The body was shipped from the Larson Undertaking parlors in this city to Plummer where burial takes place this afternoon. Rev. Lerohl of the Lutheran church at Oklee officiates at the last rites.

Eat Extra Slice of Bread and Help Reduce Surplus

The people of Minnesota are called on and urged to cooperate in the campaign to induce the public to eat more wheat, in a proclamation issued last week by Governor J. A. O. Preus. In addition to the issuance of the proclamation Governor Preus has communicated with the governors of various wheat producing states asking them to issue similar proclamations in their respective commonwealths calling on the people to co-operate to the fullest extent in the campaign for greater home wheat consumption.

An extra slice of bread at each meal or its equivalent in other wheat products would mean the consumption of an additional 171,000,000 bushels of wheat annually in the United States, Governor Preus said.

The following item of local interest appeared in the Middle River Pioneer last week: "August Holmberg of Thief River Falls spent several days in Middle River last week repairing his auto left here last fall. Mr. Holmberg expects to move to his farm east of town in the near future providing he cannot lease it. Glad to see him and his estimable family residents of this locality again."

Explosion of Still Not Cause of Children's Death

The following item concerning the apprehension of a moonshiner in the vicinity of Roseau, appeared in the columns of the Roseau Times-Region last week. Considerable interest was taken in the case because it was suspected that two children, who died at the home of the still operator, had been subject to burns caused by an explosion of the still. This, however, was not the cause, according to the article in the Times.:

"Gunder Pederson, prominent farmer near Greenbush, was brought to Roseau Wednesday last week by the sheriff's force on a charge of maintaining a public nuisance in the form of a still, and taken before Justice R. J. Knutson, where he pleaded guilty and was given a $100 fine and costs.

The arrest of Pederson on the charge of violating the prohibition laws and his admission of guilt may revive a number of conjectures concerning the death of two of his children a while ago. The fact is, however, that it has no connection with the various reports circulated at that time which alleged that the children suffered burns from the explosion of a still in his home. His law violations had been suspected and the authorities finally caught him. With reference to the rumors out in connection with the death of the children it can be authoritively stated that they died from scarlet fever. A thoro investigation was made and a representative of the state board of health was up to Greenbush and verified the facts to the effect that scarlet fever was in the home and they died from that disease and no other cause."

The Cursing Habit

Roger Babson recently wrote: "I do not use profane language myself and I do not like being in the company of folks that do."

Many people feel the same about it. Others are a little lenient. For instance there are some folks that believe if a chap gets kicked by a horse, hits his thumb with a hammer, runs out of gasoline and keeps trying to crank his car, etc., etc., etc., —there may be excuse for a few "chosen" words not Anglo-Saxon.

But surely it is unpardonable for men on the streets and in public places of business to be forever cursing and especially insisting on taking a Divine Name in vain.

There's no getting away from the fact—and facts are facts and we must face them even if facts and truth are painful—the time has come when foreigners visiting in America marvel because our laws respecting cursing on the street and in other public places of travel and business are not rigidly enforced.

What is more embrassing for a man and woman than to be walking on the streets and find it impossible to escape the oaths and general profanity coming from the mouths of a group of wayfarers with more language than brains? The same applies to folk forced to sit in certain public places when these ignorant halfwits are permitted to get by with their empty-skull conversation.

There may or may not be times when slips, so-called, can be excused, but for the most part the fellow that will deliberately let curses and general profanity ring out in the hearing and presence of strange men and women walking or seated near by, is nothing more or less than a base ignoramus that should be jailed and taught the American-English language.—Wausau Record-Herald.

Greenbush Loses At Tournament

Greenbush, the district's representative at the Hamline University basketball tournament for members of the state graded school athletic association, lost its first contest Thursday to the strong Delhi, Redwood county, quint, by a score of 17 to 16, in a one period overtime battle. The game was one of the best played and fastest of the first round.

Ulen, another representative from this section of the state, kept in the running for the honors by defeating the Bellingham, Lac Qui Parle county, aggregation in another fast game by a score of 28 to 25. The Brewster, Nobles county, team put Delhi out of the running when they won by a count of 26 to 22. In both of these contests it was necessary to play an extra period to decide the winners.

Delhi's defeat of Greenbush was an upset as the Roseau county quint was considered to be one of the strongest in the state and was doped to go a long way towards the finals for the state championship. The state honors were won by the East Chain team from Martin county.

The members of the Greenbush team arrived in Thief River Falls Monday morning on their return and left for Greenbush on the Great Northern Monday afternoon. They stated that one reason for their defeat was the losing of their best forward, Erick Myhre, who was forced to undergo an operation on the opening day of the tournament. Ludvig Nelson, tall center in the Greenbush quint, was among those who received honorable mention for high class playing at the tournament.

American Legion Corner

Somewhere in far-off lands sleep 32,000 American veterans of the great war. Their bodies will lie forever in the cemeteries of France, England, Ireland, Scotland and Spain. Our government will always care for these cemeteries. And the American Legion will see that these comrades remain green in the memory of our people and that on each Memorial Day their graves are visited and decorated. To this end, the American Legion Posts of Minnesota will do their share in the national Legion campaign to raise a $100,000 endowment fund by May 30, which will be used from year to year to carry on this worthy work. Every year thus far the Minnesota Legion has led all states in contributing to the temporary funds used for this purpose—and this year Minnesota will lead too, in building up this permanent fund. All citizens are asked to help. Funds may be turned in to the local Legion post or mailed to the Minnesota Legion treasurer, Old Capitol, St. Paul. Every penny will be acknowledged and accounted for, and will be a part of this perpetual tribute to the memory of our dead.

The Miracle Of The Poppies

"If you have never seen a poppy unfold, you have missed a rare treat. One day the green bud hangs down on the stem. The next morning, at sunrise, it is erect, and just a touch of color shows at the tip of the bud. The sun rises over the dewy garden Its rays strike the green-cased bud. Suddenly, right before your eyes, the petals burst the green shell, push outward, uncurl, flutter; and, thin as tissue paper, soft and gleaming as finest silk, they become the perfect flower."—Walter Eaton In The American Legion Weekly. Today, in Minnesota hospitals, disabled veterans are fashioning blood-red poppies to be worn by comrades and citizens on Memorial Day in memory of buddies who made the supreme sacrifice. The Minnesota Legion Auxiliary, Plymouth Building, Minneapolis, thru its 400 local units, supplies the material, pays the boys for the work, and will dispose of the product. Remember these facts when some Legion or Auxiliary worker asks you to buy and wear a poppy on May 30.

A Good Deed Done

One of Pershing's One Hundred Heroes, Captain George Mallon, happens to be Chairman of the Hennepin County Board of Commissioners and when Legionaires last week informed him that Hennepin is the only county in Minnesota allowing less than $100. for the burial of a destitute war veteran and showed that the $75 granted is not sufficient, necessitating the use of a road truck to convey the dead veteran to the graveyard, Captain Mallon declared that such neglect is inexusable and promptly secured action bringing the desired increase.

Beneficial Legislation

Every Legion Post in Minnesota has asked its representatives in the Minnesota Legislature to pass the bills requiring the teaching of the constitution in the schools of Minnesota, requiring teachers in elementary schools to be citizens of the United States, providing adequate physical training for all school children, establishing state memorial parks, making necessary amendments to the state bonus law, memorializing Congress to quickly build tubercular and neurophsychiatric hospitals to care for Minnesota veterans—and putting into effect the report of the State Memorial Commission to Governor Preus, which combines a State Capitol Approach combined with a plaza and approach contemplated by the St. Paul Planning Board. The latter legislation is in the hands of the Military Affairs Committee but will soon come up for action. The Legion State Executive Committee, meeting March 18, endorsed this Capitol Approach Plan and directed that the Minnesota public be informed concerning it, and be urged to get behind it and insure its realizatoni. It will form one of the grandest of monuments in memory of the dead who served.

David's Sling

David Wisted Post No. 28 of Duluth has presented the soldier colony at Veteransville with a complete radio outfit. A delegation of Legionaires went to Veteranville to install the outfit, inspected the settlement and arranged to co-operate with the disabled men there in various ways. Post No. 28 has a trusty weapon known as 'David's Sling," in the form of a post publication issued monthly.

CO-OPERATIVE FARM MARKETING NOTES

American Bankers Association Bodies Are Lending Their Active Support to Movement.

On the theory that efficient marketing methods, rather than easy credit facilities, are the big need of the farmers, the State Bank Division and the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association have jointly launched an active campaign to promote the development of the co-operative farm marketing movement.

• • •

Of the co-operative plan, President Harding says: "I know of no single movement that promises more help toward the present relief and the permanent betterment of agricultural conditions than co-operative farm marketing."

• • •

In order to gather the best information obtainable on successful co-operative marketing projects, the State Bank Division has sent a questionnaire to bankers in every part of the country. Information is asked as to whether the local associations are organized on the commodity basis, handling one product or a few similar products, or on the regional basis, doing all buying or selling; whether they serve local needs only; whether they are combined or consolidated with other locals to include some special phases of marketing, such as processing and packing, and whether they are combined with a large number of locals to form a sales organization.

• • •

James R. Howard of the American Farm Bureau Federation says: "The volume of credit necessary to market any given crop co-operatively would not be greater than that required for non-co-operative marketing. I seriously question whether or not as large a volume of credit would be necessary, since co-operative marketing implies orderly marketing or the feeding of the market consistently throughout the period of consumption. It certainly would remove the necessity of whatever funds are used in speculative transactions. The farmer is concerned with consumptive and not speculative demands."

• • •

The form of contract between the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association and its members is cited by the Bankers Association as an efficient instrument for putting the idea into operation. Under this contract the Association agrees to buy and the grower to sell to the co-operative all his tobacco for five years, except such as is not under his control, on account of existing mortgage or contracts.

The tobacco is to be delivered at the earliest reasonable time after cutting or curing. The Association makes rules and standardizes and grades the tobacco, the grower agreeing to be bound by such rules. Tobacco of like type, grade and quality delivered in the same crop year is pooled, the Association classification being conclusive. The tobacco is handled in one major pool; minor pools are made by type and grade.

• • •

The Co-operative Association sells the tobacco at the best prices obtainable, and pays the grower the net amount received, less freight, insurance, interest, and deductions to cover all costs of operating the association; also to create funds for credits and other general commercial purposes, not to exceed one per cent of the gross sale price. The surplus from these deductions is later prorated among the growers.

The Association agrees to accept drafts drawn against it by the grower upon delivery of tobacco, and to assist the grower to discount his drafts, secured by the warehouse receipts, through the most advantageous banking system. It also co-operates with him in many other details of his business.

• • •

Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance Corporation, says: "Generally speaking, the American farmer has been forced to sell his crop hurriedly and at the time of maximum supply. But the co-operative marketing associations are gradually overcoming this situation. In the hands of the individual farmer, his products have often been little more than an offset against debts contract-

Did It Ever Happen to You?

Spring fever, so they say, effects the whole body, especially the glands and muscles of the neck, as you'll soon see, and the only sure remedy is a solution of sulphur and molasses.

The fever seems to work like magic on the mind, causing it to wander about, really no place in particular, but it seems as you spy a baseball game, the body just has to follow the mind as it is centered in the game and nothing can make you leave it. Then suddenly your mate tells you, your Ma is calling you. You then snap out of your trance just to hear the last call to come home and chop some wood.

It's hard to leave the old game just as it's your turn to bat after waiting a whole inning for them.

You think on your way home what kind of an excuse would work so as to put you back in the game. Finally as you step onto the back porch you remember that you're not in the best of health and maybe your Lymph glands will swell up and you'll have a sore heck if mother makes you go out and chop wood. Of course mother doesn't know that chopping at a baseball is just as hard, only when your "kid" brother brings it up just as you are working the little old gag on mother, who is so ready to believe you.

"O Boy, Ain't Kid Brothers Mean?"

Win College Education!

"The influence of highway transportation upon the religious life of my community," is the subject upon which essay writers in the high schools throughout the United States will compete for the H. S. Firestone Four Years University Scholarship this year. This scholarship is offered for the winning essay on a different subject, relating to highway transportation, each year.

The essay must not be over seven hundred words in length, and any student of high school grade is eligible to compete. The essays must be turned in to the school superintendent or principal before May first, who sends in the three whom he adjudges best to the state organization not later than May 26.

Each state organization submits one essay to the national committee, which will be appointed by the United States Commissioner of Education. The decision of this committee is final, and the successful candidate is awarded a Firestone Scholarship, entitling the holder to tuition and all reasonable expenses for four years at any college or university in the country. The scholarship is valued at $4,000 or approximately $1,000 annually. The The winner of last year's contest was Karl G. Pearson, District of Columbia.

Elizabeth Johnson spent Easter vacation at her home at Goodridge. She says the best part of her vacation was that her mother didn't even scold her for bobbing her hair.

AURORA WINS STATE BASKETBALL TITLE

First Game Eliminates Dist. 1 Team; 18-15 Count

Aurora won the state high school basketball championship by defeating Austin by a score of 24-14. The games were played at the Kenwood Armory on March 27-29.

The Crookston high school team, that represented this district was eliminated in the first game by Blue Earth, being defeated 18 to 15. Crookston started out fast and at the end of the first half was leading 11 to 7. They appeared very confident and Blue Earth pulled a surprise and won the game. Before the games Crookston was slated as being one of the teams that would show up well and their defeat was a big surprise.

The entire schedule is as follows:

March 27

Aurora 38—Marshall 16.
St. Cloud 18—Mpls. Central 16.
Blue Earth 18—Crookston 15.
Austin 28—South St. Paul 8.
Hopkins 17—Wadena 16.
Hancock 29—St. James 13.
Rochester 34—Madison 10.
St. Peter 26—St. Paul Johnson High 23.

March 28

Rochester 16—St. Peter 11.
Austin 14—Blue Earth 13.
Aurora 23—St. Cloud 9.
Hancock 19—Hopkins 8.

March 29
Semi-Finals

Austin 22—Rochester 16.
Aurora 20—Hancock 7.

Finals

Aurora 24—Austin 14.

Bread Club Visits Mill And Jung's Bakery

Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock the bread club team that will represent Lincoln High school in the contest at Crookston, demanstrated to Mr. Simley their ability to make bread.

Myrtle Helgeland who won honors at the state fair last year and Myrtle and Hazel Krause composes the team.

The cooking classes have been studying bread baking. To make this study more complete and effective Miss Skinner, the head of Domestic Science Department, took the classes to visit the mill and Jung's Bakery. At the mill they saw the process by which our flour is made and at the bakery they watched the baking of bread and cake.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my deepest appreciation for the beautiful flowers sent me by the Sophomores class during my recent illness.

ALICE ZAVORAL

Statistics

Of the forty minutes in a study period, 10 minutes are spent in gazing at the clock, five minutes at Lincoln's bust, one minute 35 seconds in asking one's friends where the lesson is, and 14 minutes and 25 seconds in informing same how you celebrated the previous night, how hideous you think X dresses, etc. etc., 7 minutes in turning pages, powdering nose, yawning, and 3 minutes in cramming. Now, see why they call 'em "vacant periods?"

Wanted:

A partner for the dance Saturday evening. Milford LaBree.

EXTRA!

As the paper goes to press we are able to give reports on the first two games of the series of the class basketball tournament.

The Smith-Hughes team lost to the Sophomores in a hot contest, the game ending in a tie. An extra five minutes period was played, giving the Sophomores the game. Score 13-11.

The Seniors won a one sided game from the Freshmen. Score 35-8.

NORMAL DEP'T TAKES OVER CHAPEL PERIOD

Next Wednesday's chapel period will be given over to the normal training girls. The girls will discuss the work of the normal training department and its importance, why the course should be of interest to seniors, and the value of the teaching profession.

There are twenty-nine girls enrolled in the department under the training of Miss Mabel Kirk and Miss Alice Stapleton. The girls have completed short periods of practice work in the country, but are still continuing their practice work in the schools in town.

"The Melting Pot" Feature of P. T. Meeting

A large crowd was present at the Parent-Teacher meeting held last Monday night at the High school. The general theme for the evening was the Americanization of the Emmigrant. Mrs. D. R. Arnold read the play entitled "The Melting Pot," a drama on Americanization. After the reading the following musical program was rendered:

Mrs. Clarence Erickson and Mildred Engen ....Piano Duet
Mrs. Melby and Mr. Roy Prytz ....Vocal Duet
Mrs. Nason and Mrs. Prichard...Vocal Duet.

After the musical program the meeting was adjourned for the evening.

Music Department

The Girls and Boys Glee clubs, under the directions of Miss Maude Johnson are working on a number of songs which they will sing at graduation.

Both of the glee clubs have appeared several times this year and have pleased their listeners very much. There has been much improvement since their last appearance.

The Music class has been studying on many of the great composers and their works, for a music memory test which will be held some time in May. Some of the glee club members will also take part in the contest.

The Girl's Glee club sang at the court house Saturday morning. Three foreigners received their naturalization papers and, appropriate to the occasion, the numbers given by the girls were "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America."

Alumni

Misses Phyllis Curtis and Marguerite DeCremer left forMinneapolis, Tuesday evening, after spending their Easter vacation with their parents in this city. They are attending the University of Minnesota.

Gordon LaBree of the class of '20, left Thursday evening for Grand Forks, North Dakota, where he is attending the University of North Dakota.

T. R. F. H. S. STENO'S ENTER CONTEST

Crookston Center for Contest in This District

At the 1922 meeting of the M. E. A. the commercial section voted to hold state-wide commercial contests including shorthand, typewriting, rapid calculation and penmanship. The motion barred private schools because of lack of uniformity in length of courses which, if they were admitted, might be unfair to the regular high school students. Because of the amount of work involved, the State Contest committee concluded that it would be best to limit the work for the first year to the most common subjects; namely, shorthand and typewriting. The value of the contest idea is self-evident. It should serve to stimulate interest in commercial education and bring out the best in our students.

The state has been divided into sixteen districts as for athletics. The commercial department of Thief River Falls, will be represented at the contest to be held at Crookston, District No. 1, on Friday, April 13th.

Because of its central location, St. Cloud was selected as the seat of the state contest. The St. Cloud Teachers college will act for Minnesota.

"Weep With Us"

Harner (In discussing the uses of copper):

"Have you ever seen a dollar?"

Edna A.: "Well, I hope so."

Mr. Rapacz (announcing valedictorian etc.) "We will ask these people to rise as I read their names."

Henry M (making ready to stand), "Come on, Kip; stand up."

Just bad luck, Mr. Harner; Pearl W. has left the flour out of her vanity case at home, but you might be able to borrow some from her neighbor.

Personals-Maybe

Lydia Dahlen spent the week end at Winnipeg doing her Easter shopping.

Harriet went to Erie for her health. She was glad to get back to Thief River Falls, however, because the traffic was so dense, it affected her nerves. She has recovered nicely and is back at school now as hale and hearty as ever.

Stephen doesn't look quite natural after vacation. He says his folks were away so he didn't have one square meal.

Upon being questioned, Margaret said she did nothing during Easter—We might have known it was only

The Misses Lydia Dahlen and Myrtle Helgeland returned some time between Monday and Tuesday from Highlanding where they went to enjoy the mountain air. Both are reported to be doing nicely, being in the best of spirits and as fresh as said mountain air.

Miss Eleanor Dahlen of the class of '19, returned Sunday evening to Fosston, where she is an instructor in the high school.

Denis McGinn left for the Twin Cities Tuesday evening, where he is attending the St. Thomas college.

Norman Dybvik returned Tuesday afternoon to Grand Forks where he is attending the University of North Dakota.

John Hendry of the class of '22, returned to St. Paul, Sunday evening. He is attending St. Thomas college.

"The Judsons Entertain"

The Senior class play will soon be "on" in full swing. The faculty committee, after considering some dozen plays or more, have decided that "The Judsons Entertain" is the play to bring out the histrionic ability of the class of 1923.

The play is a comedy in three acts. It is sparkling with humor, carries a clever plot, and is absolutely up to the minute with a copyright date of 1922. The cast of characters will be announced later.

BREAD CLUB CONTEST HELD IN CROOKSTON

The District Bread Baking Contest, at which Thief River Falls high school is represented by Myrtle Helgeland, Myrtle Krause, and Hazel Krause, is being held at the Northwestern School of Agriculture at Crookston this afternoon. Eight schools from N. W. Minnesota compete for representation in the state contest at the state fair next Sepember.

The local team left for Crookston Wednesday afternoon and baked at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The first teams started baking Wednesday afternoon and the contest will continue until Friday afternoon.

The following schools are represented by teams: Humbolt, Warren Thief River Falls, Ada, Erskine, Glyndon, Crookston, N. W. Agr. College.

Freshmen Display Talent In English Theme Covers

During the last week the Freshmen, under the direction of Miss Leavitt, have been making covers for their themes. A great deal of interest has been taken in the making of these covers and as a result some very good drawings have been made. A display of the very best ones have been hung up for observation for the rest of the classes. At the end of the term the themes will be bound.

Gathered Here and There

Agnes Johnson visited, during her recess for Easter, at her parental home near Radium.

Clifford says vacation went so fast he didn't know how he spent it. It must be something like a senior's money.

Vergil Denhart, accompanied by his sisters, Wildaveno and Sylvia, enjoyed their vacation visiting with their parents near Hazel.

Eileen Arneson returned Monday morning from the Cities where she spent her vacation visiting with friends.

Ruth Knutson spent her entire vacation in bed with a severe cold as company. Ruth is still absent and we all hope she recovers speedily as school is unbearable without her.

Otto Saugen, a former member of the class of '25, visited school on Monday. Since his departure from this school he has been attending Crookston Agricultural college. The term for this year being finished he returned to visit his parents of this city.

Lucile, as well as several others—too numerous to mention—seized the opportunity of taking a long needed rest during vacation week. Requescat in Pacem.

Thordis Svensgaard pleasantly spent four days rest at her home near Mavie.

Alice Zavoral expects to be back to school next week after being sick for some time.

CLEANUP COMMITTEE ACTIVE IN T. R. F.

Co-operation of Schools and Citizens to Result in More Beautiful City

A drive is being started by the schools of Thief River Falls to clean up the city, "to make it ready for its summer attire."

Students will endeavor to "clean up" not only in the vicinity of the school grounds but also throughout the entire city.

The natural beauty of the Power City's location on the banks of the Red Lake river is considerably marred in places by unsightly waste and rubbish. It is hoped that those of school age will take part in the drive, and the citizens of Thief River Falls will co-operate with them.

The action of the schools is very commendable, and should result in a cleaner, healthier and more beautiful city.

Teachers Entertain

Misses Alice Stapleton and Mabel Kirk were hostesses to thirty guests Monday afternoon from 3:00 to 6:30 at the home of Mrs. O. L. Cronstrom, 104 East Fifth street. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out and the floral decorations were jonquils.

Progressive whist was played at six tables. Miss Emma Tandberg carried away the first prize and the consolation prize was captured by Miss Margaret Geider, the normal training instructor of Hinkley, Minn., the guest of Mrs. Eide.

At 5:30 a three-course luncheon, carrying out the color scheme of the rooms, was served.

H. S. Students in Gump vs. Skink Trial at Lyceum

The fate of Andy Gump rested in the hands of his beloved public last Friday and Saturday when six high school students presented a skit in the form of a trial, at the Lyceum theatre. The skit was about ten minutes in duration and provided laughter throughout.

Sylvester Skink, in the person of Toby Holmgren, sued Andy Gump, Steve Arneson, for $50,000 damages suffered his character by the defendant's slanderous statements. The defense proved beyond a doubt that since the subect matter (Skink's character) was conspicuous by its absence there was nothing to injure. The lawyer for the plaintiff was Ole Helle, while Albert Stengelson presented the plea of the defendant, Bert Umland, a witness from Stiener, appeared clad in the vintage of '97 and played an important part in the proceedings.

High School Party

On Saturday, April 7, a high school party will be held at the Sons of Norway hall at 8 o'clock. The music will be furnished by Earl Erickson, piano; Kermit Anderson, saxophone; Alfred Dybvik, drums. All students are urged to be present at 8 as the merry making will cease at 11:30.

CLASS TOSSERS ENTER THE FRAY; INTEREST IS HIGH

TEAMS WITH HIGHEST PERCENTAGE PLAY FINALS THIS AFTERNOON

Five Teams Enter Conflict

There has been some misunderstanding as to the usual spring class games. Due to the fact that the preliminary games were played last fall, Coach MacFarlane picked a squad of eleven men out of which he picked the five regulars. Starting Wednesday, April 4, the games will be played as follows:

Wednesday, April 4th, Freshmen vs. Seniors; Sophomores vs. Smith Hughes.

Friday, April 6th: Juniors vs. Seniors; Freshmen vs. Smith Hughes.

Tuesday, April 10th: Juniors vs. Sophomores; Seniors vs. Smith Hughes.

Thursday, April 12th: Sophomores vs. Freshmen; Juniors vs. Smith Hughes.

The two teams coming out of this series of games with the highest percentage will play for the class championship on the following day, Friday, April 13.

"Chuck" Herron is coaching the freshmen, while Stanley Sorenson is training the sophomores. "Kip" is doing his best with the Juniors and the Seniors have Sid Schutt as coach. Clifford Sorenson is rapidly pounding the Smith Hughes team into shape.

Nominations for Hall of Fame

Maude Johnson: "I nominate Steve Arneson. As a prima donna he makes a good cartoonist."

Lorraine Will: "I nominate Clifton Connor. Anyone who can make me crack a smile is indeed famous."

Little Me: "I nominate Albert Stengelsen, because it I didn't he'd do it hisself."

Grade School Notes

Burns Mathewson and Raymond Ness have returned to school after being absent on account of illness.

Lyla Teslow and Selma Stromme have enrolled in the sixth grade.

The "reds" won a spelling contest held in the sixth grade and as a result the "blues" entertained them at a party.

A health contest is being held in the 3rd and 4th grades.

OVER PRODUCTION AND YIELD PER ACRE

By R. S. Dunham, Agrononist, North Western Experiment Station

Over-production has been so generally condemned as the cause of all farmer ills that confusion exists in the minds of some as to the difference between production to the point of an unwieldy surplus and maximum yields per acre. The atmosphere is so charged with the word that some farmers are almost at the point of reverting to the crooked stick for a plow as the only means of increasing their profits.

The most practical control of production will result from the voluntary efforts of the farmers themselves when they clearly see the influence of maximum yields per acre and diversification upon their profits. As important as are the problems of marketing, transportation rates, and credit facilities—and they are all basicly important—in the last analysis profits are determined by the difference between cost of production and selling price. Maximum yields are associated with minimum costs. In a recent study made on 38 farms in the Red River Valley, it was found that it cost $1.42 per bushel to grow wheat in 1921 when 12 bushels per acre were raised but $1.01 where 20 bushels per acre were raised. Regardless of the price paid for wheat, the man who has the largest yield will also produce it at the cheapest cost per bushel. It is hardly necessary to say that the only exception is the unusual one of the man who increases his cost of production by wholly extravagant methods to a point where maximum yields are obtained at unwarranted cost.

Together with maximum yields per acre, however, must come further diversification. To produce 30 bushels of wheat on one acre instead of two does not necessarily imply that the total production will be doubled. It means that 20 bushels of wheat are produced more cheaply than before and that there is left one acre for another crop. The writer has received figures from only one elevator in each of six valley towns showing that as an average of the last three years, 16 carloads of corn have been shipped into each town for seed at an average price of 76c per bushel. No doubt considerably more corn than these figures indicate was actually shipped in.

From the U. S. census report of the last three years, it is dicovered that the average Polk county farmer grew 5 acres of corn, 42 acres of wheat, 32 acres of oats, 12 acres of barley, 7 acres of rye, 5 acres of flax, 6 acres of potatoes, and 13 acres of tame hay. His average yield of wheat during those years was 11.2 bushels per acre. As an average then, we are producing 11 bushels of wheat per acre on 42 acres at an approximate cost of $1.42 per bushel. We are growing 5 acres of corn with an average yield of 34 bushels per acre and buying additional corn for feed at 76 cents per bushel. Not all farmers are average farmers; some are farming with more diversification than the average but some are farming with loss. Neither have all farmers suffered alike in the present depression. It is entirely possible to find farmers in this county who have made money during the last three years. As their type of farming compares with the average so also does their financial condition.

We are now in the spring of another year. Nothing has yet been accomplished to change materially the prices for farm products. It behooves the farmer to see what, if anything, he can do for himself. His course lies in two directions; increasing his yield per acre and diversifying to as large an extent as is financially possible. Without any additional expense or investment there are two ways of increasing yields open to many Pennington county farmers. The first lies in his selection of a variety that is adapted to this region and has proven a high yielder. At the Northwest Experiment Station it has been found that thru variety alone, yields may be increased as follows: wheat, 28%; oats, 28%; barley, 21%; rye, 34%; flax, 63; and corn, 22%. From carefully conducted trials, the following recommendations are made. Durum wheat, Mindum; common wheat, Marquis, oats, Minn. No. 281, barley, Minn. No. 184; rye, Minn. No. 2 where winter-killing is a factor; flax, North Dakota No. 53; corn, early strains of N. W. Dent or Minn. No. 13 for silage and Gehu or North Dakota White Flint for cribbable corn or hogging off.

The second way of increasing yields is concerned with rates and dates of seeding. At the station yields have been increased 25% in wheat by proper rates of seeding, yields of barley, 18% by proper dates, and rye 47% by proper dates. The following is recommended. Mindum, 6 pecks per acre; Marquis, 5 pecks; oats, 8 pecks; barley, 8 pecks; barley early; and rye from Sept. 1 to Sept. 10.

The day of the one-crop farmer has largely passed but further diversification is not only desirable but necessary as shown by the census of the average farm. There are three classes of crops which should appear on every valley farm both from the standpoint of their effect on soil, weeds, and insects and from the standpoint of better distribution of labor of man and horse. These three classes of crops are the grains, the cultivated crops, and the legumes. The proportion of each of these crops on individual farms will vary somewhat but it can safely be said that not much over half of the farm should be devoted to grain crops or even the strictly grain farm. On the present average farm about 80% is in grain and 9% in cultivated crops. Weed control is very largely dependant upon the cultivated crops.

Labor distribution is also essentially important. The farmer with several crops whose time of planting and harvesting is spread over the season and especially those farmers who have some livestock in addition, distribute their labor both of man and horse to material advantage. On the average valley farm in 1921, horses that worked 84 days per year cost $1.16 per day while horses that worked 112 days cost 83 cents per day. The farmer who has profitable work for labor all season and especially all year has a material advantge in obtaining good labor more reasonably than the farmer who has the largest part of his farm to plant in six weeks and harvest in the same length of time.

However, diversification has other advantages than those of lowering production costs. It has the advantage of averaging losses due to crop failures or market fluctuations.

The greater the acreage of one crop, the greater the risk assumed by the farmer of a crop failure. If there are several crops they are not likely to all fail in the same year. Prices for farm products tend to rise and fall but not together. Over a period of years the farmer who grows a variety of crops adapted to his region will reduce his risk of failing markets.

Electricity To Villages

A new high line will be built from Red Lake Falls to Terrebonne, Plummer, Oklee, Brooks, Erskine, Winger, McIntosh and Fosston by the Red Lake Power company, according to announcements made by officials of the company during the past week

It is probable that a line will also be built connecting Terrebonne with the company's present high line between Grand Forks and Crookston Material will be shipped at once and work started as soon as the frost is out of the ground According to General Manager W. H. Brown it is the policy of the company to first build up the load and then erect the necessary steam power plants and dams rather than build the latter first and then try to build up the business to take care of all the electricity manufactured

Card Tables Out In Bemidji

Card tables and screen curtains in soft drink parlors and similar places of business and entertainment are to be tabooed in Bemidji, according to an order issued by Mayor John Moberg to the police department recently. The mayor's order to the police says the owners of these places of business have already been notified that the card tables are to be done away with and that curtains on the front windows to obstruct the view of what may be going on inside the building will not be allowed.

Slot machines and gambling devices of all kinds have been ordered out also, states Chief of Police Louis Larson, and all punch boards are to be done away with.

At the present Bemidji has no city ordinance to affect these changes but it is expected that action will be taken in the near future to amend the soft drink ordinance with such a provision.

Cass Lake Team Wins

—Cass Lake high school debating team defeated the Glenwood team in a debate held at the latter place last week. Cass Lake had the negative of the state question. Defeat of Glenwood leaves Cass Lake, Central high of Duluth, and New Ulm as contenders for state honors. Cass Lake probably will debate the Duluth team early next month.

LEGAL NOTICES

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION OF THIEF RIVER FALLS SAVE-U-MONEY STORE, INCORPORATED.

We, the undersigned, do hereby associate ourselves together for the purpose of forming a corporation under and by virtue of the provisions of Chapter 58, General Statutes of Minnesota for the year 1913, and of the several acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, and we do hereby adopt and sign the following Certificate of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I

Section 1. The name of this corporation shall be THIEF RIVER FALLS SAVE-U-MONEY STORE, INCORPORATED.

Section 2. The general nature of the business of this corporation and the purpose for which it is formed shall be to buy, own, sell and operate wholesale and retail merchandise stores; to buy, sell and deal in merchandise and all other kinds of personal property at retail and at wholesale; to buy, sell, exchange, mortgage, hire, let, lease or otherwise acquire and dispose of property, both real and personal, for the purpose of carrying on the business of this corporation, and to do and perform all other acts which may be incidental to the proper transaction of the business of this corporation.

Section 3. The principal place of business of this corporation shall be Thief River Falls, in the County of Pennington, and State of Minnesota.

ARTICLE II

The time of the commencement of this corporation shall be the 16th day of April, 1923, and the period of its duration shall be thirty years from said date.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators of this corporation are as follows: V. Willis Bloom and Edwin D. Duffington, who reside at Stillwater, Minnesota, and Arthur E. Keith, who resides at Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

Section 1. The management of this corporation shall be vested in a board of directors of not less than three members nor more than five members, and until otherwise fixed by the stockholders the board of directors shall consist of three members. The board of directors shall be elected by and from the stockholders of this corporation at the annual meeting thereof which shall be held at the office of this corporation in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, on the first Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of January in each year, commencing with the year 1924. A vacancy in the board of directors may be filled by the remaining directors. Members of said board of directors shall hold office for one year or until their successors are elected and have qualified.

Section 2. The names and addresses of those composing the board of directors until the first election are as follows: V. Willis Bloom, Edwin D. Duffington and Arthur E. Keith, and the address of the said two persons first named is Stillwater, Minnesota, and the address of the said last named person is Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Twenty-five Thousand Dollars, divided into two hundred and fifty shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars each, to be paid in at such times and places and in such manner and amounts as may be provided for by the board of directors.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Twenty-five Thousand dollars.

ARTICLE VII.

Section 1. The officers of this corporation shall be a President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as the by-laws may provide. The President and Vice President shall be chosen from the directors, but no other officer need be a director, and any two offices, except those of President and Vice President, and President or Vice President and Secretary may be held by one person.

Section 2. The annual meeting of the board of directors shall be held at the office of this corporation in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, after the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders, and at such meeting the officers of this corporation shall be elected and shall hold their respective offices for one year or until their successors are elected and have qualified.

Section 3. V. Willis Bloom shall be the first President of this corporation. Edwin D. Duffington shall be the first Vice President. Arthur E. Keith shall be its first Secretary and Arthur E. Keith shall be its first Treasurer. Said officers shall serve until their successors are elected and have qualified.

Section 4. The first board of directors of this corporation shall adopt by-laws for the management of its affairs, and the powers and duties of the several officers of this corporation shall be prescribed by such by-laws, which by-laws shall remain effective until and except as amended by the stockholders.

Section 5. The first meeting of the board of directors above named may be held on the 16th day of April, 1923, at 11 o'clock A. M. at the office of Edwin D. Duffington, in Stillwater, Minnesota, or at such other time and place as they may agree upon in writing.

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
County of Pennington—ss.
IN DISTRICT COURT

The Prichard Company, a corporation, Plaintiff, vs.
T. P. Hornseth, Defendant.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered, and now in my hands, issued out of the District Court, Fourteenth Judicial District, State of Minnesota, in and for the County of Pennington, upon a judgment rendered in said Court in favor of The Prichard Company, a corporation, and against T. P. Hornseth.

I have levied upon the following described real property of said defendant, to-wit:

The north half of Block seventy-one (71) in the original townsite of the City of Thief River Falls, in the County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds within and for said County. AND THAT I SHALL on Saturday the fourteenth day of April, A. D. 1923, at the hour of ten o'clock A. M. of said day at the front door of the Court House in said County and State proceed to sell all the right, title and interest of the above named T. P. Hornseth in and to the above described property, to satisfy said judgment and costs amounting to one hundred four dollars and sixty cents ($104.60) together with all accruing costs of sale and interest on the same from the 17th day of February, 1923, at the rate of six per cent per annum, at Public Auction to the highest bidder for cash.

Dated Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 23rd, 1923.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE

Take notice that default exists in the conditions of that mortgage given by Aslak Svanajord and Anne Svanajord, his wife, mortgagors to Hoag Security Company, a Minnesota corporation, mortgagee, dated October 29th, 1917, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota on the 8th day of November, 1917, at 8 o'clock A. M. in Book 13 of Mortgages on Page 360. Which said Mortgage was assigned by said Hoag Security Company to V. A. Biggs by written assignment dated December 6th, 1917, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota on the 27th day of December, 1917, at one o'clock P. M. in Book 56 of Mortgages on Page 510.

The amount claimed to be due on said mortgage, with interest to this date is $1,792.55, by virtue of said mortgage indebtedness. The premises described in said mortgage and situated in Pennington County, Minnesota, are to-wit: The West Half of the Northeast Quarter (W½NE¼) of Section No. Thirty-six (36) and the Southwest Quarter of the Southeast Quarter (SW¼SE¼) of Section No. Twenty-five (25) in Township No. One Hundred Fifty-three (153) North of Range No. Forty (40) West of the Fifth Principal Meridian. By virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statute and no action in law or otherwise having been instituted thereon, same will be foreclosed by the sale of said premises at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash by the Sheriff of Pennington County, Minnesota at the front door of the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, on Saturday the 12th day of May, 1923, at ten o'clock A. M., to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage with the interest, taxes if any, and costs of this action, including Seventy-five Dollars attorney fees as stipulated for in said mortgage.

Dated at Minneapolis, Minnesota this 21st day of March, 1923.

A Personal Experience With Standard Oil

"Chicago, March 7.—I read with a great deal of interest the editorial, "Shall Ruin Be the Penalty of Success," in connection with the report of the senate committee attacking the various Standard Oil companies.

I want to take this opportunity of relating my personal experience with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Having changed from a coal to an oil burning furnace, I was in the market for fuel oil, and after figuring with several oil companies I closed a contract with the Standard Oil of Indiana, simply because their contract was more liberal and advantageous to me in every way.

I secured cheaper oil, better oil, and first class service."

D. G. Moustakis

The letter reprinted above appeared in the Voice of the People columns of a Chicago newspaper, March 9, 1923.

Cheaper oil — better oil — and first class service.

That, in terse simple terms, expresses the ideals which have made the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) big.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is big because it is called upon to render a big service. Its financial statement deals in big figures because it does an enormous volume of business in a multiplicity of products entering innumerable fields of industry.

Because the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) manufactures a great number of useful products from a single basic material, it is able to cut the manufacturing cost of each item in a way that accrues to the benefit and financial advantage of the consumer whether he buys a quart or a carload.

FUNDS FOR ORDERLY SELLING ONLY, PLAN OF NEW CREDIT BANK

No Money for Speculators, Says Chas. E. Lobdell, Farm Loan Commissioner

Federal Intermediate credit banks, one of which is now being organized in St. Paul to serve Northwest farmers, will provide ample funds for production purposes and orderly marketing, but none to support speculative holding of farm products, according to a statement issued this week by Chas. E. Lobdell, farm loan commissioner. Loans, for the present, will run only 9 months; until the system has had adequate trial, Mr. Lobdell said.

The St. Paul bank should be ready for business in 90 days, according to E. G. Quamme, president of the Federal Land bank, under whose direction the new institution is being formed.

Mr. Lobdell's statement points out that loans can not be mode direct to individuals, though co-operative marketing associations will be served when obligations are secured by warehouse receipts. No loan will be made for more than 75 per cent of the market value of a product.

"The system will provide agricultural credits for a longer period than does the average bank," the statement says. "It is a new system and must be developed with patience, prudence and care.

"Loans discounted by bankers and banking institutions must have been made for agricultural purposes—to persons engaged in agriculture or for the purpose of carrying on such a business.

"No paper can be discounted by banks on which borrower has been charged more than 1½ per cent over the discount rate of the intermediate bank.

"Because advances can be made only on receipts from government bonded warehouses or those operating under satisfactory state supervision, there should be greater activity in the development of warehouse facilities.

"No loans, until the system is thoroughly tried out, will be made for periods longer than nine months. On livestock paper, satisfactory assurances of renewal will be given in proper cases.

"Agricultural credit corporations, organized under the Capper act, have no relation to the intermediate credit banks and can not rediscount with them.

"The new banks will render maximum service, but elemental business safety must be the first consideration."

Mr. Lobdell says the banks will begin service with reasonable promptness, but because of the presence of the field of the War Finance Corporation and the "generally satisfactory condition of credits through existing agencies," no considerable immediate demand is anticipated.

A Great American

To see and hear great men is an education. To read Mr. Opie Read's stories is an enjoyment but unless you have sat within the sound of his voice and heard from his own lips the quaint tales that originated in his brain you cannot fully appreciate the splendid genius of the man. He will be in Thief River Falls Tuesday evening, April 10th. a-5

Immigration Law Evaders Imprisoned in Warren Jail

The Polish family of a man, his wife and three adult sons, who were apprehended in Thief River Falls and put in the local jail by a United States marshall Wednesday last week, were on Friday taken to Warren, where they were placed in confinement in the Marshall county jail. The five prisoners will have to remain there until the Federal authorities take action regarding the matter.

The members of the family are aliens who endeavored to evade the immigration laws. It is reported that they came from Saskatchewan, crossed the line into the United States and attempted to board the train at Lancaster where they were placed under arrest by Leonard Newett, U. S. immigration official of Noyes, and brought to this city.

Special Term of Dsitrict Court to be Held April 24

On the 24th of this month Judge Andrew Grindeland will be in Thief River Falls to hear a number of continued court cases, which were held over from the last session of court in January. Due to the limited time Judge Watts was unable to hear all the cases brought before the court at that time.

The cases which will be brought before the judge here on the 24th are the following: J. Payne versus Town of Gran Plain, Marshall county et al; V. F. Anderson versus Tallack Froisness; Lottie Jensen versus James Mulhall; Casper Iverson versus J. B. Howe and Goodridge State bank; Emil Just versus village of St. Hilaire.

Farm Bureau Protests Cut Rate Mileage Books

The Washington office of the American Farm Bureau federation is protesting the granting of lower passenger rates to persons using railroad mileage books. Such an arrangement is called a subsidy to a traveling class and it is alleged that it would harm farmers by delaying reductions in freight rates, for the income of railroad companies would be reduced just that much.

100,000 ACRES GOAL IN POTATO CAMPAIGN

Drive in Minnesota Started Under Auspices of Committee of Five

One thousand acres of potatoes under contract by July 15, is the goal of Minnesota leaders who are behind the movement to organize a co-operative marketing agency. This decision was reached at a meeting of the committee of 23, held March 24. At this meeting, an executive committee composed of J. A. Monson of Braham, Earle A. Barker of Bemidji, A. M. Dunton of Bagley, Marius Waldal of Plummer and Walter Oby of Detroit, was named to have active charge of the details.

This committee will meet this week to elect a campaign manager, and arrange for financing the drive.

It is generally admitted that the plan of the old Minnesota Potato Exchange is not adequate to serve the needs of potato growers and that while an entirely new machine must be put into the field, so much of the old organization as can be used in the new, should be salvaged.

REMARKABLE GAIN FOR FEBRUARY IN CREAM PRODUCTION

Increase Over Same Month Last Year is $2158 for the Big Check Producers Alone

If the increase in receipts of cream at the Thief River Falls Co-operative creamery continues the rest of the year at the rate it has started this will be by long odds the best season the institution has ever experienced. The record also indicates the rapid growth of the dairy industry in this section. Not only is the list of producers growing at a very satisfactory rate, but the old-timers are shown as having either greatly improved their herds or have added considerably to the number of cows on the farms.

Last February there were 43 patrons of the creamery receiving a sum greater than $50 for their milk and cream for the month of February, while Secretary T. H. Bjerke's report shows the number in this class this year to be 62. In 1922 the February receipts of these same patrons totalled $3,726.12 while this year it is $5,884.32. Two patrons, Oscar Thorson and August Karlson, just missed the big check list, one received a check for $49.82 and the other one for $49.50.

Peter Englestad heads the list with $279.79, followed closely by Hans Anton, $262.79, $262.79 and K. Ytesund, $239.36. The "big check" list for the month is as follows:

Bone Meal Sure Cure for Freak Appetite in Cows

The feeding of finely ground bone meal to correct abnormal appetites of dairy cows is recommended by Dr. C. H. Eckles, H. R. Searless and others of University Farm. Mr. Searless, who has been studying the situation in Pennington, Mahnomen and other western counties, where dairy cattle, lacking some vital element in the ration are eating mangers and wood partitions and dirt, says:

"I failed to find a single instance where dairymen feeding sweet clover or alfalfa hay were having trouble. While it may not be safe to draw a definite conclusion from this, it would appear that in counties where the depraved appetite of the stock is caused by the feed and not by the water that the feeding of legume hay will at least minimize the trouble. Furthermore, the men who are buying and feeding quantities of mill feed do not seem to be having any difficulty in keeping their animals up to the mark.

"Cattle that have been fed for years on a ration low in mineral matter will no doubt be benefited by feeding bone meal. Calcium is the mineral most often lacking in feeds, but in this case there are conditions that suggest the trouble may be a lack of phosphorus as well."

Orchard and Garden Notes

Seed the new lawn as soon as possible now. Grass thrives in moist, cool weather. Early planting gives it a good start.

Achillea Ptarmica, Perry's White, is a splendid perennial for cut flowers. It last well throughout the summer.

Gaillardia Grandiflora or blanket flower is a very good perennial for late summer use.

The Kitchenette squash is prolific, of good quality and of small size, making it desirable for the small family. Plant them this spring.

"Better Seed, Better Crops" is not only a good slogan, but a true slogan. Poor seeds won't give good crops. Get the best even though they cost more.

Sunflowers are said to produce from 600 to 1,800 pounds of seed per acre in California, 1,000 pounds is the average. This seed is used mostly in chicken feed mixtures.

Grass seed of high purity and germination test is the cheapest to buy in the long run. You may pay less for a poor mixture, but it costs more because there is so much less live seed in it.

The Red Elderberry flowers early and has an abundance of red fruit about the first of July. Birds are very fond of this fruit and prefer it to cultivated fruits.

Early spring is the time to set small fruits, especially strawberries. Set out a hundred or two this year. Senator Dunlap is a standard June bearer. Progressive is a standard everbearer. The new fruit form varieties are also fine, but harder to get.

Dr. A. E. Luscian, Red Lake Falls dentist, whose wife is teaching in the local schools, will locate at Crookston in the near future according to the Crookston Times. "Crookston's dental population will be augmented on April 1, when Dr. A. E. Luscian, of Red Lake Falls, will come here and take over the offices and practice of Dr. J. F. Boles, who has recently decided to leave the city. Dr. Luscian is a former resident of this city, and has lived here the greater part of his life. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Luscian, reside in the city, on Stewart avenue. He has been conducting a dental practice at Red Lake Falls for the past four years and has received fine patronage there."

"I have never known a cold to develop into pneumonia while under adjustment.

"A cold is usually broken following the first adjustment. Subsequent adjustments clear up the cold symptoms.

"Pneumonia will respond to the first adjustment in the majority of cases, and seldom more than several adjustments are necessary to break the fever.

"Chiropractic adjustments are the best prophylactic against colds and pneumonia known today.

SOME TEACHERS NOT TO RETURN FOR NEXT TERM

Estimated That About One Half of Present Instructors Will Leave

All Were Re-elected by School Board At Meeting Held Recently

Extra Time Allowed In Which to Accept or Reject Contracts Tendered

Approximately half of the members of the Faculty now employed in the schools of Thief River Falls will return to continue their services next year, several having signed contracts to remain here during the 1923-1924 term. The school board at a recent meeting re-elected the present staff and distributed contracts which were to be returned to the board of education, signed or unsigned, before April 3. However, an extra time concession was granted to give some of those who have not yet signed up, opportunity to make more definite arrangements.

It is thought that six or perhaps eight of the present roster of teachers have intentions of remaining with the local high school, altho they have not as yet made formal agreement to that effect. Some are, however, considering positions elsewhere or contemplate attending college or other higher institutions of learning. A few have decided to quit the teaching profession.

At a meeting of the school board some time ago adjustments of salaries were made for the ensuing year, the new schedule meeting with the general approval of the applicants. In few instances were the demands beyond those determined by the board of education.

The instructors who have designated their intentions of remaining on the staff next year by signing the contracts presented are: Central—Miss Lyda Batten, principal and arithmetic; Miss Anne Tharaldson, geography; Mrs. E. Hill, English; Mrs. Ed. Karwand, history and civics; Miss Maude Frissell, arithmetic.

Knox—Mrs. Ed. Lacy, principal and fourth grade; Miss Agnes Gunderson, primary; Miss Carolyn Melby, primary; Miss Esther Tandberg, primary; Miss Sarah Vaughn, intermediate.

Northrop—Miss Emma Tandberg, principal and intermediate; Mrs Henry Eyde, Miss Carrie E. Trogan, and Miss Clara Halvorson, primary; Miss Lovina Adams, intermediate; Miss Ellen Lura, Miss Gladys Ryan and Miss Agnes Sands, upper intermediate.

Washington—Miss Edna Larson, principal and upper intermediate Miss Vera Byler and Miss Hattie Goldsmith, primary.

High School—Miss Minnie Leavitt, English and librarian; Miss Mildred Thompson, history; Mrs. Wm. Korstad, mathematics; Mrs. E. P. Brevig, English; A. C. Matheson, language.

M. P. Rapacz, who has been connected with the Lincoln high school in the capacity of principal during the past two years has decided to quit teaching for awhile, having intentions of continuing his studies at the university, taking up post graduate work towards a degree. Mr. Rapacz is a man of genuine qualities and during his connection with the local schools gained many friends who are sorry to see him leave. Another who will not answer roll call next September, it is announced, is H. M. MacFarlane, high school athletic coach and instructor, as he is considering offers from Iowa schools, nearer to his home. As coach of the football and basketball teams he did all in his power to build up aggregations worthy of representing this institution. The football season proved a success, the local eleven winning all but one conference game. Altho the Thief River Falls quint did not show up very well at the recent tournament at Crookston, the past season on the whole was favorable.

Miss Mabel Kirk, able instructor in the normal department of the high school, announces her intention to attend Columbia University in New York. Mrs. A. E. Lucian, instructor in the Northrop school, will discontinue teaching at the close of this term as she will join her husband in making their home at Crookston.

Action taken by some of the other faculty members will be announced later.

OPIE READ PLEASES WITH LECTURE

Read in "Human Nature And Politics" Proves Interesting Lyceum Course Number

Opie Read delivered one of the best lectures Thief River Falls has ever had the opportunity to hear when he appeared at the Sons of Norway hall Tuesday evening.

"Human Nature and Politics" was the topic of the address and Mr. Read displayed a keen knowledge of human nature both in the treatment of his subject and the way he delivered it.

Humor, brevity, and forcefulness were the outstanding features of his style. Humor beyond comparison. The little twists and turns in his stories lent an effect entirely individual to him. Brevity in giving his stories in a manner most readily taken up by the listener and in conveying the point in view so quickly and clearly that a greater number of words would have been a handicap. And forcefulness in choosing words that expressed dynamically the thought in mind and added positively to the progress of the story.

His characterizations were real, his criticisms were analytical, concrete, and showed the careful consideration of an unbiased mind, and his suggestions were constructive and adaptable.

Mr. Read will be particularly remembered for his sincerity, his ease of expression and his keen insight into human nature.

Opie Read's lecture was the last number of the Lyceum course, brought here by G. Halvorson. Mr. Read arrived here Monday evening direct from Chicago, to which city he returned after the address.

Excel Woman Dies

Emily Amelia Slack of Excel township wife of Frank Slack, died at their home Saturday. She had suffered from paralysis for some time but the direct cause of her death was acute dilitation of the heart.

Mrs. Slack was 56 years old and had been a resident here for only three years, having come here with her husband from Boone, Iowa.

She is survived by her husband and four children here, besides other relatives in Iowa.

The remains were shipped from the Larson Undertaking parlors to Boone, for interment.

LOCAL BUSINESS MAN DIED MONDAY AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS

L. P. Christenson Passed Away At The Home of His Brother At Fertile; Here 16 Years

Louis P. Christenson, who has been engaged in business here for about sixteen years, and who for the last two years has conducted the soft drink parlor on LaBree avenue, known as the Mint, died Monday at the home of his brother, Gust, at Fertile. Mr. Christenson was at the Warren hospital for about three weeks receiving treatment for cancer of the stomach which was the cause of his death and shortly before his demise was taken to Fertile.

He had an operation for rupture of the stomach about three years ago from which he recovered and had been of moderately good health until recently. He was about 60 years of age.

Mr. Christenson came here from Fertile, where his parents lived, about sixteen years ago and operated the Stockholm saloon on LaBree avenue north till the prohibition law went into effect, after which he carried on a soft drink establishment at the same place till Mr. Kiewel, who owned the building, sold out to James Cosgrove, three years ago.

He then ~~underwent the operation~~ and was inactive for about a year. Two years ago this coming July he started the Mint where he conducted a restaurant in connection with the soft drink parlor.

Mr. Christenson is survived by one brother, Gust. The funeral took place at Fertile.

The business will be carried on by L. J. Cerny, who has been with Mr. Christensen for several years.

In connection with his business dealings Mr. Christenson built up a personality of honesty and integrity which won for him many desirable acquaintainships.

Argyle Man Dies Here

John T. Breen of Argyle passed away in this city Tuesday, April 10, the cause of his death being pulmonary tuberculosis. Mr. Breen was born on the 24 of August, 1882. To mourn his death he leaves his wife and three small children, of Williston, N. D., one brother Barney, two sisters both of whom are married, all of Williston, and a brother-in-law, John McNamaro of Argyle. Deceased had made his home with the latter for some time. The remains were shipped from the Larson undertaking parlors to Williston for interment.

FILM OF IRISH LIFE TO BE SHOWN HERE

"My Wild Irish Rose" Is Adaptation of Dion Boucicault's Famous Stage Play

"My Wild Irish Rose," the big Vitagraph special adapted from the famous stage success by Dion Boucicault of bygone days, will be shown at the Lyceum theatre on Sunday and Monday.

The splendid cast for "My Wild Irish Rose" was selected for types, although due care was taken to insure capable actors. Pat O'Malley, who is of Irish lineage and has spent many years in Ireland has the leading male role of the Shaughraun, the happy-go-lucky, ne'er-do-well, and Pauline Starke is seen as his little Irish sweetheart, a role that fits her admirably. Little "Micky" Daniels, who created such a sensation in "The Little Minister," has an important role in this special, and "Micky" and his freckles are sure to make thousands of new friends. The remainder of the cast, numbering a dozen, is equally capable and there are hundreds of extras for the soldiers, farmers, and fishermen.

Rural Credits Bill Is Signed by Gov. Preus

Governor Preus late Wednesday signed the rural credits bill, passed by the legislature. He would not say when he would announce the appointment of commissioners and secretaries as provided for in the bill.

Fargo To T. R. F. By Auto

Dr. L. R. Twete, licensed veterinary, who will practice here, arrived from Fargo Tuesday, making the trip in a Ford coupe, the roads being in a fair condition. Dr. Twete received his degree in the Ohio state university also having attended the North Dakota Agricultural college, Fargo, and is fully qualified for the work which he will enter here. Dr. Twete is making his headquarters at Lambert's Drug store pending further arrangements.

Attend Elk Doings

C. A. Nason, Isak Helseth, Ferdie Brown and Fred Quale were among the Thief River Falls Elks who attended the special event at Crookston Friday evening. There were members of the organization from practically all the towns in this corner of the state, it being estimated that about 450 or 500 persons were in attendance. A feature of the affair was the initiation of a large class into the mysteries of the order.

Norman Co. Papers Combine

The board of directors of the Producers Publishing company of Ada, at a special meeting, March 30th, decided to combine the Norman county Post with the Herald. Quoting the Norman County Herald, Mr. Loe, now editor of the Herald who will edit the combination has promised "to publish the paper on Independent and Progressive lines politically, as that will be the only way the paper can live and prosper, since Progressivism is getting a very firm foothold in public thought, and with the coming election is going to predominate in general legislation as the people mistrust and have no confidence in the two old parties."

The reason the Post was suspended was because their finances were entirely exhausted and business so slack in advertising and job work that operation expenses could not be made, therefore the board of directors made this arrangement to save the Post.

The Post has been published by a company of stockholders under the editorship of H. F. Sprung.

Halvor Steenerson Will Resume Law Practice

Halvor Steenerson, former congressman from this district whose term expired March 4, will return to Crookston to open a law office as soon as his affairs at Washington are completed, according to reports. The retiring representative is now succeeded by Knud Wefald of Hawley.

NEW BUSINESS FIRM ANNOUNCES OPENING OF ESTABLISHMENT

Kohn & Fiterman Will Handle Chevrolet Cars, Auto Tires And Batteries

Announcement is made this week of the establishment of a new business firm in Thief River Falls. A. R. Kohn and Edward Fiterman have leased the building at the corner of First street and Main avenue where they will deal in Chevrolet automobiles, tires and also operate an extensive vulcanizing plant.

The new firm will be known as Kohn & Fiterman and they will devote their entire time to making a success of the venture. Mr. Kohn has been associated with the Minneapolis Bridge company for the past five years, a part of which time was spent in the company's office at Minneapolis and the balance in Thief River Falls. Mr. Fiterman graduated from the Thief River Falls high school in 1921 and was for some time engaged in the wholesale produce business in Minneapolis and Winnipeg. Recently he has been associated with his father, Chas. Fiterman, in conducting the business of the Northern Trading Trading company.

By securing the agency of the Chevrolet automobile for the territory comprising Pennington county and one tier of townships in Marshall county they feel that they are launching their business under the most favorable conditions. The Chevrolet car is credited with having the second largest sales of any car manufactured in the United States and it is the intention of Messrs. Kohn and Fiterman to conduct a vigorous campaign with a view to making it the most popular car in this section of the state. Mr. Kohn will discontinue his connection with the Minneapolis Bridge company May 1st in order to give the automobile business his undivided attention. The first of several carloads of Chevrolet cars which have been ordered will arrive within the next two weeks, it having been shipped from the factory April 10th. It will contain a sedan and coupe besides touring cars and roadsters.

In addition to the automobile line, Diamond tires and Philadelphia batteries will be featured. This, together with a complete vulcanizing plant, will provide extensive business possibilities. The battery department will be in charge of Mr. Arthur S. Boos, formerly of St. Cloud, where he was for a number of years employed as a battery and electrical expert. The vulcanizing end of the business will be looked after by Mr. Tonie Hornseth. He has had seven years of practical experience in this work and is exceptionally well qualified to give satisfactory service.

They will open for business Friday morning and their announcement on another page of this issue of The Times contains some interesting statements regarding the policy of the concern as well as some special introductory features.

Attend Funeral At Fertile

E. M. Bennes of this city, accompanied by his brother, Albert, of Holt, left Tuesday morning for Fertile to attend the funeral of their cousin, Henry Bennes of Fertile. Deceased who was only 16 years old at the time of his death, passed away at a hospital in Crookston following an attack of acute appendicitis. He was a twin son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Bennes and had resided on the farm three miles from Fertile with his parents all his life.

COUNCIL HOLDS UP FILTRATION PLANT PAYMENT

Will Wait to Determine Extent of Possible Damage From Crack in Wall

Treasurer's Statement Shows Cash Balance of City Lowest In Years

Will Make Effort to Reduce Cost of Operating The City Poor Farm

A crack in the building of the filtration plant caused the city council to table the fourth estimate of the Robertson contracting company at the meeting of the aldermen of Thief River Falls Tuesday evening. The fourth estimate amounted to $1,545.30 as payment for the erection of the plant. Owing to the fact that a break in the wall of the structure appeared awhile ago, the council deemed it advisable to withhold part of the settlement until the frost leaves the ground and the building settles on its foundation. The extent of the break can then be more easily determined. It is said, however, that it will have no effect on the building. The third estimate approved by L. P. Wolff, engineer in charge, was laid on the table at the previous session.

The financial report of the city, which was read, showed a smaller sum in the treasury now than at this time last year. The amount in the treasury of the city at the close of last month was $27,036.43 and out of that sum there was paid $21,184.84 for current expenses, leaving a balance of $5,901.59. Last year, however, the amount on hand was said to be between $50,000 and $60,000. The payment of various large sums for improvements caused that change.

The council received a petition for four blocks of cement sidewalks to be constructed on the East side on Tindolph avenue, from Nora to Gulf street.

To fill the vacancy in the fire department recently caused by the resignation of Ole Erickson, it was decided to select Philip Schmitz, who will assume his duties at once.

Fred Niclai appeared before the body of aldermen in behalf of property owners along Duluth and Arnold avenue, stating that basements of their homes are being flooded because of sewers being plugged causing inadequate drainage in that district. Relief by the street department was asked and the request complied with, repair to be made as soon as the cause of trouble can be detected.

Carlot Prestebak was granted a license to conduct a refreshment parlor at 201 LaBree ave. north, in the building until recently occupied by O. W. Carlson.

The high cost of maintaining the city poor farm was discussed and it was suggested that the county interest itself in the matter and do something to relieve the heavy burden of the city and the township of North. A tract of land to provide work for the inmates was proposed.

The sum of $190.11 was allowed as interest on deferred payments of paving costs.

D. of N. Will Celebrate 12th Anniversary Apr. 17

The Daughters of Norway will observe the twelfth anniversary of their society the night of April 17 by a unique program and entertainment at the hall. A special program has been arranged and a lunch will be served after which various forms of entertainment will be participated in. The committee has withheld the titles of the numbers on the program and the menu, as a distinct surprise has been planned.

All members of the Sons of Norway are invited and all members of the Daughters are urged to attend. Any member of either lodge is permitted to bring one friend and the nominal charge of twenty-five cents will be made for admittance. A brief business meeting of the lodge has been called at 7:45 to precede the evening's merriment.

Fosston Circuit of Free Church to Meet Next Week

The Fosston district of the Lutheran Free church will conduct meetings in the Zion church in Thief River Falls beginning Friday, April 20, and continuing through Sunday the 22nd. The meetings will be held under the auspices of the local congregation and will be attended by pastors and delegates from the various congregations in the circuit, which extends from Bemidji to Maple Bay and as far north as Thief River Falls. Ministers from the Thief River district, that is north of this city, will also be in attendance and take part in the extensive programs that have been arranged. The first session of the gathering will open on Friday morning at 10:30. A more detailed program will be announced in next week's issue.

Oklee Man Dies Here

Adolph Cloutier, Sr., of Oklee, who had been at the Physicians hospital here for a period of twenty-one months, died Saturday morning at 6:50 o'clock, at the hospital. His death was caused by kidney trouble which had affected him for more than six years. Prior to his arrival at the hospital here he lived on a farm in Lambert township near Oklee, which he took as a homestead in 1893 and which has been under the management of his son, Adolph, Jr., since the first year of his disability. Mr. Cloutier was born in Canada on the 8th of October, 1845.

To mourn his death are his son Adolph Cloutier, Jr. and family and three brothers and two sisters.

The remains were shipped from the Larson Undertaking parlors to Oklee for burial.

Austad were not present Friday evening but will be properly installed at the regular meeting next week. Following the exercises a lunch was served to a large attendance. The club rooms are now being taken care of by T. J. Austad, secretary of the lodge.

Red Lake Falls Girl In Picture At Lyceum Thurs.

Miss Erin LaBissioniere, a Red Lake Falls girl well known to many in Thief River Falls, will be seen at the Lyceum theatre here next Thursday, April 19, when she will appear playing the leading role in the picture, "The Golden Flame." It is a western picture filled with plenty of action and romance and Miss LaBissioniere playing the leading part displays wonderful talent.

FRONT PAGE NEWS STORY CONTEST WON BY LOCAL STUDENT

Novel Affair in Connection With Picture to be Shown At Lyceum Reveals Many Ideas

Writers of news stories in Thief River Falls and vicinity were given a tryout in demonstrating their ability in producing front page articles the past week.

Quite a number of productions by local talent were received by both newspapers, indicating that considerable interest was taken in the event.

The Tribune and The Times, in conjunction with "A Front Page Story" to be shown at the Lyceum theatre Friday and Saturday, offered three prizes to the writers of the best stories. It was a rather difficult matter to determine the winners of the contest, as so many of he contestants were inclined to write articles in the form of editorials. One of the rules governing the contest was that the opinion of the writer should not enter into the story. On that account some of the articles submitted could not be considered as news stories in the true sense.

First prize of three dollars was won by Herbert Johnson, a senior in the local high school; Joel Shoberg of Rosewood won second prize of two dollars, and Miss Eileen Arneson, student at the high school, third prize of five tickets to the Lyceum theatre. Deserving of honorable mention are George "Bugs" Johnson for his articles on the Y. M. C. A., and Miss Lucile Curtis for her human interest story.

The story which was awarded first prize is published in this column. The others will be published next week.

Minors and Students Must Keep Out of Pool Halls.

(By Herbert Johnson.)

Acting on an order from headquarters, Patrolman Ralston started the spring clean-up of the local pool halls.

Throughout the winter months the local recreation parlors have been patronized by many minors and high school students. This is contrary to the state law, and now since the city has been cleaned up of bootleggers, moonshine and the like, the officers are determined to lift up the moral standard of the town.

The state law regarding such places makes it illegal for any boy or student under 21 years old to make use of the various means of entertainment available at such places. Boys 18 years old may be permitted to go in these places but not permitted to use any of the games. Students are prohibited until they have reached their 21st birthday.

This law has not been enforced as strenuously during the past months, but from now on the police department intends to enforce every phase to the fullest extent of their ability, and ask the co-operation of every citizen in the city. With plenty of legitimate entertainment, such as the Y. M. C. A., the high school athletics, the theatre, spring football, baseball, there should be no reason why the students and minors cannot find enough desirable and permissible recreation during their spare hours.

Meets With Theatre Owners

H. A. Brumund, manager of the Lyceum theatre, left Sunday night for Minneapolis where he is attending the annual convention of the Minnesota division of the National Motion Picture Theatre Owners association. More than 300 owners of motion picture houses from all parts of the northwest are in attendance, according to reports in the twin city papers.

Proposals to take over the distribution of motion pictures by the association, was considered at the opening session. These proposals, if endorsed, Mr. Steffes said, will be presented at the national convention in May in Chicago.

"The prices for motion pictures charged by the distributors," said Mr. Steffes, "are becoming so exorbitant that motion picture theatre owners are forced to take some action to guard against further increase."

Miss Gran Returns

Friends of Miss Caspara Gran, who conducts the Mari Posa beauty shop will be pleased to hear that she is now able to resume her work after being ill for one week, during which time she stayed at the home of her brother, John, who resides a short distance east of the city. The beauty parlor which was closed during her illness, is now open again.

Fosston Man Fined Here

Edward Krarri, said to be a jeweler from Fosston, was arraigned in municipal court Monday morning before Judge N. W. Tarrant. He pleaded guilty to a charge of committing an act of lewdness within the city limits. The judge sentenced him to pay a fine of $50, the maximum amount according to city ordinance No. 55, and costs in the sum of $5.

DAIRY PROSPECTS NEVER SO BRIGHT

40-Cent Butter in June Probable, Says McGuire, Back From Trip East

Never have prospects for the dairy farmer been so bright. This is the opinion of A. J. McGuire, general manager of the Minneapolis Co-operative association who has returned from a trip east. Mr. McGuire, accompanied by John Brandt of Litchfield, new president, spent ten days looking into dairy market conditions at Chicago, New York, Washington and Philadelphia.

"While we were in New York, butter was selling for 50 cents and every one was talking 40 cent butter in June. Stored stocks are low, and while there has meen a marked increase in butter production, consumption has grown to such an extent that the supply is hardly equaling the demand," Mr. McGuire says.

A constant improvement in the quality of butter made by co-operative creameries is noticeable in eastern markets, according to Mr. McGuire. While he and Mr. Brandt were in New York, the office of the association there made a contract for the delivery of all the butter from one of the small creameries in the western part of the state, the price being 3 cents above that what had been paid. This higher price, Mr. McGuire said, was due entirely to the better quality of butter that is being made. This is an example of what the state association has been able to do for member creameries.

Creamery officials are convinced, Mr. McGuire says, that the time is at hand for the association to employ a high class butter salesman to handle the mrketing department of the association. Several outstanding butter marketing specialists have been interviewed.

FOUR YEAR OLD GIRL CREMATED IN FIRE AT ERIE

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Aubol Loses Life in Early Morning Blaze

Father in Thief River Falls When Flames Detroyed Home And Store

Other Members of Family Escape by Jumping From Second Floor Window

Myrtle Aubol, 4 year old daughter of Alfred Aubol of Erie, was burned to death at 2:30 o'clock this morning, in the upper story of the store building in which the Aubol family lived.

Mrs. Alfred Aubol, a son Archie, 3 years old and a daughter Vergil, four months old, and Mrs. Aubol's sister, Miss Ella Swenson were severely burned while making their escape thru the upstairs window. Mrs. Aubol's hands were badly cut by glass when she smashed, barehanded, the window pane and broke the screen thru which they made their escape. Archie was cut about the head and abdomen and on one leg by glass. The youngest, Vergil, was cut on the head when the mother leaped from the window to the sidewalk, the child's head striking the ice on the walk in falling. Mr. Aubol was in Thief River Falls when the fire occurred.

The fire started on the south side of the building on which side the stairway was situated, and was not discovered by the sleepers until all means of escape were cut off except the window.

Mrs. Aubol awakened and smelled smoke but did not realize the situation until a kerosene tank which was stored in the lower part of the building exploded. Then the whole building, which was of frame construction, was entirely enveloped in flames.

Grabbing her four month old child, Vergil, Mrs. Aubol rushed to the front window which faced the north, and pounded to pieces with her bare hands the glass pane and also the screen, cutting her knuckles to shreds and at the same time being atacked by scorching flames. She then leaped thru the opening thus formed, holding her child in her arms. The child's head struck the icy walk and was badly cut.

In the meantime Miss Swenson took the three year old boy, Archie, and carried him to the window and droped herself with him to the ground.

Mrs. Aubol intended to return for Myrtle the four year old daughter, and in her frantic efforts to get the baby to safety did not notice the progress the fire was making. When the four had landed safely the flames had made a return an impossibility.

Both the women and the two children who escaped were very badly burned. The building was completely enveloped in flames before neighbors, who lived but a few rods off, arrived at the scene.

The charred remains of Myrtle, of which there were but a handful left, were found directly beneath the place where the window was, thru which the four had leaped, the little girl having evidently followed them.

Mrs. Aubol, Miss Swenson, and the two children were taken in by the nearest neighbor, and given clothing and shelter and cared for until medical assistance could be obtained. Dr. H. W. Froehlich of Thief River Falls, was called at 3:30 a. m., but was unable to get there until late in the forenoon, having had to wait for the Electric car, and taking it to Goodridge proceeded by auto to Erie.

A nurse was sent this afternoon to give them medical assistance for a few days.

The building was owned by Olaf O. Kompelien. The stock in the store and the household furnishings belonged to Mr. Aubol and was not insured against loss from fire.

Establishes Down-Town Office

Dr. J. T. Bowers this week announces that he has disposed of his interests in the Swedenburg-Bowers clinic and hospital and is moving his offices to the First National bank building. He will occupy the rooms where Dr. Adkins was formerly located. Dr. Bowers who came to Thief River Falls about three months ago and has since his arrival been connected with the Swedenburg-Bowers hospital, will continue his practice as formerly.

Local Man Gets State Agency For Carburetor

A. C. Gjelhaug will leave Saturday for Chicago to close a contract for 1000 Automatic Steam carburetors for which he has been appointed state agent.

The Automatic Steam carburetor is unlike most of the carburetors which have been offered the past years but already more than 100,000 have been sold. It is guaranteed not only to increase mileage 20 to 40 per cent but to eliminate carbon deposits which is the direct or indirect cause of motor troubles and which is almost unavoidable with the dry carburetor.

Mr. Gjelhaug who is now employed at the Soo roundhouse was an electrician and automobile mechanist till 1919. He moved from Alexandria to this city last year.

Mr. Gjelhaug intends to be actively engaged in the distribution of the new carburetor which has already been introduced in the cities. He expects to distribute them at the rate of about 500 per month. On another page of this issue is an advertisement describing fully the working details of the carburetor.

After the wedding a six o'clock dinner was served, covers being laid for the married couple, their witnesses and relatives.

Both Miss Lamac and Mr. Farr have been residents of this city since their birth, the former having been a student of the local high school. They will make their home at 200 Conley avenue south, which has been completely furnished for their immediate occupancy. A two-week trip is planned by the young couple, which will take place this summer.

Mr. Farr will continue his connections with his father's soft drink business at 202 LaBree avenue north.

Maccabee Rally At Crookston

The Womans Benefit Association of the Maccabees held a rally at Crookston Wednesday, April 4, which was attended by delegates representing the various local orders of the entire valley. The local branch was represented by Mrs. Nick Waldorf and Bemidji, Fosston, Twin Valley and other towns near Crookston sent large delegations.

The topic of greatest interest included in the discussions and talks given was the Marathon trip to Los Angeles which will be accorded the victors in the recent race for new members for the organization. The convention will be held in Los Angeles on June second and will be attended by delegates from every state in the Union.

The opening feature of the rally was a splendid three course banquet served by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church. The rainbow colors were used to decorate the rooms and red carnations adorned the table which were arranged around an attractive design in the center of the room. This design represented the Occidental Bowl on the campus of Occidental college in Los Angeles where the convention is to be held. Mrs. B. Levins was toast mistress.

Mrs. Ruth Pierce, district deputy, presided at the evening meeting when a class of 24 was initiated and a pleasing program given.

As a result of the rally the local lodge may send a body of young women or girls to the summer camp which will be held at Maple Lake for a period of two weeks. At least 25 girls must compose the body before it will be possible to hold the camp. However, over half of the quota has already been charted. Crookston, Fosston, Bemidji, Gonvick and Thief River Falls are the towns which will take part in the camp. The Womans benefit association is the strongest and largest national woman's organization of its kind, having a capital of $15,000,000.

PUBLIC FORUM

What Chances For Success Will a Cheese Factory Have in Thief River Falls?

A cheese factory in Thief River Falls at the present stage of the game in dairying is doomed to failure from the very beginning for the simple reason, that there is not enough milk available in this vicinity to make cheese from.

It takes a lot of milk to operate a cheese factory successfully, and besides, milk can not be hauled long distances. Over a radius of 6 miles around Thief River Falls there is not any more than one-fourth of the acreage devoted to intensified dairying and the few thousand pounds of skimmilk that a few farmers could have a chance to dispose of during the summer months for cheese making purposes would only be a drop in the bucket, hence the construction of a cheese making establishment in connection with our creamery would be a criminal squandering of money.

If those cheese enthusiasts are so anxious to have their milk manufactured into cheese, why not start something with their own money instead of using the creamery's funds for this very doubtful experiment. We have a first class creamery here at Thief River Falls, which has been gaining in volume of business and prestige for every year which has passed since its organization and under proper management should continue to do so in the future.

Let us bend our best energy to develope our creamery along the lines most adapted to the conditions of the country, and not venture out on anything, we do not know anything about. The co-operative creameries have enemies enough to contend with and it takes a lot of energy to combat them.

Supposing a few thousand dollars was spent for this purpose and some farmers were induced to haul milk to the cheese factory under the presumption, that they would get more for their product by having it manufactured into cheese than separate the milk and haul milk to the creamery it would cripple the creamery to a certain extent and what deficiency the cheesemaking department would show would have to disgust many farmers, who would turn to the centralizers instead of patronizing the creamery—there are too many who are doing this very thing already.

Whoever is behind this cheese making propaganda, whether it is the creamery board or somebody on the outside in connection with the same, they are certainly not working for the best interest of the creamery. As for the skimmilk being such a problem in this locality as mentioned by both papers in their last issues, would say, that it is not any more of a problem now than it has ever been.

Farmers have hogs, calves and chickens to feed this byproduct to and can be disposed of to good advantage; I feed even a good deal of my skimmilk to the cows, who, over night, return the same with cream on. Hogs, calves and chickens on different farms around Thief River Falls will have the cheese making department in connection with the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery all skinned and make a better return for skimmilk than the latter would.

Yours for a larger and better creamery year by year in the future as well as in the past.

P. ENGELSTAD.

Carlson Sells Out

O. W. "Curley" Carlson has sold the soft drink and lunch business for some time operated by him on the corner of Second street and LaBree avenue, to Carlot Prestebak, who until recently was engaged in farming east of this city. The deal was consummated last week and the new proprietor took charge immediately. Mr. Carlson states that he has not as yet made any definite plans for future business connections.

Attention Farmers!
RAISE MORE HORSES!
Census reports show that there is a great shortage of young horses in the country. Why not be far-sighted enough to raise a few good horses in time to anticipate the big demand that is sure to come when the old horses die off? Horses will always be indispensable on the farm as they furnish the cheapest and most flexible power.

Specified After Analysis of Your Engine

POLARINE is created to specifications—to the mechanical specifications of your car, as well as to chemical formula.

Chemical and engineering experts of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) considered the bore and stroke of your engine; number and fit of the piston rings; piston design; bearing design; oiling and cooling systems of your engine, before they indicated to you in the Chart, just the grade of Polarine that is right for your car.

Polarine—thus scientifically produced—costs little if any, more by the gallon, than inferior oils; and it costs far less by the year, because it stands up under use.

For practically every automobile lubricating need, there is one correct oil. There are hundreds of incorrect oils. Where it is so easy and so costly to go wrong, stick to the Chart, and make sure of using the right grade of

Polarine
THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL
Made in Five Grades

In every case, the body or viscosity of Polarine is so constant, that a relatively light grade of Polarine may be used always. This means minimum resistance to motion, a cool motor and maximum power.

Polarine spreads quickly over the bearing surfaces. It leaves no dry spots. Hence cylinders and bearings invariably last longer when the specified grade of Polarine is used.

Even Polarine cannot replace worn metal. Take a stitch in time and change your motor oil every 500 miles—that's true economy. Polarine is made from crude petroleum especially selected for its high percentage of lubricating value. Polarine is based upon day by day experience in the laboratory and on the road. Year by year Polarine conforms to variations in engine design, but the high quality of Polarine is maintained always.

The Middle West Requires One-Third The World's Supply of Gasoline

NEARLY one-third of all the motor car registrations in the world are in the 10 Middle Western States served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

This amazing fact—for it is a fact—is shown by these, the latest figures published by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce:

World registration of motor vehicles (1922)	12,750,000
U. S. registration of motor vehicles (1922)	11,500,000
Percent of world registration owned in U. S.	90%
Motor vehicle registration in 10 Middle Western States served by Standard Oil Company (Indiana) (1921)	3,514,436
Motor vehicle registration in 39 other states of the U.S. (1921)	6,899,253
Percent of U. S. registration owned in the 10 Middle Western States	31%

And yet, in the face of these astounding figures, the retail price of gasoline is low in the Middle West.

The reason for this is obvious.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has six great refineries where gasoline is manufactured in sufficient quantities to meet the major part of this demand.

The process used in these refineries enables the Company to get from crude oil a large yield of good gasoline.

Throughout this territory the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains an adequate and economical system of distribution, which enables it to maintain its established practice of selling its products at a price which is fair to all.

This Company's policy of fairness and its earned reputation for efficiency have enabled it to command ample capital for needed expansion of refinery facilities; for needed storage and equipment; for proper maintenance of tank wagon service and for a constantly increasing number of service stations, which permit the Company to deliver its products directly to the motorist.

The low price of gasoline in the Middle West is tangible evidence of the fairness, foresight, efficiency and skillful management which has put the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in position to be of maximum service to the people owning one-third of the motor registrations of the world.

OPENING ANNOUNCEMENT

In announcing the opening of our business we wish to state we have selected only standard nationally known merchandise with an established reputation of satisfactory performance. For our battery and vulcanizing departments we are fortunate in having secured the services of experts, and we feel pleased that we can offer the motorists of this vicinity the services of these men. After making a thorough investigation into the most reputable lines we have selected the following:

CHEVROLET

For economical transportation nothing compares with Chevrolet. The World's lowest priced quality automobile. We will have a carload in this month. Investigate the Chevrolet before you buy and see the difference.

DIAMOND TIRES

A line of merit. Distinctive in appearance, performance, and economy. The next time you need a tire, make it a Diamond Cord and it will be a long time before you need another. Tires have advanced 20 per cent. We bought a limited number before the advance and we are passing the saving down to the user. The Diamond Cord for Fords, Chevrolets and other light weight cars at $13.50 (present list price $16.95) is the best buy in years. Our prices will advance May 10th. Protect yourself from the increased cost by buying your tires now. We offer something new in tire service. All tires and tubes bought from us will receive.

Six Months Free Service

PHILADELPHIA BATTERIES

The best battery you can buy is the cheapest in the end. With this in mind we selected the nationally known Philco battery—the most economical battery to maintain. Before you buy let us show you why the Philco battery has no equal. We have them from $17.50 up.

BATTERY SERVICE

Your battery is one of the most important parts of your car and the care of it should only be intrusted to an expert. We have employed for this department, Mr. Arthur S. Boos, formerly of St. Cloud, where for a number of years he specialized on batteries in an exclusive battery station. He experience enables him to detect trouble through the entire electrical system of car. To introduce you to our battery service we offer for a 10 day period

POLICE KEEP MINORS OUT

The city police have recently begun enforcing the city ordinance prohibiting minors and students from frequenting pool halls. Previous to this time a number of students have made certain pool halls in the city their "club-room" without molestation. Now that the city has provided at least a partial substitute in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, the city authorities feel that public sentiment demands enforcement of the law.

The Y. may not provide an ample substitute in the eyes of many, as it is yet in its infancy and the equipment is necessarily limited. But the young men of the community must bear in mind that the growth and future success of the Y. depends entirely on their interest. If the Y. receives the wholehearted support of the young men now, it will in time make the pool halls seem less attractive and will relieve the police of their, now, most undesirable duty.

How Do You Think?

Very often we are assigned a task which at first thought seems very unreasonable. We think we can't do it, and so we say "I can't."

If, when we were young babies, we after many unsuccessful attempts to walk had given up and said I CAN'T every one of us would be invalids today.

For almost a year a man in Milwaukee thought he couldn't walk. So he didn't try to walk. In time people regarded Mr. Kropf as a cripple and he THOUGHT he was a cripple.

Then Dr. Coue came to Chicago and told Kropf he could walk.

Mr. Kropf thought after being convinced that he could walk, that perhaps he had better start THINKING and DOING something about walking and then he walked the same as his fellowmen.

Kropf wasn't a cripple—he only THOUGHT he was. You and I are too often just like this man. We THINK we can't do this or that, and we CAN'T. We THINK we can't raise our marks and we DON'T.

As a matter of fact, the things we THINK can't be done are being done every day, by people who think and know better. When radio was first heard of through the papers, some of us declared, "It can't be done." When Edison's first phonograph came to be known of, some people scoffed at the idea.

However, some day at some time or other in our lives, someone who is not handicapped by any notions of what "HE CAN'T DO" is going to step up and do those very things we think "cant be done" and he will go by us in leaps and bounds. He will THINK SUCCESS AND SUCCEED.

You and I don't have to be born differently to be that kind of a man that SUCCEEDS. THINK and apply those thoughts to action, and we will be on the same level as our fellowmen.

Clyde Nason of the class of '19, is now attending a mechanics' school at Minneapolis.

Journalists Enter News Writing Contest

The contest in writing a "Front Page Story" instituted by The Times and Tribune elicited a lively interest in the high school during the past week. A great number of pupils, especially those of the journalism class, entered stories in the contest, which closed Tuesday.

Aside from the advertising given the photoplay of the same name coming to the Lyceum, this contest is of great value to those who have had no previous experience in newspaper writing. The rules of the contest stated specifically that the story must be condensed, and that especial attention should be paid to the "lead." These are two of the points that have been taken up in the study of journalism in high school, and the outcome of the contest will show whether the students have or have not profited by their high school course.

Is Chivalry Dead?

Yesterday while walking down the hall I bumped into a young man with an armful of books. I asked him how many classes he had that it should be necessary to carry so many books, and he said "Oh, these aren't mine. I'm carrying them for Mary." This reminded me of the age of chivalry when knighthood was in flower. I proceeded on my way a little further when I overheard a conversation between the principal and one of the H. S. boys. "It is all my fault that she talked, and must not stay. Please let me make up her time too." This was too much for me. Some boy begging to make up the time for a girl who had been asked to stay for whispering. I decided to go further and see if anything else would prove that chivalry was alive in this school. I went into the assembly for chapel and due to the fact that a number of visitors were in attendance, there was not enough room so all around the room the boys were standing having given their seats up to the girls. By this time I discovered I had the wrong conception of chivalry in the school. My idea was that chivalry was dead, never to become alive again.

MRS. ARNOLD PRESENTS "THE MELTING POT"

Mrs. Gretel Lowe Arnold of this city read "The Melting Pot," the well known popular drama by Zangwell, at the high school assembly Wednesday evening before an interested audience of students and teachers. Mrs. Arnold read this play at the last Parent-Teachers meeting, and so pleased the audience that she was asked to give a special presentation for the benefit of the student body and others who cared to attend, to which she graciously assented.

The play depicts the difficults encountered in fusing the various nationalities in the large cities into a common people. Mrs. Arnold interpreted very forcefully the emotion of hatred and race predjudice voiced by the various characters, and held the attention of her audience thruout.

Normal Girls Explain Work

Quite a number of senior boys and a yet a larger number of girls have decided to take the post graduate normal course next year after hearing the work of the department explained by the Normal girls in chapel last Wednesday. Several of the girls spoke, each one touching upon a different phase of the work, such as the academic studies, story-telling, social activities, and nature study.

Hereafter the Normal course will be strictly a post graduate department.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY CAST IS ANNOUNCED

5 Boys And 6 Girls In "The Judsons Entertain," New Farce Comedy

The Senior class takes pleasure in announcing the presentation of "The Judsons Entertain" at the city auditorium on Friday, May 11. This new three act comedy by Edith Ellis, ranks as one of the best comedies of the year. "The Judsons Entertain" is a modern play of the east in which love intrigue and romance play their parts, resulting in many very pleasing complications. This play is being staged by many of the best dramatic classes all over the country and should meet with great favor in Thief River Falls.

The cast of eleven players has been announced as follows:

Wallace Judson	Herbert Johnson
Mildred Judson	Bertha Keaveny
Hulda Judson	Rose Costello
Tucker Whipple	Ernest Barzen
Charles Fallon	Albert Stengleson
Fallon, Sr.	Henry Vorlicky
Wm. Tamp	Stanley Sorenson
Bettina Blandis	Lorraine Will
Phyllis S.	Eileen Arneson
Christophene	Ruth Knutson
Mrs. Babbidge	Esther Larson

A meeting of the cast was held immediately after the announcement of characters, and it may be assured that the presentation will be worked to a fine point.

Students Make Merry At Party Saturday Eve.

The second high school dance held at the Sons of Norway hall last Saturday night was attended by one hundred thirty students. Peppy music was furnished by Kermit Anderson, saxaphone; Earl Erickson, piano and Alfred Dybvik, banjo and drums. The party was chaperooned by Mrs. H. S. Dahlen and Mrs. E. O. Mogenson.

Permission to hold these dances was given the high school students by the school board in hopes that the students would refrain from attending public dances. Both dances have proven a high success, and plans are being made to hold two or three more before the close of the school term.

Commencement Week Earlier This Year

Commencement Day will be on May 25 this year, a week earlier than usual owing to the elimination of spring vacation. On that day 69 seniors will receive diplomas, and 29 girls, including 10 post-graduates will receive Teachers Certificates. Baccalaureate Sunday will be May 20.

The last week of school will be given over to examinations. State examinations were abolished by a vote of the faculty some time ago, much to the joy of many students.

Normal Notes

Mr. H. E. Flynn, state inspector of Normal training, visited the local department last Wednesday.

—oo—

Miss Gelder, Norman training instructor at Hinckley, was avisitor at the Normal department last week.

—oo—

All the Seniors who are planning to take the Normal course next year are urged to begin enrolling with Miss Kirk soon. This course will be strictly a post-graduate course next year.

Commercial Students In Contest At Crookston

The people who have been chosen to represent this school in the typewriting and shorthand contest at Crookston are Harriet Morgan for the typewriting contest and Olive Lonson and Herbert oJhnson for the shorthand contest. These girls will leave Friday.

The judges for the typewriting division of the contest will be the teachers of the schools represented including Miss Dahlen of Fosston, and Miss Miller of this city. For the shorthand division teachers from the various schools will be elected.

The shorthand and typewriting departments under the direction of Miss Miller, have been working hard this year, and have accomplished a great deal.

Remington certificates have been earned by Math Barzen, Friedolph Gabrielson, Harriet Morgan, Hilda Peterson, and Gladys Russell. Underwood certificates have been awarded Harriet Morgan, Joseph Gavin and Myrtle Oen. Also, certificates of the Order of Artistic Typists given by the Gregg Writer were won by Craig Halvorson, Harriet Morgan, Marian Hilden and Friedolph Gabrielson.

Hand Work Exhibit at Washington School Sat.

A collection of hand work from various normal departments of the state will be exhibited at the local normal department rooms in the Washington building next Saturday, April 14, according to announcement made by the instructors

The exhibit includes a collection gathered by the state department of education of the best in all kinds of hand work which is being carried on in this particular department of our high schools and other institutions. The state department sends this out to the various schools for public inspection, assuring those who attend the exhibition something worth while.

Among the things to be shown are samples of woodwork, paper cuttings, mats and a large number of other varieties representative of the work carried on in our training schools for rural and city grade teachers.

In addition to the collection sent here by the state, the exhibit will also include specimens prepared by students in the local normal training department of which Miss Mabel Kirk and Miss Alice Stapleton are instructors. There are twenty-nine girls enrolled in that division of the high school.

The public is cordially invited and urged to visit the Washington building on Saturday and become familiar with one of these important features of our educational work.

Northrop Notes

A program of singing and story telling was enjoyed by the pupils of Miss Lura's and Miss Ryan's rooms Friday afternoon.

Vandla Johnson won in the "spell-down" test held in the third grade Friday.

The following item of interest appeared in the Crookston Times last week: "Mrs. N. B. Waldorf and daughter Bernedette returned to their home at Thief River Falls after a week's visit in Crookston and at Euclid. They were guests in the city since Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Lyngholm, South Ash street. Mrs. Waldorf attended the district rally of the Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees here."

PUBLIC SPEAKERS IN CHAPEL PROGRAMS

Students To Make First Public Appearances In Wednesday Assemblies

A series of Wednesday chapels of unusual interest have been booked for the near future. Commencing with next Wednesday the public speaking class is on the entertainment committee, and with their natural talent and acquired experience expect to hold their audience reasonably spellbound.

Three programs have been arranged by Miss MacNair, the first and last of which will consist of humorous and "pathetic" readings with musical numbers rendered by a quartette (of which as many members are to be picked from the public speaking class as possible). The second program will be in the form of a playlet which is sure to put a sharp edge on jaded spring appetites.

In presenting these programs each would-be public speaker is making his or her dreaded first public appearance. This ordeal must be passed through in order to obtain credit in the course. Their knowledge gained will be put to the supreme test of usage. Graceful gestures, clear enunciation, the little formula for stage-fright—all will tell their tale of whether or no the rising young orator has taken full advantage of the course.

Good wholesome entertainment of the highest moral fibre that will amuse and edify simultaneously is assured, so don't play possum for the next several Wednesday morning.

Teachers Seem Satisfied That They Are Leaving

Father Time has left in our school seven months of work and has yet to deliver two more months. In view of this some of the faculty who have had many years of experience think this has been a successful year. As the teachers have expressed their views.

Mr. Harner says, "that there hasn't been enough H. S. dances as his feet have been rarin' for swell floors," only, he added, "they didn't stay on the floor enough.

Miss Thompson consoles us that the only fault she finds is that the doorways are to low because she has to stoop every time she goes through one, so she won't bump her head.

Miss Johnson likes this school just fine because she has had a world of pleasure in giving Lucile Curtis special vocal training and she says she has high hopes for Lucille's future ability. In connection with this. Miss Johnson says "that she hopes Lucile will go to MacPhail's school for voice culture and later sing with the Metropolitan Opera Co. in New York.

Mr. Powley as advisor of the famed Senior class says "that the peaceful harmony of said class is wonderful and that there are a few members who will undoubtedly be leaders in the International Movement for World Peace."

Alumni Notes

Sybil McGinn of the class of '22, returned Monday morning from Minneapolis, where she visited during the past week.

New Journalism Class To Publish Progress

A new class in journalism, consisting of Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshman has been organized by Miss MacNair to provide some practical training for those who will take over the publication of the Progress next year. The class, which at present has a membership of about 55, meets every Tuesday after school, in the assembly room.

Two meetings have been held up to the present and there will be two more. At the first meeting Miss MacNair explained the function and organization of a newspaper. At the second meeting she gave an outline on news value, how to write up a news story, the qualifications of a reporter, and the output of a paper.

Although a staff has not yet been chosen, one will be organized and under the supervision of the journalism class, this staff will edit the paper for the last two weeks of school.

Senior Boys Organize Class Baseball Team

A senior class baseball team was organized by a group of Senior baseball enthusiasts at a meeting after school last Monday. About a dozen boys were present and displayed a lively interest in a class organization of the Great American game. Henry Vorlicky was elected manager and Sydney Schutt playing captain of the team.

Baseball has been practically ignored in previous years, chiefly because there has been nothing to hold an organization together. The playing season is too short to choose and train teams from the entire student body, and there is no interscholastic competition to arouse interest in such a team. But by confining activities to a smaller unit, with a more definite membership and with the class organization as a motive force behind it, a fast team can be quickly whipped into shape that will be on a par with other like organizations about the school and city and several interesting games may be played during the short season.

Immediately after the new team organized, a game was booked with the Smith-Hughes boys, which will be played as soon as the weather and grounds permit.

Teams from neighboring towns and villages who wish to secure dates are requested to notify Henry Vorlicky, Manager Senior Baseball Team, Thief River Falls High School.

HUMBOLT GLYDEN WIN IN BREAD CONTEST

The Lincoln High Bread Club team, consisting of Myrtle Krause, captain, Myrtle Helgeland and Hazel Krause went to Crookston last Wednesday to compete in the district contest held there last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

All the demonstrations were held in the auditorium of the Agricultural college and were judged by Mrs. Margaret Baker, St. Paul.

The winners at Crookston were Humboldt, first, and Glynden, second, but there are three teams demonstrating at Bemidji this week and the final winners will not be known until after this last contest.

This is the first year in bread making that there have been district honors given in connection with the Short Course. The Russell Milling Co. of Minneapolis paid the railroad expenses of the teams.

The teams that did not win in this contest will be able to compete again in May, in the regular county contests.

CLASS BASKETEERS PLAY FAST GAMES

The Seniors played the Freshmen five in the series of games to determine the champions of the high school and completely shut out the lower classmen. This of course could be expected, the Seniors being much larger and having a great deal more experience in the game. The Freshmen showed a good fighting spirit and some very good team-work. The score was 35 to 8 in favor of the upper classmen.

Immediately following the Freshmen-Senior fracas the Smith-Hughes five played the Sophomores. This was a hotly contested game from the first whistle to the final minute of play. The Smith-Hughes boys played superior team work but the Sophomores showed a chance and this was the main cause of better shooting when they did get for the defeat of the former team. The game was palyed to a tie 10 to 10, and then an extra two minutes period followed in which Steenerson for the Smith-Hughes made a long shot making the score 10 to 12 in favor of the Smith Hughes but Penny and Olson would not have the game end that way so they each made a basket making the final score 14 to 12 in favor of the Sophomore five.

On last Friday following the first series of games the Seniors played the Juniors. This was one of the hottest games of the series thus far played. The Seniors started out the scoring making two field goals during the first quarter to the Juniors one. The half ended 5 to 7 in favor of the Seniors. The next period was a game of give and take. The upper class making one and then the Juniors making one field goal. The Juniors were on the short end of the score until the final minute of play when John Sether played horseshoe luck and made two field goals which won for his team the final score being 11 to 10 in favor of the Juniors. The Seniors vow that they can beat the Juniors even tho they have four squad men on their team. The Juniors have the idea that they will clean up every game in the series and end the championship meet with a one thousand per cent.

The Smith-Hughes played the Freshmen in the second game of the day and were given another battle by the little freshmen team. The team work on the part of the Freshmen was very remarkable and they held the larger fellows to a 5 to 15 score. Although the Freshmen five are not winning games they show the probable development of a championship team for future years. Their opponents on the other hand should have defeated them much worse if the experience and size of the men are taken into consideration.

This was the final games of the first week of the series of games for the Inter-class championship. The Juniors, who have only played one game still have a 1000 per centage, the Sophomores also have played only one game and they have a 1000 per centage. The Smith-Hughes and the Seniors both played two games and won one and lost one giving them a percentage of 500. The way the dope looks now, the Seniors and the Juniors will play the final game. These two teams have showed the best form of average team-work and playing. However, it is hard to tell the outcome of this week's games.

Ola Says Prohibition Helps

There isn't one drink of booze taken today in Fillmore county where there used to be a thousand. Yet there are a lot of "wet Jackasses"—as Frank A. Day calls them—going about the county who says prohibition does not prohibit.—Levang's Weekly.

King Tut's Money

The wealth which lay for three thousand years in thetomb of King Tut at Luxor has not gained in real value. Yet if it had been in a bank drawing interest it would have increased to a total that would stagger the imagination.

It was actually hoarded money, lying idle and useless.

There is only one place for surplus funds and that is in the bank. When you put your money in a Savings Account at the Citizens State Bank, it is absolutely safe, and you are putting it where it will work for you. Open a Savings Account today! We pay 5% compound interest.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE

Take notice that default exists in the conditions of that mortgage given by Adolf Svanafjord and Anne Svanafjord, his wife, mortgagors to Hoag Security Company, a Minnesota corporation, mortgagee, dated October 29th, 1917, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota on the 5th day of November, 1917, at 8 o'clock A. M. in Book 13 of Mortgages on Page 309. Which said Mortgage was assigned by said Hoag Security Company to V. A. Biggs by written assignment dated December 6th, 1917, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota on the 27th day of December, 1917, at one o'clock P. M. in Book 50 of Mortgages on Page 510.

The amount claimed to be due on said mortgage with interest to this date is $1,792.55, by virtue of said mortgage indebtedness. The premises described in said mortgage and situated in Pennington County, Minnesota, are to-wit: The West Half of the Northeast Quarter (W½NE¼) of Section No. Thirty-six (36) and the Southwest Quarter of the Southeast Quarter (SW¼SE¼) of Section No. Twenty-five (25) in Township No. One Hundred Fifty-three (153) North of Range No. Forty (40) West of the Fifth Principal Meridian. By virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statute and no action in law or otherwise having been instituted thereon, same will be foreclosed by the sale of said premises at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash by the Sheriff of Pennington County, Minnesota at the front door of the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, on Saturday the 12th day of May, 1923, at ten o'clock A. M., to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage with the interest, taxes if any, and costs of this action, including Seventy-five Dollars attorney fees as stipulated for in said mortgage.

Dated at Minneapolis, Minnesota this 21st day of March, 1923.

SPRING COLDS ARE DANGEROUS
The Simple Treatment Knocks A Cold Right Now

Heed the warning—at first sign of a cold this spring, get busy and get rid of that cold. It's a simple thing if you take it in time.

Send to the drug store for an ordinary jar of Muco Salve which sells for 25 cents.

Melt a little of this salve in a spoon and inhale the vapors which arise. This will clear the head, soothe the upper respiratory tract and give nature a chance to heal the inflamed membranes.

If cold has gotten the start on you, take a good dose of oil at bedtime and rub Muco Salve thickly on chest, covering same with warm cloths, flannel preferably.

MOTHER
Keep Muco Salve On Hand At All Times for Family Use

It has always been a mother's job to guard the family health. Mother saves our lives every year.

Colds, spring colds, are mother's greatest fear for they so often lead to grippe, influenza and pneumonia.

Don't wait for colds to come. Get a jar of Muco Salve from the druggist for a few cents and have it handy to use first time anyone sneezes.

Doctor's Advice
Your doctor will tell you the common cold is the forerunner of much sickness. He advises you to take every precaution against a cold and to treat your cold at once.

The "Muco Treatment," as some call it, offers the simplest remedy and probably easiest to use. It is pleasant and safe. Muco Salve contains certain healing elements like turpentine and menthol that give off a vapor, which, when inhaled through the nose, reach the upper respiratory tract—the seat of the trouble.

For deep seated chest colds get a bottle of Muco-Solvent (Liquid). This is the prescription of Dr. L. W. Giffen who is well remembered by the people of Neenah, Wis. As the name implies it is a dissolvent which disintegrates the mucous (phlegm) so that it can be expectorated. Muco-Solvent (Liquid) at 75 cents per bottle and Muco Salve at 25 cents per jar form a combination that usually relieves all kinds of colds.

Both are sold everywhere by all druggists. We are positive you can get it here of F. J. Stebbins, Roy Lacbert and J. P. Curtis.

GOODRIDGE

Kiesow-Kalpin

The wedding of Miss Caroline S. Kiesow and Gustave Kalpin took place on Monday, April 2, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kiesow, 10 miles northeast of Goodridge, in the presence of a large circle of relatives and friends. The house was tastily decorated.

The ceremony was performed by the pastor, H. Lutz, of the Lutheran church of Goodridge. The attendants were Richard Kiesow, Hulda Kalpin, H. Kalpin and Rosa Kiesow. After the ceremony a splendid dinner was served.

The bride is a popular young lady of this community and has grown to young womanhood here. The bridegroom is an industrious young man, who was raised in the vicinity of Parkers Prairie, and has spent most of his time in Canada recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Kalpin have not as yet announced their plans for the future. Most likely they will engage in farming, either here or at Parkers Prairie.

Their many friends in this community wish them a long, happy, and prosperous life.

The Better Way to Health

If you are sick, you may be sure there is something wrong with your spine. No person with a perfect normal spine can suffer with sickness. This is a broad statement but we stand ready to support it with convincing proof.

As Chiropractors, we say the CAUSE of disease is pressure on spinal nerves—a mechanical interference with the flow of the necessary nerve force. As Chiropractors, we are able to correct this nerve pressure, and once the CAUSE is removed, health is the inevitable result.

If you are not enjoying perfect health, there are two reasons why you should be interested in our claims, namely, because no one has successfully disputed them, and because the testimony of our patients proves them true.

Our patients recover their health, because we understand Chiropractic thoroughly, because we believe in it implicitly, and because we have had the training and experience to practice it successfully.

Consultation and spinal analysis is free and places you under no obligations whatever. We will be glad to explain why Chiropractic is acknowledged to be the modern way—the BETTER way to health.

X-Ray pictures bring out all details, eliminates guesswork and assures the best results.

THE OLD BANK

THIS OLD, STRONG BANK has for 25 years served the people of this community.

Through good times and hard times, in war and in peace, it is always on the job to do its duty. It is the oldest Bank and the largest capitalized Bank in Pennington County.

Some of our stockholders and directors have been in the banking business continuously for over thirty years and are well known as sound bankers with large means and long experience. No officer, director or stockholder of this Bank has ever been connected with any Bank which has for a single day declined to pay to its depositors and to carry out its contracts.

Better times are coming for Thief River Falls. Mr. E. G. Quamme, the President of the Federal Land Bank, says that the worst is over for the farmers of Minnesota, and that farms will now increase in value for many years.

No matter what you do with your money, the first necessity is to know it is secure. It is this absolute security that we offer in our interest bearing Certificate of Deposit.

In our Savings Department we pay interest four times a year.

DOES NOT REPLACE—IT ASSISTS THE GAS CARBURETOR

Absolutely Guaranteed to Increase Mileage, Speed, Power, and to Eliminate Carbon.

Did you ever notice on a damp day or evening how much smoother your car runs, how much more pep and power it has? It is true of every make and size of car. This is due to moisture from the atmosphere which is drawn into the motor.

Water (h2o) under certain conditions decomposes in to its gases, Hydrogen and Oxygen Hydrogen gas burns, increasing the power, while the Oxygen gas not only aids combustion but unites with the carbon in the gasoline vapor and passes out through the exhaust as a gas, thus keeping the spark plugs clean.

The moisture taken from the atmosphere on damp days is a very noticeable help, but the Automatic Steam Carburetor is Absolutely Guaranteed to increase the mileage you get from gasoline 20 per cent to 40 per cent, and to eliminate carbon. It adds pep to the motor—gives it more speed, more power. It doesn't replace the gasoline carburetor—it helps it. It is a scientific device which should be placed on every automobile, truck or tractor. The Automatic Steam Carburetor manufactures live hot steam which is automatically injected into the gasoline manifold in the proper proportion for every speed. It has received the endorsement of many universities, government officials, business institutions and motor EXPERTS.

In addition, more than a hundred thousand car owners are using it to cut down their gasoline bills and make their cars run smoother, produce more power, and eliminate carbon.

There's nothing complicated about it to get out of order.

It is absolutely guaranteed to increase the mileage you get from your gasoline 20 per cent to 40 per cent.

To eliminate carbon.
To keep spark plugs clean.
To increase motor efficiency.
To increase both speed and power of motor with a smaller consumption of fuel.

RURAL CREDITS ACT FEATURE OF 1923 SESSION

Legislature Adjourns Thursday After Completing Ninety Day Session

Farm Bureau Summarizes Results Inasmuch as the Farmer Is Concerned

Future Will Decide Whether Any Benefit Will Be Derived From Various Bills Passed

Legislation authorizing the establishment of a state long time loan system is among the 1922-23 legislature's most important acts, from the viewpoint of farmers. The legislature adjourned Thursday after a feverish Wednesday night.

The rural credits bill is based on the constitutional amendment passed last fall, after a vigorous campaign waged by the Farm Bureau.

The state rural credit bill, introduced during the first days of the session by an interim committee of which R. A. Wilkinson of Washington county is chairman, was passed and signed shortly before adjournment. The law differs from the original bill but slightly. The system will be handled by a board of three—a "dirt" farmer and a man with special knowledge as to real estate values and loan practices, to be appointed by the governor—and a representative of the attorney general's office. The law provides that loans shall be for not more than 60 per cent of appraised value, plus 33 1-3 per cent of the value of the improvements, which improvements shall in no case be considered to be worth more than $8,000.

Loans ranging from $500 to $15,000 are provided. Money may be borrowed to liquidate present indebtedness, to buy equipment or livestock, to build improvements or to make a first payment on land subject to a second mortgage. Repayment of the loan on an amortization plan, running for not more than 35 years and a reduction in the interest rate, over that now being made are the two important factors that farmers wanted when they passed the amendment and which have been included in the bill from the first draft.

Ranking close to the credit bill is legislation providing for the extension of co-operative marketing organizations. Monday afternoon Governor Preus signed the so-called standard co-operative marketing bill, which includes all major features in a similar law that has been passed in 18 states and is pending in several others. Its principle features remove all question as to the legality of contracts between growers and their associations and provides a penalty for spreading false reports about a co-operative. The new potato growers' organization took steps to organize under the bill shortly after it was signed. Another co-operative bill was passed which strengthens and protects co-operatives already organized in Minnesota.

Other legislation of interest to farmers, briefly summarized, follows:

Filled milk law, prohibiting the removal of butterfat from full milk and substituting therefor vegetable fats. This bill was strongly supported by the dairy interests.

A law authorizing the governor and attorney-general to act as a committee to protect the interests of the state against the practice of basing steel prices on what is known as the "Pittsburgh Plus." This fight has been championed by the Farm Bureau for three years.

Reduction of the legal interest rate in the state from 10 to 8 per cent. President Reed of the Farm Bureau Federation was especially active in supporting this bill.

Providing for labeling butter made from neutralized cream. This bill was supported by friends of the cooperative creameries of the state.

A resolution submitting to the voters at the next general election a proposal to build a state-owned terminal elevator.

A memorial to congress, asking restoration of Minnesota grades on wheat, so farmers may realize on their wheat according to its gluten content.

Enabling farmers, under certain restrictions, to use hog cholera virus.

A joint resolution providing for the appointment of a legislative commission to meet with similar commissions from North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana regarding the grading and marketing of farm products.

Among the important bills that were reported as having been passed, but which had not been signed at the time this was written, were auto tax legislation, an act providing that state prison machinery shall be sold to dealers at 5 per cent above cost, several warehousing measures and a large number of minor measures.

The Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation's legislative committee was composed of President J. F. Reed, chairman; V. E. Anderson of Wheaton, and T. E. Cashman of Owatonna.

Aged Rocksbury Resident Dies At Farm Home Friday

John Somondson, for 20 years a resident of Rocksbury township, died at his home Friday, April 13, cause of death being general debility or old age.

Mr. Somondson came to Pennington county, then Red Lake, in 1902, and had resided here as a farmer since.

He was born in Norway May 14, 1843. In 1868 he married and in the summer of '69 came to America and lived for a time in Houston, but later moved to Clay county, where he took a homestead in 1879. He served for a time as member of the school board, supervisor, constable and road overseer in Morken township. In 1902 he moved to this county and resided here on a farm until his death.

He leaves to mourn his death: Mrs. Anne W. Somondson, and two sons, William and Alfred, residents of this county, and one daughter, Mrs. Sven Johnson, who lives in Souer d'Alene, Idaho.

Mr. Somondson has not enjoyed good health for some time and has been confined to his bed since last fall.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Rev. T. E. Sweger officiating at the obsequies. Interment was made at Greenwood cemetery.

Fallness Installs Turkish Baths

G. A. Fallness has now equipped his bath and massage parlors with accommodations for Turkish baths. He has converted the spacious room, formerly occupied by the gymnasium, into two wards where patients are taken care of and a room for the electric cabinets.

FILLING STATION IS BEING CONSTRUCTED ON MAIN AVE. NORTH

The Prichard Company Building Structure For White Eagle Oil Company

Construction of the new filling station to be erected by the White Eagle Oil and Refining company of Kansas City at the corner of Fourth street and Main, formerly owned by E. O. Gullingsrud whose house was destroyed by fire, was begun this week by The Prichard company contractors.

The station will be of the latest types in appearance and convience, and will be constructed of brick and stucco. The dimensions of the building proper are 24 feet square, the ground space on which it is located being a plot 70 by 50 feet. The double driveway across the corner will be constructed in such a manner that one driveway is not covered, thus permitting high transportation trucks to make passage without difficulty. Three pumps and other equipment of the latest and most modern type will be installed. A feature of the station will be a rest room for ladies. The grounds are to be surrounded by an ornamental fence, which will make this corner one of the most attractive in the city. The new structure is expected to be in readiness by June 1, according to the contractors.

The White Eagle company last year bought out the Manhattan station which they will continue to operate in addition to the new one.

A change was made in the directorate of the First State Bank of Plummer last week. J. A. Duffy of Red Lake Falls having resigned as president and director of the institution, is succeeded by K. H. Bleth. E. B. Lanager and William Bottineau were appointed vice-president and director respectively to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of C. M. Enderle.

"TRIFLING WOMEN" TO BE SHOWN HERE

Rex Ingram's Great Production at Lyceum Sunday and Monday, Is Season's Best Play.

Discriminating motion picture patrons will soon have an opportunity to witness one of the season's most notable screen successes, the latest production by Rex Ingram, the brilliant director who made "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "Turn to the Right," "Conquering Power" and "The Prisoner of Zenda." The new Ingram opus is entitled "Trifling Women," and the name of the director is associated with it in several capacities in addition to that of producer. This photoplay is based on an original story by Mr. Ingram and it was he who provided the screen adaptation. It comes to the Lyceum theater on Sunday and Monday.

Those who saw "Trifling Women" during its engagement at the Astor theater in New York were impressed with the success of the versatile director when working in an unusual genre.

Daughters of Norway Lodge Celebrates 12th Anniversary

The Daughters of Norway celebrated their twelfth anniversary Tuesday night, April 17, featuring a style show, which depicted past present and future styles comparing them in the way of comfort, beauty, economy and adaptability.

The anniversary commemoration was fitting opened by an address of welcome by Mrs. John Sorenson, president of the local order, and the reading of the history of the lodge by Mrs. C. F. Erickson, secretary.

The rest of the program was comprised of readings, songs, and musical numbers, and also a very pleasing drill given by a group of the members. The numbers were contributed by Mrs. R. Arnold, Dr. J. N. Nesse, Miss Eileen Arneson, Miss Thora Hanson, H. O. Chommie and Henry Arneson. Mrs. Nesse presided and Mrs. T. L. Melgaard was in charge of the style show.

In introducing the style show Mrs. Melgaard traced the evolution of the present mode of dress, namely the skirt for women and the trouser for the men. Styles for each decade for the last eighty years were shown. Tracing the progress of the fashion reform, as shown by the demonstration, we find the hoop skirt of the period of 1860 proving itself rediculously cumbersome, to say the least, when its wearer retired to a sitting posture; the dress of 1870, with its twenty yards of material, might easily have been mistaken for a tent were it discovered elsewhere than in a woman's wardrobe; the bustle of 1880 and the large sleeves of 1890 tickled everyone's sense of humor. The 1900 type was far more sensible even with its train. With it was shown a hat made of small wing feathers and on which was mounted a bird with wings outstretched. This hat was bought in Paris. In 1915 the hobble skirt made its advent and was distinctly out of line with the general progress of the modes of dress. Present day styles were accepted as more sensible and comfortable and artistic than those of past decades.

The styles predicted for 1940 created much interest. The models appeared with the skirt replaced by knickers that were as pretty as they were comfortable, being designed for aeroplane and sport wear, and the evening gown was similarly constructed except that it was draped with gauze.

The hall was decorated in pink and yellow and a beautiful bouquet of roses harmonized with the general color scheme. A hugh birthday cake, built in three tiers was decorated with candles and also the name of the lodge.

Lunch was served at twelve and the rest of the time devoted to dancing.

Elks Meet Friday

Secretary Austad of the local Elks lodge announces that a meeting of the order will be held Friday evening, April 20. All members are urged to attend as it will be a gathering of more than usual interest. It will be the first meeting under the leadership of Exalted Ruler Connell and will include the announcement of committees and the discussion of various matters of importance.

HOME TALENT PLAY TO BE PRESENTED BY LEGION AUXILIARY

Will Take Place at Auditorium Tuesday Evening, April 24; No Matinee

Entertainment of an unusual nature will be afforded the people of this city and vicinity next Tuesday evening, April 24, at the city auditorium. The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will present a home talent play entitled "The Womanless Wedding," which is being directed by Mrs. Hodgson of Crookston, an Auxiliary worker experienced in this type of work. The play is decidely humorous in nature and between acts there will be a number of vaudeville stunts, musical numbers, dances and various other performances.

Among the special features of the entertainment will be several vocal solos by Carl Sundahl and Roy Prytz. The accompaniment is being played by Mrs. Clarence Erickson.

Horien Home Near Holt Is Destroyed by Blaze

Another damaging blaze in this community was reported last week when fire completely destroyed the residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Horien and owned by H. B. Young Wednesday afternoon at Holt. The fire is believed to have been started by an over-heated stove.

Mr. Horien was not feeling well and went home in the afternoon, built a fire in the stove, laid down and went to sleep. He was awakened by the flames and the fire had gained such headway that he was unable to check it. A crowd gathered around the burning building, but could do nothing to put out the fire, as the house was too far from the fire station.

A table and two chairs are all that were saved. In trying to get out a dresser, Mr. Horien cut his hand quite badly in the window glass.

Mrs. Horien and child were visiting at a neighbor's home when the fire began.

The building was covered by insurance, but the household goods are a total loss.

Reports Show City Church Made Fine Record for Year

Rev. Charles Gerlinger, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, attended the annual meeting of the Adams Presbytery held at Hallock Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The conference was attended by about 15 pastors and a number of elders from congregations throughout this northwestern part of the state. Among the features of the meeting was an address by Dr. William Steckel, pastor of the Merriam Park Presbyterian church of St. Paul.

Reports were made by the pastors of the various congregations represented and very satisfactory results of the past year's work were noted.

The report of the Thief River Falls congregation shows an increase of 25 new members, making a total membership of 175. Enrollment in the Sunday school is recorded to be 167, and the membership of the Christian Endeavor society, the young people's organization, is about 60.

In view of the existing financial conditions of the past year, the reports of the various organizations within the church were very gratifying.

The officers of the local church are as follows: Ruling elders, H. W. Kinghorn, E. O. Green, Albert Johnson, F. F. Haynes and O. L. Cronstrom; trustees, F. F. Haynes, chairman; A. Jardine, H. M. Rhodes, E. O. Mogensen and G. M. Wilson.

Middle River Bank Closed

The Security State Bank of Middle River was ordered closed by the state banking department Friday due to depleted reserves. The bank was reported to have a capital of $10,000 and a surplus of $8,000. The officers of the bank are O. Sjoberg, president; R. S. Sjoberg, vice president; E. P. Modin, cashier; and L. H. Olson, assistant cashier.

WOOL GROWERS TO FORM LOCAL ORGANIZATION

Meeting Will be Held at Commercial Club Rooms Thursday Afternoon April 26

J. H. Hay Coming to Address Meeting And Assist Farmers In Carrying Out Plans

All Farmers in Pennington and Adjoining Counties Are Urged to Attend

A meeting with the purpose of organizing a Wool Grower's association in Pennington county will be held at the Commercial club rooms next Thursday afternoon, April 26, at 2 o'clock. There is at present no organization of this kind in the county and it is thought by many sheep raisers that there would be great advantages in such an enterprise to promote the raising of sheep.

J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture of this state, formerly superintendent of the Thief River Falls schools, will be present at the meeting to discuss the marketing features of sheep while the various phases of the raising of the woolbearers will be treated by a specialist from the University of Minnesota. Both will without a doubt prove of much interest to the farmers of this community as they are both men with a valuable message. Mr. Hay is well known thruout this section for promoting projects aiding the farmers of the community, and has made a careful study of many of the problems confronting the producer of today. All farmers in any way interested in this profit-making part of farming are urged to be present at the meeting next week.

FARMER LOSES HAND WHEN CAUGHT IN SAW

Leon Lindobeja, Smiley Farmer, Gets Right Hand Cut by Circle Saw; Amputated at Wrist

Leon Lindobeja of Smiley township, son of Peter Lindobeja of Kratka, lost his right hand yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock while operating a circle saw.

He was helping his brother, Walter, saw out some material for eveners and was at the end of the timber pushing it toward the saw. When the piece was nearly cut the log slipped thru suddenly and his hand, which was pressing against the end, struck the revolving blade and was cut off diagonally just above the thumb, leaving the little finger still attached. The intensity of the pain caused him to become almost frantic and prevented his brother from leaving him until medical assistance arrived. Dr. H. W. Froehlich was called by telephone about 2:30 and arrived at 5:00 o'clock. In the intervening time the injured man lost much blood.

Mr. Lindobeja was brought to the Physicians hospital in this city and the hand amputated at the wrist.

Former Local Woman Leaves For Philippines to Teach

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril King, who have been visiting at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Schmitz, left today for Spokane, Wash., on their way to the Philippine Islands. Mrs. King, who was formerly Miss Frances Schmitz, graduated from the local high school with the class of 1910. She was also graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1914 and has since been located on the western coast the greater part of the time. Mr. and Mrs. King have both accepted positions as instructors in the English department of an American high school in the Philippines and expect to remain on the islands for a period of two years. They will sail from Seattle on the "President McKinley" on May 2. Before leaving the states they will visit with Mr. King's folks at Spokane and will also stop off at various other points on their way.

Mrs. King visited in the city since Easter while her husband arrived later.

Poland China Breeders Of County Met Last Saturday

The Poland China Breeders of Pennington county met in the Farm Bureau office Saturday afternoon to arrange for boys and girls club work and exhibits at the county fair. About a dozen members were present.

C. A. Fuller of Mavie and James Dreeland of Wylie, in order to create additional interest in hog raising in this community, announce that they will allow boys and girls who take care of a pig, provided by them, until fall when they will be sold at a general sale, will receive half of the sale price. The boy or girl having the best pig will be awarded the full amount for which it is sold. It is expected that a large number of the young folks of the county will take advantage of this offer. Mr. Fuller is president of the organization.

Smiley Farmer Sick Four Days Dies of Brain Fever

Silas Syverson of Smiley township died in this city Monday, cause of death being basal meningitis or brain fever following influenza. Mr. Syverson became ill Thursday forenoon and was taken to the Swedenburg hospital here at noon. He died at 11:05 Monday morning. He had been affected with headaches occasionally but otherwise had been of good health all his life.

Mr. Syverson was born west of this city March, 1855 and moved to Smiley in 1918 with his three brothers.

He is survived by four sisters; Mrs. S. T. Johnson, Mrs. Jerry Kelly and Miss Belle Syverson of this city and Mrs. J. N. Anderson of Pomeroy, Washington, and three brothers; Dan Nels, and Theodore, who live on the farm which the four brothers owned.

Funeral services will be held from the chapel at the Larson Undertaking parlors Sunday, and interment made at the Hegland cemetery.

Seed Distributed

Nearly two carloads of sugar beet seed and phosphate fertilizer have been unloaded and distributed among the farmers of Pennington county this week. The distribution is being supervised by County Agent J. J. McCann and judging by the amount of seed taken by farmers thruout the community there will be hundreds of carloads shipped out in the fall.

Telephone At Postoffice

Postmaster Daniel Shaw had a telephone installed in the postoffice this week for the convenience of the public. Inquiries regarding mail will be answered if the party calling is known to the clerk answering the phone but it is contrary to the rules and regulations to give any information unless the clerk is positive as to the identity of the person calling. If the people use judgement in the use of this telephone service it can become a splendid feature but improper use and abuse of the privilege can easily bring about a discontinuance of it.

RURAL SCHOOLS OF COUNTY TO COMPETE IN MANY CONTESTS

Sectional Play Days Begin This Week at Erie. Preparing For County Next June 2

A series of Play Days in the rural schools in Pennington county will begin tomorrow, according to announcement made by the recreational committee of the Teachers' Progressive League.

These play days, one of which will be held in each of the 13 sections of the county, were inaugurated here last year and have as a purpose the creation of increased interest in physical culture in the rural schools. Much enthusiasm was aroused last season in this recreational project and this year still greater results are expected, the pupils and teachers being familiar with the work and a county meet being planned for the sectional winners.

This type of recreational work is now being carried on by a large number of the counties of the state and very satisfactory results are noted. Greater interest is being taken in building up the body as well as the mind.

The sectional meets will be attended by O. R. Sande, county superintendent of schools, who will be assisted by the teachers of the districts taking part and other members of the teaching force of the county. The program for the day will include a large variety of playground games and contests. Volley ball, baseball and relay races will also be featured. The necessary equipment will be brought by the county superintendent in cases where the districts have not already provided such supplies. On the sectional play day in the individual contests scores will be kept and the two pupils having the highest score in all the events shall represent that section in a county contest which will be held in Thief River Falls on June 2. In the games of volley ball and relay race the team showing the greatest proficiency will represent their respective section. At the county contest two teams, one team representing the east and another the west end of the county, will be selected to play in the finals.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich of this city has awarded a prize of five dollars to be given to the best all around athlete in the schools of the county.

The contestants will be arranged according to the following classes: A, boys under 12; B, girls under 12, boys from 12 to 16, girls from 12 to 16, girls from 12 to 16, and teachers.

Each class will compete in the following events: Standing broad jump, dash of various distances, running broad jump, pennant relay race, chinning contest, potato race, high jump, sack race, three legged race and volley ball.

Schedule of Meetings.

No matinee performance of the "Womanless Wedding" will be given Tuesday afternoon, as formerly announced. It will be presented only in the evening, at the city auditorium.

ENGELSTAD RECEIVES BIGGEST CHECK EVER PAID BY CREAMERY

Cream For Month of March Brings Total of $409.37. Others Receive Big Checks

The fifty-dollar patrons of the Thief River Falls Co-operative creamery during the month of March this year are nearly double in number compared with last year, according to report submitted by secretary T. H. Bjerke. In 1922 those who received checks amounting to $50 or more numbered 47 while the report for March this year shows 82 on the list. This is an increase of twenty compared with the preceding month.

During the past month the local creamery handled about 19,000 pounds of butterfat on the regular monthly plan, for which was paid fifty cents for common cream and a premium of three cents for sweet cream, making a total sum paid to patrons in this way $9,822.57. In addition there was also a cash business of $6,456.39 making a total of $16,278.96, a splendid showing for the month. March, 1922, the total paid to patrons was $14,432.30, the increase being due to the difference in butterfat prices.

P. Englestad again heads the list of "big check" getters with a total of $409.37 received for cream and milk during March, the largest monthly returns for any one patron of the creamery. Mr. Engelstad's check for the previous month was $279.79 while in 1922 he received only $276.31 during March, showing an increase of nearly $130 over last year. Hans Anton retains second place with a check of $282.97 followed by K. Ystesund, $222.53, and Jens Kierk $205.50.

This increase is indicative of the progress of dairying in this community. A large number of the farmers are enlarging their herds or securing better breeds, assuring themselves of greater returns.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETIES WILL MEET

Young People of Presbyterian Churches Will Convene Here Next Week, April 27-29.

All the Christian Endeavor societies in Northwestern Minnesota will assemble in their annual convention this year at Thief River Falls, April 27-29. The convention will be held in the Presbyterian church and will be in charge of the Intermediate and Senior societies of that church.

Friday evening, April 27, will be the opening meeting, followed by sessions all day Saturday, a banquet on Saturday evening besides a public meeting, a sunrise prayer meeting on Sunday morning, Sunday school and church service, an afternoon vesper service, and a large closing meeting Sunday evening. Addresses and conferences on methods will be given by various Northern Minnesota pastors and state Christian Endeavor workers. The local societies have decided to invite the young people of all the churches in Thief River Falls to share in this conference on young people's work.

Committees are already working on plans to make the convention as successful as possible. Miss Minnie Leavitt is in general charge with the following people in charge of committees: Bert Umland, decorations; Miss Ariel Kinghorn, banquet; Keith Craik, reception; Mrs. C. M. Haug and Mrs. F. E. Hunt, registration; Craig Halvorson, social events; Miss Eileen Arneson, music; Henry Vorlicky, publicity.

Local Students Partake in District Commercial Contests at Crookston

East Grand Forks high school students made a clean sweep in the district high school contests in commercial subjects held at Crookston Saturday, winning high honors in all three classes of competition. It was the first contest of its kind held in the state. Representatives from seven high schools entered in competition in elementary typewriting, advanced typewriting and shorthand. The schools represented were Crookston, East Grand Forks, Argyle, Ada, Fosston, Warren and Thief River Falls.

Those who represented the local high school were: Olive Lonson and Herbert Johnson, typewriting, and Harriet Morgan, shorthand. Although they were not winners of high honors they made a creditable showing, the local commercial department receiving a high rating among the schools in the district.

STOCKHOLDERS VOTE AGAINST CHEESE PLANT

Majority Decides That Conditions Do Not Warrant Expanding at This Time

About Sixty-Five Farmers Attended Meeting. Decisive Vote of 30 to 18

All Patrons of Creamery Will Hereafter Pay One Cent Per Pound For Sinking Fund

The stockholders of the Thief River Co-operative Creamery association at a meeting the Commercial club rooms last Saturday decided against the proposed building of a cheese factory as an additional part of the present plant. The new enterprise was voted down by a decisive vote of 18 to 30. Quite a large number of the members of the association were in attendance, there being about 65 farmers present at the opening session in the forenoon.

A rather lengthy discussion for and against the cheese factory plan preceeded the final vote on the proposition. The merits and possibilities of a factory were interestingly discussed by Mr. Baumgartner, state food and dairy inspector from St. Paul. He is a cheese expert and explained fully the expense and possibilities connected with the construction of a plant for putting out this product. Mr. Baumgartner stated that he would not suggest much expenditure on any enlargement of the plant in the present building which will not withstand several more years of service. He also stressed on co-operation and the patronizing of home industries. "The producers of this community will benefit themselves in large measure if they build up a strong local cooperative institution," he stated.

The reasons for turning down the cheese factory plan were chiefly that the stockholders felt that an enlargement of the plant would not be advisable under the present conditions but judging by the expression of many the idea will undoubtedly be revived when a new creamery is erected. With the increasing volume of business carried on by the association the present facilities of the creamery are taxed practically to the limit. Another point against the new enterprise was the fact that there are not enough cows within easy hauling distance, was expressed by some.

The only other business acted upon by those present at the meeting Saturday was the adoption of a change in the by-laws of the organization to the effect that stockholders as well as non-stockholders be charged one cent per pound which will go into the sinking fund. This increases the tax upon the former one half cent. The meeting was in the charge of S. E. Hunt, president of the association.

Minneapolitans Will Visit This City on Trade Tour

According to the itinerary completed last week, Thief River Falls will be among the cities visited by the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association on the regular 1923 trade tour. The invasion of the northern part of Minnesota by more than 150 business men from the mill city will take place the week of May 21, the tourists, according to present plans, to be in this city on the 23d. As a compromise between the jobbers and bankers, who wanted the range territory covered, and the grain men, who wanted northwestern territory entered, it was decided to make the itinerary accomplish both.

Among the municipalities visited Monday, May 21, will be Melrose, Sauk Center, Alexandria and Fergus Falls; Tuesday, Barnesville, Ada, Crookston, Warren and Thief River Falls; Wednesday, Red Lake Falls, Fertile, Twin Valley, Lake Park, Detroit and Wadena; Thursday, Park Rapids, Akeley, Grand Rapids, Walker, Bemidji and Cass Lake; Friday, the Mesaba range cities; Saturday, Cloquet, Carlton and Moose Lake.

Christenson Funeral at Fertile Saturday, Apr. 14

L. P. Christenson, Thief River Falls business man who passed away at the home of his brother, G. M. Christianson of Fertile, on Monday, April 9, was buried at Fertile Saturday. The funeral services took place from the English Lutheran church, the rites being read by Rev. Osmond Johnson. Interment was made in the Pleasant Hill cemetery, where his parents are buried.

Mr. Christenson was born Sept. 22, 1867, in Christiania, Norway, and immigrated to the United States with his parents at the age of two years. For some time the Christenson family made their home in Fillmore county, until they moved to Fertile.

Mr. Christenson was engaged in business in Fertile for a few years previous to his moving to Thief River Falls about 16 years ago. He had conducted the place known as the Stockholm and operated the Mint, of which he was the owner at the time of his death.

The only close relative surviving is G. M. Christianson of Fertile, but several more distant kin, namely, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Oien of Hannaford, N. D., Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Russel of Superior, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Huseth of Greenbush, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Christenson of Crookston, Miss Effie Christenson of Madison, Wis., Lowell and Verna Christenson of Fertile, Minn.

COMMONSENSE HOME TREATMENT FOR HEAD AND CHEST COLDS

Get from your druggist a twenty-five cent jar of Muco-Solvent Salve, the ingredients of which are used by physicians constantly. Melt a little in a spoon and inhale the fumes. This will clear the head instantly and the vapors will soothe and heal the inflamed membranes of the upper respiratory tract.

If cold is in chest and deep seated, go to bed and stay there. Take a good laxative. Rub Muco-Solvent thickly on chest and cover with warm flannel. Arrange bed clothes so that patient will breathe the vapors that arise. Apply the salve up each nostril and breathe deeply.

Tomorrow morning you will be like a new person. If not, call a doctor, because it is possible for a cold that can't be broken with this treatment to turn into pneumonia in an hour.

Cutting the Costs

THE FARMERS of the 10 Middle Western States served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are fast becoming the most important consumers of gasoline.

The gasoline tractor has vastly lowered the cost of crop production and the motor truck has come to render a similar service by lowering the cost of delivery. It enables the farmer to deliver his products to nearby cities when the market is advantageous.

To indicate how motor truck farm haulage is increasing, it is interesting to note that—

Farm products hauled by motor transport in 1922 equaled 184,400,000 tons.

Sixty-eight hundred head of hogs — valued at $200,000 — were delivered in one day from 500 motor trucks to the Stock Yards at Indianapolis, Indiana.

St. Joseph, Missouri — receives about 2500 head of cattle daily by motor truck.

Detroit, Michigan—is supplied daily with 18,570 gallons of milk by the same method of transportation.

The figures above are just a few high spots picked at random from an analysis of facts published by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has long realized that motor power meant increased production of foods, greater profit to the farmer and lower living costs to the consumer.

Therefore, in building up its vast network of distribution this Company has kept constantly in mind the public demands from farming centers in locating its bulk storage depots for gasoline and lubricating oils.

In this way the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been able to anticipate the farmers' needs in marketing his products from farm to city.

On every heavily traveled highway the Company has found a way to have its products on sale, so that no matter how remote from towns he may be, the motor truck driver always finds a dependable supply of fuel and lubricants convenient to his need.

And yet, gasoline is low in price throughout the 10 Middle Western states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Well Dressed American Women

American women have the reputation of being the best dressed women in the world.

This is as true of the wife whose husband earns but a very moderate income as it is of the wealthy woman.

American women recognize that a dress need not be expensive to be attractive. A dress that costs but a few dollars can be as stylish in cut and as becoming as expensive models. Our women have the "knack" of selecting what is becoming.

Our New York buyers have created an enviable reputation among women for the charm and always stylish lines which make our displays so delightful.

THE 1923 LEGISLATURE

The session of the Legislature just closed can hardly be pointed to with pride. Few if any measures worthy of commendation were passed. Some, proclaimed as beneficial, will fall short when tested by the experience of coming years, and prove like so often in the past, political moves for the purpose of catching votes.

The Rural Credit bill certainly cannot be credited to the present session. The enabling act was passed in 1921, and the mandate of the people at the last session left no choice for the legislature. Whether it has passed a workable law remains to be seen.

One thing is certain and that is that altogether too much time was wasted on trivial measures, and it looks like many of the moves were deliberate attempts to prevent meritorious measures from getting a chance. The Rural Credit bill should have been passed and put into operation so that the hard pressed farmers could have availed themselves of the advantage for the spring seeding. They were certainly entitled to this encouragement under the adverse conditions they are laboring and it might have saved a few of them for the farms that need them badly.

The session has been characteristic by a lack of organization by any group. It points out the weakness in our method of electing members of the legislature on a no-party basis. Instead of two or three groups, each with a definite program, we have a conglomerate of members, each one with a bunch of petty measures to pass, and the result is an endless number of bills to crowd the calendar and important measures are lost in the jam. Members should be limited in the number of bills they can introduce and a definite time prescribed for every step in the progress of the bill from its introduction to its passage. In that way the calendar would be kept clean and many ill-advised bills would not slip past the last day.

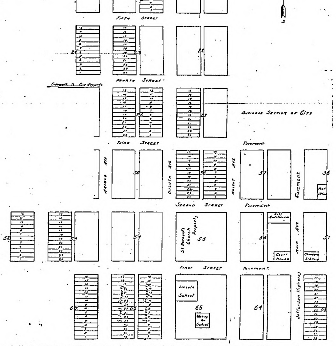
40 Splendid City Lots



All lots indicated by heavy lines in the above chart will be offered for sale on April 30.

Own a lot this spring, so that you can build or make a garden. MOST OF THE LOTS HAVE ALL MODERN IMPROVEMENTS.

Water, sewer, light, telephone in front of the property, with only a few exceptions, and all are in the heart of our city, in the ORIGINAL TOWNSITE, and near the postoffice, court house, high school, and the business section of our city.

The only real home is the owned home. A home is the most valuable of all material possessions. It has a greater influence on life and character and a greater bearing upon success than anything that can be bought with money.

Home ownership provides shelter for old age. It cements family ties.

It is not a SPECULATION or a GAMBLE, to be lost or stolen. It is an investment. Your neighbor's home improves your home. As the family is the unit of society, each should have its home.

THE TERMS OF THE SALE WILL BE EASY—WITHIN REACH OF ALL

One-fourth of the purchase price at the sale, and the balance to suit the purchaser in monthly payments, interest at eight per cent per annum, payable annually, on the balance from time to time remaining unpaid, and running up to three years: If you wish other terms, submit them to me before the sale.

Sale Starts at Corner 4th Street and Arnold Ave.
Starts on Corner Lots, at 1:00 P. M.

The Riverside Garage Property, between the bridge and Bottelson's store, will be sold at this sale.

The auction way is the fair way. It is the AMERICAN way. Lots will be sold singly or in pairs, to suit the bidders. CASH PREMIUMS WILL BE GIVEN BIDDERS AT THIS SALE.

Lest We Forget

In the past five six weeks periods you students have been building up, perfecting and making your constructive speeches. Now, you are ready for the rebuttals and you are the ones to decide whether you can refute or whether the faculty will..

Spring is here with its delightful April Showers, and May flowers, but "lest we forget" we have not yet sufficiently finished the Book of Learning to receive a ticket to the Drama of life.

You, eighty-one Seniors, especially should take heed. You are the ones who receive the tickets this year and you are the students who must be successful in your rebuttals and not let the faculty vanquish you with failures.

Spring! Spring!

Spring has at last arrived and with it the radient glory of the April sun. Now is the time that the student has the longing to be out in the glory of mother nature. As yet this has not been very effective, but with the coming days more and more of these students will be out when school would be the best place for them.

Last spring a large number of students were out of school for reasons too numerous to mention, the main reason being lack of interest in school. These boys and some girls (quite a few in fact) faced the high school teachers and came to an agreement and this being still in effect the number will undoubtedly be reduced this year. The agreement was that double time was to be made up after school for the periods that the student was playing hookey.

Playing "hookey" is going to be eliminated from the program of the school this season and it will go hard on those students who take advantage of nature's urgent call.

When we stop think of it, is it playing fair to stay away from school for no good reason? After spending from eight to ten years of your life in school haven't you come to realize the advantage that school is bringing to you? When you stop to think of it the question arises as to why are you going to school; the answer is that you are attending school to make something of yourself. Are you making anything of yourself if you are playing hookey and being absent from school?

Lets give this question lots of thought and try to play fair with ourselves and our school this spring. We give the teachers so much to worry about that in some of these little things we should try and be on the square.

Commencement Songs

The boys' and girls' glee clubs are working hard on new music for commencement. The senior octette will also render some selection which they at present are practicing. The orchestra is also preparing to offer their best for the exercises to take place May 25.

Former Grade Student Writes From California

Theodora Bakken daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Bakken, of the fifth grade, Washington building wrote this very interesting letter about her recent trip to California. The Bakken family now resides at Los Angeles. The letter is as follows:

523 No. Coronado,
Los Angeles, Calif.,
April 4, 1923.

My dear Teacher and Schoolmates:

As I promised to write and tell you of our trip and how I like it here I will now do so. We left Thief River Falls, Saturday night, March 3rd. We reached Minneapolis early Sunday morning, where we visited with my aunts and cousins. Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock we left Minneapolis on our way to California. We reached Des Moines, Iowa at midnight. The next morning at nine o'clock we arrived in Kansas City.

In Colorado we first saw the mountains, and for two days and nights we traveled continually through the mountains. At one time we were one and one fourth miles above sea level. We also passed through two tunnels. The mountains were very beautiful. Green sage-brush grew on the mountain slopes, while the mountain-tops were snow-covered. We saw the Snowy Range near Trinidad, Colorado. were just mud huts.

In Albuquerque, New Mexico, we visited the Indian Building. There were many wonderful things to see there. There was beading work, baskets and pottery, that the Indians made, also very beautiful rugs. They had miniature Indian Villages and idols on display. Old Indian women sat outside selling baskets, and pottery.

Friday morning early we passed the petrified forest in Arizona and a little later we crossed the Canyon Diablo (Devil's Canyon) which is about five hundred feet wide and more than two hundred feet at the point where it is crossed by the railway. We also went around the seven mile curve. When we looked out of the car window, we could see the engine of our train. Many times along the way the railroad track was level with the telephone wires, and somethics we were above them. We went through a desert in Arizona, and saw many large cactuses in bloom. We also saw the San Francisco Mts. near Flagstaff, Arizona. Friday evening we crossed the Colorado River, just before entering Needles, the first town to be reached, after entering the state of California.

Saturday morning we were up very early and enjoying all the beautiful scenery along the way. There were snow-covered mountains on either side, and the large orange and lemon orchards. The trees were just filled with fruit. We certainly enjoyed the trip from beginning to end. It hardly seemed real coming out of the cold and snow of Minnesota, and into sunny California. We reached Los Angeles at 8:05 Saturday morning, March 10th, so we have been here three weeks and five days.

We like it very much out here. It is so nice and warm. Last Wednesday it was 90 degrees above. The nights and mornings are real cool. Every day since we came here has been bright and sunny, until Saturday and Sunday it has rained a little bit. The trees and the grasses are nice and green, and flowers are in bloom everywhere.

Now I must close, hoping to hear from you real soon.

Lovingly,
Theodora Bakken.

PUBLIC SPEAKERS MAKE DEBUT WED.

Russel Anderson, Ernest Barzen, Ruth Knutson and Senior Octette Entertain

The first of three programs to be put on by the students in Public Speaking was held Wednesday. It was in the three parts; the first of which was a reading by Ruth Knutson, entitled, "The Cyclopedy" the second, a talk on "School Loyalty" by Ernest Barzen and third, two songs, by the senior boys' octette. Russel Anderson officiated as chairman.

Russel Anderson opened the program with a few words about public speaking in general. He emphasized that in order to become a proficient public speaker one must learn to know people; and that in learning what people want, one acquires one of the most important essentials to becoming a successful public speaker. He announced that two more programs by the public speaking class will follow.

The reading, "The Cyclopedy" by Ruth Knutson, was given in an excellent manner, and showed the evidences of careful preparation. The reading abounds in delightful humor, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who heard it.

Ernest Barzen, in talking on "School Loyalty" divided his speech into three main divisions, namely, "Loyalty to the school," "Loyalty to the individual" and "Loyalty to the coach." If the student has no school loyalty, how can anyone expect the school as a wholee to b exceptionally successful schools, he said, go to the top in scholastic achievement and in inter-school contests because of the intense feeling of loyalty of every individual in that school. In this se cited the showing made by some schools as evidence of the individual's aid in making good for his school. In inter-school contests, he made it clear that the coach alone cannot assure success, however able he or she may be. It is the spirit of the entire school that makes for a winning team. "Some think," he said, "that the team is responsible for losing games and contests; but some schools are highly successful in whatever school activity they enter, which is proof of the effects of wholesome school spirit. Our school, " he emphasized, "has just as good material as any other school, but has not a student body which backs it."

The last number on the program, two songs by the senior boys' octette, was heartily applauded.

Normal Training Exhibit

This past week-end an exhibit of handwork has been on display at the Teachers Training Department in the Washington building. This exhibition has been made up of work taken from the different departments in the state, and exhibited at the State Fair last fall. Since then it has been traveling about the state for the benefit of the Training Departments in the various towns. Aong the things exhibited were posters, booklets of various types, seat-work devices, sewing, paintings, drawings, and articles made in Manual training, as well as many other useful and interesting things. In spite of the disagreeable weather Saturday, a great many people visited the Teacher Training rooms, especially the teachers from the city and rural schools. Everyone seemed to agree that the exhibit was well worth seeing.

After an illness of five weeks Cora Sund has returned to school.

Special To Progress

Lincoln High School, April 28: The first team vied with the Junior class team and vanquished them by a score of 36 to 14 this afternoon. The Interclass champions challenged the first team but soon found out their mistake. The game, was even up during the first quarter, but after that it was a walkaway for the first team. A real thrill was furnished the onlookers in the third quarter, when Charles Heron shot a clear basket from a sitting position on the floor.

Senior Basketball Team Books Three Games

Manager Vorlicky, of the Senior baseball team has already booked three games, one with the Smith-Hughes mechanics, and two with Argyle. Dates have not been set yet, as they will influenced by weather conditions and school activities. Workouts will commence this week as soon as the ground dries up. The prospective pitchers have been out "warming up" before going into actual playing.

Owing to the short playing season only a limited number of games can be played, a few good dates are still open. First come, first served.

Prospective Teachers Explain Work of Dept.

The normal girls gave an especially interesting chapel last Wednesday. The purpose of the program was to arouse the desire of the seniors to take the normal course next year.

The first number of the program was a group of songs by the sixth grade of the Washington school. The first song was two part work and the last two had three parts. They were directed by Miss Johnson, who announced that these songs were a part of their regular school work in music.

Clara Ostmoe was chairman of the program. She began the entertainment with a short talk on the purpose of the chapel. She then introduced the first speaker Nomie Pederson who spoke on the "Academic Subjects—How and when to teach." The next speaker was Mildred Loftness who gave an interesting talk on "Grade Teaching." The following talk on "Rural School Practice" by Louise Besancon was much enjoyed. Florentine Hance spoke on the Social Activities. She told of the organization of their T. N. T. club and explained that this did not mean that they were highly explosive but it had a secret meaning. The following speaker Annie Peterson gave the benefits of the other subjects such as music, handwork and drawing, agriculture, nature and library. The last speaker of the girls was Alice Berg who described the various styles of story telling. The two forms were 1. Those for giving information. 2. Those that were purely nonsense. She then told a story called "Foolish Fred," and kept the entire assembly enthralled thoughout. The last talk was given by Miss Kirk and gave a few facts and announcements concerning the management and enrollment of the department of next year.

The program was carried on very successfully and was one of the best chapel periods we have had this year.

Faculty Entertained

The members of the high school faculty were the guests of the Misses Maude L. Johnson, Ruth Johnson, Miss Katherine MacNair, and Miss Mildred Thompson, at a party last Thursday evening.

JUNIORS CHAMPS IN CLASS BASKETBALL

Fast Sophomore Quint Defeated by Heavier Juniors in Finals Friday 15-13

They started off with a snap and a bang. The Sophomores began the scoring by making a free throw. The Juniors seemed slow in going down the floor and didn't seem to get any place. The Sophs took advantage of this and ran the score up to eleven almost before the Juniors started their scoring. In the second quarter the Juniors finally got a going before the half was over had almost tied the score. In the second half it was only a zigzag. One team forging ahead and then the other. It was anybodies game from the start to finish but when the final whistle blew the Juniors were in the lead by a score of 14-11. Sether starred for the Juniors, while Olson starred for the Sophomores.

This is the last of the series of class games. The Juniors by defeating the Sophs walked off with first honors. The Sophs came second, Smith-Hughes third, Seniors fourth and the Freshman last.

The class games this year were by far the most interesting compared with previous years. The attendance alone will show this, for at every game there was a large crowd.

Mr. Bye to be Lincoln Principal Next Year

A successor to Mr. M. P. Rapacz was appointed last Monday by the Board. Mr. Morris Bye, a graduate of Concordia college at Moorhead was selected.

Mr. Bye came here last semester from York, North Dakota, to fill the vacancy left by Miss Stavig.

Mr. Rapacz, the principal for the past two years, intends to re-enter the University of Minnesota and take a post graduate course and will work a Ph. D. degree.

With the Students

Harriet Morgan, Olive Lonson, Herbert Johnson, and Miss Miller returned Saturday morning from Crookston, where they took part in the district typewriting and shorthand contest.

Harriet says, "I'm just recovering from the shock."

Signa Krossen, a freshman, returned to school Monday morning after having been ill from the flu.

Frances Ohm left Monday morning for Warren to secure medical attention from Dr. Bratrud. He has been ill for some time having spent the previous week also at Warren.

Mrs. Korstad was absent on Monday because of illness. Mrs. Gerlinger acted as substitute during her absence.

Lucile says she's changed her plan of becoming a chemist after having had a look at her last six weeks test mark.

Alice Zavoral returned to school on Monday, after a four weeks recuperation from an appendicitis operation.

Latest news of "Sweater Do"—Lydia Dahlen's invested in a gray one.

A new class in chemistry is to be organized now. Only those who have below seventy in their last exams are eligible for membership. A chairman for the membership committee has already been selected.

Miss Josephine Jahr visited school last week with her cousin Alice Jahr who is a member of the Senior class.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS JOIN IN MERRYMAKING

Special Reporter Sees Strange Assortment of Stunts, Kiddy-Kar Races, Clothes-Pin Relays, and Auto Polo at Sons of Norway Hall Saturday Evening.

SPECIAL "NOOS ATOM" RELEASED

They was a H. S. party for all them as can't dance on Saturday night. So I went. I brought a 25 cents to let me in and as I was morally bound to get that much fun out of it I made it a point thru out the entire evening. At 8:30 I came in a body with my young friends. Then the fun began. When I arrove on the scenery they were involved in a whoop contest in which each contestunt went thru a whoop off a bairl if possible and passed it on to the party on the right, the side which went thru their whoop the soonest being, the winners. In the case of the senyers vs. the fakilty the ladder captured the price in spite of a no. of tite squeezes who I had best not menshun them in these colyums.

Miss Bauman had sumthing clever up her sleef which she pulled off. A no. of girls were asked to form a circle around said Miss Bauman who then swang a rope with a bean bag on the other end which made the girls jump like they had saw a mouse or sumthing. Those that don't jump soon noticed their mistake and were born off the field of action by their loving friends. A little music seemed appropriate at this junction so Pearl Weeks was prodoosed, and there was not a dry eye in the room. After the applause had resided, Mr. Rapacz stated there would be a being match in which 2 girls would compete vs. a equal am't of boys. Herbert Johnson and Clifton Connor extinquished themselfs for bravery by volunteering 1st thing, but it was sum time before the femail faction appeared (girls are funny the way they can always keep people waiting but when they didn't show up Mr. Rapacz rose to the occashun by announcing sum low life had broke into the dressing-rm. and stole their close making it almost impossible for the poor creatures to meet their opponunts as skedooled. It is funny how sum peopl have got a reel talent forspoiling a good time as for inst. a price fite in which we were all anshus to see how would it turn out would the girls use their usual weapons in the form of rolling pins, pin cushons, piano stools, or etc. Mr. Rapacz broke the awkward paws with 4 kiddy cars. A race resulted in which the 4 classes took part the senyers coming out 4th place which was to be expected their branes being in their head not their ft. The kiddy cars were still in a fair condishun so were used in a game of otto polo with different kids on them this time including Messrs. Powley and Pope vs. two Jr. boys. This proved the scream of the P. X. and anybody coming in on the flyer just then with a view of locating here I bet went out on same "flyer" upon hearing the noise from the sons of Norway. I don't know who had such a fine time before—they reminded me of the first day I saw a mud turtle I mite have been a nervous wreck but just at this junction I saw the ball coming 60 miles per, and the next thing I saw was the zodine. After the clapshun of some tire sounds of the Angel Choir were borne to my ears, but it was only Marion Hilden playing a selection from Chopin or sumbody while the others marched to the kitchen where refreshments were being disposed of in a surprising manner by Mr. Bye. The meal consisted of ice cream garnished by nuts and cake in which some raisins had been left. A very clever seating arrangement had been worked out to avoid the usual stag and hen parties which generally develope during the refreshment period. The femails marched out of one stage door and the mails out of the other, taking each other as they came, the results in some cases being both amusing and pathetic as in the case of my partner whose appetite was so deeply affected he ate both our slabs of cake. Mr. Rapacz was standing in the door way when I left so I told him what a charming hostess he had been and asked for the receipt for the cake like my mother always does when she wants to be polite.

"Jumbo Jum" at Lyceum Friday and Saturday

The Junior class of the Lincoln high school will present 'Jumbo Jum" at the Lyceum theatre on Friday and Saturday, April 20 and 21.

"Jumbo Jum" which is a one act comedy will be given to help the Juniors put across the Junior-Senior banquet. The play is under the direction of Miss Thompson, advisor of the Junior class.

The cast have worked hard for several weeks in order to perfect the play and it merits the support of the theatre going public.

Class Play Changed

After considering every angle it was decided that, from the viewpoint of the public and the students, a more pleasing presentation could be given in the selection "Come Out of the Kitchen," by A. E. Thomas. The personel remains the same except for the addition of one more character, Craig Halvorson.

Junior-Senior Banquet Postponed One Week

The Junior-Senior banquet, scheduled for April 27, has been postponed to Saturday, May 5 because of the Northwestern Minnesota Christian Endeavor Convention which is to be held in this city April 26, 27 and 28.

This meeting for the Chrisian Endeavor Convention will have a banquet on the date previously decided for the Junior-Senior affair and it was thought best to prevent this conflict.

The next high school dance will be held at the auditorium on April 27. To this dance will be invited the alumni of Lincoln high school. We take this opportunity of inviting the alumni through the columns of our paper. This dance, like our preceding ones, should be a rousing success, so let everyone pass the word along. A four-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Charles Gambell of the class of '19 is now attending the University of California at Santa Anna.

Hickory Resident Dies After Lingering Illness

O. C. Swanson, a farmer residing in Hickory township, died at a Crookston hospital Monday morning, the cause of his demise being cancer of the stomach, from which he had suffered for some time. He had been confined to the hospital in Crookston for about six weeks. His wife was unable to be at his bedside at the time of his death.

Mr. Swanson came to Pennington county at the opening of the Indian reservation in the eastern part of the county in 1904, residing in Deer Park township for a short time previous to his homesteading in Hickory. He operated a farm near the Red Lake river and also was engaged in threshing in that community several seasons. About five years ago he moved with his family to Fisher, where he stayed a short while and then moved again, this time to the iron range. From there the family returned to Hickory last fall, having made their home with Mr. Swanson's brother, Sam, the past winter. Deceased was 48 years of age at the time of his death.

To mourn his death are his widow and four children, the youngest of whom is an infant baby. A grown son, Fred, is said to be in Montana. He is also survived by a brother, Sam of Hickory township, and another brother, William A., and a sister, Mrs. C. Waldron, both until recently residents of this county, but now living on the iron range.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

Of Thief River Falls Times, published weekly at Thief River Falls, Minn., for April 1, 1923.

State of Minnesota, County of Pennington, ss.

Before me, a Notary Public, in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared R. H. Ross, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Business Manager of the Thief River Falls Times and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in Section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are: Publisher, R. H. Ross, Thief River Falls, Minn.; Editor, R. H. Ross, Thief River Falls, Minn.; Managing Editor, R. H. Ross, Thief River Falls, Minn.; Business Managers, R. H. Ross, Thief River Falls, Minn.

2. That the owner is: Times Printing & Mfg. Co., Thief River Falls, Minn.; R. H. Ross, Thief River Falls, Minn.; T. J. Austad, Thief River Falls, Minn.; H. J. Rustad, J. P. Curtis, O. F. Mellby, Thief River Falls, Minn.; J. R. Brown, Green Bay, Wisconsin.

3. That the known bond holders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: Farmers & Merchants State Bank, Thief River Falls, Minn.; Robt. McGinn, Thief River Falls, Minn.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

R. H. ROSS.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 12th day of April, 1923.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE

Take notice that default exists in the conditions of that mortgage given by Aslak Svanajord and Anne Svanajord, his wife, mortgagors to Hoag Security Company, a Minnesota corporation, mortgagee, dated October 29th, 1917, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota on the 5th day of November, 1917, at 5 o'clock A. M. in Book [illegible] of Mortgages on Page 509. Which said Mortgage was assigned by said Hoag Security Company to V. A. Biggs by written assignment dated December 6th, 1917, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota on the 27th day of December, 1917, at one o'clock P. M. in Book 56 of Mortgages on Page 510.

The amount claimed to be due on said mortgage with interest to this date is $1,792.55, by virtue of said mortgage indebtedness. The premises described in said mortgage and situated in Pennington County, Minnesota, are to-wit: The West Half of the Northeast Quarter (W½NE¼) of Section No. Thirty-six (36) and the Southwest Quarter of the Southeast Quarter (SW¼SE¼) of Section No. Twenty-five (25) in Township No. One Hundred Fifty-three (153) North of Range No. Forty (40) West of the Fifth Principal Meridian. By virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statute and no action in law or otherwise having been instituted thereon, same will be foreclosed by the sale of said premises at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash by the Sheriff of Pennington County, Minnesota at the front door of the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, on Saturday the 12th day of May, 1923, at ten o'clock A. M., to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage with the interest, taxes if any, and costs of this action, including Seventy-five Dollars attorney fees as stipulated for in said mortgage.

Dated at Minneapolis, Minnesota this 21st day of March, 1923.

Attention Farmers!
RAISE MORE HORSES!
Census reports show that there is a great shortage of young horses in the country. Why not be far-sighted enough to raise a few good horses in time to anticipate the big demand that is sure to come when the old horses die off? Horses will always be, indispensable on the farm as they furnish the cheapest and most flexible power. Breed your good mares to the Percheron Stallion, John H., license No. 127145. Will stand during 1922 season every Friday at Fisher's barn. Terms, $18 for standing colt. Will also be on the same route as last year. A-12-19

The High-Grade Gasoline
Better Than Ever
There is an erroneous idea abroad. You hear it every day. "Gasoline is not as good as it used to be." The fact is that the Red Crown Gasoline you are getting today is an almost perfect fuel.
Perhaps there is no industry where progress has made such rapid strides as the refining of petroleum.
For example, we cite the Burton Process, developed and perfected in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The Burton Process has enabled the refiner to bring gasoline to a point of efficiency hitherto unhoped for.

SOCIETY NOTES

St. John's Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid of the St. John's Lutheran church will meet at the basement Wednesday afternoon, April 25.

Entertain at Cards

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown entertained eleven guests at a card party Tuesday evening, April 10. Whist was played at three tables. A lunch was served at a late hour.

Rebbecas to Meet

A regular meeting of the Rebecca has been called for Wednesday evening, April 26. As many of the members as can are urged to attend. Following the meeting the Odd Fellow's anniversary will be observed.

Community Girls Party.

The last big party of the season given by the Girls' Community club will take place at the Sons of Norway hall on next Monday evening, April 23. The evening will be devoted to a social time, at the close of which refreshments will be served. All members of the club are urgently requested to take part in this final large gathering as a particularly enjoyable time is assured for the occasion.

Olson-Lund.

Miss Selma D. Olson of Holt was married to John R. Lund of Cloquet, Minn., at the Zion Lutheran parsonage at 10 o'clock Sunday evening in the presence of Gordon and Charlotte Larson, Rev. George Larson officiating.

Mr. Lund is a forester working with the St. Louis River Mercantile company at Cloquet. The couple left Monday morning for Cloquet, where they will make their home.

Miss Quammen Surprised

Miss Ruth Quammen was surprised Thursday evening by a group of intimate friends. The time was spent at games, cards and dancing. A delicious lunch was served at 12 o'clock. The guests were: Misses Maverette Hilson, Elmira Langseth, Phillis Dock, Margaret Roark, and Marjorie Hoppa, and Messrs. Willis Nason, Thomas Melgaard, Leigh Anderson, Morris Helzknecht, Leonard Helgeland, John Mostue and Charles Booren.

Twelve-Year In Recital

Miss Doris Halvorson, piano instructor, will present Lucile Hermanson, a twelve-year old pianist, in a recital to be given at the Lincoln high school auditorium Saturday evening, April 28, at 8 o'clock. A program of varied and interesting numbers has been prepared. The public is cordially invited to attend. The complete program to be rendered at the recital will be published in the next issue of the Times.

This recital by Miss Hermanson will be followed by a class recital at a later date not definitely decided upon as yet.

For Mrs. Cook.

Mrs. R. Cook was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening when a group of ladies gathered at her home on Markley avenue North to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. The hours were enjoyably spent in playing whist and a general social time and at 11:30 a delicious lunch was served. The honored lady was presented with a piece of cut glass as a momento of the occasion. Those who took part in the affair were Mrs. J. Q. Cronkhite, Mrs. C. A. Nason, Mrs. L. M. Rayson, Mrs. O. A. Mellby, Mrs. R. Arnold, Mrs. Chas. Alexander and Mrs. A. Bottelson.

Whist Club Members Entertain

Miss Lorna Dodge and Miss Laura Jorgenson, members of the Whist club gave the last of a series of card parties Wednesday evening, at the Masonic hall. Progressive whist was played, Mrs. F. Burns taking high honors and Mrs. Henry Froseth low. At midnight a two course lunch was served. The following members were present: Mr. and Mrs. G. Huot, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jardine, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Froseth, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Robinson, Misses Vera Byler, and Esther Smith and Messrs. Victor Polman, Carl Gulrud, B. H. Dickey, and Oscar Paulson.

Mrs. Kiland Surprised

Mrs. T. T. Kiland was pleasantly surprised Tuesday when about twenty members of the W. C. T. U. assembled at her home and helped her pass a most enjoyable afternoon. Mrs. Kiland has been confined to her home since January by a broken hip and the unexpected party was a welcome one. Mrs. Lundell gave selections of music and the afternoon was enjoyed in various ways including the partaking of a lunch brought by the guests. A purse of money was presented to Mrs. Kiland and after the presentation and before their departure the group joined hands encircling her and sang the beautiful and appropriate hymn "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

Pupils To Appear In Recital

Mrs. Thelma Erickson, instructor in piano, will present a group of her pupils, assisted by Carl Sundahl, in a recital to be given Thursday evening, April 26, at the high school auditorium. The event will be open to the public and everybody is cordially invited to attend. It is the first of a series of recitals to be given by Mrs. Erickson's pupils during the spring season.

A splendid variety of numbers has been arranged for the performance and much musical talent will be displayed. One of the features of the program will be a number played on two pianos. A vocal solo is also to be rendered by Carl Sundahl. The program begins at 8 o'clock sharp.

For Miss Adams

Miss Lovina Adams was given a birthday party at the home of Mrs. Henry Eyde by Mrs. Henry Eyde, Miss Carrie Trogen, and Miss Effie Hamry, Saturday. The rooms were decorated beautifully and tastily, the color scheme being yellow and white. Yellow candles throwing a mellow light on the rich yellow birthday cake against the white linen, covering the table, made a pleasing effect.

At each cover was placed a yellow bag, the one at Miss Adams' place contained a diamond ring. Many beautiful gifts were presented to Miss Adams. The time was spent hemming dish towels.

Those present were: Miss Lovina Adams honored guest, Mrs. Henry Eyde, Mrs. S. Lacy, and Misses Effie Hamry, Carrie Trogen, Maude Frisell, Lorna Dodge, Lyda Batton, Laura Jorgenson, Emma Jorgenson, Elizabeth Kleppe, Alice Stapleton, Esther Giertson, M. Scout Dance Nets Neat Sum

The Flying Eagle patrol of the Boy Scouts of America raised the gratifying sum of $120 at the dance given at the city auditorium last Friday night. The hall was furnished at a reduced rate bringing the net amount well over $100.

The money will be used to defray expenses of athletic meets and other activities to promote the scout work.

Junior Class Members Will Appear in Lyceum Comedy

As a special feature at the Lyceum theatre Friday and Saturday, April 20 and 21, the junior class of the local high school will present "Jumbo Jum," a comedy play. The proceeds will go towards defraying the expenses connected with the Junior-Senior banquet which is scheduled to be given in the near future.

The play which is a one act comedy, includes a cast of seven characters, all members of the junior class, who are under the direction of Miss Mildred Thompson, high school instructor and class advisor. The cast has been working deligently for the past several weeks and promise to give the public something extraordinarily interesting.

"Jumbo Jum" will be presented between the two showings of the regular picture "The World's Champion," at 8:30 ones each evening and at regular matinee Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Mavie Community Club Stages Home Talent Play

The Mavie Community club will stage their play "Back To The Farm," in Goodridge, Friday evening, April 20th. The electric line will run a special from Thief River Falls leaving at 7 p. m. and returning after the program.

This play was staged in Mavie a short time ago and met with such success that they were requested to have the same performance in Goodridge. A large number have already stated their intention of going from Thief River Falls and Mavie to Goodridge that evening.

THE OLD BANK

THIS OLD, STRONG BANK has for 25 years served the people of this community.

Through good times and hard times, in war and in peace, it is always on the job to do its duty. It is the oldest Bank and the largest capitalized Bank in Pennington County.

Some of our stockholders and directors have been in the banking business continuously for over thirty years and are well known as sound bankers with large means and long experience. No officer, director or stockholder of this Bank has ever been connected with any Bank which has for a single day declined to pay to its depositors and to carry out its contracts.

Better times are coming for Thief River Falls. Mr. E. G. Quamme, the President of the Federal Land Bank, says that the worst is over for the farmers of Minnesota, and that farms will now increase in value for many years.

No matter what you do with your money, the first necessity is to know it is secure. It is this absolute security that we offer in our interest bearing Certificate of Deposit.

In our Savings Department we pay interest four times a year.

WILL HOLD THREE DAY CONVENTION HERE JUNE 22ND

Red River Valley Scandinavian Singers Select Thief River Falls For Sangerfest

About Two Hundred Male Voices Will be Here to Participate in Concert

Home Talent Play Will be Staged to Help Raise Funds to Defray Expenses

Thief River Falls has been selected as the convention city for the Red River Valley Scandinavian Singers association, which will meet in this city in a three day festival and concert, June 22, 23 and 24. The singers meet every two years, the last gathering being at Moorhead in 1921. About two hundred male voices are expected to take part in the concert, various numbers of which will be rendered by the joined choruses. The local Brage chorus, member of the association, is now active in making the necessary arrangements for an event of this nature.

The association was organized in 1909 and held its first "Sangerfest" in Fergus Falls the same year. It was held in this city in 1911. The purpose of the organization is to promote Scandinavian music and interest in same in the United States. The Scandinavians have perhaps more male choir music than any other people. The wide range resulting in a richer harmony is a singular feature of their choir singing. The coming of such an aggregation of vocalists should meet with much satisfaction among the music lovers of this city and vicinity.

Among the male choirs taking part in the Sangerfest are those from Fargo, Moorhead, Grand Forks, Devils Lake, Fertile, Hatton, N. D. Abercrombie and the local Brage choir. Prof. W. P. Rognlie of Grand Forks is the chief director of all the choirs.

The concert may be attended by such musical critics as Victor Nilsson of the Minneapolis Journal staff, giving assurance that the Sangerfest is a matter of interest in musical circles. The soloists have not been definitely selected yet but they will be of the best available. A complete program will be published later.

To raise funds to defray preliminary expenses connected with the affair, the Brage chorus is staging the Norwegian comedy, "Til Saeters," at the Auditorium Wednesday evening, May 2, played by a local cast composed of the following: Miss Carolyn Melby, Ragnhild; Mrs. Clara Backe Loveid, Sigrid; Roy Prytz, Asmund; J. Borry, schoolmaster; P. L. Vistaunet, Nordahl, E. P. Burstad, Busk and Dreng Bjornarna, Steenby, students; B. Dan Bjorkman, Halvor; Carl Angell, Per. It was presented here several years ago, nearly all in the present cast having taken part at that time.

The play is built around the love affair between Ragnhild and Asmund which the school teacher tries to break up, interspersed by the appearance of the traveling students who are out for a pleasure trip and adventure, also by the friendly rivalry between Halvor and Per, who are both in love with Ragnhild's sister, Sigrid.

Mr. Borry is particularly fitted for "Skoleholderen" and his ability to portray the erratic and sagacious schoolmaster, who is in love with Ragnhild displays high class histrionic ability.

Mr. Prytz in the character of Asmund, honest and capable young man who is in love with Ragnhild, has the faculty of drawing the sympathy of the audience and delineates his part with a finish that will please all. His ability in this regard together with his accomplishment as a vocalist adapts him to that position in the play.

Dr. Vistaunet, who carries the principal dialogue of the three students, knows his part well and injects comedy into many situations. The pretty melodies which he renders carry with them an air of brightness and cheer.

Steenby, played by Dreng Bjornarna, is a young man with a rather poetical turn of mind.

E. P. Burstad as Busk makes much of his difficult part, many of his expressions being of such a nature that the slightest inflection may change the meaning of his speech.

The exultant farmer boy "Halvor" is particularly well imitated by B. Dan Bjorkman, who knows how to act and is not ashamed to show it. He treats his pal "Per" rather roughly because they are both in love with Sigrid, the sweet and vivacious sister of Ragnhild, who is light hearted. She speaks distinctly and sings beautifully, does Mrs. Clara Backe Loveid; she dislikes the schoolmaster and does not reciprocate the affection of either Halvor or Per, and it does not appear where her affections are centered.

Carl Angell as Per is in keeping with his natural personality and displays a shrewdness even in the attempt to bargain for a sweetheart, at the same time disclosing that Halvor (his friend) is willing to barter away his affections.

The part of Ragnhild is particularly well taken by Miss Carolyn Melby over whom rivalry exists between the schoolmaster and Asmund. She, however, shows a strong preference for the sturdy Asmund and they are left happy and singing at the conclusion of the play.

The cast is particularly well balanced and under the capable direction of Mr. Borry the stage work is splendid, and will afford entertainment whether you understand the words or not. The costumes will be in keeping with the usages and customs of the times when the play was written.

Former H. S. Student Dies.

Merle Weston Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas, residing ten miles east of Middle River, formerly a freshman student in Lincoln high school in 1920, died at his home yesterday. Death was caused by complications following an operation for appendicitis.

Funeral services will be held from the Methodist Episcopal church at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, J. B. Smith officiating. Students of the Middle River high school will be pall bearers. Interment will be made at the Greenwood cemetery.

Tweten Boy Dies Of Meningitis

Melvin Wyman Tweten, 10 year old son of Halvor Tweten, 602 State avenue north, died at his home Monday afternoon at 4:35, April 23, after a four day illness, the cause of death being meningitis or brain fever. He was born in this city Dec. 9, 1912, and was at the time of his death a third grade student at the Washington school.

To mourn his death are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Halvor Tweten, two sisters, Delia and Birdie, both of Moorhead, and one brother, Leslie, also a student in the local schools.

FARM LEGISLATION RECEIVES SUPPORT OF SENATOR HANSEN

Records Show That He Worked And Voted In The Interest of Farmers on All Matters

Senator C. L. Hansen returned to this city last Monday from his first session of legislative work with a very creditable record. To some, his political stand was somewhat problematical but a study of his activities shows that he stood squarely for the interest of the farmers and that he was with the progressive wing throughout.

Among some of the measures which bear his name as author and co-author are the following:

S. F. No. 767. Extending time for payment of ditch liens. This act provides that land-owners may have ditch taxes extended for a number of years. This law should be very helpful to this community in its present shape and certainly will be appreciated by every farmer owning land bearing a drainage tax.

S. F. No. 793. Refunding interest on state loans. This act provides that certain state loans previously made at 5% have by this act been reduced to 4% which means in the case of the Thief River Falls School District No. 18 under the present bond issue of $84,000.00, a net annual saving of $840.00 to the taxpayers of this city.

SENATOR C. L. HANSEN

S. F. N. 638. The co-operative marketing act. This is the famous co-operative marketing bill which provides for orderly marketing of all farm products and is the uniform bill now used in eighteen other states. This is regarded as one of the important pieces of farm legislation passed during the session.

S. F. No. 707. Experiments in peat lands. This bill provides for an appropriation of $9,000.00 for experiments in peat lands in the territory northeast of Thief River Falls.

S. F. No. 95. An act relating to investments of savings banks. The principal point involved in this bill is the legalizing of federal joint stock land bank bonds for investments in savings banks, which gives a wider market for said bonds; hence, more money is available for farm loans at a less rate of interest to the farmer. This act alone, according to farm experts, should reduce the rate of interest on farm loans one-half of one percent.

S. F. No. 72. An act to remburse municipalities for improvements upon trunk highways. This means that taxpayers of Thief River Falls will be re-imbursed for eighteen feet of pavement constructed along the route of the Babcock road in the city; a saving to the taxpayers of this city of approximately $20,000.00.

He actively and strenuously supported the rural credits act and placed in the law an amendment raising the amount which may be loaned upon farm improvements from 25% of the appraised value to 33-1-3%.

He actively supported the bill lowering the contract interest rate from 10% to 8%, which law takes effect January 1, 1924.

The supplemental school aid bill is another act for which Senator Hansen was an enthusiastic worker. Under this bill the Thief River Falls school district receives $28,530.00 for the year 1923 while this district received $12,300.00 for 1922, more than $16,000 saved the taxpayers of this city on this one item. The Goodridge school district receives for 1923 $1,012.00 more than the amount received for 1922. The St. Hilaire school district under this act receives $1,618.00 more than last year.

From the meager description of the above bills, it would appear that the senator has at all times during the past session had the interests of his farmer constituents at heart and a review of the important legislation enacted indicates little to criticise and much to commend of the senator's conduct. The interest bill, school aid bill, co-operative marketing bill, and rural credits bill are of vital importance to this section of the state. For those interested the above bills, together with all bills introduced during the last session, are on file with the local county agent.

Bus Line To Crookston

Announcement is made this week that a new bus line will be in operation this year between this city and Crookston. It will be operated by A. P. Fox and will leave from Thief River Falls every morning at 9:30, arriving at Crookston at 11:30. On the return trip the bus will leave Crookston at 2:30 and arrive at Thief River Falls at 4:30. Stops will be made at St. Hilaire and Red Lake Falls. Inasmuch as the other bus operating on this route makes its headquarters at Crookston and leaves from that place every morning, it is likely that the bus operated by Mr. Fox will be popular with travelers from this end of the line. The fare to Crookston will be $1.75 and the bus will make its first trip next Monday.

Accepts New Position

Ray Johnson, for some time city salesman for the Thief River Grocery company, has accepted a position as salesman for the Standard Oil company. He will cover this northern section. He is being succeeded at the Grocery company by Charles Warner, who has formerly been employed in the office department. Mr. Johnson will continue to make Thief River Falls his headquarters.

COUNCIL SETS DATE FOR HEARING ALLEY PAVING PETITION

Aldermen Fail to Pass Soft Drink License Over Veto of Mayor John Bratrud

The city aldermen at a regular meeting Tuesday evening granted a hearing upon a petition for the paving of the alley between Second and Third streets known as the "Postoffice Alley." The hearing will take place May 22. The petition which was presented by F. J. Dudley, was signed by practically every property owner in the affected district, as the thoroughfare is very much in use and is practically impassable a great share of the time. This spring it has been almost impossible to get thru on account of the condition of the alley. The resolution for granting the hearing was passed unanimously.

A complete and detailed report on the dam and water power situation by R. D. Thomas of Minneapolis, consulting engineer, hired by the city to make a detailed study of the condition of the project, was filed at the city clerk's office last week but was not acted upon by the council Tuesday evening. A special meeting attended by the consulting engineer will be called at a future date. The complete report will be published in a later issue of The Times.

A building permit for the construction of a $4,500 frame residence on lot 2, block 5 in Oakland addition on Main street beyond Ninth street, was granted to Albert W. Thoreson.

Andrew Bottelson was granted a license to sell soft drinks at the East Side Drug store, and a pool and billiard license was issued to Dahl and Dahl located on Main avenue.

The request for a soft drink license for Carlot Prestebak, present owner of the O. W. Carlson corner on La Bree avenue, was refused. The license was granted at a previous meeting but was vetoed by Mayor Bratrud.

Ed. Lee was given a plumber's license, the remainder of the meeting being given over to regular routine business.

CHOICE CITY LOTS AT AUCTION SALE MONDAY, APRIL 30

J. M. Bishop Will Dispose of Splendid Assortment of Original Townsit Lots.

One of the biggest lot sales ever held in this city will take place next Monday when J. M. Bishop will offer at public auction a splendid assortment of lots owned by him.

All of the lots to be offered are close in to the business district and this will undoubtedly be the last opportunity that the public will have to purchase lots so well located. In most cases public improvements such as water and sewer are in front of the lots to be sold, making them at once available for building purposes.

Mr. Bishop has secured the services of the auctioneer firm of Baird & Co. to handle the sale. The first lots to be sold will be at the corner of Fourth street and Arnold avenue. This will take place at 1:00 p. m.

Red Cross Meeting April 27

A meeting of all members of the Red Cross will be held tomorrow, Friday, at 4 o'clock p. m. at the Commercial club rooms, according to announcement made by Rev. E. H. Kreidt, chairman of the local unit. All members are urgently requested to be present at this meeting as various important matters will be brought up.

EXERCISES FOR GRADUATES WILL BE HELD MAY 25

Class of Eighty Students Will Complete High School Course This Year

Pearl Weeks and Lucile Curtis Win Honors of Validictorian And Salutatorian

Thirty-Six Members of Class Are Not Residents of School District No. 18

One of the largest classes of young men and women will this year be graduated from the Thief River Falls high school. The senior class of 1923 numbers 80 members of whom 56 are girls and the remaining 24 boys, the girls leading the boys by 32, or more than twice as many. The '22 graduating class numbered 78, the '21 class 72 and the class of 1920, the largest in the history of the school, 86. Some of the latter, however, did not receive their diplomas.

Of those who complete their studies at Lincoln high school this year 26 are in the normal training department, all whom are girls. Not one boy has taken up normal training during the past three years. Ten of the girls in the normal training department are post graduates. Only postgraduates will be entered into this department next year.

Thirty-six seniors are not residents in district No. 18, which means that only one half of those who finish their course here this spring are actually residents of the district.

Charles Herron, Russel Anderson, Milford LaBree, Henry Vorlicky, Ernest Barzen, Stanley Sorenson, and Craig Halvorson, members of the '22 football team, will leave high school this year. Nearly all of them have played during three or four seasons. Anderson, Halvorson, Schutt, Herron, LaBree and Stanley Sorenson played on the basketball squad the past winter but will not return to cage baskets for the Thief River Falls high quint next year. The debating team this year was composed entirely of seniors, namely, Rose Costello, Ole Helle, Herbert Johnson and Albert Stengelsen.

The officers of the class are: Ole Helle, president; Henry Vorlicky, vice president; Eileen Arneson, secretary; Allison Stitt, treasurer; Milford LaBree, sergeant at arms; Stanley W. Powley, commercial instructor, is the faculty advisor.

Highest honors for scholastic standing in the class was awarded Pearl Weeks who had 42¼ honor points, while Lucile Curtis is the salutatorian with 40½ points. The other students who received grades entitling them to a place on the honor roll are: Lydia Dahlen, Ole Helle, Albert Stengelsen, Clara Oien and Esther Larsen, who rank in the order given. It is of interest to note that Pearl Weeks as validictorian for 1923 is the third member of the Weeks family to achieve this distinction. Her brother, Milton Weeks, who graduates from Luther Theological Seminary at St. Paul this spring, was the validictorian of his class in 1916, while the validictory in 1917 was presented by a sister, Miss Helen Weeks, now a missionary in China. This is an exceptional record for one family to attain and is worthy of recognition thruout the country. Such an accomplishment is probably not duplicated anywhere.

The Senior class play, "Come Out of the Kitchen," a three act comedy by A. E. Thomas, noted playwright, will be presented at the city auditorium on Friday, May 11. The play is clever in itself and very effectively presented with a cast of six men and five women. Miss Katherine MacNair is directing the cast, now busily engaged in practicing for the final presentation.

The juniors will entertain the senior class with a banquet at the Sons of Norway hall next Saturday, May 5, the affair to in the form of a farewell party, and with the usual exercises.

Baccalaureate services have been arranged to be held at the city auditorium Sunday, May 19, Rev. Chas. Gerlinger of the Presbyterian church to deliver the sermon. The following week, May 21 to 25, examinations will be held, those having a certain high averaged being exempt from taking them. A student must have four A's and two B's in a subject in order to be exempted.

Arrangements are now under way for commencement exercises which will take place at the auditorium on Friday, May 25, a week earlier than last year. A new feature of the exercises this year will be the wearing of caps and gowns by the seniors, a change inaugurated by the '23 class. Several high schools thruout the state have adopted this custom and it is expected that it will be carried out by the following graduating classes at the local high school. An invitation to deliver the commencement address was extended to Dr. L. D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, but a letter was received by Supt. Simley this week to the effect that he would not be able to be here at that time, having accepted all the dates that he could possibly fill. Another speaker will be secured for the occasion but no definite announcement as to who he will be has been made. Complete arrangements are expected to be made this week. The commencement exercises will terminate the school year a week earlier than usual due to the fact that the spring vacation was eliminated this year.

The following is a complete enumeration of the candidates for graduation this spring: Regular high school department—Edna Alexander, city; Russel Anderson, city; Eileen Arneson, city; Stephen Arneson, city; Caroline Aspelin, Randen; Ernest Barzen, city; Viola Buringrud, city; Thelma Carlson, St. Vincent; Thyra Carlson, St. Vincent; Rose Costello, city; Lucille Curtis, city; Lydia Dahlen, city; Hilda Engen, city; Friedolph Gabrielson, city; Craig Halvorson, city; Myrtle Helgeland, city; Ole Helle, Erie; Charles Herron, city; Marion Hilden, Inkster, N. C., this winter, had only two credits lacking and will receive a diploma upon the completion of two subjects which he is now making up while working.

Following is a list of those who will be given teachers' certificates in addition to their diplomas, past graduates receiving only the former: Alyce Berg (P. G.), city; Louise Besancon (P. LEGION AUXILIARY MAKES SUCCESS OF HOME TALENT PLAY

Humorous Production Staged by Splendid Cast at Auditorium Tuesday Evening

"A Womanless Wedding," a home talent play, presented by the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion at the Auditorium Tuesday evening, proved to be one of the best home talent entertainments witnessed for years.

Public weddings to say nothing of "womanless weddings," are out of date, but according to the play given at the Auditorium Tuesday evening, they are as entertaining as they are antique. The participants showed real ability in acting their respective parts and did credit to every number.

The ceremony was preceded by several numbers of various descriptions, the first of which were selections by the Legion orchestra, followed by a solo by Mrs. W. W. Prichard Jr., who was accompanied by the Kitchen band, an organization formed especially for the occasion. Then a song, "Tell Her I Stutter Too Much," was rendered by Herbert Hanson, assisted by Dave Robinson, a song and dance in which were sung "The Song of Love" and "The Love Light" was given by Miss Catherine Hodgson of Crookston, one of the two persons from out of town who participated in the play, and Karl Sundahl, tenor; an Italian song was sung by Roy Prytz; "A Pioneer Speech" was read by Miss Florence Anderson, followed by several other readings; "The Swing Song" by four girls, seated in swings, decorated in white and various bright colors, accompanied by four boys, followed by a dance by six girls and another reading by Miss Anderson.

Then came the wedding march, which preceded the ceremony. There were few indeed who could not give a satisfactory explanation of the title before the march was over. But apparently no amount of laughter or applause could disturb the blissful love of so ardent a pair of lovers. Even after the ceremony bill collectors were but anonymous nuisances to be ignored. Nothing could shake the tranquil peace of their minds. The bride was even kind enough to lift the groom to an elevation which enabled him to place an affectionate kiss squarely on the bride's face. A damsel less fortunate than the chosen bride rushed to the scene while the ceremony was being performed and would have claimed the bridegroom as her rightful husband, but the parents and witnesses were too well pleased with the match as planned, to consider her pleas. During the ceremony the bridesmaids and ushers sang "I'd Love to Go," followed by other selections.

Following the ceremony was a darky song, "Rastus," given by Grace Provencher and Ruth Mellby. Then came the flower girl song, "Baby Sister Blues," a number which brought down the house, given by Roy Brown and Kern Olson. The Rose dance, was given by the chorus girls; an interpretative dance by Miss Anderson and "I Follow the Girls Around," by eight men, was another performance worthy of special mention.

The cast of characters was as follows: Oscar Paulson, bride; Haakon Olson, groom; W. A. Hall, minister; Carl Gulrud and Verner Nelson, fathers, and E. M. Bennes and H. Olson, mothers. The bridesmaids were: Palmer Benson, Ward Long, Roy Prytz, Stephen Arneson, Milton Larson. The ushers were: Karl Sundahl, F. L. Christianson, L. Hanson, G. Huot and Sam Plough. In "Follow the Girls Around" were Dave Robinson, soloist; T. R. Twete, Morris Bye, G. Mostue, S. W. Powley, H. Hanson, A. W. Jardine and Herman Sandum. In the Kitchen band: Mrs. Oscar Melby, leader, Mrs. W. W. Prichard Jr., soloist, Mrs. C. M. Haug, Mrs. L. A. Lampert, Mrs. G. W. Booren, Mrs. H. W. Protzeller, Mrs. George Biddick, Mrs. Roy Lambert, Mrs. G. Howard Smith, Mrs. W. H. Akre, Mrs. F. L. Christianson, Mrs. Lawrence Hermanson, Misses Belle Hermanson, Sybil McGinn, Lulu Cook, Clara Halvorson, Carolyn Melby, Hattie Anderson, Juel Horvick and Eileen Herron. Botanist Will Address Womans Club Monday Eve.

The Woman's club has secured for their regular meeting next Monday Prof. M. T. McCall, botanist and instructor at the Northwest Agricultural college at Crookston, who will lecture on shrubberry and allied plants. Selection, planting, fertizing, spraying and pruning will be the points brought out most fully. The time has been set for Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock, April 30, in order that the business men interested in beautiful lawns and the resultant beautiful homes may attend. The meeting will be held at the regular club rooms on Horace avenue.

Attended Medical Clinic.

Dr. O. F. Mellby of the Thief River clinic returned on Friday from Minneapolis, where he spent the week attending the Minneapolis Clinic, which is held annually and consists of lectures by prominent medical men and visitations to the various hospitals of the mill city. One of the things brought out at the clinic was a new treatment of diabetes which has proven quite successful.

While in the cities Dr. Mellby also attended the concert given by the St. Olaf college choir at the armory Wednesday evening.

WINTER SHOW OF FARM CROPS AND LIVESTOCK HERE

Will Take Place at Same Time as Poultry Show and Dairymen's Convention

All Agencies Will Co-operate With Commercial Club to Make Success of Undertaking

Prize Will be Given to Person Suggesting Most Suitable Name For Show

Acting on the decision reached last Thursday, to hold a mid-winter exhibition of livestock, grains and forage crops, members of the Commercial club met Wednesday evening and outlined the work of carrying on a mid-winter farm crop and livestock exhibition.

In choosing a name for the organization, which is now in the process of perfection, the members decided to open a contest permitting persons residing outside of the city to submit names. The author of the name chosen for the show will be given a $15 No. 1-A Eastman Kodak, donated by Roy Lambert.

In reaching a decision as to whether Thief River Falls had the facilities for holding a mid-winter show of any great size, the club found that cities much more at a disadvantage had made a big success of winter exhibitions.

According to present plans, the exhibition will be held at the same time as the Poultry Show and the Red River Valley Dairymen's association is held, about the last of November or the first part of December.

Holding it in conjunction with the poultry and dairymen's meets will make the exhibition more complete without added work on the part of the organization. Livestock exhibits, including dairy cattle of the most popular breeds, beef stock of various types, sheep and swine are classed in one department.

Small grains, grasses, corn and forage crops, including all legumes, will be classed under another head.

The Junior livestock department will be a special feature whether shown separately or with the rest of the livestock.

There will also be a special branch in which the women will not only be interested, but will find a great source of information and instruction, the display of canned goods, preserves, pastry and cookery. Also the needle work departments and school work exhibits. It will not only be the purpose of this branch to show, and offer prizes on goods shown, but to conduct active and practical demonstrations on improved methods of preparation.

School work exhibitions, including bread baking clubs, etc., are being considered for special attention.

The problem of financing the exposition has already been brought up and, while plans are far from complete, an idea of the way in which it will be handled can be gained by going over the sources of income to which an exposition of that nature has access.

Officials of local banks who have put on individual shows state that each show has cost upwards of $100 and that they would be willing to put at least that amount and more into something that would be complete in its scope. It has been suggested that in the case that any particular business house is interested in any one product or department, it may take over the financial support of it either wholly or partly, and thereby benefit by the publicity gained.

It is also thought that this would increase the subscriptions, as each house would feel a responsibility of the success of their department.

It is thought that gate receipts from lectures and money derived from the sale of advertising and concession space will amount to well over the two thousand dollar mark, and coupled with the $500 to $1,000 derived from subscriptions and the $400 for the poultry division from the state, will give a reasonably safe margin.

While separate committees have already been appointed to take charge of each of the various departments, revisions and changes may be made and the list will not be published at this time.

Returns From The West

Bernhard Knudsen returned on Sunday morning from an extended trip to the Pacific coast. Mr. Knudsen, who was gone for a period of six weeks, traveled thruout Washington and Oregon and visited at Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Astoria and many other points of interest. On his sojourn he also visited with Sam Johnson and family at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and Tobias Reep and family at Portland, Oregon, former residents of Thief River Falls. Mr. Knudsen went west with the purpose of prospecting for a location but has not made any definite plans as yet. He states, however, that he is very well pleased with conditions there, and is particularly enthusiastic about the climate. Ed. Ness, who went together with Mr. Knudsen is also expected to arrive this week. He intends to move west this year.

MUST BE IN WEDNESDAY.

Communications or notices for publication must be in this office not later than Wednesday of the week in which issue it is to appear. Anyone having any information to give to The Times should bear this in mind.

Boat Is Launched On Red Lake River To Haul Freight And Passengers to the Lake

A boat measuring 40 feet long by 10 feet wide, equipped with a caterpillar tread and an overland motor rated at 35 H. P., designed by Roy Hulda and built by himself and his stepfather, Gib Becken, has been completed and is now on its way to Red Lake on a trial trip, manned by Mr. Becken.

The tread is made of two-inch oak material cut in blocks six inches by 14 inches and mounted crosswise on chains running through the center of the bottom the entire length of the boat. Gears are so placed that when shallow water and sand bars are encountered, the tread will be set in motion carrying the boat through a very few inches of water.

The boat is of the flat bottom type and is constructed of oak planks, and is designed for use in exceptionally shallow water. It is enclosed by walls and roof of one-inch material.

The builders intend to make commercial use of the boat. If the trial trip is successful, they will endeavor to work up a passenger and light freight traffic, making two trips each week. About 20 passengers can be carried comfortably. This will make good service for campers, and rates will be low.

Failing in this they will float a barge, carrying farm products to this city and freight and groceries up the river.

To Play In Mississippi League

Karl Niklaus, who for the past six months has been employed in the Times shop, has accepted a position with the Dubuque, Iowa, city baseball club in the Mississippi Valley league. He will serve the Iowa ball club in the capacity of pitcher, being a first class man in this sport, altho handicapped by being deaf and dumb. Mr. Niklaus was recently graduated from the Faribault school, where he took an active part in athletics, particularly baseball, and won much recognition as having a wicked twist to the sphere. Mr. Niklaus expects to leave this city Saturday, first going to Belgrade to visit at his parental home, from there to Minneapolis and thence to Faribault, before going to Dubuque, where he expects to remain at least during the four months baseball season.

D. B. C. GIRL IN LAWYER'S OFFICE

Another attorney has employed a "D. B. C." stenographer. Frances Hensel now takes legal dictation from C. B. Cravens of Carrington. "D. B. C.," of course, means Dakota Business College, Fargo, N. D., the school that lawyers naturally turn to for help. The leading courts also employ D. B. C. graduates. Many become highly paid court reporters. 230 have become bank officers.

The Doctor Was Right

When the good old family doctor was asked about baking powders, he said:

"Use Royal. It is made from Cream of Tartar and is absolutely pure. You could dissolve a couple of teaspoons of Royal in water and drink it with benefit. That's a health test mighty few baking powders can meet."

The doctor was right.

DOES NOT REPLACE—IT ASSISTS THE GAS CARBURETOR

Absolutely Guaranteed to Increase Mileage, Speed, Power, and to Eliminate Carbon.

Did you ever notice on a damp day or evening how much smoother your car runs, how much more pep and power it has? It is true of every make and size of car. This is due to moisture from the atmosphere which is drawn into the motor.

Water (h2o) under certain conditions decomposes in to its gases, Hydrogen and Oxygen Hydrogen gas burns, increasing the power, while the Oxygen gas not only aids combustion but unites with the carbon in the gasoline vapor and passes out through the exhaust as a gas, thus keeping the spark plugs clean.

The moisture taken from the atmosphere on damp days is a very noticeable help, but the Automatic Steam Carburetor is Absolutely Guaranteed to increase the mileage you get from gasoline 20 per cent to 40 per cent, and to eliminate carbon. It adds pep to the motor—gives it more speed, more power. It doesn't replace the gasoline carburetor—it helps it. It is a scientific device which should be placed on every automobile, truck or tractor. The Automatic Steam Carburetor manufactures live hot steam which is automatically injected into the gasoline manifold in the proper proportion for every speed. It has received the endorsement of many universities, government officials, business institutions and motor EXPERTS.

In addition, more than a hundred thousand car owners are using it to cut down their gasoline bills and make their cars run smoother, produce more power, and eliminate carbon.

There's nothing complicated about it to get out of order.

It is absolutely guaranteed to increase the mileage you get from your gasoline 20 per cent to 40 per cent.

To eliminate carbon.
To keep spark plugs clean.
To increase motor efficiency.
To increase both speed and power of motor with a smaller consumption of fuel.

AUCTION SALE

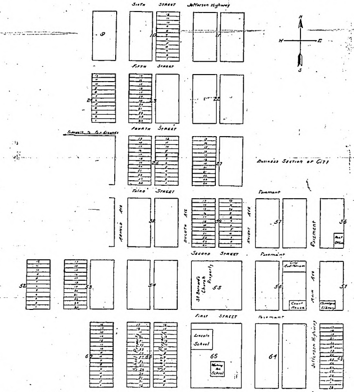
Monday, April 30—1:00 P. M.

40 Splendid City Lots



All lots indicated by heavy lines in the above chart will be offered for sale on April 30.

Own a lot this spring, so that you can build or make a garden. MOST OF THE LOTS HAVE ALL MODERN IMPROVEMENTS.

Water, sewer, light, telephone in front of the property, with only a few exceptions, and all are in the heart of our city, in the ORIGINAL TOWNSITE, and near the postoffice, court house, high school, and the business section of our city.

The only real home is the owned home. A home is the most valuable of all material possessions. It has a greater influence on life and character and a greater bearing upon success than anything that can be bought with money.

Home ownership provides shelter for old age. It cements family ties.

It is not a SPECULATION or a GAMBLE, to be lost or stolen. It is an investment. Your neighbor's home improves your home. As the family is the unit of society, each should have its home.

THE TERMS OF THE SALE WILL BE EASY—WITHIN REACH OF ALL

One-fourth of the purchase price at the sale, and the balance to suit the purchaser in monthly payments, interest at eight per cent per annum, payable annually, on the balance from time to time remaining unpaid, and running up to three years. If you wish other terms, submit them to me before the sale.

Sale Starts at Corner 4th Street and Arnold Ave.

Starts on Corner Lots, at 1:00 P. M.

The Riverside Garage Property, between the bridge and Bottelson's store, will be sold at this sale.

The auction way is the fair way. It is the AMERICAN way. Lots will be sold singly or in pairs, to suit the bidders. CASH PREMIUMS WILL BE GIVEN BIDDERS AT THIS SALE.

The Normal Course.

Until recently many of the students who have planned on taking normal training next year were unaware that they were required to teach eight months before they obtain credit for an entire year of college work. They were thus informed by Supt. Simley at chapel hour Friday.

Some it appears were just going to take the course because it was easy to prepare oneself for a position But they who understimate the position of teaching among the other professions are unworthy to enter the schoolroom as instructors. The teacher is in very close association with the students and is often an example for the pupil. Therefore it is very necessary that the teachers prepare themselves before attempting to meet the responsibility. Besides even if one must teach a year first, if the work in a state normal school is there completed the individual will have had a year of experience when applying for a position afterward.

A perusal of the honor roll for the past six weeks shows the surprising fact that it contains more names than ever before. Of the four hundred students attending Lincoln high school forty-nine made the required number of honor points; out of every eight students, then, one was on the honor roll.

The advent of spring sometimes means that grades, and school work generally, decline; but here the result has been just the opposite.

In proportion to the number in the class, the seniors have more names on the honor roll than have any of the other classes. And it seems safe to say that those who did make the honor roll are in no danger of flunking when graduating time comes—so the good showing is not due to necessity. The only explanation remaining is that the members of the class of twenty three wish to finish "strong." The degree of success obtained in studies and the various school activities are a fair indicator of achievements later in life—from which it seems safe to prophesy that the twenty-three-ers will find a welcome place in the ranks of those engaged in doing the world's work.

Spring Football Begins

Coach MacFarlane has issued a call for all football men who will be back next year. All men who expect to make the team are urged to respond. There will be only light work outs and short scrimmages.

The purpose of this call is to get into condition for next fall and to practice the fine points of the game so as to be able to start scrimmage next fall almost immediately. This also gives the new recruites a chance to learn the game and be broken in, as it were, for next fall.

Lucile was absent from school Monday afternoon due to an extreme case of society over the week end.

REGULAR STAFF AGAIN AT WORK

Issue of May 5 Last From Hands of This Year's Staff

With the next issue of the Progress the regular Journalism staff will take charge of the paper. For the past five weeks the paper has been put out by various members of the staff, each person having had an opportunity to edit the paper, including the responsibility of headlines, composing the paper and all the other details which go into making up a paper.

The regular staff will put out two more issues of the paper and then will turn the publishing over to the next year's staff. The 1923-24 staff of the Progress will put out the remaining issues of the Progress under the supervision of the Journalism class.

The Journalism staff is making plans for next week's issue and they hope to produce a paper which will demonstrate that Journalisitic training has been practical benefit to them. them.

The staff for the Progress for next year has been chosen. The piloting body was announced at Wednesday's chapel and the new staff will begin work immediately as the understudies of the present staff. The next three issues of the paper will be turned out out by the new combination.

The new staff has had a decided advantage over previous Progress staffs in that they have had some training in Journalism in a special class which organized especially for them. They have evidenced a great deal of interest in the work and without a doubt will produce a very good paper in the coming weeks.

Committees Appointed for Junior-Senior Banquet

The time again approaches when the Junior class entertains the Senior class at a farewell banquet, the most looked for occasion of the year by the Juniors and Seniors.

The Junior class is busy; and under the able advisor, Miss Thompson, and leader, Melvin Engelstad, they intend to make this banquet an occasion which will long be remembered by both the Juniors and Seniors.

The banquet this year will be given at the Sons of Norway hall, on Saturday, May 5. The following are the committees in charge:

Banquet committee: John Sether, Eleanor Werstlein, Hazel Krause, Gladys Kolden, May Roberts, Virgil Denhart; decorating committee: Elsie Blair, Harriet Morgan, Margaret Melgaard, Clifford Storholm, Clifford Sorenson; Olga Lokken, Margaret Williams, Camille Warner, Agnes Johnson, Lawrence Bjorkman; Entertainment committee: Lily Stenseth, Mildred Griffin, Olga Lokken; publicity committee: Joseph Gavin, William Anderson, Mildred Griffin: information committee: Ruth Dybvik, Orrin Storholm, Winnifred Gausin, Alice Mulry.

M'CANN SPEAKS ON CLUB WORK

County Agent Explains Opportunities to Students

J. J. McCann, Pennington county agent, addressed the high school assembly last Friday morning on the subject of Boy's and Girl's clubs. Mr. McCann emphasized the fact that Junior club work is of far greater importance than most people realize, and brought this strikingly home by explaining the various clubs and what they have already accomplished in improving certain agricultural districts.

"The future progress and prosperity of America," said Mr. McCann, depends more upon training the young people than in converting the older people." Progressive ideas and methods are much more readily adopted by the younger generation than by those who become more set in their ways. It is for this reason that the Department of Agriculture, thru the county agent, is laying so much stress upon the club work, which trains the young boys and girls in modern methods of agriculture, housekeeping, and farm business.

There are a number of clubs which a boy or girl may join. There are the Sheep clubs, Calf clubs, Dairy Judging clubs, Bread clubs, Sewing clubs, and Canning clubs. Prizes and awards at the county and state fairs encourage the club members to do their very best in preparing their exhibits for the club contests. The winners at the county fair are given free trips to the state fair.

The business training afforded the boys and girls by club work is of great value, as shown by the results in some communities where their system of co-operation has been given a fair trial. The tremendous growth of the raisin industry in California is the direct outgrowth of the co-operative marketing sceme advocated and practiced by the Boys' and Girls' clubs. In other sections co-operative colonies have been organized, which specialize in one particular commodity, such as eggs, and ship directly to the large central markets. The organized egg producers of California sell their products in New York at several cents over the market price.

PUBLIC SPEAKERS PRESENT PROGRAM

Second of Series of Public Appearances Is Given

The second of a series of programs given by the Public Speaking classes was presented in chapel Wednesday morning. The Public Speaking course requires at least one public appearance during the school year, and the class has been divided up into groups of four, each of which takes over one Wednesday morning chapel program.

The first number on the program was a reading which has been studied in class this year, Robert Ingersoll's "Napoleon," by Esther Larson. Esther is a reader of ability, her forceful interpretion, clear enunclation and good stage presence, showing excellent teaching and diligent practice.

Pearl Weeks played a piano solo, "The Dance of Death," as the second number. Pearl is a talented pianist, and her selection struck a responsive chord in the hearts of her auditors.

A humorous reading, "The Mission Box That Scandalized The Village," by Eileen Arneson, afforded much interest and amusement. The reading is repleto with humorous incidents, and was presented in a very engaging manner.

In closing the program, Craig Halvorson, officiating as chairman, expressed a hope that these appearances by this year's students would interest the underclassmen, particularly the Juniors, in the course for next year.

Alumni Are Invited to School Dance Friday

A high school dance to which alumni are invited will be held at the auditorium next Friday, April 27. It is urged by those in charge that all pass the word along, and help secure a large crowd for the biggest school event of the year.

This is the first time that the alumni have been invited to participate in high school social affairs, and a good attendance is in prospect.

The auditorium was secured for this affair, instead of the Sons of Norway hall which has previously been used, because its spacious floor can accommodate a great many dancers.

An excellent orchestra has been secured, which with the large floor and congenial company will assure the best of good times.

Tell your friends—prepare yourself for the best times of the year—come one, come all!

Arrangements Made For Commencement

With commencement only four weeks off the arrangements for the last week of the school year of 1922-23 resolves itself as follows:

The committee is trying to secure President Coffman of the University of Minnesota as commencement speaker.

Rev. Chas. Gerlinger of the Presbyterian church has been secured to deliver the Baccalaureate services Music will be furnished by the Glee clubs.

Miss MacNair (assigning Journalism) "Take the Junior skit, Eileen."

Russell, "That's easy, there's a bunch of Seniors that skipped, too."

Cast of Characters for Senior Play Announced

The biggest production of this year, the class play, is now in the making. "Come Out of the Kitchen," a charming three act comedy will be presented at the auditorium May 11. This comedy adapted by A. E. Thomas from Alice Duer Miller, is a masterpiece played with tremendous success at the Cohan theatre in New York. Ruth Chatterton taking the leading role, made a huge success in its production. It was also hailed with splendid success in London theatres. It is one of the most ingenious and entertaining comedies ever played on the amateur stage.

The cast of characters are:

Olivia Dangerfield	Eileen Arneson
Elizabeth Dangerfield	Lorraine Will
Mrs. Falkner	Rose Costello
Cora Falkner	Ruth Knutson
Amanda	Esther Larson
Burton Crane	Herbert Johnson
Thomas Lefferts	Albert Stengelsen
Solon Tucker	Henry Vorlicky
Paul Dangerfield	Stanley Sorenson
Charles Dangerfield	Craig Halvorson
Randolph Weeks	Ernest Barzen

WUN LUNG SEES BASKETBALL GAME

Esteemed Jap Rose:

Beloved, I have been desired to edify you in your recent letter as to consequence of decisive battle of previous Thursday. Having broke all speed demons last Thursday in transporting to high school before admission time, I was disabled to know of better way of elapsing time than to observe bulletin board. I rub my orbs in sleepy fashion as I translate persuing verse; "Junior Champs challenge first team to warm contest this 4 p. m. Admittance free—10c." My fur had been stroke opposite direction so to speak. "Holy chop-sticks." I enunciate hurling hands in ether.

"The honor of the institution is at stake. We must take Juniors from lofty ponies—let us vanish to gym before a moments' notice—." In the mean while, the presiding officer had transplanted to scene of action. In firm but gentle grammar he recited game would not be skeduled till after business hours and transferred me to seat via the aerial route. Unfortunately, majority of bosom friends had split in fractions over outcome of game. My short change went for upkeep of first team you may be certified. Obtained seven cards of blue discoloration before Grandpapa clock announce four hours. Abolish three of faculty and injure four more casualties in mad dash for gymnatic room. Made debut before final disappearance of eighth period physical cultivation class. Coach require me to remain standing at doorway after manner of reception committee. Much finance was accumulated in this way. Junior "Champs" hereupon propelled into room among loud applause from surviving classmates. While the former were practicing to miss basket, first team bounded in with loud splash from studious body and remaining faculty. Referee in form of Bye blew bugle which commenced battle. Air deafening with noise from sidelights. Warm contest no word for description! First basket on program by Kip Storholm Tears of joy from loyal props of Jr. class. From that time onward whichever faction procured ball invariably flipped it through basket. Score fluctuate madly! Me navigating all over floor like headless poultry. Bugle! Score 14 to 14 in favor of referee. Suspense between acts fatal to nervous symptoms. Business booming for bug house, till coach sounds taps which listened like cherub orchestra to my ear trumpet. Basket by "Gap" "Ataboy-Team!" I volunteer in two short pants as I mangle hair net of girl on left. Acting on suggestion hon. first team deposits ball in receptacle among ejaculations from crowd. Me and anonymous freshman do pow wow all over room. Mean while school athletics continue to accumulate score. Junior royal house falls forward on face beyond human repair, and vice president assumes throne. Charlie collapses on stage, at same time neatly ruining grand opera lungs forever. "Time!" expostulate "Mac" as score mounts to 42 versus 16 with compliments to first team. With rousing cheer I do handspring thru exit colliding with janitor who negotiate he is appearing to sweep up hair pins, teeth, or bones which have escape. "What happiness is this," I commute as I spy junior slinking up back stair. He toss me cool dime with frigid smile in mouth. Object of my adulteration, I have collect 50 cents and two nickel on above transaction.

Honorably yours,
WUM LUNG.

JUNIOR PLAY "JUMBO JUM" WINS POPULAR APPROVAL

LARGE CROWDS SEE ALL THREE PERFORMANCES OF PLAY AND NET JUNIORS NEAT SUM OF MONEY.

The Junior play, "Jumbo Jum," which was given at the Lyceum last Friday and Saturday, was very successful, both from an artistic and a financial point of view. Capacity houses attended all three performances of the play, and a neat sum of money was realized by the Juniors.

The three scenes of the play abounded in humorous situations, which kept the audience in a gale of merriment during the entire act. The part taken by Melvin Engelstad, "Jumbo Jum," an ignorant and illiterate negro, was especially appealing. "Jumbo Jum" was secured to work for the owner of a country estate, and was described as a good worker, but one who would do exactly as he was told and nothing else. As an aid, the employer, played by Virgil Denhart, gave the negro a Johnson's dictionary, in which he might look to find anything he didn't understand. Trouble arose at once, however, when "Jumbo Jum" took his orders too literally. Finally his employer, in exasperation, fired him, whereupon the black man evened the score by presenting for payment a bet which he had won by finding his master a wife—none other than the employer's own long-lost wife.

Ruth Dybvik portrayed the romantic feelings of the ward in an excellent manner. Her elopement with her lover, the part taken by Clifford Storholm, the forgiveness and blessing by the guardian brought the play to a happy conclusion.

Mildred Griffin, as the maid, and Orrin Storholm, as the lawyer, played their parts splendidly, and deserve commendation.

The proceeds of the play will be used to help the Juniors finance the Junior-Senior banquet, which will be given May 5.

Much praise is due the Juniors for their industry and perseverance in successfully putting on "Jumbo Jum," and also to Miss Thompson, their advisor, who coached the skit.

Athletic Contest May Be Given by Schools

During the past weeks Mr. Simley and coach MacFarlane have been working on an athletic contest that will probably be given to High school students. Those who can pass the tests will be given an athletic medal.

The tests to be given are:

1 Pull up (chinning) -----9 times
Or rope climb (using hands only) ------------------------16 feet
2. Running high jump ---4 1-3 feet
Or running broad jump -----14 feet
3. 220 yard run -------28 seconds
Or 100 yard dash -----12 3-5 seconds
4. Baseball throw accuracy -----(3 strikes out of 5)
Or baseball throw (distance)---220 feet.
Or 8 pound shot put -------28 feet

R. Prestebak Found Guilty Of Traffic Law Violation

Richard Prestebak, proprietor of the Park hotel, was found guilty to a charge of driving a car without lights after the specified hour, by a jury in municipal court Friday morning, and sentenced by Judge N. W. Tarrant to pay a fine of $25 and costs, amounting to $44.56.

The charge was brought against Prestebak by E. O. Green, a farmer west of the city, as a result of a collision with a buggy occupied by the latter and Chas. Kobetsky, Prestebak driving a Ford sedan, which, it is alleged, did not have lights. The accident occurred Wednesday evening at about 9 o'clock near the Korstad store on Sixth street, the car, coming from the west and meeting the rig driven by Green. The car caught the left front wheel, which was smashed, and also broke the pole and a rear wheel. The occupants of the buggy were thrown out but were not injured.

To mourn her death are her husband A. R. Johnsrud, city, her son, Glenn, 10 years old, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gunder Lee, city.

Goodridge Taxpayers Meet To Discuss School Problem

Geo. A. Selke of St. Paul, state inspector of rural schools, was in the city Tuesday and yesterday. He was on his way to Goodridge where he addressed the citizens of that village on Tuesday evening.

The meeting at Goodridge was called together to consider and discuss the present school situation there, particularly as related to taxation. The taxpayers of Goodridge are at present paying a rate of 86 mills in school tax alone and are now considering some means of reducing this large amount. One matter of discussion was the question of what could be eliminated in the present system to reduce the costs of maintenance. Goodridge has a splendid school including both a graded and high school department.

Carload of Holstein Cattle Sold by Pennington Breeders

A full carload of high grade Holsteins, twenty animals in all, was purchased from local livestock breeders at an average of $100 per head recently. The splendid collection of Holsteins was bought by F. B. Kraling of Lisbon, N. D., and among the Pennington county Holstein breeders to dispose of several animals were Hans Anton, M. T. MacFarland, Waldie Christenson and V. C. Noper.

A sale of this nature shows that dairymen prospecting for cows with which to start their heards begin to look to Pennington county breeders for material. This is true not only of Holsteins but also of Guernseys, as there were buyers here from Waseca to purchase animals of the latter breed not very long ago. A fine showing is being made by local stockmen in producing animals which are in demand by good dairymen.

Farmer Near Holt Receives $220 For 2 Holstein Steers

A neat sum was received for two Holstein steers recently by John P. Benitt, a farmer near Holt, who disposed of the two animals for $220, according to information received by The Times. This is setting the pace for Holstein prices, as that breed is not generally considered as good beef stock. The steers were two and a half years old and had been fattened chiefly on ensilage. They had been fed corn only a few weeks previous to the sale, but were of very fine stock, which accounts for the fancy price paid.

Mr. Benitt came to this section from Goodhue county about three years ago and is making good on Holsteins, making it a point to raise good stock as that is what brings the highest returns.

Mrs. Erickson Presents Pupils In Piano Recital This Eve. At High School

A musical program composed of varied numbers will be heard this evening when Mrs. Thelma Erickson presents a group of her piano students in a recital at the high school auditorium. Compositions of all types will be rendered and the entire program will be a treat for music lovers of Thief River Falls. A feature of the presentation will be the playing of "Humoresque" by Misses Mildred Engen and Frances Wengeler on two pianos. In addition to the extensive and delightful piano numbers, vocal music will be furnished by Karl Sundahl, tenor. This is the first of a series of recitals to be given by Mrs. Erickson's pupils this season.

Following is the complete program as it will be rendered this evening: Duet, "Silver Bells" (Weyts), Violet Rhodegaard and Evelyn Carlson; "Ding, Dong, Bell" (Spaulding), Luverne Rolland; "Baby Bye" (Bilbro), Ardith Halseth; "The Ghost" (Rockwell), Madge LaBree; "Rock-a-Bye" (Gaynor), "Airy Fairies" (Spaulding) Laverne Morrissette; "The Golliwog" (Hines), George Lambert; duet March (Deshayes), Lois Nicholson and Elsie Vorseth; "Hovering Butterflies" (Gaynor), Harriet Hellquist; "Prelude" (Chopin op. 28 No. 20), Lillian Johnston; "Minuet" (Paderewski), Millicent Sweger; "Narcissus" (Nevin), Elaine Evenson; solo, Karl Sundahl; "Novelette" (MacDowell), by Ansof Dahlen; "Barchetta" (Nevin), Harriet Fuller; "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters" (Cadman), Lois Nicholson; "Prelude" (Chopin op. 28 No. 3), Maverette Hilson; "Country Gardens" (Grainger), Annie Amon; "Crescendo" (Lasson), Myrtle Erickson; "Valse Posthumous" (Chopin), Georgia Frissell; "Norwegian Bridal Procession" (Grieg), "To Spring" (Grieg), Elsie Vorseth; "Automne" (Chaminade), Mildred Engen; "A la Bien Aimee" (Schutt), Palma Langseth; two pianos, "Humoresque" (by Dvorak), Frances Wengeler and Mildred Engen.

Lest You Forget.

Now that the hay is getting scarce and the fodder that has been left in the field has been destroyed by rats and is hardly fit to feed, is a good time to place your order for a salt glazed, double wall silo. We have a number of them in the county that were erected six and seven years ago. Look them over and get the opinion of the men who have tried them out. Our time and commission will not justify us in soliciting the county, but we have time to quote you pre-war prices and write your order. We have a man equipped to build them at a very reasonable price.

The Better Way to Health

You can get better service and longer life out of anything you possess by taking better care of it.

The same is true of the human body. It is your most precious possession. It occasionally needs repairs. If those repairs are not made just when needed, the usefulness, comfort and life of the body are to that extent injured.

When your car, or your watch or other valued possessions go on the junk pile, you can buy new ones—provided you have the money. But when your body reaches that stage you can't go out and buy a new one no matter how much money you have. All the more reason then that you should take care of it while you have the chance.

Nature will provide you with plenty of warning signs when something is wrong with the body. It is for you to heed these warnings, and act in time that you may preserve your body for a longer time, and for greater comfort during life.

Let us show you how the condition of your entire body depends upon the condition of your spine. Consultation and spinal analysis free. Convince yourself that our claims are well founded.

THE OLD BANK

THIS OLD, STRONG BANK has for 25 years served the people of this community.

Through good times and hard times, in war and in peace, it is always on the job to do its duty. It is the oldest Bank and the largest capitalized Bank in Pennington County.

Some of our stockholders and directors have been in the banking business continuously for over thirty years and are well known as sound bankers with large means and long experience. No officer, director or stockholder of this Bank has ever been connected with any Bank which has for a single day declined to pay to its depositors and to carry out its contracts.

Better times are coming for Thief River Falls. Mr. E. G. Quamme, the President of the Federal Land Bank, says that the worst is over for the farmers of Minnesota, and that farms will now increase in value for many years.

No matter what you do with your money, the first necessity is to know it is secure. It is this absolute security that we offer in our interest bearing Certificate of Deposit.

In our Savings Department we pay interest four times a year.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Volume 13. $2.00 a Year Thief River Falls, Minnesota, Thursday, May 3, 1923 Number 13

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

TAX MONEY NOW APPORTIONED TO COUNTY SCHOOLS

$43,041.43 Distributed Among Various Districts of County by Auditor Anderson.

Over Half of This Amount Goes to Thief River Falls, Goodridge and St. Hilaire.

County Receipts From All Sources for First 3 Months of Year Total $153,974.99.

One hundred and fifty-three thousand nine hundred and seventy-four dollars and ninety-nine cents was the amount paid into the coffers of Pennington county during the months of January, February and March, according to records in the office of John Gullingsrud, county treasurer, through whose hands that sum of cold cash passed.

This represents one of the largest sums paid into the treasury in a similar period of time, as tax payments and other sources of reimbursement for the first half of 1923. The Minnesota legislature this year gave the taxpayers an extension of a month's time, or until April 1, in which to pay taxes on assessed personal property. Many took advantage of this time extension, as is shown by the receipts for March, when $55,347.62 was received by Treasurer Gullingsrud. The last day of the month was the heaviest payday of all, the treasury being increased by nearly $42,000 in that one day alone.

The receipts for the first half of the year are as follows:

Current taxes	$62,181.56
Delinquent taxes	15,903.21
Private redemption	1,854.56
State land interest	57.22
Mortgage registry tax	244.77
Teachers' insurance and retirement	435.50
Ditch tax collections	352.90
Roads and bridge	70,952.12
County revenue	1,495.69
Total	$153,974.99

The sum paid into the county is distributed as follows:

State taxes	$5,706.30
County, including ditch taxes	28,242.14
City and village taxes	19,096.27
Township taxes	11,606.36
Principal and interest on state loans	6,678.24
School taxes	35,480.05
Penalties, interest and costs	5,282.45

In addition to the $35,486.05 paid to the treasuror on the 1922 levy for the school fund, $5,535.25 was received from the state, together with other items, making a total of $43,041.53 to be apportioned for school purposes. State aid was paid at the rate of $1.75 for each of the 3,163 pupils in the

WOOL GROWERS TO ORGANIZE COUNTY ASSOCIATION SOON

Attendance at Meeting Thursday Too Small to Warrant Carrying Out Plans.

Only a small number of the wool growers of Pennington county attended the meeting called at the Commercial club rooms Thursday of last week. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss plans for the most profitable manner of disposing of the 1923 wool clip and the possibilities of sheep raising in this community. Organization of Minnesota for the co-operative marketing of the 1923 wool started last week under the auspices of the new Wool Marketing association, co-operating with the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation and the State Department of Agriculture. A series of meetings were held throughout this section of the state during the week, growers being called together in this city, Warren, Crookston, Roseau, Hallock, Fergus Falls and various other points.

It is estimated that there are about 100 wool growers in Pennington county who would be possible members of the association. Of the 30 persons present at Thursday's meeting, about one-half were actual growers, while the others were interested. No definite action as to organization or forming of a local unit was taken by those in attendance, but another meeting will be called at a more opportune time to perfect the organization. It will most likely be held in Thief River Falls some time after seeding has been completed. Many farmers thruout the county were unable to attend the gathering last week owing to the condition of the roads and the busy time of the season, but it is hoped that between 50 and 100 sheep growers will convene at the next meeting.

J. H. Hay, deputy state commissioner of agriculture, former superintendent of the city schools, explained the reasons for the plan of marketing the wool crop by the co-operative pool method. He emphasized the fact that many farm products are now being sold by the farmers of the state on a co-operative basis and that the trend of marketing today is in that direction. This method must be adopted by the wool growers as well, he declared, in order to derive the returns which would make wool growing profitable. The wool growers are among the last to unite in this respect.

The plan of the state wool growers' association is to organize each county or group of counties into a local unit. The members of this local organization will pool their wool and ship it to the state warehouse and headquarters, where it will be sold at the most opportune time. The new state association will aim to deal with county organizations, but where such arrangement is not possible, shipments will be received from individual growers. Arrangements have been completed for advancing 70 per cent of the market value of wool upon its receipt at the warehouse. This advance will be negotiated by the manager, who will charge 6 per cent interest on money advanced until the wool is sold.

"Every prospect," Alex Huddleston, president of the Minnesota association, says, "points to even greater success for the 1923 pool than the project enjoyed in 1922. Last year more than 500,000 pounds were pooled. On this growers realized from 5 to 8 cents more than they would have received had they sold to speculators at shearing time."

Prof. Austin A. Dowell, sheep expert from the extension division of the University farm at St. Paul, gave a brief talk in which he touched upon the proper methods of feeding and caring of sheep. He also called attention to the prevalence of loss of lambs through goitre and gave a remedy for the malady. Practical suggestions regarding shearing the flock and proper methods of preparing the fleece for market were discussed. Mr. Dowell's talk contained much valuable information regarding the successful raising of sheep and the possibilities of making it a profitable branch of agriculture in this section.

Wool growers in Pennington county should watch for date of meeting to form definite organization.

CLASS PLAY OF '23 IS CLEVER COMEDY

"Out of the Kitchen" to Be Presented at Auditorium Friday Evening, May 11th.

The clever three-act comedy, "Come Out of the Kitchen," will be presented by the class of 1923 at the city auditorium next Friday evening, May 11.

Every possible effort is being put forth in making the necessary preparations and under the able direction of Miss Katherine MacNair, high school instructor, it is certain to be a success.

The play is written by A. E. Thomas, noted American playwright, and was played an entire season in New York theaters, with Ruth Chatterton as lead, supported by a group of real artists. In addition to its popularity among American audiences, it was also received with much favor in London. It contains real American humor and will appeal to everyone, both young and old.

The scenes are laid in the south, the story being brought about by the complications connected with the leasing of a southern plantation and mansion by a millionaire northerner, and the formerly rich family becoming the servants. The situations arising from the change and the humiliation of the "once society folks" in the kitchen, bring out clever characterizations, particularly in the case of the Irish cook. "Come Out of the Kitchen" not only brings out many laughs throughout but also holds the intense interest of the audience until the curtain descends at the close of the third act.

The 1923 class play was selected by a faculty committee and the choosing of the characters was done with the greatest care so as to select people who would best fit into the various roles. Following is the cast of characters:

Olivia Dangerfield	Eileen Arneson
Elizabeth Dangerfield	Lorraine Will
Mrs. Falkner	Rose Costello
Cora Falkner	Ruth Knutson
Amanda	Esther Larson
Burton Crane	Herbert Johnson
Thomas Lefferts	Albert Stengelsen
Solon Tucker	Henry Vorlicky
Paul Dangerfield	Stanley Sorenson
Charles Dangerfield	Craig Halvorson
Randolph Weeks	Ernest Barzen

Baseball Fans Begin Talk About a Home Talent Team

A baseball team for Thief River Falls seems to be a sure thing, according to talk among the sport enthusiasts of the city. The members of the American Legion are the most active in promoting the organization of a club and expect to take action regarding this matter in the near future. The most popular idea seems to be to have a team consisting of local players who, when thoroughly organized, will challenge clubs in all nearby towns.

J. H. HAY ADDRESSES COMMERCIAL CLUB

States Agricultural Conditions Are Becoming More Satisfactory and Urges Dairying.

The regular dinner of the Commercial club last Thursday was one of the best attended this season. The feature of the program was the address delivered by J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture, who spoke very optimistically of conditions in this section and called particular attention to the importance of dairying as the most profitable industry for the farmers of this community.

Mr. Hay stated that he believed that Pennington county has all the facilities necessary for successfully carrying on this line of farming and that it has many advantages over various other communities.

He stressed on co-operative marketing as one of the means of remedying the present agricultural ills. He advised co-operative agencies for disposing of products such as wheat, wool, cream and butter and many others, the producer by that method deriving returns to the fullest extent.

George E. Duis of Grand Forks, president of the North Dakota Grain Growers' association, also addressed the club regarding the organizing of the Minnesota Wheat Growers' Co-Operative Marketing association, in which interest he was in Thief River Falls. The success of the organization in other states and the importance of co-operative marketing of grain was discussed. Mr. Duis met with a group of local men interested in the new movement with the purpose of perfecting an association.

The Commercial club decided to have a wire sign suspended across the street from the Auditorium to the Standard oil station, directing tourists to the rest rooms and information bureau in the basement of the Auditorium. The expenses of securing the sign will be defrayed by the Automobile club. This improvement will prove of much aid to traveling visitors. The meeting was presided over by Dr. H. W. Froehlich, president of the club.

Former Resident Dies.

Mrs. O. J. Sorum, a former resident of Thief River Falls, passed away at her home at South Buffalo Lake, Alberta, Canada, April 17, according to last week's issue of the St. Hilaire Spectator. Word had been received by Mrs. H. A. Olsen of St. Hilaire, a daughter of the deceased. Mrs. Sorum was 82 years of age at the time of her death.

Missionary Speaks Here.

Rev. P. A. Nelson, traveling representative and lecturer of the Home and Foreign Missions of the Swedish Mission Covenant of America, spoke Sunday at two churches here on foreign mission work. In the forenoon he delivered a lecture at the Swedish Mission church and in the evening at the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran church.

The Rev. Mr. Nelson recently returned from a ten months' visit into the interior of China and Mongolia and the missionary fields there. Since his return he has toured the western coast and Canada, coming from Winnipeg in this city, in the interests of the Mission Covenant lecturing on conditions in the mission fields and on mission work. He has traveled thru many of the heathen and Christian lands working for and in conjunction with mission societies. Free offerings are taken at all lectures delivered by him and go to the mission covenant fund. While in the city the Rev. Mr. Nelson was a guest at the Chas. Gustavson home. He left for Roseau on Monday.

PARENT-TEACHERS WILL HAVE LAST MEETING MONDAY

Entertaining Program Will Be Given at Closing Gathering at H. S. May 7th.

The last meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association this school year will be held Monday evening, May 7, at the Lincoln high school auditorium. The gatherings of the association during the past term have been very interesting and entertaining and the people of the city are especially urged to attend this wind-up meeting of the season.

The program will be of a somewhat different nature than usual, consisting entirely of entertaining numbers. The students of the Lincoln high school will provide the entertainment, while the Thief River Falls faculty will provide and serve refreshments. The following numbers for the program have been arranged:

Piano solo, Elsie Vorseth; reading, Dorothy Swedenburg; two-piano number, "Humoreske" (Dvorak), Mrs. C. O. Erickson, first piano, and Mildred Engen, second piano; Highland Fling, high school girls; humorous reading, Eileen Arneson; violin solo, Lorraine Will; grand march, everybody.

Following the program refreshments will be served, the latter being provided by members of the faculty of the city schools.

YEAR OF COLLEGE IN LOCAL SCHOOL

Normal Training Department to Enroll Only Post Graduates Next Year.

Arrangements are being made to organize the local teacher training department of the high school on a strictly graduate basis. Heretofore the local school authorities have been authorized to admit high school seniors into the department, but next year all candidates must be high school graduates.

The department is maintained by the state and may be looked upon as an extension of the state teachers' colleges insofar as a graduate from a high school normal training department which is organized on a graduate basis will after having taught eight months be given credit for a full year's work at any teachers' college.

For those who anticipate teaching, the normal training department in the local high school provides the opportunity to take a year of college at home. When one stops to consider how much it costs to go away to college, the advantage of such an arrangement is readily apparent. Quite a number of this year's graduating class have already filed their application, as have also a number of graduates of the high schools in the nearby towns.

I. T. Simley, superintendent of the Thief River Falls schools, is particularly anxious to have all those who plan on taking the course confer with him at once so that definite plans may be made as to the type of department to organize.

Gives Reading at St. Hilaire.

A large attendance was reported at the final meeting of the Community club at St. Hilaire Friday evening. The most interesting feature of the evening's program was the reading of "The Melting Pot" by Mrs. Gretel Lowe Arnold of Thief River Falls.

WILL DISTRIBUTE STATE AID FUNDS MORE EQUITABLY

Independent School Dist. No. 18 Benefits Materially by Recent Legislation.

Will Receive More Than $28,000 as Against $12,000 Received Under Old Law.

District Will Receive Deficit of $7,000 From This Year's Appropriations.

The most important piece of legislation so far as the schools of Thief River Falls are concerned—or any school district for that matter that has low valuation and a consequent high tax rate—that was enacted by the last Legislature was the so-called Supplemental Aid law whereby the state agrees to make up any difference when a 20-mill levy does not produce $40 for each child in attendance 40 or more days during the school year.

A 20-mill levy in Thief River Falls will raise approximately $21 or $22 for each pupil. The state will, therefore, allow this district $18 or $19 for each apportionment child. Since the enrollment in district No. 18 is close to 1,600, it will mean that Thief River Falls will benefit to the extent of approximately $28,000 next year.

A striking thing about this law is that it did not obligate the state to any further extent than that to which it was obligated under the old law. It simply takes the same money that was available under the old law and redistributes it. The wealthy districts will lose what aid they were receiving and the poorer districts will have their aid increased.

Senator Hansen was an ardent supporter of this measure.

Last year the state was unable to pay the amounts provided by law and each district, therefore, received only 74 per cent of the money that it had planned in building their budget. For the city of Thief River Falls this amounted to a little better than $7,000. This deficit was made up by the last Legislature and can be expected by the local school district as soon as the money becomes available.

Another item of which mention has already been made in the papers is the law reducing the interest rate on certain state loans from 5 to 4 per cent. The $84,000 which was borrowed for the construction of the Knox school building happens to be such a loan, and the Thief River Falls district will, therefore, benefit to the extent of $840 a year until the bonds commence to mature, and thereafter it will benefit to the extent of 1 per cent on the capital until the entire amount has been paid.

FLAMES DESTROY STATE AVE. HOME

Residence of Mrs. Marie Sherven Burned to Ground Monday; Fire Caused by Explosion.

While Mrs. Marie Sherven and her five children were enjoying themselves fishing at Squaw Point, their home at 610 State avenue North was completely destroyed by fire Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The fire is thought to have been caused by the explosion of the kerosene stove which Mrs. Sherven said she left burning when she went with her children to Myrom's park, better known as Squaw Point, to fish.

The fire was first discovered by Mrs. O. F. Johnson, who noticed the smoke and flames pouring out of the windows. She turned in an alarm immediately and her husband tried to remove some of the furnishings, but for lack of help and time was unable to get more than two chairs and two tables and some bedding out of the building. The fire department team was being used on the street sprinkler at the time the alarm was turned in and it was some time before it arrived at the scene of disaster.

Mrs. Sherven had recently installed a piano at a cost of about $400. Mrs. Sherven has centered all her thoughts and efforts on educating and making a home for her children, and what has been the material result of years of hard work was destroyed in an hour. When asked what her plans for the future were, Mrs. Sherven said: "I will stay here until the school term is out and then I may go west. I have nothing more to live here for." Her husband died some years ago at the Mayo clinic at Rochester, and for some time lived only by the infusion of blood. They came here from Plaza, N. D. Mrs. Sherven has five children ranging in age from 11 years to 16 years. They are Harold, the oldest, and in whose name the insurance was carried, Magnus, Dovre, Roland and Myrtle.

Mrs. Sherven estimated the value of the property at about $1,700 and it was covered by insurance amounting to $1,500.

Leakage of Heart Causes Death of Arthur Froseth

Arthur Froseth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Froseth, proprietor of the Froseth harness shop, died at a local hospital Monday night at 12 o'clock, the cause of death being leakage of the heart, complicated by inflammatory rheumatism. Mr. Froseth has carried a lesion of the heart for about three years. He became ill about three weeks ago in Minneapolis, where he was employed, and came to this city and entered a hospital here. He was improving until about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon when he suddenly suffered an acute change. He died at 12 o'clock that night.

He was born at Cyrus, Minn., December 10, 1898, where he lived until his parents moved to this city in the year 1900. He completed the eighth grade here.

To mourn his demise he leaves his wife, two daughters, Phyllis and Ardith, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Froseth, and five brothers and three sisters.

The funeral will be held from the Zion Lutheran church Friday afternoon, Rev. Larson officiating at the obsequies. Interment will be made at Greenwood cemetery.

Girl Shot in Knee Dies.

Annie Stenson, the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bjorn Stenson of Trail, died last week as the result of the accidental discharge of a shotgun, the charge lodging in the knee, causing blood poisoning. The girl was visiting at the home of Olaf Omlid, a neighbor, when the tragedy occurred. Carl Omlid, 11 years old, was playing about the house and found a 12-guage shotgun, which was accidentally discharged, striking the Stenson girl in the knee, shattering the limb. Medical aid was summoned and the victim taken to the Fosston hospital at once, but following amputation of the limb, blood poisoning set in causing sudden death.

Given Large Road Contract.

H. P. Lund & Sons, local road contractors, were last week awarded a contract by the Polk county board for 7.1 miles of road work southwest of Mentor, between Maple Bay and that village. The bid was in the amount of $17,716.94. Bids on six road jobs in the county, representing a total expenditure of $66,771.97, were awarded by the commissioners. The contractors will begin work as soon as the weather and the condition of the ground permits.

Dr. Bjerken Locates at Bemidji.

Dr. F. N. Bjerken, former St. Hilaire physician, is now associated with Dr. E. H. Smith at Bemidji, where a new medical firm, Drs. Smith and Bjerken, has been formed. Dr. Bjerken spent the past year doing post-graduate work in a Chicago medical institution.

SUGAR BEET SEEDING STARTS THIS WEEK IN ENTIRE COUNTY

Machinery Arrives and Special Train Brings 170 Mexicans Here From Texas.

LABORERS ARRIVE.

A total of 170 Mexican laborers arrived this morning by special train on the Soo from San Antonio, Texas, to be employed in the sugar beet fields of Pennington county and surrounding territory during the season. More will follow.

Sugar beet planting in this section will begin this week, according to reports received from growers in the vicinity of Thief River Falls.

Earl C. Moore of the Northern Sugar Beet corporation was in the city Tuesday of this week arranging for the unloading of beet tools and machinery and also working out the labor situation. Sufficient numbers of Belgian and Mexican workers have been secured and they will begin work at an early date.

"It's late, but when things begin to come here, they come on the jump," was the statement made by Mr. Moore Tuesday. "The machinery is here, we have the labor, and everything is ready to go right ahead." Camping outfits for the laborers have also arrived.

WINS FIRST PRIZE IN STATE CONTEST

Lester Rolland, Eighth Grader, Awarded High Honors in Minnesota Essay Contest.

Lester E. Rolland, fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rolland, 804 Duluth avenue North, and a member of this year's graduating class of the eighth grade, Central school, has just had notice from the highway education board at Washington, D. C., announcing that his essay which was submitted in the Second National Safety Campaign has been chosen to receive first prize for the state of Minnesota. He is to receive as a consequence a gold medal and a check for $15. His essay will now be entered for national competition. The essay is entitled "Keeping the Highways Safe."

To have written the best essay and to have been awarded first honors for the state of Minnesota is a record of which not only Lester and the city schools may justly be proud, but it is a source of gratification to the entire city of Thief River Falls and northwestern Minnesota for that matter. The young lad is to be highly congratulated upon his excellent record as he was in competition with pupils from schools all over the state.

Judge Grindeland Hears District Court Cases

An adjourned term of district court was held last week by Judge Andrew Grindeland, to dispose of a number of cases which were postponed from the winter term.

The case of J. Payne vs. the township of Grand Plain, Marshall county, was heard, Julius Olson of Warren and William J. Brown of this city appearing for the plaintiff, and Theo. Quale of this city and H. O. Bervo of Germantown for the defendant. Payne asked the removal of a culvert which he alleged the town board had placed in such a place and manner that his land was flooded. The Grand Plain board and about a dozen neighbors were present as witnesses, but the judge will make a personal investigation before filing the decision.

Lottie Jensen, represented by Julius Olson of Warren, made a claim for clear title on property near the fair grounds, disputing bills presented by James Mulhall, defendant, who was represented by Chas. Boughton of Red Lake Falls. Decision has not yet been filed.

The village of St. Hilaire was defendant in a claim by Emil Just, a taxpayer, in a case regarding the use of land immediately adjoining a street. O. A. Naplin and H. O. Chommie of this city were attorneys for the plaintiff and defendant, respectively. A stipulation of facts in the case was agreed upon, but the decision has not yet been received.

New Firm Successful.

A. R. Kohn on May 1 relinquished his connections with the Minneapolis Bridge company, whom he had served for the past six years, to be actively identified with the recently organized firm of Kohn & Fiterman. The new firm is meeting with much success in the automobile, tire, battery and vulcanizing business, and it appears that the Chevrolet car, of which Messrs. Kohn & Fiterman are distributors, will be extremely popular in this section.

ST. PAUL MERCHANTS WILL VISIT THIS CITY

Business Men of St. Paul Will Come Here on Trade Tour During Week of May 21-26.

Thief River Falls has been included in the 1923 Trade Tour in which about 100 of the leading wholesale merchants and manufacturers of the capitol city are visiting 80 cities of the Northwest, during the week of May 21 to 26. They will arrive in Thief River Falls at 3:45 o'clock and will remain for 50 minutes. It is announced by those in charge of the trip that it has been the boast of the business men that their train has always been run on absolute schedule time.

The trip will be conducted under the direction of the Saint Paul Association, to which all the important jobbers and manufacturers of the city belong.

These excursions have become a regular feature of the Association's program and have been conducted annually for many years. The purpose of the trip is to give the heads of the various wholesale and manufacturing houses of St. Paul an opportunity to meet the business men of the various cities visited. The trip is purely social in character, there being positively no solicitation for business. The trip is made by special train which carries a full equipment of diners and sleeping cars, the first because meals are necessarily taken while the train is running from one town to another, and the sleeping accommodations because the itinerary often requires movement at night.

The trade tour will start from St. Paul Monday morning, May 21, evening stops being made in the following towns:

Crookston, Grafton, Grand Forks, Devils Lake, New Rockford, N. D., Long Prairie.

The Sixth Infantry band of 25 pieces will accompany the party and concerts will be given at each stop. A feature of the visit will be the parade of the entire party through the main streets immediately upon arrival.

Elks' Memorial Tablet in Bronze Is to Be Erected

A beautiful bronze memorial tablet containing the names and date of death of the departed members of Thief River Falls Lodge No. 1308, B. P. O. E., arrived from the foundry at Waukegan, Ill., this week and will be ready for inspection by members at the meeting on Friday night. It is a beautiful tablet, about four feet square, containing in relief the names of members of the lodge who have passed away, together with the date of their departure. There are 15 names in all, this being an average of about two a year since the lodge was instituted. The highest number is charged against 1918, four being the total toll. This was due to the war and flu epidemic.

There is besides considerable business of importance to be transacted on Friday night and lunch will be served.

On Eastern Buying Trip.

H. E. Nelson, manager of the local branch of the J. C. Penney company stores, left Wednesday evening for St. Paul, where he will attend the annual convention of the J. C. Penney company branch managers, after which he will proceed to New York to buy fall stock for the branch here. He expects to be absent about three weeks. Archie Dahl, superintendent of the clothing department, will be in charge of the store during his absence.

Commissioners Will Meet.

The board of commissioners of Pennington county will hold a regular meeting Friday, May 18, when a number of important matters of the county will be considered.

Card of Thanks.

The local post of the American Legion wishes to thank the home guards for the guard fund of $124.37 which they turned over to the post to be used for disabled service men and will be known as the American Legion trust fund.

LETTER TELLS OF CONDITIONS AMONG CHINESE

Helen Weeks Writes of Experiences on Trip and Work She Is Now Engaged In.

Now Teaching Natives After Completing Course in Language at Peking School.

Located in Territory Infested With Bandits and Liable to Uprisings at Any Time.

Thief River Falls now has a representative in the mission fields of China. Miss Helen Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Weeks, who left this city last summer to take up missionary work in China, is now located at Sinyangchow, in the province of Honan, where she has been engaged as an instructor in a school for girls. She is working under the direction of the Lutheran church, which is maintaining a number of mission stations in heathen land. Miss Weeks was graduated from the Thief River Falls high school in 1917 and later completed a course at St. Olaf college.

Miss Weeks a short time ago completed her course at the Chinese language school at Peking, graduating with high honors. She finished a year's course in six months, showing exceptional ability in learning the complicated and difficult Chinese language. In her letter, which follows, she states that she likes it very much and is enthusiastic about her work in the new field of service.

The town where the young missionary has been stationed at is in the midst of a territory terrorized by bandits who often swoop down upon the villages and settlements and pillage and kill the inhabitants. In many instances the foreign missionaries have been victims of the activities of such bands. The Chinese authorities are putting forth efforts to prevent such occurrences, but in a large number of cases these roving bands are out of the reach of governmental clutches. According to Miss Weeks' letter to The Times, the section in which she is located is practically in a turmoil and certainly needs the influence of civilization.

Following is the complete communication from Miss Weeks, in which she tells of her trip across the Pacific, her impressions of China and Chinese life and various other topics of a most interesting nature:

Peking, China.
March 9, 1923.

Dear People Back Home:

A promise made is a promise to keep, isn't it? Although my conscience may have seemed to have ceased functioning as far as letter

FEATURE PICTURE OF SEASON WILL BE AT LYCEUM MAY 10

"Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood" Secured by Manager for Thursday, Friday, Saturday.

What is probably the greatest attraction that has ever been secured for Thief River Falls theater patrons will be shown at the Lyceum next week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when the local management presents "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," the hit of the season. This spectacular film presentation of the life in the romantic period and the days of chivalry, starring Douglas Fairbanks, the athletic actor, is being shown for the first time in the northwest, north of the twin cities, at Thief River Falls. This was brought about by special arrangement. It will appear later at Grand Forks, Crookston, Bemidji and other larger cities of the Northwest.

"Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood" will be shown here with special orchestra music and also vocal selections by Roy Prytz, local baritone singer, at each performance.

It is a 12-reel picture so that there will be only one show each evening, at 8 o'clock. Matinees will be given at 2:30 o'clock each afternoon. Manager Brumund states that it is the highest priced picture ever booked in this city.

More than a million dollars were spent on the new Fairbanks offering. It is not the intent of the star to dwell on costs, however, for, as he said, it is the effect and not the means or method of getting them that counts.

Regarding this wonderful film, Mr. Fairbanks said: "I spent more money on this feature than I ever spent on any previous production, and am optimistic regarding the outcome. Of course, I'm an optimist by nature. I am in the picture business not so much to make money as I am to make good. You see, I go on the theory that if your business is not a pleasure TO you, then it is not the business FOR you. If I have the satisfaction of knowing I have done a thing well, that is my greatest reward; the profit that accrues is merely incidental.

Assumes New Position.

Theo. Tandberg, until recently connected with the Goodridge State bank, assumed his duties as chief clerk and purchasing agent in the head office of the Minneapolis Bridge company May 1. Mr. Tandberg succeeds A. R. Kohn who has entered the automobile business, while the former will be succeeded in the Goodridge bank by Roy Halseth of this city.

SOCIETY NOTES

Northfield Y. P. S. Entertains.

The Northfield Young People's society will meet on Sunday, May 6, in the Jondo schoolhouse. The meeting begins at 2 o'clock. Lunch will be served after the program. Everybody is cordially invited.

Entertains at Cards.

Mrs. C. M. Haug entertained a group of her friends at her home on Wednesday afternoon. The time was spent in a social way and bridge was played at two tables. A delicious lunch was served at 5 o'clock.

Newfolden Girl Weds.

Miss Tillie Knutson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Knutson of Newfolden, was united in marriage to Albert Wegner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wegner of Red Lake Falls on Friday, April 27. The ceremony took place at Crookston. Mr. and Mrs. Wegner will make their home in Moorhead.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. Peter Myhrum entertained a group of near relatives at her home Saturday afternoon in honor of her son, Walton, who celebrated his sixth birthday anniversary. The time was passed in a social way. At 5:30 a supper was served, covers being laid for sixteen. A beautiful as well as delicious birthday cake was a feature of the repast.

For Mrs. Provencher.

Mrs. Gilbert Huot entertained a number of friends at her home Thursday in honor of Mrs. Harold Provencher, who left for Minneapolis Monday. The time was spent in a social way and a delicious lunch was served at 5 o'clock. Those present were: Mrs. Harold Provencher, guest of honor, Mrs. Charles Warner, Mrs. Clarence Pope and Mrs. J. E. Bloomquist.

Mrs. Burns Entertains.

Mrs. F. J. Burns delightfully entertained a group of her friends at her home Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Harold Provencher, who left on Monday for Minneapolis. The time was spent in a social way, reviewing the pleasant reminiscences of the past few years. A delicious luncheon was served at 5 o'clock. Those present were: Mrs. Harold Provencher, honored guest, Mrs. David Robinson and Mrs. Henry Froseth.

For Mrs. Hofto.

Mrs. O. Hofto was pleasantly surprised at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John E. Nelson, Saturday afternoon, by about 50 of her friends. The time was most enjoyably spent in a social way. As a token of their esteem the guests presented her with a cameo breast pin and a beautiful hand bag. A delicious lunch was served at 5:30 o'clock. Mrs. Hofto has been a resident of this city for 17 years and is held in high esteem by all who know her.

Surprise Party.

Mrs. C. A. Phelps was pleasantly surprised Tuesday afternoon when a group of her friends gathered at her home. The afternoon was spent in a social way and at 4 o'clock a dainty lunch was served by the guests. A beautiful purse was presented her as a token of esteem. Those present were Mrs. Dickenson, Mrs. V. Sandstrom, Mrs. E. E. Pechie, Mrs. E. S. Christie, Mrs. E. F. Dolan, Mrs. Geo. L. Randall, Mrs. E. C. Reamer, Mrs. C. Barlow, Miss Lucy Phelps, Miss Ruth Sandstrom.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. Alfred Olson entertained a group of young ladies at her home on Markley avenue Saturday in honor of Miss Nettie Anderson of Middle River, who celebrated her birthday. The hours were enjoyably spent in a social manner and in the course of the afternoon a fine lunch was served. Miss Anderson was presented with a pretty gift as a momento of the occasion. Those present were: Misses Nettie Anderson, honor guest, Myrtle Senate, Edna Severson, Hannah Gustafson, Alma Olson, Alma Myrold, Hulda Myrold, Hattie Anderson, Ruth Anderson and Mesdames Fred V. Brodine, Carl Lundquist, Alfred Olson and C. A. Anderson of Middle River.

LUCILE HERMANSON.

On last Saturday evening, Lucile Hermanson, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hermanson, appeared in a piano recital given at the Lincoln high school under the direction of Miss Doris M. Halvorson. A good sized audience was present and thoroughly enjoyed the excellent program of 16 numbers.

Miss Hermanson showed herself to be a young player of great promise, her work being unusually good for a girl of her age.

The program was an interesting and a difficult one and this young player showed training and ability, the artistic manner in which she interpreted every number and her accurate technique. Miss Hermanson is a youthful prodigy and has ability far beyond her years, having made the most remarkable progress within the past two years.

For Helen Johnson.

Miss Helen Johnson was a delightful hostess at a birthday party given by her mother on her seventh birthday Saturday, April 28. The guests gathered early in the afternoon and played games until 5 o'clock. A delicious birthday luncheon was then served, of which two birthday cakes were features, one of which was decorated with candles. The party dispersed about 6 o'clock. The rooms were beautifully decorated in yellow with streamers. Many beautiful gifts were received by Helen. The guests were: Misses Janet and Geraldine Connell, Jean Mellby, Jane Protzeller, Marjorie Anne Fuller, Lovern Morrissette and James Connell. Mrs. G. W. Connell assisted with the party.

Prichard's Surprised.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Prichard Jr. were surprised by a group of their friends who gathered at their home Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Prichard, who celebrated her birthday anniversary. The time was spent in a social way, games and music being the chief diversions. A sumptuous two-course lunch was served by the guests, the feature of which was a white birthday cake decorated with yellow candles. Mrs. Prichard was presented with an Eastern Star emblem pin which was set with pearls. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Nason, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bottelson, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Melby, Mr. and Mrs. Nate Harris, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Durin, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Christianson, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gustafson and Mr. and Mrs. C. Orme, and Misses Gladys and Irma Smith and Chas. Halgrim.

Former Local Man Weds.

An announcement was received by The Times this week from John E. Fondahl, formerly of Thief River Falls but now at Fort Sheridan, Ill., that on March 29 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary J. De Courcy, daughter of Mrs. Alice J. De Courcy, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Fondahl's parents, who were formerly residents of Thief River Falls for some time, eight years ago, are now living at Germantown. He is known to a number of local people, having attended the Thief River Falls schools. During the past few years the young man has been in the army and is now a sergeant in troop A, 14th cavalry, stationed at Fort Sheridan, 26 miles north of Chicago. He states in his communication that he expects to be sent to Camp Custer, Mich., in the near future in connection with the summer training of reserve officers and the Citizens Military Training corps.

Community Clubs Entertain.

The Girls' Community club and the Junior Community club will give an entertainment Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Community Girls' club rooms in the form of a Rejuvenating Machine. This is a form of entertainment that provides a greater variety of talent and in a manner that introduces humor and surprises throughout. To publish the program would be to give away the idea, but the best work of Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, G. M. Harner, Henry Arneson and others who can give high class offerings in their line may be expected. The cast includes: Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, Misses Lucile Roark, Erma Chittick, Ruth Quammen, Elmira Langseth, Laura Brown, Phyllis Dock, Hazel Swanson, Thora Hanson and Messrs. G. M. Harner, Henry Arneson, Melvin Engelstad, Joe Collins, Melvin Saugen, Otto Saugen, Roy Holmgren, Ward Mathews, Melvin Peterson, Sidney Eels, Noble Larson, Emmett Shanahan. The committees in charge are: For the Girls' Community club, Misses Bertha Poston, Barbara Votava, Emily Fossum and Laura Brown. For the Junior club: James Votava, president of the club, Misses Lucile Roark, Lillian Arnold and Messrs. Melvin Peterson and Noble Larson. There will be no admission charge.

Group of Young Musicians Appear in Piano Recital

The high school auditorium was filled to capacity Thursday evening at the pleasing piano recital given by a group of pupils who are studying under the direction of Mrs. Thelma Erikson, piano instructor. All the numbers showed splendid ability on the part of the young pianists, every selection being played with artistic touch and expression. Some of those who took part were such little tots that one could hardly believe them able to play with such precision.

Students as young as six years old took part in the recital, among the youthful artists worthy of special mention being little Ardith Halseth and Laverne Morrissette. "Humoresque," played on two pianos by Frances Wengeler and Mildred Engen, was the favorite number of the evening. Delightful vocal music was rendered by Karl Sundahl, accompanied by Mrs. Erickson.

Harold Lloyd Comedy This Week.

Harold Lloyd says that it took four months to dope out the ending of Grandma's Boy"—that final laugh that made its first audience, when it was previewed in Long Beach, Calif., laugh so hard that it held up the next act for 10 minutes. The hardest part of a comedy contends Lloyd and his producer, Hal Roach, is the "gag" for the final fad-out.

"Grandma's Boy" is hailed as Harold Lloyd's most pretentious comedy in a lineup of laugh-producing photoplays that have not had one mark against them. Lloyd's newest comedy is always a step forward, and "Grandma's Boy" is a mighty big stride ahead.

It is in five reels and its laughs, thrills and suspense are built around a theme as serious as the phychology of fear. Lloyd is seen as the bashful small town boy, afraid of his own shadow. When his little old-fashioned grandmother comes to his rescue with her great wisdom and teaches him the meaning of self-confidence, he makes the sleepy little town of Blossom Bend—and the Girl in particular—sit up and take notice that the worm has turned!

"Grandma's Boy" is from the story by producer Hal Roach and Sam Taylor and Jean Havez. Fred Newmeyer directed, and the cast includes pretty Mildred Davis, Anna Townsend, Dick Sutherland, Charles Stevenson and Noah Young. It is an Associated Exhibitors feature comedy and will be shown at the Lyceum theater Friday and Saturday this week.

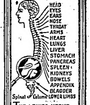
April Headaches and Spring Fever

April headaches and spring fever are closely related. Usually when you get rid of one you get rid of the other. There are various kinds of headaches, but the kind that goes along with spring fever (bodily lassitude) is caused by a subnormal liver. The wastes of the body are not removed rapidly enough.

Uncle Ben says: "A pelican's mouth holds as much as his belly can. Nevvy, and I guess the reason is because his name ends in 'I can.'"

HEALTH FOLLOWS
CHIROPRACTIC CORRECTS PRESSURE ON SPINAL NERVES IN DISEASES OF THE FOLLOWING ORGANS:



THE LOWER NERVE UNDER THE MAGNIFYING GLASS IS PINCHED BY A MISALIGNED JOINT. PINCHED NERVES CANNOT TRANSMIT HEALTHFUL IMPULSES. CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTING REMOVES THE PRESSURE. THE UPPER NERVE IS FREE AS NATURE INTENDS.

The mental impulses or life energy that travels the nerve lines flow equally to all parts of the body, the liver included, unless there is a displacement of spinal bones interfering with the nerves to the liver. By chiropractic spinal adjustments the chiropractor removes the cause of this interference and the full power and health energy of the liver is restored. Headaches and lassitude disappear.

RID OF HEADACHES

"My wife had sick headaches that kept her in bed for days at a time. We tried all manner of remedies but nothing gave any permanent benefit until my wife took a course of chiropractic spinal adjustments. Her general health was greatly improved and the headaches disappeared. I am glad at all times to recommend chiropractic."—Rev. J. H. Barnes, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1314-H.

Knute Nelson.

Senator Knute Nelson is dead. He was stricken while on his way home from Washington last Saturday evening. He was eighty years old, and for nearly fifty years was a prominent figure in public life, serving as state legislator, governor and United States senator. He was born in Norway and came to this country with his parents when a small lad. As United States senator he had bestowed upon him the highest honor within the power of the American people to tender a foreign-born citizen. Senator Nelson was really one of the greatest men of our time. His courage, his faith, his sincerity, his adherence to his convictions made Senator Nelson's name one that will go down in history as one of our foremost Americans.

Well Regulated As It Is.

"Buy absolutely nothing that stern necessity does not imperatively demand," is the advice of J. F. Reed, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, to farmers seeking relief from their present economic condition. In a statement to farmers, issued Monday, Mr. Reed said:

"From the most expert statistician in Washington to the smallest farmer in his humble home; from the greatest captains of industry and finance to the most humble laborer in industrial pursuits, it is fully known that the farmer is not receiving proportionate returns on capital investment and labor expended with any other business or industry in this country today.

"Is there a remedy for this condition that can be applied? Yes! Sure, simple, swift and certain!

"Without revolution, disorder, or unlawful practices, and wholly in the farmers' hands.

"Buy absolutely nothing that stern necessity does not imperatively demand.

"If every farmer will make that his absolute rule, he will be surprised how quickly his economic condition will change. No murder, no bombs, no shock to the sense of propriety. No resort to methods so commonly known that were so ruthlessly practiced by those controlling finance during the past five years.

"Again has begun the vicious circle of rising prices of the farmers necessities, rising profits and rising wages of those who produce them, while the total returns on investment and labor of the average farmer today does not equal that of the unskilled laborer employed in the factories where the farmers necessities are produced and whose hours of labor are much less than the farmers' own.

"Apply with that stern rigor that has made farmers from the beginning so independent and self-reliant this rule of buying literally and absolutely, and the time can be counted in months when the value of land and equipment and the necessary labor to produce the products of the farm will bring an equal return in money that the investment and labor in other industries bring when their products are sold. This equality the farmer is entitled to and will not be satisfied with less.

"Changes in methods of marketing and equality in methods of financing the industry of agriculture will come and prove helpful but their helpfulness is too far distant.

"Begin at once the practice of producing every possible item of necessity of living and equipment within your power. Many farmers will be surprised at the necessities and luxuries their land and labor will yield when studied, developed and multiplied. All of these should be used and indulged in to the utmost, then limit your buying to the lowest point gauged by the sternest necessity, and the problem is solved.

"The farmer should produce to the utmost of his own necessities and buy the lowest minimum of the products of the man who charges so many times more for his investment and labor than he is willing to pa ythe farmer for his.

"Do it now and keep at it until all effort on your part will compel equal effort on the part of all others with whom you desire to exchange commodities. It will be but a short time. The weapon is in your hands. This peaceful method will work mystic wonders in placing agriculture in its proper relation with other industries and occupations."

This little bit of advice from the president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation may be very good for the farmers in some sections, and exactly what is needed, but to the farmers of Pennington county and northwestern Minnesota it is like rubbing salt in an open sore. For two years they have been struggling along and in many cases unable to pay even their taxes and interest. Hundreds of them have been without funds to buy the absolute necessities of life and to them the suggestion of going on a "buying strike" is the most vicious kind of sarcasm. If this is the only thing in the way of relief that can be offered the farmer he might as well be told to stop eating.

MUCH INTEREST IN RECREATION ROOMS OF COMMUNITY CLUB

Miss Poston Gives Interesting Report of Activities—Will Continue Work.

More boys than girls visit the Community club rooms, according to report made by Miss Bertha Posten, who is in charge of recreation work at the rooms maintained by the Girl's Community club. The interest in the new project has been steadily increasing and the attendance is very gratifying.

In her March report to the club Miss Posten stated: "The party given on Saturday evening, March 3, the occasion of the opening of the club rooms to the public, was attended by about sixty-five persons, but too large a percentage of those were small children. On the following Tuesday evening there were about the same number present with about the same proportion of small children. After that the youngsters were told that they were not expected and there have been very few since. A few little ones come but they do not stay late. For several reasons it seems unwise to allow them to come to the rooms.

"The club rooms have been open every evening except Sundays and Mondays since March 3, and the smallest in attendance any evening was nineteen. A gratifying number of the older boys and girls come to the rooms each evening. One evening there were twenty young men present and no girls.

"A club composed of the older boys and girls was formed and there are now forty members. They call themselves 'The Junior Community Club.' A group of eighth grade girls have formed a girls scout troop. As yet no captain has been definitely engaged for the troop but Mrs. Thos. Chittick is in temporary charge. A troop of nine-year old girls has also been organized." There are now altogether three troops in the process of organization, altho definite plans for the summer activities have not been made yet.

During the first month it was found rather difficult to reach the young working men and women. A special effort was made to get the women of the Woman's club to send their maids to the club rooms on their evenings off.

In a later report at the meeting of the club April 9, Miss Posten continues: "If members are any indication of the success of the efforts of the club in its program of recreation for the young folks of Thief River Falls, then surely the work is successful. We have had an attendance of nearly sixty each evening of the last two weeks and on one evening there were 111 present. On Friday evening, April 6, the W. C. T. U. served refreshments to the guests at the club rooms. On Saturday, April 7, the children under fourteen years of age were entertained. There were about 100 or 125 present. A large number of little girls want to become Scouts and several leaders are needed. If any one will volunteer for this work we shall be glad to hear from them. Mrs. Chittick's troop now has 20 members and there is material for two more.

"We are having more boys than girls at the club rooms, sometimes fully twice as many. Owing to the fact that there are too many little children it may be necessary to raise the younger age limit."

A number of games have been contributed by interested persons and many older people visit the recreation rooms to become familiar with its activities. One of the interesting things to note is the way the older boys enjoy themselves.

According to present plans the recreational work in the club rooms can not be carried on by the club more than about two weeks longer, owing to the fact that the funds for maintaining it will then be practically exhausted. It is hoped, however, that some means may be secured so as to continue the splendid work. The local club was very fortunate in obtaining the services of Miss Posten, experienced social worker, in making this first attempt to maintain a place where the young girls and boys of Thief River Falls may spend their evenings with the proper surroundings.

"Satesdals-Stevne" to Be Held At Crookston In June

At a meeting of some of the directors of the Satesdalslag in Thief River Falls recently, it was definitely decided to hold the annual convention of the organization at Crookston this year. Although it is not known as being quite certain yet, it will most probably take place the 20th and 21st of June.

The meeting called together by Bj. Bjornaraa of Wanke, president of the organization, which is composed of Norwegians from a certain district in Norway who get together each year to renew friendships and exchange reminiscences from "the old country." Mr. Bjornaraa had previously conferred with a group of interested persons at Grand Forks, and Crookston was found to be the most logical and centrally located place for the meeting this year.

The majority of the Satesdals reside in the Red River valley in Minnesota and North Dakota, and a large delegation from this community intends to take part in the festivitids.

Olaf Neset, local jeweler, is secretary of the "lag," and T. K. Rynestad, residing near the city, is one of the directors.

May Federal Court Term Postponed Until August

The Federal court session at Fergus Falls, which was scheduled to be held this month, has been postponed until August 7, according to recent announcement, the order having been affected by Judge Morris.

The reason for the postponement was that the holding of the spring session would call a number of farmers away from their lands during the busy seeding time. Judge Page Morris, whose resignation from the bench takes effect soon, will be succeeded by Judge McGee. Six local men are to appear before McGee to answer charges of violations of the liquor laws.

Civil Service Exam. For R. R. Postal Clerks May 26

Notice has been received at the local post office that a civil service examination for railway postal clerks will be held in Thief River Falls on May 26.

The applicant must be a citizen of the United States, between the ages of 18 and 35 and minus any physical defects. Women may take the examination but the commissioner announces that they will not be appointed as railway clerks.

Anyone desiring any further information should inquire at the post office.

Will Remain at Middle River.

Among the instructors in the Middle River schools who have accepted contracts to remain next year is Elmer O. Tandberg, whose home is in this city. Mr. Tandberg will continue to serve in the capacity of principal and have charge of athletics. John Nystul, formerly of the Goodridge school, will remain as superintendent.

Polarine
THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

Means Sharp Economy

Many motorists do not realize the tremendous waste due to wrong lubrication. They do not charge against the motor oil such matters as scored cylinders—overheating—noisy gears—too much carbon—too much exhaust smoke—too high consumption of gas.

Yet the right grade of Polarine—indicated in the chart—frequently corrects all these troubles. Polarine means economy in operation, as well as added flexibility and power.

The reason why Polarine is good, begins with fundamentals. Polarine is made from selected crudes—high in lubricating value. Polarine is manufactured in modern refineries. It is made according to the findings of the world's leading petroleum chemists in co-operation with the designers of the very cars, trucks and tractors for which the oil is intended.

THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

Made in Five Grades

It is tested, scientifically, in hundreds of tests—in all kinds of engines—under all road conditions.

Polarine is dependable at all speeds—at all temperatures—because it holds together. It maintains its body, does not disintegrate under pressure, will correctly lubricate your car at all times, provided the grade indicated in the Chart is used.

Polarine is elastic. It forms a perfect cushion, an unbroken film between the moving metal parts. Yet it offers minimum resistance to motion and maximum flexibility.

This flexibility often minimizes gear shifting. This means economy (and convenience), because driving in low always consumes more gas. Change your motor oil every 500 miles and specify Polarine.

rural, village and city schools of the county. This total is small compared with that received in former years, due to the lower rate of state aid, although the number of pupils in the county has increased considerably. The 1923 apportionment list records 240 more pupils in the county than two years previously.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson is this week distributing warrants to the schools of the county for the first tax apportionment of 1923. Of the $43,041.43 which is being paid to the treasuries of the school districts, district No. 18, in the city of Thief River Falls, receives nearly 50 per cent; district No. 8, Goodridge, nearly 10 per cent, and district No. 102, St. Hilaire, a little more than 6 per cent. LETTER TELLS OF LIFE AMONG CHINESE PEOPLE promises are concerned, yet Thief River Falls has often been in my thoughts. Truly, I do believe that no matter how far a person may roam in answer to an inner calling, yet a little home city, the old familiar faces and places always triumph—at the end of the road. I shall not soon forget that feeling of bewilderment that came upon me as I saw for the last time the lights of dear old Thief River Falls disappear in the distance. It was only for a time, however, for one is always comforted by the thought that one goes nowhere alone, but that an Unseen Presence has gone before, preparing the way.

The journey to the coast was a revelation. You who have had the experience can appreciate the thrill we felt when after a day of dreary North Dakota prairies, we were suddenly transported into the matchless grandeur of the Canadian Rockies. The tiny mountain streams, the deep canyons, the majestic snow-mantled and cloud-caressed peaks made us mortals feel how very insignificant and small we were.

And then the Pacific! I am, however, firmly convinced that Balboa was all wrong when he named it. I do pride myself, though, on being a good sailor and recall—with a real thrill—my first ocean voyage. I cannot begin to tell of the feeling of exultation it gives one to stand on deck watching the white-capped waves chase each other to a red gold sun sinking below the horizon—or contrastingly to feel an angry wind toss the man-made boat about and fling the salt spray against one's face. How good it was then to know that "Underneath Are the Everlasting Arms."

I liked what little I saw of Japan. We were permitted to land at Yokohama, Kobe and Nagasaki. From Yokahama some of us went to Tokio by train. It is a picturesque country. One sees tiny black-haired, dark-eyed people, brightly clad, hurrying to and fro with their wooden sandals noisily clattering on the pavement. How happily they bowed and smiled! Politeness seemed to rule everything. Can you imagine entering a shop and having all the clerks bow when you enter and when you leave—even escort you to the door? In busy America it would seem queer, but it seemed quite natural in Japan.

It was the Inland Sea, however, with its accompanying revelation of beauty in the form of terraced mountains, little fishing villages nestling beside rolling hills, light houses on rocky points, and sailboat galore—that especially challenged kodak fiends. Never have I seen bluer heavens, fleecier clouds or brighter suns. It was indescribably marvelous.

I was a bit disappointed in the cosmopolitanism of Shanghai. But that feeling was not long-lived, for we got a taste of real Chinese life on our river steamer up the Yangtze. I shall never forget one river port at which we stopped. The wharf was crowded with men, women and children in filthy rags, covered with sores. But worse still, beneath the wharf in the darkest, dirtiest hole, lived a large family. The children all scrambled out first and, seeing we were foreigners, called to the older women, who toiled up painfully on their poor, broken, bound feet. I tried to get a picture of them, but the minute I focused my kodak they scampered away.

From Hongkong we went by rail to Peking. One feels literally blown in there, for Peking is noted for its wind and dust storms. I have enjoyed my stay in Peking, though. It is an interesting old city. The Forbidden City, where the boy emperor still lives, the large reception hall where the president receives, the summer palace where the infamous empress dowager once held sway, the beautiful winter palace and North sea, the multitude of ancient temples for heathen worships, the great wall, the Wing tombs (the latter two about a day's journey from Peking), the bell tower, the drum tower, the hall of classics, the hall of Confucius, the western hills and the city wall itself are perhaps the chief points of interest. One could write endlessly if one would re-live separately the impressions of each. The street scenes are very unique. The army of ricshas, mule carts, cars and horses, donkeys, open street shops, the cry of venders, the squeak of water wheelbarrows, the soldiers, policemen, continuous wedding and funeral processions and the unceasing noise is confusing at first. But one soon learns to accept it all as a part of China, and thus live on.

The climate is very different and somehow I have found acclimatization very trying.

The language, however, is very fascinating. The importance of tones is surprising and mistakes in tones often are amusing and embarrassing. Just a wrong tone used might cause you to ask a servant to bring a guest soap instead of a chair! Or on entering a shop you might ask to try on cats instead of hats. Or, if you aren't careful you will tell the cook to use a flag instead of yeast in making bread. I like it, though, and our Chinese instructors are so interesting. My private teacher is a lady who insists that ages ago the Chinese wore clothes like the foreigners do now! Evidently we must be horribly behind times!

Chinese New Year's (our Feb. 16) was a unique time. That is the time for paying debts—and also the day on which all Chinese give themselves up to unreserved washing, feasting and idol worshiping. Oh, truly, "East is East and West is West."

Sinyang Chow, March 30.

It is long since time that this epistle was on its way, but since coming here there has been but little time for letters. This is such an interesting place, but I cannot tell you of it now, nor of our interesting work here. It is all-absorbing, I assure you. Conditions are very unsettled around here, however. Last Tuesday we heard that Loshan was surrounded on two sides by mounted bandits. Loshan is a day's journey from here. On Wednesday we were informed that the bandits had left without pillaging, going southwesterly. We are west of Loshan. We have had no further reports. But, dear people, there is indeed need for prayers for His work—and workers—out here. Truly, the Lord is our refuge and strength—a very present help in trouble. What a comfort that is in these times!

But now I must truly cease. My letter will be late in coming, but may it nevertheless bring to you all my greetings. May the blessed peace and joy of the Easter season be in all your hearts.

Sincerely,
HELEN WEEKS.

THE MODERN DANCE

(Eccl. 11,9.)

The following timely sermon was delivered by Rev. E. H. Kreidt of St. John's Lutheran church on Sunday evening, April 15:

"Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth; but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment?"

In our text, Solomon, the aged and wise preacher, encourages the youth and maiden to enjoy their youth. The springtime of life is the proper season of enjoyment and pleasure. While the heart is young and light, before the serious and weighty problems of life lay their heavy hand upon their shoulders, let them be happy and joyous. They shall be cheerful and happy, but in all their joys and pleasures they shall keep in mind one thing: The day shall surely come when the Lord God will demand an account of their pleasures. God will bring them into judgment and demand how they have spent the days of their youth. And remembering this, they shall choose their joys and pleasures accordingly. They shall delight in those things, and give their years to those amusements, which find favor in the sight of God; let them avoid such things which will cause them to feel ashamed before the throne of judgment.

We search in vain for wiser counsel to our youth and also to our older people than these words spoken over three thousand years ago. Christianity is not a foe of joy and happiness; it does not frown on amusement and pleasure. It does not ask its members, whether young or old, to sit with long, sour faces, to frown on every form of pleasure, or to abjure every means of merriment. No, the Christian church wants its members to be happy and congenial, but in the proper manner. The Christian church urges and admonishes her members to choose their pleasures and pastimes in such manner that they shall be able to stand before their God in the day of judgment. Their pleasures must be in keeping with their Christianity. They dare not lose sight of their heavenly calling in the mad whirl of amusement. They dare not risk their soul in the fleeting thrill of a merry moment.

Now, there is one form of amusement which has become universal, in which all classes of people indulge—rich and poor, young and old, high and low—in which also the Christian is tempted to join. It is the modern dance.

In the last years the world has gone dance-mad. Everybody wants to dance. And particularly since the war, the dance has developed, or rather degraded, to such a stage, that a Christian pastor may well discuss the question with his congregation: "Can the Christian take part in the modern dance?"

That is the question before us this evening. I shall answer that question very frankly and in plain words. Perhaps some of you will be shocked at the things I shall have to say. I can only hope and pray that you will be shocked, shaken to the very depths of your soul, not because such things were mentioned in the House of God, but because the truth demands that they be mentioned; shocked so thoroughly and effectively that never again will your foot touch the place, which has been so aptly termed "the vestibule of hell," and which a German proprietor some years ago, in a spirit of reckless truthfulness, graced with the sign "Teufelsdiele," or "The Devil's Platform."

And lest you seek to fortify yourself against what is coming with the threadbare and ageworn excuse: "Oh, those preachers are continually talking about something of which they know nothing, I wish to state right now that I am not going to give my own estimate of the dance, nor the opinions of other preachers, but I shall let such men speak of the dance who have had every opportunity of knowing what they are talking about, one of them an ex-dancing master. That I have never been to a public dance and know not how to dance, makes no difference. I do not need to drink strychnine or carbolic acid to know that they are the deadliest poison; the experience of others is sufficient proof for me.

The modern dance between the sexes is designed to create and cater to sexual excitement. There is no denying that fact. Dr. Frank Richardson of Boston said: "The various steps and poses of the dances are contributed with 'develish ingenuity' to excite the instincts of sex."

Do a little thinking of your own and you cannot fail to see the solid truth of that statement. How long would a dance hall thrive where intersexual dancing was prohibited and where men danced with men and women with women? The proprietor would not sell enough tickets to pay the orchestra. Perhaps you read the reports in the papers last year concerning the dance halls in St. Paul to the effect that girls who refused to discard their corsets during the dance were treated by the men and boys as mere wall flowers. New York dance halls have side rooms with the sign: "Check your corsets here." Why do men dance? If this doesn't give you ladies the answer, nothing else will.

The ex-dancing master, Mr. Faulkner, bears out our argument when he says: "It is not the whirling, but the liberties the waltz affords which forms its chief attraction. It is a horrible fact, but a fact none the less, that it is absolutely necessary that a woman shall be able and willing to reciprocate the feelings of her partner before she can graduate a perfect dancer."

This fact alone explains the positions taken during the modern dances, positions positively indecent and immoral; positions that are permissable among respectable people only on the dance floor. My dear man, what would you say if, after this service, some other man would greet your wife by putting his arm around her, placing his cheek to hers and drawing her into a close embrace? Would you not consider it an outrage against the decency of your wife and a violation of all respectability?

Of course, you would, and justly so. Yet, if you take her to the dance you permit not merely one man, but dozens of them, to do that very thing! Where is the difference, I beg to know. Still, I have only faintly hinted at the positions assumed by the partners in a modern, up-to-date dance. Look the thing squarely in the face and you will have to admit that dancing is merely conventionalized immorality. Again we quote Dr. Richardson of Boston: "The dance hall is the nursery of the divorce courts, the training ship of prostitution, and the graduation school of infamy."

Statistical results of the dance and its influence bear out this sweeping condemnation. A former chief of police in New York city declared in the light of his experiences that "three-fourths of the abandoned girls in the city are ruined by dancing."

Says Mr. Faulkner, the dancing master: "I know of a select dancing school where in a course of three months 11 of its victims are brothel inmates today. The most accomplished and most perfect dancers are to be found among the abandoned women. Why? Because they are graduates from dancing schools."

Rev. Brauer of Mahnomen, secretary of the Child Welfare Board for Mahnomen county, told me personally that "more than half of the girls which he committed to maternity hospitals and houses of correction during the past year was a result of the dance."

Judge Porterfield of the Kansas City juvenile court has said: "There is no safer road to hell than the public dance halls, which constitute an evil that ruins more boys and girls than anything else. They should not be allowed."

The following is taken from an editorial in the New York Star: "There are 400 dance halls in New York, and they are grinding a grist for hell every night in the week. The matter is too serious and too important to mince words over and the only thing to do is to destroy it root and branch as a measure of moral sanitation. Some say that we ought to dance for the sake of grace, but the only grace in the modern dance is the disgrace of it. So far as Christians are concerned, the dance does not need regulation but strangulation."

But enough of this. The dreadful consequences of the dance are attested by the countless wrecked lives and ruined souls.

Now, do not tell me that this applies only to the public dances of the larger cities. The ex-dancing master knows whereof he speaks; these are his words: "Do not delude yourself with the thought that such scenes occur only at low public dances. Some of the lowest and most disgusting deeds of which I have any knowledge have occurred at and in connection with the most fashionable parlor dances. Parents, I know whereof I speak when I say that just such villains as I have described are to be found in and are leaders of the select dancing school, in the ballroom, and at the parlor dance, figuring in what is called the best of society, as to most refined and highly polished society gentlemen of the day."

Those be hard words. And Thief River Falls itself offers the proof of them. How about the private dance given in one of the lodge halls last winter? How about the party at the home of one of the leading citizens, about which the participants dare to speak only in a hurried whisper? Thief River Falls may not equal New York and Chicago in quantity, but it isn't far behind in quality.

Such is the modern dance, portrayed by those who know. Oh, how many the poor girl who has left her mother pure and clean, has gone to the dance, and then must live the rest of her miserable life to say:

"Once I was pure as the snow, but I fell,
Fell like the snow-flake from heaven to hell;
Fell to be trampled as fifth in the street,
Fell to be scoffed at, be spit on and beat.
Pleading, cursing, dreading to die,
Selling my soul to whoever would buy
Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread,
Hating the living and fearing the dead,
Merciful God, have I fallen so low?
And yet I was once like the beautiful snow."

My dear Christian, can you indulge in the dance? No, you cannot. You cannot become a partner to this hellish device of the devil, and remain a

Public Approval

THE Standard Oil Company (Indiana) stands before the public squarely on its merits as an organization of service.

In directing the affairs of this Company, the management is animated by ideals of justice, fairness and equity to employee, consumer, competitor, stockholder and the general public.

Because it insists that the rights of all should be safeguarded, the Company has prospered and has taken its place as a leader in an essential industry.

To achieve commercial success, profits are necessary. Profits can come only through liberal patronage of the buying public.

This public will not patronize an organization whose methods are unfair or unjust. Continued prosperity comes only to the Company which renders a superior service and sells honest merchandise at an honest price.

To every fair-minded observer it must be obvious that hundreds of thousands of people are patronizing the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and are doing so because they have found by experience that the service rendered by this company is reliable and that the goods it sells are uniform and dependable, and that its prices are consistently fair.

Figures recently published by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce show that one-third of the automobile registrations are concentrated in the ten states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)—yet, the price of gasoline in this territory compares favorably with that in any similar section in the world.

This low scale of prices is attributed to the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

By its ever increasing patronage the public places the stamp of its approval upon the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The acknowledged efficiency of this Company is due to the unfaltering loyalty of its 27,000 employees; to the high ideals of service which the management has inaugurated and insists upon maintaining; to the unequalled facilities which this Company has provided for carrying on the business.

The loyalty of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employee is based upon the knowledge that this Company recognizes the rights of the worker to steady employment at good wages; to a liberal annuity plan; to protection against accident, and to opportunity to invest in the Company's business on favorable terms.

Because of this efficiency, recognized and approved by the public, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is able to pay to the stockholders a fair return on the capital invested, and to build up a sufficient reserve to enable it to expand its business to keep pace with the public need.

Great Northern Railway Shows Results of 1922 Railroad Operation

The Interstate Commerce Commission issued on February 23, 1923, a report of its Bureau of Statistics on the "Results of Railroad Operation in 1922." The facts contained in this report are worthy of careful study by every person who wants to learn the truth about railroads. The report states:

1. That the railroads in 1922 had a net railway operating income of $777,000,000.

2. That in view of the fact that the fixed charges of the railroads, including interest, rents and similar deductions, are around $669,000,000, "it will be seen that, regardless of any disputes about valuations, the roads did not earn enough in 1922, even if account be taken of the non-operating income which, before Federal control, averaged about $200,000,000 for the Class I operating steam roads."

3. That a return of 5¾ per cent on the Commission's tentative valuation of Class I roads would be $1,116,000,000 annually, whereas the net railway operating income for 1922 was $777,000,000. In other words, the railroads failed by nearly $340,000,000 to earn the 5¾ per cent allowed by law.

4. That "from the standpoint of the public, which is interested in the adequacy of the service, and in the fairness of the charges, two facts stand out prominently; one, an enormous traffic has recently been handled in spite of the strike handicaps; two, the average revenue per ton mile is pretty well in line with the general level of wholesale prices and there is no reason to believe that the general level of rates is retarding the business revival.

Great Northern Operating Revenues for Year 1922:

1.	Freight Transportation	$ 78,065,562.90
2.	Passenger Transportation	15,112,453.27
3.	Mail Transportation	2,849,623.46
4.	Express Transportation	2,709,958.53
5.	All Other Transportation Service	2,105,746.33
6.	Incidental	2,608,682.48
7.	Joint Facility—balance	910.60
8.	Total Receipts from Operation	$103,452,937.27

Great Northern Operating Expenses for Year 1922:

9.	Maintenance of Way and Structures	$ 13,153,322.53
10.	Maintenance of Equipment	19,585,289.56
11.	Traffic Expense	1,628,315.12
12.	Transportation Expense	42,179,200.93
13.	Miscellaneous Operations	1,220,616.95
14.	General Expense	2,474,455.24
15.	Transportation for Investment—Cr.	605,162.24
16.	Total Railway Operating Expense	$ 79,636,038.09
17.	Net Revenue from Railway Operations	$ 23,816,899.18
18.	Railway Tax Accruals	8,097,725.33
19.	Uncollectible Revenues	15,534.14
20.	Railway Operating Income	$ 15,703,639.71
21.	Equipment Rents	$ 1,799,023.26
22.	Joint Facility Rents—Dr.	226,065.12
23.	Net of Items 20, 21 and 22	$ 17,276,597.84
24.	Annual Interest on Funded Debt	8,832,599.60
25.	Left for Dividends	$ 8,443,998.24

The capital stock of the Great Northern Railway Company is $250,000,000. It is owned by about 44,000 stockholders. A dividend at the rate of 3 1-3 per cent per annum would require $8,333,333.33.

Staff's Last Issue

This will be the last issue of the Progress published directly by the regular 1923 staff. The remaining numbers this year will be edited by the new staff, under the supervision of the present editors.

In relinquishing control of the student publication, the staff reviews the year's work with a degree of satisfaction. Although no claim is made that a state of perfection has been reached where further improvement is not possible, the paper has at least been advanced enough to justify its name. From an unorganized jumble of news stories, personals and feature stuff, with no display heads and no attempt at symmetry and proportion in makeup at the beginning of the year, the Progress has grown to the position of an organized newspaper, for which all head-writing, proof-reading and composing are done by the editors. While little space has been available for humor, a stricter adherence to newspaper style has been practised.

By commencing work this spring, the new staff will have the advantage of continuing where the retiring editors leave off, instead of having to start at the bottom as have former staffs. Whether the present system of combining Journalism with Public Speaking will be continued next year has not yet been decided, but a very promising staff has been chosen which may be depended upon to do creditable work whatever method of publication is adopted.

This school will no doubt, as have other schools, soon be faced with the proposition of establishing an independent school publication. While numerous advantages would make such a paper a very desirable thing, there are also disadvantages which, under existing circumstances make the present system of publication advisable for a time at least. As it is, the Progress has some four thousand subscribers without soliciting a single subscription or an inch of advertising, no financial responsibilities are incurred, those students most interested get considerable practical training in actual newspaper work, and there is still room for advancement. When the present accommodations are outgrown, and all of the student genius is no longer exhausted in making the school Annual financially self supporting, the time will be ripe for entering the field of independent high school newspapers. As long as The Times is willing to extend its present courteous treatment to the editors and the school, there seems to be no pressing need for a change.

In the interest of raised standards through co-operation among high school publications, however, the editors wish to make a recommendation: That is that Thief River Falls high school join one of the several associations organized jointly by the member schools for the advancement of high school journalism. The Northern Interscholastic Press Association offers the advantage of having its headquarters and convention seat at Grand Forks, reducing the expenses of sending delegates to the annual

Noted Athlete Secured as Coach for Next Year

Lincoln high school has secured an athletic coach for next year. Leonard Thune, a graduate of Albert Lea high school and South Dakota State college. Mr. Thune is at present at South Dakota, from which institution he receives his degree this spring.

Mr. Thune has an enviable record in athletics. He was chosen as all-state high school center for Minnesota in 1919, and at South Dakota he was unanimously chosen as all-state center for four years. He also played an end position in football and made a very good record. In this he was selected as all-state end. This year South Dakota state won the championship in the conference composed of North Dakota U., North Dakota A. C., Morningside college, Creighton U. of Omaha, Des Moines U., Wesleyan, Neb.

With much good material left for next year, a coach of Mr. Thune's ability should assure a highly successful season in '23 and '24.

Formula for Success

School is almost over, and for the seniors its work is almost done. In some four weeks they will step out of the portals of Lincoln high never to re-enter there as a student. Of those who graduate, by far the greater part will never attend any other school, but will step directly out into the world to vie with others for a living.

The graduate's actions during the next five years will largely determine his later successes. If he makes good in the work he does now, he will find it no harder to make good later in more complex situations when he is ripened by experience.

There is one piece of advice which might be given, as simple as it is practical, and as fundamental as it is simple. It is this: WHATEVER YOU DO, DO WELL.

Too many people think, "Oh, that doesn't matter; if I get a real job I'll do it well." But the pathos of it is that such people do not get an opportunity to make good in a real job because, not having succeeded in little things, no one is willing to entrust them with big ones.

Today, more than ever before, if a job is waiting, the employers do not always look for a man particularly skilled in that line, but rather for a man who has shown exceptional talent in the things he has tackled. Such a man can be adapted to any work, even remotely similar to his own, and will make good there.

Seniors! Of the seventy of you, perhaps two or three will be very successful, and ten moderately so; the rest face a cheerless future. Why? Because they cannot see that the years of school and immediately after are the years during which the foundation for later life is laid, and that each part of that foundation is composed of jobs well done and tasks well fulfilled, however small these may have been.

Whether your particular job is farming, or sewer digging, or ship-building, do it well—and the world will welcome you with open arms, and crown you with her choicest jewels.

Misses Peggy Ives and Ethel Boyce of Red Lake Falls, and Jane Newland of Crookston visited school on Monday.

convention to a minimum. Besides the helpful advice and information that may be secured at any time during the year, many topics of great interest and importance to high school editors are taken up and discussed at the spring conventions.

J.-S. BANQUET TO BE HELD SATURDAY EVE

Sons of Norway Hall Secured for Biggest Social Event of Year.

The Junior-Senior banquet, one of the most important events of the school year, will be held at the Sons of Norway hall on Saturday evening, May 5, at 6 o'clock. A program of toasts and musical numbers will be rendered during the dinner and dancing, with music by Al Dybvik's trio, will follow.

The Junior committees have been working very hard to make the banquet a success and have arranged a delicious menu, which will be served by the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid. The following Freshman girls will serve as waitresses:

Mary Kassa, Phyllis Dock, Edna Hovie, Sannia Erickson, Mabel Johnson, Nettie Sjoberg, Mary Alexander, Grace Mostue, Francis Shannahan, Margaret Roark, Verna Becker, Pearl Olson, Elmyra Langseth and Wonetia Biddick.

The decoration committee has planned a color scheme of yellow and white, the Junior colors. Yellow jonquils, yellow and white programs and hall decorations will help to make this plan effective.

Senior Baseball Team Plays Practice Game

The senior baseball team has at last been able to start real practice. The weather up to Saturday had permitted them to have only light workouts, but on Saturday they had their first real practice and good form was shown. "Swede" Nelson started in the box against the scrubs and allowed them only one score, working with apparent ease. "Rus" Olson relieved Nelson at the end of the fifth inning, pitching the rest of the game without allowing the scrubs a second hit. The seniors have two good pitchers which they can rely on. The infield was working fine, while the outfield was able to take things easy, as the scrubs were unable to connect with the ball enough to worry them.

Games have been arranged with St. Hilaire, Red Lake Falls, Middle River, Goodridge and other towns. A big game with St. Hilaire was arranged for Thursday of this week and one with Red Lake Falls for Saturday. A game with Goodridge is scheduled for next week, and will probably be played on Wednesday or Saturday.

Esteemed Jap Rose:

This have been strenuous day in noblest sense of wd. Arose out of twin bed this A. M. with grouch as thick as head-piece. Coffee velocipede down wrong esophagus occassioning internal disturbance in throat. Nashing molars in audible whisper, I slam out of home address in dangerous condition. First person I conflict with equals hon. robin who undalate from twig "cheer up" in several variations! One icicle from stony eyeball wither unfortunate chicken who slink off to woods unnoticed. By assuming usual gait am able to immigrate into assembly to music under auspices of Mr. Rapacz, Prin., for special benefit of back numbers who he desire to remain for 40 minutes lecture to be delivered in person at 4 o'clock sharply. This have much cheery effect on personality that I am enabled to capture F in 1st period Chemistry recital. Remnant of A. M. is spent in trouble sleep while representatives from pub. squeeking class hold audience in suspense from start to final climax. Hon. Eileen Arneson by sidesplitting remarks from platform and unusual stage appearance gets 1st smile cracked from mouth since previous yesterday. Hon. floor manager in the form of Craig Halvorson also pull funny joke which I had listened before, but refrains from publicity on acc't. of excellant breeding. Thusly the A. M. fleeted away and no loss. Dinner was postponed for some min. on arriving at residence, therefore it is with great strength of character I file into general assemblage with final dessert course concealed in countenance. Am again receptacle of the sweet invitation for inspiring sermon at 4 o'clock promptively. During the course of P. M. public squeeking class hold convention. Electrocution instructor have previously exonerate unhappy victims to return with preparation to sell transaction of any article which may enter head if possible. "Wun!" she punctuate sharply, "you may render your selection." To which I, overcome by powerful grief, conjugate as follows: "Hon. teacher, I have fail to equip myself at request, but have famous handy cap for impromtu bluffing, so will choose as the topic for ordeal something entirely original with me—the most completely set of ivory in the Hon. N. W." In well constructed grammar I impersonate virtues and vices of brushes, hair receptacles, and etc. illuminating intelligence on faces of listeners. Grouch of recent morning entirely forgiven when Miss MacNair perculate in treble C, thusly, "Wun, you have most aptly select your topic for address. No other acquaintance is better qualified for such a discussion. You are a masterpiece!" Thusly the day have been saved by kind vocabulary of a fellowman. While navigating to next class reunion, I am intercepted by note labeled "Pass on," and am overwhelmed with delineation to discover it is from one of my most attentive girl friends desiring a bid for Alumnae Shuffle the ensuing eve. With loud exuberation I accept. As

One week from today, May 11, the seniors of the local high school will present one of the best of plays, "Come Out of the Kitchen," by A. E. Thomas. This is a high class royalty play secured through the French Company of New York. This fact alone practically assures its excellence.

It is just one whirl of laughter, romance and adventure. It was presented with tremendous success in eastern theaters by Ruth Chatterton and her company of artists.

The cast is working hard every evening under direction of Miss Katherine MacNair, instructor of public speaking.

If you enjoy good, clean, comedy and want two and one-half hours of REAL entertainment, don't miss this opportunity of seeing "Come Out of the Kitchen."

Many things happen in every kitchen of today. Come and see if these things happen to you before you "Come Out of the Kitchen."

MAY 11TH AT THE CITY AUDITORIUM.

Tickets on Sale Next Week.

The advance sale of tickets for "Come Out of the Kitchen" will commence next Monday. The business manager, Russel Anderson, plans sales drives in each of the four classes and may offer prizes to exceptionally active salesmen.

Every seat will be reserved for the evening performance. Tickets will be 35 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. A special children's matinee will be given at 4:00 o'clock at an admission price of 10 cents.

Music will be furnished between acts by the high school orchestra.

Curtain rises promptly at 8:15.

Reserve seats at Lambert's drug store.

Forty students signed up for spring football last Friday. Twenty more are expected to sign up by Tuesday. The enthusiasm shown in this sport this spring is unusually promising. The number turning out for practice is the largest it has been for many years.

State Farm Loan Board Is Formed in Minnesota

The personnel of the board which is to organize and administer the new Minnesota Farm Loan system was announced last week. It is made up of E. J. Oppliger of Forest Lake, "dirt" farmer-member and chairman, T. O. Ofsthun of Glenwood and Ludwig Gullickson of Spring Valley. Mr. Ofsthun was appointed because of his special knowledge of the farm loan business, having been assistant cashier of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul. Mr. Gullickson was appointed as representative of the attorney general's office.

After its initial meeting, it was announced that the board would be ready for business in about 30 days, but farmers were asked to withhold applications until formal notice is given.

German Lutherans Meet.

Rev. E. H. Kreidt of St. John's Lutheran church returned Thursday from Bemidji, where he attended a conference of Missouri Synod Lutheran pastors in the northwest district, who convened in a three-day session. Pastors from Ada, Mahnomen, Grand Rapids, Crookston, Fisher, McIntosh, Goodridge, Lake Itasca and various other points in the district were in attendance. Those who accompanied Rev. Kreidt from this city were Rev. M. Hauser of Warren, Rev. O. Brauer of Mahnomen, Rev. H. Lutz of Goodridge and W. Schoedel of Grygla. The conference recommended Rev. Kreidt to the district president as visitor of congregations within the district. The local pastor was succeeded as president of the district by Rev. T. A. Mayer of International Falls. The next meeting will probably be held at Fosston some time this fall.

McGinn in Baseball Again.

Dennis McGinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGinn, a sophomore at St. Thomas college, is among the letter men mentioned for the 1923 St. Thomas nine. The Cadets, who won the state collegiate championship in baseball last year, are entering this year's race very favorably, having 10 veterans on the squad. Dennis, who is one of the prominent athletics at St. Thomas and is a three letter man, will play in the outfield.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

I had intended to sell my pure bred Percheron stallion, but have decided to keep him another year. This will give the farmers a chance to save five or ten dollars by bringing your mares to town and have them bred to a pure bred stallion that is well known. He has been on the same route for three years and has a good record. His name is Laverne No. 73979. Charges are $10 for a live colt. See

Members of Lutheran Free Church District Meet Here

The meeting of the Fosston district of the Lutheran Free church held at the Zion church in this city Friday, the Zion church April 27-29 was well attended and a success. All the ministers in the Fosston district were present and Rev. J. Hjelmeland, Rev. O. J. Hoium and Rev. August Bredeson of the Thief River Falls circuit.

The session on Friday opened with a sermon by Rev. J. P. Leeland from Bagley. Rev. J. Mortenson introduced the subject, "The Conquering Faith" (1 John 5,1-12).

Saturday forenoon was given over to business matters. Rev. J. Mortenson of Fosston and Rev. George Larson of Thief River Falls were re-elected president and vice-president, respectively, for the third term. Rev. H. E. Bode of Mallord was chosen secretary, and Rev. J. P. Leeland of Bagley, treasurer.

Rev. H. E. Bode, Rev. J. B. Land, Rev. George Larson and Miss Hulda Pederson were selected to arrange the program for the Young Peoples' convention, which is to be held in Nevis, Minn., June 29 to July 1. Rev. Larson of this city was chosen to open the convention with an introductory sermon.

Among the out-of-town people who were here during the meeting were: Rev. and Mrs. J. Mortenson, Fosston; Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Bode, Mallord; Mathue Larson, Bemidji; Miss Maria Erickson and Mrs. Snustad, Winger; Mr. and Mrs. Peder Vestree, Nary; Miss Ostmundson, Newfolden; Sven Svenson, Rosewood; Mr. Kleven, of Grygla. The members of the Zion congregation were hosts to all the visitors, all of whom were very much pleased with the hospitality afforded them during their stay in the city.

"All the ministers and laymen expressed that they felt at home in the Zion congregation and that they had been strengthened in faith," was a statement made by Rev. Larson.

A Correction.

In the list of candidates for graduation from the Thief River Falls high school this spring, published in the last issue of The Times, the following names were inadvertently omitted: Florentine Hance, city; Anna Harder, St. Hilaire; Eileen Herron (P. G.), city; Mabel Jacobson, city; Clara Oien, city; Nomie Pederson, city. They will be graduated from the normal department. A complete list and classification of the 1923 graduates will be found on the Progress page of this issue.

child of God. You cannot go to the dance and pray: My Father in heaven, lead me not into temptation. You cannot go to the dance and take Jesus the Savior with you, and do you want to go without him? You cannot spend the night in gratification of an unholy lust and then, laying your head upon your pillow pray in trust and faith: Father, forgive me my trespasses. Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray Thee Lord, my soul to keep; if I should die before I wake, I pray Thee Lord, my soul to take. All this I ask for Jesus' sake. You cannot implore the protection of your Savior during your giddy whirl of sensuality.

However, I have heard the objection: "I have danced ever so often, and received no harm." Granted. But where is the guarantee that you will not in the future? "Let him that standeth take heed lest he fall." Are you proof against all temptations? May not the tempter assail you with such force that you will fall? Think of Peter in the high priest's palace. "I will never deny thee" had been his boast. But when he stood near the fire of coals in the company of Jesus' enemies, he did fall. Beware, lest the dance be to you such a fire of coals.

But even granted that you dance all your life without coming to grief, how about the effect of your example on others? What will it do for your boys and girls? They may not have the moral courage and strength, not the religious safeguards that have held you, but still they go to the dance and fall. Will not you be the cause of your daughter's blackened honor and her lost soul? Oh, mothers and fathers, may you be spared the grief of David over the downfall of Absalom, caused by his own wicked example. May you never look upon your fallen child and be compelled to confess with scalding tears and a bleeding heart: "I danced and she danced; mine is the greater sin."

Can you, as a sincere and upright Christian, join in the dance? No, you cannot. You must shun the dance as the worst temptation of the devil and the gravest danger to your soul. You must shun it, because of the example you would give to others. Offences must come, but woe unto him etc.

My dear friends, both young and old, if the dance has held a fascination for you, break your connections with it now before it is too late. Cast yourself at the feet of Jesus, your merciful Savior, in heartfelt repentance imploring his forgiveness for the past, and his powerful help for the future. Give your heart and life to your Master in such active love and service, that these false pleasures loose their charms for you.

Dr. Stratton relates this beautiful experience: "One of your own young women in New York, one who has become very active in church-work and soul-saving efforts, said to me recently: 'I have always had a conscience on the subject of going to the theater, the dance etc., because every time I attended, the question would come to my mind, could I have invited Jesus here with? Would I feel entirely comfortable if He were at my side as my guest? And sometimes a tingle of shame would come to my cheek because of something I was seeing or hearing, and the conviction would come to my heart that Jesus would not feel at home and that I would have felt terribly embrassed if He had been with me as my guest." Then she added, 'So, pastor, I have given it up. I have not time for those things. I have found something better to do.'

My friends, can and will you not do likewise? There is only one strong enough to help you to give and live the answer. 'Yes'; It is Jesus, your Savior on the Cross of Calvary. Look to Him in faith and love and breathe this prayer:

Grant that I thy cross may view
With repentant grieving,
Nor Thee crucify anew
By unholy living.
How could I refuse to shun
Every sinful pleasure,
Since for me God's only Son
Suffered without measure?
In the hour of trial, Jesus, plead for me;
Lest by base denial I depart from Thee;
When Thou see'st me waver, with a look recall;
Nor from fear or favor suffer me to fall.
With forbidden pleasures would this vain world charm;
Or its sordid treasures spread to work me harm;
Bring to my remembrance sad Gethsemane,
Or in darker semblance, Cross-crowned Calvary.

Even so, Lord Jesus, teach thy children to pray; and do Thou give the answer, by making them strong to resist the temptations of their flesh, and to consecrate themselves to Thee in fervent love and willing, joyful service. Amen.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

For the Sixth Division District of Minnesota.

No. 2160.
In the Matter of Fred Duchamp,
BANKRUPT. In Bankruptcy.

To the Honorable Page Morris, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the Sixth Division, District of Minnesota:

Fred Duchamp of Mavie, in the County of Pennington, and State of Minnesota, in said District, respectfully represents:

That on the 27th day of February, last past, he was duly adjudged bankrupt under the Acts of Congress relating to bankruptcy that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said Acts and of the orders of the court touching his bankruptcy.

WHEREFORE HE PRAYS, That he may be decreed by the court to have a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate under said Bankrupt Acts, except such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.

Dated this 24th day of April, A. D. 1923.

FRED DUCHAMP,
Bankrupt.

Order of Notice Thereon.
District of Minnesota—ss.:

On this 30th day of April, A. D. 1923, on reading the foregoing petition, It is,—

ORDERED BY THE COURT, That a hearing be had upon the same on the 13th day of June, A. D. 1923, before said court, at St. Paul, in said District, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice thereof be published in the Thief River Falls Times, a newspaper printed in said District, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the same time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED BY THE COURT, That the Clerk shall send by mail to all known creditors copies of said petition and this order, addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

WITNESS, the Honorable Page Morris, Judge of said Court, and the seal thereof, at Fergus Falls, in said District, on the 30th day of April, A. D. 1923.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

TAKE NOTICE That default has occurred and exists in the conditions of that certain mortgage made, executed and delivered to George Fink, as mortgagee, by Chas. N. Reese and Frances Reese, husband and wife, and F. G. Reese and Bessie E. Reese, husband and wife, mortgagors, dated March 1st, 1920, duly filed and recorded on March 30, 1920, at 1:15 o'clock P. M. in Book 62 of Mortgage at page 439 thereof, in the office of the register of deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota. The amount claimed to be due and which is actually due on said mortgage at the date hereof is the sum of ten thousand seven-hundred six and no-100ths ($10,706.00) dollars. The mortgaged premises are described as follows: The south half of the southeast quarter (S½ SE¼) of section ten (10) and the west half of the southwest quarter (W½ SW¼) of section eleven (11) and the northwest quarter (NW¼) of section fourteen (14), all in township one-hundred fifty-two (152), north of range forty-five (45), west of the Fifth Principal Meridian, according to the United States Government survey thereof, and containing 320 acres of land, more or less, in Pennington County, Minnesota.

That by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and agreeable to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said premises at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, which sale will be made by the sheriff of Pennington County, Minnesota, on Saturday, the 16th day of June, 1923, at 2 o'clock p. m. at the front door of the court house in the city of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, to satisfy said amount then due thereon, taxes paid, if any, two-hundred dollars attorneys' fees, together with the disbursements of these foreclosure proceedings.

Attention Farmers!
RAISE MORE HORSES!

Census reports show that there is a great shortage of young horses in the country. Why not be far-sighted enough to raise a few good horses in time to anticipate the big demand that is sure to come when the old horses die off? Horses will always be indispensable on the farm as they furnish the cheapest and most flexible power.

Breed your good mares to the Percheron Stallion, John H., license No. 127145. Will stand during 1922 season every Friday at Fisher's barn. Terms, $18 for standing colt. Will also be on the same route as last year. A-12-19

Red Crown
The High-Grade Gasoline

Gasoline Service is expressed in terms of mileage. When you buy 10 gallons of gasoline, in reality you are buying 150 miles of service, if you get 15 miles to the gallon.

Gasoline becomes a propelling force only when you cause it to vaporize and mix it with air.

The service which you receive is in exact ratio to the manner in which the gasoline vaporizes.

Red Crown Vaporizes to the Last Drop

that's why there is no waste. Red Crown has a Perfect Chain of Boiling Point Fractions, adjusted so as to vaporize at just the correct temperature to produce instant starting Winter or Summer — a quick pickup — smooth acceleration—tremendous sustained pulling power — racing speed if you want it and a maximum of mileage.

All of which is summed up in two words "Real Service."

ATHLETIC COACH FOR HIGH SCHOOL HAS BEEN SECURED

Leonard Thune of Albert Lea, All-State Man, Will Train High Teams '23, '24.

Supt. I. T. Simley announces this week that Leonard Thune of Albert Lea has been engaged to take charge of athletic activities in the Thief River Falls schools for the coming year, succeeding H. M. MacFarlane who has served in that capacity during the past season. Mr. MacFarlane has not yet stated what his plans are for next year, but he expects to locate nearer his home in Iowa.

Mr. Thune played center for Albert Lea high school in 1919 when they won the state championship in basket ball and was chosen all-state center that year. The four following years he played center on the South Dakota State College team of Brookings, and has been the unanimous choice each year for all-state collegiate center. One year he was captain of the team that won the conference championship.

The past year Mr. Thune coached the girls' basket ball team at South Dakota State College. He is looked upon as one of the two or three most outstanding basket ball men that the Northwest has produced in the last years.

Mr. Thune has also been a regular member of the Albert Lea high school football team and of the South Dakota State College team. On the college team his position has been end, to which position he was also assigned on the mythical all-state team. Last year their football team won the championship of the conference which is made up of South Dakota University, South Dakota State College, North Dakota University, North Dakota Agricultural College, Morningside University, Creighton, University of Omaha, Des Moines University and Nebraska Wesleyan. This spring Mr. Thune is assisting in the coaching of spring football at South Dakota State College.

Mr. Thune comes unusually well recommended and the school authorities feel very fortunate to secure his services. In addition to coaching he will teach science.

Sunday School Organizer Headquarters in This City

Harold Davey of Welcome, Minn., representative of the American Sunday School Union, arrived in Thief River Falls Tuesday and has decided to make this city his headquarters. He is sent here by the Union to have charge of rural Sunday school work in this northwest corner of the state, including Pennington, Marshall, Roseau and Kittson counties.

The American Sunday School union, which is one of the oldest of its kind in America, and has as its object to organize Sunday schools in new districts and settlements where there is no regular means of religious instruction. It is interdenominational in nature.

Mr. Davey was accompanied to this city by Rev. John O. Ferris of Minneapolis, superintendent of the Northwest district of the Union, that is, Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana. The former is one of the 30 missionaries in this district. Anyone having knowledge of places where Sunday schools should be organized should get in touch with Mr. Davey.

Suggests Ways of Making This City More Beautiful

T. M. McCall, botanist and instructor at the Agricultural college at Crookston, under the auspices of the Woman's club, gave a highly instructive and equally interesting lecture at the Girls' Community club rooms on Monday evening. Many members of the Woman's club besides others who were interested in home and lawn beautification were present. Before the address a business meeting of the Woman's club was held.

The Woman's club was favored by the seventh and eighth grade Boys' Glee club which opened the meeting by giving five selections that were rendered in a manner that did them much credit.

Mr. McCall outlined the process of planning and planting a lawn or garden to harmonize with the buildings it surrounded, and the effects of the various types of hedges and tree plantings and flower gardens.

The Woman's club deserves much credit and thanks for the efforts they are putting forth in trying to create and direct civic interest and activity. If the plans and suggestions proposed by Mr. McCall were followed out, Thief River Falls with its natural scenic features could be made to stand out as a model of city beautification.

"Coon" Swenson at Crookston.

It will be of interest to local fans to know that I. A. ("Coon") Swenson, star athlete of St. Olaf college of Northfield, has been secured to coach all forms of athletics in the Crookston schools next year. Swenson, who for four years held end position on the St. Olaf grid team, is recognized as one of the brightest all around stars in the state conference. Besides winning four letters in football and serving as captain for the state championship team last year, he also won a position on the all-state team for three years. "Coon" has also been awarded four letters in basket ball and three in baseball, expecting to win another in the latter sport this spring before graduating.

T. R. F. People to Have Banquet.

A Thief River Falls banquet will be held in the Gold Room of the Radisson hotel in Minneapolis May 22, to which all Thief River Falls people in the cities at that time are invited. James Prichard and Glenn Anderson, students at the University, are in charge of the arrangements. Those who desire more information should inquire of James Prichard, 1485 Cleveland avenue North, St. Paul, or Glenn Anderson, 187 Malcolm avenue Southeast, Minneapolis.

Receivership for Crookston Leader.

Francis X. Kirsch, Fargo attorney, has filed suit in the district court of the Fourteenth Judicial district asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Leader Publishing company of Crookston. The petitioners for the appointment of a receiver are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Egley, former owners of the newspaper, but now residents of Peshtega, Wis. It is alleged by the petitioners that the Leader company is insolvent and unable to meet its obligations. A hearing will be held before Judge William Watts on May 4. The officers of the corporation named in the suit are: A. J. Neal, president; C. H. Senske, vice president; George Voytella, secretary-treasurer, and Jules Anderson, manager. All are residents of Crookston.

PRESBYTERIANS HOLD BIG MEETING

Many Delegates Attend Christian Endeavor Convention in This City Last Week.

A record attendance was registered at the convention of the northwest district of Christian Endeavor societies last Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the Presbyterian church of this city. One hundred and fifty delegates attended the convention, 70 coming from other towns in the district. The principal speakers of the convention were Miss Margaret M. Bradt, Christian Endeavor field secretary for Minnesota and North Dakota, and George Quam of Minneapolis, who is state Christian Endeavor president. Dr. W. H. Evans, Presbyterian pastor of Red Lake Falls, Rev. Fox of Crookston and Dr. Blanche Sharp of Crookston were speakers at the devotional meetings, together with Miss Minnie Leavitt of the local societies.

One of the features of the convention was the large banquet on Saturday evening in the church, at which 65 young people sat at the tables and enjoyed the reports and stunts of the various delegations. Mr. Quam and Miss Bradt gave interesting items about the State C. E. convention to be held at Northfield and the International C. E. convention to be held at Des Moines in July of this year. Several of the local Endeavorers plan to attend these conventions.

The local arrangements of the convention were in charge of committees. Miss Eileen Arneson, music; Bert Umland, decoration; Thyra Carlson, social; Keith Craik, information; Mrs. Charles Gerlinger, entertainment; Henry Vorlicky, publicity; Aerial Kinghorn, banquet; Mrs. Haug and Mrs. Hunt, registration.

Red Lake Falls sent 35 delegates; Crookston, 15; Mahnomen, 7; Waubun, 1; Ogamah, 3; Brooks, 10; Hallock, 1.

A. J. Anderson Leaves Grygla.

A. J. Anderson and family, who for the past several years have been residents of Grygla, were in Thief River Falls Saturday on their way to Lockhart, where they will make their future home. Mr. Anderson came to Grygla in 1915, when the Citizens State bank of that place was organized with Mr. Anderson as cashier. He continued in that capacity until in 1918, when he moved to Thief River Falls on account of sickness. After a year's residency in this city he returned to Grygla and continued with the same bank as vice-president until the present time. At Lockhart he will be connected with the First State bank in the capacity of cashier. Mr. Anderson stated that a reason for their moving was that the children would have access to a high school at the latter place. Before leaving the Anderson family was tendered a farewell banquet, indicative of the esteem in which they are held by Grygla people. The banquet was attended by Olaf Ramstad, T. L. Melgaard and Chas. Vorachek of this city.

Laws Concerning Fishing.

Spearing of carp, dogfish, redhorse, sheepshead, catfish, suckers, eel-pout, garfish, bullheads, whitefish and buffalo fish with the aid of artificial lights is permitted between April 20 and June 1, in streams only, says the game warden. Spearing of pickerel is permissable only from May 15 to March 1 in the day time only and cannot be done with the aid of artificial light. No nets, snares, bags or any such contrivances are allowable for catching fish at any time. The closed season on crappies has been extended by the new law to the last day of May. The new law also provides that crappies, rock bass and sunfish are not to be sold at any time.

Local Holstein Breeder Secures Trade Mark Name

"Rita-G" is the trade mark name that has been reserved exclusively for the use of M. T. McFarland, Thief River Falls, Pennington county Holstein breeder, as a prefix to the regular registration name of all purebred Holsteins raised, according to an announcement by the Holstein-Fresian Association of America.

All registered animals have a name and number. The name usually indicates the ancestral blood lines. The prefix trade mark is used as a further means of identifying the animal, by indicating the farm that bred the animal.

Since establishing the system over 15,000 breeders have reserved trade marks for use as a prefix in the names of registered Holsteins.

The trade mark prefix is a good advertisement to the breeder and also serves to identify the breeder of the animal.

Holt Resident Dies.

Charles John Hagglund of Holt, 51 years old, passed away at the Physicians hospital in this city Saturday, April 21, following a siege of diabetes and an infection with complications. Mr. Hagglund was employed by the Great Northern railway at Holt and was known to many of this community. Deceased was a son of the late P. O. Hagglund, pioneer resident of St. Hilaire, where he spent his early days. He was born in Sweden and came to this country at the age of nine, settling on a farm near St. Hilaire. In 1895 he was united in marriage to Miss Bertha Skiple of Polk county, after which he resided at St. Hilaire, Mentor and Dugdale, until in 1913 when he moved with his family to Holt. Mr. Hagglund is survived by his widow and seven children: Three daughters, Mabel, Ida and Orlene, and four sons, Oscar, Benny, Ruben and Elmer. Also a brother, Ole, of St. Hilaire.

THE OLD BANK

THIS OLD, STRONG BANK has for 25 years served the people of this community.

Through good times and hard times, in war and in peace, it is always on the job to do its duty. It is the oldest Bank and the largest capitalized Bank in Pennington County.

Some of our stockholders and directors have been in the banking business continuously for over thirty years and are well known as sound bankers with large means and long experience; No officer, director or stockholder of this Bank has ever been connected with any Bank which has for a single day declined to pay to its depositors and to carry out its contracts.

Better times are coming for Thief River Falls. Mr. E. G. Quamme, the President of the Federal Land Bank, says that the worst is over for the farmers of Minnesota, and that farms will now increase in value for many years.

No matter what you do with your money, the first necessity is to know it is secure. It is this absolute security that we offer in our interest bearing Certificate of Deposit.

In our Savings Department we pay interest four times a year.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

CLOSE OF TERM FOR PUPILS IN CITY'S SCHOOLS

Commencement Week Will Open With Baccalaureate Services at Auditorium Sunday

Eighth Grade Commencement Friday Forenoon and Senior Program Same Evening

Prof. J. S. Young of State University Will Deliver Address to Graduates

Caps and gowns will be worn by the class of 1923 at the graduation exercises of the Lincoln high school which will take place at the city auditorium on Friday, May 25, at 8 o'clock in the evening. This will be the first time in the history of the Thief River Falls schools that this costume is being used and it is expected that the idea will be carried out by succeeding classes.

Baccalaureate Services Sunday

Commencement week opens next Sunday, May 20, when baccalaureate services will be held at the auditorium at 8 o'clock in the evening. The members of the '23 senior class will attend in a body, wearing the caps and gowns. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Chas. Gerlinger of the Presbyterian church, who will officiate during the entire services. The general public is extended an invitation to attend. The complete program arranged for the occasion follows:

Prelude, "Processional," Mrs. Clarence Erickson.
Doxology.
Invocation, Rev. Chas. Gerlinger.
"Holy, Holy, Holy," congregation.
Scripture lesson and prayer.
Anthem, Male quartette composed of Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, Dr. J. N. Nesse, A. Bottelson and Karl Sundahl.
"My Faith Looks Up to Thee," congregation.
Sermon, Rev. Chas. Gerlinger.
Anthem, male quartette.
"Onward Christian Soldiers," congregation.
Benediction.
Recessional, Mrs. Clarence Erickson.

Junior High Exercises

On Friday morning, May 25, at 9 o'clock, at the Central school building will be given the graduation exercises for those who will at that time graduate from the eighth grade in this city. The exact number of those who will complete the grades this spring is not yet known but it is expected that about fifty-six will be given their diplomas, according to a statement made by the principal, Miss Lyda Batten. Twenty-four were graduated at the end of the first semester and entered the high school last winter, making a total of eighty graduates for the year. The fate of some will not be determined until after the examinations. The following numbers will be given at the exercises, to which the public is cordially invited: Song, "Our Jack," eighth grade class; address of welcome, John Morgan; violin solo, Raymond Wengeler; address, Supt. I. T. Simley; piano duet, Irene Hanson and Dorothy Shirley; farewell speech, Louise Veven; presentation of class, Miss Lyda Batten, principal; presentation of diplomas, E. O. Mogensen, vice president of the school board; school song, Eighth Grade class.

Commencement Day, May 25

The regular commencement exercises for the 1923 class will be held on Friday evening, at 8 o'clock at the city auditorium. Seventy-two seniors will then be given diplomas and ten post-graduates will get teachers' certificates. Although not the largest class graduated from the Lincoln high school, it is one of the largest in this section of the state. The Thief River Falls high school has among its graduates boys and girls from surrounding towns and country in a considerable territory, which accounts for the comparative high enrollment. Cities of far greater population than Thief River Falls have much smaller graduation classes, indicating that the local schools rank very highly.

The 1923 class has taken an active part in all school affairs and the instructors are unanimous in stating that its members have done splendidly during their course. Many have made fine scholastic records and several have been prominent in athletics and other activities. The highest scholastic standing was secured by Pearl Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Weeks, who is this year's valedictorian, and the salutatory was awarded Lucile Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Curtis. Other members of the class who are on the honor roll are: Lydia Dahlen, Ole Helle, Albert Stengelsen, Clara Olen and Esther Larsen. The officers are: Stanley W. Powley, faculty advisor; Ole Helle, president; Henry Vorlicky, vice president; Eileen Arneson, secretary; Allison Stitt, treasurer; Milford Labree, sergeant at arms. A complete list of the graduates was published in a previous issue of The Times.

Prof. Young Will Speak

The commencement address will be delivered by Prof. J. S. Young, instructor of political science at the University of Minnesota. Prof. Young has been engaged to speak at the graduation exercises of various high schools throughout the state and has a reputation as being a popular speaker. The complete commencement program, which will begin at eight o'clock sharp, is as follows:

March from Tannhauser—High School orchestra.
Salutatory—Miss Lucille Curtis.
"Fly, Singing Bird, Fly," Elgar.
"Long Day Closes,"—Sullivan, Girls' Glee Club.
Address—Prof. J. S. Young, University of Minnesota.
"Water Lilies," Linders.
"The Old Road," Scott,—Senior Double Octette.
Valedictory—Miss Pearl Weeks.
"On the Road to Mandalay"—Speaks.
"Stars of the Summer Night," Woodbury,—Boys' Glee club.
Presentation of Class—M. P. Rapacz, high school principal.
Presentation of diplomas—Dr. H. W. Froehlich, president of school board.
"Alma Mater"—Class of '23.
"Star Spangled Banner," Audience.
I. T. Simley, superintendent of the Thief River Falls schools, chairman of the evening.
The music is in charge of Miss Maude L. Johnson, music instructor.

Final examinations will be given at the high school next week beginning on Monday and closing Thursday afternoon. Those who have sufficiently high grades are exempt from the finals.

The 1923 Prowler, the official publication of the senior class, which is being printed by The Times company, will be ready for distribution shortly. It is said to be one of the finest productions put out by any class and will serve as a fine memorial for the class. The class play "Come Out of the Kitchen," which was presented last Friday met with the hearty approval of everyone who saw it and was a huge success in every respect. The officers of the class announce that they expect to present the high school with an appropriate memorial or a fund to be used according to the wishes of the class.

Suit Dismissed

The suit recently filed in the Polk county district court by Mr. and Mrs. A. Egley, of Peshtogo, Wis., asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Leader Publishing company, publishers of the Polk County Leader, has been dismissed.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE FOR OBSERVING MEMORIAL DAY

Committees Appointed to Arrange Services at Auditorium in Honor of the Dead

Memorial Day will be appropriately observed by the people of Thief River Falls and vicinity next Wednesday. Arrangements for the proper observance are now under way and the occasion will be commemorated with all the dignity and solemnity that its importance calls for. Business activities in the city will close down for the day and everybody will join in showing their respect for the men, living and dead, who have fought for our country in past wars.

At a meeting of citizens called by Mayor John Bratrud Tuesday evening to discuss the plans for the exercises for the day, committees were selected to make definite arrangements and look after the details. Representatives of practically every civic, social, fraternal and other organizations were present at the meeting and pledged themselves to assist in making the necessary preparations. The following committees were selected: For securing speakers, Supt. I. T. Simley and Dave Robinson; music and program, Rev. Chas. Gerlinger, Andrew Bottelson and L. Johnston; parade, W. B. Fuller and Oscar C. Paulson.

The exercises will be held in the auditorium, beginning at 10:30 sharp. The program has not been completed yet but will include addresses, songs and instrumental numbers, according to the committee in charge. Immediately following the program, which will probably last about an hour, a parade to the cemeteries takes place. The various organizations of the city are making plans to appear in a body and the American Legion post will observe the day with the proper military showing.

The complete program and arrangements for the day will be published in next week's issue of The Times.

Masons at Red Lake Falls

Friday evening a large number of the members of Northern lodge No. 236 of the Masons motored to Red Lake Falls where they spent a most enjoyable evening. The Red Lake Falls lodge No. 308 conferred the M. M. degree. After the degree work a short time was given over to talks by various persons present. Geo. W. Christie, Master of the Red Lake Falls lodge presided. Among those called upon for addresses were F. F. Haynes, Master of the local order, and Rev. J. B. Smith, also of this city. Refreshments were served.

The members of the local lodge who attended are: F. F. Haynes, Master of Northern Lodge No. 236; Rev. J. B. Smith, Dr. J. T. Bowers, Dr. R. Arnold, Dr. A. Shedlov of Gully, Adolph Eklund, B. F. Umland, T. P. Anderson, Ben Gage, H. C. Johnson, Thos. Gargrave, Andrew Bottelson, J. L. Stitt, Carl Carlson, D. F. White, A. S. Wilson, E. E. Sundahl, H. F. Anderson, T. F. Chittick, B. Dan Bjorkman, F. P. Christianson, W. W. Prichard, Jr.; Chris Storholm, H. M. Olson, Ed. Lee, J. Q. Cronkhite, L. G. Larsen, L. M. Rayson, E. M. Bennes, Ray L. Johnson, Ed. Karwand, Christ Porter, A. C. Sanders of Gully and L. R. Johnston.

SPECIAL ELECTION WILL BE CALLED TO DECIDE ON SUCCESSOR TO NELSON

It was announced today that Governor Preus has decided to call a special election to select a successor to the late Senator Knute Nelson. The date of the election has not been given out yet but probably will be announced tomorrow. Governor Preus will be a candidate for the office and it is figured that his strongest contender will be Judge Oscar Hallam of St. Paul. Others named as possible candidates are C. A. Lindberg, Ernest Lundeen, Magnus Johnson and Thos. D. Schall.

BUSINES[illegible] MEN OF MILL CITY HERE TUESDAY

Will Arrive on Special Train at 7:35 P. M. and Remain Over Night

Band Concert by 151st Field Artillery Band to Be Feature of the Evening

Entertainment Will Include Public Meeting at Auditorium and Smoker at Elks Club

According to G. W. Irwin, chairman of the trade tour committee of the Minneapolis Civic & Commerce association, arrangements are now complete for the trade tour which will visit seventy-nine communities in northern Minnesota during the week of May 21. More than one hundred business men, representing practically every line of business in Minneapolis, will be on the train. "Souvenirs are being packed up and men are grueling themselves for a week of constant activity," said Mr. Irwin. "While some people may look upon the trade tour as a pleasure trip for these men, it would only be necessary for one of them to become an active participant to realize that there is hard work involved. However, the pleasure of meeting people whom we seldom see yet with whom we have constant business relations more than offsets any disagreeable feature. We look forward to meeting these people and getting their point of view and to discuss with them the problems which the northwest faces."

The trade tour train this year consists of thirteen cars—a baggage car for personal baggage and supplies of souvenirs, dining and sleeping cars. All meals are served while the train is moving from town to town and members of the party sleep on the train at night. It is practically a hotel on wheels. One of the chief items of interest on the trade tour is Jalma's band, formerly the 151st Field Artillery band. This organization accompanied the regiment on all of its campaigns in France and of the men which Captain Jalma will have with him this year more than half are veterans of the 151st Field Artillery band; and practically all of the others saw service in army or navy musical organizations.

There will be special souvenirs for the children and it is hoped that they will be able to come down town during the visit of the Minneapolis people and hear the band play. The trade tour will arrive in Thief River Falls Tuesday evening at 7:35. The reception committee of the Commercial club will meet the Minneapolitans at the Soo station.

A parade "up town" will be a feature of the evening's activities, which will be followed by a band concert by their band in front of the auditorium, during which time the Minneapolis men will visit among the various merchants of the city. The business men of the city are requested to keep their stores and places of business open until 9 o'clock.

At 9 o'clock the public is invited to attend a meeting at the city auditorium where a short program will be delivered, including selections by the band and addresses by prominent visitors. After the public meeting members of the Commercial club and the Trade Tourists will retire to the Elk's club rooms to enjoy a smoker

PROMINENT U. MEN TO ADDRESS ALUMNI AT BIG RALLY HERE

Minnesota University Men to Speak at Large Gathering at Auditorium May 25

Not only trade tourists will visit Thief River Falls next week. A delegation of University of Minnesota men will be in the city Friday, May 25, to address the people of Thief River Falls and vicinity regarding the memorial and stadium drive conducted by the University throughout the state.

Alumni and former students of the University of Minnesota, together with representatives of the American Legion and friends of the university, will attend the meeting which will be held at the city auditorium in the afternoon on Friday next week. The purpose of the gathering is to receive the plans of the huge drive now under way for the erection of an athletic stadium and auditorium at the university.

Coffman to Speak

A large number of excellent speakers including President Coffman of the university, Bill Spaulding, head university football coach, State Commander Barron, of the American Legion, Lyman Pierce, who is in charge of the stadium drive, and E. B. Pierce, secretary of the general alumni association, Superintendent C. G. Selvig of the Northwest School of Agriculture, will preside at the meeting. Fred Luehring, head of the athletic department at the university, may also be here for the occasion. This group of distinguished Minnesota men will arrive in Thief River Falls about noon and plans are being made to hold a regular Commercial club luncheon at that time. Plans have not yet been completed for the entertainment of the delegation but are in the hands of a local committee.

Meeting at 1 O'Clock

The public meeting at the auditorium will be held at 1 o'clock and everyone who is interested in the University of Minnesota or would like to hear addresses by these well known speakers, should make it a point to attend this gathering. Invitations have been sent out to the various surrounding towns in order to secure the largest possible attendance of interested persons throughout Pennington and adjoining counties. The university delegation comes here from Crookston, where a big meeting will be held at the Northwestern School of Agriculture, Thursday evening, May 24. Only the larger cities of the state are visited. From Thief River Falls they will continue to Bemidji, being scheduled to arrive there at 7 o'clock in the evening.

These men are making a tour of the state in the interest of the drive for the stadium auditorium, which the alumni propose to build and present to the university; the stadium as a memorial to the 3200 young men who laid down their lives in the past war and the auditorium as a tribute to President Cyrus Northrop.

This program calls for the raising of $2,000,000, of which $1,500,000 has already been pledged by the students and faculty of the university and by the cities of Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth. It now remains for the balance of the state, and alumni throughout the country so raise $500,000, to carry the drive to a successful close.

The American Legion has deemed this a worthy undertaking and has volunteered to aid in every way possible.

The object of the meeting here is to present the campaign so that all may understand it. Funds will not be solicited at this meeting, but this will be undertaken sometime in June.

Chommie Heads Campaign

The campaign will be carried on by congressional districts, with one man in charge of each district and another in charge of each county, C. G. Selvig has charge of the ninth district and Attorney H. O Chommie will supervise the activities in Pennington county.

E. B. Pierce, secretary of the General Alumni association, will spend considerable time in this district during the next month in perfecting the organization. It is the first time that the university has solicited among its alumni as a means of raising funds.

June 15 is Date Set for Big Doings of Elks Lodge

Friday, June 15, will be the lodge day of the season. The membership drive which the Elks of this territory have staged the past season, culminates on that day in one grand celebration.

A brass band, composed of Elk members only, is being reorganized for the occasion, and will consist of 12 pieces. This city is the headquarters of all Elks in north-western Minnesota and between 400 and 500 members are expected to participate. A parade will be the feature of the day.

Since the beginning of the world war no extensive membership campaigns have been held. The territory is so large that it has been hard to get all the old members back to regular attendance at meetings and few if any new members have joined.

Definite plans for the day have not been completed but they will be made known in the near future.

POTATO GROWERS TO MEET HERE MONDAY

Pennington County Association to Be Re-organized. State Leaders Will Speak

Potato growers of Pennington county should aim to attend a meeting which is to be held at Thief River Falls on Monday, May 21. The gathering will take place at the Commercial club rooms and has been called at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Present, representing the state organization committee, will be A. M. Dunton, secretary of the Minnesota Potato Exchange, who will explain in detail objects of the undertaking, its importance to the potato growing industry in this section, and arrange for the formation of a county organization committee, which will have charge of the work in this vicinity.

The purpose of the meeting is to reorganize the present potato association so as to conform with the Sapiro plan of co-operative marketing, which is being followed in the marketing of most products, that is, on a co-operative basis.

Growers in all parts of Minnesota are immensely interested in this undertaking. Meetings that have been held elsewhere in the state have been well attended and thus far, in every instance, preliminary work has been auspiciously started.

The state organization committee, composed of growers, bankers and merchants who believe in Sapiro-California commodity marketing plan is engaged in an effort to sign up half the commercial acreage in the state by March 1, 1924.

The task in Pennington county, in which the coming meeting is to be the first step, is to sign up at least 50 per cent of the acreage here

The present organization here, the Pennington County Potato Growers' association, was organized in May, 1920, and has now a membership of fifty growers throughout the community. During the first year it was in operation the association did a business of $54,000 and has increased its volume since. The present officers are: Henry Oen, president; R. J. McKercher of St. Hilaire, secretary and treasurer; J. J. McCann, manager.

The annual meeting of the association will be held in this city June 26, when election of officers will be held and matters concerning the marketing of this year's crop taken up.

Not only potato growers of Pennington county are urged to attend the meeting here next Monday evening, but also those residing in adjoining communities and counties.

Arrangements for the coming meeting have been made through J. J. McCann, county agent at Thief River

WILL ORGANIZE WHEAT GROWERS OF MINNESOTA

Local Men Head Move Which is Considered Salvation of Farming Industry

Thief River Falls Designated as Headquarters of Big Statewide Organization

Will Operate Under Terms of Bill Drafted for State Legislature by W. J. Brown

Plans to organize Minnesota wheat growers into an organization similar to that which has been formed in other northwest states were announced from Thief River Falls this week. The organization will have as its basis a 100 per cent pooling contract and its activities, it is said, will be correlated with those of the American Wheat Growers' association.

Officers of the new organization have been elected. J. B. Conner of Thief River Falls has been chosen president; J. H. Sorum, Holt, vice president; Dan Suprenant, East Grand Forks, treasurer; W. H. Frederick, Thief River Falls, secretary. Directors are Jergen Eide, T. R. Falls; Ferman Derosier, Red Lake Falls; W. B. Bostworth, Ada; H. F. Sprung, Ada.

These officers and directors which at present control the organization are merely temporary, they being appointed to act prior to the first annual meeting when permanent officers will be elected. This meeting will be held in Thief River Falls on the first Wednesday in June of this year. At that time all of the wheat sections of the state will be represented here by members and a complete organization will be effected.

Among those present at the temporary organization meeting here were George Druis, president of the North Dakota Wheat Growers' association and M. S. Blair of Minneapolis, a member of the Grain Marketing Board of Control, organized to correlate the activities of all co-operative grain marketing agencies in the state.

More than fifty men are now at work throughout the state explaining the aims of the organization to the farmers and showing them the benefits to be derived from the association. They are under strict instructions to present only the actual facts and the arguments in favor of the undertaking that have stood the test of experience. This is readily done by showing what associations organized along the same lines have done for the Burly tobacco growers, the cotton grower and the raisin and prune producers.

The starting of the organization was made possible by the bill passed by the last legislature providing for the establishment of such an association. This bill was drafted by Attorney W. J. Brown of Thief River Falls and he has taken an active part in bringing about the passage of the bill and the organization of the association. It is also largely through his efforts that Thief River Falls was designated as the place for the official headquarters. His contention in support of this was that this city is in the heart of the wheat growing section of the state, the nine northwestern counties of Minnesota raising more than one fourth of all the wheat produced in the state.

Membership now extends to twenty-eight counties and before the time of the first annual meeting an active organization in every county will be at work extending the membership so as to control the volume of wheat in the interest of the farmer. No one except a producer of wheat can be a member of the association and no one except an actual grower can be a director.

The movement is a wonderful step forward in the interest of the farmer and one that will undoubtedly prove to be the salvation of the farming industry.

ST. PAUL TOURISTS WILL HAVE MUCH IN STORE FOR KIDDIES

Trade Tourists Coming Here Are Accompanied by 6th Infantry Band

"Everything is in readiness," it is announced by the St. Paul Association, for the greatest trade tour which has ever left St. Paul. The special train will leave St. Paul Sunday evening, May 20th. The St. Paul visitors will remain in the city for one hour. They will come here on the Great Northern railroad from north and will continue their tour from here to St. Hilaire and Red Lake Falls, expecting to spend Monday night in Crookston, according to their present schedule.

The delegation will be greeted at the depot by a reception committee of the Commercial club, which will accompany the tourists "up town."

During the band concert which will follow, the Trade tourists will call upon the business men of the city.

It has been a tradition of the Trade Tour, The Times is informed, that the approach of the trade tour special is announced at each city along the route by "tying down" the locomotive whistle so that from the very start the Tour opens with a blast

Immediately upon arrivel, the St. Paul visitors will stage their "white hat hook 'em cow" parade, headed by the Sixth Infantry band which will be uniformed in that of the regulation infantry band.

The children will form behind the band and parade along with the boosters to the corner which will be selected for the band concert, where an extra special program for "kids" only has been prepared by the boosters.

Each of the tourists will carry his pockets stuffed with souvenirs for the children and any girl or boy is privileged to "hold up any one of the white hatted visitors and demand to be shown the contents of his pockets.

This is the forty-seventh year of trade tours that have gone forth from St. Paul to learn that the problems of the business men in the small city and farms are exactly the same as his brothers' in the city.

More than one hundred business men, the chief executives of St. Paul business firms, will make up the party of the tour this year; both Mayor Nelson and President John Seeger, of the association, will be members of the party.

A representative of the United States Railway Mail Service, Mr. William R. Hilgedick, will accompany the tour to investigate railway mail service in the towns that the business men visit. It will be his endeavor to go into all problems that are presented by the communities with a view of improving the railway mail service wherever it is possible. The business men of the city who have specific instances are urged to present them to Mr. Hilgedick. He will be found at the post office.

A representative of the St. Paul Association Freight Service committee, Mr Charles Liggett, will also accompany the tour to check freight service and to receive suggestions for its improvement.

Spick and span new Great Northern equipment, from baggage car through diners and sleepers to the final observation car, is being supplied the boosters by the railroad company. When this splendid train brings the visitors to town, at least the children may be assured that a good time is in store for them.

HAZEL SECTION HAND NEARLY KILLED WHEN HIT BY LARGE HOOK

Peter Nelson Suffers Fractured Skull When Struck in Forehead While Working

Peter Nelson, aged 35, section hand on the Soo railroad, narrowly escaped instant death Saturday afternoon when he was struck by a large iron hook attached to a swinging crane while he was working with the crew unloading rails three miles south of this city on the main line.

The nearly fatal accident occurred about three o'clock when Nelson was standing beside a flat car ready to attach the hook to the rails in order to lift them from the car. The big hook suspended from the crane missed the rail as it swung towards the car and hit Nelson with terrific force in the forehead, fracturing the frontal bone nearly across the head and badly disfigured part of his face. The blow was so violent that a piece of bone from the injured man's forehead was removed and found on the ground nearby a while later.

The injured man was at once hurried to this city for medical aid, the section crew arriving here on a flat car. He was rushed to the Swedenburg hospital but upon arrival there were no signs of life. Dr. Swedenburg called Dr. Froehlich of this city for assistance and also Dr. O. N. Meland of Warren, the latter arriving in the evening. It was nearly three hours after the accident before Nelson began to show signs of life, after the use of hypodermics and excessive work by attending physicians to restore consciousness. After gaining consciousness he had the most violent convulsions and the usual symptoms preceding the end, but rallied miraculously.

A light operation to remove some of the loose pieces of bone was performed at 7 o'clock in the evening. Owing to the shock and loss of blood he remained in a stupor for some time but the following day he showed considerable sign of life. He is now recovering remarkably considering the nature of the injury and expected to survive if infections do not follow.

Mr. Nelson is married but has no children, and has been residing in Hazel for some time, being proprietor of the hotel there. He is a man with much physical strength and of good habits, which accounts in a large degree for his resistance power.

Being Drunk and Disorderly Cost Young Man Fine of $10

Arthur Ostmoe, a young man of this city, paid a ten-dollar fine in municipal court Monday morning when brought before Judge Tarrant on charges of being drunk and disorderly. Ostmoe was arrested Sunday evening when he appeared drunk on the street and attempted to resist night patrolman Ralston. He was placed in jail over night and pleaded guilty on appearance in court the following morning. An additional sentence of 30 days in jail was suspended upon good behavior.

Dr. Mellby of Physicians Hospital Staff Appointed Member State Health Board

A distinct recognition was accorded Dr. O. F. Mellby, prominent Thief River Falls physician, last week, when he was appointed by Governor Preus as a member of the State Board of Health. The commission was dated last Thursday and it came as a surprise to the local doctor. His commission is for an unexpired term running until January 1, 1925.

The many friends of Dr. Mellby throughout this section of the state will be pleased to know of his appointment to this important state board which has general supervision over all health movements in the state.

ELECTION SOON TO DETERMINE POWER MATTER

Voters Will be Called Upon to Decide Question of City Purchasing Dam and Site

Committee of Citizens Named to Confer With Council in Presenting Matter to Public

Engineer's Estimate of Cost of Carrying Out Project is About $200,000

The voters of Thief River Falls will be called upon in the very near future to make a decision in the matter of the city purchasing the dam and expending approximately $200,000 in developing the water power here.

This was practically decided on at the meeting of the Commercial club today. Engineer Thomas, who recently made a survey of the situation was present at the meeting and gave a brief summary of his findings and recommendations. Among other things he cited that the purchase of the dam and the building of a new structure and power plant would cost slightly over $200,000. This would be in addition to the cost of changing the present system over from a direct to an alternating current.

It also gave it as his opinion that the venture would be a paying one for the city. Some of those present questioned him as to the cost of producing electric current with the proposed new dam as compared to oil engines such as are now used in the auxiliary plant. He stated that the water power current would cost a little over two cents but he had no figures available as to the cost of the oil engine plant. Other points such as the reliability of the water flow and the demand for current in excess of that now needed were also discussed.

The result of the meeting was that a committee of twelve was appointed to confer with the council in bringing the matter before the voters, it being the opinion of those present that this should be done immediately.

Visiting in California

Rev. E. H. Kreidt, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, and son Robert, left Tuesday on the train for Los Angeles, California, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Kreidt, who have resided in California the last five years. They are both nearly eighty years of age and Rev. Kreidt has not seen them for seven years. On the way Rev. Kreidt will stop off at Denver to visit briefly with relatives and look over the Lutheran Tuberculosis sanatorium there. He expects to be gone for a period of four or five weeks.

During the local pastor's absence the congregation will be served by various visiting pastors. Next Sunday morning the services will be conducted by Walter Schoedel, student of theology at Concordia Seminary at St. Louis, Mo., who is now doing supply work at Grygla. Mr. Schoedel will preach at Holt in the evening. Rev. O. C. Fedeke of Ogema, will occupy the pulpit on Sunday evening, May 27, but no services will be held the following Sunday.

Driver Pinned Under Car When it Turns Turtle in Ditch; Not Seriously Hurt

Bjarno Kalsnes, who makes his home with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Kalsnes, residing near Wylie, was badly injured a week ago Saturday, when a car driven by himself left the road and turned upside down in the ditch, 20 miles east of this city, pinning him beneath it. Bjarne was accompanied by his brother Helmer and the two were on their way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Berg, parents of Mrs. Helmer Kalsnes, residing six miles south of the city in Rocksbury township. Bjarne Kalsnes, who came to this country from Norway about a year ago, was not familiar with the operation of a car and while going over a stretch of sandy road the car turned sharply to the side landing in the ditch. Helmer saw the danger in time to jump from the seat and escaped injury but Bjarno was held by the steering wheel and was pinned beneath the car in mud and water. His side was badly bruised but he managed to pull himself out of the water and saved himself from drowning.

The accident happened 20 miles east of the city and by the time they reached the Berg home, six miles south of here, he was chilled from exposure and contracted a severe case of pneumonia.

Dr. J. T. Bowers, of this city, was called and dressed the wounds and Mr. Kalsnes is reported to be recovering rapidly. The car was pulled out of the ditch just after the accident occurred and the trip completed in it. Damage was done to the body only.

Boy Scouts Council Organized

Steps were taken at a meeting Tuesday, May 8, to organize a local council of the Boy Scouts of America. This council will have a general supervision over the Boy Scout affairs in this community. W. J. Brown offered the use of his cottage at Union lake for a summer camp. His offer was accepted and a committee was appointed to make plans for a camp. Officers elected were T. J. Carr, chairman, F. F. Haynes, vice president; T. H. Chittick, secretary and Olaf Ramstad, treasurer.

SOCIETY NOTES

Reception for Newlyweds

Mr and Mrs. O. D. Ostby gave a delightful reception at the Sons of Norway hall Saturday evening in honor of their daughter, Maybelle, and A. M. Magnuson, who were recently married. Mr. Magnuson's parental home is in Willmar but he has made his home in this city the past two years. The hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion. The chief diversion of the evening was dancing, preceded by a grand march. Brief talks were given by E. M. Bennes and Senator C. L. Hansen to which a response was made by the bridegroom. A fine program of dance music was furnished by H. S. Snyder, A. Granum and Earl Erickson. At midnight a delicious two-course lunch was served. The list of invited guests includes: Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Injures Elbow While Playing

Miss Clara Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Johnson of Erie, while at play on the school ground Friday, fell and dislocated her elbo. The students had placed a pole horizontally and were taking turns about "walking it." Miss Johnson was less successful than others had been and fell to the ground dislocating her elbo joint. She was brought to this city immediately and the joint replaced by Dr. W. H. Froehlich. She suffered a considerable amount of pain but will be able to use her arm shortly.

Red Lake Falls Couples Wed

Miss Flora Ida Brunelle and John Kuld, Jr., were married at Red Lake Falls Tuesday, May 8. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kuld of Red Lake Falls, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Brunelle of Louisville town.

The young couple will make their home on the Jahnke farm northwest of Red Lake Falls, which Mr. Kuld has leased.

Another Red Lake Falls man was married last week when Guy Hilleboe, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Hilleboe, was united in marriage to Miss Mabel Tronnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tronnes, of Nielsville, Monday, May 7. The newlyweds left for the Philippine Islands where Mr. Hilleboe has a three year contract in the government schools. He just recently completed a term as superintendent of the schools at Big Falls, Minn.

Former Pennington Resident Invites Friends to Oregon

The following communication was received by The Times last week from H. G. Borden, Oakland Farm, Tangent, Oregon. Mr. Borden, formerly operated a farm a short distance east of Thief River Falls until two years ago when he moved with his family to Oregon. They are greatly pleased with their new home. The invitation to people of this vicinity to visit their Oregon farm follows:

"We wish to extend an invitation to all Thief Riverites that are visiting the west this summer to visit us. We have lots of room and would be glad to talk over conditions in the old city. We live about a quarter of a mile off the Pacific Highway at Tangent, Oregon, just 6 miles south of the city of Albany, or 40 miles south of Salem. We are also on the main line of the Southern Pacific railroad.

Tangent is just a little village situated in the heart of the richest farming district in the Williamette Valley. Our farm lies along the southern side of the village and anyone in Tangent will direct you to our place.

One cannot see much of the country from the highway and if you are out here we would like to be able to show you the valley and some of the scenery in the hills. It is just a nice afternoon drive across the valley and back. We would like to see you."

Veteran Bureau Man Here

Fred W. Zeller, of St. Paul, field representative of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, was in the city the latter part of the week attending to the state affairs of the Legion. Mr. Zeller is supervising the ex-service men in this locality who are receiving training from the Bureau. Mr. Zeller is also assisting ex-service men in reinstating and converting their insurance and aiding them in filing their claims for compensation, advising them as to the necessary evidence required in their claims. Mr. Zeller visits this territory every two weeks.

Watch the Wastebasket

Ola Lovang of Lovang's Weekly, Lanesboro, Minn., has some good advice to advertisers regarding the circular or newspaper advertising method: "If you want to be convinced whether newspaper advertising pays better than folders or hand bills, watch the waste basket over in the Lanesboro post office each day. If you dig through you will find scores of advertising letters unopened by the receiver. You seldom if ever find the Lanesboro paper in this waste basket. Why? Because the paper goes home and is read."

St. Hilaire Pioneer Passes

John Jacobson, one of the pioneer residents of the St. Hilaire community, passed away at his home at Eveleth on Friday, May 4. Death occurred suddenly after being ill only three days, pneumonia being the cause. Mr. Jacobson had enjoyed good health until the time of his demise.

Mr. Jacobson was born in Norway on May 9, 1854, and was 69 years of age at the time of his death. He came to this country in 1871 and followed the occupation of a minor in Michigan where he married and resided for several years. He and his family came to this section in the early eighties and settled on a homestead three miles west of St. Hilaire which place was the family home until they moved to Eveleth eight years ago.

He is survided by his widow and nine children. The latter are Hilmar, who resides at Virginia, Arthur, Bennie and Philip at Eveleth, Axel of St. Hilaire, Mrs. S. J. Field, Mrs. G. Lindquist and Mrs. Norman Bucklin, all of Eveleth and Mrs. V. G. Brink of St. Hilaire. The entire family was with Mr. Jacobson when the end came; the first time the family have been together for fifteen years or more.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon of last week and interment was at Virginia.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

I had intended to sell my pure bred Percheron stallion, but have decided to keep him another year. This will give the farmers a chance to save five or ten dollars by bringing your mares to town and have them bred to a pure bred stallion that is well known. He has been on the same route for three years and has a good record. His name is Luverne No. 73979. Charges are $10 for a live colt. See

From Oil Derrick to Service Station

THE Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Service Station with its modern conveniences, economical operation, scientific management and quick, courteous attendants, is the last link in that complete chain of service, whose first link is the derrick in the oil fields.

The Service Station visualizes the thrift, the attention to detail, care in handling products and avoidance of waste, which are conspicuous in every branch of the Company's activities in producing, shipping, refining and distributing. These methods insure rigid economy in operation, thus enabling the Company to maintain a low price for its products.

The Service Station is the one link in the long chain which the motorist sees. It is the point of contact between the Company and the motoring public.

In locating these stations, extreme care is taken to see that they are so placed as to meet the convenience of the motorist. That this care is appreciated is made manifest by the increasing demand for extension of these facilities.

It is the ambition of this Company to have a Service Station so located that you can secure your requirements of its produts, when and where you need them.

The next time you drive up to a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Service Station, observe carefully the way it is arranged, the facilities offered for your convenience, the high type of men acting as attendants, and the care and thoroughness with which they serve you.

By doing this you will be able to visualize that intangible factor—the ideals of service animating the 27,000 men and women who go to make up the personnel of this Company.

Seed Corn Time

The time for planting corn is not so very far distant. In the good old days a well formed healthy looking cob was selected for seed without first determining the percentage of germination. Times have changed and farming has become a highly developed science. Now, in order to be assured of a bumper yield, every farmer tests his seed corn.

Seed can be tested between damp cloths just as well as in an expensive seed tester. During the past few years we have given away a great many Caruguss Seed Testers, we still have a few on hand and will gladly fill requests while they last.

Debating Question Selected

"Resolved, That Foreign Immigration to the United States be Restricted for a Period of Five Years" is the debate question for the Minnesota State High School Debating League for the next school year, according to an announcement made last week by Superintendent G. H. Sandberg of Crookston, president of the state league.

The wording of the question has not yet been definitely settled but it has been decided by a vote of the directors that the debate question would be in regard to the restriction of foreign immigration to the United States for a period of five years.

All the members of this year's debating team of Lincoln high school will be graduated this spring, but splendid material is to be found among the lower classmen. Considerable interest in debating and forensics has been developed through the public speaking classes maintained the last few years.

25 Years With Newspaper

Local people have received copies of the Sunday Missoulian, published April 29, upon the fifteenth anniversary of the publication. One of the features of the edition is an article by Fred W. Zeh, brother of Philip E. Zeh and Emil Zeh of this city, and dean of the employees of the paper, who has been on the Missoulian more than twenty-five years. The editors say he is one of the best linotype operators in the country and his machine has set millions of lines for the newspaper He has been head of the Knights of Pythias order in Montana and has been honored with other fraternal and civic responsibilities. In the same edition are pictures of Harry Healy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. L. Healy of Red Lake Falls, who is circulataion manager for the newspaper.

Dies of Heart Trouble

Heart trouble, following an attack of influenza, caused the death of Arthur Gustafson, the 22-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Gustafson, at the family home southeast of St. Hilaire, on Thursday, May 3. The young man had been sick for only 18 days when the end came, which was a sad blow to his bereaved parents, brothers and sisters.

Mr. Gustafson was born in Iowa, April 5, 1901. He lived with his parents near St. Hilaire for the past few years. Besides his parents he leaves to mourn his death, five brothers and one sister, namely: George, Frank and Ernest, all of whom reside at the former family home at Gailsboro, Sask., Canada; Walter and Carl, who reside here with their parents, and Mrs. Herbert Geise of Gailsboro.

The remains were shipped to Gailsboro for burial last week.

Costly Auto Ride

Reckless driving and operating an automobile while intoxicated cost Wilhelm Ostrand of Warren $100 in fine and 70 days in the Marshall county jail, when brought before Justice W. O. Braggans last week.

COUNTY MAY BOND FOR BUILDING OF NECESSARY ROADS

Reimbursement Bond Issues for County Under New Law Limited to Necessities

Any theory that a "good roads grab bag" was created by the new 1923 law authorizing counties to issue reimbursement bonds for state trunk highway improvements within their boundaries is exploded in a statement received this week from the state highway department by county auditor T P. Anderson.

The outline of policies to govern proposed county bond issues is based on the attorney general's interpretation of the new authorization which differs in important respects from the law.

Only counties which have not issued the full $250,000 of bonds can act under the new law, it is officially held, and a further limitation is that no bond funds can be used on trunk highways now permanently designated. More than $11,000,000 of new debts would be added to those already charged against the trunk highway fund—to be paid from future motor vehicle tax receipts—if all counties went to the maximum, the statement explains, but the total is to be held to about $4,000,000 by rejecting all but necessary projects.

Department Position Stated

Chas. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, made plain the stand taken by the highway department following the attorney general's ruling.

"Minnesota adopted a state trunk highway department plan by a 5 to 2 vote of the people," he said. "The principal of the plan is that a system of main highways would be improved on a state-wide scale and without regard to county or other local lines. The department cannot sanction departures from this first principle—schemes that would put minor local improvements ahead and take money that should logically be used for more necessary betterments on more important and heavier traveled highways."

The commissioner pointed out how any other policy might put into some remote road serving 100 or 150 vehicles a day money needed for the improvement of a highway carrying ten times as many vehicles and taxpayers.

Right Procedure Suggested

County commissioners may avoid confusion, the auditor is advised, by first informing the state highway department of its proposal to issue county reimbursement bonds, giving the general location and termini of the highway affected. Upon approval of the project, the county may proceed to obtain the right-of-way or carry out other like preliminaries and also to sell the bonds. The highway repartment in the meantime will call for bids, that the widest possible competition may be secured, and award the contract. After the proceeds of the bonds are turned over to the state treasurer, work will be pushed under the state specifications and supervision, all as required by the law. The county will be relieved of all responsibility and possible disputes over final settlements will be avoided.

The law specifies that where the amount turned over by the county is more than sufficient to cover the cost of the improvement, the balance shall be used within a year for the improvement of some other trunk route section within the county.

Counties Ready to Act

Boards of commissioners in many counties affected by the new authorization plan to take up the matter this week, several calling special meetings for that purpose. Affirmative votes of three commissioners will carry the bond plan, that provision having been widened from the old law requiring a four-fifths vote of the board to issue $125,000 and a unanimous vote for the full $250,000.

Highway officials said that the large part of incoming bond funds will be used for grading and graveling and few paving projects being possible. County reimbursement bond money in the past, however, ran up the paving mileage, commissioners insisting upon hard-surfacing in many cases and relying on the state to make other improvements out of regular funds.

Roadbuilding In This County

The auditor is at present conferring with the state department regarding the estimated cost of the eight-mile Thief River Falls to St. Hilaire road which will, according to present plans, be built this summer. The new road will be laid out so as to avoid the many railroad crossings which are at present endangering the traveling public. Instead of making a sharp turn just south of the city, the highway will make straight connections with the road known as the Sanatorium road going south. This is considered a very logical time to make this change as the bridge is now being used is in a very poor condition. Part of the concrete wing has caved into the ditch.

The city may be reimbursed by the state for the paving on main street which is part of the Jefferson highway. This question has not been settled as yet but some of the county officials may go to St. Paul in the near future to meet with the members of the highway department in regard to the matter.

In addition to the St. Hilaire road it is also very likely that the county will complete the graveling and fixing up of the 12-mile stretch of road west from the city to the ridge, providing that the county is bonded for sufficient funds. Pennington county has been bonded for only a small portion of the maximum available under the new law.

County Board Meets This Week

It is expected that the matter of constructing these roads will be taken up at the meeting of the Pennington county commissioners Friday and Saturday of this week.

Cultivator Buyers Entertained

Gustafson & Son entertained those farmers who purchased beet cultivators from the company, at the regular Commercial club dinner today. Directly following the dinner the farmers hitched their teams or cars to the cultivators, of which there were 22, and the photographer was on the ground and took photographs of the "line up." The names of those who purchased cultivators or purchased part interest in one are Mrs. L. F. Douglas, E. O. Green, O. Ramstad, Olaf Neset, Smith Brothers, E. Doyle, Theodore Bjodge, Alfred Bjodge, S. C. Stone, W. B. Torgerson, V. C. Noper, Fred Copp, Albert Johnson, Clarence H. Smith, S. E. Hunt, Jens Kierk, F. B. Conklin, Andrew Jorde, Charles W. Correl, John Longren, Alfred Flattum, Hervey Copp and R. H. Paulson.

Wheat Growers Meet in Kansas City

W. J. Brown attended the Wheat Growers' meeting of the various states held at the Coats House, Kansas City, Tuesday, May 15. He left Sunday evening. Mr. Brown is closely connected with the Wheat Growers movement in this vicinity. He will also attend the meeting to be held in Minneapolis, May 21, on his return. W. H. Frederick, of this city, is now in Grand Forks and also expects to be in Minneapolis for that meeting.

BANKERS TO MEET AT CROOKSTON, MAY 25

Annual Convention of Ninth District Bankers' Association Next Week

Crookston bankers will play hosts to members of the Ninth District bankers association who will convene in Crookston Friday of next week, May 25. According to reports from Crookston, bankers there are busily engaged making arrangements for the meeting.

The Crookston gathering will be the annual business meeting of the association and about 125 bankers are expected to be in attendance. The tentative program calls for a banquet followed by a dance in the evening.

A number of bankers in this city and neighboring towns have voiced their intentions of attending, each institution to be presented at the convention. One of the chief purposes of the meeting is to discuss the various problems confronting the bankers of this district and the various policies to be followed.

CITIES PAYING MORE FOR RURAL ROADS

County Profits Again in Distribution of Annual State Aid for Local Highways

Pennington county is allotted $20,-170 from the 1923 state road aid fund, into which it paid $5,532 under the 1-mill general tax levy, according to official figures made public this week. The fund was devided by the state board composed of Highway Commissioner Charles M. Babcock, Auditor R. P. Chase and Treasurer Henry Rines.

Eighty-four out of the 87 counties in the state are given amounts equaling or exceeding taxes they paid toward the fund. Hennepin, Ramsey and St. Louis counties, the exceptions, paid in $814,434 and their shares are but $50,000 each, $10,000 less than the legal maximum and $16,000 less than allotted last year. The same counties pay over 30 per cent of the motor vehicle taxes used on trunk highways entirely outside Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, and under the state road aid law made another big contribution to the building of good roads in the country districts of the state. The aid law under which the wealthier counties pay toward road improvement in counties of smaller tax valuations provides that no county shall receive more than 3 or less than 1 per cent of the annual fund.

The 1923 fund now being distributed is made up of the proceeds of the 1-mill general property tax and revenues from lands, Babcock tests and other miscellaneous resources. It will be used by the counties on the more important local roads.

Counties this year will have $18,-332,682 of road funds, and this with township and city and village money added, will provide nearly $27,000,000 for Minnesota's local roads. The total is four times the net amount which will be available for use on the 7,000-mile system of state trunk highways carrying four-fifths of the trafic and tonnage.

Victim of Tuberculosis

John Nelson, 32 year old son of C. A. Nelson of Bray township, died in Crookston, May 3, from tuberculosis after arriving there for treatment at the Sunnyrest sanatorium a short time previously. Mr. Nelson was in a greatly weakened condition and the end was not unexpected. The remains were brought here for burial, which took place Wednesday of last week, Rev. C. M. Grimsrud of St. Hilaire officiating at the obsequies. Interment was made in the Lanstad cemetery. He is survived by his father, C. A. Nelson, and a brother, Herbert Nelson, both of whom reside near St. Hilaire.

A dance will be held at the Mavie hall, Saturday, May 19. M-17

HUMOROUS, HUMAN AND WHOLESOME IS NEW MEIGHAN FILM

"Back Home and Broke," by George Ade, at Lyceum on Sunday and Monday

Human, wholesome, humorous and sparkling is Thomas Meighan's new paramount picture, "Back Home and Broke," which is to be the feature of Sunday and Monday, at the Lyceum theatre. George Ade, the humorist, whose fables made his one of the best known and most popular American writers, is the author.

The story tells of a young man who leaves his home to win success in the great west. He and his mother are in distress, his father, supposedly wealthy, having died, and left him penniless. Snubbed by former acquaintances, he goes away, and upon returning a few years later an apparent failure, ridicule is heaped upon him. Then a novel Ade twist to the eternal story is introduced, with interesting results.

Picture patrons who saw "Our Leading Citizen," Mr. Ade's first Meighan picture, will be interested in the forthcoming production. Lila Lee who is recognized as one of the best leading woman, plays opposite Mr. Meighan. The cast generally is excellent and includes Frederick Burton, Cyril Ring, Charles Abbe, Florence Dixon, Gertrude Quinlan, Richard Carlyle, Maude Turner Gordon and other capable players.

Firemen of Minnesota to Meet in Bemidji in June

Firemen from every part of Minnesota have been invited to attend the fifty-first annual convention of the Minnesota State Fire Department association to be held in Bemidji on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 12 and 13. The Bemidji fire department is making extensive plans for the entertainment of the guests and no efforts will be spared in making this convention period a very opportune time for the firemen to visit Bemidji. The department has been raising an entertainment fund for the past several years and this together with other money will go toward giving the visitors a royal good time.

Charles S. Dailey of Crookston, until recently paid chief of the Bemidji department, is president of the state association.

The local fire department is making plans to attend the convention in full number, according to a statement made by Chief Paul Midderigh, who is making the necessary arrangements. The men will go in a body so as to get the full benefits of the school of instruction and at the same time will endeavor to enlist sufficient support to bring the annual meeting to this city again in 1926. It was last held in this city in 1911, when over 1,500 were in attendance. It was said to be one of the largest conventions ever held by the association.

The city council at a meeting last week appropriated the necessary funds to cover the expenses connected with the trip. The appropriation was in the form of an increase of $200 in the salary of the firemen for the month of June.

Administrator Appointed

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Christenson and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ostenson of Fertile were in the city Tuesday of last week attending to affairs of the estate of the late Lewis P. Christenson, brother of G. N. Christenson. Mr. Ostenson has been appointed administrator of the estate. The Mint, 212 LaBree avenue north, which constitutes a large part of the estate, will be operated by L. J. Cerny until the estate has passed through the probate court which requires about six months. G. N. Christenson is the only heir with the exception of a sister, whom they are trying to locate, and which search necessitates the court proceedings.

Teachers' Progressive League Meets

Members of the Teachers' Progressive League of Pennington county held their annual closing meeting at the court rooms Saturday afternoon. Miss Johanna Wedul, vice president, presided in the absence of Miss Gena Legvold, president.

Reports of the various committees were read and the work of the past season reviewed. The past year Miss Hattie E. Anderson has been chairman of the health committee, Miss Bertha Hastad, chairman of the recreation committee, Miss Maybelle E. Kirk, chairman of the educational and Miss Clara Sorenson, chairman of the citizenship committees. About 30 members were present.

The most widely read books this season were, "New Schools for Old" and "Community Life and Civic Problems."

New Equipment Installed In Telephone Exchange at Approximate Cost of $5000

Wallace Robinson of Minneapolis, and Harry Clausen of St. Cloud, who have been in this city since the first part of January remodeling the equipment of the local office of the Northwestern Bell Telephone exchange, left Friday evening for Wadena where they will be engaged in installing a repeater equipment in the office there. The change here which has been nearly completed, according to a statement by Manager Plenty, involves a cost of approximately $5,000. The new equipment will greatly increase the efficiency of the system and speed up service, which is very essential in a telephone exchange. The Thief River Falls exchange now has the latest and most modern equipment in use. The service was hampered only in a very small degree during the time the remodeling was being done, many patrons not even knowing that it was going on.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS OF STATE MEET AT DETROIT MAY 25-26

Fifth Annual Summer Meeting and Sale of State Association Takes Place Next Week

The annual summer meeting and sale of the Minnesota Holstein Breeders will be held at Detroit, on Friday, May 25-26, next week. This meeting and sale is an annual affair and is coming to be recognized as one of the largest dairy meetings that is held in the northwest.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the annual summer meeting which will be held on Friday, May 25 and the program which will start at 11:00 A M. with a business meeting in the pavilion on the beautiful lake shore is open to anyone interested in the great dairy industry. Immediately following this business session and the noon lunch, a livestock judging contest will be held at the fair grounds, at which time the purebred females as well as the grade females listed for sale will enter into competition; the judging to be done by Axel Hanson, prominent Holstein breeder of Savage, Minn.

At 6:00 p.m. a cafeteria dinner will be served in the pavilion which will be followed by an entertainment program, consisting of community singing, music, local entertainment and talks by nationally known speakers including J. M. Kelley, vice president of the Holstein Friessian association of America, Governor J. A. O. Preus, C. G. Selvig of the Northwest Experiment Station, Crookston, and Fred E. Murphy, editor of the Minneapolis Tribune.

On Saturday, May 26, the fifth annual Holstein sale will be held in the pavilion and will start promptly at 10:30 a.m. In the offering this year there are 20 carefully selected purebreds and a like number of carefully selected grades. The grades are being placed in this sale to demonstrate the value of purebred Holstein sires in building up the individuality and production of a herd of dairy cattle through the use of good purebred Holstein bulls and at a very small original investment. It is the first time in the history of state breed sales of any kind that grades have been offered and a good opportunity will be afforded prospective buyers in the northwest to select their purebreds or grades for a herd foundation.

A number of breeders from this community expect to attend the convention to make purchases and to meet with other dairymen throughout the state. The addresses on dairy problems will also be of great value and benefit to those who atten.

Kittson County Attorney Appointed Minn. U. Regent

Attorney J. E. Sundberg of Hallock has been appointed the tenth member on the board or regents of the University of Minnesota, under the new law providing for a member from each of the ten congressional districts. His appointment is not to fill a vacancy but to fill the quota as provided by the new statute.

Many Delinquents "Dig Up" When They Receive Notice

Nearly one half of the delinquent personal property taxpayers in Pennington county have paid their back taxes to Sheriff Ole L. Ihle since the tax warrants were issued and placed in his hands for service May 1. A total of about 260 warrants were turned over to the sheriff by Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund and up to this time about 125 of these have been paid, which is considered very favorable according to county officials. Several taxpayers have moved about during the past year making collection of delinquents quite difficult. However, the sheriff states that he expects to have most of the warrants cleared up within a short time. If the delinquent tax is not paid within a certain length of time the sheriff is empowered to levy upon any property, either real or personal, in the possession of the taxpayer.

Full Recovery After the "Flu"

Many who have the vitality to get well of an attack of influenza are frequently left with some form of weakness that is stubborn and unless given chiropractic attention will most certainly become chronic. One of the frequent discoveriesc is that "flu" has left its victim with heart trouble.

Uncle Ben says: "Lightning never strikes in the same place two times, so they say and I guess it's so, at least I never knew anybody to hang around and wait to see if it would."

All life functions of the body are transmitted over the nerve lines of the body, and the only place where this transmission meets interference is at the spinal nerve openings when spinal joints are slightly or seriously displaced. The chiropractor by his adjustments restore the mechanical alignment of spinal bones and thus the cause of the weakness is removed. Health follows as a natural casue.

Just Horse Sense

The school year is almost over and only exams and graduation are left. Now is the time when a student looks back over the past nine months and wonders how worthwhile they have been to him. At this time every student is either sitting back and taking things easy or he is making one last frenzied effort and wearing a look of extreme anxiety. Those who have gone through the year studying conscientiously and doing the assigned work faithfully have nothing to worry about now and are reaping their just rewards. Those who have taken the easiest subjects and barely slipped through with passing grades are now beginning to realize their mistake and are beginning to repent. So much depends on their exams and, considering the amount of learning they have acquired, the outcome of these is very dubious. Look at yourself! How do you feel towards the past school year and the coming exams? Are you perfectly satisfied and free from worry or are you full of regret and anxiously awaiting the results of the last week? In either case, why not resolve to make next year a year free from regrets, full of satisfaction and devoid of last minute worries? It pays.

Students Give Physical Training Demonstration

A music and physical training exhibition will be given at the city auditorium Monday evening the 21st day of May. The pupils of the city schools will participate under the supervision of Miss Baumann. Music by the junior high school glee club and by the grades will also be feature numbers on the program. The various grades will give physical exercises. Pupils from the high school too, will take part in the exercises.

Through this exhibition the public may see what is taught in this branch of the school work, and what the pupils accomplish. The patrons of the school are cordially invited to attend, and the admission charge is "TEN CENTS."

Physical training is highly important, as it teaches the growing child to keep fit for the work which he does throughout his life, especially during school hours. Through exercise we gain a healthy body, making work, play, and study possible. These are some of the helps which physical training brings.

This sums up the reason for giving an exhibition of this kind. We hope the attendance will be as good as the program will merit SO COME ONE AND ALL. CITY AUDITORIUM. MONDAY EVENING, MAY 21, AT EIGHT O'CLOCK, ADMISSION 10c.

Miss Lorraine O'Brien has been secured as music supervisor for next year. Miss O'Brien is a graduate of the high school at Hurley, Wisconsin, and of the School of Music in Milwaukee. She has taught at Osceola and Elk Horn, Wisconsin, and at present is supervisor of music at Bethany, Wisconsin. Miss O'Brien is also recommended as a very capable violinist.

J. S. YOUNG SPEAKER AT COMMENCEMENT

Professor of Political Science at U. of M. to Give Address at Graduation Exercises

J. S. Young, professor of political science at the University of Minnesota, will deliver the commencement address at the graduation exercises of the class of 1923 at the auditorium Friday, May 25. At this time seventy-two seniors will receive diplomas and ten post graduates will be given teacher's certificates. For the first time in the history of Lincoln high school the graduating class will appear in caps and gowns.

The Valedictory address will be given by Pearl Weeks, and the Salutatory by Lucile Curtis. Dr. H. W. Froehlich, president of the school board, will present the diplomas, and High School Principal M. P. Rapacz the class of '23.

Music will be furnished by the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs and the Senior Octette.

Rev. Chas. Gerlinger of the Presbyterian church, will give the sermon for the graduates next Sunday evening, May 20, at eight o'clock.

Normal Training Dept. Shows Excellent Record

The annual report of the Normal Training department, which is now being prepared for the State Department of Education, reveals some interesting facts regarding the local department. Of the twenty-nine girls who enrolled last fall, twenty-six will probably receive teachers' certificates before next September. Twelve of these students are residents of the district, fourteen are non-residents.

The attendance record is a remarkably good one. Louise Besancon, Elsie Buringrud, Florentine Hance, Linda Koglin, Myrtle Myrin, Clara Oien, Nomie Pederson and Inez Sorlom have been neither—absent nor tardy throughout the year. A record almost as good was made by Anna Harbor, Eileen Herron, Mabel Jacobson and Lillian Knight, who were absent just one-half day each.

Eighteen of the twenty-six Normal students live or have lived on farms and have attended rural schools. Five of them did not take their high school training in the local school. The out of town students come from farm homes near Hazel, Thief River Falls, St. Hilaire, Goodridge, Greenbush and Mildred. While in Thief River Falls, four of them live with friends and relatives, two work for their board and room, and eight hire rooms and board themselves.

The subjects studied in the Normal course during the year have been arithmetic, civics, composition, geography, grammar, United States history, penmanship, physiology and hygiene, nature study and agriculture, reading, spelling, rural school management, pedagogy, current events, music, handwork and sewing, and library methods. Each student has also put in about one hundred eighteen hours of practice teaching and thirty hours of observation in rural and city schools.

Sixteen of the members of this class are seniors and ten are post-graduate students. The post-graduate students, after a year's successful rural teaching, may receive eight points credit at any State Teachers' college for their work done here.

A Rainy Day Story

Four young ladies from the Sophomore class of Lincoln high school ventured forth on Sunday afternoon becomingly clad in knickers and middies on what is known as a "hike."

Their wandering feet took them to a spot on the Thief river about four miles from town where they decided to eat their lunch. When they had almost completed eating their delicious repast, consisting of wieners, buns and marshmallows, it began to rain and before they had journeyed very far it was not only raining but pouring. Two cars passed them on the road, but the drivers didn't even offer to give 'em a ride!

They finally sought shelter at Dr. Kirby's home. While waiting for Dr. Kirby to return home and also for the heavens to clear they were served supper.

When at last a rainbow appeared, they set out for Thief River Falls looking very much like drowned rats. But they had fun anyway.

Special Assembly

There will be a general assembly at the high school auditorium at 3 o'clock Friday, the twenty-fifth. At this time report cards and credit slips will be given out. Students are instructed to get their report cards from the teacher with whom they have a class the first period in the morning. Credit slips may be secured from the teacher with whom the subject has been taken. All students are urged to get their report cards Friday afternoon, or arrange with someone else to get them, as the officials wish to have everything straightened out and cleared away at the end of school this spring. The teachers will be very busy making out reports Friday, so they will appreciate not being disturbed before three o'clock.

FOOTBALL MEN HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Capt. Anderson's Veterans Assemble for Big "Feed" at Domestic Science Rooms

On Saturday, May 13, the annual football banquet was held in the domestic science rooms at 6:00 o'clock. The fellows assembled a few minutes ahead of time and worked up a little pep on the piano, drums, and other instruments in Miss Johnson's room.

The banquet room was decorated in the high school colors, blue and red. The tables were attractively arranged in the form of a large "T", and the red and blue color scheme was followed out in the table decorations. A football formed the center-piece. The shades were drawn and the room was lit by candle light.

Ernest Barzen acted as toast-master. The first toaster called upon was Russel Anderson, this year's captain. "Rusty" spoke of the pleasure connected with his work with the team and predicted a successful season for the fall semester. The next speaker, "Toby" Holmgren, captain elect for the 1924 Lincoln's, showed them where to get off at. "We are sorry to lose you seniors, but will show you we can get along without you." Stanley Sorenson, B. B. captain and star, then took the floor. "Stan" talked about the good prospects for future basketball. Mr. Toastmaster then called on Coach MacFarlane. The coach showed the team a wonderful field for '23 and '24 football. He also stated that in a few years he believed that basketball would be the major sport of the school. He then told of the enjoyment of working with the team.

Mr. Simley gave a most interesting talk about the team, about our present coach and our next year's coach. Mr. Simley, like the rest of us, regrets the fact that Mr. MacFarlane is leaving us, but knowing Mr. Thune personally, he assures us of a capable coach.

The remainder of the evening was spent in talking of past games and experiences. The boys all report a wonderful evening and one they will not soon forget.

CLASS PLAY WINS GENERAL APPROVAL

Capacity Crowd Sees 1923 Class Production, "Come Out of the Kitchen" Friday

"Come Out of the Kitchen," presented Friday, May 11, by the senior class, was an unqualified success from beginning to end.

The story centers around the four young Dangerfields, whose father and mother are in Europe for the former's health. Knowing that their father's financial condition is in a critical state, the Dangerfields decide to become servants in their own home, which they have rented to a Northerner, Burton Crane. Because none of them are accustomed to working and because they wish to conceal their identity, many complications arise and soon all the servants but Olivia, are discharged. In the meantime, Burton Crane has fallen in love with Olivia, but she gives him no encouragement. Finally he has a suspicion that Jane Ellen is Olivia Daingerfield and in the end, he finds it to be true.

Eileen Arneson as Olivia Daingerfield the eldest daughter, alias Jane Ellen, displayed unusual talent, and when it comes to "buttling," "Stan" Sorenson can't be beat. Lorraine Will and Craig Halvorson as the other Daingerfield children took their parts exceptionally well. Ernest Barzen, as Randy Weeks and Herbert Johnson or Burton Crane the Northerner, were excellent. The remainder of the cast including Esther Larson, as the negro mammy, Albert Stengelsen as Thomas Lefferts, Rose Costello as Mrs. Falkner, Ruth Knutson as Cora Falkner and Henry Vorlicky as Solon Tucker deserve a great deal of praise for the way in which they interpreted their characters. The success of the play is due largely to Miss MacNair's excellent coaching.

Seniors Lose to Argyle In Second Game, 8-2

Saturday, May 12, the Senior team motored to Argyle and lost their first game by a score of 8 to 3. The game had been dated for earlier in the day but due to the track meet in Argyle the time was changed to 4:30. Because of the change in time two of the Senior players were unable to go, Captain Schutt and Chas. Herron, and their absence was severely felt. The game was interesting from the start to the finish and the seniors again showed their prospects for a good team. The Seniors will meet Argyle at Thief River Falls on Friday, May 18. Come out and see the game. The Seniors vow that they will win. "Swede" Nelson will be pitcher for the Thief River Seniors. Come out and watch him work and watch the Seniors prove what they can do.

Jumbo Jum Presented by Juniors at St. Hilaire

"Jumbo Jum" came to life again last Saturday night at St. Hilaire. The cast went by car about seven o'clock and waited until after the show, "The Girl From the Porcupine," when they gave their skit in a satisfactory but not very vivacious manner. Jumbo found out a most extraordinary fact about the trees of that town. They are not firmly rooted in the ground, but are set on foundations, thereby being very unstable as stage furniture.

Everyone said that they had had an enjoyable time, and all returned home about midnight.

Mr. Lester Guss of the University of North Dakota has accepted the science position for the coming year.

Special Baseball!

The Argyle baseball team will be here for a return game at the fair grounds Friday evening, May 18. The Senior team lost at Argyle by a score of 8 to 2, but a turn of affairs is expected on the home field, with the full Senior lineup in action. "Swede" Nelson's pitching arm bothered him during the cold weather but is rapidly improving and should be in the pink of condition for the game Friday evening. The game will be played at the fair grounds, at 4:30 o'clock. The admission charge will be 15c for students and 25c for adults. A fast game is assured and it is expected that a large crowd will turn out to see the high school diamond stars in action.

SENIOR DAY COMES AS SURPRISE MON.

Mock Commencement Exercises Feature of Program at High School Monday Morning

Senior day, one of the established traditions annually observed at Lincoln high school, came as more or less of a surprise to the school last Monday. As only a few possible days were left, there was a general feeling of expectation among the students and faculty, but this did not in any way interfere with the general scheme of the celebration.

The class "Holiday" was as usual divided into three parts, the program at the high school in the morning, the parade down town, and the picnic outing in the afternoon. The program at school was planned in the form of a two act skit, the first act being Commencement exercises at the "Jesse James Training School for the Young," and the school scene was the registrars office at the Fergus Finishing School for the Unpolished. Several humorous selections by the gaily costumed class in the first scene were much enjoyed by the lower classmen. Russell Anderson as valedictorian gave the farewell address in a very touching manner; Stephen Arneson, as Billy Sunday, gave a very forceful and impressive commencement address; the Class Will was incorporated in the Consolatory Address, read by Pearl Weeks; diplomas (marshmallow rolls) were issued as life meal tickets by Ole Helle; acting as superintendent of the Jesse James school. The feature of the program was a three-piece orchestra selection by Craig Halvorson, playing the piano, clarinet, and drums simultaneously, and getting music out of each.

The scene of the second act was laid at an institution for the mentally deficient, where several inmates labored under the illusion that they were Napoleon, Caesar, Demosthenes, and Minerva, respectively. Due to lack of organization, this part did not come off quite as it had been planned; but as the purpose of Senior Day is to permit the near-graduates to forget their numerous perplexities for a day, rather than to provide formal entertainment for the school, a slip here and there passed unnoticed.

After the parade, the class went to Aubol's Grove, near St. Hilaire for a picnic dinner. The group enjoyed the warm spring sunshine in various ways until five o'clock. The party was chaperoned by S. W. Powley, class advisor and Miss Katherine MacNair.

Bernard Barzen will graduate from Marquette University in June. Bernard is a graduate of the class of 1919.

Miss Olga Svensgaard, a graduate of the class of 1921, is employed as stenographer in a law office in Fargo, North Dakota.

ATHLETIC SWEATERS PRESENTED LINCOLN HIGH'S LETTER MEN

Thirteen Football and Basketball Men Honored In Chapel Friday; Medals Awarded Representatives In Debating, Declamation, Oratory and Journalism.

Sweaters were presented to the letter men in basketball and football at a special chapel last Friday. Coach MacFarlane gave a talk and made the presentation.

He explained how it had become possible to purchase the sweaters, telling how the members of the faculty had wanted to give the letter men some recognition of their service, but as no funds were available, they gave the play, "Assisted by Sadie." This netted a sum of money more than sufficient for the purpose. One thought that Mr. MacFarlane said he wished to leave with the letter men was that the sweaters are not merely a gift to be used and enjoyed as such, but that they were a responsibility. He did not, he said, wish to see the recipients of the sweaters do anything that would reflect back to their own discredit or to that of the school.

Following his talk, he called upon each of the letter men to come forward for his sweater, while Katherine Barzen led the student body in cheers for each man.

The following received sweaters: A star denotes a captaincy and each stripe, one year of service in either basketball or football:

Charles Herron, one star, four stripes.
Ernest Barzen, one star, four stripes.
Stanley Sorenson, one star, three stripes.
Russel Anderson, one star, three stripes.
Milford LaBree, three stripes.
John Sether, two stripes.
Clifford Sorenson, two stripes.
Henry Vorlicky, two stripes.
Math Barzen, two stripes.
Herbert Keene, one stripe.
Roy Holmgren, three stripes.
Sydney Schutt, one stripe.
Craig Halvorson, three stripes.

The sweaters are red with blue service stripes and stars on the left sleeve, and a monogram in blue on the front.

Medals Awarded

After the presentation, a surprise was sprung on the school by Miss MacNair who gave a talk on the other important school activities—debating, declamation, oratory and journalism. These, she stated, together with basketball and football, occupy an important place in interscholastic competition. She gave a short resume of the season's work stating that the debating team had entered the semi-finals of the district and that Lincoln High's orator and declaimer had each won second places in the district, although both contestants were new at this type of work. Then in recognition of their services to the school, she presented each of the representatives in these activities with a Sterling silver medal.

The following were awarded medals:

Debating—Rose Costello, Marian Hilden, Herbert Johnson, Albert Stengelsen.
Declamation—Liv Vistaunet.
Oration—Melvin Engelstad.
Journalism—Ole Helle.

Supt. Simley spoke briefly, saying that next year, if any championships are won, gold medals will be the reward for the winners.

Miss Betsy Ness, who was valedictorian of the class of '21, has enrolled in the Normal department for next year. She is now employed as cashier for the Oen Mercantile company.

Miss Elinor Dahlen was a visitor at her home over the week end to attend the reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Magnuson.

FARM BUREAU REPORT SHOWS ACTIVE YEAR FOR OFFICE

Plan of Farm Bureau Organization Greatly Changed by Action of Legislature

The Farm Bureau unit of Pennington county with offices in Thief River Falls has had a busy year, according to reports made recently by J. J. McCann, who is in charge of the work conducted through the local office.

The farm bureau here has not received any appropriations from the county and therefore has been much hampered in its work, but nevertheless a great deal of aid has been given the farmers throughout the county largely due to the untiring efforts of County Agent McCann.

The following interesting data was given in the Farm Bureau reports:

Eight carloads of phosphate distributed to Pennington county farmers.

One hundred fifty farmers assisted in conducting pure seed plots.

Two hundred sixty farmers were assisted in the sale and exchange of eight hundred and fifty head of livestock.

There have been 825 herds tested for tuberculosis with over 5,000 cattle in Pennington county.

Pennington county stages one of the largest exhibits of poultry.

Two hundred and forty boys and girls enrolled annually in Pennington county club work, fifty receiving a free trip to St. Paul to the state fair, livestock judging contest and livestock show at South St. Paul.

Two hundred farmers assisted in keeping account books.

$25,000 worth of business through the Farm Bureau exchange list.

Four hundred farmers supplied with three hundred sixty laborers.

Assisted two hundred twenty-five people with income tax.

6129 telephone calls annually.

The present officers of the organization in Pennington county are: Hans Anton, Thief River Falls, president; R. J. McKercher, St. Hilaire, vice-president; Stuart McLeod, Goodridge, secretary-treasurer.

The 1923 session of the Minnesota legislature on the last day of its recent session passed a measure providing for county co-operative extension work. The house passed the bill as it came from the senate and the governor signed it April 21.

In contrast to legislation previously in effect the new act provides for the following:

1. "The county farm bureau association shall be accepted as a co-operating agency in the promotion of county co-operative extension work when said organization has a membership equal to one-third of the number of farmers in the county as determined by the last official state or federal census, provided that in no case shall more than 200 members be required" and "has no deposit in local banks not less than $300 available for use by such association in maintaining its organization and work."

2. "There shall be provided in each county having a county farm bureau association a budget committee to be known as a county co-operative extension committee consisting of seven members of whom two shall be members of the board of county commissioners, including the chairman and one other selected by said board, the county auditor, the president, vice-president, and secretary of the county farm bureau association, and one additional members selected by the farm bureau executive committee. The county co-operative extension committee each year on or before the second Monday of July shall prepare a budget showing the total funds available and needed and shall recommend by resolution the amount of county funds necessary for the maintenance, support, and expenses of county co-operative extension work in agriculture and home economics during the following year.

3. "A copy of such budget and resolution shall be presented by the county auditor to the board of county commissioners."

County Appropriations

4. "It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners at its regular meeting in July, or January, as the case may be, to consider the recommended county share" of funds required and " the board of county commissioners may appropriate annually not less than $1,500 and not to exceed the specified limits," provided in the law for such purposes

5. County funds may be "appropriated from the general revenue of the county except that in counties where the general revenue fund is exhausted, the board of county commissioners shall make a special levy for county co-operative extension purposes."

6. In the event there is an unexpected balance of the "county co-operative extension fund" at the end of any year, said balance shall be carried over or re-appropriated within the limits of the appropriation specified."

7. County funds "shall be paid out by orders of the dean of the department of agriculture of the University of Minnesota for salaries of agents employed, their employees, and other expenses incident to the work—provided that no order for the application of said funds for the purposes named shall be issued until the expenditure shall have been audited and signed by the county auditor and the secretary of the county farm bureau association."

8. Provision is made whereby funds may be applied in a more flexible and equitable manner than formerly

9. The executive committee of the county farm bureau association shall annually formulate a program of work in agriculture and home economics in co-operation with the agricultural extension division of the University of Minnesota and the United States Department of Agriculture."

County Agents—How Engaged

10. "For the purpose of putting this program into operation, it shall be the duty of the executive committee of the county farm bureau association and the county co-operative extension committee, acting with the dean of the department of agriculture of the University of Minnesota or his delegated representative, to engage a suitable and qualified person or persons for such work to be known as "county agents."

11. No agent shall be continued in any county whose services prove unsatisfactory to the executive committee of the county farm bureau association and the county co-operative extension committee."

12. The duties of agents employed are more clearly defined; specific mention is made that "the county agent shall give aid and advice to all residents of the county when called upon, when the object is to improve the science, art, and business of agriculture and home economics," and further, that the funds appropriated may be applied "to the work of such agents in improving agriculture and home economics and improving and bettering the marketing of farm products."

13. "The duties of the members of the county co-operative extension committee in addition to those hereinbefore specified shall be to encourage the co-operation of all individuals and organizations to make use of co-operative extension activities and they shall elect their own chairman and vice-chairman, who shall serve for one year. The county auditor shall act as secretary of such county co-operative extension committee."

Hot Lunches for Rural Schools.

Many teachers in the small rural schools are serving hot lunches. Those who do it best find that it is well to have the interest and co-operation of both school board and parents before beginning to serve lunches. The equipment needed is inexpensive. A few cooking utensils, a two-burner oil stove and some towels are enough. Children usually furnish their own cups, bowls, and spoons. There are many ways of obtaining the necessary food supplies for the warm noon-day dish. Some times the food is bought by the school and the cost pro-rated among the children. It is important, if only one hot dish is prepared, that milk be used freely in whatever is served, whether soup or some other food. By means of the hot school lunch children may be taught the value of foods in the diet, how to prepare them and how to select a properly balanced diet. Children will learn to like milk and vegetables if the foods are well prepared and are popular with other children in the school. The United States Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., has recently published two pamphlets giving suggestions regarding the school lunch.

Young Roseau Man Subject to Epileptic Fits Burned to Death at Enstrom Farm

One of the most tragic deaths recorded in this section occurred at Enstrom, Roseau county, Tuesday, last week when Levi Pieper, aged 29, was burned to death while burning brush.

The young man had left home in the afternoon to burn some brush in a slough about a quarter of a mile from the house. When he failed to return at supper time, members of the family started a search for him. After hunting around in the dusk for some time they finally found his charred body in a kneeling position against a log at one of the burned brush piles. The coroner was called immediately.

The unfortunate victim was subject to epileptic fits and it is believed that after he had set fire to the brush pile he suffered an attack and fell over the log on the pile and was burned to death.

The lower part of the body was burned to the bone, the abdominal region laid bare and the upper part of his body was burned black. The only wearing apparel left was a pair of gloves. The body looked like a blackened tree stump seen even at close quarters according to statements made by those who saw the remains.

Mr. Pieper had been subject to fits during the past twelve years. Six years ago he was taken to the state hospital at Fergus Falls for treatment and remained there four years. The last two years he had been staying at home with his parents. He is survived by his parents, a sister, Mrs. Frank Fallon, and a brother, Arthur.

Rural Pupils Prepare for County Play Day in June

[illegible] Sande, county superintendent, [illegible] assisted by A. H. Larson [illegible], held athletic meets in [illegible] sections of the county preli[illegible] to the County Play Day to be [illegible] the fair grounds next month. [illegible] tour was also a general inspec[illegible] tour. From each section the [illegible] of each event was selected to [illegible] that district at the Play Day meet. The principal events were running, jumping and volley ball playing. Hazel and surrounding territory was covered Monday, April 30. Tuesday a meeting was held at Highlanding, Wednesday in Hickory, Thursday in Mayfield, Friday at Grygla. Saturday Mr. Sande held a meet in Bray township and Mr. Larson held one in Viking. Community singing was also a feature of the meets.

Roseau Couple Nabbed In Act of Making Moonshine

A good haul was made by the sheriff of Roseau county last week according to the Roseau Times-Region.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nestby were finishing their nocturnal labors on a place three miles south-east of Greenbush Wednesday morning and were getting ready to vacate when Sheriff O. A. Rice and his deputy made an unexpected and unwelcome call. A 40-gallon steel barrel such as is used in freighting kerosene and gasoline, full of mash had been kept over the fire during the night and the liquid had been drawn off shortly before the arrival of the officers. A ten-gallon cream can containing about eight gallons of firewater was found and confiscated. That and Nestby accompanied the sheriff to Roseau. The prisoner furnished bail and his case will come before the grand jury at the coming term of court.

It is understood that Mr. Nestby has considerable land in that section, and that he has neglected the work of preparing the soil and putting it into crop, the assumption being that the business which got him into trouble has taken up his time and interest.

Grygla Farmer Dies

Peter Evensvold of Lee township, Marshall county, died at the Grygla hospital Tuesday, May 8, at the age of nearly 68 years, complications of the stomach being the cause of his demise. Funeral services were held at the Carmel church Saturday, [illegible] Anderson of Grygla officiating. Besides his widow deceased leaves to mourn his death four sons, Carl, John, Ole and Theodore. The last three are located at Blaisdale, N. D. Mr. Evensvold operated a farm in the vicinity of Grygla for a number of years.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of principal and interest due March 28th, 1922, under the terms of the hereinafter described mortgage, and default has also occurred in the failure to pay the taxes for the years 1920 and 1921 on the premises conveyed by said mortgage, which taxes have been paid by Minneapolis Trust Company, Assignee of said mortgage, which mortgage was duly executed by M. J. Anderson and Annie M. Anderson, his wife, mortgagors, to Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls, a Minnesota corporation, mortgagee, dated March 28, 1917, and, with the power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, in Book 12 of Mortgages on page 379, on the 29th day of March, 1917, at 1 o'clock P. M.; and which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls to Minneapolis Trust Company as Trustee under the last will and testament of Platt W. Lyon, Deceased, by written assignment dated November 24th, 1917, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on December 6, 1917, at 3 o'clock P. M. in Book 56 of Mortgages, on page 485; and which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was further duly assigned by Minneapolis Trust Company, as Trustee under the last will and testament of Platt W. Lyon, Deceased, to Minneapolis Trust Company, by written assignment dated April 6, 1923, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on April 7, 1923, at 2 o'clock P. M. in Book 75 of Mortgages, on page 324.

NOW, THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given that the amount which is claimed to be due, and is due, at the date of this notice upon said mortgage is in principal and interest the sum of Two Thousand Seven Hundred Ninety Seven and 45-100 Dollars ($2,797.45), and that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by the sale of the following described mortgaged premises, to-wit: The Southwest Quarter (SW¼) of Section Sixteen (16) in Township One Hundred Fifty-three (153), North of Range Thirty-nine (39), West of the Fifth Principal Meridian, containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the Government survey thereof, in the County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Pennington County, at the front door of the Court House in Thief River Falls, in said County and State, on the 10th day of July, 1923, at ten o'clock A. M. of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay and satisfy the amount that will then be due on said mortgage and the indebtedness secured thereby, together with the taxes so paid on said mortgaged premises which are in the aggregate sum of One Hundred Seventy Two and 40-100 Dollars ($172.40), together with the costs and charges of said foreclosure and Seventy-five dollars ($75.00) attorneys' fees, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of the sale, as provided by law.

Attention Farmers!
RAISE MORE HORSES!
Census reports show that there is a great shortage of young horses in the country. Why not be far-sighted enough to raise a few good horses in time to anticipate the big demand that is sure to come when the old horses die off? Horses will always be indispensable on the farm as they furnish the cheapest and most flexible power.

TRAINING CAMP AT FT. SNELLING OPENS AUG. FOR A MONTH

Those Wishing to Apply Should Inquire of W. B. Fuller—Pennington Co. Quota 8

Citizen's Military Training camps will open August 1st, and continue for a period of 30 days at Fort Snelling according to an announcement by W. B. Fuller of this city who has been named as chairman for Pennington county and representative of the government in this city.

The camp is open to young men between the ages of 17 and 24 and accepted applicants from Minnesota, North and South Dakota will be sent to the camp at Fort Snelling. Young men of other Middle West states will attend camps at Fort Dodge, Des Moines, Ia., and Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Applications are now being received by Mr. Fuller and any information regarding the camp may be secured from him. Reserve officers are also authorized to make recommendations.

The government pays all expenses of those attending the camps. Everything is free including transportation, food, uniforms and medical care.

Instructions will be given in infantry, field artillery, cavalry, with demonstrations by the air service and tank corps.

Provision will be made at all camps for the wholesome and interesting employment of all leisure time. There will be lectures, moving pictures, programs, amateur and professional musical and dramatic entertainments with full use of Post Exchange facilities, mail service and club room.

Gully Man Injured by Runaway Gas Tractor

Helmer Bergh, a farmer residing near Wanke, north of Gully, was badly injured Saturday afternoon, May 5th, when a tractor which he was operating ran over him.

Mr. Bergh had backed up to a drag with the Fordson and dismounted to make the coupling while keeping the clutch in neutral with one foot, the motor still running with the transmission set in reverse.

In some manner Bergh's foot slipped from the clutch and the tractor jumped backward; by a quick move Helmer, who was directly behind the tractor, missed being caught by the rear wheels, but was knocked down and run over by one of the front wheels, which caused a crushing injury to the spine in the region of the hips.

The Fordson with its front wheels cramped continued swiftly backward in a small circle, Helmer managing to drag himself out of the machine's path. Someone near the scene of the accident caught the runaway tractor, stopped its wild flight and removed Mr. Bergh to the house and summoned Dr. Shedlov. While the injury is of quite a serious nature, so far nothing unfavorable has developed and hopes for the victim's complete recovery are held out.

Hospitalization Problems Discussed by Legionaires

Hospitalization of disabled veterans was the main object of discussion at the meeting of the Little American Legion conference held in Minneapolis on May 5 and 6. The meeting was attended by commanders and adjutants of Legion posts throughout the entire state. A total of about 450 Legionaires and Auxiliary members were present. The local Elmer Eklund post was represented by Oscar C. Paulson, commander.

At the convention it was brought out that the great problem confronting the American Legion now is the taking care of sick and disabled veterans who require hospital care.

Reports from surveys of the Tenth Veterans' Bureau district composed of Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana, showed that this district has at present over 1,400 cases of tuberculosis without adequate hospital room. Out of these, 63 per cent are in Minnesota. A canvass of the sanatoriums in Minnesota on April 1 showed only six vacant beds and those were applied for. Reports also showed that the Tenth district has over 500 mental cases, that are victims of shellshocks and the like, without any place to put them except in state institutions which do not provide the proper treatment of these cases, according to Veterans Bureau men.

Over eight months ago the United States government appropriated a million and a quarter dollars for the erection of a new hospital for the treatment of mental cases at St. Cloud, but so far little has been done towards building it. The number of cases is increasing it is said. The Minnesota division of the Legion has decided to continue the fight for hospitalization until it has secured three tuberculosis hospitals of 500-bed capacity each and a mental hospital of 500 beds at St. Cloud, all of which are to be federally aided. Minnesota has at present two Veteran Bureau hospitals, the Asbury in Minneapolis and the Aberdeen in St. Cloud, where all diseases and cases are taken care of together, but not properly.

The Minnesota State Hospital association of the American Legion is at present handling 82 cases per month, several of which are not members of the Legion. It is the policy to continue this work until disabled veterans are taken care of. Funds are being raised by local posts thru entertainments, shows, etc.

General Hines of Washington, D. C., director of the Veterans' Bureau has been in the state this week and together with Adjutant General Rhinow investigated the hospitalization project and the erection of the St. Cloud hospital. It is expected that arrangements will be completed so that the building may begin by June 1. It will take about one year to complete.

Among the speakers at the convention was Senator Henrik Shipstead, who assured the Legionnaires that he would do his utmost in the promotion of a bonus bill and that he felt confident that it would pass if brought before the senate again.

Commander Paulson, while in the cities, also looked after a number of disability claims filed in the state office regarding the compensation and training of Pennington county ex-service men.

Farmers' Co-operation Thrives in Minnesota

Farmers' co-operative associations in Minnesota increased from 3,500 in 1917 to 4,550 in 1922, or a net gain of 1,000 in the five year period, according to Dr. H. B. Price of the University of Minnesota, author of the bulletin, "Farmers' Co-operation in Minnesota," just issued by the Minnesota Experiment Station. The volume of business transacted in the five years increased from $119,070,000 to $144,000,000, or a gain of $24,930,000.

Nearly one-half of the gain in numbers was made by the selling or marketing organizations which increased from 1,566 to 2,060. The potato and livestock shipping associations and farmers' elevators made the principal gains. Creameries did little more than hold their own in numbers, but added materially to their output.

Dr. Price regards the federation of local marketing associations for central marketing as one of the significant developments of recent years. "Unlike some of the first attempts to market co-operatively at central markets, the new organizations are federations of local co-operative marketing associations rather than associations that are owned by individual producers," he says. "Central market agencies so organized have the advantages of the impetus of the well defined and successful co-operative movement and a large volume of business during their formative period."

There is a tendency among the "locals" to effect a larger sized, more economical business unit, says Dr. Price. Improvement is also noted in systems of accounting used. The membership contract has come into somewhat wider use. Chapters of the bulletin are devoted to co-operative creameries, co-operative milk marketing, cheese factories, farmers' elevators, potato shipping, livestock shipping, egg marketing, etc. The co-operative creameries produced 67 per cent of all butter made in Minnesota in 1921 compared with 61 per cent made in 1917.

Bounty on Bootleggers.

Declaring his belief that moonshiners are more dangerous than wolves, John C. Boulder of Milroy, Minn., in a letter to the Redwood Falls Sun, suggests that a bounty be placed on the heads of Volstead law violators, the same as it is placed on wolves. "If a liberal bounty were offered for the arrest of moonshiners I think the bootlegger and the blind pig would be a thing of the past in a short time," he writes, "the liquor men, with a bounty hanging over their heads, would not know who they could trust and would soon be willing to quit their illegal business."

Many Farms Change Owners

A department of Agriculture survey the first of its kind ever made by the government, discloses that occupants [illegible] during the year, and shifts in ownership took place on nearly 400,000 farms. This means that approximately one farm in sixteen in the country was transferred last year, while occupant on one out of five changed—This is undoubtedly due to the poor returns for agricultural investment and general unrest among the farmers. But to those who have watched the trend of events has come the conviction that there is soon to come a big change for the better. Within the next two years the farmers will have his innings, they believe.—Crookston Daily Times.

Times Plant Destroyed by Fire

Thief River Falls Newspaper Suffers Loss of From $25,000 to $30,000 in Disastrous Blaze Last Night, Starting in Furnace Room.

Structure Completely Gutted and Costly Printing Plant Lies a Mass of Ruins—Fire Department Saves Neighboring Business Institutions.

The plant of The Times was destroyed by fire Tuesday night and this issue is printed at the office of The Tribune through the courtesy of the publisher, J. S. Arneson. Plans are now being made to re-establish The Times but this will take some time and we ask our subscribers and patrons to overlook the faults of the paper during the time that it will be published under numerous difficulties.

The loss to the publishers of The Times is a severe one and it is only through the co-operation and loyalty of friends of the paper that a resumption of the business is possible. With the splendid spirit of helpfulness that is evident on all sides to encourage the publishers, The Times will soon be back to its former standard.

Temporary offices are now being maintained at the Harlow building, 106 LaBree avenue north. The telephone number is the same as formerly, 16.

The Tribune in its issue of yesterday gave the following account of the fire:

A fire which broke out last night at about 11 o'clock in the office of the Thief River Falls Times practically destroyed the entire newspaper plant, one of the finest and most complete printing establishments in northern Minnesota and entailed a property loss estimated at between $25,000 and $30,000. The plant was invoiced at $42,000 and carried insurance of but $12,000, according to R. H. Ross business manager.

Flames Make Steady Progress.

The section of the building which housed the newspaper plant, known as the Connelly block, was completely gutted by the flames, almost all of the main floor on which stood the heavy presses, linotype, paper cutter, type cabinets, makeup stones, etc., having fallen into the basement as the disastrous flames crept along, eating their way toward the front part of the building from near the furnace room, where it is believed the fire started from a cause as yet undetermined.

Employe Turns in Alarm.

The fire was discovered at about 11 o'clock by "Dick" Halvorson, foreman of The Times, who went to the office to get a coat he had left there during the day. Smelling smoke, he went to the basement and opened a door leading to a toilet off the pressroom. Flames were seen creeping along the ceiling and Halvorson immediately notified the fire department.

The pressroom of The Times extends all along the space occupied by the Shaw insurance office, the Ralston barber shop and The Times, and by the time the fire department had arrived a veritable furnace had developed, the entire ceiling of the basement being in flames. It was evident that the fire had then been raging for some time, it having gained such headway that flames were soon after shooting through the first floor and up into the composing room, where today not a thing remains but gaping holes thru which have fallen heavy pieces of printing machinery, cabinets, etc.

Great Crowds Gather.

Great crowds of people gathered to witness the conflagration, the Minneapolis trade tourists being in the city, with a large number of out-of-town people who had come to spend the day. All of LaBree avenue from First street to Third and along the alleyways were lined with automobiles and it presented a spectacular sight. The fire department almost from the outset had five streams of water playing on the flames, throwing thousands of gallons of water into the holocaust in an attempt to check its progress. The work of the department is to be commended, the members risking their lives in penetrating the building in order to plan the best means of fighting the flames.

Vault Crashes Through Floor.

Crash after crash came as heavy pieces of machinery precipitated into the basement and pressroom when their supports burned from beneath. At one time when the big four-ton vault, standing in the office, went thru the floor it sounded more like an explosion as it struck the thick concrete floor in the basement with a tremendous thud.

Much Inflammable Material.

The plant contained much material of a highly inflammable character, such as gasoline cans, printing inks, and cleaning chemicals, and it is thought that these added to the difficulty of putting out the flames. A large barrel of news ink caught fire and the flames leaped to new frenzy, frightening the onlookers and causing them to hunt for cover. Occasionally small explosions were heard when gasoline cans ignited and their contents spilled.

Smoke was belching from the windows of the Brumund hotel and a great amount of damage has resulted, and it will be necessary to redecorate all that part of the hotel over The Times plant, the Shaw insurance office and the Ralston barber shop. The latter will suffer little loss, having taken the barber chairs and tonsorial supplies to the street before the fire and smoke reached them. The same is true of the Shaw insurance office, although there will be a loss to the building on account of smoke and water, but this will be taken into account in the general loss to the building.

The Princess theater suffered somewhat, but it is not yet known what the property damage will be. The theater is the property of Harry Brumund, owner of the Lyceum.

High Grade Machinery Ruined.

The costliest piece of machinery in the plant, the Goss Rotary news press, was untouched by the flames, although there will be a considerable loss on account of smoke and water, there being more than two feet of water in the basement this morning when a Tribune reporter was surveying the extent of the damage. Another heavy loss is entailed in the linotype machine, costing $4,200, with about $2,000 in extra equipment, which will be about a 50 per cent loss. Two of the platen presses crashed to the basement and are a total loss. Two others still remain on the floor, although heavily listing and badly damaged by smoke and water. Steel imposing stones and type cabinets had all gone through the floor and lay an impossible mass in the ruins of the plant. The same is true of the power paper cutting machine, stitching machines, casting machines, etc.

There is also a heavy loss to paper stock and other supplies. Some completed jobs, undelivered, will amount to a total loss. One of these in the near stages of completion is a catalog for Loken Brothers of Madison, Wis., which had about $3,000 tied up in paper stock, labor, cuts, illustrations and etchings.

This year's issue of "The Prowler," the high school annual, had been delivered the day of the fire with the exception of 180 copies which had not been called for by members of the class, and it is thought that these copies will be almost a total loss, although the senior class is jubilant over the fact that they secured the bulk of them. Altogether the annual represents a value of something like $1,200.

Fire Gotten Under Control.

It was after 3 o'clock this morning before the flames were completely under control after one of the most stubborn fires ever encountered by the local fire department. High compliment was paid the department in various quarters for their efficient work. At no time was the blaze beyond control but the nature of the blaze practically prevented quick quenching.

The plant this morning presented a sorrowful mass of twisted, smoldering and impossible ruins of what was yesterday a magnificent array of printing material which had been a distinct pleasure to look upon by men versed in the quality of articles going into the manufacture of the printers' art. The Times plant contained nothing but the best, but today it impressed one as the worst. Little types were seen strewn over great inventions of printers and pressmen. Tiny matrices that yesterday clicked merrily through the shiny magazines of the Mergenthaler linotype, the greatest invention in the history of the world's mechanical science, lay spilled through the greed of fire.

Second Times Catastrophe.

The fire yesterday, which destroyed the plant of The Times, was the second in the history of that newspaper. A little more than three years ago, while the newspaper was located in the Union block, fire swept the plant and almost entirely destroyed it. The plant which burned this morning has been purchased since that time and embodied all the newer and more up-to-date devices.

Future plans of The Times are as yet unannounced. The Tribune has offered to lend its assistance in every possible way in order that the next issue may reach its readers, however, Mr. Ross, the manager, in an interview with a Tribune reporter at noon today stated that he is undecided as to the future. He said:

"The suddenness of the fire has left me dazed and undecided as to the future and for publication in The Tribune you can say I do not know. There will be some definite plan made today or tomorrow, but what they will be, I cannot say."

Memorial Day Program Fixed By Committee

Exercises at Auditorium to Commence at 10:30, With Parade Following.

Procession to Go to Cemetery; Graves of Soldiers Will Be Decorated.

The Memorial Day program for May 30th has been definitely arranged by a committee which has been at work for the past several days arranging the exercises at the Auditorium and the parade that will be formed immediately following for a march to the cemetery, where the graves of soldiers will be honored.

The exercises at the Auditorium are scheduled to commence promptly at 10:30 o'clock and will be presided over by Mayor John Bratrud. Miss Maude L. Johnson, music supervisor of the Thief River Falls public schools, will have charge of the musical program and several numbers will be rendered by the band which is being organized under the auspices of the Legion.

The program will take up about an hour's time and will be as follows:

Lloyd Ralston Is Instantly Killed in Gas Explosion

Fatal Accident at Middle River Yesterday Injures Two Other Workmen.

Both Legs Blown Off in Terrific Blast From Acetylene Welding Tank.

Lloyd Ralston, 28 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Ralston, local night patrolman, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, when an acetylene welding tank in the blacksmith shop and garage of C. Porteous at Middle River, a brother-in-law of young Ralston, by whom the latter was employed.

The welding apparatus had been lighted preparatory to making a weld, the tank being located just outside one of the doors. It had been in use at the shop for a period of several months and there had been no cause for suspicion of it from a standpoint of safety.

Young Ralston had just come from dinner ready to go to work when the blast came. The whole side of the wall was blown in and Ralston was thrown back several feet, mortally injured. John Sorum, a fellow workman, received severe lacerations of the leg, and another man whose name The Tribune could not learn up to the time of going to press, had three steel rivets blown clear through the lower part of his right leg. Both the latter will recover.

Medical aid for Ralston was rushed from Thief River Falls, but it was impossible to save his life owing to the extent of his injuries. His left eye was blown from its socket and he suffered other body wounds in addition to the fatal injuries already told of. He lived, however, two hours after the explosion.

Ralston had been employed at Middle River for the past two months and attended the public schools here. He was an ex-service man and a member of the American Legion. He was unmarried and is survived by his father, two sisters, Mrs. Porteous of Middle River, and Edith, who resides in this city. He is also survived by a brother, Robert, who resides at home.

The funeral will be held at Warren, the date of which has not yet been decided.

McAdams Dies Here.

I. A. McAdams of Roseau county died Sunday morning at 2 o'clock at the home of his brother, L. D. McAdams, 512 Horace avenue north, death being due to a hemorrhage.

Mr. McAdams arrived in this city Friday and was visiting at the home of his brother when the sudden death occurred. Survivors among immediate relatives are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angus McAdams of Pine City, and three brothers, P. J and James of International Falls and L. D. McAdams of this city. Two sisters, Mrs. A. P. Hanson of Litchfield, N. D., and Mrs. R. R. Whitney of Montevideo, also survive.

The funeral services will be held Friday in Pine City.

Baseball Gets Under Hide of Local Fanatics

Unable to Remain "Ball-less" For Season, Team Will Be Placed in Field.

Performers in Considerable Numbers Get Out For Practice Sunday.

Thief River Falls, although late, will get into the game with a baseball team!

And it won't be a joke team, either. Plenty of material is on hand and they are getting out at every possible chance, getting kinks out of their hurling arms and limbering-up for the "opener" to be played with St. Hilaire at Thief River Falls next Wednesday, Memorial Day.

Several new faces on the diamond so far as Thief River Falls is concerned are in the city and ready to play. There is Dalton, a local Soo Line dispatcher, who recently came here from North Dakota, who is reputed to be a player of considerable ability in both the catching and pitching departments of the game.

Orville Herron, who pitches some and plays baseball a lot, is said to be

Potato Growers of County Make Marketing Body

Meeting Held Monday Night at Commercial Club Rooms Elects Officers.

Plans to Go Forward Seeking to Bring Every Grower Into Organization.

A meeting of Pennington county potato growers was held last Monday night at the Commercial club rooms which was addressed by J. J. Dunton, secretary of the Minnesota Potato Exchange, who spoke at length to the growers present on the co-operative marketing plan for all farmers' products.

Senator C. L. Hansen presided at the meeting and expressed the purpose of the meeting, calling the attention of the farmers to the need for co-operative marketing of all farm products in the face of the present inadequate prices paid agriculturists for the things they grow. Mr. Hansen stated that the potato industry in Pennington county was secondary only to the dairy industry and for that reason required marketing protection.

Senator Hansen stated that it was the purpose of all business men to work hand in hand with the farmer and to lend his assistance to every movement calculated to be of benefit to the producer on the farm because it is only in the same measure of prosperity that the agriculturist enjoys that the business man prospers. It is an impossibility for the business man to show a profit where the farmer cannot show one at the end of the year. Mr. Hansen then introduced Mr. Dunton, who spoke in part as follows:

"The co-operative marketing plan is not altogether a new plan," he stated, "but merely one that has been improved upon by men who have made extensive study of the problem and are now offering it as a solution of the present unsatisfactory marketing facilities facing the farmers of the country. Like every other business that is highly organized and able to show a profit, farming must do the same. Steel, flour, clothing and machinery manufacturers have for years known its benefits and have conducted their businesses accordingly, and have reaped the benefits.

"The time has come for the farmer to do likewise and it is along that line that I have come to try to interest you. Potato growers in some parts of the country are already organized and are going along in fine shape, satisfied with the results already shown."

Mr. Dunton stated that only about 25 per cent of the growers in this state have organized, but that he believed that a sufficient number will become members of the association this year to make a showing when the 1923 crop is marketed.

Olaf Ramstad was elected to serve as president of the new Pennington county association; F. T. Satre, vice president; Senator C. L. Hansen, vice president; J. J. McCann, secretary and treasurer.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT AUDITORIUM FRIDAY EVENING; LARGE CLASS TO RECEIVE DEGREE

Fourth Year Students of Thief River Falls High Schools in Readiness For Exercises—Prof. J. S. Young to Deliver Main Address, and Splendid Program Is Arranged

The commencement exercises of the Thief River Falls high schools will be held Friday evening, at which time one of the largest classes in the history of the institution will be graduated and receive their diplomas.

I. T. Simley, superintendent of the city schools, will be chairman of the evening and the class will be introduced to the audience by M. P. Rapacz, high school principal. The exercises, as usual, will be held at the city Auditorium.

The school term just closing has been one of the most successful in the history of the local schools when more than 70 seniors will step down from the curriculum in high schools and enter civil life or go to the higher educational institutions. Many of the graduates expect to enter various universities of the country next fall, while others will "call it enough" and go to work. Still others plan on taking up specialized subjects in the mechanics and arts.

Following is the program at the Auditorium, which is scheduled to open promptly at 8 o'clock:

Trade Tourists of Two Towns Pay City Visit

St. Paul Men Monday and Minneapolitans Yesterday Give Us Once Over.

Band Concert By Jalma's Band and Novelty Stunts Entertain Crowds.

Trade tourists from the twin cities paid Thief River Falls a visit this week, the St. Paul crowd spending an hour here on Monday afternoon and Minneapolis business men laying over in the city last night. Each aggregation totalled in the neighborhood of 100 persons, 100 per cent boosters.

St. Paul business men arrived over the Great Northern at 4:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon and were met by a delegation of Thief River Falls business men up the line. The special train bearing them to the city was stopped at the foot of Third street and a St. Paul band led the procession to the corner of LaBree avenue and Third street, where varied forms of entertainment were put on at the band stand.

Mayor John Bratrud welcomed the visitors to the city and stated that Thief River Falls felt honored to be visited by the tourists. A response was made by Arthur E. Nelson, mayor of St. Paul, and Curtis M. Johnson, president of the state fair board. The president of the St. Paul association also made a short address. During the band concert members of the delegation called on various customers here and 5:30 o'clock departed for the south. It spent the night at Crookston.

The Minneapolis trade tourists arrived at 7:30 o'clock last night and spent the night here. Jalma's band presented a concert at Auditorium square, after which a program of speeches, songs, etc., was given at the Auditorium, attended by a large number of local citizens. Speakers were presented and gave short addresses, chiefly along the line of better co-operation between city and country. Among these was Thomas A. Van Lear, former mayor of Minneapolis, who gave a splendid address.

Immediately following the doings at the Auditorium, the Minneapolis tourists became guests of the Commercial club and a reception was tendered them at the Elks' club rooms. Snyder's orchestra furnished music for a dancing party.

Son of A. Wangenstein Dies at Fergus Hospital; Death Due to Brain Fever

Resident of Locality For Past Twenty Years Passes After Short Illness. Funeral Tomorrow.

Arthur B. Anderson, 31 years old, a son of A. Wangenstein, local jeweler, died Saturday at the Fergus Falls hospital, where he had been taken on May 11, suffering from mental derangement and despondency.

Mr. Anderson had lived in this section for the past 20 years and for the last four and one-half years had been engaged in farming in Silverton township, 4½ miles east of Thief River Falls along the Goodridge road.

Some time ago it was observed that the young man's mentality was failing him and, although quite rational at times, he showed that he was suffering from mental derangement and was taken to the Fergus Falls institution. He was taken ill with brain fever about ten days ago and succumbed Saturday. His father was with him when he died.

Deceased was born at Park River, N. D., and is survived by his wife and three small children, as follows: Alf, 4½ years old; Geneva three years old, and Glen, 1½ years old.

The body was brought to Thief River Falls on Monday and the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from Trinity Lutheran church, interment to be made in Greenwood cemetery.

CITIZENS TO JOIN IN BEAUTIFYING LOVERS' LANE PARK

Womans' Club Members Will Serve Lunch on Clean-up Day Monday, May 28

According to a request issued by the park board Monday, May 28, has been designated "Clean-up Day" in Lovers' Lane park. Citizens are asked to bring necessary tools and make an afternoon of it. In connection with this event and to assist in making it a real clean-up day the Womans' club will give a picnic at that time at the park and will serve lunch to the men who participate in the work of putting the park in order. Each club member will bring a basket containing a dozen sandwiches and a dozen of either doughnuts or rockets (cake rocks) and six cups.

The Womans' club is showing true civic spirit in all its movements and it is hoped that the men of the city and their organizations will be as ready to assist in the betterment of their town parks or camp grounds.

Lovers' Lane is the camping ground of the touristts who pass thru or stop at this city each summer and it is a matter that can not well be overlooked as a very unfavorable impression of the city may be gained by visitors coming into a city which does not take enough interest in its local environment to keep its parks presentable in appearance. The park board is very anxious that as many as possible participate in the work of making the park one that will be an asset to the town.

The members of the park board are Mrs. T. L. Melgaard, Mrs. W. A. Swedenburg, Emil Zeh, Math Barzen and N. J. Silk.

BOWEN TO PRESENT NEW ORGANIZATION PLAN FOR FARMERS

Popular Speaker Appears Here Tuesday, May 26. Will Discuss Farm Product Prices

A. E. Bowen will speak at Thief River Falls next Tuesday evening, May 29th, at 8 P. M. at the court room of the court house. He will present the new plan to organize the farmers for the purpose of ascertaining for themselves through their own organization, the cost of producing farm products.

The organization is non-political in character. Units of ten or more members will be established in each precinct and will report to the central office on cost of production of different crops. There the reports will be compiled and announcements made as to what the farmers think are fair prices for their products. The organization leaders and its members will then endeavor to bring the sale of the products at these prices, before they leave the farmers' hands.

Mr. Bowen has been holding meetings in southern Minnesota for the last month. His meetings have been unusually well attended and a great deal of interest has been manifested in the organization. Business men appear to be as much interested in the success of the Alliance as are the farmers themselves, in whose direct interest the movement was launched.

Only 3 Arrests In April

There were only three arrests in this city during April according to a report made to the city council by Chief Erickson. One of these was for disorderly conduct and the other two for drunkeness.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Langlie, of Plummer, were in the city Saturday attending to business matters here and shopping, also visiting with friends.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Soards-Plough.

A very pretty wedding took place Monday evening when Esther Loretta Soards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Soards, 307 Duluth avenue south, was united in marriage to Samuel Plough, Rev. M. J. Noesen of St. Bernard's church officiating. The bride was dressed in a three-piece suit of navy poiret twill with accessories to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas. The attendants were Mrs. Rex Beck of Harvey, N. D., sister of the bride, and William Sheedy, a cousin.

Immediately after the ceremony a splendid four-course lunch was served by the bride's parents at their home, with only immediate relatives present. The dining room was prettily decorated in pink and white. A huge three-layer wedding cake made a beautiful center piece. The reception room was banked with potted plants and cut flowers.

The bride is well known in this community, having made this city her home for a number of years, and she is a graduate of the local high school with the class of '21. Mr. Plough is also well known here, having been in the barber business here for the past two years. The young couple left for Winnipeg, where they will spend their honeymoon. They have a host of friends who extend congratulations and best wishes.

Anderson, his wife, mortgagors, to Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls, a Minnesota corporation, mortgagee, dated March 28, 1917, and, with the power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, in Book 12 of Mortgages on page 370, on the 29th day of March, 1917, at 1 o'clock P. M., and which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls to Minneapolis Trust Company as Trustee under the last will and testament of Platt W. Lyon, Deceased, by written assignment dated November 24th, 1917, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on December 6, 1917, at 3 o'clock P. M., in Book 56 of Mortgages, on page 485; and which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was further duly assigned by Minneapolis Trust Company, as Trustee under the last will and testament of Platt W. Lyon, Deceased, to Minneapolis Trust Company, by written assignment dated April 6, 1923, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on April 7, 1923, at 2 o'clock P. M. in Book 75 of Mortgages, on page 324.

NOW THEREFORE Notice is hereby given that the amount which is claimed to be due, and is due, at the date of this notice upon said mortgage is in principal and interest the sum of Two Thousand Seven Hundred Ninety Seven and 45-100 Dollars ($2,797.45), and that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by the sale of the following described mortgaged premises, to-wit: The Southwest Quarter (SW¼) of Section Sixteen (16) in Township One Hundred Fifty-three (153), North of Range Thirty-nine (39), West of the Fifth Principal Meridian, containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the Government survey thereof, in the County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Pennington County, at the front door of the Court House in Thief River Falls, in said County and State, on the 10th day of July, 1923, at ten o'clock A. M. of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay and satisfy the amount that will then be due on said mortgage and the indebtedness secured thereby, together with the taxes so paid on said mortgaged premises which are in the aggregate sum of One Hundred Seventy Two and 40-100 Dollars ($172.40), together with the costs and charges of said foreclosure and Seventy-five dollars ($75.00) attorneys' fees, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of the sale, as provided by law.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

TAKE NOTICE, That default has occurred and exists in the condition of that certain mortgage made, executed and delivered to George Fink, as mortgagee, by Chas. N. Reese and Frances Reese, husband and wife, and F. G. Reese and Bessie E. Reese, husband and wife, mortgagors, dated March 1st, 1920, duly filed and recorded on March 30, 1920, at 1:15 o'clock P. M. in Book 62 of Mortgages at page 479 thereof, in the office of the register of deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota. The amount claimed to be due and which is actually due on said mortgage at the date hereof is the sum of ten thousand seven-hundred six and 80 100ths ($10,706.80) dollars. The mortgaged premises are described as follows: The south half of the southeast quarter (S½ SE¼) of section ten (10) and the west half of the south west quarter (W½ SW¼) of section eleven (11) and the northwest quarter (NW¼) of section fourteen (14), all in township one-hundred fifty-two (152), north of range forty-five (45), west of the Fifth Principal Meridian, according to the United States Government survey thereof, and containing 320 acres of land more or less, in Pennington County, Minnesota.

That by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and agreeable to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said premises at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, which sale will be made by the sheriff of Pennington County Minnesota, on Saturday, the 16th day of June, 1923, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the court house in the city of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, to satisfy said amount then due thereon, taxes paid, if any, two-thousand dollars attorneys' fees, together with the disbursements of these foreclosure proceedings.

Dated May 1st, 1923.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That default has been made in the conditions of that certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by F. D. Beard, a single man, Mortgagor, to Ida Lower and Ida Lower as Guardian, Mortgagee, bearing date the 1st day of March, 1920, with power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, on the 5th day of April, 1920 at 2:30 o'clock P. M., in Book Thirteen (13) of Mortgages, on page 588, which default has continued to the day of this notice, by the failure and neglect of said Mortgagor to make payment of the coupon interest note amounting to Three Hundred and Sixty Six Dollars ($366.00), which became due and payable on the first day of March, 1923, by said mortgage secured.

AND WHEREAS, The said Mortgage and holder of said mortgage has elected and hereby does elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage, and the power of sale therein contained; and whereas, there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum of Six Thousand Four Hundred Sixty Six Dollars ($6466.00), with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the first of March, 1923; and whereas the power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof:

NOW, THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described and conveyed by said mortgage, to-wit: the South one-half, S½, of section twelve (12) in Township One Hundred fifty three (153) North, of range forty-five (45) West of the fifth principal meridian, in Minnesota, containing Three Hundred and twenty acres (320) of land, more or less, according to the United States Government survey thereof and situated in Pennington County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Pennington County, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Thief River Falls in said County and State, on 7th day of July, 1923, at ten o'clock A. M. of that day at Public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Six Thousand Four Hundred Sixty Six Dollars ($6466.00) and interest and taxes, if any, on said premises, and One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), Attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated May 22nd, A. D., 1923.

Florence Haney Passes Away After Long Illness

The many friends of Florence Olive Haney, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Haney, will be grieved to hear of her death, which occurred Monday, May 21, after a prolonged illness of tuberculosis, at the Oakland Park Sanatorium.

Florence was born in Madison, this state, November 27, 1904. The family moved to this city in 1912, where they have resided up to the present time. She received practically all of her schooling in the public schools of this city and had completed her third year of high school training. She gained the reputation of being a good student. Because of failing health her studies were discontinued and she entered the Sanatorium for treatment about a year ago. Her condition varied from time to time and high hopes were held for her recovery. She had a very engaging personality and was well liked by all who knew her. The loss is keenly felt throughout the community.

She leaves to mourn her death besides her father and mother, two sisters, Dorothy and Ardith, and three brothers, Morris, Robert and Thomas. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 at the Haney home and at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Chas. Gerlinger will officiate.

Baseball Gets Under Hide of Local Fans

ready to go and will be groomed by the management as a pitcher. Herron played on the team last year, when this city was "full-fledged" in the short-lived Red River Valley league. Walter Jonas is another of the war horses that can do honor to most any kind of a team at the third station. He has been out for practice and looks as good as ever. Harry Prugh is another of the veterans and he probably will be tried out at first. Although short physically, Prugh can extend himself in most any position.

Martin Brudie will play second and will be supported by none other than Roy Brown at shortstop, fighting, slugging and hard-playing performer on most any kind of a team that ever journeyed out of the confines of this city. Brown is well known to local fans and will be out for practice. Guy Lane is another that has been seen out in uniform and will be ready when called on. Sidney Schutt played last year and will again this season, he says.

A new addition to the string of available material is Chas. Simpson, who conducts a shine parlor at the Cosgrove pool hall, who is said to be a baseball performer of great ability, having played with the famous Tennessee Rats, best known colored baseball team in the country. Many would say that anybody who ever had the honor of picking up bats for the famous Tennessee aggregation would be good enough to play on Thief River Falls club from a strictly playing standpoint.

Gordon LaBree and Dennis McGinn will be back again when their school terms expire and will be well received. Both are players of known ability.

Finance of the new aggregation is causing some concern to the management, but it has been decided that there will be no public donations asked for in order to support the team. Rather, it is planned that season tickets be sold at a price of about $3 each and in the event a goodly number can be sold, there will be money enough, in addition to what can be taken in at the gate. As other plans mature, they will be announced in The Tribune.

Darby Anderson is the manager of the baseball playing aggregation and has charge of all the arrangements for getting the team under way. He is leading every effort to make the club a success and deserves the support of every baseball-loving fan in Thief River Falls.

Council Orders Paving of Postoffice Alley at Meeting

Session of City Dads at Auditorium Last Night Is Short and Snappy Affair.

The session of the city council last night was short and snappy and adjournment was taken in less than half an hour after the roll call, which showed all aldermen present except Brandon.

Three resolutions were read and passed upon favorably. The first was that authorizing the pavement of the alley in block 36, commonly known as the postoffice alley. The second resolution authorized the appointment of B. F. Umland as engineer in charge of this work. The third resolution was one ordering in a sidewalk on the south side of Sixth street between LaBree and Knight avenues.

The only other business transacted was the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the allowance of the regular accumulation of bills, following which adjournment was taken for one week, at which time the matter of buying the dam will be up for consideration.

Use Caution, But Not Timidity

Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, gives sound advice in summing up the manner in which we should hold onto prosperity. The most encouraging note in his remarks of course lies in the fact that so astute an [illegible] should state without qualification that prosperity [illegible] us, that it can be preserved, and that the existing business conditions are not in any sense comparable with the wasteful boom conditions of 1920.

Secretary Hoover calls for caution, for confidence, for courage, and marks emphatically the difference between caution and timidity.

This is a warning that might well be taken to heart by every local merchant in the land. Caution means sound buying and courage demands a realization that goods can be marketed.

He points out that efficiency in production has increased from 10 to 15 per cent per capita since the period immediately preceding the war. Mathematically it means that America could supply each person the same amount of commodities consumed ten years ago and yet lay off 2,000,000 people from work. The answer is greater consumption which in turn means that the selling efficiency must be brought [illegible] up to the standard of [illegible] productivity [illegible] and progressive merchant has sound prosperity [illegible]

President Coffman of State University Will Address Public Meeting

Comes Here in Interests of Campaign to Raise Funds for Erection of Auditorium and Stadium.

President Lotus D. Coffman, president of the Minnesota state university, will speak at the noon-day luncheon of the Commercial club Friday, which was postponed from Thursday in order to afford members an opportunity to hear the distinguished speaker. The University president will be accompanied by Coach Spaulding and Athletic Director Luhring, who come here in the interests of the campaign to raise $2,000,000 for the construction of an auditorium and stadium at the university.

Of the $2,000,000 fund, $1,500,000 already has been raised in the three larger cities of the state, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, the remainder to be subscribed by the rural communities of Minnesota. No effort will be made to raise funds at the meeting but the needs of the university with respect to a larger stadium and auditorium facilities will be discussed.

H. O. Chommie, local attorney, has been selected to head the drive for funds in this section and plans will soon be put under way to put the drive into effect. It is especially requested that university alumni and graduates of the agricultural college attend the meeting Friday and as many others of the business men and citizens of the city as possible.

Draws Additional 30-Day Sentence For Driving Car While in Intoxicated Condition.

Grant Gulrud was up twice yesterday before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court, first on a city charge and later on a state warrant, drawing severe penalties each time.

About four o'clock Tuesday morning the defendant, it is said, was found by Night Patrolman Ralston at the corner of Fourth street and Main avenue in an intoxicated condition and creating altogether too much disturbance for that hour of the night. Mr. Ralston in attempting to arrest young Gulrud met with considerable abue and when appearing in court with the young man, exhibited a badly bruised nose. City Attorney H. O. Chommie prosecuted Mr. Gulrud on a charge of creating a nuisance and resisting an officer and the result was a $25 fine, which was paid forthwith.

On being released Mr. Gulrud was rearrested on a complaint charging him with driving a car while intoxicated, the warrant having been issued on complaint of County Attorney Theo. Quale. The defendant pleaded guilty to this charge also and Judge Tarrant imposed a thirty-day jail sentence on him, suspending it, however, on condition that the young man refrain from driving his car for the next month. Failure to abide by this command will mean rearrest and the serving of the full thirty days.

St. Paul Mayor May Be July 4th Speaker Here

Promises Local Men That He in All Probability Will Fill Engagement With Legion.

Arthur E. Nelson, mayor of St. Paul, who was here Monday afternoon with the St. Paul business men's trade tour, and who spoke from the bandstand at the corner of Third street and LaBree avenue, promised a committee consisting of G. Howard Smith and S. V. Arneson, acting on the part of the Legion, that in all likelihood he would accept the invitation extended by them to make an address here on July 4th, at which time the local post of the American Legion is planning to hold a large celebration on two and perhaps three days.

Mr. Nelson stated that he would be glad to come here to make the national holiday address and that unless pressing business matters kept him away, he would come here to "spend the Fourth."

HENRY FORD'S FORTUNE.

The filing of the annual statement of the Ford Motor Company last week is another revelation of the 20th century achievement. Mr. Ford and his only son own the whole of the capital stock of the company. Their net profits last year were $119,000,000. The cash holdings of the company deposited in various banks amounted on Feb. 28 to over $150,000,000. The two men together are believed to be the richest men in the world, and are certainly in enjoyment of the largest individual income possessed by any capitalist of today.

Amazing as it is that so colossal a fortune should have been accumulated in the space of twenty years, for twenty years ago Ford was a bookkeeper on a slender salary, it is, perhaps, even more astonishing that its accumulation should have been accompanied by so little public hostility.

Even labor, organized labor, ordinarily so tenacious of its privileges, is virtually quiescent in contemplation of the Ford success. More than any one man or group of men, he has made Detroit a nonunion city, but in doing it he led the way in paying high wages, and making high wages pay him. But for all his refusal to recognize union labor in his shops, we find no outcry against his product raised by the spokesmen of union labor, and his cars are owned and driven generally by men who hold union cards.

It cannot be said that Mr. Ford has purchased his immunity from hostile criticism by lavish deeds of charity. He is no philanthropist, nor has he sought to use ostentatious philanthropy as a bribe to public opinion. A great hospital in Detroit bears his name and it is perhaps the one monument to his public benefactions. What his private charities may be no one knows. And yet it may well be questioned whether he has not contributed more to human welfare and happiness, and will not in future contribute more than any philanthropist, by his policy of extending the opportunities for employment and making the conditions of production make it impossible for him to let it be either pleasant or interesting. For this he is praised by the working people and denounced by employers who hold other views.

He is demonstrating to those who study social phenomena intelligently that the mere accumulation of money is not in itself a menace to society, or a crime against social organization. It is the method by which it is accumulated and the use to which it is put that provokes natural resentment, when either is hostile to the public welfare. Mr. Ford has had no special privileges granted to him by law in which others might not share, upon which to build his enormous edifice of wealth.

The SAFETY TEST

The above drawing is from an actual photograph made while the stove was burning. No other gasoline or oil stove can stand this test.

MAKE YOUR OWN GAS FOR COOKING

American Gasoline Gas Stoves make their own gas from gasoline and produce a clear blue flame entirely Free From Smoke, Soot and Odor. They save many hours every week because they give from fifty to one hundred per cent more heat than any type of oil stove.

The first burner when generated, requiring about one minute, makes the gas for the other burners which may be turned on or off like a gas stove. American stoves have no wicks, no "chimneys" to waste heat by radiation, the burners cannot clog and never require cleaning.

Let the Farmer Watch His Step

The announcement of the Federal Farm Loan Board that $12,000,000 is now available for farm loans under the new agricultural credit law, and at interest which while high is heavenly compared with existing rates, will put heart into many a man who for years has been struggling under the burden of financial oppression; but it is hoped the tempting bait will not be swallowed to the point of saturation.

The new system will have the effect of reducing interest charges in some states from 10 per cent, to 7 per cent, or perhaps less. This sounds as cymbals heralding approach to the promised land, but it should not be forgotten that in many states interest on private loans in excess of six per cent is considered usury, and the lenders are punishable under the statutes. However, there appears to be one law for the commercial business man and another for the farmer.

The law has inferentially acknowledged that commercial money cannot thrive on a seven per cent interest rate, and while the relief of the farmer will be appreciated, it will be found mighty hard scraping for the farmer to get adequate reward for his labor at this lowered rate. Danger lies in the likelihood that the farmer, so long used to extortion, will over-borrow at the new rate, and will be disposed to seek temporary ease in finance, not realizing that the mills of Wall Street, like the mills of the gods, grind slowly but they grind exceeding small and that the day of settlement is as certain as the day of judgment. The farmer may obtain money at 5½ per cent when borrowing through a cooperative marketing association, but here again the overhead steps in and the additional charges foot up to a sum that still must make the tiller of the soil bend to the burden.

Celebrate Birthdays.

At present no other changes in the administration have been made.

To Give Piano Recital at High School May 31

The pupils of Mrs. C. O. Erickson, local pianist and teacher, will be heard in two recitals May 31 at the high school auditorium, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. Mrs. Erickson has a class of 65 pupils and is doing more than her share in developing local talent. She has planned several other recitals to be given at later dates. This will give the public an opportunity of hearing some fine musical numbers. Recitals given by Mrs. Erickson in the past have been well attended and it is her wish that those interested will take advantage of this opportunity.

GUERNSEY BREEDERS OFFER SIXTY HEAD AT SALE JUNE 8th

Dairymen From All Parts Of Red River Valley Expected Here at Annual Sale

Exceptional List of Splendid Animals To Be Sold At Fair Ground Pavilion

One of the most important events of its kind in this section this year will be the annual consignment sale of the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association which is scheduled to take place at the sales pavilion at the fair grounds in this city next Wednesday, June 6. It is expected that a large number of buyers and other interested persons thruout the valley will be present at that time.

Sixty head of Guernsey cattle will be sold at this public auction, including ten pure bred bulls, five pure bred and forty high grade cows and heifers which are pledged to absolute sale to the highest bidder. These animals have been selected by a committee of three Guernsey breeders and are all from state and federal accredited herds. The cows selected will be fresh just prior to or shortly before the date of the sale. A number of splendid heifer calves suitable for boys' and girls' club work are also listed. All the animals are guaranteed to be exactly as represented by the owners.

The purebred sires listed for sale are of the finest type among the herds in this section and of good breeding, ranging in age from eight to eighteen months at the time of the sale. Two of them are sired by a grand champion of two State fairs and an advanced register sire, out of advanced registered cows with records made under ordinary farm conditions of about 500 pounds butterfat or over. Another is sired by a son of Lady Smith's Cherub, three times National grand champion and one of the greatest production transmitting sires of the breed, out of a cow with over 700 pounds fat record. Three others are sired by a son of Robert's Criterion, who was second prize bull at the 1916 National Dairy Show and has daughters with a record of over 800 pounds of butterfat.

Among the cows pledged for the sale so far is one which has an A. R. record made with two milkings daily under very ordinary farm conditions, as an immature cow of 458 pounds of fat and dropping two good calves during the year.

Another five year old cow, that now is on official test, was a first prize winner in the three year old class at the North Dakota State Fair in 1921 and was fourth prize winner at the Minnesota State Fair the same year. Her dam is an A. R. cow and has been Grand Champion at several fairs. She was second prize aged cow at the Minnesota State Fair in 1921, being defeated for first place by the cow MaChere Procris that became the National Grand Champion the same year.

The group of yearling heifers contains some very good show animals out of A. R. cows, sired by a bull that has been grand champion at several fairs and shows. The grade cows and heifers are also of select stock.

Last year 33 head of Guernseys were sold at the annual sale for which was paid a total of $4,252.50. Of this sum the purebreds represented $2520 and the grades $1732.50. This year nearly twice as many cattle have been consigned.

The Guernsey breeders who have consigned stock for the sale Wednesday are: Paul Engelstad, Peter Engelstad, F. B. Conklin, H. C. Woolson and W. J. Janda, Thief River Falls; C. T. Thompson, Elmer Peterson, O. N. Urdahl and Stuart McLeod, Goodridge; Henry Koop, St. Hilaire; L. Jensen, Clearbrook; L. M. Lindfors, Fosston; F. A. Uggen, McIntosh; C. L. Sulerud and J. C. Sulerud, Halstad; Clarence Holte, Shelly.

Officers of the association are: Stuart McLeod, Goodridge, president; L. Jensen, Clearbrook, vice president; Leonard Houske, Halstad, secretary; F. B. Conklin, Thief River Falls, treasurer. The sale committee is composed of H. C. Woolson, Stuart McLeod and Paul Engelstad. These officials have been working hard to secure sufficient entries to make the sale attractive to the prospective buyer and make it the success it merits.

The sale will be in charge of the sales committee and W. J. LaBree will officiate as auctioneer. It is scheduled to start promptly at 10 o'clock.

Son of Former Thief River Pastor Elopes With Follies Beauty

The following item concerning a son of Rev. O. J. Kvale, formerly pastor in this city, appeared in the Crookston Times Monday:

Alfred J. Kvale, 22, son of Rev. O. J. Kvale, of Benson, Minn., who won his seat in congress by defeating Andrew J. Volstead, eloped to Crown Point, Ind., and married Miss Ethel Virginia "Billie" Stanfield, former Ziegfeld Follies beauty and daughter of a wealthy contractor of Pikesville, a suburb of Baltimore.

Young Kvale plays a saxaphone in a Chicago cabaret. Congressman Kvale, in Chicago to attend the railway valuation conference, bestowed the parental blessing.

Attends Annual Meet Picture Theatre Owners

John H. Brumund of the Lyceum theater is in Chicago this week having attended the national convention of the Motion Picture Owners of America which convened in that city last week, beginning Monday, May 21, and closing Saturday. At the convention held in Minneapolis in April Mr. Brumund was regularly elected an alternate to represent the organization in this state, which is a distinct recognition of standing which he holds among the theatre owners of Minnesota. Mr. Brumund left by special train which was arranged for the delegates at Minneapolis.

A purpose of the convention is to discuss means of securing better pictures and at more nominal prices, pictures being very high priced at the present time. It is also an object of the organization to make arrangements for co-operating with the National Educational Bureau, Agricultural Bureau and various others to distribute pictures of highly educational values.

During his sojourn to Chicago Mr. Brumund expects to make arrangements for the showing of a number of first class, big pictures, which he will book for the summer season. Mr. Brumund in a statement last week said, "People want good pictures and I am going to get them." He is expected to return the latter part of the week.

MYRTLE HELGELAND WINS HIGH HONORS IN BREAD MAKING

Many Pennington County Club Workers Attend State Fair. Two Hundred Enrolled

More than 900 boys and girls will participate in the children's club work at the Minnesota State Fair, September 1 to 8, according to T. A. Erickson, state club leader and superintendent of the department.

J. J. McCann, county agent, who is in charge of club work in this community, states that about two hundred boys and girls are enrolled in club work in Pennington county this year. These are distributed in the calf, sheep, pig, poultry and breadmaking divisions.

These young club workers will exhibit at the county fair here August 1, 2 and 3 to determine who shall get the free trip to the state fair in September and take part in the state contests. The exhibition will not be judged according to the specimens alone but will also depend on the records kept by the exhibitor and the accompanying story giving a summary of how the calf, pig, sheep or grain was raised.

It is expected that about fifteen club workers from [illegible] will go to the twin cities to attend the state fair and the livestock show at South St. Paul. Lawrence Letnes of Thief River Falls and Vergil Denhart of St. Hilaire, who won high honors for their work last year, will take part in the boys' summer camp during the fair week.

A breadmaking contest was held at the high school last Saturday, the winner of which was Myrtle Helgeland of this city, who will be given a free trip to the state fair for the second time. She represented the Pennington County club last year also. Second place in the contest was won by Ausof Dahlen. Miss Schenck of the Northwest School of Agriculture officiated as judge.

This year the state fair is offering $19,075.00 in cash, special prizes and trips to the exposition, to boys and girls who have won honors in club work in Minnesota. This is the largest sum ever offered by any fair in the world for this kind of work. It includes an appropriation of $4,000.00 for the farm boys' camp.

The potato club show will be a new feature. Cash premiums totaling $150.00 will be distributed for the best displays of potatoes of the leading varieties. The pig club, dairy calf club, acre-yield corn club, potato club, canning club and garment making club exhibits will be leading features.

Demonstrations of club work of all kinds approved for Minnesota will be conducted each day in the boys' and girls' club work building. The champion demonstration team of the fair will be given a free trip to the Interstate fair at Sioux City, Ia., where teams from a dozen middle western states will compete for the regional championship.

A special premium list telling all about the prizes offered by the coming fair may be obtained from the county agents of the state or T. A. Erickson, University Farm, St. Paul.

COUNTY SECURES $90,000 OF STATE MONEY FOR ROADS

Issuance of Bonds Makes Possible Completion Of Highways In County

Warren Man Given Contract for Highlanding Road Amounting To $1,546.68

At a meeting of the Pennington county board held at the court house May 18 and 19, the commissioners or*dered the issuance of $90,000 Pennington*, county bonds, the sale of which will go to defray the cost of completed the old Jefferson highway into Thief River Falls, now better known as Trunkh Highway No. 32.

The bonds are issued under the provisions of chapter 330, laws of 1923, passed at the last session of the Minnesota legislature, which permitted county boards to issue up to $250,000 county road bonds without a referendum vote where the funds go to defray the cost of completing designated trunk highways.

The bond issue now assures the completion of the old Jefferson highway into this city, which has been going without repair for a long period awaiting the time when the road would be completed under the Babcock plan. It has been in a bad state of repair for some time.

The new road will enter the city on a line with the sanitarium road and will lie wholly on the east side of the Great Northern right-of-way. It will be straightened and many of the curves taken from the road and, it is understood, will have but three curves in the entire distance from St. Hilaire and will cross the Great Northern tracks but once.

The course of the road after reaching the city limits has not yet been determined, according to County Auditor Anderson, there being several routes under consideration and the board will be guided by the best possible method. The present bridge at the sanitarium has been condemned by road officials as spring waters have washed away bridge moorings and caused disastrous caveins to the structure and concrete work. A new railing has been placed on the bridge, which will not allow two vehicles to pass over at the same time.

The bonds are to bear 5¼ per cent interest, payable semi-annually, and to mature in from 10 to 20 years.

The contract for the completion of the state highway running north and south from Highlanding to Goodridge was also awarded, the contract having been let to Contractor Landen of Warren. The road contract calls for an expenditure of $14,546.68, and will complete the road from a distance two miles south of Goodridge down to Highlanding, at the river, and for two miles on the south side of the bridge into Deer Park township. It is expected construction on the latter project will commence at once.

Progress Staff Quits Publication Of Page During Summer

As a result of the fire last week's issue was necessarily small and it was not possible to publish the Progress then. It was the last issue submitted by the class of journalism at the high school this year. The Progress page will be continued at the opening of school next year, a staff having been selected from the members of this year's class to have charge of the publication.

The staff in an editorial last week bids the readers of their page a fond adieu for the summer months:

"This is the last issue of the "Progress" for the year of 1922-23. The Journalism and Public Speaking class has published the "Progress" the entire year, with the exception of the last three issues which were put out by next year's staff, and they should receive the credit due them for their work.

"There has been a very marked improvement in the school paper this year which has advanced from a few columns of news items to a page with headlines and the aspect of a real paper. This was not done without work on the part of the staff but they willingly put their best efforts into it and made the "Progress" what it now is. We do not deny that there is still room for improvement, but we do believe that the paper this year has been far superior to that of any previous year.

"We, of next year's staff, will, to the best of our ability, carry on the good work started by the 1922-23 staff, and if possible, profiting by their experience, will try to put out a paper equally good. We sincerely wish to thank Miss MacNair for the time and energy she has spent this spring in helping to prepare us for next year, and likewise Ole Helle, this year's editor, without whose assistance it would have been difficult for us to publish these last three issues."

Plummer Creamery Report

During the month of April the Plummer Co-operative Creamery association paid to its patrons $8,246.51, according to recent report by the secretary of the association. An average price of 44 cents per pound was paid for butterfat during the month.

WOMAN'S CLUB HAS BEEN VERY ACTIVE DURING PAST YEAR

Annual Report of Secretary Discloses a Successful Season For Club

Mrs. P. W. Mabey Elected To Head Organization During the Ensuing Year

The annual election of officers of the Womans Club in this city was held Monday, May 14. Three of the officers retired and an addition of a second vice president was made to the usual staff. The past year has been one of the big years of the club, and much credit is due to the officers who have been in charge of the organization.

The officers for the ensuing year will be Mrs. P. W. Mabey, president (who was secretary the past year), Mrs. J. N. Nesse, vice president; Mrs. O. G. Storholm, second vice president; Mrs. Daniel Shaw, secretary; and Mrs. A. M. Heggan, treasurer. Those retiring from the staff are Mrs. Beatrice Helber, Mrs. T. L. Melgaard, and Mrs. J. Provencher.

Those who served on the program committee the past year are Mesdames Randolph Arnold, Pearl Mabey, T. L. Melgaard, and J. Provencher and those who composed the executive board, which is appointed by the president each year are Mesdames N. K. Harris, C. E. Glines, Randolph Arnold, I. T. Simley and W. J. LaBree.

The members of these departments for the ensuing year have not been named at this writing.

The womans club which was organized in 1914, in its nine years of activity in Thief River Falls, has grown to be one of the most influential organizations of the city. Each year it has brought to the city speakers from other points, who are eminent in their fields, to discuss topics that are not only timely, but that have meant a great deal to the development of the community.

Perhaps one of the big factors contributary to the success of the club and the effectiveness of its efforts, is the careful and minute planning and organizing of each event and the thoughtful arrangement of the entire season's work.

The past year fifteen meetings have been held and a sixteenth will be held Monday, May 28, which will take the form of a picnic. The club year ended with the last meeting but members were in favor of a Woman's Club picnic and as there were no objections raised the event was booked.

Mrs. J. E. Rounds, president of the state federation of womens clubs, spoke on club work at the meeting held October 30.

The past presidents of the club entertained on January 22 and Miss Anne Simley of Crookston was present and favored the members with a reading.

The evening of February 10 the club had the district president, Mrs. C. G. Selvig, with them. The club had as guest that evening the members of the Community Girls club.

T. M. McCall of the Northwest School of Agriculture gave a highly instructive lecture of lawn and garden architecture and the care of the trees, shrubs and plants, on April 30.

The Style show held April 2nd created the most interest and was heralded as the big event of the season, and which designation it rightfully deserved. The show consisted of a display of garments worn at different periods from the early part of the 19th century to the present day. Each of the various decades were represented by the garment most prevalent at that time and one which most nearly represented the trend of style of that period.

Criticism of the modern garment and of the downward grade of expression in wearing apparel, which was considered, and undoubtedly was unjust, was the cause of the style show, and a desire to prove to the public the folly of such argument was the motive. Styles were dipicted and prophesized for the year 1940, twenty years hence, and all who saw the garments avowed a desire for the fulfillment of the prophesy. In connection with this event Mrs. T. L. Melgaard deserves a large amount of credit as it was largely thru her efforts that the review materialized.

Another feature of the year were the luncheons held at the meetings and the various hostesses are due much credit for the smooth adaptation of the service. Each member paid 15 cents for the lunch, which sum was turned over to the social welfare committee. The club had also as guests at a supper at the club rooms the members of the Commercial Club the evening on which the club decided definitely to push the winter show event.

Deserving special mention are those composing the music committee for the season who are Mrs. G. Halvorson, Mrs. N. K. Harris and Mrs. Lucile Johnson. Many splendid numbers were rendered by members of the committee and also many programs were given by various glee clubs and talented individuals which were possible only by the efforts of the committee.

Including gifts of money made by the club the past year are $50 presented to the Y. M. C. A., $30 given to the Girls Community club, and $5 to the Salvation Army. Besides this much help and service was given to needy individuals and to charity by the Social Welfare section of the club.

Dr. Ott Will Conduct Clinic Here June 1st

A clinic for children in Pennington county will be conducted in the auditorium in Thief River Falls on Friday, June 1, under the auspices of the State Board of Health and the Minnesota Public Health association. Dr. M. D. Ott, specialist in children's diseases, who is connected with the health board and the association will conduct the clinic assisted by Miss Alexander, a nurse, and a committee from the Woman's club. The club is doing a great deal in making this as worth while as possible.

Dr. Ott will advise each mother as to the condition of her child, suggest diet, make diagnosis and leave the choice of attending physician to the child's parents. Miss Alexander will demonstrate in infant feeding. The state department realizes that many defects of children are caused by malnutrition. Children of school age will be examined if accompanied by their parents. There is absolutely no charge. All examinations are free and by having an examination made now, may prevent future trouble and expense. This clinic is made possible through the sale of Red Cross seals.

Parents should make appointments as early as possible, the clinic to be conducted thruout the day.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop, thru whom the information regarding the clinic was received, is a director of the state board of health.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TO ENTERTAIN MANY ELKS AT ROUND-UP

June 15 is Date Set For Big Gathering—Majority of 500 Members Expected Here

When the Elks give a party—and particularly anything in the nature of an annual get-together party—the event is one which usually attracts more than ordinary attention. This is particularly the case when the party is the first of its kind for a long time. The Elks, like all other organizations in this part of the country, have been laying low for a couple of years and have attempted very little in the way of expansion. As a proof of their faith in the return of prosperity the lodge is now going ahead in its usual energetic manner after new members and this party on June 15 will be in the nature of an inauguration event for new activities.

Special effort is to be made to get the out-of-town members to come to Thief River Falls that night. Automobile excursions will be run from Baudette, Warroad and the towns to the north on the Soo line and Great Northern, and south as far as Mahnomen on the Soo. It is expected that a large part of the 500 members of the lodge will be present.

Chairman Roy Brown, in charge of the general arrangements, says that a big supper is planned at the auditorium at 6:30 o'clock in the evening, this to be followed by a parade. The initiation ceremony will be held at the auditorium and a lunch will be served at midnight. A particularly interesting program has been arranged to follow the initiation ceremony proper in which noted outside entertainers will assist home talent in keeping the crowd interested. Nothing is to be left undone that will in any way add to the interest in the proceedings, the committee having orders to go as far as they like in this regard.

The party is given particularly for out-of-town members. It is realized that these do not often have an opportunity to join with the city members in a general jollification and special efforts will therefore be made to see that they have a good time.

Old Settler Dies

Mrs. Ellie Lillegaard, aged 92, a resident of this community since the early days, passed away Wednesday, May 23, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nels Rhodegaard, east of the city. Her death was caused by pneumonia and infirmities of old age. Mrs. Lillegaard was born at Tunhovd, Norway, July 28, 1831, and came to this country with her husband forty years ago, settling at Beloit, Wis. Two years later they moved to a farm near Thief River Falls and had resided there ever since. Her husband, O. E. Lillegaard, died three years ago and since that time Mrs. Lillegaard had lived with her daughter, Mrs. Rhodegard. Funeral services were held from the Norden church Saturday afternoon, Rev. George Larson officiating.

Citizenship Hearing Postponed

The hearing of applicants for citizenship scheduled to be held in Thief River Falls on July 26 has been postponed until September 24, according to announcement made by Adolf Eklund, clerk of court. Those who wish to become citizens of the United States may file their petitions for such hearing until June 25. Only two applicants have filed their applications to date. They are Rev. Bot Nyborg of this city, native of Norway, and Arne E. Vik of St. Hilaire, also a native of Norway.

CONTRACTOR STARTS WORK OF REPAIRING BUILDING FOR TIMES

C. M. Carlson Has Crew of Men Clearing Away Wreckage of Meehan Block

Insurance Adjustments Completed and M. C. Burns Lets Contract At Once

Insurance adjustments on the various properties which were damaged in the fire that wrecked a part of the Meehan block and The Times office last Tuesday night were completed on Tuesday of this week and a crew of men is already at work clearing away the wreckage and repairing the building.

M. C. Burns, agent for the owners of the building, was notified by wire to make the necessary repairs at once and the contract has already been awarded to C. M. Carlson. The part of the building destroyed will be rebuilt at once and Mr. Burns states that it will be remodeled from top to bottom. The part of the building occupied by The Times will be so constructed as to provide the best possible quarters for a printing establishment and it will be modern in every particular.

The machinery and equipment of The Times is now being moved to the building of The Prichard Company at the corner of Horace avenue and Second street where it will be thoroughly gone over by experienced mechanics and the items that are not damaged beyond repair will be rebuilt. Everything will be rushed in every way possible with the aim of being re-established at the old quarters within a month.

This week's issue of The Times is printed at the office of the Warren Sheaf and this arrangement will be continued until it can again be printed at the company's plant in Thief River Falls. Temporary business offices will be maintained at the Harlow building on LaBree avenue.

University Band Concert June 1

The North Dakota University band will appear in Thief River Falls Friday evening, June 1, in an open air concert at the corner of Fourth street and LaBree avenue, the concert to begin at 7 o'clock. The troupe consists of 25 select musicians chosen from a band of fifty members. No admission will be charged but tags will be sold to defray the expenses of the trip.

W. C. T. U. MEMBERS CONVENE IN CITY AT DISTRICT MEET

Many Delegates From Entire Northwest Attending Convention Today and Friday

The thirty-fifth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the fourteenth district, comprising counties of Northern Minnesota, is being held in Thief River Falls this week. The session opened today at the Presbyterian church and will close tomorrow, Friday, evening.

The convention today was attended by a large number of out of town people, many of whom are prominent in their respective communities as social welfare workers. The local committees which have made the preparations for the affair have spared no means in making the convention a success. It is not only instructive but also highly entertaining. A splendid musical program has been arranged for, many of the best musicians in the city appearing on the program. The general public is invited to attend. Among those on the program today were Lucille Hermanson, piano; Mrs. J. O. Sether, president of the organization; Dr. Anna Brecke of Crookston, "Health Laws"; Mrs. A. A. Miller of Crookston, "Sabbath Observance"; Mrs. Oscar A. Melby, vocal solo; Mrs. Mae Trost Hanson of Ada; Mrs. Josephine Sizer of St. Paul, state president of the Union; Eileen and Henry Arneson, piano and violin; Attorney Theo. Quale and Senator C. L. Hansen, addresses; Mrs. Gretel Lowe Arnold, reading; Rev. Chas. Gerlinger; Rev. T. E. Sweger; Mrs. C. Nason and Mrs. W. W. Prichard Jr., duet; Dr. J. N. Nesse; Gordon Overland and Justus Larson, violin duet. A banquet is being served at the church this evening.

The program for Friday is as follows:

Friday morning, 9 o'clock—Music, Leader, Lucille Hermanson. Devotionals, Mrs. Lucy Chapin, Euclid. S. T. I., "Work and Patent Medicine," Mrs. Graham, Crookston. "Special Needs of the Adolescent Boy and Girl," Mrs. McClary, Warren. Piano Duet, Irene Hanson and Dorothy Shirley. Reports of Committees. Election of Officers. Noontide Prayer, Mrs. Josephine Sizer. Executive Meeting, District Officers.

1:45—Music, Leader, Lucille Hermanson. Devotionals, Mrs. Young, Holt. "The Need and Use of Recreation," Bertha Posten. "The Community's Responsibility Toward the Delinquent," Mrs. J. M. Bishop. Discussion. Music, Lucille Hermanson. Union Signal and Young Crusader, Mrs. J. Sizer. Closing of the Convention.

CREAM YIELD EFFECTED BY BACKWARD PASTURE

Local Creamery Pays Nearly $12,000 To Patrons During Month of April

Things are looming up better now but during the month of April there is no question but that the backward spring adversely affected the receipts at the local Farmers Co-operative creamery. However, the reports for the month shows neat returns for the dairymen of this community, the total amount paid out to patrons during the month of April being $11,737.85. Out of this amount $8,075.35 was paid to patrons by the month while the remaining $2,702.50 was paid for cash cream. During the corresponding month last year the institution paid out about $15,000. However, there were only 43 "big check" getters in April, 1922, while this year the list contains 68, according to the secretary's report.

The following patrons of the creamery in this city received checks to the amount of fifty dollars or more during the month of April, according to report submitted to The Times by T. H. Bjerke, secretary:

Sunday School Organizer Meets With Much Success

Harold D. Davey, missionary of the American Sunday-school Union in this section, reports that he has organized five Union Sunday schools in this vicinity since his arrival four weeks ago.

A school has been organized at Steiner with Fred Copp as superintendent and Miss Lida Muzzy as secretary. Another has started at North Star of which Walter Christensen is superintendent and Arnold Peterson secretary. Last Sunday afternoon a third was organized in district No. 4, Smiley township, with Mrs. L. Nelson as superintendent and Miss Anna Valsvik as secretary. The other two schools which have been organized by Mr. Davey are located east of Holt.

Mr. Davey was assisted in the services by Rev. John O. Ferris of Minneapolis, district superintendent of the Union, last Sunday and Monday.

The local missionary in a statement to a Times reporter this week, said that the work of opening Sunday schools in this territory is progressing very favorably and that he meets with the hearty co-operation of a large number of people, particularly in the outlying districts where few attempts have been made to organize.

Anyone knowing of a community which needs a Sunday school should communicate with Mr. Davey, whose address is 501 Riverside avenue, Thief River Falls, Minn.

Oklee Wins Claim Suit Says State Commission

The state industrial commission unanimously upholds the findings of Special Referee P. C. Reynolds of St. Paul who decided for the defense in the case of Mrs. Gunhild Lindberg vs. Village of Oklee for $7,500 damages claimed to be due for the death of her husband whom she claimed died from gas poisoning while in the employ of the village. The village of Oklee was represented by Boughton and Boughton of Red Lake Falls.

The plaintiff, who is represented by Attorney H. O. Chommie of Thief River Falls, has thirty days in which to file notice of appeal to the state Supreme Court but inasmuch as the decision of the commission is unanimous it is not thought to be likely that she will go to the expense of making the appeal.

Alumni Day At Moorhead Teachers College June 6th

Next Wednesday, June 6, will be Alumni Day at the Moorhead State Teachers College. On that day the graduates of the college will take possession of the college and its traditions for a brief period, according to announcement made to The Times by President O. M. Dickerson.

Special honor will be accorded the members of the classes of 1903 and 1913 whose twentieth and tenth anniversary this will be. A banquet will be served in Comstock Hall in the evening and many of the alumni members will be called upon to give toasts. Dr. Hagen, resident director, Dr. Dickerson, president of the college, and Dr. Whitney of the training department will give short talks. Mr. Preston of the college is arranging a special musical treat for the evening.

The Class of 1923 will be welcomed into the ranks of the Alumni, plans for the coming year will be discussed, and officers for the ensuing year will be elected. The matter of the Alumni contributing some form of memorial for the college will be taken up. A committee is now at work on this matter and will be ready with a definite report.

Wallace G. Rosel, Superintendent of Schools at Hendrum, is president of the Alumni association. Miss Mary Rainey of the college, Miss Maude McKee, Alumni Secretary and Miss Bernice Phillips, are the committee in charge of local arrangements for the day. It is hoped that all alumni of the college will be present on that day to help make this a big day in

Swedish Entertainers Present Fine Program

"Olle i Skratthult," a Swedish comedian, and company entertained a capacity house here Saturday evening. "Olle and company" have been here several times and local enthusiasts have learned that they can give the very highest class of entertainment and keep their audience in a continual uproar of laughter. To appreciate and enjoy the work of the troup to an unusually great extent knowing the language is a decided advantage but not an essential.

Olle's stories were the feature of the program. The vocal selections rendered by members of the company were of the very highest order. The accordianists also displayed rare talent and the piano accompanist showed great ability in the finer shades of interpretation which are only possible in an artist.

Those composing the group are Hjalmar Peterson, who plays the role of "Olle"; Annar Myhre and Hans Hagman, baritone singers, Hilmar Person and Alfred W. Edstrom, accordianists; and Harry Swanson, piano accompanist.

Friends of Roy Prytz were surprised and proudly pleased when he appeared on the stage with members of the company in song numbers. Mr. Prytz possesses a very good voice and has spent much time in the study of real delivery and interpretation.

Olle Skratthult and his accompanying musicians recently returned from the west coast where they made a number of appearances and enjoyed a very successful tour.

Worry Causes Badger Farmer To Hang Self

Louis Orson, a farmer residing five miles west of Badger, killed himself by hanging Saturday, May 19, the body being found by his wife shortly afterwards, suspended in the barn. Nervousness and worry are said to have been the cause of the act.

Mr. Orson had not been feeling well on Friday but went about his work the following morning as usual. He went out to do chores in the morning, his wife going a few minutes later to help with the milking. Not finding her husband in the cow barn Mrs. Orson looked into the horse barn where she discovered the body hanging. He was then yet alive but died shortly after being taken down. He leaves to mourn his departure his wife and three children.

Mr. Orson and family moved to Roseau county from Lyon county about four years ago. Mr. Orson was a hard worker and it is said he overworked himself and brought on a nervous collapse early in the spring, and had not been well since. His mind seemed to fail him at times and he was prone to forget and be absent-minded. It is also said he worried because he felt he did not get what his crops were worth.

Local Representatives Attend S. A. Meeting

Representatives of the Thief River Falls corps of the Salvation Army left Thursday for Minneapolis where they attended the annual Young Peoples Congress which was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. This congress is conducted by William Peart, commissioner, under the direction of Commander Evangeline Booth, supported by the territorial and divisional staff of the Army.

Those who attended the congress from this city are Captain and Mrs. A. O. Watson and Seargeant-Major and Mrs. Strom. They returned Tuesday.

Session were held Friday, Saturday and Sunday forenoon, afternoon, and evening. Commander Booth spoke Sunday and also addressed a number of the army corps Monday.

Elks' Flag Day Exercises

National Flag Day—June 14—will be observed by Thief River Falls lodge of Elks in the usual appropriate manner. The usual ceremony in honor of the flag will be held in the lodge room at 7:30 o'clock in the evening when the Elks exercises prescribed for such occasions will be gone through. There will be an appropriate address by some speaker yet to be selected and a short program of patriotic songs and addresses.

The public is cordially invited to attend this ceremony.

LARGE CROWD HEARS ADDRESS TO SENIORS

Rev. Gerlinger Delivers Impressive Baccalaureate Sermon At Auditorium

The auditorium was filled to capacity last Sunday evening when the baccalaureate services were held for the seniors of the 1923 class. The address to the graduates was delivered by Rev. Chas. Gerlinger of the Presbyterian church, who also had charge of the services. He had chosen as his text; Matthew 10:25, applying it to the practical everyday life of the young graduate or anyone else, in order to get the most out of life.

The sermon was delivered in the most pleasing manner and was of the best that has ever been heard in this city on an occasion of this kind. It will leave a lasting impression on the hearts of the young boys and girls who at this time pass another milestone of their lives.

"As you enter upon a new period of your life, what are your ambitions?" the speaker asked the members of the graduating class. "How will you spend the years before you? Your education has been shaped to help you decide such questions. Have you consulted the Master of men? He says, 'For whosoever would save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake shall find it'.

"It is not necessary to advise you to protect your interests. You have learned that from childhood and, should you forget it, the world will soon remind you of your neglect. Civilization is built upon the protection of selfish interests. Men everywhere are trying to save their lives.

"The fallacy in this philosophy is that self-protection does not always protect. This is true because there is more to true living than our own interests. Our lives involve others about us. What we do affects our friends and our neighbors. So, if we live to ourselves, we are doing a selfish thing and miss the greater joys of life which come only from faith and trust in fellow men. The man who lives to himself can never know this trust of others. He can never know the meaning of the sacrifice of Christ, nor the power of prayer and surrender to God. Self-sacrifice is to him foolhardiness.

"On the other hand the one who loses his life in such a great cause as that of Jesus Christ is willing to do what is against his own material interests. He is willing to lose himself in a great sacrifice.

"This is not a popular doctrine today for there is such a demand for freedom from restraint, freedom from old traditions and customs. But the question is what the youth of today need. They do not need freedom from restraint, but the challenge of something great which they can do with their heart, body, and mind, something to die for. When a man loses his life thus he will see how much richer the sacrifice of Christ has made the life of man, how the defeat of Christ was real victory. It is only in this spirit that the Church has found its life, when the best it has was given to others. And you, students, will find the best of your life when you do not spend your best years looking out for your selfish interests but will give yourself for others through the Gospel of Christ."

A part of the program which added much to the impressiveness of the services was the singing by the audience directed by Miss Maude L. Johnson, and the splendid selections by the male quartet composed of Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, director, Dr. J. N. Nesse, Andrew Bottelson and Karl Sundahl. They were well received by the large and appreciative audience.

The graduates marched to their places in the front section of the auditorium while the "Processional" was being played by Mrs. Clarence Erikson.

Flowers in a very attractive array adorned the stage and added much to the appearance of the large auditorium.

Coal Near Crookston

Evidence of anthracite coal is being found near Benoit, east of Crookston, according to the Crookston Times, and a number of Crookston citizens are considering securing the mining rights and raising some money to make investigations as to the extent of the find. While digging in one of the swamps in the Benoit neighborhood a two-foot vein is said to have been discovered only a few feet beneath the surface.

Fine Program Is Arranged For Piano Recital Saturday

A group of the advanced pupils of Mrs. Thelma Erickson, piano instructor, will be presented in a recital at the Sons of Norway hall on Saturday evening, this week. Those who will take part are Mildred Engen, Palma Langseth, Frances Wengeler, Elsie Vorseth and Lois Nicholson, who will play the best in classics. They will be assisted by the best in vocal talent, the following also appearing on the splendid program of the evening: Miss Dora Holmes, Mrs. O. F. Mellby, and Roy Prytz. Mrs. Erickson will be accompanist for the soloists and plays the first piano of the very heavy B. flat Minor Concert by Tschaikowsky. Friends of the pupils are cordially invited to attend. Committed to Asylum

The following item of interest regarding two Grygla residents appeared in the Warren Register last week:

A. O. Fladeland came in from Grygla on Tuesday, bringing with him Amund Torgerson and Torger Arneson, brothers, of whom he has for several years been the guardian, for examination as to their sanity by the probate court. The two men have been batching it together on a homestead for quite a while and were known to be mentally disordered. Both are also in poor health. The elder was taken suddenly ill after his arrival here and was hurried to the hospital, where an emergency operation was performed. Torgerson, the younger of the two, was examined and as a result, was committed to the Fergus Falls hospital, where he was taken Tuesday night by Deputy Sheriff Bordewich, assisted by Austin Lindholm. Arneson's examination will not be held until his physical condition improves, if it does.

Baseball Coming

Interest in baseball is now evident thruout this section, according to the reports in the papers in neighboring towns. Teams are being organized everywhere, composed largely, and in many instances entirely of home talent. The following is from the columns of the Warren Sheaf last week:

"That baseball is not a thing of the past for Warren has been shown by the large trunout for practice at the local ball park. Every evening a large number of players get out and toss the "old apple" around. So far no games have been scheduled but it is expected that a game will be played on Memorial Day. Only local material will be used in the selection of the nine."

Plummer Boy Wounded When Struck In Head By Shotgun Discharge

Leo Schiefert, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schiefert of Garnes township, residing five miles northeast of Plummer, met with a horrible accident Monday afternoon last week when the shot gun he was carrying was evidently accidentally discharged, the full charge striking him in the right side of the head just above the temple, tearing away a portion of the skull and exposing the brain.

Just how the accident occurred is not known. Leo had left his home about five o'clock in the afternoon to drive home the stock which was feeding on another portion of the farm and had taken the shotgun with him for the purpose of shooting crows. About 4:30 one of the neighbors of the Sheiefert's was going after a load of hay and discovered the injured boy on a bridge crossing the small creek in an unconscious condition. He immediately hurried the boy to his home where medical aid was summoned at once.

According to latest reports his recovery is yet doubtful. A large part of the time since the accident occurred the young lad has remained unconscious. As far as The Times is able to ascertain he is still living.

Seed Corn Time

The time for planting corn is not so very far distant. In the good old days a well formed healthy looking cob was selected for seed without first determining the percentage of germination. Times have changed and farming has become a highly developed science. Now, in order to be assured of a bumper yield, every farmer tests his seed corn.

Seed can be tested between damp cloths just as well as in an expensive seed tester. During the past few years we have given away a great many Caruguss Seed Testers, we still have a few on hand and will gladly fill requests while they last.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

I had intended to sell my pure bred Percheron stallion, but have decided to keep him another year. This will give the farmers a chance to save five or ten dollars by bringing your mares to town and have them bred to a pure bred stallion that is well known. He has been on the same route for three years and has a good record. His name is Luverne No. 73970. Charges are $10 for a live colt. See

SAFETY FOR AUTOISTS

The "speeder" is with us again. As soon as the roads are in good condition and the autoists find pleasure in driving, the practice becomes more or less general and a menace to the traveling public. Reckless and fast driving not only endangers the life of the driver but also others who may be in the car and anyone else whom he meets or passes on the road.

Various laws have been passed for the purpose of specifying the rate of speed at which an automobile or other motor vehicles should be driven. If these were adhered to and enforced to their full extent, a large number of the accidents, which are such a common occurrence during the heavy traffic season, would be avoided. Speed laws limit the speed both on streets and highways but are in a large number of instances given little consideration or thought by the driver, who is either speeding for the thrill there is in it or desires to reach his point of destination in as little time as possible. In too many cases the former cause is the reason for fast driving and often results in a thrill for the undertaker—speaking strictly business—instead of the joyseeker.

These speed maniacs should be checked in their practice during the beginning of the season. The laws determining the rate at which a car should be driven are good ones and should be enforced by those in whom the authority is vested. We have assurance that this will be done by the local officials.

The Minneapolis Journal carried the following message in last Friday's issue:

"Summer is the open season for motor casualties. Families now take to the open road on evenings and Sundays. Monday mornings invariably bring gruesome tales of wrecked cars and broken limbs, or of whole families wiped out at railroad crossings. In this Country last year more than 13,000 persons were killed in motor accidents. This is nearly nine thousand more than met with accidents on railroad trains.

Each season brings an increased number of motorcars in use. The accident liability and the need of care thus become greater year by year. More than eleven million motorcars are now in use in this Country, and it is feared that motor casualities this season will exceed those of last, unless great care is exercised by drivers and pedestrians.

In the effort to forestall these the Automobile Merchants' Association has launched a determined campaign of safety. It has published a list of precautions that should be pasted on the windshield of every car. Here they are:

1. Respect the right of pedestrians.
2. Cheerfully obey the traffic officers. They protect you as well as pedestrians.
3. Keep to the right of the road.
4. When turning, begin bearing in toward turn at least a block away.
5. Go slowly around corners.
6. Give pedestrians plenty of room—if in doubt, stop.
7. Read the motor vehicle law and the traffic regulations.
8. On slippery roads drive with extreme caution.
9. A child on the highway is a danger signal. Slow up—if in doubt, stop.
10. Reckless drivers are the enemies of careful motorists.

Rules for the windshield must be supplemented by rules for the sidewalk, if travel is to be same for all. The carelessness and indifference of pedestrians are responsible for many serious accidents. The Council of National Defense, therefore, issues the following imperatives of safety for pedestrians:

1. Cross road and streets only at corners and at right angles.
2. Obey the semaphores and traffic officers.
3. Keep out of "traffic whirls."
4. Do not cross a street between or behind standing vehicles.
5. In alighting from the street side of a car, be careful and do it only when absolutely necessary.
6. In boarding streetcars, observe the traffic rules, and do not be in a hurry.
7. Parents are strongly urged to keep children from playing in the streets and to train them to be careful at all times. Many children are killed thru no fault of automobile drivers. They dart into the street in the face of moving traffic.

Diminution of automobile accidents can be secured only by the patient and thoroughgoing co-operation of both motorists and pedestrians. Neither is wholly responsible for casualities and each have the obligation of making the streets safe for travel by obedience to rules, by self-control and by caution."

THE NEW DANCE LAW

The new dance law, a result of the last session of the Minnesota legislature, goes into effect next Friday, June 1. Dances must hereafter, according to the new regulation, be properly supervised and no public dance can be given before the person in charge has secured a license to do so from the proper municipal authority.

The law is a good one and if carried out will do a great deal towards eliminating several of the undesirable features of many public dances and dance halls.

The officials of the city, village, county and township municipalities have a duty upon themselves to see to that the law is obeyed and should practice all the authority invested in them in enforcing its regulations.

The new law provides for the licensing of all places where public dances are held, such licenses being granted to persons, clubs, organizations, etc., by the councils of the various cities or villages, town boards, or county commissioners, as the cease may be. The law sets no fees to be charged, this being left to the various municipalities, towns and counties.

Police supervision is necessary under the law, and the police officer must be paid in advance by the person or persons who operate the dance. The police officer need not be a public officer, but he must be appointed by either the mayor of the city, president of the village, or by the sheriff.

Parties desiring to give public dances must make application to the proper authorities, who will act upon the application and either grant or reject the application, after investigation.

All applicatons will be on forms furnished by the municipalities, towns or counties, must be accompanied by an affidavit of tow persons that the applicant is of good character and reputation and has not, within the five years past, been convinced of a felony or gross misdemeanor.

No intoxicating liquors are allowed, nor may any person drink intoxicating liquor within 100 feet of the dance hall; neither are intoxicated persons allowed in the hall or place where the dance is conducted.

The place where the dance is conducted must be brightly lighted.

No unmarried person under the age of 16 years, unless such person is accompanied by parent or guardian, shall attend the dance nor any unmarried person more than 16 years of age and under 18 years of age, unless such person is accompanied by a parent or guardian or that said person presents written consent of the parent or guardian to the officer in charge of the dance and every such written permit shall be retained by said officer.

The license granted may be revoked upon the application of five free-holders to the village council, if, after the hearing, the provisions of the law have been violated.

Anyone violating any part of this act shall be guilty of misdemeanor.

FIREMEN TO HOLD MEETING AT BEMIDJI

51st Annual Convention To Be Held On June 12th and 13th

Firemen from every part of Minnesota have been invited and are expected to attend the fifty-first annual convention of the Minnesota State Fire Department associaton to be held in Bemidji on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 12 and 13. The Bemidji fire department is making extensive plans for the entertainment of the guests and no efforts will be spared in making this convention period a very opportune time for the firemen to visit Bemidji.

The following official call for the convention was issued by Chief John A. Gross of Red Wing, secretary of the association:

"The 51st Annual Convention of the Minnesota State Fire Department Association will be held in the City of Bemidji, Minnesota, on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 12th and 13th, 1923.

"Immediately at the close of the convention, the Fire College will be organized and will continue in session for the remainder of the week.

"Chief Charley Dailey has been working very quietly on his program and has not let us 'in' on what he has framed up, but you all know Charley and you can be sure that there are going to be plenty of surprises in store for those who attend. Bemidji is determined not to be outclassed by its predecessors and our convention this year should be the 'best ever.'

"Now let's plan on having every Fire Department in the State Association represented at this important convention. A big attendance makes a snappy convention—and also makes glad the heart of your president who is anxious to entertain you.

"If your council cannot see its way clear to pay the expenses of two delegates, give a dance or put on a benefit entertainment of some kind, and you will easily raise a fund sufficient to pay the delegates expenses. There is plenty of time to figure out a plan to raise the money, if you will only get busy.

"And then, don't forget the great benefit which you gain by attending the Fire College. Leon L. Wolf, the able instructor at last year's college, will again be in charge and it is hoped that every department in the state will be represented at this year's Fire College. George H. Nettleton, State Fire Marshall, is at work on this part of the program and Mr. Nettleton never does things by halves. He puts 'em over BIG."

NORTHWEST SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE NEWS

All who have visited the Northwest School state that it is an ideal place for such gatherings. Those who come have the opportunity to see at first hand the work of the school and station. During the months of May, June and July the experiments being carried on can be viewed to the best advantage. Very few places can equal the school grounds for beauty and just to spend a few hours among such surroundings is in itself worth the trip. The station has facilities to assist the various groups in planning a picnic that is enjoyed by all.

Interest in Valley Contests

Various farmers organizations in the Red River Valley are already laying plans for active participation in the 1924 Northwest School Farmers' Week and Winter Shows next February. Crops are being planted with the idea of producing grains of quality that will win recognition. This year also sees a greater number of farmers growing certified seed than in any previous year. The same is also true regarding livestock to be entered at the winter livestock show. A number of breeders have already decided which animals to develop for next winter's competition, which will be held February 4-9, 1924.

Keen competition has developed among the farm clubs of the Northwest in the annual stock judging contest held in connection with the Winter Shows at Crookston. Last year all the teams participating made excellent showings. The contest was so keen that two clubs tied for first place. These were the Warrenton Club, near Warren, and the Hallock Farmers Club of Kittson county. Each of these teams will retain the silver trophy for half the year.

At their last regular meeting the Warrenton club discussed means whereby the cup may become their permanent possession and selected their team for 1924. This team will consist of Ernest Palmer, Arthur Henning and Havlock Nicholls. All three members have had considerable experience with stock and will begin at once to hold regular meetings to still further perfect themselves for next winter's contest.

Mrs. Melvin Rude is here from Grand Forks visiting with her mother Mrs. Mary Kisch.

News of Minnesota
EVENTS of the week throughout the "State of Ten Thousand Lakes" told in brief form

Hibbing—Entertainment is being arranged for delegates from all over the state who will be in Hibbing for the dental convention June 7 and 8, it was announced by Dr. Hugh McKenzie, general chairman of the convention committee.

Albert Lea—Miss Laura Christopherson of Hartland, Minn., has been elected preceptress of Luther academy here. She succeeds Ella M. Kaasa, who has held the position the last three years.

Albert Lea—L. O. Gordon, manager of the Southern Minnesota Gas & Electric company of this city, announces the purchase by his company of the Brownsdale electric light plant.

Rochester—Olmsted county actively opened its campaign to raise its portion of the fund for the new stadium auditorium drive for the University of Minnesota. The county goal is $30,000.

Albert Lea—City Attorney L. H. Ostrander has sent notices to all grocers in Albert Lea who have been keeping open for the sale of groceries on Sunday that such sales are prohibited by state law.

Alden—Barking of a dog saved the lives of J. A. Sorensen, his wife and four children when fire destroyed the Armstrong Mercantile company here, of which Mr. Sorensen is proprietor. The Sorensen family was sleeping upstairs on the second floor, when the fire broke out.

Hibbing—The Village of Hibbing was ordered to vacate the streets and alleys on the 40-acre tract upon which the town was situated before its removal to the present site, in a decision handed down in St. Louis county district court by Judge William A. Cant.

Virginia—Local authorities have begun what they declare will be a "thorough investigation," into the conditions surrounding the death of Frank Mattson, 50 years old, a woodsman living near Orr whose body was found floating near a dock in Lake Pelican, 50 miles north of here.

Mankato—Farmers living in Sterling township report that wolves are killing sheep in that section lately, and residents are on the warpath after the marauders in their spare time. George Keinholz is the first farmer to bring in his wolf and collect the state bounty.

Duluth—Captain Alexander McDougall, internationally known shipbuilder and inventor died at his home in this city. He was unconscious for six hours preceding his death. He was 78 years of age. Captain McDougall was the inventor of the "whaleback" type of ore carrier.

Minneapolis—Discovery of the body of Alfred Wing, three-and-a-half years old, in the Mississippi river brought to a close a month's search for the missing boy. The search was one of the most intensive ever carried on in the Twin Cities for a missing person.

Thief River Falls—Fire of unknown origin caused a $40,000 loss in the downtown district here. The newspaper and job plant of the Times was totally destroyed with a loss of $26,000. Insurance of $14,300 was carried. A $10,000 insurance policy was dropped May 13.

Kenyon—A conference between representatives of this village, the state railroad and warehouse commission and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway has ended proceedings commenced through the railroad and warehouse commission to replace the present boxcar depot with a permanent depot for Kenyon.

Athens—This city, which now ranks fourth in Minnesota in value of manufactured products, has 2,770 people on its industrial payrolls, as shown by a survey made for the Business Men's association. The amount paid out every month to these workers totals $303,808. In 1922 the incoming and outgoing carloads of materials and finished goods totaled 15,526 for the Hormel Packing company plant and 4,500 for the flour mill, the two leading manufacturing concerns.

Fergus Falls—According to H. O. Sonnesyn, President of the Park Region Luther College association, at least two hundred former students and teachers will come here June 6 and 7 to attend the annual reunion of the association. Due to the fact that a Junior college will be established at Park Region next fall and that the spacious new athletic bowl has been completed, the executive committee estimates that the largest crowd in the history of the association will attend this year.

Hibbing—Entertainemnt is being arranged for delegates from all over the state who will be in Hibbing for the dental convention June 7 and 8, it was anounced by Dr. Hugh McKenzie, general chairman of the convention committee.

Virginia—Period estimates given Minneapolis trade tourists by engineers and mining company officials indicate that ore production in Minnesota in 1923 will reach at least 47,000,000 tons and may mount as high as 55,000,000 tons. The previous record for one year was the shipment of 46,700,000 tons in 1916.

Duluth—A new flood of suits against the United States railway administrators, arising out of the northern Minnesota forest fires of 1918, is inundating the courts of Duluth. They are for the most part actions for personal injuries sustained or for deaths.

Montevideo—Harry Owen, Minneapolis, and James Sorenson, Albert Lea, Minn., are to be the principal speakers at a farmers' picnic to be conducted at Montevideo, Tuesday, June 12. Co-operation is to be discussed at this rally.

Fergus Falls—More than 150 alumni of the University of Minnesota attended the stadium-auditorium campaign meeting here. Addresses were delivered by Senator Ole Sageng, Secretary E. B. Pierce of the state alumni association.

Fairmont—Following an address by Miss Mabel Hall, one of the two Fairmont guardians of the Campfire Girls, Kiwanis members pledged themselves to contribute at least $200 and sponsor the outing of this summer planned for 200 Fairmont girls. The girls will spend several days in camp.

Mantorville—By action of the Dodge county board of commissioners, a bounty of 10 cents each hereafter will be paid from the county treasury for each crow killed. Hunters are taking advantage of the chance to pick up some extra money, especially boys who can shoot.

Little Falls—Fire which started at Flensburg, 10 miles west of here, for a time threatened destruction of the entire business district. Three establishments were destroyed, entailing a loss estimated at $5,000.

Mankato—Blue Earth county Guernsey breeders sold 50 head of purebreds at the Mankato livestock pavilion. The top price cow was consigned by E. E. Gleason of Nicollet, Minn., and was purchased by the Mayowood farm at Rochester, for $380. The top bull brought $225. H. O. Tellier of Farmington was auctioneer. The total sales amounted to $8,025.50.

Hibbing — Minneapolis interests which own land in the vicinity of Crane lake are drilling for ore on their property, according to word received here. The drilling is being done about 75 miles northeast of here. The section is in the heart of the "lake country," not far from the Canadian border.

Waseca—Mayor George Goodsteed of this city was disqualified in a decision handed down by Judge E. C. Dean of Fairmont in district court. The mayor's election was contested by a committee of 25 voters who charged that Goodsteed had violated the corrupt practises act by publishing unsigned circulars.

Crookston—Red River valley farmers and bankers will prosper just in proportion to the degree that balanced farming and dairying is established, C. G. MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY MEN SPEAK IN INTEREST OF BIG STADIUM DRIVE

Prominent Leaders Address Local Alumni at Meeting Friday. County's Quota $3,500

A party of University of Minnesota men visited Thief River Falls last Friday on their tour in the state wide campaign known as the stadium drive to promote interest in raising funds for the erection of the proposed auditorium and stadium at the university.

President Coffman, who was scheduled to speak here at that time was unable to make the trip as he was confined to his home on account of illness. However, rousing addresses were delivered at the noon luncheon of the Commercial club by E. B. Pierce, secretary of the alumni association and registrar at the University; Fred Luehring, athletic director; Lyman Pierce, director of the drive; and Tom Phelps, a University student. The visitors were entertained by the club.

Attorney H. O. Chommie, alumnus of the university, was introduced by President Froehlich and presided at the meeting which was attended by a goodly number. E. B. Pierce spoke first and urged the need of an auditorium, which will be a memorial to the late Cyrus Northrop, for 27 years president of the university. "To date no president has ever addressed the entire student body, because there has been no room to seat them," he declared. He reviewed briefly the growth of the institution, showing how each department or college was created as the demand became urgent. It now ranks with the best of the country in educational standards. He also gave accounts of what alumni and interested persons had done for the advancement and building up of other institutions. Three-fourths of the two million dollars fund has already been raised in the twin cities and Duluth and the rest remains to be pledged by the other counties in the state.

Director Luehring stressed the necessity of erecting a stadium, adequate to the needs of the large university with its tremendous growth, this to be a memorial to Minesota's dead soldiers. "Physical training is more and more becoming an essential part of education," he said, "and in order to carry out this program properly a larger stadium must be built." The Northrop field has a seating capacity of only about 15,000, while many others have 35,000 and more.

Tom Phelps, one of the campus leaders and active in the drive conducted among the students, cited interesting features of the campaign during which the organization raised nearly $700,000. It was interesting to note some of the means used in arousing interest.

The last speaker was Lyman Pierce, who is located at San Francisco but came back to Minnesota to assist in the big undertaking. He stated that it was the first time in the history of the university that assistance was asked from the alumni. The drive is expected to come to a close June 10, when all the reports will be in from the respective counties and districts.

The drive in this county is in charge of H. O. Chommie, the quota for Pennington being $3500.

GOLDEN VALLEY SECTIONAL PLAY-DAY

On Saturday, May 26, the last sectional play-day of the season was held at the Bungalow School in Dist. 151 in the Golden Valley territory. Six schools were represented in the athletic contests and a number of parents and friends of the contestants were interested spectators.

Altho the number present was not as large as at some of the other playdays this event was the means of discovering some of the best athletes in the rural schools of the County. Lester Hagen in the class for boys weighing 90 to 115 lbs. made a score of 20 times in the Pull-up contest, a running broad jump of 15 feet, 1 inch and a high jump of 56 inches. This equals the record of many of the larger boys in last year's contests and the boys of his class will have to do some training to beat him in the county contests. Lester's brother, Delmar, in the class for boys weighing less than 90 lbs. made a record of 18 times in the Pull-up contest and a running broad jump of 11 feet 11 inches, while their little brother, Ralph, carried off all the first prizes in the bantamweight class for boys and girls under nine years old and made a score of 10 in the pull-up contest.

The Bungalow School made a good showing and captured all the places on the list of county contestants except in the teachers contests in which Miss Anna Polansky and Mrs. Christine Peterson held equal honors, Miss Polansky winning out on the toss of a coin.

A basket lunch and a good social time was enjoyed during the noon hour.

The following will represent this district at the county play day at Warren: Delmar Hagen, Ethel Hagen, Lester Hagen, Clifford Danielson, Cora Norbeck, all of District 149, and Miss Anna Polansky, teacher.

The alternates in case some can not attend the county play day will be chose from the following list in order named: Florence Danielson, Florence Moberg, Edry Leiran, Arthur Leiran, Gilmer Anderson, and Mrs. Peterson, teacher.

Tilla Nesland, aged 14, living in the Grygla district, traveled 130 miles to Bemidji to take part in the county oral spelling match in which she won first place. Another girl, Gertrude Castile, aged 11, who lives north of Red Lake, traveled all night long, having only two hours sleep, to take part in the match. She won second [illegible] no doubt be heard from later.

"THE THIRD ALARM" UNDER AUSPICES OF FIRE DEPT. TO BE SHOWN AT LYCEUM

Picture For Benefit of Local Department Wednesday and Thursday Next Week

The entire workings of a big city fire department, from the time the first alarm is sounded until the big fire is completely extinguished, is graphically depicted in "The Third Alarm", Emory Johnson's vital romance of a fire fighter's life, which will be shown at the Lyceum Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Manager Brumund is showing this spectacular picture under the auspices of the local fire department. The department is particularly fortunate in securing this film for Thief River Falls theatre-goers so soon after the release. There will be no advance in admission prices.

The sounding of the alarm, the method of procedure when the signal is heard at headquarters of a fire company, picturing the awakening of the men from slumber, their lightning-like dressing and plunge down the perpendicular rod, the hitching of the horses to the equipment and the mad dash out of the fire engine house is realistically portrayed.

The attaching of the fire hose to the hydrants and the running of the hose to where it plays on the flames with engines pumping, scaling ladders ascending, axes swing and flames hissing, all is presented in breath-taking reality in "The Third Alarm."

The public is urged to see this picture showing the life of a fireman, and at the same time help the local department.

FARM GROUPS PLAN VISITING DAYS

The Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston will be the scene of many visitations during the coming summer as a result of the plan begun last year of visitors coming in groups from various localities to inspect the experimental work and fields. This idea proved so successful that the same plan will be continued again this year.

The first visiting day took place May 9 when those interested in the sweet clover steer feeding experiment were present to receive the announcement of the final data. A number of farmers clubs have already voted to visit the Northwest School in June. The Highlanding Farmers Club of Pennington County, of which James Homme is president, was the first club [illegible] voted unanimously to visit in a body.

SUPPLY OF FREIGHT CARS NEARS DEMAND

Adequate Distribution Resulting From Advisory Board's Activities

The supply of freight cars available for use in the Northwest at present is more nearly meeting the demand than it has at any time since the war period. This condition, a boon to farmers and shippers, is a direct result of the activities of the Northwest Regional Advisory Board, formed to work with the Car Service Division of the American Railway association. There are 24 members on the board representing Northwest Farm Bureaus, shippers, railroads, Commissioners of Agriculture, Railroad and Warehouse commissions and others. J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, is chairman.

The board held a meeting at Fargo, N. D., on May 22. Reports presented showed that material progress toward supplying the demand for cars had been made.

"We have for our goal," said Chairman Reed, "assurance for the Northwest of at least 125 per cent of the cars owned by railroads of the section for use during the harvest season here. We are going to be in position to enable farmers to ship when they desire. We are willing that cars owned in the Northwest shall be used in other sections when the demand here is light, but we are going to insist upon reciprocity in that respect.

Through the Board, potato shippers have been well supplied during the spring. A serious congestion of South Dakota elevators was quickly relieved.

Prospects for adequate transportation facilities this fall are good, Mr. Reed says: There are more cars ready for use now than at any time since the War. Reports of car shortages are few and far between and it is possible to meet any local demand within a few days. Cars loaded in the West for shipment east are being returned without delay. From January 1 to May 1, 50,161 new cars and 1228 new locomotives have been delivered to the railroads. The number of bad order cars has been gradually decreasing. These facts, considered in connection with the Advisory Board's successful efforts to obtain proper distribution, indicate that farmers will be able to move their crops next fall without delay due to a continual lack of cars.

POTATO CONTRACTS BASED ON CONTROL

When Needed Acreage Is Obtained, Campaign Will End Walter Oby Says

Control of 50 per cent of the commercial potato acreage in Minnesota is the first consideration in the contract now being circulated by the committee in charge of perfecting a new farmer-owned potato sales agency, according to Walter Oby of Detroit, treasurer of the general state organization committee.

"All contracts hinge upon signing up 50 per cent of the acreage in the state, as well as 50 per cent of the acreage in each county in which we are to work. If that end is not attained none of the agreements will be valid. While that task must be completed by March 1, 1924, under our plan, we hope to wind up the work long before that date. Then steps will be taken toward forming our sales agency and arranging for finance and warehouse facilities," Mr. Oby said.

Leaders point out that the weakness in all potato marketing agencies heretofore started in this section is that they have attempted to do business without a strong central organization or assurance of a volume of business sufficient to make the agency an important factor in the market, with a voice as to the price.

Organization work is going forward rapidly, according to those in charge of the state headquarters in St. Paul. Meetings held thus far have been well attended and growers have indicated a determination to see this project to success.

First contracts were signed last week, in most instances by local leaders, under whose direction field work will be carried on. No paid solicitors are being employed, each county committee being responsible for obtaining the needed acreage in that district.

CAR LOTS REMEDY FOR EGG PROBLEM

Small Shipments Lower Price, Mora Farmer Finds on Trip to New York

By Farm Bureau News Service

Minnesota farmers who raise eggs for market never will obtain a satisfactory price until they are organized to ship full carloads of a given grade to Eastern markets. This conclusion was reached by Wm. G. Boyle, farmer and secretary-treasurer of the Co-operative Creamery at Mora, who last week returned from New York, where he made an extensive study of the present outlet for much of Minnesota's co-operatively shipped butter and eggs.

"The thing that impressed me most," he said, "was the manner in which farmers of the Pacific Coast sell their eggs. They reach the East in car lots, all of uniform grade and color. Despite the fact that they actually are older than the Minnesota eggs, they look better and bring a higher price. I saw Pacific coast eggs sell for 37½ cents, when our eggs were going for 27, 29 and 30 cents. In the car shipments from the coast the loss of breakage is far less than that charged against Minnesota eggs."

The Mora Creamery for some time has been shipping eggs marked by its patrons and while a higher price has been obtained, there still is much to be desired, Mr. Boyle says. The method followed is to load most of a car with butter and fill it with eggs. This practice while far better than selling locally or to centralizers, has a drawback in the fact that egg shipments necessarily are small and there is needless expense and breakage in handling on the Eastern markets.

Mr. Boyle is a member of the committee which recently drafted the plan upon which the state-wide egg marketing agency is being formed. A major feature of that plan is such grading and car-lot shipments as Mr. Boyle finds necessary to obtain the best prices in the East.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That default has been made in the conditions of that certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by F. D. Beard, a single man, Mortgagor, to Ida Lower and Ida Lower as Guardian, Mortgagee, bearing date the 1st day of March, 1920, with power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, on the 5th day of April, 1920 at 2:50 o'clock P. M., in Book Thirteen (13) of Mortgages, on page 588, which default has continued to the day of this notice, by the failure and neglect of said Mortgagor to make payment of the coupon interest note amounting to Three Hundred and Sixty Six Dollars ($366.00), which became due and payable on the first day of March, 1923, by said mortgage secured.

AND WHEREAS, The said Mortgagee and holder of said mortgage has elected and hereby does elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage, and the power of sale therein contained; and whereas, there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum of Six Thousand Four Hundred Sixty Six Dollars ($6466.00), with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the first of March, 1923; and whereas the power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

NOW, THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described and conveyed by said mortgage, to-wit: the South one-half S½ of Section twelve (12) in Township One Hundred fifty three (153) North, of range forty-five (45) West of the fifth principal meridian, in Minnesota, containing Three Hundred and twenty acres (320) of land, more or less, according to the United States Government survey thereof and situated in Pennington County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Pennington County, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Thief River Falls in said County and State, on 7th day of July, 1923, at ten o'clock A. M. of that day at Public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Six Thousand Four Hundred Sixty six Dollars ($6466.00) and interest and taxes, if any, on said premises, and One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), Attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated May 22nd, A. D., 1923.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

TAKE NOTICE, That default has occurred and exists in the condition of that certain mortgage made, executed and delivered to George Fink, as mortgagee, by Chas. N. Reese and Frances Reese, husband and wife, and F. G. Reese and Bessie E. Reese, husband and wife, mortgagors, dated March 1st, 1920, duly filed and recorded on March 30, 1920, at 1.15 o'clock P. M. in Book 62 of Mortgages at page 439 thereof, in the office of the register of deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota. The amount claimed to be due and which is actually due on said mortgage at the date hereof is the sum of ten thousand seven-hundred six and no-100ths ($10,706.00) dollars. The mortgaged premises are described as follows: The south half of the southeast quarter (S½ SE¼) of section ten (10) and the west half of the south west quarter (W½ SW¼) of section eleven (11) and the northwest quarter (NW¼) of section fourteen (14), all in township one-hundred fifty-two (152), north of range forty-five (45), west of the Fifth Principal Meridian, according to the United States Government survey thereof, and containing 320 acres of land more or less, in Pennington County, Minnesota.

That by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and agreeable to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said premises at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, which sale will be made by the sheriff of Pennington County Minnesota, on Saturday, the 16th day of June, 1923, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the court house in the city of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, to satisfy said amount then due thereon, taxes paid, if any, two-thousand dollars attorneys' fees, together with the disbursements of these foreclosure proceedings.

Dated May 1st, 1923.

ENDORSEMENT GIVEN PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

Bankers and Ministers Endorse Campaign Proposed by Red River Valley Development Assn.

The campaign of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development Association received two exceptionally fine endorsements last week, according to Secretary C. H. Zealand.

The Ninth District Bankers' Association, which met Friday in Crookston, went on record as approving of the Development association's effort and recommended to the several county associations of bankers in the valley a generous support of the movement.

The other endorsement, while not in official form, is of very high value on account of the unusual source from which it came. Rev. T. O. Skaar, of Crookston, who was in attendance at the Norwegian Lutheran church district conference at Oslo on Thursday and Friday, made an informal talk before a number of ministers attending the conference, explaining the association's aim to help improve general conditions through getting new settlers to come to this section and thus afford opportunity for ones now here who are finding that they have taken on more land than they can handle, to dispose of some of it. The Development Association, it was pointed out, is by no means a land selling organization and that its sole purpose is to further the real development of the Minnesota Red River valley and the success of its people.

A point was brought out at the Oslo meeting which will be brought before the directors of the association, Mr. Zealand states, and which will without doubt be given particular attention in the association's work. This was to the effect that where new settlers could be located among people of their own kind, as to nationality, religion, etc., there was much more probability of their success and contentment in their new location than if allowed to locate without attention to this feature. A number of the ministers in attendance expressed their interest in the association's efforts and their willingness to co-operate in making new settlers feel quickly at home.

The Development Association's membership campaign, as a means of raising the funds necessary for carrying forward its work, is meeting with good success.

Round-Up Of Auto Tax Dodgers

The Secretary of State and the Minnesota Highway Department are jointly endeavoring to round up all violators of the motor vehicle tax law. All trunk highway patrolmen have been instructed to report all cars (whether in use or in storage) that carry no license plates, or carry 1922 Minnesota license plates, or carry only one 1923 Minnesota license plate, or that carry license plates of other states when the car is owned by Minnesota residents, or that carry passenger car plates when truck plates are required.

It is absolutely necessary for the state to collect the motor vehicle tax from everybody in order that the State may carry on its road development and maintenance program.

SWEET CLOVER HAY PROVES ITS VALUE

The beef feeding experiment with 24 steers fed in four lots to determine the winter feeding value of sweet clover hay in comparison with alfalfa hay proved in the first year's trial that well-cured sweet clover hay is a valuable feed. This experiment was carried on at the Northwest Experiment Station, Crookston, by O. M. Kiser in co-operation with W. H. Peters of the Central Experiment Station, St. Paul. A circular giving full details concerning the feeding trials is being prepared and will be sent free upon request to all who request it.

MINNESOTA'S PART IN CIVIL WAR RECALLED

The annual observance of Memorial Day will recall to Minnesotans the contributions made by the people of this state to the nation during the Civil War. Minnesota furnished 24,001 men to the Union cause or approximately 14 per cent of the total population as recorded in 1860. In the World War the state furnished 120,000 troops, but they comprised less than 6 per cent of the total population. Of Minnesota's Civil War soldiers 22,096 enlisted and 1,905 were either drafted or sent as substitutes. The number of Minnesota soldiers who were killed or who died of wounds in the Civil and Indian wars was 635. Deaths from disease and other causes claimed 1,904.

Eleven regiments and a battalion of volunteer infantry, three batteries of light artillery, a regiment of heavy artillery, two regiments and three companies of cavalry, and several minor forces were sent by Minnesota to the battlefields of the war. The story of how these men, supported by the people at home, upheld the Union cause and the reputation of Minnesota, is perhaps best told in the historical records of the period many of which, fortunately, are preserved in the collections of the Minnesota Historical society.

A corporation which did $37,000,000 worth of business in a year would be considered quite a factor in the economic world. Yet Modern Woodmen of America had this record for 1922 in the ordinary course of business.

From Crude— To Gasoline— To Miles

That is the part the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) plays in your domestic and commercial life.

To make gasoline is one thing—but to make the kind of gasoline that will give you the utmost of mileage is quite another.

To this end, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has invested millions by the score, in research, in laboratory equipment and in manufacturing facilities.

The result is

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

It is the best, the most efficient, the most economical gasoline you can buy—regardless of price.

It starts more easily; it gives your car a quicker get-away; a snappier, smoother acceleration; greater sustained pulling power; all the speed your engine is capable of developing, and the most miles per gallon.

It vaporizes to the last drop—there is no waste—year in, year out. If you use Red Crown you know—if you don't use it, try it today and you will be convinced.

BROWN ELECTED HEAD OF WHEAT MARKET CO-OP.

President of Organization Covering Ten States Thief River Falls Man

Will Devote His Entire Time To Pefecting Farmer's Big Organization

William J. Brown, Thief River Falls attorney, prominent in legal circles thruout the northwest, was elected president of the American Wheat Growers' Associated, Inc., an organization perfected in Minneapolis last week at a meeting of growers and interested persons of the northwestern states. Mr. Brown, who was unanimously chosen to head this extensive organization, is also public director of the Minnesota Wheat Growers' Cooperative Marketing association, which has its headquarters in this city at the present time.

The new national association will act as a sales agency for wheat pooled in 10 producing states and will handle this year's crop, according to statement by Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown will devote his entire time to taking care of the interests of the organization which is a huge undertaking. He said in a statement to a reporter for The Times this week, that he will continue to maintain his law offices in this city for an indefinite period but that his plans for the future have not yet been completed.

The local attorney was elected for the position at the final conference of wheat growers and members of the various state agencies held at the Curtis hotel Wednesday of last week, at which time the new organization was launched. George C. Jewett, former banker and manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers' association for the past three years, will be the general manager of the association. B. J. Hollenback, director of the Montana Wheat Growers' association, who lives at Buffalo, Mont., was elected first vice-president; A. R. Shumway, president of the board of directors of the Oregon Co-operative Grain Growers, Milton, Ore., second vice-president; George E. Duis, president North Dakota Wheat Growers' association, Grand Forks, third vice-president; and William McGreevy, Carmen, Okla., secretary.

The American Wheat Growers' associated, Inc., has been organized to act as sales agency for the following state wheat growers' associations which are already pooling wheat: North Dakota, Minnesota, South Dakota, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Colorado. The immediate inclusion of Kansas and Nebraska is expected. Oklahoma and Texas will not become members this year, owing to the nearness of their marketing season and inability to establish offices in the south in time to care for the pooled wheat crop.

Territory covered by the organization is divided into three zones for marketing purposes, under zone boards of control. Zone 1 is comprised of Washington, Oregon and Idaho; zone 2 of Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota; zone 3, Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas. The property of the Northwest Wheat Growers' association is now being taken over. Headquarters for the ensuing year will be established in Minneapolis. Sales agencies are now being operated in Minneapolis, Duluth, Lewiston, Mont., Spokane, Seattle and Portland. Additional agencies will be established at Omaha, Kansas City and Wichita.

Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana are expected to pool practically one-half of the total American bushelage to be sold co-operatively.

Mr. Brown was instrumental in securing the passage of the co-operative marketing act at the last legislature and has been active in securing data regarding marketing of grains and the possible remedies for the present ills.

The members of the Minnesota association will hold its annual meeting, for the purpose of electing director and for such other business as may come before the meeting, at the Commercial Club rooms in this city on Wednesday, June.

"THE CHRISTIAN" ONE OF MASTERPIECES OF SEASON SAY CRITICS

Film Version of Hall Caine Story Shown At Lyceum Next Sunday and Monday

A photoplay that is worthy to rank among the best that the industry has to show—that is the opinion of many reviewers, famous stars and directors who saw Goldwyn's photoplay version of Sir Hall Caine's most famous novel, "The Christian." Picturegoers of Thief River Falls will have an opportunity of judging of the merits of this Maurice Tourneur production when "The Christian" comes to the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday. It is a foregone conclusion that they will agree with the opinions expressed by those who have already seen it.

When Goldwyn decided to make the film version of Sir Hall's great novel, the production executives cast about for the best man in the business to direct it. Choice finally settled on Maurice Tourneur who has won international fame for his productions of "The Blue Bird," "Treasure Island," "The Last of the Mohicans," "Lorna Doon" and other literary classics. The task of selecting the two leading players was then entered upon. Choice did not settle upon Richard Dix for the part of John Storm and Mae Busch for the Glory Quaylo until many famous film players had been considered, tested and discarded as not absolutely suited to the roles.

FOURTEEN CANDIDATES SEEK SENATORSHIP

Nine Republicans, Three Farmer-Laborites and Two Democrats In Field

Fourteen candidates for office of United States senator from Minnesota, to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Knute Nelson, face the barrier of the June 18 primaries. When the time for filing expired at five o'clock yesterday afternoon there were nine Republicans, three Farmer-Laborites and two Democrats entered in the race for their respective party nominations.

The Republican primary ballots will bear the names of Thomas D. Schall, Excelsior; Ernest Lundeen, Minneapolis; Oscar Hallam, St. Paul; Sydney Anderson, Lanesboro; J. A. O. Preus, Minneapolis; Victor L. Power, Hibbing; Martin J. Martin, Minneapolis; J. A. A. Burnquist, St. Paul, and Halvor Steenerson, Crookston.

On the Farmer-Labor ballot will be the names of Charles A. Lindbergh, Pike Creek; Magnus Johnson, Kingston township, Meeker county, and L. A. Fritsche, New Ulm.

The Democratic ballots will contain the names of James A. Carley, Plainview and Francis C. Cary, Minneapolis.

There will be 500,000 ballots printed for both the Republican and Farmer-Labor primary and 300,000 for the Democratic contest. The entrance of Mr. Cary into the race will cost the state approximately $1,500 because it made necessary the Democratic primary which would not have been required had there been but one candidate.

NINTH DISTRICT BANKERS MEET AT CROOKSTON

Co-operative Marketing Backed By Association, Opposed to Branch Banking

A delegation of bankers from this city attended the annual convention of the Ninth District Group of the Minnesota Bankers' association at Crookston last Friday at which more than 175 financiers of this section were in attendance. Those who represented the local institutions were Albert Lonson of the Farmers and Merchants State bank, C. L. Hansen and Theo. Thronson of the First National bank, and T. L. Melgaard and E. P. Brevig of the Citizens State bank.

A. E. Pfiffner of the First National bank of Argyle was elected president succeeding T. M. Alexander of Fergus Falls. Alden Pearson of the Security State bank of Detroit was named vice president while A. F. LaBudde of the Farmers State bank of Gonvick was selected as secretary and treasurer. Geo. F. Hennings of the First State bank of Red Lake Falls and E. J. Ruhd of the First National bank of Battle Lake were elected as additional members on the executive committee. The next meeting will be held at Fergus Falls.

The bankers went on record as favoring the campaign for diversified farming in the district and pledging their support to the plan for the co-operative marketing of farm commodities.

A resolution urging the reduction of taxes which have been mounting consistently in recent years was adopted.

Believing that branch banking was detrimental to the state, the association adopted a resolution condemning branch banking as well as branch offices of a bank in its home city.

The association went on record as favoring and pledging its assistance to the work being conducted by the Minnesota Red River Valley Development Association to advertise the valley.

A resolution condemning the twin city newspapers for carrying exaggerated stories of small forest fires and floods, which may happen in the northern section of the state as elsewhere at any time was placed on record.

FORMER RESIDENTS JOIN IN CLUB IN TWIN CITIES

Thief Riverites Banquet at Minnesota Union. Lee Ihle President of New Club

A Thief River Falls-Twin Cities club was formed at a banquet at the Minnesota Union on the university campus Tuesday last week, which was attended by more than 80 former residents of this city, who are now located in Minneapolis or St. Paul. Any former resident of Pennington county now residing in the twin city territory may become a member.

The officers elected at the gathering last week were: Lee Ihle, president; Florence Aalberg, vice president; R. M. Barzen, secretary; and Ann Peterson, treasurer.

James Prichard, university student, acted as toastmaster at the banquet, and presided in an efficient manner. He called on many of the former Thief Riverites, all of whom responded. Among the speakers were former Senator D. P. O'Neill and J. H. Hay, formerly superintendent of schools here.

It was expressed by all present that affairs of a similar get-together should be arranged by the club at various intervals.

CARLSON STORE AT MIDDLE RIVER ROBBED

According to reports the Carlson Mercantile company store at Middle River was robbed Monday night by burglars who escaped with several hundred dollars worth of merchandise. No cash was secured it is reported.

RUSS EXECUTE FIFTEEN FOR PLOT

Victims Condemned Because of Counter-Conspiracy Against Bolsheviki.

Moscow—Fifteen persons, all of them princes, generals or noblemen have been executed as a result of the discovery of an active counter-revolutionary plot in the soviet republic of Georgia, says a despatch from Tiflis to the Pravda. The names of those executed are not given but it is said all were active participants in the movement.

The counter revolutionary activities in Georgia are alleged to have been begun early in 1922 with a combination of five non-Bolsheviki parties, the plans including a general uprising for last September. The conspirators are asserted to have been in communication with M. Gordani, former Georgian premier, M. Tseretelli, a Kerenski cabinet member, and other anti-Bolsheviks abroad and were promised money and arms. The late General Zulokedze and Prince Andronikoff are declared to have been among the leaders.

MORE BRITISH SHIPS SAIL

War Situation Criticil Following Greek Insistance That Turks Withdraw Indemnity Demand.

Constantinople—Additional British warships are en route to the Dardanelles in view of the critical Near East situation with the constant threat of war between Greece and Turkey. The menace has been aggravated by the ultimatum of the Athens government demanding that the Turks at Lausanne renounce all claims to war indemnity.

This city is rife with wild rumors. One was that the Greek fleet was cruising off the Dardannelles, but this was denied by the British and French commanders.

An evidence of the tension was shown by the public statement issued by Rafat Pasha, commander of the Turkish troops in Thrace:

"Let us have war or peace at once with no further delay."

PER CAPITA FIRE LOSS $4.75

Stricter Prosecution for Arson Urged at Insurance Convention.

New York—More rigid prosecution of firebugs, greater vigilance against insuring bad risks, continued education of the public toward elimination of costly carelessness about fire hazards, and the application of uniform commission rates for agents in all states, were urged by speakers before delegates from 157 companies attending the National Board of Fire Underwriters' annual convention. Harry A. Smith of the National Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., was elected president.

Arson helped in 1922—along with carelessness and the low fire resisting qualities of flimsy structures, to pile the national loss up to $522,000,000, a new record, J. B. Morton, retiring president, reported. The rate per capita was $4.75 as compared with 75c in Great Britain, he said.

DISCONTINUE SAILINGS TO U. S.

Spanish Company Asserts Dry Law Makes Move Necessary.

New York—The Spanish Royal Mail steamship line, operating between Barcelona and New York, has ordered discontinuance of all American sailings, Luis Llanso, local for the company, announced. The discontinuance was ordered because of the recent Supreme court decision forbidding foreign vessels from bringing liquor into American territorial limits, he said.

The steamship Prince de Satrustegui which will sail from Cadiz on May 30 and is due in New York June 11, will be the last ship of the line to touch here, Llanso said. All ships will be diverted to Havana and Vera Cruz after that date, he asserted.

NEW FIRE LOSS SUITS START

Injury, Death Cases Filed Following Success of Test Actions.

Duluth, Minn.—A new flood of suits against the United States railway administration, arising out of the northern Minnesota forest fires of 1918, is inundating the courts of Duluth. They are for the most part actions for personal injuries sustained or for deaths.

These cases follow the lead of test actions, which established government liability along certain lines and in certain districts, in which the plaintiffs were awarded damages against the government. Indications are that millions already paid out by the government in damages have merely pointed the way by which scores of others who suffered as a result of the historic 1918 fire can now get remuneration for their injuries and losses.

Henry Ford Underbids Bankers.

Detroit, Mich.—Henry Ford outbid New York bankers and advanced to the city of Detroit $500,000 on a short loan. The Detroit manufacturer will receive 4 per cent interest on the loan. The Eastern banking interests asked 4½ per cent, it was said. Edsel Ford, son of the manufacturer, conferred with William J. Nagel, city controller, regarding a $1,500,000 loan. Ford is ready to make to the city within the next few days. The money borrowed, it was said, was badly needed.

CHINESE TROOPS CLOSE ON BANDITS

Lives of Foreigners Periled as Brigands Threaten Death if Soldiers Attack.

Peking—The government has decided to storm the strong hold of the Chinese bandits in an attempt to rescue the captives. Airplanes reconnoitered the camp.

The prisoners, Americans and other foreigners, were ordered to prepare for a severe ordeal. The troops have the bandits surrounded.

"We have determined to storm the stronghold and rescue you by force. prepare for a severe ordeal."

This was the message conveyed to the American and other white captives of the Shantung bandits as government troops closed in on the fortress during the night.

The exact hour at which the attack will be launched has not been determined. Chinese airplanes zoomed low over the outlaws mountain top with observers, close to the rude shelters where the hostages await rescue.

GREEK-TURK WAR AVERTED

Athens Government Acknowledges Responsibility for Devastations.

Lausanne—M. Venizelos and Ismet Pasha reached a complete accord on reparations avoiding a war which set the Balkans ablaze.

The $1,000,000,000 claimed by the Turks for devastations committed by the Greeks during their retreat in Asia Minor has been cancelled, the Turks accepting the following compromise:

In the treaty Greece acknowledges moral responsibility for the devastations and Turkey renounces the right to indemnity on account of the economic status of Greece.

The district of the Karagatch railway to Karagatch to the Bulgarian frontier is given to Turkey.

Ships captured since the formal armistice in 1918 are mutually restituted.

Turkeys gains greatly by the last article, as Greece captured many Turkish ships while Turkey captured few vessels.

WHEAT CROP 75 PER CENT

Northern, Southern Counties of State Suffer Equal Loss.

Minneapolis—1923 wheat crop is 75 per cent of last year's, due to the late spring in some states, drought in others, and abandonment of acreage in several sections, in the opinions of men from 10 states, assembled in Minneapolis to organize the American Wheat Growers association. A review of conditions in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana, Washington, Idaho, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma by men in close touch with the situation showed an almost certain loss of acreage.

"The late spring resulted in abandonment of 25 per cent of last year's acreage," W. H. Frederick, secretary of the Minnesota Wheat Growers association, said. "The loss is about evenly divided between northern and southern counties. At present the prospect is good, with the exception of abandonment, although the late season has retarded growth."

ASSURED OF SCHOOL SYSTEM

Fourteen Towns Affected by Ruling Taking Limit Off Bond Issues.

St. Paul—Northern Minnesota's iron range country, with its $30,000,000 in school properties for educating and Americanizing its vast population of foreign born residents and their children, will be able to complete its $40,000,000 program for schools in the next five years as a result of the Minnesota supreme court decision which recognizes the right of school district voters to sell all bonds required.

Minnesota educators and St. Louis county officials forecast that the decision would enable northern Minnesota, in five years, to invest $10,000,000 as finishing touches on its $30,000,000 educational plant, making the iron range the "finest schooled" territory in the United States.

FLIER SETS ONE-MAN MARK

Aviator Hops from Houston to Detroit, 1,400 Miles, Twelve Hours.

Detroit—Lieutenant Harrison G. Crocker, Kelly field, San Antonio, Texas, aviator, flying a one man De Haviland plane in a non-stop flight from Houston, Texas, to Detroit, successfully completed the flight when he landed here.

When Crocker landed at Selfridge field, 20 miles from Detroit, he appeared none the worse for his 1,400 mile journey. The unofficial time of the flight was 11 hours and 55 minutes and the unofficial average time, 114 miles per hour.

College Gets $1,000,000.

New York—Allocation for a judicial settlement of the $3,350,000 estate of Francis Linde Stetson, attorney, who died December 5, 1920, shows that more than half of the estate was bequeathed to Williams college, which is contrary to law. An agreement was made, however, with an adopted daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Lee Adams of New York one of the executors. Under the compromise Mrs. Adams received $500,000 from the estate, while Williams college gets a specific sum of $100,000.

PUPILS AND PATRONS OF COUNTY SCHOOLS MEET HERE JUNE 16

Many Prizes Offered For Winners in Play Day Events. First Eighth Grade Graduation

Geo. Selke Will Address School Officers at Annual Meeting Saturday, June 16

June 16 will be a big day for the rural schools of Pennington county. It will mark the inauguration of county graduation exercises, play day and a meeting of the school officers of the county, all to take place at the close of the school year.

This combined event will be held at Thief River Falls on Saturday, June 16, the school officers meeting in the court rooms, the athletic contests at the fair grounds and the graduation exercises at the city auditorium. Pupils from every section of the county will be present to take part in the various contests which will determine the county champions. A large number of prizes to be awarded the winners will be given by the Thief River Falls Commercial club. During the past several weeks Superintendent Sande has been busily engaged in conducting play days in each section where representatives were selected to take part in the county meet.

A large class of rural pupils will be graduated from the eighth grade at that time, the exact number not being known at this writing. The exercises include an address by Geo. Selke, of the state department of education.

Program

In brief the program for the day is as follows:

10:00-11:45 School officers session in Court Room.

10:00-11:45 Athletic Events at Fair Grounds.

11:45-100 Lunch at Fair Grounds.

11:45-2:30 Athletic Events.

1:15-2:30 School Officers session at Court Room.

2:30-4:00 Graduation Exercises at auditorium.

4:30-6:00 Moving picture "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" at the Princess theatre.

Ole R. Sande, superintendent of the Pennington county schools, has submitted to The Times a message to patrons and pupils of the county concerning the event and gives detailed information regarding its various features.

County Graduation

"We are spending a vast sum of money on rural schools without any apparent aim, or objective, and we know that aimless activity results in wasted cash and energy.

LUTHER LEAGUERS MEET IN ROSEAU JUNE 23-24

Prominent Churchmen Will Address Convention of Thief River Falls Circuit

The fourth annual convention of the Young Peoples' Luther League of the Thief River Falls Circuit will be held in Roseau, Saturday and Sunday, June 23 and 24. The English Lutheran congregation in the village will be host to the visiting delegates and pastors.

Prof. C. M. Weswig, head of the department of Historical Theology at Luther Seminary, St. Paul, and Prof. J. A. Aasgaard, president of Concordia College, Moorhead, will be here for the convention. Both men stand high in the educational work of the church and are able speakers.

In brief, the program of the convention can be outlined as follows: On Saturday afternoon there will be the business session, and in the evening the convention theme, "Loyalty to Home, Church and Country," will be discussed. Sunday morning divine services will be held, with Prof. J. A. Aasgaard preaching the sermon. Prof. C. M. Weswig will deliver an address in the afternoon, after which a choral concert will be given by the combined choirs of the district. At the evening session Prof. Weswig will speak.

The district includes the territory from Baudette south to St. Hilaire and from Grygla west to Halma. Fourteen pastors serving about thirty congregations are included. Preparations are being made by the members of the Roseau congregation to entertain at their homes the sixty delegates and the pastors who are expected to attend, and to give cordial reception to the fifteen hundred other visitors who, it is anticipated, will attend the meetings if the roads and weather are favorable.

The present officers of the Thief River Falls Circuit League are: Rev. C. M. Grimsrud, St. Hilaire, president; Mr. John Nyatul, Middle River, vice president; Miss Ethel Ote, Roseau, secretary, and Mr. J. Steffanson, Strandquist, treasurer. Last year the convention was held at Middle River.

A large delegation of Thief River Falls people attended the convention at Middle River last year and it is expected that a large number will also make the trip to Roseau this year. The regular delegates to represent the local unit of the Luther League of the Trinity Lutheran church will be elected at the meeting of the league in the church parlors this evening.

Locals Will Meet Red Lake Falls Sunday; Lose To St. Hilaire

The initial baseball game of the season was lost to St. Hilaire on the local grounds last evening, the game being loosely played. The final score was 7 to 11.

Next Sunday the local aggregation will cross bats with the team from Red Lake Falls, the game being called at 2:30 in the afternoon. A hot contest is looked forward to.

A business meeting of the local baseball organizations was held Sunday forenoon at the club rooms of the American Legion and the following officers were selected to serve for the season: Charles Nason, president; T. M. Thronson, treasurer; D. R. Anderson, manager. W. A. Hall, Jr., Gust Crown and William Sheedy were named as directors.

The sale of season tickets for the club has already commenced and it is said that much success has attended those in charge of the sale. Tickets good for every game played this season will be sold at the nominal sum of $3 each.

THIS CITY IMPROVING FACILITIES FOR MEETING OF TOURIST TRADE

Many Vacationers Visiting Northern Minnesota Stop In Thief River Falls Daily

The usual stream of tourists seeking the resorts and attractions of northern Minnesota is evident in Thief River Falls, a large number of cars from various sections of the country stopping or passing thru this city on their sojourns. The fact that this city is on one of the main thoroughfares to the wonderful vacation land in the Lake of the Woods and Bemidji country makes it a popular stopping place for hundreds of travelers who visit this territory every year.

The tourist park on the banks of the Red Lake river at Lovers' Lane has been cleaned up and beautified by a crew of energetic citizens who got together last week, and is now a splendid asset to the city in its accomodations for the traveling motorist. An information bureau is being maintained at the office of the secretary of the Commercial club, J. J. McCann at the auditorium. It has also been decided by the Commercial club that the club quarters shall be made available as rest rooms. A sign will be placed across the street in front of the auditorium to indicate this to the stranger. The expenses connected with the construction of the sign will be defrayed by the Pennington Automobile club.

It is estimated that the tourist trade in Minnesota will soon mean to the state an annual cash income of one million dollars. This is indicated by the records of the Minneapolis Journal Travel and Resort bureau, according to W. S. Jones, business manager of the Journal who was here with the Minneapolis trade tourists.

"You are fortunately located in a section of this vacationland," said Mr. Jones, "where you are in the line of those who may stay for varying lengths of time or for those who are on their way to other points. In either case your community receives a call from the traveler with attendant expenditures and future possibilities which cannot be fore-seen. It is because the Journal sees in the development of the tourist traffic an actual important element in the future greatness of the state that it has established its extensive travel and resort bureau which last year sent thousands of travelers your way and is doing the same this year with greatly increased facilities for serving the public without charge. We invite your townpeople to take advantage of our free services covering all travel information.

"However, to get the best results from the tourist traffic every community should be alert to figure out a way for intercepting the stream. Small but adequate information bureaus perhaps in a business place on which all are agreed, should be established and the least that could be done would be to keep the Journal bureau advised of vacation facilities and road conditions."

Many Students in Local Schools are Winners In W.C.T.U. Essay Contest

WHEAT GROWERS OF MINNESOTA MEET IN THIEF RIVER FALLS

Jorgen Eide Chosen President of State Association at Meeting Yesterday

First Annual Gathering Addressed by Many Prominent Men Thruout State

The first annual meeting of the Minnesota Wheat Growers association was held in the commercial club rooms at the city auditorium yesterday. Delegates were present from various parts of the northwestern part of the state. The main event which took place was the forming of a board of directors.

Orderly marketing seems to be the only salvation of the distressed farmer. Conditions have been going from bad to worse from year to year despite the promises of the various political factions to bring good times. The farmer has now taken the matter in their own hands and has decided that the only way out is the new idea or rather the application of the old idea of co-operative marketing, of pooling the grain with an organization strong enough to make the farmer a liberal advance on his products in the fall and spread the sales over a period of about ten months, instead of dumping the entire crop, or nearly so, on the market in one or two months, thereby spoiling the market and making opportunities ideal for the wheat gambler and the speculator, were almost necessities under the old system.

The Wheat growers association has been in operation in several states for some years and has proved a big success where ever it has had a try-out. It has handled and marketed grain for about a quarter of a cent, last year the cost was about three-eighths of a cent. Comparing this with the fee charged by the commissioners in the board of trade who charge two cents for selling the grain and there is a distinct saving to the farmer of over a cent and a half. Besides the association brings the farmer a much higher price. An instance in Washington and Oregon where a particular grade of wheat which was produced in that territory was sold for about twenty-two cents below the market price for hard wheat on account of the softness of the grain. The association, found that this particular grain was worth more than the average hard wheat on account of the gluten content and after the association took over the marketing of the wheat in that region the farmers received a twenty-five cent premium for their grain.

The tobacco associations have increased the price the tobacco grower was getting for his raw product from about eleven and fourteen cents to thirty-three cents. These are but a few instances of the benefits derived from the co-operative marketing of the products.

Dies After 10 Days Siege of Pneumonia

Harold G. Haraldson, 50, Passes Away Suddenly While Working At Big Falls

Harold G. Haroldson of this city, who was employed at Big Falls, succumbed to pneumonia last Friday, May 31, after only ten days illness. He was taken sick at Big Falls but was taken to a hospital in International Falls where he died. It was a heavy shock to his surviving family, none of them being able to be present at the time death occurred.

Mr. Haroldson, who was 50 years of age at the time of his demise, was born in Freeborn county, this state, and came to this community about twelve years ago. During that time he was engaged in farming in this vicinity and was for awhile employed by the Minneapolis Bridge company. He was at one time janitor of the First National Bank building.

To mourn his departure are his wife and five children, who reside in this city. The children are, Torgus, Bertha, Herbert, Omer and an infant baby. The heartfelt sympathy of many friends goes to the bereaved family in their sorrow. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Anna Asland and a brother Ed. Haraldson, both of this city.

The body was shipped to Thief River Falls for burial, the funeral taking place from the Trinity Lutheran church this afternoon. Rev. C. M. Grimsrud of St. Hilaire officiated in the absence of Rev. Sweger, the local pastor. Interment was made in the Greenwood cemetery.

Picnic At High Landing Sunday

The High Landing Community Welfare club will have a picnic at the High Landing picnic grounds next Sunday, June 10. A program of addresses, vocal and instrumental numbers has been arranged and a baseball game between Grygla and High Landing and other events will be the features of the day. This is the second annual picnic sponsored by the club. A meeting was held in the schoolhouse in district No. 47 last Sunday. A fine program was given including a good constructive speech regarding farm legislation by Senator C. L. Hanson of Thief River Falls.

BRADLEY IS SUED FOR $10,000 BY DISSMISSED CHIEF

E. O. Erickson, Formerly Chief of Police, Starts Court Action To Regain Reputation

Affidavit Alleging Bribery Signed By Bradley is Ground For Damage Suit

E. O. Erickson, until recently chief of police of this city, has brought a suit for $10,000 against C. B. Bradley, local barber, alleging that the following affidavit signed by the latter maliciously caused the former chief to lose the confidence and good will of the people of Thief River Falls and its mayor, the latter to the extent that Erickson was deposed.

Affidavit Complained Of

State of Minnesota, County of Pennington, ss.

Charles B. Bradley, being duly sworn, on his oath says that at various times between August, 1920, and about February 1, 1923, he paid various sums of money ranging from $1.00 to $25.00 in amount, aggregating about $35.00 to E. O. Erickson, Superintendent of Police for the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota; the payments were made at various places in said city and to begin with upon affiant's suggestion; that such payments were made upon the understanding that he, the said Erickson, was to hold his head in the air and overlook things that might happen; that said Erickson never interfered with affiant's business in any manner thereafter; that no other official of the said city of the county of Pennington were in any way connected with said transaction, or in any similar transaction to my knowledge.

C. B. BRADLEY,

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of April, 1923.

H. O. CHOMMIE.

Notary Public, Pennington County, Minnesota.

My commission expires June 18, 1926. (Seal)

Court action was started Thursday of last week, G. Halvorson being engaged as Erickson's attorney. The case may come up in the district term of court which convenes here the latter part of this month, depending upon the action taken by the defendants attorney. Bradley has twenty days in which to file an answer, according to law.

At several occasions during the past year Mr. Bradley has been subject to arrests and raids for violating the liquor laws, but is alleged to have stated that the enforcement officials were susceptible to bribes. These assertions finally culminated in the sworn affidavit which Erickson alleges led to his dismissal by Mayor Bratrud. Regaining his reputation thru court action is Mr. Erickson's chief object in this case, he says.

Pioneer Who Came 40 Years Ago Dies

Rasmus Aaseby, Father of Local Business Man, Passes Away At Age of 73

Rasmus Olai Aaseby, aged father of Iver Aaseby, of this city, one of the early pioneers of this section, passed away at the Physicians hospital Thursday, May 30, the cause of his death being heart trouble. He had been subject to asthma for some time, his health having been failing since six years ago, when he was the victim of a serious accident. He was taken to the hospital on Wednesday where he died the following day.

Mr. Aaseby was born in Nordfjord, Norway, August 15, 1850, and came to the United States with his family 41 years ago. He resided at Benson, Minn., for a year, when he moved to this section and filed on a homestead nine miles west of Thief River Falls. The first homestead was his home until his health became such that he had to move to live at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. K. Lockrem. His wife died eleven years ago and only a son and a daughter survive. They are Iver Aaseby, garageman of this city, and Mrs. Christine Lockrem, wife of Rev. Lockrem west of the city.

The funeral took place Friday at the Lanstad cemetery where the remains were interred. Rev. C. M. Grimsrud of St. Hilaire officiated.

Bible School For Children

Beginning next Monday, June 11, a Bible School for children will be conducted at the Presbyterian church, according to anouncement made yesterday by Rev. Chas. Gerlinger. The sessions, which are held from 9 until 11:30 o'clock in the morning of the five regular school days, will continue for a period of twenty days.

The pupils will be placed in three different departments: the primary, junior and intermediate. The work consists of singing, learning hymns, Bible memory work, Bible stories, missionary instruction and practical work in basket making and other hand work.

The instructors are Misses Minnie Leavitt, Lois Nicholson, Edith Patten, [illegible] Kingdom and Rev. Chas. Gerlinger, pastor of the church. Children are invited to attend the school.

Both Winners of W. C. T. U. Essay Contest In School District No. 26

In an effort to enlighten the pupils of the public schools of the country on the evil effects of the use of alcoholic beverages and tobacco, especially in the form of cigarettes, and in order to be of service to the teachers in their effort to meet the requirements of the law that proper instruction be given in morals, in physiology and hygiene and in the effects of narcotics and stimulants, the W. C. T. U. has conducted an essay contest in all the public schools. This contest was recently completed and prizes awarded to Vivian Olson and second prize to Bertha Stene both from district No. 26. First prize consists of a check for $5.00 and second prize of a chain of rose beads donated by A. A. Wangenstein, local jeweler.

Both the winners in the contest and their teacher, Hattie E. Anderson, are to be highly complemented upon their interest, attention to instructions, and willingness to do a little hard work, qualities that always win.

NURSE INJURED WHEN INSANE MAN BREAKS OUT FROM HOSPITAL

Theo. Gernaudt, a Young Farmer Near City, Overtaken On Street in Flight

Theodore Gernaudt, a farmer residing four miles southwest of the city towards St. Hilaire, about 30 years of age, who had been confined to the Physicians hospital for treatment Monday afternoon, broke away from the attendants at the hospital about ten o'clock that evening and made an attempt to escape into the streets. The patient had been brought here by his father, Christian Gernaudt, who had been notified by the younger Gernaudt's wife that he was acting suspiciously.

In his attempted break-away from the local hospital the insane man pushed one of the nurses down the stairs, it is reported, when she tried to quiet him down. She sustained a badly bruised ankle as a result of the tumble. He was dressed only in his sleeping garments when he rushed for the street. A nearby resident heard the tumult but upon trying to stop Gernaudt was struck in the face, the latter fleeing towards the alley across the street with intentions of going home.

The police was called and Gernaudt was finally overtaken by Night Patrolman Ralston assisted by Chas. Evenson who placed him in the jail over night. The following afternoon he was taken before a medical examining board consisting of Dr. O. F. Mellby and Dr. J. T. Bowers, County Attorney Theo. Quale and Judge of Probate Lars Backe, and committed to the state hospital at Fergus Falls.

Gernaudt has not shown signs of insanity previously, it was brought out at the hearing, and he is now out of his mind only in spells, otherwise being quite rational and knowing of his mental dearrangment. On Monday, it is said, he tried to drown his children in a wash tub at his farm home. This together with other peculiar actions caused Mrs. Gernaudt to notify his father. There appears to be no particular cause of the mental condition of the young farmer. He stated himself that it was the first time his mind had failed him in this manner. Gernaudt expressed hope that the treatment at the state institution would restore him to a normal condition and went willingly when told that he would have to be committed to the asylum.

He is married and has five children.

Moves Barber Shop

J. A. Ralston, whose quarters were destroyed in the fire which swept the Times building about two weeks ago, has moved his barber shop to the building formerly occupied by Bennie Vigen on LaBree avenue. His stay there will be only temporary, however, as he will return to his former location as soon as the building is repaired. The contractors started work yesterday.

Thief Riverite at Naval School Will Make Tour To Europe On Cruise

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Melgaard that their son, John, who is a student at the Annapolis Naval Academy, will take part in the summer cruise to Europe, where the naval students will visit several of the principal countries and cities. The cruise will set sail June 8, the first stop being Copenhagen, Denmark, where they will remain for a period of two weeks. During his stay there John intends to make a brief trip into Norway to visit his uncle who resides in Christiania. From Copenhagen the journey will be continued to Glasgow, Scotland and thence to Madrid, Spain, with stops at various other points of interest. Young Melgaard is very enthusiastic about the expedition, it being one of the big features of interest in training at the national academy. According to present plans John will be home on a furlough some time in September, following their return from the cruise. Friends of the local young man will be pleased to know [illegible]

MAN KILLED WHILE CROSSING IN FRONT OF G. N. LOCOMOTIVE

Fatal Accident Occurs at St. Hilaire When Ole Skottom Is Run Over

Struck Down By Locomotive Starting Suddenly When Directly In Front Of It

Injuries sustained when run over by a locomotive caused the death of Ole Skottom, residing at St. Hilaire, Thursday last week. Skottom, about 40 years of age, was residing with his father near the village of St. Hilaire and was employed at the elevator there.

The tragedy occurred about 2:30 in the afternoon Thursday when Skottom walked across the tracks on his way to the station. Just as he was right in front of the locomotive, which was switching in the yard, the engine was started and Skottom was caught on the pilot and dragged for a distance of about forty feet.

The locomotive passed over the man's left leg and caused several internal injuries and gashes elsewhere on his body. He was immediately taken to Dr. Regners office and Dr. H. W. Froehlich summoned from this city, leaving for St. Hilaire at once. Before he came Skottom had lost much blood, but in an effort to save his life he was taken to the Physicians hospital here, where he died about three hours later. The injuries were of such a nature that surgical skill was unable to save the victim of the terrible accident.

The funeral took place at St. Hilaire last week. Deceased was not married.

Picnic At Goodridge June 17

The Sunday school of Goodridge will have a picnic at the Sig Anderson farm about six miles northeast from the village on Sunday, June 17. A picnic dinner will be enjoyed at noon, those in attendance requested to bring their lunch baskets. Coffee will be furnished by a committee at the grounds. A program of addresses, singing and music has been arranged and everyone is assurred an enjoyable day. A feature of the program will be an address by Ole R. Sande of Thief River Falls, county superintendent of the Pennington county schools. Salver Tharaldson of Goodridge, a member of the arrangement committee, who was here yesterday, stated that plans were being made for a splendid event.

LATEST INGRAM FILM A TRIUMPH

"Where the Pavement Ends" a Beautiful Picture of Tremendous Appeal

Rex Ingram has scored again. We have never been able to write anything less than that about one of Mr. Ingram's productions and probably we never shall. This director seems satisfied with nothing less than perfection, not a mere technical perfection but that super-perfection which means artistic realism, finesse and distinction—and all of these he has attained in his latest production for Metro, "Where the Pavement Ends," which will be presented at the Lyceum theater Sunday and Monday.

"Where the Pavement Ends" is different from anything Mr. Ingram has ever done, but it bears that stamp of real genius which characterized "The Four Horsemen," "The Prisoner of Zenda" and "Trifling Women." It is an extraordinary photoplay in every particular, in direction, acting, settings, story and photography.

It is a tale of how love came into the life of the daughter of a South Seas missionary. What better setting for a tale of romance than the far away islands of the Southern Pacific. Here is romance in its essence. The very atmosphere breeds romance—the clean, white beaches leaping in the brilliant sun, the tall, waving palms against a glowing sunset, the soothing breezes of a moonlit night. And all this strange, exotic atmosphere of luxuriant nature and heart-filling romance is transferred to the screen with amazing reality.

Little wonder that Matilda dreamed of love, and little wonder that love came to her in so strange a way. But the path of love for her was not smooth. There was Gregson, the villainous trader, and enemy of the man she loved. He was the richest man on the island and her father wanted her to marry him. And Gregson wanted her. The conflict between the man who symbolized love and the man who represented passion brings the story to a thrilling and satisfying climax.

Beautiful Alice Terry portrays the part of the missionary's daughter with remarkable skill. Ramon Novarro plays opposite her with magnificent power and appeal. Edward Connelly, as the missionary, and Harry T. Morey, as Gregson, display rare ability.

NEW YORK DRY LAW IS REPEALED

Calls on Congress for "Common Sense" Maximum for Beverages.

Albany, N. Y.—Governor Smith signed the legislature's bill wiping the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act off the statute books. And he went further. Accoding to the urging of his friends that he strike a note in a campaign for the return of light wines and beer, he denounced the one-half of one per cent alcoholic beverage content provided in the Volstead act as "the work of fanatical drys," calling on Congress to modify it to a "comomn sense" maximum, and then leave each state free to set a figure below that maximum if it so desires.

The governor emphasized, however, that the mere repeal of the Mullan-Gage act, accompanied by his signature, did not alter the effectiveness of the Volstead act in its present form as long as it stands unmodified, and served notice on all peace officers of the state that they would be expected to "enforce the Volstead act in its strictest letter."

U.S. RESUME MEXICAN PARLEY

Agrarian Problem as Concerns Payment for Lands Is Discussed.

Mexico City—The Mexican and United States recognition commissioners met to continue their discussion of the agrarian problem as it concerns payment for lands owned by American citizens but expropriated by Mexico for division among the small agriculturalists.

The Obregon spokesmen defend the right to indemnify the American owners with state and national bonds but the United States commissioners assert that the constitution of 1857 provided for indemnification in money. They also contend that in order to reestablish confidence between Mexico and the other powers it is necessary to set forth the basis on which property rights will be recognized by Mexican law at the time when property is acquired.

Chinese Outlaws Receive Negotiators With Flourish of Bugles.

Tsao Chwang—Roy Anderson, one of the men who has been acting as an intermediary between the bandits and the Chinese officials, that "great progress has been effected" in the negotiations with the outlaws who are holding as captives foreigners taken in the Suchow train raid.

He said the negotiators were received by the bandits "with a fanfare of trumpets and a guard of honor." The utmost cordiality prevailed and the bandits, with an entire change of front, listened with respect to terms which they had only recently scorned, Anderson said.

CONVICTS REFUSE TO WORK

Men Take Action as News of Abolishment of Whip Reaches Them.

Tallahassee, Fla.—The first "reactions" from Florida's convict reform of banning corporal punishment were reported to the commissioner of agriculture from three sources and in telegrams and letters.

D. A. Ewing, president of the West Florida Naval Stores company of Pensacola, which leases county convicts under a practice that will be abolished January 1, told the commissioner his prisoners were refusing to work. Similar reports were made by the warden of state road camp No. 12

URGES AMERICA ENTER COURT

125,000 Congregations Are Asked to Support Harding.

Washington—A call to 125,000 congregations in America to rally to the support of President Harding's proposal that the United States enter the permanent court of international justice was issued here by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

"A day of great decision for our country and the world has now arrived," says the call, adding that the issue which the world presents embodies the age-long conflict between law and force."

AT THE HOSPITALS

Swedenburg

Mrs. Max Krause, residing near the city, left the hospital Tuesday after having undergone an opeartion for appendicitis. She is getting along very well.

Marian, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mrs. Paula Gray, has returned to her home after having had her tonsils removed.

Herbert Person of Karlstad had his tonsils removed Saturday.

Peter Nelson of Hazel, who suffered a severe skull fracture when he was struck in the forehead by a large hook suspended on a swinging crane recently, is now out of bed and is able to walk about. Considering the nature of the injury it is miraculous that he survived. He is now getting along very nicely and it is expected that he will be able to return to his home within a few days, apparently well.

Julius Faimane, formerly a watchmaker in Thief River Walls, was brought here last week from Holt for medical care. He is in a very serious condition and there is little hope for recovery, as he is afflicted with a general involvement of the brain.

Miss Clara Engen underwent a minor operation last week.

The one year old child of Fred Ose, Germantown route, was brought to the hospital last week for medical aid, something having entered the eye and causing considerable trouble. The child is now entirely recovered.

NATIONAL WHEAT MEET CHICAGO, JUNE 19-20

A national conference to discuss problems confronting agriculture is to be held in Chicago June 19 and 20. The call, issued last week, is signed by Governor J. A. O. Preus of Minnesota, the governors of Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Arthur Capper, O. E. Bradfute, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Aaron Sapiro, nationally known agricultural economist and others.

"The dissatisfied condition of a large proportion of our agricultural population today is very largely due to the price of wheat, which relatively speaking, is lower than it has been for half a century," the call says.

The conference will seek a solution to this situation, which "seriously imperils the structure upon which our prosperity is built." Representatives of organized agriculture, commerce elevators, railroads, millers, bakers, retailers, and educational bodies are asked to attend.

3,000 ACRES OF POTATOES SIGNED

Three thousand acres of potatoes in Minnesota already are under contract to the new co-operative sales agency. This announcement was made last week by Walter Oby of Detroit, treasurer of the state organization committee. First contracts were circulated two weeks ago, the start having been made at Bemidji, where 23 out of 25 growers present at the organization meeting signed the agreement. To E. E. Shulke of Ten Strike, Beltrami county, went the honor of having been first to sign.

By June 3, 250 growers had signed and the number was increased daily. County committees are at work in Beltrami, Becker, Red Lake and Clearwater counties.

There is a shortage of ministers. If congregations would pay higher salaries maybe the pulpits would be filled every Sunday, and young men would consecrate their services to God.—Mankato Free Press.

Here's a Business for Thief River Falls

GOOD FOR

$6,000 to $12,000 Yearly!

In a North Carolina town of 13,000 Mr. Miller is clearing $1,200 a month net profits. Throughout the country prosperous owners of Electrik Maid Bake Shops are making real money, baking bread the clean, electrical way. They find a demand that taxes their output from the very start.

No Previous Experience Needed

With a small investment and a willingness to "dig in" you can own and successfully operate an Electrik Maid Bake Shop in your own community. We supply the equipment, experience, and proven methods to success.

You enter a staple cash business. Everybody likes the idea of bread and pastries baked by electricity, and they'll go a long way to get it. The bakery business is in the front rank of American industries.

More Examples of What You Can Do

In a Minnesota city Mr. Weber started on borrowed capital. In 1 year he paid for his equipment—paid up his loan—bought and paid for his own store building; all this out of his profits. Henry Larson in Iowa reports $68,000 sales last year. Mr. Sanders, a man 60 years of age, in a town of 4,000 writes: "My profits have averaged fully $400 a month net to me." In a small South Carolina town of 10,000 Mr. Briesey is showing monthly profits of $550 net.

Write or Wire for Particulars

You owe it to yourself to investigate. This is the opportunity you have been waiting for to get into a lifetime paying business.

Ottertail County Couple Parents of 21 Children

Race suicide is not popular in the town of Corliss, Ottertail county, where Mr. and Mrs. Sam G. Wallace are the parents of 21 children, the 21st arrival a 12-pound son, being announced the first day of June. The family consisted of 14 sons and seven daughters, 18 of whom are living. There are also 45 grand children and three great grand children. Mr. Wallace is 60 years old.

The Bemidji authorities do not falter even when dealing with members of the fairer sex. Last week Binia Revoir was arranged in municipal court on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated and was fined $100 by acting judge C. C. Pegelow. She was also forbidden to drive her car in the state of Minnesota for a period of three months. She was arraigned later on a liquor charge and was fined an additional $100. Both fines were paid. Two colored women were arraigned in court on a vagrancy charge and both were sentenced to 30 days in jail, the sentence being suspended if they would leave the city.

Fire Destroys Creamery

The creamery at Rindal, an inland town near Gully, was destroyed by fire Thursday, May 24, the total loss being placed at about $10,000, partly covered by insurance. The fire started in an adjoining feedmill and before sufficient aid could be summoned the creamery was a mass of flames. The fire fighters succeeded in saving practically the entire equipment. The creamery will be rebuilt at once.

Seed Corn Time

The time for planting corn is not so very far distant. In the good old days a well formed healthy looking cob was selected for seed without first determining the percentage of germination. Times have changed and farming has become a highly developed science. Now, in order to be assured of a bumper yield, every farmer tests his seed corn.

Seed can be tested between damp cloths just as well as in an expensive seed tester. During the past few years we have given away a great many Caruguss Seed Testers, we still have a few on hand and will gladly fill requests while they last.

Think of Oil in Terms of 1923

IN considering the oil business as it is today, we must think in terms of 1923 and not in terms of 1913 — which was before such unheard of impetus had been given to the automotive industry.

In 1913 there were but 1,287,000 motor vehicles registered in the United States, while the year ending December 31, 1922, saw a total registration of 12,239,114 — an increase of 900%.

The magnitude of the oil business is so vast that no man can visualize it clearly. It is difficult to picture the needs of 12¼ million automobiles, to say nothing of the vast gallonage needed to supply tractors, stationary gas engines, and the demand for gasoline coming from the arts and industries generally.

The problem of supplying 12¼ million cars is quite different from the problem confronting the industry a decade ago when but 1¼ million cars were in commission.

The adaptation to a changing situation meant the making over of the petroleum industry.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has retained its leadership by expanding its facilities both in the manufacture and distribution rapidly enough to meet the insistent demand for greater service.

During the past ten years the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has grown as the need for its products and service has grown. This ever-increasing demand for petroleum products has made it necessary for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to expand its facilities to an extraordinary degree. Yet, with its multiplied facilities, the Company finds that all its energies are absorbed in meeting the demand for its products from 30 million people in the ten Middle Western States it serves.

While proud of the service it has rendered in the past, the Standard Oil Company today is thinking in terms of 1923 and the years to come.

Orlando Aga and family left Saturday for Ridgeway, Iowa, near Decorah, where they will make their future home. They made the trip by car. The Aga family has resided in this community the past eleven years, Mr. Aga having operated a farm two miles south of this city. He recently exchanged farms with Lawrence Hov of Ridgeway, the latter who will arrive here with his family within a short time to take over the Aga farm.

R. J. Halvorson, printer in the Times shop, was painfully injured last Friday when a heavy crowbar fell on his foot while he was taking out machinery from the derbis caused by the recent fire. The following day he was taken to the Physicians hospital where he has been receiving medical treatment this week. Altho no bones are broken the victim will be unable to be at work for a while owing to the painful nature of the bruise.

Mrs. Julia Tandberg, daughters Emma and Esther, and son, Elmer, left Friday morning by car for Northfield to attend the graduation exercises at St. Olaf college. On their return the latter part of the week they will be accompanied by Miss Agnes Tandberg, who has completed her second year at that institution. She has been engaged as instructor in the parochial school conducted by the Trinity Lutheran church, which opens next Monday. On their sojourn the Tandberg family will also visit with relatives and friends in the twin cities, Rochester and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Will, Sr., daughter Lorraine and son Buell, returned Sunday morning from a week's visiting with relatives and friends in the twin cities, Watertown, Oconomowoc and Milwaukee, Wis. While in Wisconsin they spent some time camping at the lakes in the section where they were visiting. In Minneapolis they visited at the home of Mrs. Will's sister.

Misses Julia Brodvick, Louina Poirier and Elsie Granum, all of who have been attending the state teacher's college at Moorhead the past year, are expected to return to their parental homes in this city Friday of this week. They completed the normal course in the local high school and have now finished the first year at the state college, which closes the spring term June 8.

Henry Vorlickey and Martin Johnson left the first part of the week for Bemidji and the iron range, expecting to stop at Hibbing where they intend to secure employment for the summer. Mr. Vorlickey, who graduated from the Thief River Falls high school this spring, may decide to attend the state teachers' college at Bemidji during the summer term. They are making the trip by car.

To Attend Church Conference

Rev. T. E. Sweger, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, will leave tomorrow for Minneapolis where he will attend the annual meeting of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, the sessions of which will open Friday. The conference will continue for one week.

To Play With Aberdeen Band

According to information received by friends in this city Roy Flattum, formerly of Thief River Falls, now a junior at St. Olaf College, has signed up to play with the band in Aberdeen, S. D., during his summer vacation. Roy, who is an accomplished artist on the French horn, is a member of the noted St. Olaf band, which organization made a very successful tour thru several of the large cities of the country.

Torger Tharaldson arrived Thursday night from La Crosse, Wis., being called here by the serious illness of his eldest son, Tillman, who passed away Saturday morning. Mr. Tharaldson is doing organization work for the Nonpartisan league in Wisconsin and states that he has met with considerable success in the territory surrounding La Crosse since he came out there this spring. The crops there looked very favorable but the fields in some sections were suffering slightly from the lack of rain. Mr. Tharaldson expects to visit here with his family until the first part of next week, when he intends to return to La Crosse to resume his organization activities.

PIANO TUNING

Mr. S. S. Bright, a qualified tuner from the Metropolitan Music Co., Minneapolis, will be in Thief River Falls again sometime during June. Those desiring his services kindly leave your name with Mrs. G. Halvorson. He also sells Steinway, Ivers-Pond and Ludwig Pianos, Pianola Player Pianos. Have some good bargains in second hand pianos. All sold on easy terms. If interested leave your name at Halvorson's. J7

Martin Longren of the Times force motored to Schilling Friday afternoon, returning on Sunday evening. He said that the roads into that section are not very good at the present.

Entered as second-class matter at the Postoffice at Thief River Falls, Minnesota

(Official Paper, Pennington County)

Now that we have paid proper respect to our war dead, let us remember the debt we owe the living, the boys who bled and died for us, who left home and loved ones for us. It is well to remember that we are a forgetful people and that we must ever be mindful of the gratitude we owe the living, as well as the dead.—Murray County Herald.

THE OLD ODER CHANGETH

"There is money on the farm if the farm boys of today applied themselves to the job as did the boys of a generation ago," how often does one hear that statement? The complaint is that the automobile and the pavilion dance has greatly lessened the efficiency of the younger help, and some of the boys maintain that if they can't have diversion and variety they don't want to stay on the farm at all. We are living in a complex age, and the most complex problem of all is youth. — Belle Plaine Herald.

STIMULATING INTEREST IN PUREBREDS

Everywhere the people are coming more and more to the realization of the essential value of purebred stock. At Cambridge, this state, better livestock on the farms in that community was given another boost when a purobred Holstein bull, six months old, and a Duroc-Jersey brood sow were given away at a Bargain day recently. Thirty-nine business firms of the city have joined in the movement which it is felt will assure the surrounding country of a more prosperous future, by placing purebred cattle and hogs on the farms. The farmers are taking a great deal of interest in the idea and the business men in this way assist in building up herds of the best quality.

ENFORCING SPEED LAWS

Speed maniacs in Minneapolis were brought to the realization of laws and regulations last week when 130 motorists were summoned before the municipal judge in one day, half of them to answer to charges of speeding. Four were given straight workhouse sentences of twenty days, others were given twenty-four hours to sell their cars and ordered to stay out of automobiles for a year, and others were assessed stiff fines. Eighteen went to jail when they were unable to raise the fine money.

Treatment of this kind should be exercised wherever careless autoists are found. Strict enforcement of the speed and traffic laws is necessary to safeguard the traveling public. In giving the sentences the judge said, "We have been too easy in the matter. Hereafter persons will pay their fines or go to jail."

3,000 ACRES POTATOES SIGNED BY EXCHANGE

Committee of Growers to Conduct Organization in Pennington County is Named

Three thousand acres of potatoes in Minnesota already are under contract to the new co-operative sales agency. This announcement was made last week by Walter Oby of Detroit, treasurer of the state organization committee. First contracts were circulated two weeks ago, the start having been made at Bemidji, where 23 out of 25 growers present at the organization meeting signed the agreement. To E. E. Shulke of Ten Strike, Beltrami county, went the honor of having been first to sign.

By June 3, 250 growers had signed and the number was increasing daily. County committees are at work in Pennington, Beltrami, Becker, Red Lake and Clearwater counties.

The committee which will have charge of activities of the association in Pennington county is composed of the following potato growers:

Jens Letnes, Halvor Folstad, T. K. Rynestad, Chas. Correll, P. A. Peterson, K. O. Loyland, S. E. Hunt, S. O. Lee, Paul Engelstad, Henry Oen and Vivian Copp, all of Thief River Falls; B. B. Rammer, Kratka; O. K. Sevre, Ben Rosendahl, R. J. McKercher, all of St. Hilaire; Carl Beiswenger, Kratka; Alfred Benson and Jens Almquist, St. Hilaire; Iver A. H. Johnson, Wylie; O. J. Dahl, Rosewood; Arne Vik, St. Hilaire; S. M. Weberg, St. Hilaire; A. B. Anderson, Thief River Falls, Box 814; F. T. Satre, St. Hilaire.

Olaf Ramstad was elected to serve as president of the new Pennington county association; F. T. Satre, vice president; Senator C. L. Hansen, vice president; J. J. McCann, secretary and treasurer.

U. of N. D. Band Plays In Outdoor Concert

The University of North Dakota Military Concert Band visited Thief River Falls last Friday afternoon and evening. The organization, which consisted of twenty-five selected musicians from the university band of fifty members, pleased a large audience at the open air concert given in the evening at the corner of LaBree avenue and Fourth street. The band is directed by Prof. Beldleman of the university faculty, who was in the city last winter in a concert given by the Boys Glee club. Of the splendid selections rendered was one in which Keith Sandberg of Crookston, well known to many local people, appeared as soloist. The boys arrived here by car from Crookston where they played Thursday. They remained in this city until Saturday morning when they left for Red Lake Falls where they concluded their three-day tour Saturday evening.

News of Minnesota
EVENTS of the week throughout the "State of Ten Thousand Lakes" told in brief form

Hibbing — The Power-for-senator campaign was organized when a mass meeting elected officers for the booster club.

Owatonna—The opening of the June term of the Steele county district court will face a heavy calendar of civil cases, 137 suits being slated.

Owatonna—A class of 75 members, the largest in Owatonna high school history, received diplomas at the 47th annual commencement exercises here.

Fort Ripley — The Parker-Kellogg sawmill was totally destroyed by fire originating, it is believed, from sparks falling on the roof on the building from the chimney.

St. Cloud—That the Cathedral high school ranks as one of the best in the state was the compliment Father Guenwald brought to the students from the state public examiner of the state university. He said Cathedral high will be recommended for a place in the Northwest Educational association, whereby its diplomas will be recognized in the northwestern states.

Rochester—Lecture sessions, surgical clinics and a dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Mayo, marked the day's events in the annual four-day session here of the American Medical Surgical association. More than 100 fellows of the association are attending, chiefly coming from eastern medical centers. Many of America's most famous surgeons are attending.

Cambridge—Better livestock on the farms surrounding this city was given another boost when a purebred Holstein bull, six months old and a Duroc-Jersey brood sow were to be given away at the second Bargain day here this season.

St. James—Mrs. T. S. Mondale, wife of the Rev. T. S. Mondale of St. James, died after suffering two and one-half years from sleeping sickness, which paralyzed the lower half of her body. She was the first patient upon whom Doctors Rosenow and Waltman of Rochester stopped the spread of the disease.

Brainerd—A committee of the Brainerd lodge of Elks has had gold medals made for presentation to the valedictorians in the five high schools in the jurisdiction of the lodge.

Thief River Falls—Arthur E. Nelson, mayor of St. Paul, has accepted an invitation to make an address here on July 4, at which time the local post of the American Legion is planning to hold a celebration.

Rochester—A countywide meeting of breeders, bankers, newspaper and business men is to be conducted here June 11 to arrange for a "better sire" campaign. A permanent organization of the county association has already been perfected.

Ellendale—At least 1,000 farmers and businessmen of Steele and Freeborn counties are expected to attend the first annual picnic of district No. 5, Minnesota Co-operative Creameries association, which is to be conducted at Beaver Lake near here.

St. Paul—Money deposited by the state treasurer in the 1,050 banks throughout the state has earned $87,875 in the six months previous to March 31, reports from Henry Rines, state treasurer, showed. The interest money is turned into the state general fund, Mr. Rines said.

Albert Lea—A "charity frolic" is to be staged by the Elks lodge, June 11 to 16. A spectacle called Chinatown has been obtained by the entertainment committee, which promises the greatest amusement event ever put on here.

Springfield—The 21st annual convention of the Brown County Sunday School association will be conducted at Springfield June 11. Special music will be furnished by the Comfrey choir and the Evangelical choir of Sleepy Eye. Dr. C. G. Hohn of New Ulm, Professor E. N. Johnson of Sleepy Eye and state leaders will speak.

Austin—The purebred sire campaign begun in March in Mower county and which had to be discontinued on account of bad roads, will be continued. About 40 purebred sires were placed in the two weeks of active selling and the campaign managers expect to place about 60 more good sires between June 4 and 14.

Austin — Curves in the highways covering large areas rather than the short saucer is the method adopted by the Mower county commissioners to cut automobile accidents to a minimum and with the completion of another such curve this year there will be 29 in the county.

Rochester—Henry Schuster, on his 61st birthday, drove the first stake in the first oil drilling operations in southern Minnesota, among the apple trees on the Biglow farm, two miles east of Rochester. Tom Jones, engineer for the Rochester Oil and Development company, in charge of the operations, remarked as he held the stake for Mr. Schuster, "It was just a year ago today that I brought in a gas well in the Kansas fields."

"Til Saeters" Will Be Played At Satesdals Lag, Crookston June 20

One of the features at the annual convention of Satesdals Laget at Crookston June 20th and 21st will be the presentation of the Norwegian play "Til Saeters" by a group of Thief River Falls people. It was given with splendid success at the city auditorium a short time ago and thru arrangements made with the officials of the "lag" the lively comedy will form the outsanding part of the program on the evening of the 20th.

Those who comprise the cast are Mrs. Clara Backe Loveld of Middle River, Miss Carolyn Melby, Roy Prytz, J. Berry, Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, B. Dan Bjorkman, Carl Angell, E. P. Burstad and Dreng Bjornaraa. It is being played under the able direction of Mr. Berry, Mrs. O. F. Mellby furnishing the accompaniment.

The troupe will make the trip by car and will be accompanied by a large delegation of people from this city and surrounding communities who will attend the lag, some going mainly to see the play, which depicts typical phases of life on the "saeter" in Norway.

The Crookston armory is being provided for the holding of the meetings as it is expected there will be an unusually large gathering this year. The members of the Satesdals-laget reside mostly in the Red River Valley in Minnesota and North Dakota and plans were put under way at last summer's meeting to make the 1923 convention one of particular interest, according to officials of the organization, of whom are Olaf Neset and T. K. Rynestad of Thief River Falls. Bj. Bjornaraa of Wanke, is president of the society and at a recent meeting of the directors in this city announced that the arrangements were completed for a splendid gathering.

The Laget is composed of Americans who came originally from one certain section of Norway and the summer gatherings afford opportunity for the renewal of acquaintanceships and the exchange of reminiscences from "the old country."

MINNESOTA WHEAT GROWERS MEET AT THIEF RIVER FALLS

At the meeting yesterday Jorgen Elde a farmer near the city, was elected president of the state organization. J. B. Connor who has been serving as president up to this time requested that some one else be elected to that office as he would rather serve the movement in some other capacity if it was necessary.

The board of directors as appointed are: Wm. Bosworth, of Norman county; A. P. Bengtson, of Marshall; Jorgen Elde, of Pennington; Dan Suprenant of Polk; Ole O. Sageng, Ottertail; M. DeRosier, Red Lake; John Sorum, of Marshall; and A. E. Billie of Clay.

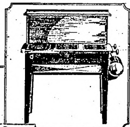
An executive committee of three was appointed by the board to act on matters requiring immediate consideration and thereby eliminating the expense of summoning the entire board. The committee consists of Jorgen Elde, Dan Suprenant, and W. H. Frederick.

The matter of publicity was taken up and discussed briefly and the publication of an official newspaper considered. This would undoubtedly be a big factor in furthering the interests of the organization, and it is considered quite possible.

Organizers are in the field now and the work is going on rapidly. The farmers are becoming more enthusiastic over the project and it is expected that a large majority of the farmers in this state who raise wheat to any extent will market it thru the association.

The Wheat Growers association of Minnesota, as do the other states, will pool thru the American Wheat Growers association which has operated several seasons. The American association has offices in Minneapolis. The Minnesota Wheat Growers association will have its headquarters in this city.

The Board will hold another meeting July 11.



The SAFETY TEST

The above illustration is a reproduction of an actual photograph made while the stove was burning and demonstrates its unusual safety. Let us show you this faster, better, safer stove.

Make Your Own Gas for Cooking

The Albert Lea Kitchenkook makes its own gas from common gasoline and produces a clear blue flame, entirely free from smoke, soot and odor. Saves hours of time in the kitchen every week because it is 50 to 100 per cent faster and hotter than other oil or gasoline stoves.

The Kitchenkook has no wicks; no chimneys to waste the heat by radiation, and the burners do not clog. Very reasonable prices.

PERSIAN QUAKE KILLS HUNDREDS

Thirty Villages Detsroyed and Entire Region Reported Devastated—2500 Killed.

London—Twenty-five hundred persons were killed and 30 villages destroyed by the earthquake that devastated the region around Turbati-Haidari in Eastern Persia according to official reports received from Teheran.

The earthquake lasted 15 minutes, shaking buildings to the ground and crushing their occupants. It left the entire rich valley, surrounded by mountains near the salt deserts, a stretch of ruins.

Because of the isolation of the district, made more complete by damage to roads and passes, the complete extent of the damage may not be known for months.

FASCISTI CLAIM 100,000 MEN

Coup d'etat to Put King on Throne Hinted—Muster Forces.

Paris—Leaders of the Camelots—French royalists who recently adopted the methods of the Italian Fascisti in war upon communism—claim to have 100,000 members enrolled.

While the police believe this number an exaggeration, gendarmes who raided the home of Real Deslartes, leader of a black shirted group which forced castor oil and other indignities upon communists found a list of 200 "teams."

The cabinet met and discussed the domestic situation created by disorders between communists and royalists, but refused to issue a communique. Some ministers are known to be of the opinion that monarchist coup d'etat to put a king, Philip VIII, on a throne of France in contemplated.

WISCONSIN DRY BILL IS UP

Move Like New York's Special Order Blaine May Take Hand.

Madison, Wis.—Wisconsin became the "next battleground of prohibition" when the wets and drys were aligned for a legislative struggle over proposed repeal of the state enforcement law.

Encouraged by Governor Al Smith's formal approval of the New York state enforcement repealer, anti-prohibition forces forced a motion through the Wisconsin lower house, making the Tucker bill, a duplicate of the New York repealer, a special order of business.

The order means that Wisconsin at that time will settle the fight over prohibition which has been as much an issue in state politics as in New York state, where "wets" have never ceased their onslaughts.

RAINS AID FIRE FIGHTERS

Cox Reports Situation Improved at Tower—Comments Men for Work.

Tower, Minn.—Rain fell, bringing aid to forest rangers and volunteers who have been fighting forest fires for 10 days, and who had nearly completed their task of cornering and stamping out, more than 100 small blazes.

W. T. Cox, state forester, who has been in personal comand of the fire fighters for four days, reported that the situation was greatly improved. He commended the men for their work.

"Only two bad fires are burning near Tower," Mr. Cox said, "and both of them will be under control soon, unless we have a change of wind."

FIXED ANNUITIES HELD OFFER

New Proposal From Berlin Expected in Few Days.

Berlin—No date has yet been fixed for the official dispatch of Germany's amendatory reparations note to the Entente powers. At government headquarters it is announced the cabinet has not reached its final deliberations on this subject.

It is generally assumed that the note will consists of a definite offer at, o week and that its cardinal feature will consist of a definite offer at a fixed number of annuities, for which tangible, guarantees secured by stringent legislation will be pledged.

SWISS VOTE ON PROHIBITION

Nationwide Referendum Called to Decide Steps by Government.

Geneva—A nation wide referendum on "dry" legislation started in Switzerland.

Voters are considering the question of extending the Swiss government's monopoly of control of alcohol, increasing taxation of spirits and instituting a fight against "alcoholism."

Port au Prince—The Haitian council of state has voted the extraordinary credit of $150,000 for road and bridge construction in addition to the extraordinary credit of $300,000 authorized last December for similar purposes. With this total of nearly half a million dollars, the public works program for the physical rehabilitation of Haiti will not only outstrip former estimates, but the problem of unemployment in the districts affected will be greatly ameliorated, and the money put in circulation will stimulate conditions.

MARTIN McANDRESS, PIONEER RESIDENT, DIES 90 YEARS OLD

Aged Couple Lived Together 67 Years. Passes Saturday After Lingering Illness

Martin McAndress, a resident of Pennington county for twenty-five years, passed away at his family home 321 Duluth avenue south last Saturday at the ripe old age of nearly 90 years. Death came after a lingering illness following a paralytic stroke in November last fall from which he did not recover. Since then he had been confined to his bed part of the time but was feeling fairly well, altho affected by the infirmities of old age and heart trouble, which were the causes of his death.

Mr. McAndress was one of the early pioneers of the Northwest having come here in 1874. He was born in Ireland and came to this country at the age of 18, first settling in Louis county, New York, where he was united in marriage to Marie Collins, who survives him. The marriage took place in 1856, having been married for a period of 67 years. Mrs. McAndress is still enjoying good health. In 1874 he moved with his family to Fillmore county where they resided until they again moved to St. Thomas, N. D., in 1881. They made their home there until in 1898 when they came to St. Hilaire and settled on a farm near the village. Eleven years ago he retired and moved to Thief River Falls, where he has made his home since. Deceased was engaged in farming the greater part of his life but had also worked in the lumber mills in the early days. Mr. McAndress was always a hard worker.

To the union of Mr. and Mrs. McAndress were born twelve children, nine of whom live. Those living are: Mrs. Hannah Sullivan, Crystal, N. D.; Mrs. J. S. O'Toole, Kinestono, Sask., Canada; John C., Spokane, Wash.; William, Minneapolis; Walter, Melfort, Sask., Canada; Michael and Martin, St. Hilaire; Patrick and Joseph, Thief River Falls. He is survived by 21 grand children and 24 great grandchildren.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from St. Bernard's Catholic church, Father Noeson officiating at the obsequies. The following friends of the deceased acted as pallbearers; P. J. Keating, Peter Geifer, M. H. Connelly, Frank Burgraff, John Schatz, and Wm. Shanahan. Out of town people who were present at the funeral exercises were Edward Langan, Thomas Healy and W. J. Rutherford, Wykoff, Minn.; Mrs. Wm. O'Sullivan, Mrs. Hannah Sullivan and Myrtle Sullivan, Crystal, N. D.; Mrs. J. C. McAndress, and Miss Rella McAndress, Fargo; Archie McAndress, Duluth; Michael and Martin McAndress, St. Hilaire; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Whalen and Thos. Whalen, Red Lake Falls.

Numedal Man Dies Of Tuberculosis

Edward Aaron Blomberg, the twenty-year old son of Mrs. Anna Blomberg of Numedal township near Viking, succumbed to pulmonary tuberculosis at the Oakland Park sanatorium Thursday morning, May 31. He entered the sanatorium about a month previous to his death in a very critical condition, the disease overpowering him in a short time.

The young man was born July 1, 1903, in Numedal township where he lived all his life until about a year ago when he went to Portland, Oregon, where he was employed. He returned the first part of March and was taken ill with tuberculosis which finally caused his demise at an early age.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his mother, two sisters and four brothers.

The funeral was held from the home Sunday afternoon, Rev. Werner Drotts conducting the services. Interment was made in the Viking cemetery, the body being shipped from Larson's undertaking parlors here. The following friends of the deceased acted as pall bearers: George Bugge, Clarence Johnson, David Samuelson, Teddy Westberg, Carl Brink and Melvin Jorlngdal. A large circle of friends extend their sympathy to the bereaved family.

POSSESSOR OF 'MOON' NABBED BY SHERIFF AFTER MERRY CHASE

Oscar Anderson, Farmer South of City, Arrested and Bound Over To District Court

When brought before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court last Friday morning charged with having in his possession one-half gallon of liquor illegally, Oscar Anderson, a farmer residing about four miles south of the city along the St. Hilaire road, waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the district term of court which convenes this month. Bonds to the amount of $500 were furnished.

Anderson was arrested Thursday evening by Sheriff O. L. Ihle who overtook him in his car at about ten o'clock in the evening. Ihle was on his return from a business trip to St. Hilaire and coming along the road passing the farm occupied by Anderson, he noticed a car coming from that place. The manner in which the car was driven aroused the suspicion of the sheriff and driving slowly was soon overtaken by the car which later proved to be operated by Anderson. The latter passed Ihle about two miles south of the city and continued at a high speed. The driver was recognized as Anderson when he passed and was followed up by the sheriff.

Upon reaching Thief River Falls Ihle speeded up and crowded Anderson's machine close to the curb in front of the library where the latter finally stopped his car. Ihle demanded a search and found in the car a water bottle containing half a gallon of what is generally termed as "moon," according to the sheriff. Possession was taken of the intoxicants and also the Ford car in which the liquor was found and Anderson placed in jail over night. He appeared in municipal court the following morning.

Boy, Aged 15, is Victim Of Acute Appendicitis

Tillman, the fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Torger Tharaldson residing at 224 Tindolph avenue north, died early Saturday morning, June 2, following an attack of appendicitis of the most acute kind.

He had been rather weak for some time but not seriously ill until Monday of last week when he became very sick and medical aid was summoned. The condition of the boy was then so critical that there was very little hope for saving his life. He was taken to the Swedenburg hospital where he underwent an operation on Tuesday evening. However, the affection was so far advanced that the poisons of the infected appendix proved fatal and the young lad died on Saturday morning.

Mr. Tharaldson, who was at La Crosse, Wis., at the time his son was taken ill, was notified and arrived two days before he passed away. Mr. Tharaldson is engaged in organization work for the Nonpartisan League in Wisconsin and expects to return to La Crosse the first part of next week.

Tillman was born Nov. 14, 1907, at Buxton, N. D., and came to Thief River Falls with his parents in the spring of 1913. He was the oldest of four children, being survived by a sister, Elva, and two brothers, Byron and Roy, besides his parents. Tillman attended the schools of the city, being in the seventh grade, and was a member of the Boy Scouts troop. The many friends of the family extend their sympathy in the recent bereavement and loss.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Zion Lutheran church, Rev. George Larson officiating at the obsequies. The church was filled to capacity. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery. Friends and playmates of the deceased escorted him to his final resting place, the following acting as pall bearers: Leon Johnson, Lincoln Arnold, Dalton Rhodes, Clarence Bergstrom, John Woolen and Ward Mathewson. Out of town people who attended the funeral were Gunder Tharaldson, two daughters, Dorothea and Lulu, and son, Obel, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Rude, all of Grand Forks.

MANY ST. HILAIRE CREAMERY PATRONS GET LARGE CHECKS

List of Fifty-Dollar Patrons Increasing—Over $10,000 Paid To Patrons in April

Seventy-nine patrons of the St. Hilaire creamery are on the fifty-dollar list for the month of April, according to report published in the Spectator last week. Fifteen of these are well over the hundred mark, which is a splendid showing considering a drop in the price of butterfat since the previous month. The list is of the largest shown by any co-operative creamery in Northwestern Minnesota and reflects much credit to the institution and the farmers of the community.

The total amount paid out to patrons of the creamery during April is more than $10,000. The following were the "big check" getters:

Novak & Son, $195.85; N. E. Beebe, 173.74; Frank Bothman, 144.33; John Konichson, 140.95; Arne Vik, 132.44; T. J. Sumpter, 131.88; Wm. Schaper, T. Dalager, 123.04; Swan Wiberg, 128.08; Fred S. Wylie Pioneer Passes After A Brief Illness Of Pneumonia

August Moren, one of the old pioneer residents in the community near Wylie, passed away Tuesday, May 29, at his home, death following a five-weeks' illness of broncho-pneumonia. Mr. Moren came to this section when it was a wilderness, having operated a farm in Brown's Creek township, Red Lake county, the past thirty years.

Deceased was born in Sweden on June 12, [illegible], and came to the United States when but a young man. He was united in marriage to Miss Christina Benson of Crookston in 1884.

[illegible] mourn his departure are his [illegible] and seven children: Berg and [illegible] who live at home; Edward who lives in Wisconsin, Ernest, whose address is not known, Mrs. Fred Stenquist of Hallock, Mrs. O. J. Olson, of Whitefish, Mont., and Isabel who lives at home.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the Swedish Lutheran church at Black River of which deceased was a faithful member. Rev. [illegible] Thief River Falls officiated at the obsequies.

Mr. Moren was considered one of the leading citizens of the community in which he lived and his passing is deeply regretted by his many friends.

Former Fosston Athlete Coach Crookston A. C.

Delmar H. LaVoi, formerly of Fosston, will have charge of the physical training work including the coaching of the athletic teams at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, beginning next fall succeeding H. P. Constans who has accepted a position at the North Dakota University, where he will also take up law work.

Mr. LaVoi is a graduate of the Fosston High School and of the Minnesota College of Agriculture. He comes well qualified to take charge of the gymnasium work and of live stock judging. At Fosston he was a member of the state champion high school basket ball team. In college he was recognized as one of the best basket ball players and during the past year had the signal honor of coaching the teams in the Inter-Fraternity basket ball league.

He was a member of the dairy stock judging team which represented Minnesota at the National Dairy Show. This experience combined with his special training in live stock work and farm experience gained on his father's farm will make him a valuable instructor in the Northwest School.

Red Lake Co. Pioneer Dies

Edward A. Columbus, Red Lake county pioneer who came to this section in 1879, died at his home in Red Lake Falls Wednesday of last week. His death was caused by a general breakdown which came as the result of two years of illness.

Mr. Columbus was 74 years old and was born at Penetanguishene, Ontario, in February 1849. In 1868 he married Miss Florestine Gibeau who survives him. Fourteen children were born to them and of this number there are only four living. They are Mrs. T. J. Morinville and Earl Columbus of Lake Pleasant; and Walter Columbus and Mrs. Jos. Skala of Red Lake Falls.

The Columbus family moved to Red Lake County in 1879 and settled on a homestead in Lake Pleasant town which they farmed for six years. They moved to Crookston in 1885 and until 1897 Mr. Columbus was in partnership with N. P. Stone in the machine business, the firm being known as Stone and Columbus.

Returning to the farm they resided there for twenty three years more, coming to Red Lake Falls to live in 1920. Since coming to town and particularly for the last two years Mr. Columbus had been in poor health.

MORE CARS LISTED; TAX TOTAL SMALLER

Motor Vehicle Registrations for First Half of 1923 Exceeds 1922—Receipts Fall Off

Minnesota registered to June 1, a total of 305,000 motor vehicles—36,750 more machines than on the same date last year and nearly 8,500 more than the whole 1922 total, according to official figures from the office of the secretary of state.

Receipts to date are about $82,000 less than for 1922, in spite of the larger number of cars and trucks registered. The statement shows that the taxes on Minnesota owned motor vehicles are averaging more than 50 cents under the last year, also less than the predicted average of $16.44 for this year. The slump in collections is attributed mainly to lower prices on new cars and allowances for depreciation on cars 3 and 5 years old.

The state tax or license is collected instead of the personal property tax and the registration fee under the old law. Following adoption of the Babcock good roads plan, the motor vehicle tax proceeds and federal aid are used to improve and maintain the big 7,000-mile system of state trunk highways. The shrinkage in auto tax collections and gain in number of motor vehicles means correspondingly less highway funds as the trunk routes are subjected to greater use.

Camp for Disabled Vets To Open at Big Island, Minneapolis, June 18th

The recent announcement that the Minnesota State Recreation Camp for Disabled Veterans is to open on June 18 has brought a flood of inquiries and reservations, according to Emmet Smith, manager of the camp.

"These inquiries," said Mr. Smith, "are frequently accompanied by requests for verification of the schedule of prices, which are so low as to cause many of the fellows to believe there is some mistake. It seems a mystery to them how we can furnish a man and wife and one child with food, separate lodging and all the many attractive features of a camp for a total of $7.50 per week. I have written back," Mr. Smith continued, "that Minnesota takes real care of its sons who suffered disabilities in the service. This was one of the first states in the Union to grant a bonus. The spirit that sent the old First Minnesota into the Civil War still flames in the breasts of the citizens of the North Star state. I tell the fellows that the price covers only the bare cost of provisions, the balance of the cost being covered by an appropriation of the Legislature."

Big Island in Lake Minnetonka where the camp is located, is a busy place these days, for there must be no unfinished details left when the camp opens. The present buildings, which have been in use for the past two seasons for a similar purpose, are being put in tiptop shape, and with the increased number of reservations, additional facilities have been created. The townspeople of Excelsior, which is on the main land directly opposite the Camp, are preparing elaborate plans for the entertainment of the camp residents. Dances, boat rides, entertainments of all kinds and good old fashioned hospitality await the visitors.

With the much advertised beauties of Lake Minnetonka, one of the State's loveliest lakes, with splendid means of transportation at hand, whether by train, trolley or auto, Big Island will be the rendezvous of fully 1000 disabled veterans of the World War, Civil and Spanish American Wars, according to Mr. Smith. Reservations are being received at the Headquarters of the Minneapolis Chapter of the Disabled Veterans at 923 Nicollet Avenue.

Liquor Law Breakers Must Be Given Jail Terms, Says Watts

Simply imposing a fine on liquor law violators does not have the desired effect, was the statement made by Judge Watts when he pronounced jail sentence to four Roseau men on charges of manufacturing and selling liquor. That is the only kind of punishment, the court said, that will tramp out this nefarious traffic.

Those who are found guilty of violations of the prohibition laws and brought before Judge Watts in the Roseau district court session, were Kittel O. Aamodt and his son, Ole, John Melby and Robert Nesteby. Each was given a sentence of thirty days in jail and $150 in fine, with thirty days additional in case of failure to pay fines.

Lake Is Banner County

Lake county automobile owners hold the banner for payment of state automobile taxes—in point of number if not in percentage. Mike Holm, secretary of state reports that only two autos were certified to the sheriff of that county for 1922 delinquent taxes. The totals ran above 1,000 in some counties. Sheriffs are being required to enforce payments of these taxes in a second follow-up and under the law, it is held, no property is exempt from levy for the amount of the overdue tax.

Someone rises to remark that the dollar is worth more than it was. We have noticed as much from the greater difficulty there is in getting it.

REDUCED RATES FOR FARM HANDS SOUGHT

Farm Bureau Chiefs Co-operating to Relieve Help Shortage This Fall

Minnesota Farm Bureau leaders are co-operating with state officials to obtain a reduced railroad fare for hired help going to the harvest fields this fall. President J. F. Reed met with Gov. J. A. O. Preus and J. D. Williams, Industrial Commissioner, to consider steps that may be taken to relieve a labor shortage that gives promise of being unusually serious when harvest starts.

President Reed suggested that an effort should be made to obtain a fare of $2.50 per man going from Minneapolis, St. Paul or Duluth to any point in Minnesota. Last year the railroads granted a rate of $5 to points in Minnesota or North Dakota. The result was that men, as a rule, traveled into North Dakota, simply because the fare for the longer trip was no greater. The question of the exact fare has not been settled, but a reduction seems assured.

President Reed also suggested that road and other public work now going on in the state be suspended as much as possible during the heavy harvesting season. As in the case of railroad rates, no decision has been reached on this score.

No single problem in Minnesota this fall will be so important to farmers and to the state as a whole as the matter of getting the crops promptly harvested," Mr. Reed said. "Every man who is in position to help the situation is doing all he can and we hope to be able to get a large number of men into the state from the fields of Kansas and Nebraska. We probably will not be able to entirely meet the demand but we will do our best."

Use Home Products

Nothing wrong in Minnesota except—that entirely too many of us get up in the morning to the alarm of a Connecticut clock, put on a pair of Chicago trousers to Ohio suspenders, put on a pair of shoes made at Lynn, wash at a Pittsburgh tin basin, using Cincinnati soap and a cotton towel made in New Hampshire; sit down at a Grand Rapids table, eat our buckwheat pancakes spread with Vermont maple syrup and Kansas City bacon fried on a St. Louis stove; buy fruit put up in California, seasoned with Rhode Island spices; put on a hat made in Philadelphia; hitch a Detroit tin mule fed on Texas gasoline to an Ohio plow and work hard all day on a Minnesota farm covered by a New England mortgage; send our life insurance money to New York, Milwaukee and Indianapolis; and at night crawl under a New Jersey blanket and be kept awake by a dog—the only home product on the place—wondering all the while why ready money and prosperity are not more abundant in this wonderful state of ours.

Why not keep the money at work in Minnesota? asks an exchange.—Waseca Herald.

Fine and Jail For Moonshiner

Thirty days in jail and a fine of $150 was the sentence given Dave Bruneau of Brooks when he pleaded guilty before Judge Watts at Crookston last week, being charged with illicit sale of intoxicating liquor. If the fine levied is not paid at the expiration of the thirty-day sentence, Bruneau must serve sixty more days in the Red Lake county jail, where he is now placed in confinement.

Shot Through Leg Yet Cares for Horses First

Although shot through the leg and suffering pain and loss of blood Arthur Landreville, farmer lad near Argyle, took time to unhitch from the disc that he was driving and take his horses to the barn before summoning aid. The young man was wounded when a gun that he was carrying on the disc discharged as he was turning the end of the field. He was taken to the Warren hospital and is now recovering.

The Farmer and Good Roads

An exchange states that 163,400,000 tons of farm products are hauled over the highways to shipping points every year and additional millions of tons are carried directly to market on the highways. It adds there is a good roads sermon in that for every thinking farmer and the time has come when the successful farmer thinks.

Coal Near Crookston Is Opinion Expressed By State Geologist

That a fine quality of bituminous coal really and truly exists at Benoit is the revised opinion expressed by Prof. Dove assistant state geologist of North Dakota in a letter just received from him by the Crookston Times.

*Prof. Dove has arrived at this conclusion after an analysis of the coal sample brought to the surface while drilling the well for the Great Northern Railway at Benoit and comparing it with the sample picked up on the railroad right-of-way which is supposed to have fallen from a locomotive.

At first Prof. Dove was under the impression that some of the locomotive coal was dumped down the well during the absence of the men doing the drilling, but an analysis of the samples and further investigation at Benoit has proven conclusively that this was not the case.

Prof. Dove has offered his services to make a further investigation and a number of Crookston businessmen have raised a fund to make the further necessary tests to establish whether a vein of coal that it would pay to mine exists.

Prof. Dove will have charge of the prospect work and it is expected will begin at once putting down a number of test holes to determine the direction and depth of the vein.

GREAT NORTHERN VALUATION SHOWS NO "WATER"

In response to assertions that railroad stocks were watered and that the investments recorded in the companies' books were inflated, Congress, in 1913, by the La Follette Act, directed the Interstate Commerce Commission to determine, among other things, the cost of reproduction new, cost of reproduction less depreciation, and the value of the various railroads in the United States.

The corporate assets of the Great Northern Company consist of two classes of property: One is the physical property used for transportation purposes and located in the United States; the other consists of investments in stocks and bonds of other companies, including lines located in Canada, and other miscellaneous property used for non-carrier purposes. The Interstate Commerce Commission recently has completed its tentative valuation of the first of these, that is, the physical property used for transportation purposes and located in the United States. It has not valued the second class of property because not required to do so by the terms of the Act.

The value as found by the Commission for Great Northern properties used for transportation purposes and located in the United States as of June 30, 1915, was as follows:

Total owned $391,740,302.00
Total used 395,353,655.00

In arriving at these figures, the Interstate Commerce Commission deducted $65,140,474.00 from the cost of reproduction new on account of assumed depreciation. The Company, of course, contends that the depreciation of certain parts of the property, such as the aging of its roadbed, is more than offset by the appreciation of the property as a whole, as it is well known that a railroad property in use for several years is better and worth more for transportation purposes than a newly built property.

Included in the second class of property and not valued by the Commission is:

- 604 miles of railroad in Canada.
- Nearly 49 per cent of the stock of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad.
- One-half of the stock of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway.
- Also the stocks of some other smaller railway companies, and the stocks of coal, lumber, land and other subsidiary corporations.

The investment in securities not valued by the Commission amounts to $227,076,312.83. Other property not used for transportation purposes amounts to $24,315,418.31, so that the Commission's value on the first class of property, plus the value of the second class of property, which the Commission did not value, amounts to $643,132,033.14.

Since the valuation date, June 30, 1915, there has been added $82,259,790.52, which brings the total value of Great Northern property to January 1, 1923, up to $725,391,823.66. The total par value of stocks and bonds of the Great Northern as of January 1, 1923, was $540,978,319.04, showing an excess of $184,413,504.62 of value above the total capitalization. The following table makes these statements clear:

PROPERTY		CAPITALIZATION
Portion of owned property valued by the Commission as of June 30, 1915	$391,740,302.00	Great Northern Stock	$249,477,150.00
Stocks, bonds and other properties not valued by Commission as of June 30, 1915	227,076,312.83	Great Northern Bonds	291,501,169.04
Other property as of June 30, 1915	24,315,418.31	Excess of Property Over Capitalization on January 1, 1923	184,413,504.62
Property added since June 30, 1915	82,259,790.52
Total	$725,391,823.66		$725,391,823.66

This furnishes a most Conclusive answer to the charge of watered stock.

The Great Northern never did have and never will have a dollar of watered stock.

Chairman of the Board.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That default has been made in the conditions of that certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by F. D. Beard, a single man, Mortgagor, to Ida Lower and Ida Lower as Guardian, Mortgagee, bearing date the 1st day of March, 1920, with power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, on the 5th day of April, 1920 at 2:30 o'clock P. M., in Book Thirteen (13) of Mortgages, on page 588, which default has continued to the day of this notice, by the failure and neglect of said Mortgagor to make payment of the coupon interest note amounting to Three Hundred and Sixty Six Dollars ($366.00), which became due and payable on the first day of March, 1923, by said mortgage secured.

AND WHEREAS, The said Mortgagee and holder of said mortgage has elected and hereby does elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage, and the power of sale therein contained; and whereas, there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum of Six Thousand Four Hundred Sixty Six Dollars ($6466.00), with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the first of March, 1923; and whereas the power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof:

NOW, THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described and conveyed by said mortgage, to-wit: the South one-half S½ of Section twelve (12) in Township One Hundred fifty three (153) North, of range forty-five (45) West of the fifth principal meridian, in Minnesota, containing Three Hundred and twenty acres (320) of land, more or less, according to the United States Government survey thereof and situated in Pennington County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Pennington County, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Thief River Falls in said County and State, on 7th day of July, 1923, at ten o'clock A. M. of that day at Public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Six Thousand Four Hundred Sixty Six Dollars ($6466.00) and interest and taxes, if any, on said premises, and One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), Attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated May 22nd, A. D., 1923.

Bankrupt's Petition for Discharge and Order of Notice Thereon.

In the District Court of the United States for the Sixth Division, District of Minnesota.

In the Matter of Oluf O. Kompellen, Bankrupt. No. 2125. In Bankruptcy.

To the Honorable Page Morris, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the District of Minnesota.

Oluf O. Kompellen, of Erie, in the County of Pennington, and State of Minnesota, in said District, respectfully represents that on the 8th day of January, last past, he was duly adjudged bankrupt under the acts of Congress relating to bankruptcy; that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and of the orders of the court touching his bankruptcy.

Wherefore, He prays that he may be decreed by the court to have a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate under said bankrupt acts, except such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.

Dated this 15th day of May, A. D. 1923.

Oluf O. Kompellen,
Bankrupt.

Order of Notice Thereon

District of Minnesota, ss.

On this 1st day of June, A. D. 1923, on reading the Petition for Discharge of the above-named Bankrupt, it is—

Ordered by the Court, that a hearing be had upon the same on the 7th day of August, A. D. 1923, before the said court, at Fergus Falls, in said district, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice thereof be published in the Thief River Falls Times, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the court, that the clerk shall send, by mail, to all known creditors, copies of said petition and this order, addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

Witness The Honorable Page Morris, Judge of the said court, and the seal thereof, at Fergus Falls, in said district, on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1923.

Investigations made by the police recently have revealed the fact that there are homes in the city where the children are permitted to do about as they please. Children who are permitted to govern themselves are going to get into trouble sooner or later and the old adage "a stitch in time saves nine," can well be applied to the discipline of boys and girls. This is especially true in the observance of the curfew ordinance. If parents would see that their children are properly chaperoned after nine o'clock it would be much better for the boys and girls of the city. Boys who have been caught in escapades by the police during recent years have confessed that they planned their mischief at night gang parties. The police are doing all in their power to keep the children off the streets at night, but some co-operation on the part of the parents would help. Most of the criminals of today are men and women who did not have the proper guidance when they were children. A little good advice and discipline for the children of today is worth more than a thousand laws to correct them when they get older. Think it over parents.—Bemidji Sentinel.

For the next 30 to 60 days four farmers in this county will spend the busy season sitting in prison. They are getting their just deserts, but it is too bad, to say the least, that men will take chances like that and in such a nefarious traffic.

Fines for liquor law violations have little effect. Most of those who do it gamble that they will get away with only a fine. A jail sentence is a different matter. Judge Watts in passing sentence on those cases at the recent term of court remarked that jail is the only kind of punishment that will stop such violations and that that is the kind of sentence they will get.

That ought to have a salutary effect on those inclined to engage in the damnable business of making the poisonous stuff. The profit is hardly worth the ultimate price.—Roseau Times-Region.

We try to have the wires in place, the switchboard equipped and other intricate mechanism ready so that when a new telephone is ordered, service can be provided with the least possible delay.

In order to do this economically, our engineers must estimate, for years in advance, the number of telephone users there will be, where they will live and how much telephone equipment they will need.

Planning ahead rather than waiting to manufacture and place equipment after service is needed, is a part of our policy to provide the most dependable service in the most economical way.

PUPILS AND PATRONS OF COUNTY SCHOOLS MEET HERE JUNE 16

"When a child enters school he starts a job and his object should be to finish that job. The finish must be made sufficiently impressive so that the pupils may look forward to it as an event in his life that marks a point where he completed a good job. If we can make this objective, this home base, stand out before our pupils I am sure they will make every effort to attain it, and we shall have better school work and hence, get more value for our school expenditures.

"We who are in charge of Rural Education should make it our aim to get every country boy and girl through the eighth grade and it is to stimulate progress in this direction that we have arranged for County Graduation. Every boy and girl who receives a diploma on that day should be highly commended for having made good use of the opportunities that have been provided for them at considerable expense and for having started a good job and finished it.

School Officers' Meeting

It has been customary for a number of years to take advantage of a provision in our school laws which gives authority to hold a meeting of the school officers of the county. These meetings have usually been held in the fall of the year in connection with the Teachers' Institutes or Educational Conventions. This year, however, the school officers meeting has been called for June 16th, the day of our County Graduation.

This is done for several reasons. Every school officer wants to be present at the graduating exercises because he is interested in the results of his work as a school officer. He realizes that eigth grade graduation is the object of his work as a member of a school board and he wants to see the finish of the job, and to be on hand to congratulate the boys and girls who have finished the course.

It is at the annual school meeting that school officers have most use for thoro knowledge of their duties, and it is thought that a meeting of this kind held before the annual school meeting will be of service in preparing school board members to give intelligent direction to the proceedings of the school meeting and to answer the numerous questions that are sure to come up. Matters in connection with the annual report that is made by the clerk after the annual meeting will be discussed and thus possibly make that work a great deal easier.

It gives the school officers more time to put into operation the ideas gained at the meeting, so that the boys and girls may have a chance to derive benefit from them from the very beginning of the school year.

Geo. A. Selke from the State Department of Education at St. Paul, will be present to assist in conducting the School Officers' Meeting and to give the address at the graduating exercises. Mr. Selke is a splendid man and a fine speaker. It will be worth while for every school officer to get his message in regard to rural school problems, and everybody should hear his address at the general program.

The County Play Day

There is a movement among people everywhere to pay more attention to the physical development of their children. The cost of illness, in loss of time to both the sick person and those who have to take care of him, and in suffering and sorrow to all concerned is more fully realized than ever before. People who are awake and who take an active interest in their own welfare as well as that of others are ready at all times to welcome and to get behind any movement having for its object the health and physical well being of the citizens of a community. Great interest and enthusiasm [illegible] in connection with the sectional play days, that have been held in various parts of the county and we are looking forward to a manifestation of a like interest in the atheletic events to be held in connection with the other activities on June 16th.

A proper spirit in this regard will do much to reduce the waste of money occasioned by having school and paying for it while our children are staying at home suffering from various ailments that might be avoided in many cases by proper attention to physical development, and the ordinary rules of health.

These athletic events will not, of course, make all of us experts in physical training and health, but we hope that it will awaken an interest in this very important subject, and result in a diffusion of knowledge that will tend to make stronger and healthier boys and girls.

The Commercial Club of Thief River Falls has been very generous in their willingness to furnish money for the prizes offered in the following schedule.

Tug of war between east end of the county represented by men from Town of Hickory and west end of the county represented by men from town of Numedal.

In addition to the other prizes a $3.00 prize will be awarded to the best all around boy or girl athelete. The winner in this contest will be determined by a system of points to be awarded the winners in each athletic event.

Moving Picture Show.

Arrangements have been made with the Rath, Mills & Bell, Inc., of St. Paul for the purchase of a portable moving picture machine to be used in an effort to be of service in helping the teachers of the rural schools to get more and better results from their work. The University of Minnesota and many other institutions have millions of feet of educational films that may be used for the price of transportation and it is a shame that the people of the county should not be able to take advantage of these educational aids, especially in the country where the teacher is generally overworked by numerous classes and lack of facilities of many kinds.

This company has agreed to be on hand June 16th to show "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court." Mr. Brumund has kindly offered the use of the Princess Theatre, free of charge, for this show. Admission will be charged at the rate of 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. The money that is realized from this venture will be used as a first payment for the machine which becomes the property of all the people in the county, to be used for entertainment and education of the rural communities. The show starts at the Princess Theater, promply at 4:30 on June 16th. Every boy and girl is urged to save for this show and to be there to see it, as it means a good show on that day and the assurance of many more in the future.

It will be noticed that this program makes a very full day, but if each one does his part there should be no trouble in getting through according to the schedule. School officers should try to be on hand promptly at 10 o'clock at the Court House and boys and girls that intend to participate in the contests at the Fair grounds should be there ready to go at 10 o'clock. Girls must be dressed in bloomers.

The athletic events will continue through the noon hour in order to give, the school officers a chance to participate to some extent.

People from the country should bring their lunch and the Commercial Club will serve hot coffee and ice cream.

All country folks should be present on this day and lend their support so that our first gathering of this kind might be a success and that we may in the future come to look forward to the day of County Graduation, School officers' meeting and County Play day as an annual event."

BURGLAR VISITS MIDDLE RIVER STORE AND TAKES $300 WORTH OF GOODS

Carlson Mercantile Store Broken Into Last Week, Thief Apprehended Near Holt

The general merchandise store of the Carlson Mercantile Company, Inc., was robbed shortly after midnight Monday, last week. The deed was done by a lone burglar who secured about three hundred dollars worth of goods consisting of three suits of men's clothes, two dozen sox, about the same number of ties, a number of shirts and a few pairs of shoes, says the Middle River Pioneer.

Before raiding the store for these supplies, the robber broke into the Standard Oil station to get a supply of gasoline. After securing the goods he started south, headed apparently for Thief River Falls.

Arthur Olson, who is an employe of the mercantile establishment, was the first to open the store [illegible] morning and discovered the robbery. He called the proprietor, Arvid Carlson, and later he and Herman Young started out in search of the fellow as the light rain that fell during the night made tracking easy. Sheriff Hanson of Marshall county was notified and was soon on the job assisted by Deputies Bordewich and Anderson. The tracks led to the home of one Jack Doos, residing southeast of Holt, who in the evening was arrested and charged with the crime. The Pioneer states that they were informed that relatives of the robber notified the sheriff of the robbery and some of the articles taken from the store were found in the possession of Doos. The Holt Weekly News gives the name of the place where the robber was caught as the Paul Hoffman farm. He was taken to Warren where he was placed in the Marshall County jail where he plead guilty and later was sentenced to Stillwater prison."

According to a story in the Lancaster Herald last week, the apprehended burglar's name is Harry Brown. He is alleged to be implicated in numerous crimes, and, continues the Herald, "he is the same fellow that broke into the oil station at Bronson and Northcote. He also broke into the garage at Hallock where he stole a couple gas tanks and some torches. The tanks he hid in the brush on the Northcote tourists camping grounds, but he had taken the torches along with him. He was driving a Buick roadster, which it has later been learned was stolen in Wisconsin last spring."

At Bible Institute

Rev. A. A. Larson of the Augustana church is in Warren where he is conducting the Conference Bible Institute which opened at the North Star college last Monday. The institute continues for two weeks. Rev. Larson, who is at present acting president of the college following the resignation of Prof. Sjostrand, is also president of the committee in charge of the institute. Services at the Augustana church will be conducted next Sunday as usual, the pulpit to be occupied by Rev. Albert Loreen of St. Paul, who is also taking part in the institute at Warren.

Dorcas Society Picnic

Nearly fifty new members were added to the membership of the Dorcas society of the Trinity Lutheran church in the drive which came to a close Tuesday evening when the losing side, the Blues, sponsored a picnic. The event was in the form of a supper enjoyed at Squaw point and attended by a large part of the society. A merry time was enjoyed and everyone partook very enthusiastically of the refreshments furnished by the losers.

Surprise Party

Miss Anna Alberg was pleasantly surprised at her home at Hazel last Monday when a number of friends gathered to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. The party consisted of twenty-five guests. A delicious lunch was served. Miss Alberg was presented with a beautiful piece of jewelry as a remembrance from her friends.

Mrs. Duncan Stanton gave a theatre party Saturday afternoon honoring her son George, the occassion being his tenth birthday. After the matinee a lawn lunch was served. The invited guests were Misses Amie Evangeline Novak, and Margaret Muzetta Stanton, Masters Edward Kelley, Roy and Maurice Novak.

Milk Cows Being Tested

Owners of individual milk cows in the city who are desirous of having them tested for tuberculosis are requested to call telephone No. 512. The law requires that all owners of bovines selling milk to the public [illegible] their animals tested and the local health authorities are making an effort to have all the animals in the city tested. For this reason those owning cows are asked to get in touch with an accredited veterinarian, who will make the tests. Saturday will be the first day for assignments. J7

Local Boy will Graduate With Big St. Olaf Class

Among the graduates from St. Olaf college at Northfield this year is Elnor Overland, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Overland of this city, who was graduated from the Thief River Falls high school with the class of 1919 and has spent four years at the former institution. During his stay there he has been prominent in musical circles as a pianist and pipe organist. He is expected to arrive here following commencement exercises to spend part of his vacation at the home of his parents in this city.

Beginning Saturday, June 9, with alumni day, the commencement activities will continue through Monday. Saturday evening the St. Olaf Concert band will appear in concert, and the seniors will conduct their class day program, including the traditional planting of the ivy.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by President L. W. Boe in St. John's Lutheran church Sunday morning. The next afternoon, following the commencement exercises proper, the annual Carleton-St. Olaf baseball game will be played on Laird field.

In the class this year are 187 candidates for the bachelor of arts degree, two for the bachelor of music, and four for the college diploma in music. The class is the largest senior class in the history of Minnesota colleges. The former record for size was held by last year's class at St. Olaf, with 117 members. Almost exactly half the members, 97 of the 193, are from Minnesota. The others represent nine states, two provinces of Canada, and China.

Commencement exercises will be held June 11 with Governor Nestos of North Dakota as chief speaker.

SCHOOLS OF COUNTY WILL MEET IN CITY SATURDAY, JUNE 16

Rural Schools To Join In Play Day; Many Prizes Offered In Contests

Fifty-Seven Graduate From 8th Grade; School Officers To Meet

Plans for the County Graduation, School Officers' Meeting, County Play Day and special moving picture show in this city Saturday, June 16, have been completed. The official call to school officers has been sent out; the list of eighth grade graduates has been compiled and each candidate notified to be present to answer roll call at the city auditorium promptly at 2 o'clock on Saturday to get ready for the commencement program which starts at 2:30 o'clock sharp; the winners at the sectional play days have been notified to be present at the Fair grounds ready to go at 10 o'clock and word has been received from the moving picture concern that everything is in readiness to put on the show at the Princess theatre commencing at 4:30 p. m.

It is urgently requested that school officers be on hand to enroll promptly at the time set, 10 o'clock. Districts pay the officials for attending the whole day and they expect that a full day be put in. Members of school boards should come prepared to ask questions and to offer suggestions. That attitude makes the best meeting.

On account of adverse weather conditions last sprng it was impossible to complete the schedule of sectional meetings, and to give all the boys and girls of the county a fair chance at the prizes offered it has been arranged to permit any pupil who thinks he has a fair chance to win to enroll for the various contests providing he is present at the Fair Grounds and asks to have his name entered, not later than 10 o'clock. It is necessary to start these activities early in order to have them out of the way for the graduation exercises that commence at 2:30.

A program of unusal interest for rural people has been prepared for the graduation exercises and all are urged to see that they do not miss the information and inspiration that event is sure to give. Anyone who wishes to attend is invited to do so plans being made for a record crowd.

According to plans made by the committee those in attendance will bring lunch baskets and enjoy a picnic dinner at the fair grounds, where coffee and ice cream will be served free.

The complete program for the day was published in the last issue of The Times.

CARL ST ONGE HURT WHEN STRUCK WITH BALL AT GAME SUNDAY

Young Man Hit On Side of Head By Baseball Causing Blood Clot To Endanger Life

Carl St. Onge, eighteen-year old son of Alfred St. Onge residing at 816 Knight avenue, north, was struck in the head, Sunday, by a baseball while playing in the game between the local Junior high school team and Rosewood at Rosewood.

Mr. Onge was in the batter's box and the pitcher threw an in ball. Onge evidently saw the direction of the course of the ball and tried to dodge but the ball struck him. He was immediately rendered unconscious but regained consciousness after a while and returned to the city with the rest of the boys on the team complaining of a headache. He partook of supper with the rest of the family and a car ride was proposed but Carl said he did not feel well enough to go out. About 7:30 his condition became increasingly worse and he went to the Swedenburg hospital. Dr. Swedenburg made an examination and advised him to retire immediately, whereupon he stated that he would like to spend the night at home. When he retired he lost consciousness and was still in an unconscious condition when he was brought to the hospital Monday noon, remaining so all of Monday. He was unconscious Sunday night and Monday. Monday evening Dr. O. Meland of Warren was called by Dr. Swedenburg in consultation and an operation of decompression was performed at about 9:00 o'clock that evening.

Skull Fractured

The scull was found to be fractured and between it and the brain tissue wall a large clot of blood was found and removed. The blow had severed several arteries deep into the brain wall and all attempts to stop bleeding was futile, for as one artery was closed another would burst. His condition was very critical but Wednesday, yesterday, his condition began to appear very encouraging.

The young lad is a member of the 1924 class in the high school.

Elk Doings Postponed.

The initiation and entertainment scheduled by the Elks for Friday evening, June 15, has been postponed until a later date on account of the illness and death of J. T. Austad, secretary of the order.

THOMAS J. AUSTAD

Thomas J. Austad, editor of The Times since 1916, passed away at the Physicians hospital in this city last night at ten o'clock. Death resulted from a complication of kidney and heart afflictions.

"Tom" as he was popularly known throughout the city, had been in poor health for the past year and about two months ago was forced to take a rest from the strenuous duties of his editorial work. Last Friday he became seriously ill and the following morning was taken to the Physicians hospital. From that time on his condition became rapidly worse and since Monday it was apparent that his recovery was impossible. His relatives were notified of his serious sickness Saturday night and Tuesday morning two of his brothers, Edward and Carl, arrived here from their home at Canyon, Minn. Tom regained consciousness for a short time after their arrival and recognized them but was unable to talk much.

Thomas Julius Austad was born Dec. 10, 1872 at Trondhjem, Norway, when a lad ten years old he came to this country with his parents and resided with them at Duluth. In that city he learned the printer's trade and later entered into editorial work. He was employed on the Duluth Herald for several years and then went to Grand Rapids, Minn., where he was employed on the Herald-Review. With the exception of a few years when he worked on various papers in Wisconsin and Indiana, he was connected with the Herald-Review until January, 1916, when he came to Thief River Falls and became associated with R. H. Ross in the publication of The Times.

He is survived by his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Austad of Canyon, Minn., who last July celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. He also leaves three brothers and two sisters, Alfred, Edward and Carl, of Canyon, Minn.; Mrs. P. G. Wicklem, of Virginia, Minn.; and Mrs. S. H. Hansen, of Duluth, Minn.

He was a member of the Masonic and Elks fraternal orders. Of the latter organization he was secretary for the past several years.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Elks lodge rooms under the auspices of that organization. Following the services the remains will be accompanied to the Soo station by Elk and Masonic escorts and he will be taken to Duluth for burial.

CITY COUNCIL HAS BUSY SESSION AT MEETING TUESDAY

Engineer Wolff Will Advice Council Regarding Crack in Filtration Plant

The meeting of the city council was called to order at 9:15 instead of the scheduled time at 8:00 o'clock, as a quorum was not obtained earlier Aldermen Ness and Froseth were absent, being out of the city.

The matter of allowing bills of the filtration plant to C. M. Carlson was taken up [illegible] settled by decision to wait until Engineer L. P. Wolff should inspect the plant and confirm the assumption that the crack which appeared in the wall and three-inch settlement in the rear, is of no consequence.

The first application for a permit to conduct dances was submitted by Phil Zeh. Heeding the advise of City Attorney H. O. Chommie a temporary license was issued for three months only pending the adoption of proper ordinances by the council to cover such matters. Permits for 8 dances per month were granted at one dollar per dance. He must also pay for special police selected by the Mayor or chief of police.

The application of Ralph D. Thomas for the acceptance of the bill for $2,504.22 for work in the estimation of the cost of a new power dam was held over to the next session.

C. M. Carlson was granted a building permit to remodel the interior of the building formerly occupied by the Times plant amounting to $6,000. Chas. Nelson was granted a permit to repair a building located on lot 9, block 40, Red Lake Rapids addition, at estimated cost of $800.

The application of the Northern States Oil company for the erection and installation of curb gasoline filling stations and the White Eagle company for pumps for Rambee and Stone were laid over to the next meeting.

Alfred Rasmussen was granted a soft drink license which has yet to be accepted by the mayor.

The past judges of election were reappointed for the coming senatorial election.

The monthly reports were read and order filed. The report of the city clerk showed expenditures of $1,572.39 and receipts of $24,267.00, which leave a balance of account of $20,701.76.

The board of review will meet June 25, 26 and 27, for the hearing of objections of the assessment as returned by Assessor P. J. Keating.

The president of the council was authorized to select committee to attend the meeting of the League of Minnesota Municipalities at Faribault, June 20 and 21.

Miss Ann Oftelie returned last week from Minneapolis where she is employed to enjoy a six-week's vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Oftelie.

REAL ESTATE TAX COLLECTIONS ARE HEAVY LAST DAYS

Total of $172,612.97 Collected by Treasurer of County During May

Treasury Increased by $99,433.47 On Last Day; Penalty Is In Effect

County Treasurer John Gullingsrud reports that the tax collections for the first half of real estate taxes are fully up to the usual mark this year. The treasurer's office has been a busy place during the past two or three weeks, for there has been a heavy rush of taxpayers seeking to get their money in before the penalty attached on June 1.

During the month of May a total tax payment of $172,612.97 was collected for real estate in Pennington county the last day of the period, May 31, being the day of heaviest receipts when nearly one hundred thousand dollars poured into the coffers of the county. The tax money collected for the first half year period is distributed as follows:

Current Taxes	$152,202.11
Current Taxes — Interest and Penalties	216.26
Delinquent Taxes	15,571.13
Private Redemption	1,869.28
State Land Interest	1,577.05
Mortgage Registry Tax	98.35
Teachers Insurance and Retirement	75.00
County Revenue	630.13
Ditch Tax Collected	372.68
Total	$172,612.97

The treasurer states that the payments indicate that the amount of land with taxes unpaid will be about the same as usual. The penalty attached to unpaid taxes will be less than in former years.

In place of a straight 10 per cent penalty, to attach on the first of June, the penalty is 5 per cent, which is increased 1 per cent a month for the next five months until the 10 per cent is reached, unless the taxes are paid in the mean time. By paying one-half of the real estate taxes before June 1, the land owner has until October 31 in which to pay the second half.

Total of $123 Realized From Poppy Sale Drive; Funds for the Disabled

The Poppy drive in Thief River Falls put on by the members of the local unit of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion was well received and given hearty support by the entire community. The total sales, according to Mrs. D. W. Robinson, chairman of the sales committee, amounted to $123. Mrs. Robinson, Misses Harriet Anderson, Bessie Avelson, Ersyle Anderson and Maxine Johnson canvassed the city for sales.

The poppies, which were made by disabled war veterans in the government hospital, were secured from the Auxiliary state headquarters and the receipts turned over to the state or[illegible] disabled ex-service men.

MINNEAPOLIS FIRM BUYS $90,000 ROAD BONDS FROM COUNTY

Principal and Interest To Be Paid By State From Auto License Funds

Representatives of eight bonding concerns were at the court house last Thursday, June 7, to bid for the $90,000 county bonds, the issuance of which was recenly authorized by the board of commissioners of Pennington county. The bonds were sold to the Minnesota Loan and Trust company of Minneapolis at five per cent interest and a premium of $1350.

The bonds are reimbursed by the state highway department and are issued under the new provision made by the last legislature which permits county boards to issue county road bonds up to $250,000 to defray the cost of completing designated trunk highways. The sale of the $90,000 bonds last week will make possible the completion of the old Jefferson highway leading into the city, now better known as Trunk Highway No. 32.

The bonds are payable from 1933 until 1942 with interest only during the first ten years. Payment of same is made by the sale of auto licenses. The interest is paid by the state.

The sale was very spirited, the companies represented being anxious to secure the bonds. The following firms were represented: Wells-Dickey company, Minneapolis Trust company, Northwestern Trust company, Payne-Webber company, Drake-Jones company, Ballid and Company, Minnesota Loan and Trust company, and the Lane, Piper and Jeffrey and company, all of Minneapolis. The First National bank of Duluth submitted a sealed bid.

The work on the trunk highway will be let as soon as the bonds are approved by the state department and the contract advertised for bids. As soon as these preliminaries are completed the surveying and other work will be started, this to be under the supervision of the state highway department.

TWO BADLY INJURED AND THREE HURT IN AUTO SPILL FRIDAY

Ford Sedan Carrying Five Persons Crowded From Road By Speeding Auto

Three-Year Old Girl Severely Cut When Car Overturns in Ditch Near Holt

Evelyn Vinje, three years of age, was seriously injured and Julius Johnson cut about the head when a car driven by Paul Vinje carrying the three named and Mrs. Paul Vinje and son, O'Neil, was crowded from the road two miles south of Holt by a high powered motor car driven at a high rate of speed which refused to give passing room and forced the smaller car to turn to the side of the grade resulting in an accident which may prove fatal to the child.

Forced From Road

Paul Vinje, Newfolden butcher, cousin of Conrad Vinje of this city, his wife and two children Evelyn and O'Neil aged three years and fourteen months and Julius Johnson were on their way to their homes in Newfolden Friday night after a visit with relatives and friends in this city when they met the car coming from Holt about two miles south of that city. The car which was of a large type and was being driven at a high rate of speed, stayed in the center of the road making it necessary for the smaller car, which was being driven by Paul Vinje, to turn aside to avoid collision. The road at that point was quite high and was not wide enough to permit the passage of the Ford beside the other automobile, and it turned completely over.

Girl Pinned Under Car

Mr. Johnson was in the rear seat as was Evelyn Vinje. Paul Vinje and his wife, who held the younger child, were in the forepart of the car. Evelyn, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vinje, was pinned under a sharp edge of the body of the car, pressure bearing across the abdomen, causing a severe gash and resulting in internal injuries.

Julius Johnson received a long cut on the head the blow leaving him unconscious.

Seeks Aid

Mrs. Vinje started off in the direction of a farm house for assistance but after going about two miles in the dark she was overcome by fatigue and seated herself to rest. Then a car, according to the report, came to her aid and after the little girl was recovered from the wreckage they were brought to the Physicians hospital here where they were attended by Dr. J. T. Bowers.

After Julius regained consciousness a few stitches were taken to close the cut in his scalp. Mr. and Mrs. Vinje and the boy O'Neil escaped with minor injuries and a nervous shock.

The car, a Ford sedan, was owned by a brother of Mr. Johnson and was partially wrecked, having a wheel broken and the body and fenders were damaged to some extent.

The little girl was taken from the hospital Tuesday and is recovering according to statement by attending physician. She will suffer no permanent injuries.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION REIMBURSED BY $297 FROM STATE AID FUND

Pennington Co. Poultry Assn. Receives Check for Premiums Awarded At Show

The Pennington County Poultry Association is receiving a check for $297.14, state aid, this week. The state appropriation for aid to Poultry Associations is $20,0000 and checks to all societies holding shows during the past twelve months, in compliance with the law, were mailed by the State Auditor, Tuesday.

The local association paid out in premiums $349.58 at the last show and is reimbursed on the basis of eighty-five cents on the dollar, the $20,000 appropriation being divided among the societies holding shows, on a basis of the amount which each society paid out in premiums, not in any case to exceed $400.

For the last three years so many societies have held shows that the appropriation made by the Legislature has been insufficient to reimburse them in full. As a result, the money is divided among them pro rata, with the additional provision that when there are two fairs in a county, the county's share shall be divided among these two.

This state aid is for the purpose of encouraging Poultry Societies in Minnesota. Seven years ago there were twenty-five societies holding shows and the state aid paid out by the Auditor totaled $6,888. In the twelve months just past, eighty societies held shows, their total of premiums paid being $23,510.58.

The officers of the association in this county are: Olaf Nesett, president; C. M. Bouen, vice president; J. J. McCann, secretary; Harry Schuster, treasurer; Waldie Christensen, Henry Hanson and L. A. Westphal, directors.

Don't put tacks on the walk. You may have to go barefooted yourself some day.

POLICE RAID VINJE PLACE AND ARREST WYSS--BOUND OVER

Evidence of Illegal Liquor Found On Premises By Officials Last Week

The place operated by Conrad Vinje on LaBree avenue was raided by Chief of Police Berge and Night Patrolman Ralston early Thursday morning at 5 o'clock who arrested John Wyss, temporary proprietor, on a charge of having illegal liquor on the premises.

Wyss, of whom little is known as he arrived in the city only recently, was brought before Judge Tarrant in Municipal court where he waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the June term of district court. A bail of $500 was furnished and Wyss was released.

The place had been under suspicion for some time according to the chief, and the officers entered on Thursday morning with a search warrant to determine whether or not liquor could be found on the premises. The officers were given admittance by H. A. Erickson who was also in the place at the time of the raid. A search was made and a small portion of liquor, termed by the chief to be moonshine, was found and also several receptacles such as fruit jars, and bottles smelling very strongly of liquor, were taken by the officers. A funnel also having a suspicious odor was taken as part of the evidence.

Wyss claimed that he was only taking charge of the place during the absence of Vinje, having come there the previous day.

Austad Funeral Friday Evening

The funeral of Thomas J. Austad, who has written his last line as editor of tais paper, will be held at the Elk's lodge rooms in this city on Friday evening. His body will be in state at said rooms from 7 to 8 o'clock on Friday evening to enable friends to view the remains and honor his memory. At eight o'clock the funeral services will be conducted under the auspices of the lodge.

TWO CONCERTS WILL FEATURE THREE-DAY SESSION OF SINGERS

Red River Valley Scandinavian Singers Assn. To Visit City Next Week

Singers from points thruout the Red River Valley will invade Thief River Falls next week when the Red River Valley Scandinavian Singers association meets here at the biennial convention beginning Friday and continuing thru Sunday, June 22, 23 and 24.

The local Brage chorus will be host to joint choruses from the entire valley section at this gathering which is of statewide interest. About two hundred singers are expected to be in the city for the occasion, the sessions to be held in the city auditorium. A large number of visitors besides the singers will be in attendance as there [illegible] hear the two extensive concerts given by the organization on Friday and Saturday evenings.

The choruses will be assisted by the Bethany church orchestra from Grand Forks, H. S. Houglum and John Nyborg, well known soloists from Minneapolis, and Miss Doris Halvorson of Thief River Falls as accompanist. Among the places which will be represented by vocalists at the Sangerfest here are: Crookston, Grand Forks, N. D., Warren, Devils Lake, N. D., Abercrombie, N. D., Fergus Falls, Moorhead, Northwood, Fargo, Hatton, N. D., Petersburg, N. D., Eldred, Fertile, McIntosh and others.

Sunday will be given over to entertaining the visitors at a picnic, regarding which more information will be given in the next issue of The Times. Committes in charge are hard at work making the arrangements for the occasion.

The program arranged for the concert Friday evening is as follows:

March—"Tannhauser"—Wagner, Bethany Church Orchestra, W. P. Roghlie, director.

Song—"Tonens Magt"—F. A. Reissiger. "Ossian"—J. Beschnitt, Grand Chorus and John Nyborg, baritone.

Piano Solo—"Caprice Espagnole"—Moszkowski, Miss Doris Halvorson.

Song—Local Chorus.

Group of Tenor Solos—S. H. Houglum.

Song—"On the Sea"—Dudley Buck. "Norrona - Kongekvadet" — Edward Grieg, Grand Chorus, Orchestra and S. H. Houglum, tenor.

Overture—"Princess of India"—King, Bethany Church Orchestra.

Group of baritone solos—John Nyborg.

Song—"Naturen och Hjertat"—O. Lindblad, "Den Store Hvide Flok"—Edward Grieg, Grand Chorus and S. H. Houglum, tenor.

Song — "Varde" — Joh. Haarklau, Grand Chorus and John Nyborg, tenor.

Song—"Soldiers Chorus"—Ch. Gounod, Grand Chorus and Orchestra.

Song—"Landkjending" — Edward Grieg, Grand Chorus, Orchestra and John Nyborg, baritone.

The completed program for Saturday's concert will appear in next week's issue.

Miss Mabel Fulden of Holt returned to her home there Wednesday after a two day stay in the city receiving medical attention.

BIG FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION TO BE HELD IN THIS CITY

Arthur E. Nelson, Mayor of St. Paul, Will be Principal Speaker Of Day

Arrangements Made for Many Attractions, All Free of Charge to Everybody

Thief River Falls will have a real old-time Fourth of July celebration this year, plans for the affair being well under way, backed up by the various organizations of the city and the community at large. Subscriptions were solicited by which means the sum of $600 was raised in the city, to defray the expenses connected with the event.

A. C. Paulson, Legion commander, has been placed in charge of the committees for arrangements and a special meeting of the local post was held last evening to complete the plans for the celebration and committees to take charge of various assignments selected. They will be announced in a later issue.

The event will be entirely free to all who attend, no charges to be made for any sports or entertainments, according to those in charge. No admission will be charged at the fair grounds as is usually done. It is anticipated that the entire surrounding community and nearby towns will join in making the celebration in Thief River Falls the biggest affair of its kind ever staged here.

Mayor Arthur E. Nelson of St. Paul has accepted an invitation to come here to deliver the principal address in the afternoon, when an extensive program will be given. Mayor Nelson is a popular speaker and the city is indeed fortunate in securing him for the occasion.

Festivities will open officially with a parade at one o'clock followed by a long list of sports at the fairgrounds. Included are auto races, novelty Ford races, running races, peony races and athletic sports of all kinds, some put on by local talent and others booked from out of town. Music will be furnished by the American Legion band. A feature of the afternoon's entertainment will be a baseball game between the locals and a visiting team.

Part of the evening's program will take place at a down-town street with a water-polo game between the fire department and another selected team, followed by water sports at the bridge. There will be a huge display of fireworks at the fairgrounds.

The completed plans for the big day have not been announced as yet but the committees in charge are busy at work making the necessary arrangements so as to assure visitors a gala time.

District Convention Of American Legion Here Friday, June 22

The annual convention of the American Legion for the territory compris[illegible]trict will be held in Thief River Falls at the Legion club rooms Friday, June 22. The meeting will be in charge of M. H. Bishop, district commander, and Ole R. Sande, district adjutant.

The business session will be conducted in the afternoon and in the evening initiation work, which will conclude a state campaign for members, will be conducted. About 150 delegates are expected to be in attendance and several prominent state officials of the Legion are expected. Among these will be Stafford King, state adjutant, and R. A. Rossberg, state vice commander.

Advance Students Please Many at Recital

The account of the recital in which Mrs. C. O. Erickson presented the advanced group of music students at the Sons of Norway Hall Saturday evening, June 2, was inadvertantly omitted from the last issue of the Times.

Each of the pupils presented showed musical ability in the tecnique of delivery and also displayed talent in the interpretation of the masterpieces which they played with almost perfect execution. The recital was well received by a very large audience and goes to prove that there is real talent and appreciation of art in our city.

It would indeed be unfair to mention any one of those who took part in the recital for special credit as each person was master of the selection played.

Those who took part were Lois Nicholson, Elsie Vorseth, Mildred Engen, Frances Wenggler and Palma Langseth.

Mrs. O. F. Mellby, Miss Dora Holmes, and Roy Prytz also took part in the event, rendering vocal solos in a manner that bespeaks unusual talent. Mrs. Erickson played a 72-page piano solo which was well received and which terminated the program.

Mrs. Erickson deserves much credit for the work she has been doing since she began the instruction of music here. It is only thru her untireing efforts that her pupils have attained the high standard in instrumental expression.

Mrs. John Swanson of Holt arrived Tuesday for a few days visit at the home of her sister Mrs. Gust Erickson.

RED LAKE COUNTY TO CONTINUE BUREAU AID

Commissioners Decide To Appropriate $1500 For Farm Bureau. To be Voted Upon

At a recent meeting of the Red Lake county commissioners the board adopted a compromise resolution whereby $1500 was appropriated for the maintenance of the county Farm Bureau from July 1 to April 1, 1924. A public hearing for discussing the question of continuing the present county aid of $3000, was held previous to the commissioners' meeting. The board decided further appropriations would be made contingent upon a favorable vote at the March town elections, and that they would then act accordingly.

At the hearing both friends and foes of the bureau were present and voiced their opinions. Those opposed claimed that it increased taxation while those speaking for its continuation said that the increase was insignificant. A review of the work done by the bureau since its organization and what it has done to encourage the raising of purebred stock and its promotion of cooperative marketing in particular, were traced by the supporters among whom Representative Marius Waldal was one of the staunchest.

Tho there is no legal provisions for taking a vote on this question and the result would not be legally binding upon the board, yet an advisory vote can be taken at the bureau's expense and the result makes it easier to determine the sentiment of the people.

Gospel Tent Meetings Euclid June 17-July 4

Full Gospel camp meetings will be held at Euclid beginning next Sunday, June 17, and continuing until July 4. The sessions are in charge of evangelists C. H. Jenson and O. S. Olson assisted by other Gospel workers. The meetings are to take place in a tent one mile east and three miles north from Euclid or eighteen miles north of Crookston. Services are held twice daily at 2 and 7:45 p. m., and Sundays also at 10 a. m.

The fourfold Gospel of the "New Birth," "Baptism with the Holy Ghost," "Divine Healing Thru the Atonement" and the "Second Pre-Millenial Coming of the Lord," will be proclaimed in message and song.

One Dozen Graduates From St. Hilaire H. S.

The graduation exercises of the St. Hilaire high school were held Friday, June 1, the Rev. Blaine Lambert of Bemidji delivering the commencement address. Following is the list of graduates, numbering an even dozen: Leona M. Allen, Howard M. Bilden, Lulu Beebe, Walter Bjerk, Alice M. Fricker, Leo P. King, Gudrun L. Grimsrud, Francis W. Soderberg, H. Irene Peterson, Harvey C. Olsen, Anne R. Hallameck, H. Max Wilson.

Shipping Association Report

In the two years and four months since Feb. 8, 1921, the Red Lake Falls Stock Shipping association has shipped out 43 cars of stock according to Ildage Baril, secretary and manager of the association. The total receipts were $43,700.20 and the total expenses, including freight, commissions, feed and insurance, were $6,123.36. The 61 patrons of the association received $37,576.84 for their stock leaving a balance on hand of $130.90.

Some Things About The Mail Service

Close up your letter box or letter slot when you want your mail forwarded. A substitute carrier may drop a letter therein, even though you have left a forwarding order.

If your carrier delivery is too late for your requirements, you can rent a post office box at a reasonable rate.

In sending a forwarding order to a postmaster, always give the complete old address. Otherwise it may be impossible to give the forwarding order to the proper employee.

If you put a message in a parcel post bundle you make the whole package first class.

You may inclose an invoice with merchandise sent by parcel post.

The postmaster in his discretion may decline to allow you to receive your mail at the general delivery window unless you are a bonafide transient visitor.

Admission to Hospital To Be Granted By Co. Commissioners

County commissioners in Minnesota have been alloted the duties formerly given judges of probate, of signing certificates of admission to the University of Minnesota hospital at Minneapolis for residents of a county who in their judgment require treatment at that institution.

Dr. L. B. Baldwin, superintendent of the hospital, has sent out an announcement calling the change in law to the attention of county commissioners.

The original law, passed by the 1921 legislature, provided that a judge of probate should sign the certificate, following receipt of a physician's recommendation. The only change made by an amendment which the recent legislature passed is to give each commissioner the duty of signing this certificate for patients residing in his district in the county.

When patients are sent from Minnesota counties to the University of Minnesota hospital under the amended law the state meets half of the expense, the cost to the county being reduced by an equivalent amount.

Dr. Baldwin called attention to the fact that the report of the doctor's examination must accompany all applications for admission signed by county commissioners.

Community Picnic At St. Hilaire

The third annual picnic sponsored by the Community Club of St. Hilaire will be held Friday, June 22, commencing at 10 o'clock, the event to take place in the Benson Grove. Committees for making the necessary arrangements have been selected and a good time for everyone in attendance is assured.

ONE AUTOMOBILE FOR EVERY SIX PERSONS

Minnesota Motor Vehicle Total Exceeded in Only 12 States—Ranks Tenth in Gain

An automobile for every six men, women and children in the state—enough for the first time to take the whole population riding at once—that is the ratio in Minnesota, based on figures just made public by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, New York City. Another showing is that although automobile owners are paying more and more taxes their return in road improvement is not keeping up with the increasing use of motor vehicles.

Minnesota last year registered 380,557 automobiles and trucks, 159.2 for each 1,000 of population or one machine for every 6.3 persons, the complete tabulation shows. Its gain of 57,082 cars was exceeded in only nine other states, and but twelve states now have larger numbers of cars and trucks.

New York with 1,002,293 motor vehicles had the largest number. California with 861,807 claimed the largest number per capita—3.8 for each 1,000 population. Nevada registrations of 12,116 were the smallest.

The use of trucks by Minnesota farmers is already extensive and fast increasing, the manual shows. A 1922 survey in 38 counties with 80,021 farms showed 3,328 trucks, also 27 counties reporting need for more and 32 a preference for 1 and 2 ton trucks.

During 1922 in Minnesota 25,000 children were transported to school at public expense and 10,000 in 315 consolidated schools rode in busses on good roads.

This state listed 91 cities and towns maintaining free tourist camp sites with many more in prospect this year. Minnesota in fifth place was topped by California with 193, Illinois with 113 and Iowa with 110 free camps.

National forests were visited last year by 5,356,000 people of whom 3,802,020 traveled over the highways. National forests in Minnesota had 84,000 visitors including 78,000 automobile tourists, according to the manual.

Beltrami County Board Favors Big Bond Issue

The commissioners of Beltrami county at the regular monthly meeting last week started action pointing toward the improvement of several Babcock highways within the county when by a vote of four to one they went on record as favoring a $250,000 issue of county reimbursement bonds. The bonds if approved by the highway department will be distributed as follows according to plans of the county board: $100,000 on the Bemidji-Baudette highway between Bemidji and the Red Lake Indian reservation line, $50,000 on the Bemidji-Baudette highway between Waskish and the north line of Beltrami county and $100,000 to complete the Solway road west to the county line and the socalled Walker road south to the county line.

Will Build Power Line

The Midland Power company of Minneapolis will connect with the Northern States Power company's lines at Terrebonne and will build from that village to Bemidji, according to recent announcement.

The lines to Bemidji will be divided one line running south a short distance and then east and to serve the towns of Brooks, Erskine, Winger, Fosston and possibly others. The north line will run from Terrebonne through Plummer and Oklee and thence east to Bemidji.

It was stated that most of the work on both lines will be completed this season, although it is not probable that the north line will be extended beyond Oklee before next year.

Drivers of Commercial cars

POLARINE is made for you. The harder you use your car, the more hours a day you drive—the more you need Polarine. The more you drive in heavy traffic—the more essential that you use Polarine.

WHY? Because a commercial car, being run for profit, undergoing hard use, simply cannot afford the piling up of damage and the waste incidental to wrong lubrication. Polarine reaches and protects every friction point. The grade of Polarine indicated in the Chart as the correct lubricant for your machine has been determined scientifically after study of the oiling system of your particular make of engine. Pump—screen—oil pipes—grooves of the bearings—piston clearance—all these factors were considered.

Use Polarine
THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL
Made in Five Grades

It gives your engine flexibility, so that in city traffic or in heavy going you need not change so frequently to "low." It maintains at working temperature a complete film of oil between piston and cylinder walls, avoiding "scored" cylinders, assuring perfect compression. Change your motor oil every 500 miles for greater economy.

Because Polarine is perfect in body it maintains the piston seal perfectly. This means that the grade of Polarine which our engineering staff has recommended for your truck will correctly lubricate your machine, insure its satisfactory performance under all working conditions, prevent overheating of cylinders with the resulting radiator troubles. It is heavy enough to minimize fluid friction.

Polarine is a primary product of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). It is manufactured by trained men in the finest refineries in the world. The high quality of Polarine is invariable and always maintained.

ARE RAILROAD EARNINGS GUARANTEED?

Members of a certain political group have been charging that the "Transportation Act, 1920" (the Esch-Cummin Law) "GUARANTEES" the railroads six per cent earnings on the valuation placed on their properties by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Transportation Act, 1920, provided that the rates should be fixed high enough by the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow the roads to earn a FAIR RETURN, after September 1st, 1920, on the valuation placed on their properties by the Commission.

In 1920 the Commission declared that six per cent on the valuation adopted by it would be a fair return. In 1922 it declared that five and three-fourths per cent would be a fair return.

As a matter of fact, the rates fixed by the Commission yielded the roads as a whole only THREE per cent in 1921 on the valuation adopted by the Commission; and only FOUR per cent in 1922.

If it were TRUE that earnings of six per cent were guaranteed, the Government would have been obliged to pay the roads many millions of dollars for the years 1921 and 1922. No such payment has been made or will be made to any railroad.

THE GOVERNMENT DOES NOT GUARANTEE RAILROAD EARNINGS.

THOMAS J. AUSTAD

Thomas J. Austad is dead. The end came quietly and peacefully, characteristic of the living man. As a citizen taking part in the business and social life of the city he will be greatly missed. On this page he will no longer present his interpretations of various topics in the forceful and original maner which appealed so strongly to the people.

"Tom" was possessed of a most companionable disposition and optimistic nature and was a most delightful comrade. Whatever else may be said of him, no one ever questioned his courage or his willingness to attack anything that to him seemed wrong. This trait of character undoubtedly resulted in his acquiring some enemies, while on the other hand it tied his friends more closely to him. No newspaper man can become identified with the work in a rapidly growing and constantly changing community without leaving something of himself behind when he lays down his pen. In this respect Tom was no different from others. In a very short time but a part of his work will be remembered—and that will be the part that was best.

Tom, old pal, good-bye. We are going to miss you at your desk and the sound of your voice. Time will remove the heartache caused by your passing but it can never deprive us of the pleasant memories of association. Good-bye, old pal, good-bye.

SACRED RIGHTS

The opponents of wholesale cooperative marketing consistently miss the point. For instance, the publicity committee of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, in an admirably prepared circular on orderly marketing, takes the ground that the grain business is now handled in an efficient manner, and that, therefore, the farmer ought to keep hands off.

Granted that this contention be true, and that the farmer cannot, by reason of his ownership of his own sales agency on the terminal markets, appreciably affect the level of terminal prices, what call is there for the grain trade to assume that there is something sacred in its ownership and monopoly of the terminal market place where grain is bought and sold?

If there are no profits to be made by the farmer through his entrance into terminal selling, why all this bother about it—why the opposition to his natural desire to try the thing for himself? Such interest in behalf of the farmer makes him suspicious that something is hidden, and he is therefore all the more eager to make the attempt on his own account.

And another thing is lost sight of! The terminal price levels may jog along smoothly, but this does not prove that the prices back at the shipping point bear a proper relationship to the terminal prices. The dealer says they do; the farmer says they do not. The obvious way for the farmer to make sure is to do his own selling on the terminal market as well as at the local loading point.

Maybe the terminal market for grain will not be improved by the entry of the farmer upon the floors of the exchanges. Maybe the grain trade is right when it says that its system of marketing beats all creation. What the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce misses sight of—what all opponents of cooperative wholesale marketing by the farmer miss sight of—is that the farmer has exactly the same right to hold on to and market his wares in any manner he sees fit that an automobile or a plow factory has to fix its terms of marketing.

It is high time that the middleman in commodities learns that he has no inherent monopoly to any trade privileges, as against the producer of the commodity handled and sold—not even though that commodity be produced by a farmer.—Country Gentleman.

Erie Girl Is Slightly Injured When Ford Overturns Into Ditch

Miss Margaret Omlid of Erie, who has been employed at a local hotel, was brought to the Swedenburg hospital Sunday evening after an automobile accident which occurred one mile east of Thief River Falls. She sustained bruises about the face, her left eye injured and her arms were scratched up slightly. Her condition is not serious tho she suffered some immediately after the accident.

The accident is said to have been caused by a faulty steering gear.

The car, a Ford Sedan, which carried the girl and two young men, Ray Anderson and Carlot Prestebak, left the road and tipped into the ditch, guidance being impossible on account of the defective steering gear. The two men were injured only in slight degree, being scratched up a little. The car was damaged only to the extent of a couple of broken windows.

Miss Omlid left the hospital Tuesday afternoon and will not suffer any permanent injuries, according to reports. She is at present resting at the Central hotel.

Delegates From Local Lodges Attend Annual Odd Fellow Convention

The 71st annual session of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows in Minnesota opened at Moorhead Monday, June 11, with a conferring of the Patriarchs Militant degrees by Canton Reid No. 2 of Detroit, and Canton Rainy Lake No. 13 of International Falls. A smoker followed. The sessions will continue through Friday.

Business session will be conducted daily and degrees will be conferred each night. Among the teams to put on initiations is North Star No. 6 of Minneapolis, pronounced the best in the state.

The usual parade was formed today and the military ball is staged this evening. Installation of the new grand lodge officers will take place tomorrow.

The delegates from the Thief River Falls lodges are N. J. Anderson from the Young Pine subordinate Lodge, No. 221, and E. P. Burstad from the Riverside Encampment, No. 22. They are expected to return the latter part of this week. Mr. Anderson was accompanied by his wife and Mr. Burstad by his family.

The Rebekah assembly will be conducted today and tomorrow in conjunction with the grand lodge sessions with Alice Shively, president of the state assembly, presiding. Ivy Rebekah No. 30, of Minneapolis, will stage the degree work. Mrs. Arthur Johnson, who represents the Lyon Rebekah lodge, No. 69, left for the convention city yesterday morning and expects to return Saturday.

Churchmen Attend Lutheran Convention

Dr. H. G. Stub of St. Paul was re-elected president of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America for a term of six years at the triennial convention held at St. Paul this week. Delegates representing a church membership of more than 500,000 have been taking part in the nine-day sessions which close tomorrow. Noted men prominent in the church and state thruout the United States addressed the gathering where important matters dealing with the four phases of the Church's work—education, home missions, foreign missions and charities—were discussed.

Rev. T. E. Sweger of the local Trinity church is in attendance at the convention, as is also Dr. O. F. Mellby, who is the official delegate from the Trinity congregation. Dr. Mellby is accompanied by his wife. Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Nesse are also in St. Paul for the meeting. They all expect to return to the city the latter part of the week, Rev. Sweger possibly tonight or tomorrow.

Pure-Breds and Prosperity

There is more to the question of pure-bred stock than a matter of pedigree, registry and conformation to type. Successful dairymen will testify that the superiority of the pure-bred over the scrub also shows in the milk pail, and in the cream check.

In prosperous farming communities, herds are headed by pure-bred sires, not because prosperous farmers can afford the luxury of pure-breds, but because the pure-breds have made the farmers prosperous.

The Citizens State Bank stands ready to co-operate at all times with the man who wishes to grade up his herd with pure-breds.

SUNOCO MOTOR OIL

Distilled oil is best

You wouldn't think of using plain water in your batteries; certainly not. You always get distilled water, because all impurities are distilled out of it.

SUNOCO
THE DISTILLED OIL

is different from other oils. We found the difference by making scientific tests. In Sunoco, all impurities are removed by distillation. It's all oil—pure lubrication.

You will safeguard and prolong the life of your car by using Sunoco; get more power and quiet efficiency; reduce motor troubles. We discovered these facts from our tests. We know.

There are six types of Sunoco—all wholly distilled. One of them is best for your car. Ask any Sunoco dealer for booklet, "What's Happening Inside Your Motor?"
